Summer Going, Going...

Hart students--who probably feel that summer has just begun--may find it's over almost before it got a good start. School opening is only six weeks away.

With that in mind, Hart school trustees met Monday night and laid plans for the coming year.

The board approved the school calendar for the year and released this fall's football schedule.

In addition the board named four new teachers, approved some additions to the cafeteria, and studied the school budget.

I.C. BLISS and his granddaughter, Patty, like to ride their bikes together around Hart. Bliss, the father of Robert Bliss, who operates Bliss Produce Co.'s potato shed here, says he finds bike riding fine exercise. And he should know, for he's never been in the hospital a day in his life. His recipe for keeping his health is "just to be ornery as the devil," he says. The only medicine he allows is honey, which he says is good for keeping fat out of the bloodstream. Bliss lives in Evans, Colo., near Greeley, headquarters of Bliss Produce Co.

AN EDITORIAL

Coming In.... Loud And Clear

We have grown up finally!

The establishment this week of The Hart Beat as a separate newspaper for the community of Hart is the fulfillment of a dream which began almost 4 1/2 years ago.

In those 4 1/2 years, The Hart Beat, like its name, has become almost human. It has recorded Hart's pulse rate weekly, keeping tabs on the ups-and-downs which every community has munity has.

In fact, many people would say that The Hart Beat is human. It has made its share of mistakes and it has had its ups-and-downs.

The Hart Beat started faintly in February of 1958, as a supplement to The Olton Enterprise.

Troy Martin, publisher at that time, and Myrt Loman, a correspondent who worked herself to the bone, took The Hart Beat under their wings and made it go.

Norlan Dudley of Farmers State Bank was another who instrumental in getting the paper started. He has made monumental efforts to keep The Hart Beat beating.

And they kept it beating steadily, despite the "skinned knees" and other bumps and bruises which all youngsters have a habit of getting.

In mid-1960, a new publisher, Bill Turner, took over and Myrt helped things along, even though she was not always on the payroll. She has said many times that The Hart Beat remains her "first love."

The beat is still steady and will remain so. We have applied for our second class mailing permit, which all bonafide newspapers do if they plan to stay in business.

There have been attempts before to start newspapers in Hart, once in 1931 and again in 1947. Both failed.

However, neither began with a proven record. The Hart Beat starts with a paid subscription list. We feel it has proven itself a steady, dependable paper for Hart over the past few years. We pledge to continue our efforts to the fullest and we are confident of success.

There are many to whom The Hart Beat owes a debt of

However, we can put the big credit where it belongs in

It goes to the people of Hart. They have taken The Hart Beat into their homes and families. And it is to them that we say, "Thanks" and "Congratulations."

Let's Review A Little

As Hart's News Events Became History The Past Four Years, The Hart Beat Has Been Here To Record Them

During the past four years and five months, The Hart Beat has served as the official newspaper for Hart, covering the local news with both stories and pictures.

As a supplement to the Olton Enterprise, it has served its

As Hart has grown, so has The Hart Beat.

Today, the Hart Beat stands as an independent newspaper. The first issue of the Hart Beat came out Feb. 20, 1958 with Myrt Loman soliciting ads and gathering news.

How many of you remember the Founder's Day program, staged by the PTA, and aptly entitled "A Battle Royal?" This was one of the first stories to appear in the Hart Beat. Remember those brave PTA members who fought it out on the basketball court to raise money for the organization?

That first issue also announced that Green Henderson had bagged a seven-foot mountain lion while hunting in Arizona and O'Lysia and Joyce Bowden had been chosen as among 16 most beautiful girls at McMurry College at Abibalcaba was awarded a scroll as "most beautiful" after a fun show. Kay Nell Popejoy was president of the senior class that year. Two other "beauties" in the contest were Johnny Hindman and Lonnie Bradley. Royce Lynn Pyeatt made the paper that week, too, after making the honor roll at Baylor University.

In March, Lonnie Bradley led the Hart Longhorns in their first win of the track season when they beat Springlake, 70-

The American Legion, with L. J. Steiert as commander, collected $569 for a lighted ballfield. Mary Taack was named new 4-H president and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hankins were doubly proud that month, since they became double grandparents in two days during one week.

Growth was pictured too. A new cafe building north of L&A Dress Shop was started and Farmers State Bank constructed a vault.

Mrs. B.H. Rodgers was elected PTA president and Lion Boss Ed Harris announced the club would conduct the Red Cross drive.

This was the month that the In the next issue, Pancho Ru- Hart High School track team won first in a 4-team meet at Hart with Kress, Amherst and Springlake. Then, in April, Gene Varner went to the Amarillo relays and finished fourth in the 100 yard dash event.

Hart boasted four first-place winners in district literary events -- Mary Taack, John Lacy, David Irlbeck and Carolyn LeMay.

NEW SUPERINTENDENT

It was also in April that Paul Kennedy was named new superintendent at Hart and Milton Sharp, Ed Bennett and Lorenzo Lee were elected to the school

Larry Lee and Ralph Myrick were three-sport lettermen in the eighth grade. In the district track meet, Hart came in sec-ond behind Kress.

The petition for paving Hart streets was first presented to the city commission and Norlan Dudley was named new Lion Boss.

Jean Huggins got her state FHA Degree. Hart seniors went to work selling subscriptions to The Olton Enterprise to earn money for their senior trip, as they have done each year

Willis A. Hawkins Jr. was elected district 18 vice-commander of the American Legion. In May, a city election for paving streets was called. Lawanda Brooks was named president of the FHA and Sandra Johnson of the pep squad. The FHA offered a summer homemaking course for students that summer.

New president of the WSCS was Mrs. Bill Swindle.

Eighteen seniors graduated from Hart that year -- the largest number in the history of the school. Carla Jean Huggins was named valedictorian and Jo Light, salutatorian. Honor students named were John Lacy, Phyllis Bass and Wyona

McMurry beauty queen.

BAPTIST BUILDING

Hart Baptists broke ground for an educational building. The first shovel of dirt was lifted by Mrs. Nora Ray and the second by Bruce Futrell, then the youngest member of the church.

In June, Geneva McLaingraduated from Texas Tech and a 1958 Hart High School graduate, Marilyn LeMay, received congratulations from Mamie Doud Eisenhower.

Mr. and Mrs. J.J. Newsom were honored on their 27th wedding anniversary.

The first load of wheat was brought in by Roy Pyeatt.

NEW FIRE DEPARTMENT

A 14-man volunteer fire department was organized in June with Claude Cox as fire chief. New city water works were also purchased that month.

The Church of Christ celebrated its fifth anniversary in Hart and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burrus celebrated their 32nd wedding anniversary.

new teachers, Bob Copeland, Mrs. Betty Allsup, Mrs. Margaret Russell and Mrs. Jean Scarborough, were hired at Hart schools along with Fred Brister, junior high coach, and Mrs. Granville Martin, lunchroom supervisor.

The school library was reorganized, the new fire department got a 600- gallon pumper truck and streets were surveyed for paving. Shortly after, the fire department answered its first call, a trash fire.

In August, Mrs. Mamie Rich replaced Myrt Loman as Hart staffer for the Enterprise.

Robert Lewis Hawkins and J.R. Featherston were named winners in the fourth annual the Hart schools and the basketball teams changed to District 3-B. Ronnie Farris was president of the senior class and Lawanda Brooks, president

PHOTOSTAT MACHINE

A new photostat machine was purchased for the school in October by the school board.

Janice Sharp was named football queen that month and the Homer Hill Store was hit by fire with $2,000 in damages.

November saw Lawanda Brooks as halloween queen, Mary Louise Taack as state winner in 4-H, Norlan Dudley heading the scout fund campaign, Mary Helen Maples as state winner in 4-H and Hart businesses go on a face-lifting spree which cost approximately $4,000.

NEW CITY HALL

In December, Hart built its new city hall.

Nick Zapata was named alldistrict that month and Hart got ready for a new year -- 1959.

The year started off with Farmers State Bank getting Deposit Insurance approval and a new fire alarm system installed at city hall.

Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Malone received the first place award for their holiday decorations and the FFA boys took top prizes in the Castro County Stock Show.

Willis A. Hawkins Sr. was named Hart's first "Man of The Year" with Mrs. E.L. Dorrough was named "Teacher Of The Year."

Mrs. Willis Hawkins Sr. was named "Woman Of The Year" in April.

In June, Farmers Grain Co. observed their 30th anniversary and Hart Lumber Co. held its formal opening.

Yard Light Beautifies Home

Yard lights send their cherry greetings of light to the visitor as he approaches the homethe electric yard light truly says "welcome" for all to see.

Electric yard lights beautify the premises by day as well as by night. Available in several attractive designs-either provincial-or modern, they blend in with the basic architecture of the home and its premises.

Then, too, electric yard lights are practical. You can turn them on or off as you please, or you can have them controlled to come on or go off automatically-by adding a photo electric cell or an electric clock timer.

Want more or less light? The choice is yours with an electric yard light. It's simpleall you do is change the bulb from a higher to a lower wattage or vice versa. And, come Christmas, you have practically an automatic Christman lighting effect, just by changing the bulb.

Pioneer Gas Gives Its Side Of Story

"We are confident that our present rates for irrigation service and to other customers are fair and reasonable," C.I. Wall, Pioneer Natural Gas representative, has said in reply to a letter from David Burgess, who is president of the Plains Gas Users Association. In a previous letter, Burgess had proposed a reduction in gas rates that would allow the company a 7.2 return based on "fair value."

Here is the test of the letter in which Wall replied to the request:

Acknowledgment is made of your letter dated June 8, 1962 and received by us on June 13, 1962 wherein you propose that the rates charged for irrigation gas service by Pioneer be reduced in the high consumption brackets and incorporated in a five-year contract.

You state in your letter that the proposed rates would provide a return of 7.2 per cent on "fair value." We do not agree. Our rate consultants have made a test of the rates proposed in your letter. They found that the rates proposed by you fall far short of providing this rate of return on the fair value of facilities real-istically and properly allocated to irrigation service. Previously, Mr. S.C. McIntosh, who recently retired as Director of the Public Utilities Division of the Railroad Commission of Texas, had advised that the allocation of facilities and expense to irrigation service should be considerably more than the amounts used by you in arriving at the rate of return quoted in your letter.

It is evident that the real benefit of your proposed rates would be only to large users. The last two brackets of the proposed rates are below the cost to us of a large volume of gas we purchase for irrigation service and the sale of such gas would result in a direct loss that would, of necessity, be borne by smaller irrigation users.

You also state in your letter that the Railroad Commission has never allowed more than a 6.5 per cent return on fair value. As you know, this rate of return has been applied to domestic and commercial service. The Railroad Commission has never determined a rate of return applicable to irrigation service bust it most certainly would be commensurate with the risks involved and one that would provide sufficient return to attract adequate capital for expansion and improvement of service. To quote Mr. McIntosh, "A business supplying in each an indeterminate and greatly fluctuating demand and supplying such demand for a number of years which cannot be determined due to the probable partial or complete exhaustion of a natural resource and possible future economic changes in competitive positions is subject to greater risks than normal utility ser-

Through the year as Pioneer has worked closely with the farmers in our service area in a sincere effort to furnish them a more economical fuel than was otherwise available. All requests for the extension of our facilities have been thoroughly investigated and honored, if at all reasonable. The job of supplying and delivering gas for irrigation service, which often has a very vice and in my opinion is entitled to a higher Rate of Re-radical change in demand from one day to the next, requires extreme flexibility of facilities and operations--very much dif-ferent from the handling of domestic and commercial service. The risks involved in the fluctuation in requirements from year to year are borne by Pioneer since there is not the compensatory annual minimum which is often charged by others. It is only reasonable and right that the earnings from irrigation should be sufficient to cover the risks incurred.

I have hoped that representatives of Pioneer and the Directors of your Association could sit down together and work out our common problems as was done with many of our irrigation customers in providing gas service to their wells, and, as is being done today, to provide service to wells and areas not presently served.

Your representatives have stated to us that our rates are too high for irrigation service and are too low in the cities we serve. As I stated to you and your Directors, it has been and will continue to be our policy to provide dependable gas service to our customers at reasonable rates and we are confident that our present rates for irrigation service and to other customers are fair and reasonable.
