Voters Decide On Hart School Expansion Program Saturday

IT'S POTATO PLANTING time in the Hart vicinity. Here a farmer and his hired help put the spuds underground with hopes of harvesting another bumper crop.

Heritage Winners Announced

Hart winners in the American Heritage contests sponsored by Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, were announced this week by Malcolm Atwood, high school principal.

Placings in the project division were: 1. Charlotte Murray; 2. Rosemary Lee and Robbie Rice, tie; 3. Susan Constant, Martha Sharp, Susie Diaz and Janie Flippo, tie.

In the essay division, the results were: 1. Carol Futrell, 2. Jo Sanders, 3. Harvey Sullivan.

Poster contest placings were 1. Rene Brooks, 2. Becky Burgess, 3. Carol Nivens.

Science Speaker To Be Featured

A Southern School assembly program is scheduled Tuesday at 2 p.m. at Hart Schools, featuring "Fun and Facts" about science.

The speaker will be G. Carroll Rice, a California man with long experience in the industrial science field. He also has served as a co-ordinator in the Atlas' missile program.

Hart Trustee Election Draws Four Candidates

Four men, one of them a write-in candidate, will compete for two vacancies on the Hart school board in Saturday's trustee election.

Polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the city hall.

Listed on the ballot are incumbent R. G. Henderson, a farmer, and candidates Theron Morrison and Deryl Clevenger, both farmers.

A fourth farmer, Verle Crick has announced as a write-in candidate.

Current terms expire for Henderson and Rodney Smith, who did not seek re-election. Smith is planning to move from the community.

Hart Independent School District voters will decide the fate of a proposed $460,000 bond issue at the polls Saturday.

Polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Hart city hall.

Voters will ballot in both the bond election and the school board vote, in which four men will seek two posts on the board.

Total area of the proposed construction, in its entirety, is 39,040 square feet. Total cost of $460,000 makes the cost per square foot $11.79.

That cost, according to school officials, includes all necessary furniture, equipment, sidewalks, curbs and gutter.

Bond schedule runs from 1964 to 1989. School officials say these bonds, added to present bonds of the Hart district, would make a total of approximately $40,000 in annual payments on the school debt.

Some of the new bonds would be retired annually beginning in 1964, but the majority of them would be retired after present bonds are paid.

Three propositions will be on the ballot:

1. For or against "Maintenance Tax". Approval of this proposition would allow Hart schools to operate under Senate Bill 116.

2. For or against "The issuance of $375,000 bonds and the levying of the tax in payment thereof." This proposition would authorize money for the construction of the classroom and gymnasium sections of the proposed building.

3. For or against "The issuance of $85,000 bonds and the levying of the tax in payment thereof." This one would authorize construction of a 600-seat auditorium.

The expansion program would provide, aside from the gymnasium and auditorium, nine general classrooms, two science laboratories, a library-study hall, commercial room, home-making room and general administration area.

The new building would house both the junior high and high school. Present high school building would be converted to an elementary school.

School officials explained that

Auditorium Is Boosted

Supt. Paul Kennedy this week offered the following statement in regard to the school auditorium which is proposed in proposition three of the local bond election Saturday:

"We are a growing community and we badly need some place to meet.

The question was raised the other day as to why there are no larger turnouts at programs offered by different organizations of Hart. The question was answered in this manner: 'One cannot see or hear in the present facilities'. The present gymnasium is a place to meet, but the children of Hart and the citizens of Hart are entitled to a comfortable, convenient, adequate place of assembly.

"The 600-seat auditorium will be large enough to handle the student body or programs such as graduation. If it is built, there will be many fine arts programs, which have been missing, available to the Hart people.

"The most important point to view is that our young citizens will have a place to study music, voice, speech, and all the other fine arts of the curriculum. They are entitled to this opportunity."

Letter To The Editor

Paid your income tax yet this year? Wonder what they do with all that money in Washington? Like to keep some of it in your own community so you can see how it is spent? And ask about the bills? Like to get some benefit from it yourself? Like to have it spent so it will increase the value of your city lots or farm land? Or bring new customers to your store?

Then vote for the bonds for a new school building in Hart.

Never mind about the welfare of the community or your neighbors. Think of your own self-interest. The value of your property depends largely on the kind of community where it is located. And the kind of community is determined by such factors as roads, utilities, churches and schools.

All this is elemental. Everybody knows it.

But sometimes we need to be reminded of how well the progressive development in West Texas has paid off in dollars and cents.

Think of how much land values have increased here in the last fifty years--or the last two years, for that matter. It is the same land. But growing population makes the difference. And the kind of people makes a difference too. If we wish to see our community grow, we must continue to attract good citizens.

If we wish new businesses in town and responsible tenants on the land, we must offer people, not only a chance to prosper, but the advantages of a good life too. And most importantly, this includes good schools for their children.

No one person or group of persons can accomplish this. It requires a majority of taxpayers.

Those who pay personal property taxes are eligible for voting as well as those who pay real estate taxes.

A large investment in machinery is required to operate a farm. And this machinery is taxed at actual value. Many tenant farmers pay more taxes than homeowners, and spend more money in the community.

Taxes paid for our schools are kept in our own community, not sent to Washington. Higher taxes paid here means that each taxpayer owes less to the federal government.

By voting for the new school bonds in Hart, each taxpayer in the district can deduct his payment from his income tax. Some of your tax dollars which are going to the United Nations to provide agricultural aid for Castro would be kept in Hart.

Tax money would go instead into new classrooms, a new gymnasium for community sports events, a new auditorium for community entertainment.

If we don't provide adequate schools ourselves, the federal government is preparing to do it for us with Federal Aid to Education. This would be no bargain.

The federal government has no money except from your tax dollars. And of every dollar that goes to Washington, some of it sticks there. And federal aid means federal control. Make no mistake about that.

You would no longer have the right to decide which textbooks your child studies.

Nothing improves a town or surrounding property values more than good schools. Let us be selfish and greedy and keep some of our tax dollars in our own community for our own benefit. Vote for the Hart School Bonds. See you at the polls. Tyline Nanny Perry

Date Is Set For Photographs

Pictures of Hart children will be taken Thursday April 11, in the Hart Beat office by a professional photographer.

Settings will be held from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. free of charge.

Each child whose photo is taken will appear in the Hart Beat. There is no obligation to parents, and there are no strings attached.

Parents do not have to be subscribers to take advantage of the feature.

Persons who want additional prints may obtain a limited number by arrangement with the studio representative.

WORDS TO PONDER

Since we are to vote this Saturday for or against a new school bond, we might ponder these words, "Since we spend four times as much on legalized gambling in America as on higher education, we can afford to gamble on every youngster who has the desire for higher education", said Conrad A. Elvehjem, the president of University of Wisconsin.

PRESENTED PLAQUE

Members of the Training Union of Young Peoples department at the Hart Baptist Church went out to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Varner Sunday night to present Mr. and Mrs. Varner with a plaque of appreciation for their leadership for the past 7 years.

ATTEND FUNERAL

T. G. Mousner and daughters Nan and Carol were called to Dallas last week for the funeral of Mr. Mousners mother.

ON RANCH

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Martin, Mark and Doug spent the weekend at their ranch near San Saba.

PROFESSOR SPEAKS

Lyle Brown, history professor, at Wayland College spoke Sunday night in the Hart Baptist Church on "The World Looks at my Church". At the training hour Bro. Leonard spoke on the subject of "My Church Looks at the World".

Delta Kappa Gammas Hold Meeting In Hart

Last Saturday night March 30 at 7 an estimated 90 members of Delta Kappa Gamma from Hereford, Dimmitt, Friona, Bovina and Farwell met in Hart School Cafeteria for a salad dinner.

Hart members were hostesses.

The future teachers association of this area were guest along with their sponsors.

Each future teacher was introduced and the Future Teachers from Friona presented a skit.

Foreign exchange students of this area were introduced. The speaker of the evening was Heather Gordon of Hereford. She is an exchange student from Johannesburg, South Africa, and is a student in Hereford for one year.

The Personal growth and Service Committee gave a report on the outstanding work Mrs. Inez Robinson of Dimmitt has done in Science.

Local members of the society are Mmes. Paul Kennedy, Malcolm Atwood and Max Stephens.

Decorations were of spring flowers and carried out the Easter Motif.

Banquet Set For April 12

The annual athletic banquet will be held Friday April 12 at the School cafeteria.

At this time all of the athletes will be recognized and honored.

The public is invited to support the athletic program by being present at the banquet. The speaker for the evening will be Joe Kerbel, head football coach at West Texas State College.

Tickets are $1.50 and can be purchased from any member of the Mothers Club, Farmers State Bank and Walt Hansen Grocery.

This & That

BY MYRT LOMAN

According to official weathermen, spring arrived at 2:20 on March 21 and March came in like a lamb and will leave like a lion. We really see signs of spring as the Jonquils are blooming and some of the fruit trees are blooming and leafing out. The Willow trees seem to have the most leaves this early. Have heard it said we only can depend on a fruit crop on the average of once every 5 years, and we usually have a cold spell at Easter time and that is April 14.

The flowers are peeping through the soil, also some of the trees and they will need to be thinned or moved and as there are so many newhomes in Hart, we might share our shrubry and flowers with our friends and new people.

We use to drive to Lubbock on Sunday afternoon to see the new houses being built, but now you can spend some time in our own CITY sight-seeing and they are so pretty and we are so proud of each new house or home. Some of the houses are for rent.

Since it will soon be time for us to begin work at the cemetery, I found a little write-up not long ago in a paper and think it worth printing in our news. "Working" the resting place of our ancestors, and the graves of many who have no known kin anywhere near, one gets a sort of cleansing of the spirit. You feel good from the exercise, you feel clean and noble, even as you believe the ancestors were in their daily living----It gives you a mighty lift, which can't be explained, but rather needs to be felt.

When I read the above I thought of an incident that happened not long ago at one of our cafes while Pappy and I were drinking coffee. I asked one of the boys from Farmers Grain if they always had plenty of help in digging graves. Their reply, "Yes as a rule".

I then said "When I die, will you please see that I have a grave to be put in?" The answer from them I have not yet figured out: "Why Myrt we will have plenty of help to dig your grave."

The following was written by Mrs. Joe Newman.

My pastor means many things to me. He is God's chose messenger to our church. I am thankful he was sent our way.

We often take him for granted. We are prone to think he is never tired or weary. How very wrong we are! Many times a vicious tongue or an evil deed breaks his heart.

When I think of my pastor my heart overflows with love and gratitude. What a blessing he is to me and my family.

He is always near when he is needed, whether it be by one of his members, or a non-Christian or member of another church. How easy it is to criticize him, condemn and to cast the first stone.

I thank God for my devoted God fearing pastor, and his wife. She is certainly an inspiration to him and to our church.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON

Voting Is Slim In City Election

A slim turnout was recorded here Tuesday in city voting as only three incumbents had filed for re-election.

There were 24 votes cast. Ed Harris was voted into another term as mayor with 23 votes. Ena Bowden picked up the lone write-in vote for mayor.

Councilmen Norlan Dudley accumulated 20 votes and Claude Cox received 18 of the 24.

Write-in votes went to Joe Newman, one; Homer Hill, two; W. T. Sanders, one; and W. A. Hawkins, one.

Diverted Acres Told In Program

Castro County had 998 Feed Grain farms out of a total 1085, to sign up to participate in the 1963 Feed Grain Program, which ended March 22.

The intended diverted acreage for feed grain crops on the above participating farms amounted to 60,947 acres. Corn, 1781 acres; Barley, 7926 acres; and Grain Sorghum 51240 acres. The Base acres for all feed grain farms in Castro County are as follows:

Grain Sorghum 228,255 acres, Barley 13,538 acres, Corn 3,742 acres. Substitute crop acres 2445, total diversion payment $1,203,301.00. All participating Feed Grain farms that have planted Barley, which has frozen out or plans to be destroyed prior to May 1st, must report their intentions to the Castro County ASCS Office no later than May 1, 1963. All Barley acreage on Feed Grain Farms, not reported and destroyed by May 1, 1963, will be counted as Feed Grain acreage against the farm base acreage. ASC Office Manager, Charlie Hill said, "Don't overlook the above because this could have a definite effect on Feed Grain acreage for your farm."

Girls Stimulate Interest In Future Homemaking

March 31 through April 6 is F.H.A. Week all across the country.

Hart girls are presently making an effort to interpret the significance of the week. They will show projects, tell F.H.A. objectives and interpret the organization to stimulate community interest.

The Hart chapter of Future Homemakers began the week by attending church services at the Methodist Church, Sunday.

Sixteen members attended with chapter mothers, Mrs. Sanders and Mrs. Bowden, Miss Price, an advisor was present.

Chapter members will wear red and white to school Tuesday and have a luncheon in the cottage Wednesday.

Friday has been declared "Twirp Day". Boys can save their money for a change, while the girls dole it out for cokes and hamburgers.

DAUGHTER SICK

VISITS UNCLE

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Hawkins visited her uncle, John T. Griffin in a Littlefield Hospital Thursday evening.

Olton And Hart Students Qualify For Awards

PLAINVIEW, Dr. John W. Drakeford, Fort Worth author and seminary professor, will be speaker for the annual Plains American Heritage Awards Banquet at 6:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 23, at Estacado Junior High School in Plainview.

Students from Olton and Hart public schools will be among those receiving awards for entries in poster, essay and project contests sponsored annually by the American Heritage program.

Several hundred public school students and teachers from 11 cities in a five-county area participate in the program which is coordinated by Wayland.

Latest book by Dr. Drakeford, a native of Sydney, Australia, now serving as professor of psychology and counseling at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, is "Red Blueprint for the World."

Last year he was invited to Wayland to speak for special flag raising ceremonies on Veterans' Day, when he shared with students and faculty some of his knowledge about Communism.

A speaker as well as a writer, Dr. Drakeford regularly has part on the Southern Baptist Convention radio program "Master Control," and appears on a weekly television panel, "Planning for Tomorrow".

He also serves as director of the Baptist Marriage and Family Counseling Center at Southwestern.

For three years Dr. Drakeford was chaplain in the Australian army, serving in the Pacific Islands. During this time he was chaplain for a year in the largest army psychiatric hospital in Australia.

Participating in the program are schools from Olton, Abernathy, Cotton Center, Dimmitt, Hale Center, Hart, Kress, Lockney, Petersburg, Plainview and Tulia.

VISITS MOTHER

BOND ELECTION

the passage of the first proposition (Maintenance Tax, Senate Bill 116) is necessary in order for the other two propositions to carry.

SB 116 allows the school district to issue bonds over and above limits set up under the schools' present financial structure.

This bill, now a state law, provides that the bonded indebtedness of a school district cannot exceed 10 per cent of the district's assessed valuation.

School taxes under the proposed bond issue would be increased 40 per cent.

Ten per cent of this 40 per cent increase is for maintenance money, school officials say.

"This money will have to be raised regardless of the outcome of the bond election," said Supt. Paul Kennedy.

The building program itself will use 30 per cent of the 40 per cent tax hike.

"The other 10 per cent will be necessary in order to operate the schools," said Supt. Kennedy.

The building proposed in the election would be a compact, all-masonry structure complete with air-conditioning for the classroom area. The gym would not be air-conditioned, but evaporative cooling would be provided in the auditorium.

School board studies showed this type building could be constructed complete with equipment at a cost equal to or less than a conventional type building, Supt. Kennedy said.

This is the way the change of the tax structure would be handled:

Presently, Hart schools are operating on an assessed valuation of $6,350,000. This is one-half of the actual state and county valuation of the school district.

Actual valuation of state and county property in the school district, then, amounts to $12,700,000.

Assuming at least some growth in the district by the time the bond program is put into effect, trustees and financial advisors agreed on a $13,000,000 actual valuation in the district as a financial basis from which to work.

The present assessment of 50 per cent of actual value would be raised to 70 per cent of actual value. This increase of 20 percentage points would be a 40 per cent increase from the old standard.

Seventy percent of the actual valuation of $13,000,000 would give the school district an assessed valuation of approximately $9,100,000.

The tax rate would remain unchanged at $1.50 for each $100 of assessed valuation. One dollar of this would be for maintenance and the 50 cents for bond retirement.

Senate Bill 116 Explained

Some seven years ago the Legislature adopted what is known commonly now as Senate Bill 116. It is a state statute, Art. 2784e-1, V.A.T.C.S.

This law provides that the bonded indebtedness of a school district cannot exceed 10 per cent of the assessed valuation of a school district.

The law provides that a district may levy a maintenance tax not to exceed 7 1/2 per cent of the assessed valuation, then the tax cannot exceed $1.40.

If the debt exceeds 8 1/2 per cent of the assessed valuation, then the limit that can be set for maintenance is $1.30. If the debt exceeds 9 1/2 per cent of the assessed valuation, then the maintenance tax cannot exceed $1.20.

Once Senate Bill 116 is voted, the debt can never exceed 10 per cent of the assessed valuation.

The law under which Hart schools now operate provides for unlimited power in the electorate to vote bonds and create indebtedness, and limits the power of the school board to raise the money with which to retire the indebtedness so created.

Senate Bill 116, on the other hand, places a limitation on the electorate in creating indebtedness, and gives the school board unlimited power to retire any and all bond issues passed, which is actually more realistic, makes for freedom in operation with which to meet the educational needs as and when they arise, and will make future bonds more attractive.

The bill does not offer inducement to the school board to raise taxes and spend money when unnecessary to do so.

Sufficient safeguards are provided to prevent dangerous spending, and the freedom given the school board is necessary for the proper financing and marketing of bonds.

Further, the law specifically provides that any bonds authorized at the time of or after the adoption of Senate Bill 116 will be paid from a special tax that will be levied for that purpose only, and when the bonds are paid, this tax must be dropped.

Bonds voted under SB116 find a wider market and somewhat better interest rate. Financial advisor for the Hart project estimates the school district will realize a minimum savings of $80,000 in interest by going under SB 116.

Under SB 11b, the financial advisor told the board that the Hart bonds can be paid off four years sooner than they could under present circumstance. Smith estimated the bonds will sell at about .20 of one percent less on the interest rate under SB 116.
