

Football Time Isn't Far Off

DUB CLEVELAND

Football time in Hart is only a few days off, and the first game of the season is less than a month away.

Practice drills for Hart High School gridders will begin Monday, Aug. 20, with twice-a-day sessions, Coach Dub Cleveland announced this week.

Cleveland and his assistant, Eddie Nicholson, are new on the scene here this year. They replaced John Blocker and John Cotton.

"We'll have an early morning drill of about a hour and a half, then comeback for a late afternoon workout of about two hours, to start with," Coach Cleveland said.

He and Nicholson were at coaching school in Lubbock this week.

Starting next week, the coaches asked that any boys planning to buy football shoes contact them. They also asked that boys who have shoes at the school at present pick them up.

The Longhorn schedule this year includes one new opponent, Silverton, to be played there Oct. 12.

The Bear Still Looks Ferocious

MR. AND MRS. JIM HEIGHT find this Polar Bear rug a place to relax in the den of their home. Jim killed the bear in 1959 in the Bering Sea north of Alaska. It's one of many hunting trophies which fill the den of his home here.

It Was Too Cold For Polar Bear Hunt To Last Very Long

Hunting down and killing a Polar Bear in Alaska is no job at all—if you're lucky and if you can take 52-below-zero cold.

That's the word from Jim Height, a Hart man who ought to know.

Jim has a den full of hunting trophies as a result of his long-time hobby.

One of the most striking is the fur of a Polar Bear. Jim has turned that one into a rug that covers an area of 10 by 10 feet.

He likes to kid about that bear.

"This one's kinda little," he jests, "you ought to have seen his mama."

Actually, the bear, which weighed 2,000 pounds, was so old he'd lost his teeth, Jim had some false teeth made up for the head.

Is a Polar Bear hunt a hard one?

This one wasn't, says Jim.

"You know, we flew out of Kotzebue, Alaska, and we were back in a flat three hours."

It happened in March of 1959. Jim and a couple of guides left Kotzebue in two planes about 9 a.m. and flew out about 150 miles to the Bering Sea, not far from the coast of Siberia.

One plane was used as a hunter along the way. Once the bear was spotted, Jim's plane landed. He fired one shot and the bear was dead.

"It got him right in the neck," Jim says.

Jim had to do the job without his glasses, because it was so cold they froze up.

"Brother, you're wrong if you don't think 52 below isn't cold," says Jim.

The den at the Height home is a hunter's dream. Jim, who has hunted in Alaska on four different occasions, has the heads of a couple of moose, antelope, deer, a Dahl sheep and a Caribou, along with others. He's hunted extensively in Texas, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona and other states.

His favorite rifle is a 30-0-6, which he says he always uses.

"I guess I'd take this one along if I went rabbit hunting," Jim laughs.

Mrs. Height has accompanied her husband on many hunting trips, but she leaves the hunting to Jim. "I've never shot a thing," she says.

New Teacher Is Elected

The school board met Monday night Aug. 6. A new teacher for the Hart school, Mrs. Nellie Lester of Weatherford, Okla., was elected. She received her degree from Southwestern University of Chyenne, Okla. She will teach first grade this year.

Davis-Irons Vows Said In Ceremony At Hart

Miss Freda Marcia Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Davis, and David Dean Irons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen E. Irons, were married in the First Baptist Church in Hart Tuesday July 24 with Rev. Dinzell Leonard officiating at the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white pique street-length dress with white accessories and carried a pink bridal bouquet.

Vera Irons of Plainview was maid of honor and John Smith, also of Plainview, served as best man.

A reception was held following the wedding in the home of the bride's parents. The table was covered with lace over pink and centered with a bouquet of flowers. Pink and white cake and pink punch were served to the guests.

Both the bride and groom attended Hart High School.

Mrs. Wallace Is Honored

Mrs. Jonetta Wallace was honored with a birthday party Thursday Aug. 2 in the home of Mrs. Jimmie Davis. Mrs. Curtis Malone and Mrs. John McLain served as co-hostess. Mrs. Wallace was 76 years old. She stated that this was her first birthday party. She and her husband, the late S.E. Wallace, lived in the Hart and Sunnyside communities since 1924, where they were engaged in farming until the death of Wallace. They moved here from Wellington.

They have two daughters, Mrs. John McLain of Hart and Mrs. Ed Bertrand of Dalhart.

Refreshments of cake and pink lemonade were served to Mmes. Nora Ray, M.F. Sanders, Tommie Simpler, Henry Stanton, Orville Preston, Miles Cox, Claudett Preston, John McLain, Wade Cox, Otto Dinwiddie, Hubert Maples, Lenora Smith, T.B. Cox, Curtis Malone, Clifford Myers, Donald Feathersen and Jimmie Davis.

Mrs. L. W. Bennight and Doris Bennight

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Mr. and Mrs. L.W. Bennight came to Hart in 1955 farmed here until January of 1959, when they moved into town.

The Bennights have five children, Mrs. Royce Davis of Dimmitt, Mrs. Melvin Marcy of Ropesville, Mrs. Mary Davis of Leonard and Wesley and Davis Bennight.

They are members of the Baptist Church.

This week, Mrs. Bennight gave us the following recipe as one of her favorites.

BREAD & BUTTER PICKLES
25 to 30 medium sized cucumbers

- 8 large white onions
- 2 large sweet peppers
- 1/2 cup salt
- 5 cups cider vinegar
- 5 cups sugar
- 2 tablespoons mustard seed

1 teaspoon turmeric
1/2 teaspoon cloves

Let stand three hours, salt, onions, pepper and cucumbers. Combine vinegar, sugar and spices in large preserving kettle and bring to boil.

The Dog and His Bone

AESOP, the well-known fable teller, started that story about the little dog . . . who went trotting home one day with a nice bone. On the way he saw what looked like a much juicier one in the bright mirror of a water hole . . . but, in grabbing for it, he lost the bone he already had.

- There's a good moral for one and all in this little story. But the educational value of fables must be over-rated. Because this one has been around for 1300 years and people are still risking . . . and often losing . . . some of the good things they have by reaching for something that is more temptingly offered.

- Like some of us here in this community . . . who roam far and wide in a search for "better deals" and thereby seriously undermine the economic structure which supports our own businesses and jobs, our fine schools and churches, and all the other elements of our well-ordered American small town life.

- In this community . . . right now . . . we could be enjoying much greater prosperity, much finer social and civic facilities . . . if we had but kept in our local economic bloodstream all of the money we have put into the upkeep and upbuilding of larger cities in years past.
