HELP, HELP! Dr. Robert Howell was busier than usual over the week end as there were two expectant mothers in his care, two wreck victims, one or two elderly patients in critical condition, plus the usual array of sick people needing a doctor. We have no idea how the good doctor has managed to be so many places and work as hard for as long as he has had to do especially the past few weeks.

We understand interested people of the town as well as Drs. Howell and Eiland of Munday, have tried to get help, but so far to no avail.

It is hard for us to imagine that although there are many doctors graduating each year from medical college, there isn't more of them interested in small town practice. There are obvious disadvantages in a small town, but:

How many people in Dallas know the doctor who operated on President Kennedy? How many cards of thanks do you see in a daily newspaper thanking a doctor for his services, even though his patient, in some instances, died? Who is usually the most popular man in town, as well as the most beloved?

There are many more advantages to a small town like a better place to raise your family, etc., but a doctor can still make a comfortable living in a small community with the added bonuses.

No doubt the city has many things to offer a young doctor, but nowhere but a small town can he really amount to somebody and really see first-hand how much good he and his knowledge are helping mankind.

Knox City and thousands of small towns and communities need more doctors, surely there are more doctors who still have a desire to pioneer a small town practice than is evident to the layman.

For the many small town doctors like Dr. Howell, our hats are off, and we hope their enthusiasm doesn't waver until they can get adequate help.

RESIGNS — Coach Ted Darland will leave for Borger this week end to accept a position in Borger as offensive backfield coach.

Coach Darland said he hated to leave his many friends here, but the promotion was one, he couldn't turn down.

Knox City has enjoyed some of its best athletic years with Ted at the helm, and to try to do better not only in sports but business and personal income is only natural.

The very best to you and Jane and the kiddoes, Coach!

We understand the board has already got a replacement in line for Darland's job.

We expect another "executive session" in the near future to hire a replacement.

If you are wondering what an "Executive Session" happens to be when a school board has one — it only means that they are doing something contrary to the best interests of the people they are serving; or something that is against the majority's wishes or something they are afraid for the people to know; example: raise taxes, hire or fire someone against the majority's wishes, or vote for or against some issue they don't feel strongly enough about to want the people to know exactly HOW they stand.

Any public official, and especially one who receives no money and whose only interest is public service shouldn't be in this position if he has no more internal fortitude than that.

We agree that there are not only one or two times but many in which an elected official would like to ride the fence on a lot of issues, but he should take that into consideration before he puts his name on the ballot.

For those who have convictions not tied to personal vanity we have the utmost respect and confidence, even if their views are in conflict with ours, but for those hiding behind secrecy to hoodwink the public we have only contempt.

Editorial

DEMOCRACY BEGINS AT HOME!

The great word, "Democracy" begins right here in Knox City. It's not some Sunday-go-to-meeting word that applies only to the national government.

For this great American myth-of-a-word to work on a state and nationwide basis, it must first work at home—right here in Knox City.

There should be no need in pointing out that Democracy depends on a free flow of information to exist, that it's based on the idea that the people should and must decide what's best for them.

They decide in three ways:

1) First, they elect a man who believes the way the majority does to represent them.

2) They make suggestions of what they want to their representative.

3) Any time this man does not do what the majority feels is right, he is not re-elected.

The public MUST KNOW what a man believes about the issues that are coming up in order to know who to elect.

It must know what is going on in order to make suggestions to their representatives. And it must know what has been decided and how their representative voted in order to know whether or not he still represents the will of the majority when he decided what was right.

The entire system is based on the public's knowing what's going on. When the public does not know, the whole thing will break down.

The news-management actions of the Knox City school board are beginning to infringe on the public's right to know and put another crack in the local Liberty Bell.

The Herald was your representative last month when the only business at the school board meeting was paying bills and one or two other minor business functions, yet a called meeting was held the next night at which time the press was excluded from attending.

We informed the public of both meetings, however. Tuesday the newspaper again attended a regular meeting at which time the bills were again paid, and the board president asked the board to approve the minutes of the called meeting without reading them. (A copy was mailed them prior to Tuesday's session). These were approved and textbooks for the year were approved. . . . then the press was asked to leave.

This put another crack in Liberty Bell. This school district faces many problems in the coming months and it is obvious the board is trying to keep the public from knowing about them.

School Board Has Meeting

Knox City's school board met in regular session Tuesday at the school building with all board members present. They are:

President Clifford Cornett, Joe Roy Smith, Sam Clonts, Henry Jean Jones, Mrs. Betty Williams, Alton Fitzgerald and Lloyd Waldrip.

President Cornett opened the meeting and Waldrip said a prayer.

Cornett told the group a report on the last meeting was sent to them in the form of a letter and asked if there were in additions or omissions.

Joe Roy Smith made a motion to accept the minutes of the last meeting, seconded by Clonts and all voted in favor of the motion.

Waldrip made a motion, seconded by Alton Fitzgerald to pay the month's bills.

All voted in favor of the motion.

Betty Williams made a motion seconded by Henry Jean Jones to accept the textbook committees' recommendations on textbooks.

All voted in favor of the motion.

The board went into executive session and the press was excused.

LITTLE LEAGUE MEETING FRIDAY

A meeting for the parents and boys who are interested in Little League baseball will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday, March 12, at the Legion Hall.

All boys between the ages of 9-12, who would like to play ball are urged to attend and bring at least one parent to the meeting.

Derwood Haddad said there isn't a substitute for parent participation, and urges all parents to attend this meeting.

"Nowhere is there any circumstance which compels the local league to accept a child whose parent refuses to apply themselves to the interest of the league," he concluded.

Not every voter can attend every meeting of the board to find out for himself what is going on, and the voters depend on our media of free-flow information, the press.

The Herald represents "every" voter at board meetings and tries to reflect as accurately as possible what is going on so the voter can know what to do about the issues.

In explaining the 'closed door' policy one of the officers of the school told a Herald reporter that "if we allowed you to attend one of these meetings, it wouldn't be long until someone else would want to do the same thing."

That would be terrible. Liberty Bell just sprang another leak.

It has been the Herald's policy in the past to cooperate in every way possible with elected officials in looking after the public's interest and business, and the school board is no exception. If looking after the public's interest conflicts with an official's personal vanity, the public always gets the nod.

The people of KC should demand that their representatives show more faith in the democratic system. They should demand that no more "executive sessions" be held. They should demand that the business they attend to in the interest of the children is everybody's business.

Former O'Brien Resident Dies In Dallas Hospital

Funeral services for Mrs. R. J. (Iva) McReynolds, 61, who died in a Dallas hospital Monday were held in the Knox City Church of Christ at 2 p.m. Wednesday with Cecil Cox, Rochester Church of Christ minister, officiating.

Burial was in Knox City Cemetery under direction of Smith Funeral Home.

Mrs. McReynolds was born July 15, 1903, near Rule, and married R. J. McReynolds in 1922 in Rule. She moved to Dallas from O'Brien ten years ago.

Survivors are her husband; two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Coker of Dallas and Mrs. Ruth Hooker of Houston; one brother, Dick Felton of Rule; three sisters, Mrs. G. A. Briles of Rule, Mrs. George Grimes of Austin and Mrs. J. K. Veazy of Aspermont; 10 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Gilliland Has Meeting, Talk About Jr. College

By CLARA BROWN

An area junior college could be open by January, 1967, if people of the four county district will work for the project according to the report given at Gilliland Thursday, March 4, by Mrs. Luther Burkett, chairman of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce education and junior college committee.

Mrs. Burkett told the group at the meeting sponsored by the Gilliland Home Demonstration Club that the state teachers college were located so as to put all Texas students within 200 miles of a college, and that educators are now trying to place a junior college within 50 miles of students who are not within that distance of a senior college.

If the Stonewall, Haskell, Knox and Throckmorton junior college district should become a reality it would be one of 12 new junior colleges which officials wish to add to the present 32 state junior colleges. Graduates of the junior college would be able to go on to senior colleges without tests.

The speaker, who has 39 years experience in public education with most of that received in rural area schools, said that probably no dormitories would be built at first but that bus routes would be set up in the four counties so that students could commute to college as students in consolidated school districts go to grade and high school now.

Cooperation of the four counties in a junior college district would make it possible to have some special teachers and classes which many schools cannot support alone, such as classes and therapy for retarded children.

She said Texas colleges are already becoming crowded.

North Texas University has closed out student applications for September, 1965, six months before the fall term begins.

Texas ranks third in the number of school age children and college capacity must be expanded to meet the growing need for more children.

At present the state pays each junior college $385 for each student enrolled, and, according to Mrs. Burkett, this will probably be raised to $450 soon. Much of this money will stay in a community in the form of salaries for teachers and other college employees. She also pointed out that the entry of 200 or more, persons in a community each day will generate the need for many new or expanded services in the community.

Clarendon Junior College got $54,000 state aid; Cisco, $132,000, and Amarillo $362,955.00 according to figures read by Mrs. Burkett.

If 75 per cent of all college students will be in junior colleges in the 1970's then Texas will need to build more colleges she explained. She also said junior colleges benefit not only students who otherwise might not be able to attend college, but also "late-bloomers." 'Late-bloomers' is the term given to students, usually boys, who have college capacity but low high school grades. They cannot enter senior colleges due to low high school grades, but by proving themselves in junior college they can then gain admittance to senior colleges.

A petition signed by not fewer than 10 per cent of qualified voters must be received from each county. If the state board approves, then county judges will be notified to call an election for the election of a seven member board and the formation of a junior college district.

The board would select the site.

Students living in the district would pay $50 per semester and students from outside the district would pay $60 per semester. The junior college tax rate is usually 15 to 20 cents on the state and county valuation.

AUSTIN, Tex. — If you want to sit in on the committee hearing of the bill which would legalize the sale of miniature bottles of liquor in restaurants, you better come early.

That's what Sen. Jim Bates, of Edinburg, sponsor of the bill in the upper house, is saying. He expects as many as 3,000 persons will be at the Capitol to testify or to listen when the bill comes up before the Senate Committee on Jurisprudence at 2 p.m., Tuesday, March 16.

Bill would allow establishments where at least half of the monthly business is for meals to get a state license for the sale of 2-oz. bottles of liquor, enough for a single cocktail.

There's organized support on both sides. The line-up:

—In Favor, the Texas Restaurant association which hopes the bill will permit its members to meet the competition of private clubs, which increasingly are getting the restaurant business from people who like a drink before dinner.

—Opposed, church groups which generally are against any liberalization of liquor regulations and a strange bedfellow, the Texas Package Stores Association, which contends the bill as written would prevent liquor stores from continuing to sell beer.

The Texas Package Stores Association also believes the same section it opposes would prohibit restaurants from selling beer and wine if they sold miniatures.

A hearing is yet to be scheduled on the House version of the bill by Rep. Willis Whatley of Houston.

CONGRESSIONAL REDISTRICTING — Texas Republicans whose lawsuit resulted in present congressional districts being invalidated, have offered their version of how the lines should be redrawn. Plan is embodied in a bill sponsored by Rep. Frank Cahoon of Midland, only Republican in the 59th Legislature.

The GOP product satisfies many objections raised to others introduced so far, since it disturbs fewer incumbents than any plan to date.

Only U. S. Reps. Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls and Omar Burleson of Anson would be facing each other as opponents in a newly-created Congressional District 13, and U. S. Reps. John Dowdy of Athens and Lindley Beckworth of Gladewater, in a newly-defined District 3.

Three new districts would be developed: A district 23, giving Harris county a third congressman; District 17, giving Bexar county and a group of South Texas counties another representative; and District 7, giving Dallas county a second congressman. U. S. Rep. Joe Pool, who lives in District 7, but now is elected statewide, could thus retain a seat.

LAND PROGRAM RENEWAL PROPOSED — Voters will get another chance to say whether they want to continue the veterans land program under which thousands of Texas veterans have purchased farm property at low interest.

A proposed constitutional amendment to extend the program — first amendment cleared this session — was approved by the Senate and sent to the governor. Amendment will be voted on in November. Rep. Gus Mutscher of Brenham and Sen. Criss Cole of Houston are the sponsors.

SMALL IOAN HEARING — A housewife from Dallas told members of the House Committee on Banks and Banking that a $50 loan, which she later decided she did not need in the first place, cost her $1,500 over a 3-year period by the time she went through renewals and additional loans to meet high interest rates.

Nine Students Take National Scholarship Test

Nine students at Knox City High School took the 1965 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test administered at 9 a.m. Tuesday, March 9. Those taking the tests were: Glenn Davis, Pat Shannon, Bill Cornett, Philip Williams, Gary Campbell, David Woodall, Michael Manuel, Gail Fletcher and Candy Carr.

The test is a three hour examination of educational development. It is the first step in the eleventh annual competition for four-year Merit Scholarships provided by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation and by sponsoring corporations, foundations, colleges, associations, unions, trusts, and individuals.

ATTENDS CEREMONIES

Carrol Kelly of Hamilton, student at San Marcus College, attended Inauguration Ceremonies in Washington with members of the college band. She is a cousin of Bob and Irene Rader of Knox City.

She testified in a hearing on a bill by Rep. W. Reed Quilliam Jr., of Lubbock, which would reduce interest rates on loans $100 or less by one-half to two-thirds.

An association of small loan companies appeared to oppose the bill. A citizens committee from Dallas and ex-Attorney General Will Wilson favored it. The bill went to a sub-committee.

GUADALUPE PARK ASKED — Senate adopted a resolution by Sen. W. E. Snelson of Midland urging fast action by Congress to appropriate funds for buying land to create a Guadalupe Mountain National park.

A federal agency has recommended that the park be created, and an area man has offered to sell 72,000 acres. Area contains the only stream in Texas where mountain trout thrive and is stocked with bear, mountain lion, elk, bighorn sheep, deer, turkey and a great variety of birds.

INTEREST BILL UP AGAIN — Rep. James Nugent of Kerrville has reintroduced the amendment to the state conflict of interest statute which failed to pass during the last session.

Among the changes is addition of a section which would prohibit any member of the Legislature from introducing or causing to be introduced legislation which would directly affect any client or employer from whom the legislator receives a retainer fee or any other financial consideration during his term in the Legislature.

HORSES STALLED — Rep. V. E. (Red) Berry of San Antonio was left at the post again in his latest try to legalize race track betting on the horses.

Berry couldn't win for losing when he argued for a constitutional amendment to permit parimutuel wagering in Bexar, Dallas, Tarrant, Harris, Galveston, Hidalgo, Cameron, Midland and Webb counties on a local option basis.

House Constitutional Amendments Committee tucked Berry's proposal away in sub-committee.

Frank Newsom, executive secretary of Texas Racing Association, said his group preferred a bill by Rep. Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville (scheduled for the House State Affairs Committee hearing on March 29). That bill would permit parimutuel betting at licensed tracks in all counties, subject to local option elections.

INTEGRATION Compliance Noted — Texas Education Agency notified federal authorities of compliance with school integration requirements of Federal Civil Rights Act.

All but 160 of 1,350 Texas School districts also have agreed to comply, according to Dr. J. W. Edgar, state education commissioner.

Agreement is necessary to continue receiving $40,000,000 in federal school aid.

Eight Texas school segregation laws now are under court challenge, Edgar reported.

GUARD FORCES CUT — Texas National Guard forces will undergo reductions more drastic than anticipated under Guard-Army Reserve merger troop allocation plans announced by the Pentagon.

Maj. Gen. Thomas S. Bishop, state adjutant general, said Texas personnel will be reduced 4,645 from the 28,233 in the Guard and Reserves. And 155 of the present 367 existing units will be dropped if the proposal — still subject to negotiation — becomes final.

"This far exceeds the 25 per cent (reduction) that we were advised to expect," Bishop commented.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

SELF-DEFENSE

Law, like psychology, pays al due respect to the instinct of self-preservation. To defend yourself from danger, you have a legal right to use force. If the emergency is dire enough, you may even slay your assailant.

But, like all rights, this one has limits.

Here are some warnings:
1) Your right, broadly speaking, is no greater than your need. A minor attack does not justify a major counterattack. Thus, a man who reacted to a slap by stabbing the other man five times was held to have exceeded his right of self-defense. So was a woman who shot another woman for merely pulling her hair.

Of course, in measuring your peril, the law will take into consideration the surrounding circumstances. Obviously a woman has more to fear from a furtive grab on a dark street than from a rude nudge in a crowded elevator.

2) Your right is only to defend, not to punish. If an intruder lies wounded and helpless on the floor, you have no right to kick him in the head to teach him a lesson. Punishment is the law's job, not yours.

3) Before arming yourself with a weapon, check with the police—Possessing it may be unlawful even though you never put it to use. For example, switchblade knives and tear gas squirters are permitted in some communities but not in others.

Now, here is some reassurance—You are not required, in the heat of the fray, to act with perfect judgment and nice restraint.

"Detached reflection cannot be demanded," write Oliver Wendell Holmes, "in the presence of an uplifted knife."

Moreover, the law makes fair allowance for the normal human emotions that such an occasion may arouse.

In one case, a bill collector had a housewife arrested for swatting him with a toy baseball bat. But she explained in court that the collector, trying to repossess her furniture by force, had cursed her, menaced her with his fist, and hurled her freshly-ironed laundry onto the floor.

Finding her innocent, the court said she had acted "very naturally," and added:

"She would not have been a woman if she had stood for that."

Streams In Desert Places

Ozelle Stephens

"Blessed are the Merciful: for they shall obtain mercy." (Matt. 5:7). Jesus is really instructing us here to be merciful in our judgment toward our fellowman. The less another person may seem to desire our mercy, the more deeply he is in need of it.

To reach the point where we can honestly feel, "I love you even though you are wrong," is truly to sit in the mercy seat. God's grace is sufficient to help us to love the unlovely and those who would wrong us; to pray for and bless those who would spitefully use and persecute us.

Truly this is the resurrection Morning.

FARM and RANCH Notes

JOE W. DOBY
COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT

After a week observing California Agriculture on the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Tour, I am back home again.

About 80 farmers, ranchers, county agents, newsmen and various company representatives made up the group on the tour. I would like to take this opportunity to thank the following firms and individuals for sponsoring the trip:

The First National Bank, Knox Prairie Seeds, Farmers Coop Gin, West Texas Utilities, Production Credit Association, Knox County Farm Bureau, all of Munday; Knox City Chamber of Commerce, Citizens State Bank, Sam Reed, Bruce Campbell Sr., of Knox City; League Ranch and J. C. Moorhouse, Benjamin contributed along with B-K Electric, Seymour and Rhineland Coop Gin.

We were headquartered in Palm Springs, and toured the Imperial, Coachella and Palo Verde Valleys and the Colorado River Indian Reservation.

We have been reading news stories about what California would be able to do without bracero labor. I was a little surprised to find that the large growers weren't very concerned about it. One of the top producers in the Imperial Valley told us he had not used any bracero labor in four years.

Some of the smaller growers seemed to be the only ones worried about finding enough labor.

It was consoling to hear that other people have problems, too. Their production costs are higher than ours so they really have to watch their business.

We toured the Colorado River Indian Reservation. These boys were sure trying to get someone to develop their land for them. They are willing to give 25 year lease on raw land if the lessee would clear, level and put in the ditches. They will bring the water to the farm and they have first call on Colorado River water.

We saw lettuce and asparagus being harvested, cantaloupes coming up and the grapes were leafing out. We also visited several feedlots but we didn't en-

VISIT IN OLTON
Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stubbs, Linda and Sandy, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Jake Armstrong and Roxy in Olton.

HERE FROM MIDLAND
Mrs. Amelia Sams of Midland spent last week end here with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sams and Bunnie.

These boys very much when we were told it costs 22 to 23 cents to put on a pound of gain. Taking everything into consideration, it was a very enjoyable trip and we appreciated the opportunity to make it.

Remember the meeting on guar production which will be held Tuesday night, March 16, starting at 8 p.m. in the Sunset School. Speaker will be Mr. Lester Brooks, the man who probably knows more about guar than anybody we know. Everyone interested in growing guar is invited.

Scientists at the Lower Rio Grande Valley Research and Extension Center have developed a watermelon variety, Rio Gray, which may greatly affect the watermelon industry. Assistant Horticulturist R. T. Correa developed the new melon.

The new melon originated from a single round shaped fruit found in a commercial field of Charleston Gray melons in 1958. Through eight generations, Correa has selected for fruit shape, earliness, internal flesh quality and freedom from blossomed rot, a physiological abnormality which can cut the yields by as much as 30 to 40 per cent.

In commercial trials for the past two years, Rio Grande has out-yielded the Charleston Gray variety and has matured fruit 7-10 days earlier.

Rio Gray has good internal quality, is a good shipper, is resistant to blossom-end rot and is slow to become over-ripe.

It produces round, gray, family-size fruit that averages 22 pounds. It is also resistant to sunburn and pimples, the rind symptom of the tobacco ring-spot virus. The plant is also highly resistant to Fusarium wilt.

The variety has found good acceptance from growers, shippers and consumers.

Seed of the new watermelon variety are available from local seedmen for commercial plantings this spring.

Old Medicines Are Dangerous Doctors Warn

You may see that your children are properly fed, clothed and housed, yet be harboring a potential child-killer under your roof.

By virtue of carelessness or neglect you may be setting up a situation for your child to poison himself.

It happens . . . and quite often. Poisoning is one of the leading accidental killers of children from one to four years old.

Your medicine cabinet, for example, may be host to potential killers. If it is cluttered with a helter-skelter collection of beauty aids, first aid supplies — home remedies and assorted containers of partly-used and long-outdated prescription medicines, beware.

There is only one suitable place for old medicines — down the drain.

Any medicine that has changed color, or that has formed a

Knox City Garden Club Has Meeting

The Knox City Garden Club met Tuesday in the Woman's Club house for a workshop on preparing dried materials for arrangements.

Mrs. H. E. Wall led the discussion and demonstrated the many ways of drying flowers leaves and plants to make the arrangements.

Mrs. B. B. Campbell Sr., demonstrated the arranging of materials the members brought.

The Table of the Day was arranged by Mrs. Arthur Crownover. The centerpiece was yellow daffodils in a green and white container with a driftwood used as an accessory.

Hostesses were Mmes. H. F. Jungman, W. H. Stewart and W. C. Hertel.

The next meeting of the club will be on April 13, and will feature Grooming and Arranging for Flower Show.

Mrs. J. M. Averitt will be leader.

the best types of insurance against unemployment emergencies — which are almost always unforeseeable. It is, of course, a delight to have all the finest things that you and your family may want. They bring happiness and satisfaction. But not if your financial planning has been bad and the bill collectors and repossession agents beat an unpleasant path to your door.

Time teaches that it takes even more intelligence, will power and courage to plan for tomorrow than it does to take care of today's obvious obligations.

Thrift is still one of the cardinal virtues, even though the buy-now-pay-later system that is so prevalent in our society encourages careless spending and unthrifty attitudes. If a recession strikes, many who ignore THRIFT will be among the sadder but wiser who will have learned this fine attribute too late.

of living, a substantial majority of family income today is used up in fixed charges such as food, rent, and installment debt.

When Setbacks Come

This may be all right as long as a boom is in progress. But let a downturn set in and bring about layoffs, and the burden of installment commitments carried by many people could mean economic catastrophe for them.

There will always be important cycles of overexpansion and depression because the inevitable quirks of human judgment will see to that. Only if you increase your financial reserves during an "up" period can you hope to ride through a "down" period without being done in.

Inflation talk is everywhere at the present time, so family heads are especially ready to take on new expenses if only to avoid the higher prices for goods that they expect a little later on. It must be kept in mind, however, that inflation is always followed by a blow-up. So if we should have an inflationary explosion, you can count on it to be followed by deflation. And deflation means business troubles, more unemployment, lower incomes. If a man has no reserves, a layoff could leave him with unpayable commitments for mortgage, interest, real estate tax, car, furniture, appliances. If, in addition, he owes for store purchases and utilities, no unemployment insurance is going to scratch the surface of his needs.

Prosperity is a time for putting funds aside in savings accounts, with an idea perhaps of carefully investing the money later on.

Money in the bank is one of

Babson Reports On Economy

BABSON PARK, Mass. — It is often impossible to convince young husbands and wives that it is during periods of prosperity like the present that plans must be made for possible unexpected reverses. Business has never kept on going up indefinitely without recessions or other corrective adjustments, and chances are that it never will. The fundamental law of economic Action and Reaction is easier to forget than to repeat.

Nearly everybody wants a new car, a color TV set, appliances, luxuries, exotic vacations, and a modern up-to-date home. It is only natural for the young and the optimistic to want the highest possible standard of living for themselves, and for their children. But it seems to be going out of fashion for people to check on just how much the family pocketbook can stand.

How many of today's workers, for instance, set aside part of their weekly pay check to place in some form of liquid savings before they buy desirable but not essential things?

During a boom it is easy for a young family man to get trapped. And at present, he is further lured by the promises of the Great Society, and he is also a product of the "unending" prosperity that has come out of World War II. Like many others, he is enticed into overloading, by newspaper, magazine, radio, and TV ads. With more money to spend than he has ever had before, he is easily tempted to get in over his head. Whereas families twenty years ago were spending only 45 per cent of their incomes for the essentials residue at the bottom of the bottle, is not trustworthy and should be destroyed.

Aspirin tablets that are crumbly or that give off a vinegary odor and hydrogen peroxide that no longer bubbles should also go down the drain.

Mild antiseptics that have become cloudy or have a solid residue at the bottom and milk of magnesia that has become caked are in the same to-be-despos-ed-of category.

Do away with any ointment or salve that has separated, developed spots or become discolored, as well as nose drops that have become cloudy or have developed a sediment.

Also destroy eyewash or eye drops left over from treating any illness. Some of these may develop a dangerous fungus growth after a time.

Nothing in your medicine cabinet, however, can be more lethal than prescription drugs of whose identity you are not absolutely certain. When a label is missing or illegible, the sooner you rid your shelves of that container, the better. This is particularly true when there is a youngster in the climbing-and-prying stage in your home.

Poison Control Week — Mar. 14 through 20 — is a particularly good time for you to take stock of your medicine cabinet and other potential poison hazards in your home.

Modern medications render a great service to mankind, but they can be lethal in little hands.

Hospital Has New Admission Policy

A new admission program has been put in effect at the Knox County Hospital, by the hospital board in a meeting held March 3.

The new rules are "fair, simple, and must be carried to perfection, as to enable them to maintain rates at present level," the board said.

Here are the new regulations. Anyone will be admitted with a valid insurance policy with proper signature, assigned to hospital on entering.

If no insurance policy, an estimated charge will be figured and that will be the cost of the patient's admittance in the hospital.

Example: the admitting doctor will estimate the number of days that the patient will be in the hospital and it is three days in a $16. a day room, in this case there would have to be a deposit of $48. before admittance to hospital.

Obstetric (maternity) cases—$50 deposit without insurance.

Emergency patients — They will be put to bed and some member of immediate family will have to make arrangements with business office.

Elective admission — If patient does not have a valid insurance policy, and does not have the cash deposit, the patient will have to get a charity form from the Commissioners of the precinct in which they live.

Emergency (weekends or after hours)—Where a person needs emergency treatment at the hospital emergency only, they must pay immediately after treatment, and then if they have insurance, present the policy to the business office later and they will collect for the patient.

The new regulations are necessary due to delinquent accounts. They were not made to work a hardship on anyone, the board said, but must be enforced in order to maintain all hospital services.
