and Rev. Elbert Peak, pastor of the First Baptist Church officiated. Burial was in Elmwood Memorial Park.

NOW LEADING IN RECORDS SES BAND

Director Norman Arnett received letter from a Matador resident this week after Knox City played its second football game of the season last Friday night at Matador.

The Herald asked Arnett for permission to print the letter, and in order to keep from possibly embarrassing the writer, the name will be deleted. The rest, however, will be in the writer's own words.

"Dear Sir: You have a fine sounding band. Everyone around us seemed to enjoy each number as much as my husband and I did. I heard comments such as 'They have a good band,' 'Listen to that band,' 'Boy, I like that song.'"

I am a '61 graduate of Spur High and attended almost every game. Of all the bands I have heard, Knox City will take first place in good listening enjoyment and in selection of songs. "Good luck to you at contest—you are doing good work."

Study Club Has First Meeting

Members of the 1946 Study Club opened their club year with a dinner and style show Tuesday evening at the Womans Club.

Hostesses greeting the guests as they arrived were Mmes. Paul Clayton, Curtis Hines, Sammy Tankersley and Jerry Cobb. The buffet dinner was served from a lace laid table centered with an arrangement of bronze flowers. The dessert table was highlighted with a doll dressed in a fashionable red wool and leopard skin ensemble.

Each of the foursome tables was centered with dolls dressed in various styles from sports wear to evening clothes. Mrs. Jerry Gunn called the meeting to order and Mrs. Ted Darland gave the invocation.

Mrs. John Webb of Stamford was commentator for the style show which was presented by Webb's Dept. Store. Models were Misses Martha Kay Waldrip, Belle Burnett, Florene Cornett and Cindy Johnston and Mmes. B. F. Cornett, Lyndol Cypert and Dan Smith of Rochester.

Casual clothes, dark cottons, suits, wool dresses, knits, coats, hats, bags and lingerie were shown by the models. Following the presentation of styles Mrs. Henry Jean Jones played piano selections. Other decorations highlighting the affair included jewelry, gloves and other accessories on gold lame, fashion pictures on the walls and an array of hats on top the piano.

The roll call was answered by each member's favorite dress from the show. Minutes were read and a financial report given by Mrs. Darland. New members, Mmes. Bob Harrison, John Eslinger, Charles Lankford, and Jerry Ray, were recognized. Guests were Mmes. Donald Johnson and Bob Harris. Mrs. Clayton discussed the yearbooks and programs for the coming year. The resignation of Mrs. Roy Stewart was accepted with regret. The club scrap book from last year, compiled by Mrs. Darland and Mrs. Travis Thompson was displayed. Mrs. Gunn announced a clean up day for the club house would be held Tuesday, Sept. 24, and asked for volunteers. Next program of the club will be the Federation Day program Oct. 10 held with the Knox City Study Club as hostesses.

Vic Lowry Speaks To Lions Club About Game Laws

Game Warden Vic Lowry was the principal speaker at the Knox City Lions Club Wednesday.

Lowry based his speech on the most asked questions he receives concerning the Fish and Game Commission.

He reminded the club that the law concerning a person must have permission from either the landowner or man in charge is an old law but has only recently been added to the State Game Warden's duties for enforcement.

"If someone violates this law, after they sign a complaint, it will be our duty to enforce it," he said.

He said it was not required to have written permission, however.

He said the game department was allowed to have 30 days in which to hunt dove and that by hunting only a half day, the season was thereby extended to 60 days.

In regard to the depredation law Lowry said it was against the law to kill any game out of season. He advised that if geese were eating a farmer's wheat he should contact his local game warden and that they would take care of the matter for him.

He said he had also received inquiries by dog hunters if they could kill one bird in order to train their hunting dogs. Lowry said a number of states allowed one kill per week out of season for training purposes, but that Texas was not one of them.

No fishing license is required on private property he said, or if fishing in the county in which the sportsman lives. A license is required however, if a person fishes with a rod and reel.

No license is required for a hunter in his own county unless he is hunting deer or turkey.

A license is required of all persons between 17 and 65 he said. Quail season will open this year from Dec. 1 to Jan. 31 and he estimated a 40 per cent increase in quail here over last year.

A question and answer session followed Lowry's talk.

Results from the 1963 statewide small gain performance trials are now available, according to Dr. I. M. Atkins, agronomist and small grain section leader, Texas A&M University. Performance trials for the northern Rolling Plains area are conducted by Keith A. Lahr at Texas Substation No. 12, Chillicothe, and by L. E. Brooks at Texas Substation No. 16, Iowa Park. All small grain trials are in co-operation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, points out the agronomist.

Recommendations of varieties are based on several years of testing and include, not only information on grain yields, but cold tolerance, forage characteristics, disease, resistance, agronomic characteristics and, in wheat the milling and baking characteristics, explains Dr. Atkins.

Twenty-five varieties and strains of wheat were grown at Iowa Park and 36 at Chillicothe. Under irrigation at Iowa Park, Crockett yielded 53.4; Gage a Nebraska variety, 49.8; Kaw 47.7; C. I. 13536, an experimental strain, averaged 47.0; and Tascosa 46.0 bushels per acre, respectively.

At Chillicothe, Kaw yielded 28.2; Newest Improved Triumph 27.9; C. I. 13536, an experimental strain, 27.3; Super Triumph 26.6; Scout 26.5 and Tascosa 26.3 bushels per acre, respectively.

Performance trials over a period of years show that Tascosa Kaw, Ponca, Bison and Warrior are among the best producers and also are of superior quality. Crockett, Improved Triumph and Concho are mellow gluten strength wheats which have yielded well, the agronomist adds.

Barley variety trials were seriously damaged by low temperatures and their yields reflect survival. Among commercial varieties now available, the highest yields were produced by Rogers, Harbine, and Kearney. Will a new variety from Oklahoma, produced good yields but seed is not yet available. At Iowa Park it averaged 68.0 bushels, Rogers 61.2 and Kearney 54.7. Cordova and Wintex were seriously damaged by low temperatures averaging only 16.6 and 14.4 bushels respectively. At Chillicothe, Will averaged 23.8 Rogers 22.1, Harbine 20.9 and Cordova 13.8 bushels per acre. The most winter hardy varieties were Kearney, Chase, Meimi and Will.

Survival was the major factor in determining oat yields in 1963. All but the most hardy, were near failures. Two experimental oat strains, bred by J. H. Gardenhire of the Denton Substation, produced 92.4 and 85.5 bushels per acre respectively. Cimarron, Mustang, Winter Excel and Wintok averaged 85.2; 77.9; 77.3 and 63.8 bushels respectively. Less hardy varieties were nearly destroyed. New Nortex produced only 19.4 bushels.

Uncle Ben from Benjamin says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Zeke Grubb's preacher come by the country store Saturday night, told the fellers things was pritty lonesome at his house lately. He said their social life has got so puny he'd even be glad to see his mother-in-law come fer a 2-hour visit.

The good parson claimed he could recollect in other days when him and his wife was invited out to eat 3 and 4 times a week. But he said it looks like them days has gone ferever. He reported that the last time they was invited out to eat was last Thanksgiving and that was on account of Rufe Zinder was having a big family git-together and they needed somebody to ask a fancy blessing.

He told the fellers he has been doing a little thinking on this matter and has come up with the reasons he ain't eating out more regular. First off, he figgers, families don't eat in the home like they did in the old days. Papa eats on the back porch, Mama eats in the kitchen, Junior eats in front of the TV set, and Sister is up at the drug store eating a popsickle. He said he wouldn't know hardly which place to set if he was invited to that house.

Another reason, he figgers, is that most wimmen nowadays cook from tin cans and the froze food counter and they was a little ashamed to invite the preacher to eat somebody else's cooking, sorter like going to hear a preacher read another preacher's sermon.

All these reasons, he claimed, is good, but after a powerful lot of thinking he has decided that the main reason him and his family don't git invited out to eat no more is on account of his 6 younguns.

but him and his wife, he said.

As long as they wasn't nobody folks didn't mind. But now with their 6 younguns it was a matter of cleaning out the pantry shelf and most wimmen is agin cleaning out the pantry shelf at just one setting. He told the fellers he'd never fergit when Big Slim's wife first invited them over to her house fer supper — She didn't know they had all them younguns and when they all come marching in, Big Slim's wife was about to faint. He reported that was the last time they has broke bread with the Big Slim family. He figgers they broke Big Slim's pocketbook the first time around.

He told the fellers the clergy has just as well face up to the issue, that in the preaching profession a preacher was going to have to choose between having a big family and eating out.

The good Parson left a little early, said he had to git on home with them six cans of pork and beans so's his wife could put supper on the table.

Van Heusen Shirts come to Augusta

When the Augusta, Arkansas Industrial Development Corporation set out to secure new industry, they came up with one of America's largest and most respected manufacturers of men's shirts.

The Phillips-Van Heusen Corporation, makers of famous Van Heusen shirts, was brought to this 2300 population town about a year ago. They employed local workers, instituted an intensive training program, and completed the first products in the brief time of 14 days. Such aggressive action by local citizens and company officials has caused the plant to become a major factor in the local economy.

It is another reason we say General Telephone towns are on the move. Community improvements are under way, local resources are being developed, new businesses, new industries are coming in. If your town seeks additional information about expansion, perhaps we can help. Just write our Community Development Department, Box 1001, San Angelo, Texas.

New Trend In Agriculture Taking Place In Texas

A new trend in agricultural research and education is taking shape in Texas. The forecast is for fewer, but better equipped experiment stations and more close-to-home demonstrations to test research findings locally.

Setting the pace for things to come is a unique organization of farmers, ranchers, businessmen, civic groups and agricultural agencies called the Northwest Texas Research-Demonstration Pogram. Its activities are centered in a 3-county area of the Texas Panhandle.

The movement started in 1956 when Collingsworth and Hall county residents asked Texas A&M University to establish a local experiment station. No one questioned their need because the nearest research units were about 100 miles away where different climatic and soil conditions prevailed. A&M maintains 20 substations and 9 field laboratories in addition to the main station at College Station.

Last year, 27 demonstrations were carried out on 23 cooperating farms. The program has shown that A&M officials were on the right track in seeking a more select way to serve the people of Texas. Plans now are underway to select key locations representing major staffed research-extension centers, and to expand on the farm research demonstrations.

Rules For Six-Man Football Almost Same As Last Year

Most of last year's district rules were kept and they are as follows for six-man football:

1. District dues will be $5.00 per school payable before the first district ball game. The district chairman will bill each school for their dues.
2. Each school is to receive six passes good for all games played in the district.
3. Pep squads and injured players will be admitted free to all district games. This also includes sponsors.
4. The gate for district games will be split 50-50 after the cost of the officials has been taken out. Adm. will be $1. and 25 cents.
5. The home team will furnish a ball in good condition of at least J-5-V in quality.
6. District champs will be determined as follows:
 - a. The winner of the most games (ties count half win—and half lost).
 - b. 3-way tie—odd man wins all serve as co-champs.
 - c. 2-way tie—if one team beats the other they are declared winner. If two teams tie they will flip a coin in the presence of the district chairman and the winner will advance as co-champs.
