Reynolds family: Ted is the baby being held by his mother.

Ted Reynolds & Marguerite Terrell join the ranks of royalty when they are crowned Friday night, Sept. 7, 7 p.m. at the High School Auditorium. GFWC/Prospectus Study Club is hosting the event for the 30th year.

KING TED REYNOLDS

Ted Reynolds was born Feb. 3, 1912 in Stratford. He is the youngest child of eight that were born to C.W. and Minnie Reynolds who arrived in Stratford in an immigrant car from Missouri in 1907. Ted has been a resident of Sherman County all of his life except for three years the family spent in California when he was a young child.

An active youngster, He was involved in some accidents as a child. When he was five years old, a piece of steel flew into his eye and in 1943 the eye was removed.

Less serious, and don't try to figure it out, but one day as the young Ted was riding his horse home from Palo Duro School, he got an alarm clock twisted into his hair! (yes, he did have hair, then!) They had to cut the clock out of his hair, taking a lot of hair with it.

He attended Palo Duro, Spurlock and then Stratford Schools. When he was in the sixth grade his Dad thought he was needed to work on the farm, so he "quituated".

Living in Stratford with her brother and father was petite Ora White. Her brother was section foreman on the Rock Island Railroad. One September afternoon in 1930, Ora and a girl friend walked by Ted's Aunt Blanche's house. The friend introduced them and a very short time later, Ted came asking for a date. They were married Dec. 20, 1930 in Clayton, N.M. Note that was a young 18 year old and someone probably said "it wouldn't last!"

The Reynolds will be celebrating their 60th anniversary this year. Ted worked on cattle ranches and farmed. He worked for Herb Folsom, T.F. Baskin, Rack Flores, E.W. Butler, Elmer Hudson, Vern Reynolds and Ed Moore. In January 1945 he began work as a road maintenance operator in Precinct 2. He retired in 1976. After that he worked for the Cemetery and did yard work.

Ted and Ora had four children, Bobby 1931, Glenna 1933, Teddy 1944 and Lynn 1949. Ora recalls hanging quilts at the doors & windows trying to keep out the dust. They were working for the Folsoms on the infamous April 1935 day, and they had two young children at home.

Bobby and his wife Patsy live in Dumas. His son Gary & wife, Sherry, of Beford, Tex., have two sons and one daughter, Joshua and a recent great grandson for the King, Travis Paul. Bobby's daughter, Shawna, is a Dumas high school senior Daughter Glenna and husband Ray Robertson make their home in Henderson, Colo. Her son Dale Shaver and wife Cheryl live in Thornton, Co., with children Jason and Shondra. Glenna's daughter Leanna, husband Neal Hogsett and son Shawn live at Highland Ranch, Co.

Teddy married the former Donna McLaughlin who had been married to his brother Lynn. Lynn was killed in the tragic accident that involved the Stratford ambulance and a car driven by Nina Judd. He was working as a volunteer EMT at the time. Lynn and Donna had a son Tony who is now 17. Teddy and Donna have a son named for his uncle Lynn. He is 11 years old.

Ted is a member of the First United Methodist Church and SCOT. He is a former volunteer fireman and worked with Boy Scouts for a number of years. These days he keeps a beautiful yard with flowers and likes to read.

I've had a good life in Sherman County. The people are wonderful, he responded when asked for a statement.

QUEEN MARGUERITE TERRELL

Marguerite Massie Terrell is having a fun year! At the recent school reunion her class celebrated their 60th year. Classmates were Eldon Plunk, Vergil Plunk, Geneva Wells, Evelyn Stout, Mary Riffe, Kathryn Crabtree, Mildred James, Marguerite Fike, Troy Mullins and the late Ann Marie Parson, Irwin Wiggenton and Walter Pendleton. At their 50th reunion they enjoyed visiting with five of their teachers.

Marguerite is the daughter of E.J. and Mertie Ann Massie. Mr. Massie had filed on land south of Clayton, N.Mex. in 1906. It was there that Marguerite and her brother, E.J. Massie, Jr., were born. Her birthday is Dec. 22, 1912.

In October 1919 they moved to Stratford and Massie opened a blacksmith shop. During the late 20's her father helped operate the light plant and Marguerite reports that the electricity was turned off at ten p.m. each night and was off until the next morning! Early to bed and early to rise!

Marguerite attended Abilene Christian College for one year, then business schools in Wichita, Kansas and Amarillo.

The Queen's son, John Marvin Wilson, was born in 1938. His father, Paul Wilson, was killed in an auto accident in 1946.

John Marvin married Sharon Gamble and they are the parents of two daughters. Tamra and her husband Jarral Neeper have recently moved to Nashville, Tn. Tania and Derek Avera live at Carrollton, Tx.

On March 1957 Marguerite married Russell Terrell. The late Virgie Biddy introduced the couple. Russell was in the area with a seismograph crew.

Marguerite worked for Sherman County Abstract for 20 years, then in the District Clerk's office for 20 years. She retired in 1983.

She is a member of the Church of Christ and does some volunteer work at Coldwater Manor. She enjoys bridge and reading. In March of this year she had eye surgery and seeing better than ever.

Having lived in several other towns when first married, Marguerite has always considered Stratford home. "There are lots of good people around here," she said.

School Going Strong

Stratford Independent School District is back in business & going strong. The teachers & staff worked several days getting ready for the first day of school on Aug. 27th. The staff spent one day at Boys Ranch, receiving excellent inservice from Jane Handley, who spoke on the importance of self motivation for the teaching profession. Superintendent Brite reported a district enrollment of 506, an increase of approximately 20 students over last year. This increase will equate to increased funding from the state if the district maintains a high rate of average daily attendance. It is imperative that students not be absent from school for the district to receive these funds. The principals reported the following numbers: Jim Bob Brown reported 194 students at Mary Allen Elementary; Jim Taliaferro reported 157 students at the Middle School; and Steve Haynes reported 155 students enrolled in the high school. The administration, faculty, and staff of Stratford Independent School District is looking forward to an excellent school year.

Texas Should Develop Corn-Processing Industry

Texas should process more of its own corn into consumer-ready products rather than sending it and the related jobs and revenue out of state, said a recent study by the Texas Agri-Business Electric Council and Texas A & M University.

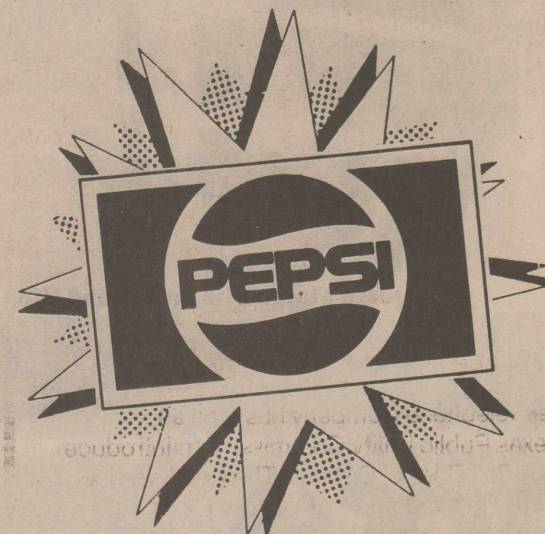

TABEC is composed of 10 Texas investor-owned electric utilities, including Southwestern Public Company, and works in conjunction with Texas A&M's Agricultural Engineering Department.

Texas produces as much corn as several corn-belt states, the study said, and breakfast cereals, Mexican food and snack foods are possible markets for corn that could be processed in the state.

"There is a misconception that since Texas brings in large amounts of corn to feed its cattle, we don't have corn of our own to process. That's just not true," said Greg Boggs, SPS agricultural marketing consultant. "Many Texas corn producers have switched from growing feed-grade corn to food-grade corn, which provides a better price. We need to take advantage of that."

A Middle East crisis may boost U.S. gasoline prices, but not by enough to quickly expand production of ethanol, an alternative fuel.

Iraq's recent invasion of Kuwait and threat to Saudi Arabia probably will not jolt the United States into increased ethanol production, according to Dr. Don Reddell, head of Texas A&M's agricultural engineering department.

Redell said the United States could lose half its oil supply—an unlikely event—and it still wouldn't make ethaanol production an overnight reality.

Domestic oilfields would be tapped first to make up the shortfall, he said. Meanwhile, he explained, industry would need about three years to locate and build facilities that could churn out large quantities of ethanol, which is blended with gasoline at 10 percent to form gasohol usable in vehicles.

Dr. Don Laceywell, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station resource economist, estimated that oil prices would have to reach $50 a barrel before ethanol production would be economically competitive. Oil has jumped in price since the invasion, but it is still selling at less than $30 per barrel.

Reddell said a means for marketing, shipping, storing and handling ethanol also would have to be established to make it

Chamber Chatter

by J. A. Lasley

First of all the Chamber would like to thank all of you, who asked for flags to be hung, for your patience. This endeavor is a first for the chamber! Regrettably we were not real organized and this first has been a learning experience-Hectic might be a better word! Short on help, the heat, and lets just say for some of us not very flag hanging oriented. Give us an E for effort. Jack Gore, Jim Taliaferro, Roy McAlister, and Mike Flores, who incidentally our new director (some way to get initiated into the group-hug?); as well as Teresa Edmond & Jacob, who did a super job. The High School fellows who earned their pay, they did a good job also, and we appreciate their willingness to earn a few bucks. At any rate we are officially ready for a bigger and better fair-beginning this new decade.

Remember to check your fair books, read the Stratford Star, or check out a FAIR flyer. There have been changes this year. The Old Timers will be crowned on Friday night, instead of Saturday afternoon; however Saturday morning Old Timers can register at the First State Bank, as usual.

You, that are riding in the parade, Please be at the High School at no later than 10:15 a.m. and in place.

Barbeque as usual—but no pies this year. The Big Blue Band will leave the parade board busses headed north to Springfield, Colo.

Several people in the community enjoyed the ice cream social celebrating Wilma Mattacks birthday, Sunday afternoon. It was held at the Griggs Church.

On Saturday, Martin, Cindy Kincannon and girls and Audrey Kincannon went to Amarillo and did some shopping. They also returned Kelly Kincannon to meet a plane. He has been visiting most of the summer.

The initial service areas will be Laredo, McAllen and Austin. Expansion into other service areas will be based on availability. Customers in other areas will be notified when these services become available.

Call Control Options include six new services - Call Blocker, Call Cue, Call Return, Priority Call, Call Trace and Selective Call Forwarding. The features will be available to single-line residence and business customers.

Call Blocker - enables the customer to block incoming calls from a maximum of three specified telephone numbers and/or to block the last incoming call.

Call Cue - enables the customer to automatically redial the last outgoing telephone number dialed. If the recalled number is busy, equipment will monitor the line for a maximum of 30 minutes and will let the customer know when the call can go through.

Call Return - enables the customer to automatically redial the telephone number of the most recent incoming call. If the number is busy, Call Return will continue to dial the number for up to 30 minutes, or until it completes the call.

Priority Call - provides the customer with a distinctive alerting signal, ring or Call Waiting Tone (if the customer has subscribed to Call Waiting), when the customer is called from a maximum of three preselected telephone numbers.*

Call Trace - enables the customer to initiate a trace of the last incoming call received. The number, date and time will be recorded by Southwestern Bell Telephone so that the call's origin can be identified.

Selective Call Forwarding - enables the customer to forward incoming calls from specified telephone numbers (maximum of three) to another telephone number.

Out The Library

by Dorothy Haile

STORY TIME for three and four years old children will begin on September 19th at the Sherman County Public Library. These programs are held each Wednesday morning from 11:00 until 12:00 a.m.

All children are encouraged to take advantage of this free program provided by the library. Volunteers help the library staff present an interesting and entertaining hour for these preschoolers.

Children are taught how to use the library and how to care for books. If children return books that are mistreated, the family is asked to pay for the book.

Library Story Time provides an opportunity for the young child to meet and get acquainted with other children his own age. It offers structure for group activities. The goal of STory Time is help children get into the wonderful world of books.

Registration prior to September 19th would be helpful. You may call the library to fill our a library card for your child.

Children may keep books for two weeks. Fines for overdue books are charged at ten cents per day for hardback books. Helping the child learn the responsibility in regard to library usage is an important lesson.

Boggs noted the Azteca corn-masa plant under construction near Plainview as an example of how the processing industry can be developed in Texas. Azteca is expected to process up to 2-1/2 million bushels of corn each year and provide 150 jobs.

Currently, much of the Texas food-grade corn is shipped to processors in California and Arkansas, indicating sufficient quantities exist in Texas to support an expanded processing industry, he said.

A market also exists for the by-products of corn processing in the state's beef and dairy industries.

"SPS will be using this study as an economic-development tool to provide information for those interested in developing the corn-processing industry in our service area," Boggs said.

Anyone wanting more details of the study should call Boggs at 806-378-2178.

What is not lacking is know-how, Reddell said. Research found feasible means of producing ethanol more than 15 years ago when the first major oil crisis slammed the nation. That energy crunch ended, however, before the research could be applied to commercial operations.

Thus, many of the studies showing how to make ethanol from agriculture products have been idling on scientific shelves since the early 1970's. The easing of the oil crisis in the 1980's left few economic advantages to entice private companies to manufacture the alternative fuel, Reddell explained

"That is absolutely, exactly what occurred," the agricultural engineer said. "The oil crisis of 1973 precipitated a lot of research. But by 1980, we started seeing a decrease in gas prices and lines at the gas stations, had disappeared. Funding for alternative fuel research dried up and is almost non-existent now."

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service on August 1 requested from the governor's Energy Management Center some $2.8 million for 19 studies on energy efficiency in agricultural practices and systems. The request includes a proposed $285,000 study of ethanol production adjacent to a cattle feedlot on the Texas Plains.

Ironically, it is the 1970's oil crisis that is funding the state's current energy research. The legislature in 1987 designated the Energy Management Center to award research grants totaling $225 million. The money was generated through court settlements with several oil companies that violated price controls during the 1970's crisis.

Agricultural energy studies will divvy up $5 million of the fund, and grant recipients are expected to be named by the end of August, according to Energy Management Center project coordinator Donald Noonan.

The United States annually produces about 825 million gallons of ethanol from corn, according to Gerald Grinnell, U.S. Department of Agriculture Energy Office analyst.

Grinnell said the United States could produce up to 4.1 billion gallons a year without pressuring corn and other grain prices.

8-23-tfn
Ethanol production is minuscule, Laceywell pointed out, compared to the total U.S. consumption of more than 100 billion gallons of gasoline every year.

8-23-tfn
"It would give us some slack, but if you look at the 100 billion gallons a year, it still leaves a massive deficit," Laceywell said.

8-23-tfn
In addition to corn, which is typically used in ethanol production, the potential exists to produce ethanol from other cellulose stocks such as wood and grass, Grinnell added.
"The problem is we don't have the technological breakthroughs that make it economical to produce ethanol from those sources," Grinnell said.

8-23-tfn
Laceywell and Reddell stressed the importance of improving the nations ability to produce alternative fuels. As long as the United States continues to depend on foreign oil for almost half of its supply, consumers are ever vulnerable to price increases and short supplies, Reddell said.
"Right now with almost half of the oil supplies foreign and domestic, the United States really has its neck out," Reddell said.

8-23-tfn
"As long as we are depending on foreign oil, especially a large portion from an area of the world with unstable governments, we can't keep (a supply crisis) from happening."

While some argue that only the "wealthy" older American would benefit from repeal of the post 65-earnings limit, the fact is that since the limit applies only to wages and not to investment income, the truly wealthy already benefit.

Groups such as The Seniors Coalition feel it's the middle-income tax-paying retiree who very often needs a post-retirement salary to meet unanticipated expenses caused by family illness or other economic pressures who needs this help and would most benefit. Pointers For Parents How's Your Preschooler Developing?

If you're the parent of a preschooler, the chances are you've wondered at one time or another whether your child's development in one area or another is fast or slow.

Development occurs faster and more efficiently in preschool years than in any other time of life.

It's now easier to measure that thanks to a helpful poster developed by occupational therapists and educators that lets parents know what a child should be doing at various stages in his or her young life. At eighteen months, for example, your child should be:

- Walking down stairs with one hand held
 - "Walking" into large ball to kick; trying to jump
 - Turning two to three pages together
 - Stacking a few blocks
 - Pointing to own nose, eyes, hair and mouth
 - Using a 20-to-30-word vocabulary
 - Asking for "more" or "drink"
 - Drinking well from a cup and using a spoon
 - Putting on hat; taking off socks
 - Imitating mom and dad in play
- The poster, which can be hung in a child's room goes from one month to five years and includes a growth chart. It's available in paper for $2.50 or in a laminated version for $5.00 from: American Occupational Therapy Foundation, 1383 Piccard Drive, Rockville, Maryland 20850.

DIVING DO'S AND DON'TS

As part of its "Operation Water Watch" pool safety education program, the National Spa & Pool Institute (NSPI) offers divers and parents of children who may dive the following safety advice:

- Do's:
 Do know the water depth is sufficient for your dive.
 Do plan your dive path. Make sure there's at least 25 feet of clear water ahead.
 Do be sure there are no submerged or floating obstacles.
 Do remember to steer up. Keep your head up and your arms extended over your head. Steer up with your hands once you enter the water.
 Do keep your dives simple.
 Do take diving lessons from a qualified instructor.
- Don'ts:
 Don't dive into shallow water.
 Don't dive into an above ground pool.
 Don't drink and dive.
 Don't attempt fancy dives.
 Don't try to dive through an inner tube or other pool toy.
 Don't dive off the side of a diving board, slide or any other pool equipment.
 Don't slide head first down a pool slide. For free brochures on child drowning prevention, write: NSPI, 2111 Eisenhower Ave., Alexandria, VA 22314 or call 1-800-234-SAFE.
