NUMBER 30

At least two Knox City women of our acquaintance should have their husband's admiration, for they certainly have ours.

Mrs. Kenneth Crownover, or Doris, as her friends call her, is completing two years of college work at Midwestern University at Wichita Falls plus a correspondence course at Texas Tech in Lubbock to complete her Elementary Education course.

We won't try to list all of her attributes, but just a few of the ones we've seen personally are—besides her college work—she takes care of her family as any dutiful housewife, has plenty of time for Girl Scout work, is always doing something for her church, the needy, and is always willing to lend a talented hand whenever and wherever it is needed.

Another husband who should be proud of his wife, in our unbiased and opinionated opinion, is Guy Bradley. His wife Jerry manages to hold down a beauty operator's busy schedule, drives seven miles home at lunch to fix dinner for two or more hungry men, keeps one of the most immaculate houses we've ever seen, does her own washing, yard work and car and pickup washing.

You boys better watch your step, 'cause they don't raise gals like this much anymore!

Had a long visit with Judge L. A. Parker over Benjamin way last week and the Judge was reminiscing about the day long ago, when a man raised his own vittles, instead of depending on a run to the grocery before each meal.

The Judge said there were only two people in Benjamin who owned and milked milk cows—Merick McGaughey and—we can't remember the second energetic fellow.

We can't help but wonder how many people wish they had stayed on the farm when they could—instead of moving to town.

Had a short visit with Zena Waldron and her clerks, too—we always enjoy visiting with Zena for she is always cheerful and even if we feel depondent, we always leave with a lighter heart after visiting with her for a few minutes.

Although she has had just about all the sickness one family can have, we've never seen her at low ebb... A most remarkable woman.

As you can guess Zena is another one of our favorite girl friends.

PROUD PARENTS—Several Knox City parents are extremely happy with their offspring.

Mrs. Lavina Reid received word that Jimmy Joe was third out of over 300 men in the expert rifle competition he entered at Okinawa recently. He received a $10 check and a certificate.

The C. L. Spencer's are also proud of their son for graduating medical school in the top 10 out of umpteen grads. He will intern at Parkland in Dallas after he returns from a short vacation.

Jimmy Groves has an A average in chemistry at Harvard, and Eddie Williams brought his parents a 3.8 average from Texas Tech this semester. A 4.0 is perfect, if you didn't know!

We feel certain there are a lot more kids from our little community making their mark in the world, we don't know about.

As most parents are bashful, tell your neighbor so he can tell us, so we can tell you.

Time is about up to enter in the Munday Vegetable Festival... we would like to compliment the business men over there for an obviously good thing, and to the Smith family for far-sightedness and hard work to grow what the county can grow and produce, profitably.

A calendar of events will be found elsewhere in today's paper, supplied by the Munday Times... Big doin's are on tap Friday and Saturday, so make a date to help our friends and neighbors put on a good show.

POTATOES, Potatoes, everywhere—Bill Lankford is shown above gathering a "mess of potatoes." He originally set aside 50 acres for his Red La Sota Potatoes, but ended up with 42½ acres. Harvest should be completed by next week, weather permitting. Lankford and B. E. Smith of Munday are pioneers in this type 'truck farm' operation.

Rural Accidents Total Nine During Month Of May

There were nine rural accidents in Knox County during the month of May, according to Sergeant Frank Jirek, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in one death, seven persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $6,825.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county for the first five months of 1965 shows a total of 27 accidents resulting in three persons killed, 16 persons injured, and an estimate property damage of $53,450.00.

"Due to a man power shortage in the uniform services of the Texas Department of Public Safety, applications for the position of patrolman are now being accepted until July 6," announced the Patrol Supervisor.

Examinations will be given throughout the state on July 14 and 15. The four month training school will begin on August 31, at the Texas Department of Public Safety Law Enforcement Academy in Austin.

Young men between the ages of 21 and 35 that are interested should contact the nearest Texas Department of Public Safety Patrolman or office for additional information.

Billy Decker Is Promoted to Sgt.

Billy G. Decker, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Decker of Rule 1, Goree, has been promoted to staff sergeant in the U. S. Air Force at Dyess AFB.

Sergeant Decker is an air policeman in a unit that supports the Strategic Air Command mission of keeping the nation's intercontinental missiles and pet bombers on constant alert.

The sergeant, a graduate of Trent High School, is married to the former M. A. Surlane of France.

Bond Carries By Wide Margin At O'Brien

A near record turn-out of O'Brien voters went to the polls Saturday to cast 24 votes—21 for and only three against a proposed bond election to construct a $60,000 sewerage disposal plant.

Voters voted a $32,000 tax bond and $30,000 in revenue bonds.

A $10,000 federal grant is expected to defray local expense.

JOE W. DOBY
COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT

The 1965 edition of the Knox County Vegetable Festival will unfold Friday night and Saturday, June 18-19, at Munday.

Many people have worked long hours to have a great show for everyone. The primary aim is to let more people know about the vegetables growing in the county as well as the potential production.

All producers, large or small, field or garden, are urged to bring in entries for the judging on Saturday morning. There will be a division for home gardens and one for commercial producers.

These entries should be prepared as one would prepare for a market and not for the table. Pick your entries for freedom from disease, high quality, and uniform size. They should be clean. Bring them to the Elementary school gym in Munday, between 7-9 a.m. on Saturday morning. Burt Williams and Robert Nix are in charge of the vegetable show.

Judges will be Dr. Jack Kyle, Horticulturalist, Agricultural Experiment Station, Lubbock; Virgil Woodfin, Iowa Park Experiment Station; John Klemm, Campbell Soup Field Representative, Plainview.

The Knox County 4-H Horse Show will be held Saturday, June 26, in Benjamin in the new Riding Club Arena.

Judging of classes will begin at 8 a.m. Judge of the show will be Royce McClary, manager of the Triange Ranch, Paducah. Performance classes including Pole Bending, Barrel Racing, Reining and Western Pleasure will begin as soon as the natter classes are completed.

Any 4-H member in Knox Co. interested in horses is eligible to enter. The horse that is used must belong to them or an immediate member of the family.

Knox County 4-H members along with the Agents and Adult leader, Mrs. Arnold Navrtil, Gilliland, attended District 3 4-H Camp at Leuders, June 14-16. 4-H members attending were Jacky Miller, Doris Navrtil, both of Gilliland; George Doby and Pam Roberts, Benjamin and Judy Lowe, Munday.

Digging of the Irish Potato Variety test plot is scheduled for Wednesday June 16. The plot is located on land farmed by Gene Thompson east of Munday.

Visitors who will be here for the digging and evaluation include Dr. Jack Kyle and Dr. Robert Berry, Lubbock; Dr. John Larsen, Dr. Homer Blackhurst, Dr. Bruce Perry, all of College Station; John Klemm, Plainview, Virgil Woodfin, Iowa Park, Ben Picha, Grand Forks, North Da., and Charles Chambers, Paris, Texas.

There are 159 lines and varieties in this year's test. The lines are included for observation of their performance in this area. Many will be used in breeding work for certain desirable characteristics. Many will be discarded because of poor yield or poor resistance to disease.

The specific gravity will be calculated on each variety. This work will be done Thursday in the Cotton Cladding Building in Munday. Anyone who would care to watch this operation is invited.

Letter to Editor: --

(Editor's Note: Mr. B. B. Campbell Sr., has written an account of the "Golden Anniversary of Registered Herefords in Knox Co.," and this is Mr. Campbell's own account of his experiences.) Dear Editor:

It was in the early fall of 1912 that I began dreaming of owning some registered cattle. I consulted my Uncle Tom Roberts, with whom I lived during my school will be held on Thursday night beginning at 7 p.m. in the Shamrock Cafe in Munday for all vegetable producers. At this meeting, the results of the potato variety test will be given. All of the distinguished gentlemen mentioned earlier will be there to discuss the growing and marketing of all vegetables important to our area. Everyone is invited.

Please leave work with Mrs. Combs at the Chamber of Commerce office by Thursday noon or write me at Benjamin, if you plan to attend so we will know how many places to prepare.

Grasshoppers are causing damage in many parts of the County at the present time. A. L. Broman, USDA man stationed at Vernon, has been checking the county the past week. He found one large area, 3-5 miles west of Benjamin. Another was noted west of Truscott on the Alexander Ranch. Undoubtedly there are many others.

The easier time to control these outbreaks is before they leave the hatching ground. They are then concentrated in a small area and very little spray is needed.

Grasshoppers can be controlled by baits, sprays or dusts.

Sprays have proven to be the best control in most cases. Materials recommended are Malathion, Sevin, Aldrin, Toxaphene and Heptachlor. The rates of application and restriction as to use are given on the label or in MP-339, Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Grain and Forage Crops. Read the label and follow instructions.

Now is the time to kill those overwintered boll weevils. Many fields have a tremendous population of these pests feeding on leaves waiting for the first squares. A community wide effort now could add many weeks to the time when they would need to be controlled again. It would give the beneficial insects a chance to build up a population that would help control bollworms. The cotton insect guide lists seven different insecticides effective, years, regarding such an investment. His observation was that all men that went in for registered cattle went broke—knowing that I had nothing to lose, I borrowed some money from my Grandmother and bought five cows from Mr. B. C. Rhome, and shipped them by rail to Munday.

After an all-night rest, I drove them across and put them in John Wilson's horse lot to wait for Tick Inspection — if found clear of ticks I could take them across the Quarantine Line, which happened to be the Orient Railroad — being ticky, had to hold them over another 10 days.

My first calf came during a very bitter cold spell in February, 1913, the little bull calf seemed to get his legs tangled up, so I proceeded to carry him in the kitchen, where I met my Grandmother and an argument ensued, but she, being a very kind person, finally agreed to let me keep the calf in the kitchen to be taken out on demand.

My uncle agreed to buy my first bull calf at $150.00 and as his dam only cost $75.00, it seemed like a lot of money, but as luck would have it, he sold his cattle and did not need the calf — but he told me to keep the $150.00, so I didn't feel like my venture was going to be so bad.

This calf, named Lord Roberts, was by Percival and he by Beau Brummell — his Dam was a granddaughter of Beau Brummell — so I was off on the Anxiety Strain of Herefords, a favorite strain even to this day. One of my old cows had a beautiful heifer calf, her sire was Earl Beau Donald, her next calves were twin bulls. The heifer died from blackleg, at that time there being no black leg serum, then the cow was killed by lightning, so that cut me down to four cows.

One of the cows had a heifer calf which was killed by lightning.

ing at two years old, and the cow died from eating alfalfa in 1918, another cow died as a maternity case — so I was almost out of business, but not quite.

My next bull of any note was Texas Fairfax 3rd, from the C. M. Largent & Sons herd at $1,500.

During the drought of 1917-1918, I went out of the hog and sheep business and it looked as if I was going out of the cow business.

By the fall of 1918, I had accumulated 15 bulls and 20 head of registered cows and heifers. The last thing a cowman wanted on his ranch was a bull, so I spent the fall of 1918 and spring of 1919 in a one room shack seven miles east from Altus, Oklahoma. My experience in Oklahoma would fill a book, looked as if I wasn't wanted, don't know whether it was all my bulls or just didn't like a Texan, you know many of these people were descendants of early settlers of Greer County.

1919 was one of the best years I had ever known up to that time — so built up quite a nice bunch of registered cattle again — but in 1925 the cow market went like the stock market of 1929. I sold my brother-in-law, Alexander Deussen, 40 cows and heifers at $50.00 from which that herd today runs from 80 to 100 mother cows and there has never been a female purchased by me or myself in all these 50 years.

I would not venture to say how many thousand head has been produced from you could say, four cows. I sold four cows to a friend in Uvalde County in 1937, and he has kept records of 579 head produced.

A young man that loves livestock can begin in a small way — just take care of them and make it your hobby.

We have come a long way in range management but I can't say we have improved the cattle enough to brag about.

I have pictures of bulls on one of my original pedigrees taken over 100 years ago in England, the original home of the Hereford.

After 50 years, the descendants of the original four cows graze on grasses in the bend of the Brazos River, and I am still as interested in registered cattle now as when I bought the original five cows in the year 1912.

Summer Safety Tips...

STOP THROWING THINGS WITH THAT ROTARY MOWER

The propeller-like blade on a rotary power lawn mower revolves at a rate of 4,000 times per minute.

It can turn a stone on the lawn into an unguided missile if it strikes it. Such flying objects have been hurled at great distances at speeds up to 170 mph and have pierced, fractured, crippled, blinded and killed. They will cause an estimated 30% of the 100,000 power mower accidents expected to take place this year.

Mower producers are constantly working on designs to eliminate the danger of thrown objects. They have carried on broad educational programs to familiarize owners of the estimated 22 million rotary mowers being used in this country with proper safety procedures. To reduce the danger, they advise:

- ... Before mowing, clear the lawn of stones, wire, glass, toys, etc.
- ... Don't let children stand on the sidelines watching;
- ... Stop the mower if someone approaches;
- ... Guide the mower so that the discharge side never faces a sidewalk or neighbors on an adjoining lawn;
- ... Always stop the engine before crossing a gravel driveway, walks or dirt roads.

This year a new type of rotary mower is available that will not throw objects. It has no propeller-like blade, but cuts grass efficiently with a unique "safety disc" cutting system that has been developed by P.M. Engineering & Manufacturing Co., of Ridgeway, Pa.

Four small steel blades are securely fastened to a round "safety disc" that rotates beneath the mower's housing. Each blade is free to spin in a complete circle around a special bushing and is held in place to cut the grass by centrifugal force from the spinning disc.

On contact with a solid object, the blades spin back and seldom even move the object. They are immediately returned to the cutting position by the centrifugal force.

The "Whispering Jet" weighs 40-44 lbs., about 20 lbs. less than the average comparable metal mower, because reinforced plastic has been used in the housing, safety disc and motor cover.

These sturdy components are fabricated using polyester resins produced by Koppers Company, Inc., reinforced with fiberglass.

They won't rust or corrode. P.M. plans to sell the safety disc and blades separately for less than $5 to owners who want to convert their conventional rotary mowers to this new cutting system. Information on the safety disc can be obtained by writing to P.M. Manufacturing, Ridgeway, Pa.

Watch Out For Water Accidents!

Today people are taking to the water like ducks, but unfortunately, they don't swim anywhere near as well.

A generation or two ago water sports consisted chiefly of leaping into the old swimmin' hole or rowing around the lake. But today, more people than ever before are seeking their summer pastimes in an aquatic setting — and literally dying from it.

Several hundred will drown this year in Texas, according to a projection of previous records. On a nation-wide scale, 6,000 persons are predicted to drown from a variety of aquatic sports and activities.

Scuba diving and skin diving, surfboarding, water skiing and high-powered boating have added to the hazards of conventional swimming, diving and boating. And the proliferation of municipal and private pools and public beaches have further compounded the opportunities for injury, infection and death.

Let's take a look at the type injuries that accompany the various sports, and from this investigation we can gain clues to prevention.

Sailing accidents often are head injuries from a swinging boom. Power-boating accidents are frequently lacerations and amputations from motor boat propellers and collisions.

Common injuries among water skiers are finger, wrist, nose and face abrasions or fractures, mostly occurring from a fall onto the skis while in motion.

Some of the dangers of skin diving and underwater swimming include hyperventilation, malfunctioning scuba apparatus, face mask squeeze, middle ear squeeze, water pressure, and the threat of underwater life such as sea urchins, coral, the Portuguese man of war and others.

The dangers from these acquatic sports depend, of course, on your proximity to water — fresh or salt.

If you live close to the water, or plan to vacation by the waterfront this summer, follow this plan.

Make sure you and your family are trained in survival treatment.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

SALES TALK

"This suit will wear like iron," the friendly salesman assures you. It doesn't really wear like iron, are you entitled to a refund?

Obviously not. Even though the salesman exaggerated, any sensible person would have taken his statement with a grain of salt. The law doesn't require absolute honesty by a seller for the simple reason that people just don't expect it.

"It always has been understood, the world over," observed Oliver Wendell Holmes, "that such statements are to be dis-trusted."

Of course, salesmanship can spill over into fraud. Although the dividing line is not always clear, there are several factors that weigh heavily in the law's balance.

For instance: Was the seller stating a fact or only an opinion? "This car'll last you for the next five years" is usually just the seller's opinion, not a specific guarantee. But "This car is only five years old" is factual. By and large, the law expects statements of fact to be accurate. Also, a seller has a greater duty to be truthful when there is a relationship of trust between him and the buyer. Thus, talk by a seller was held to be fraud, not salesmanship, because he happened to be the buyer's trusted adviser.

And a seller with technical knowledge of the product, not available to the buyer, must stick closer to the truth — because the buyer is more likely to rely on what he says.

Moralists may argue that a seller should be held to total truth, plain and unvarnished, under all circumstances.

But, after all, it isn't necessarily a question of saint and sinner. Buyers, too, often stretch gaining. If sellers exaggerate, a point in the process of bar-buysers belittle. What the seller calls a peach, the buyer calls a lemon. The Bible (Proverbs 20: 14) puts it this way:

"It is naught, it is naught, saith the buyer: but when he is gone is way, then he boasteth." (Public service feature of the American Bar Association and the State Bar of Texas. Written by Will Bernard.)

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Number of registered voters in Texas dropped nearly a million from last year's record breaking number, according to figures released by Comptroller Robert S. Calvert.

Most of the decrease apparently came in the 50,000 to 150,000 cities, with the largest areas and the rural counties holding fairly steady. Number of issued poll tax receipts and exemptions dropped from 2,892,670 for voting in the 1964 presidential elections to 1,970,381 for this off-year.

The five most populous counties — Harris, Dallas, Bexar, Tarrant, and El Paso — actually increased their percentage of the registered vote by three points. They held 44 per cent of this year's poll tax receipts.

However, this is not a specific indicator of their dominance over rural areas, since in cities of less than 10,000, elderly voters do not have to claim their exemption.

This year only 3,314 signed up for "free" poll tax receipts qualifying them for ballots this year. A total of 84,297 of these "poll-tax-not-paid" certificates were issued in 1964, first year they were available for presidential, vice presidential and congressional balloting.

As voting dates for constitutional amendments near, it is apparent that most Texans of voting age will be able to do no more than look and hope, for lack of a poll tax receipt.

INSURANCE RATES GOING UP — State Board of Insurance Chairman Homer McLean jolted auto owners with more bad news — their insurance premiums are going up at least 12 per cent.

Board meets officially on June 22 to set rates on basis of experience by areas. However, McLean already has served notice that there is no doubt rising motor accidents will make a stiff rate hike mandatory. There were 13 per cent more accidents last year than in 1963.

Rates dropped 1.2 per cent last year for the total insurance field, but should have gone up, McLean said. Auto liability insurance, although sometimes criticized as high priced, actually has cost companies more than $1 billion during the last 10 years, he maintained.

Premiums vary in 26 rating territories of the state according to their accident records the previous year.

BOUNDARY AGREED ON — Conferees have agreed on location of the boundary line between Texas and Louisiana, long in dispute, reports Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler.

Next step will be appointment of a boundary commission by governors of the states to approve the new line and submit it to their legislators for concurrence. Congress also will have to ratify the line.

Dispute has involved some valuable mineral lands. Louisiana claimed ownership to the west bank of the Sabine River and Sabine Lake into Gulf of Mexico. Texas claimed its line extended to the middle of the river and lake.

MIGRANT AID PUSHED — Governor's Office of Economic Opportunity is seeking approval of a $5,500,000 grant of federal "War on Poverty" funds for seven programs to help Texas migrant workers.

If the grant is approved, additional state funds and staff services will bring the total cost of the program to some $6 million, an average of about $46 for each of the estimated 128,000 Texans who migrate to do seasonal agricultural work.

Included in the programs would be an effort to retrain in operation of farm machinery about 200 South Texas migrants and irrigation control to relocate them for permanent jobs in West Texas, where the end of the bracero program has created a labor shortage.

Most of the money would be used for educational programs both for the children of migrant families and their parents, who would be taught homemaking and vocational trades. Also planned are rest stops where they can stop and cook meals, use sanitary facilities and spend the night while traveling across the state, and regional centers to test and screen migrants for tuberculosis and hospitalize positive cases.

COURTS SPEAK — District Judge Herman Jones of Austin postponed until July 15 final arguments in a major case over the Railroad Commission's new tr to require natural gas purchasers to extend pipelines to all producers in a field.

Rio Grande Valley Gas Company appealed a commission order to join its pipeline to a well owned by Russell Maguire of Dallas in West Port Isabel Field, Cameron County. Company maintains there is no procedure to reach agreement on price of gas. Jones, after a three-day hearing, gave attorneys for both sides time to file more briefs.

Supreme Court will hear the case involving authority of Rice University trustees to disregard racial and tuition restrictions imposed by the institution's founder, William Marsh Rice, in 1891.

Supreme Court refused to consider an appeal by 39 ex-employees of a Wesloca television station, formerly owned by President Johnson's family, seeking payment from a profit-sharing plan.

Court of Criminal Appeals denied rehearing sought by former Pasadena Mayor Sam Hoover convicted as an accomplice in a torture-robbery case. Court earlier had upheld a 60-year prison sentence given Hoover, 55, described in trial as "mastermind" of the March 11, 1964, robbery of Mr. and Mrs. Mair J. Schepps in Houston.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES — Court-appointed defense lawyers are entitled to no more than $10 per case on pleas of guilty before the court. Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr held in an opinion requested by Waller Co. Atty. C. W. Karisch of Hempstead. Carr said $25 a day payments are allowed only where cases go to actual trial.

Bread is bread, no matter what the baker labels it, and a loaf must weigh at least one pound, Carr told Agriculture Commissioner John C. White. White had asked if elimination of the word "bread" on labels and substitution of such phrases as "party slices," "rye slices" or similar terms exempt a product from standard requirements.

COTTON CONFERENCES — Agriculture Commissioner White is planning state conferences on the national cotton program for 1966.

White says cotton still is the No. 1 state crop and drastic cut-backs could hurt the agricultural economy. He points out that cotton production puts $800,000,000 a year in the pockets of growers and that the industry generates jobs and economic activity amounting to $5,600,000,000 a year in Texas.

TEENAGE JOBS SAFE — Liquor Control Board Administrator Coke Stevenson has clarified his two "administrative interpretation" bulletins which cautioned against hiring minors to work "on or about licensed premises." Stevenson says teenage workers will not lose their jobs if the stores comply with normal regulations.

He added that the bulletins

Veterans QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q — I have received an insurance application and a pamphlet from the VA, generally describing the provisions of the new insurance law. I already have $10,000 worth of government insurance. Am I eligible for more insurance?

A — No. VA sent applications and general information to veterans on the compensation rolls on the basis they are the group having the greatest potential eligibility. The mailing was conducted from records maintained by our automatic data processing office. These records do not show the insurance status of the veteran.

Q — I have government life insurance on the term plan. When will I be told of my eligibility for the new modified life plan which became available on May 1?

A — Generally, veterans with term insurance will be notified of the modified life plan when their policy is scheduled for renewal on the term plan. Prior to expiration of the term contract, the veteran will be given complete information regarding the new insurance.

Q — My military service started subsequent to January 1, 1957. Am I eligible for the insurance I have heard so much about?

A — No. The insurance you refer to is available only to certain veterans having service between Oct 8, 1940, and January 1, 1957, and who meet other requirements established by the VA.

from his office were meant to remind holders of beer, wine, and liquor permits that they must separate a portion of their store by a guard rail and place an adult in charge of a check-out counter used for purchase of alcoholic beverages.

BROWNWOOD AREA PROJECTS APPROVED — Texas Water Commission has approved some $10 million in U. S. Corps of Engineers flood control and water supply projects for the Brownwood area.

A new $3 million dam at Lake Brownwood, a $7 million flood control reservoir on Pecan Bayou upstream and channel improvements on the bayou, Adams Branch, Tom Williams Branch and Willis Creek are included. The new dam is planned 800 feet downstream from the old one whose outlets never have worked properly since its construction during 1932 floods.

Extension Program Very Extensive

Demonstrations covering many phases of range management were conducted in every section of Texas during 1964. These demonstrations, supervised by local county agents and their program building committees, involved hundreds of ranches and millions of acres of rangeland, report G. O. Hoffman and B. J. Ragsdale, Extension range specialists of Texas A&M University.

Brush, weed and poisonous plant control programs involved the most demonstrations, 947. More than 241,600 acres were involved. Chemicals were used on more than 70,000 acres of the total. Control measures were carried out on more than 1.3 million acres outside of the supervised demonstrations, the specialists said.

Proper stocking rate demonstrations, numbering 470 in 147 counties, involved 1.9 million acres but according to the information supplied by county agents, the acreage properly stocked during 1964 exceeded 7.2 million acres. Deferred and rotation grazing demonstrations were conducted in 136 counties with more than 1 million acres involved.

In order to improve stock water facilities, county agents reported to Hoffman and Ragsdale that more than 2,400 wells and 6,700 tanks were added to the capital assets of stockmen in 203 counties.

Crossfencing, 6,400 miles of it, and moving salt away from watering areas were methods used to get more uniform grazing over pastures and ranges and thus better utilization of available forage.

Other demonstrations included the seeding of abandoned cropland, denuded rangeland and seeding following brush control with adapted pasture and range grasses. These involved more than 200,000 acres. Weed control by mechanical and chemical methods involved more than two million acres.

4-H Club members are also doing their part to establish good range management practices by participating in grass and range judging contests, by conducting range management demonstrations and as members of range demonstration teams.

Living intimately with God, you abide in His life, love, power, wisdom and joy. You also radiate these blessings to others. To realize this joy and power in Christ, you must seek the presence of God with your mind, your heart and your soul, realizing unto Him all cares and burdens, putting away all thoughts of selfishness or self will.

You must say: "Not as I will, but as thou wilt," knowing that God knows how to care for you far more than you could ever wish or achieve for yourself.

Be as the gliding bird that rides on the buoyant air, lean up on your Father who lifts all care. Let the dark weights to which you bowed, dissolve like the morning clouds.

Soil Needs Care For Top Production

Good soil management practices and well-adapted cropping systems provide the basis for continued prosperity in agriculture.

However, those who depend on the soil for livelihood sometimes become careless with this valuable resource, and this can prove costly, says John Box, associate agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Crop production directly reflects a soil's physical condition and fertility status. Physical properties can be controlled by good use of residues, rotations, cover crops and manures to maintain a deep, mellow soil condition, rather than a soil which is tight and hard to work.

Organic matter plays a prime role in keeping soil in good physical condition, points out the agronomist. It insures a good population of beneficial soil bacteria, aids in water penetration, improves the soil's structure and water storage capacity, and adds nutrients and humus.

Since many Texas soils show deficiencies in nitrogen, phosphorus, potash and lime, fertilization is essential to insure maximum yields and higher production.

Box advises a soil test to determine the amount and type of fertilizer needed.

Crop rotations can also aid in improving soil productivity, and high residue crops tend to boost any rotation program. Legumes supply nitrogen to the soil, while both legumes and grasses provide organic matter and grazing. Legumes, however, require adequate levels of soil fertility if they are to thrive and give top production.

Almost every farm operator follows some type of soil management or cropping plan, though sometimes unconscious of the fact. For a prosperous '65, develop a good production plan and carry it out, says the agronomist.
