ISN'T FREEDOM WORTH IT?
By TWYLA STANDLEE

It has been said that democracy was the dream of the 18th century, the achievement of the 19th century and the problem of the 20th century.

As the years fast approach, I will be a senior citizen, do I consider our democracy and freedom a problem or a burden? Our nation is in a bad moral state. There is confusion and rioting everyday. Are these people braver or more American because they set themselves on fire as a protest against fighting communism in Viet Nam?

Are these people braver or more American because they dare to burn or tear up draft cards than they would be if they volunteered to give their lives for their country? Are these people braver or more American because they join riots and pickets against the United States, than they would be if they stood up for their country?

Perhaps one of the many reasons for all of these, is we just don't know enough about our America.

Today let us go back in the time and history to the first days of America's beginning.

In 1492, as I, one of Columbus's men sat up in that old crow's nest searching for land, I thought I saw it, but was I sure? We had been on the sea for many days and could only be a mirage, but sure enough it was land. A great mass of land inhabited only by Indians.

And who was to know that day this land was to become one of the greatest nations ever known to men.

As the years advanced on, we find ourselves fighting for our lives against disease, starvation, weather, crop-failure and Indians. The years are 1620 to 1750's, and we are trying to survive in our new American settlement. It took guts to stay out there in that wilderness, but we stayed, we learned from the Indians, we plowed the land and slaved to make it work for us. Yes, there was a lot of work, but there were pleasures too. We believed and worshipped our one true God. We spoke against things we didn't like and we assembled in our town meetings without fear of being killed by the king. As I said before, we had to work, but the freedom that this New America gave us was enough to pay us three times over.

Next we pass on to the year 1775 to 1783. As Americans we had to fight for our freedom and when Paul Revere banged on my door, I was ready. But I wasn't the only minuteman willing to give my life for freedom and when I looked back to tell my family bye, yes there were tears, but then everyone had to give up something for freedom. Isn't freedom worth it?

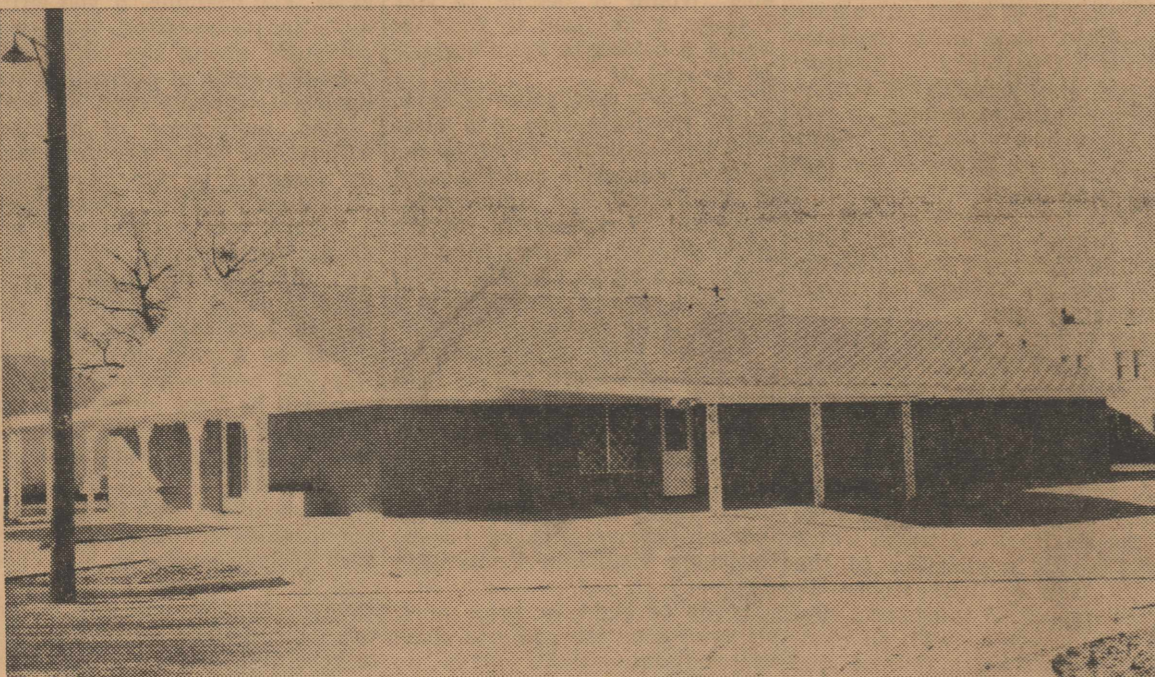

On May 10, 1775, we journey to Philadelphia, where we are to attend the meeting of the second continental congress. We are late in arriving, so as we enter we find a seat in the back of the building. There is a debate and discussion going on, but as Patrick Henry mounts the platform, the crowd quiets. Mr. Henry looks at his audience before he speaks, and I could tell by that look in his eye that he had something to say, and we had better listen.

"Gentlemen may cry, Peace, but there is no peace. The war is actually begun. The next gale that sweeps from the north will bring to our eyes and ears the clash of resounding arms: Our brethren are already in the field, why stand we here idle? What is the gentlemen wish? What they have? Is life so dear, or peace so sweet, as to be purchased at the price of chains or slavery? Forbid it almighty God. I know what course others may take, but as for me give me liberty or give me death."

There is silence as Mr. Henry turned to leave the platform. A thunderous roar of applause and shouts arose. We were inspired. It took only these fiery words to make us realize as Americans how very important it was to fight for our independence. As we slip out and close the door on the second continental congress, we still hear shouts of

The Mother's Ring
The gift that captures forever the memories she'll never forget

She'll wear it with pride . . . cherish it always. The two bands of 14 karat gold signify husband and wife . . . in turn, the bands are joined together by the synthetic birthstone of the month for each child in the family. THERE IS ONLY ONE "MOTHER'S RING." IT IS so distinctive, so unique, that it has been awarded U.S. Patent #186,183. Ask for it by name, confirm it by its identifying tag.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — A long-standing residency restriction on state welfare recipients may cost Texas millions of dollars in federal medical care funds next year. However, welfare officials maintain that Texas' position is little different from most other states, since only about four states can qualify immediately under "Title 19" of the extended Kerr-Mills medical care program. Apparently, there are no plans afoot to speed up Texas eligibility through emergency legislation in a special session. Lawmakers this year tried to participate changes in federal programs. They redefined eligibility in state law to include the blind, disabled and families with dependent children under medical care coverage.

Their anticipatory state law becomes effective July 1, 1966, while congress later made federal expanded benefits effective January 1. At best, therefore, Texas will be six months late in taking full advantage of all new benefits available.

Texas law requires most welfare recipients to have lived in the state five out of the preceding nine years, the last year of which was immediately prior to the assistance application date.

This law will further delay increased federal aid. "Title 19" of the federal act outlaws such residency restrictions for federally-supported medical care to those otherwise eligible.

Texas won't "lose" anything, according to State Welfare Commissioner John H. Winters, but actually will "gain" funds after next July 1. But, he acknowledges, the gain would have been far greater had the five-year residency restriction been repealed by the 1965 state anticipatory act. Winters predicts the Legislature will act promptly to strike out the provision at its next session.

States which fail to bring their laws in line with "Title 19" by Dec. 31, 1969, will lose all federal matching money for medical care — and that's already more than $40 million a year in Texas.

POLL TAX CASE UNDER STUDY — A special three-judge federal court has been under study whether the Texas poll tax should be repealed as a voting requirement.

Court heard case, brought by U. S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach under new voting rights act, here Wednesday (Dec. 1).

Katzenbach contends poll tax discriminates against Texas Negroes because they earn less.

State Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr counters that anyone who can't pay $1.75 tax "is not intelligent enough or competent enough to manage the affairs of the government."

There is no evidence of levy being used to discriminate against any voter or group, says Carr.

FEDERAL AID — New life is being breathed into Texas towns of 50,000 population or less.

A project called Urban Planning Assistance Program—fed with community initiative, state administration and federal money — is giving 120 Texas towns the opportunity to meet pressing population demands of the years ahead.

A total of 67 small cities have completed plans under the state health department's Environmental Development Program, which oils the machinery of federal urban planning program. Another 59 are in the process of doing so.

Costs are paid two-thirds by the federal government. However, in distressed areas, the figure may go as high as three-fourths per cent.

The 67 cities already have used $1,216,870 (59 more are spending more than $960,299) to see where they stand in the area of services offered their citizens and services needed.

A city of less than 50,000 inhabitants may make application to the Health Department which submits the application to the U. S. Housing and Home Finance Agency. A third-party contract is drawn up with an engineering firm using federal and local funds.

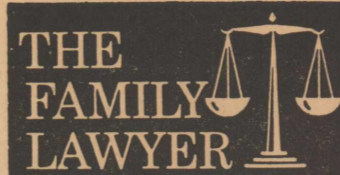

Then, all the city need do is grow along the lines set forth.

BAR WANTS OVERHAUL — State Bar of Texas, hoping for a complete overhaul of the states penal code, may complete studies in time to make recommendations to the 60th Legislature.

Proposals are being considered to avoid random operations resulting in long, drawn-out controversies such as developed before the revised code of criminal procedures was adopted by the current Legislature.

Although the cost of making studies won't be especially large, representatives of the Bar say an adequate job will be done. Some of the Texas foundations operating in the field of education will be solicited for aid.

The Committee will use as a guide the American Law Institute's Model Penal Code that was completed and put into cir-

WHO OWNS A LETTER?

Interesting letters may give birth to interesting notions. Such as:

"I'd better not throw away this letter from Fred. He might become famous some day, and then the letter could be worth a lot of money as a collector's item."

Suppose Fred really does become famous and his letter valuable. Would it belong to you, because it was sent to you? Or would it belong to Fred, because he created it?

The law's deft solution is to divide the ownership of a letter into two separate rights — the right of possession and the right of publication. The recipient has the right of possession of the paper and ink. He may keep the letter as a memento, sell it to a collector, or even toss it onto a bonfire if he pleases.

But the right of publication — to make copies and exploit it as ulation more than a year ago. UNITS DISMANTLED—Signs of the many National Guard units being dismantled by the federal government are becoming more visible in Texas each day.

Seven or eight, or even more, armories soon are going to stand vacant because there will be no troops to use the facilities.

Members of the Texas National Guard Armory Board are concerned over the disposal of the unused buildings.

Armories can't simply be sold at auction, because the federal government owns three-fourths of each one, and separate approval is required before the sale of each. Also, something will have to be done about 25-year maintenance contracts between the federal and state governments.

A possible solution is to give each Board the power to sell the armories without separate approval on each.

If this isn't taken, the buildings might stand vacant several years, and become almost worthless.

There are more than 102 armories in Texas situated on land owned by the Board and 39 more buildings located on leased land. Total value of buildings now stands at $16,844,271.

STATE PLAN CLEARED — U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare has approved Texas' state plan for construction of facilities for the mentally retarded.

State is eligible to receive up to $516,188 to be used next June 30, and $675,876 to be used by June 30, 1966. Each of 18 state areas has been assigned priority according to need for these services: diagnosis, treatment, education, training, custodial care, and sheltered workshops. Federal funds pay 50 per cent of cost.

SCHOOLS FACE Complaints —Eagle Pass schools, which face loss of accreditation next year unless deficiencies are largely corrected, received a new complaint.

Head of Witner Garden Tri-County Community Action Committee charged Eagle Pass ISD is not cooperating with the committee on four key federal programs. State Commissioner of Education J. W. Edgar promised to look into the complaint.

At the same time, Edgar heard parents of six Rio Hondo ISD students protest the school's withholding report cards of children who have not paid special fees levied for supplies, towels, soap and lockers.

a literary work — still belongs to the original writer.

This division of rights was illustrated in a famous lawsuit involving some personal letters written by Mary Baker Eddy, founder of Christian Science.

After Mrs. Eddy's death, her executor tried to prevent the auctioning of these letters.

The court ruled that the sale itself could not be prevented, because Mrs. Eddy had given away the right of possession when she first mailed the letters. But the court did forbid reprinting of the letters in advertisements of the auction, because Mrs. Eddy had never given away the right of publication.

Of course, circumstances alter cases. For example, if you write a letter to the editor, you are obviously giving the editor not only the right of possession but the right of publication as well.

Also, publication of a letter without the writer's consent may be justified by the necessities of law enforcement. Thus, when a woman was charged with adultery, incriminating letters she had written were held admissible in court even though she tried to keep them out.

But as a rule, the separate rights of possession and publication will be kept intact. For the law is simply lending form to the instinctive promptings of fair play.

As one court put it, in denying a man's demand for the return of love letters he had once sent to a woman:

"According to befitting decorum, such letters, written to her to keep and read and cherish are hers."

Texans Are Very Friendly, But Few Know Vacation Spots Very Well . . .

Texans mind their "howdy" duties just fine.

But how do they attend their "where to?" duties is something else.

So suggests research just released by the Texas Tourist Development Agency. The massive research job, first of its kind, was conducted by Belden Associates to aid the tax-supported agency in advertising Texas as a vacationland.

Belden opinion analysis cited the friendliness of Texans as a valuable asset in the state's struggle to increase its share of the $30 billion U. S. vacation market. Most Americans, a nationwide poll indicated, are convinced that Texans are a friendly folk, and they see this as one good reason to visit Texas.

Yet a statewide poll of 1,048 Texans — a statistical cross-section of the state's total population — points to a disturbing conclusion. Most Texans seem to be poor spokesmen on where to go and what to do in Texas.

The research firm asked Texans where they would direct out of state friends and relatives seeking advice on a Texas vacation. Thirty-eight of 100 Texans suggested the Alamo and Six Flags over Texas — the only two attractions in the state on which there was anything like a consensus.

Fourteen out of 100 Texans mentioned Big Bend National Park, Galveston and the State Capitol as desirable places to visit. Aside from those sites, only San Jacinto Battleground, Dallas Fair Park (the poll was taken during the State Fair) and Corpus Christi were named as worth seeing by as many as 10 per cent of Texans interviewed.

In disappointing contrast, not a single Texan suggested a Hill Country drive to see the President's home. Nobody thought the state's wildflower wealth worth mentioning. Though Texas boasts more accessible inland water than any state, only one lake—Texoma—was singled out as special.

What's more, Texans seemed to be paying lip service only, largely, in citing the sites they did deem worth a look. The poll showed that few of them followed their own vacation advice. Indeed, fully 40 per cent of the Texans interviewed vacationed outside Texas.

The poll showed Texans inconstant in another way, too. More Texans — 15 per cent of them — named San Antonio than any other city as a place for out of staters to visit. Dallas was a lowly fifth on the favored-city list, with 7 per cent of the subjects naming Big D.

Yet of Texans who vacationed in Texas, fully 20 per cent of them went to Dallas — only 12 per cent to San Antonio!

Most significant item to be drawn from the poll, the Tourist Development Agency feels, is the fact that Texans tend to remember a handful of big-name attractions when telling outlanders about the state's vacation appeals. And they often forget completely the awe that may exist in their own neighborhood.

Clearly, the TTDA feels, too many Texans simply don't know enough about their state to be much help in luring visitors—or guiding them when the getjects and some were class projects.

Carol Cox, Olivia Del Hierro, Diana Underwood, Roxie Day, Sandra Walling, Jonette Lippard, Shirley Johnston, Brenda Conn and Margaret Cassillas.

The new officers elected were — President Joe Don Barnard; Vice president Durwood Haddad; Program Chairman, Mrs. Roy Hines; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Elmo Stephens; Historian, Mrs. Don Talbot; Reporter, Mrs. Sam Johnston; Budget and Finance, committee — Mrs. Elmo Stephens, Mrs. Junior Reeves, Mrs. Roy Hines, Mrs. Lily Del Hierro and W. R. Baker; Benevolent Committee Rev. Cecil E. Foster, Grady Ellis and Mrs. Adelle Herring.

Publicity, Mrs. Sam Johnston, Mrs. Bill Baker and Mrs. J. O. Brothers. Nominating committee — Mrs. Grady Ellis, Mrs. Jean Lewis, Mrs. Vada Foster, A. A. Cox and Esther Conn.

The Circle will meet each third Monday night.

For instance only two percent of Texans interviewed would recommend a trip to the hauntingly beautiful Davis Mountains, or San Antonio's romantic River Walk. Only 5 per cent would steer visitors to the serene Gluf Coast.

And not a Texan mentioned Fort Davis, a National Historic Site which nevertheless drew nearly 100,000 visitors over the past year.

Still, there were some indications that Texans are becoming more tourist-oriented, a hopeful trend in the view of TTDA. Most dramatic example is the case of the Six Flags theme park at Dallas-Fort Worth. While at was mentioned by only 12 per cent of Texans interviewed in 1962, its popularity jumped sufficiently in two years' time to tie it with the Alamo for first place as a recommended attraction for non-Texans to visit.

And other local attractions seemed to be climbing upward in Texans' regard, too.

The Aquarena at San Marcos, for instance, was mentioned by 4 per cent of those interviewed, the NASA Manned Spacecraft Center and the Astrodome by 2 per cent each.

Moreover, more people seemed inclined to mention outdoor activities — hunting, fishing, water skiing — more readily than they had two years before. And there appeared to be developing a more regional outlook on nearby attractions of their own.

Panhandle and South Plains people, for example, singled out Palo Duro Canyon as visit-worthy about eight times more frequently than did the state overall.

So the picture is not altogether gloomy. But it certainly could be better. Texans by and large are manifestly uninformed about the many splendors of their land. This is one reason the TTDA has undertaken an extensive program of community relations offering high-level counsel to to locales whose residents may not be aware of their own—and their neighbors'—tourist potentials.

The most vital problem facing Texas as it moves to take its place as a top vacation state, the Belden studies suggest, is this: Americans as a whole believe Texas to be a vast desert wasteland. Texans know better, but many of them don't really know enough about Texas to persuade people otherwise.

Which is too bad, for the stakes are awfully high.

New Age Proof Rules Are Set Up By Social Security Administration

Effective Nov. 22, 1965 the Social Security Administration has put into effect a new set of requirements for proving age for applicants. This information was furnished this week by Francis J. Stevens, the Social Security representative for Knox County.

"From that date on we will be asking for some public record of age which was established before an individual's fifth birthday," Stevens said. "For all practical purposes this means that we will be looking for a birth certificate or a baptismal certificate. For us to establish that fact with the person who would be the custodian of such a record. In other words, if no birth certificate exists which was established before age 5, we will have to have a statement from the county or state of the birth so stating."

"In the event that no proof made in the years before age 5 can be obtained, we will then request some proof established before the eleventh birthday," Stevens continued. "In all cases we will be requesting a public record and not a private or family document which we have been able to use in the past."

"Regardless of whether you believe you may be able to satisfy the new requirements," Stevens emphasized, "there should be no delay in filing your claim for Social Security benefits."

Senior Class News

By BECKY HOWELL

The Senior class news last week failed to include our special thanks to Mrs. Jo Nell Cornett who was food chairman for the Junior-Senior Thanksgiving Supper. She spent many hours organizing, planning and preparing food for the supper. We are most grateful to her and the other many mothers who helped make our supper a success.

The Senior class girls would like to publicly remind the senior class boys that they are in debt one class party to the senior class girls! The boys failed to sell their quota of magazines during the annual magazine drive.

Several members of the senior class will be taking the Scholastic Aptitude Test or college entrance examination on Saturday, Dec. 4.

Vickie Lowry was recently elected FHA Girl of the Month for November. She is an active senior class member, president of MYF, reporter for the band, youth center representative and a member of FTA.

Janie Escobar will enter the Make It Yourself With Wool contest to be held at Texas Tech in Lubbock, on Saturday, Dec. 4. Janie will model a black wool tweed coat and a black wool dress that she constructed. Best of luck, Janie!

Junior Class News

Here we go again, back in school, and it seems only yesterday that we were all anxiously awaiting the Thanksgiving holidays, and now—poof—they are already gone.

Well, I suppose all that is left for us to do is to start counting days until Christmas. Ho hum—21, 20, 19—One of our class members, Glenn Smith, was operated on for a knee injury before Thanksgiving, and we are all happy to report that he is 'up and at 'em' already. However, he is still using his crutches, but we all are hoping that he will soon be able to throw them aside. Welcome back, Glenn, and best wishes for a speedy recovery!

We Juniors have run up against a 'post' this year, and there seems to be absolutely no way to get around it. Mrs. Cash informed us that we must write a term theme this year on some famous American. This presents quite a problem, but leave it to us Juniors—we'll find a way out yet. Well, that is—we HOPE we'll find a way out!

Sophomore Class

By PAM WALDRIP

This week is the beginning of another six weeks and also sometime during the week, report cards will be handed out. All the Sophomores hope that the Thanksgiving holidays provided enough softening up time on our parents!

Gary Wheeler returned to school Monday with the help of crutches. He had an operation on his knee last week. We are glad that he is out of the hospital and able to be around.

Gail Cornett, a Sophomore chosen as FHA Sweetheart for 1965-66, will go to Jacksboro, Dec. 2, to attend a banquet and enter the district Sweetheart competition. We all wish you a lot of luck, Gail, and know that you will represent Knox City very well.

Freshman Class

By MARGARET HOWELL

Well, everybody's had their share of turkey and dressing. Now we'll have to get back into the old grind of school.

Last Monday night the Freshman Girls played Benjamin B string and lost 27-24.

The Freshman Homemaking girls finished their first home experience. A home experience is a written account of projects in cooking, sewing, and home improvements that are done at home. Some of the girls painted their rooms, some made desserts and others re-did furniture.

Last Tuesday the Freshman Section I Homemaking class had a meeting. Mrs. Ida Dean Johnston was guest speaker. She spoke on "Holding a Job."

The officers for Vocational Agriculture, Section I are: Randy Hise, president; Ronald Curd, vice president; Marvin Flenniken, secretary; Johnny Carver, advisor; Brice Hill, reporter; and Floyd Baker, sentinel.

The Section II of the Freshman Homemaking Class had a meeting Tuesday. The girls had a program on 'Family Friendship.'

Just For Laughs: Sue Bateman has let basketball go to her head. Just the other night she woke her friend up shooting her pillow!

The K.C. FHA Chapter held its monthly meeting Monday, Nov. 22 in the school library. The meeting was called to order by Becky Howell and the program consisted of a film entitled "A Desk for Billie." This film fulfilled the FHA objective of recognizing our abilities and striving for their full development.

November's nominees for Girl of the Month were Linda Abbott, Vicky Lowry, and Carol Sue Bateman. Nominees for Officer of the Month were Susan Reese and Sharman Watkins.

Girl of November is Vicky Lowry, a senior member of the FHA. She has been an active member of FHA and served as 4th vice president of the chapter last year. She is serving as reporter for the Greyhound Band and is a member of the FTA.

Susan Reese is Officer of November. She is the chapter's 1st vice president, and is also Area IV's secretary. She is on the Houndette basketball team and a member of the annual staff.

After the election of Girl and Officer of the Month, the meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served by Marlana James, Deanna Beard, Candy Carr, Linda Hill, Ruth Casillas, Nydia Montalvo, and Pam Edmondson.

Ben Smith, student at NTSU, spent the Thanksgiving holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Z. I. Smith and Kelton. Other visitors in the Smith home were Mrs. Clara Smith of Fort Worth, and Mrs. Yvonne Tregre and daughters of Dallas.

Paul Green of Slaton visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Green during the Thanksgiving holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Sammie Angle, Judy, Gary and Tracy were here over the holidays visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Q. C. Davis and his mother, Mrs. J. C. Angle.

Mrs. J. G. Acker of Amarillo was here visiting her sister, Mrs. Horace Finley and Mr. Finley on Thanksgiving day. She went from here to Fort Worth to visit her father, Rev. J. W. English and her sister, Mrs. Travis Dean.

Brack Shaver, freshman at Texas Tech, and Joan Shaver, graduate student-teacher there, were here over the Thanksgiving holidays visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Shaver.

Sorry the Junior High news hasn't been in but problems do arise. I might as well start from the first of the year such as the football news. We had bad luck losing all but one of our games. Those backing up the boys this year are the cheerleaders and twirlers. The cheerleaders are Kathy Verhalen, Teresa White, Linda Martinez, Betty Ross and Alice Martinez. The twirlers are Janet Jacobs, Walta Grimsley, Jill Thompson and Cindy Huntsman. Of course, all the pep club supported, too.

The basketball tournament, in O'Brien recently didn't turn out too well for the girls. We won our first game defeating Goree but we lost to O'Brien later. However, the boys brought home a second place trophy. They beat Goree and Paint Creek but lost to Rochester.

Recently we sang for the Study Club. The songs were 'Getting to Know You' and 'Whistle a Happy Tune.'

Friday afternoon, Nov. 19, we gave Mrs. Branton a surprise party. We will miss her very much, because she was such a wonderful and sweet teacher. That's all for this week. So long!

Mrs. June Tankersley has been hired as eighth grade teacher, to fill the vacancy created by Mrs. Branton's resignation.

Basketball Season Now Underway
Basketball season is getting well underway for Coach Weaver's Hounds and Houndettes. Our girls defeated Benjamin on Friday and then again on Monday with scores of 31-24 and 38-29.

This leaves the Houndettes with a 4-1 record after playing Iowa Park, Aspermont, Rochester, and Benjamin twice. Coach Weaver seems proud of the job his girls have done in these first few games and comments: "We still have lots of work to do before district play, but with the material we have, and the attitude of the girls, we hope to be tough competition as we attempt to defend the District 11-A championship."

The Houndettes are now working on traveling attire for their team which will consist of royal blue jumpers and red ivy-league blouses.

The Greyhounds began their workouts later than the Houndettes what with only recently completing their football season. However, they have already won their first two games—against Benjamin and Rule with scores of 72-14 and 70-45. Over the holidays, the Hounds scrimmaged the 'exes' and defeated them by one point after going into a 3-minute overtime.

The Hounds record thus far is 2-0.

This weekend, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, both girls and boys teams will be participating in Hamlin's tournament.
