Two New Coaches To Guide Longhorns

The Hart Longhorns will compete this season under the tutelage of a new head coach.

Longhorn coach Dub Cleveland resigned last week to accept an assistant coaching position at Panhandle. This week Hart school superintendent Paul Kennedy, who has to worry about such things, announced that Jeff Smart would be the new head coach for the football team.

Smart comes to Hart from Clayton, N. M., where he was head football coach for a year. Before that, he was head coach for two years at Springer, N.M., and an assistant coach for eight years at Olton.

Smart graduated from New Mexico Highlands University with a B. A. in physical education with a social studies minor.

In addition to his coaching duties, the new coach will also teach American and world history.

Also announced this week was a new Longhorn basketball coach and assistant football coach.

Haden Moore, a Texas Tech graduate from Spur, who has coached in Girard, San Antonio, Dell City, will work as an assistant coach during the football season.

Tucker Wins Third Flight

Lanny Tucker of Hart, playing in the Third Flight in the Olton Invitational Golf Tournament this past week, showed that even in the Third Flight he could do better than some of the higher ranked area amateurs.

After two days of match play, Tucker breezed through Sunday's 18 holes of medal play with a two-over-par 74.

The 74-stroke total was four strokes better than the winning Championship Flight score and five strokes better than second place in the Third Flight. Deryl Machen of Olton took the second Smart is married, having a wife named Pat, and has two young daughters—Jennifer, 9, and Cindy, 7. Moore's wife is Ve, and they have been married nine years and also have two daughters—Ann, 7, and Katy, 2.

The Longhorns will move to full gear workouts this next week as the football season rapidly approaches.

Longhorns Open With Silverton

Football fever is in the air again. The fall breeze is blowing, and school and football are just around the corner.

The Hart Longhorns will be moving into full gear for their workouts very shortly.

Hart faces a ten-game season this year—as is usual for Class B teams in this state.

The season opener Sept. 11 will be against Silverton there. But the Longhorns will be home each of the next two weeks as they meet New Deal and then Turkey.

Anton and Nazareth games on Oct. 2 and 9 will be away from home, but the game with Lazbuddie will be played here. Bovina is there, but Vega is here. Texline is there, but Happy—ending the regular season—is here.

The junior high season will run for six straight weeks, Sept. 24. The first game will be Lazbuddie here. Then comes Bovina there and Vega there, as well as Lazbuddie again there.

spot in the medal competition with a 79-stroke total.

The third day's play ended up with Hart linksters in pretty complete possession of the Third Flight. In the consolation bracket, for players defeated on the first day of match play, Joe Bailey squeezed out a victory on the first hole of a sudden death playoff with Plainview's Budd Gunter—after both golfers had carded 86's.

New Building, New Year All Set For Hart School

There's a new school in Hart for the new school year in Hart.

Hart school personnel are working frantically to get high school equipment moved into the new building and the old high school building completely converted to an elementary school in time for the first day of classes on the last day of this month.

While they are busy moving they are also busy registering pupils and doing the paperwork necessary to get a new school year rolling.

Hart school superintendent Paul Kennedy and elementary school principal G. C. Graves have requested that all parents with entering first graders make "an extreme effort" to have their children present for pre-school registration—set for Thursday, Aug. 27.

The needed materials for the pre-registration session include birth certificate, vaccination certificate and—if possible—$2.75 for workbooks and other materials for the child during the coming year.

Parents and children will gather in the elementary school library at 9 a.m. Thursday. Teachers will take the children to their assigned rooms, and parents will fill out the necessary forms provided by the school.

The first graders will work with their teachers until 11 a.m. at which time they will go to the cafeteria for a full meal. After the meal, the first graders will return to their rooms for a rest and play period.

Parents may pick up their child at their convenience between noon and 1 p.m.

The week of Aug. 24 to 28 will be a week of regular duty for all the teachers. They will be making preparations and final plans for the upcoming year of classes.

Hart residents are invited by the school administration to come by during this week and meet both returning and new faculty members.

The new high school building will house grades 7 through 12 in its 14 rooms. Kennedy said that the new building can handle up to 450 students, though only about 250 are expected this year.

Open house for the new building has been set for a week from Sunday, on Aug. 30, and all area residents are invited to inspect all the new facilities at that time.

The day after open house, the building will see the first classes in what should be a long history.

Lockney Man Dies In Wreck Near Hart

A 28-year old Lockney attorney died almost instantly when the 1960 model sedan he was driving collided with a potato truck about two miles northwest of Hart on the Dimmitt highway Thursday Aug. 13.

Lockney City Attorney G. W. Suggs was killed in the collision. His wife, Barbara, and two-year old son, Clay, are in serious condition in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. Two other children—Carla, 8, and Lyle, 7, were asleep in the back seat of the car and suffered only minor injuries.

The wreck occurred about 9 p.m. on State Highway 194 when a truck loaded with potatoes backed into the path of the Suggs car.

Rafael Garcia, 35, who lives in Hart, was driving the truck. He was not injured.

Castro County Deputy Sheriff Granville Martin said the truck was pulling away from H & S Produce, a potato processing shed, near the highway.

Victims of the collision were rushed to Dimmitt Hospital for emergency treatment, and then Mrs. Suggs and her two-year-old son were rushed to Amarillo where they both underwent surgery.

Mrs. Suggs suffered a neck injury, fractures of the jaw and multiple lacerations. Her son suffered a head injury.

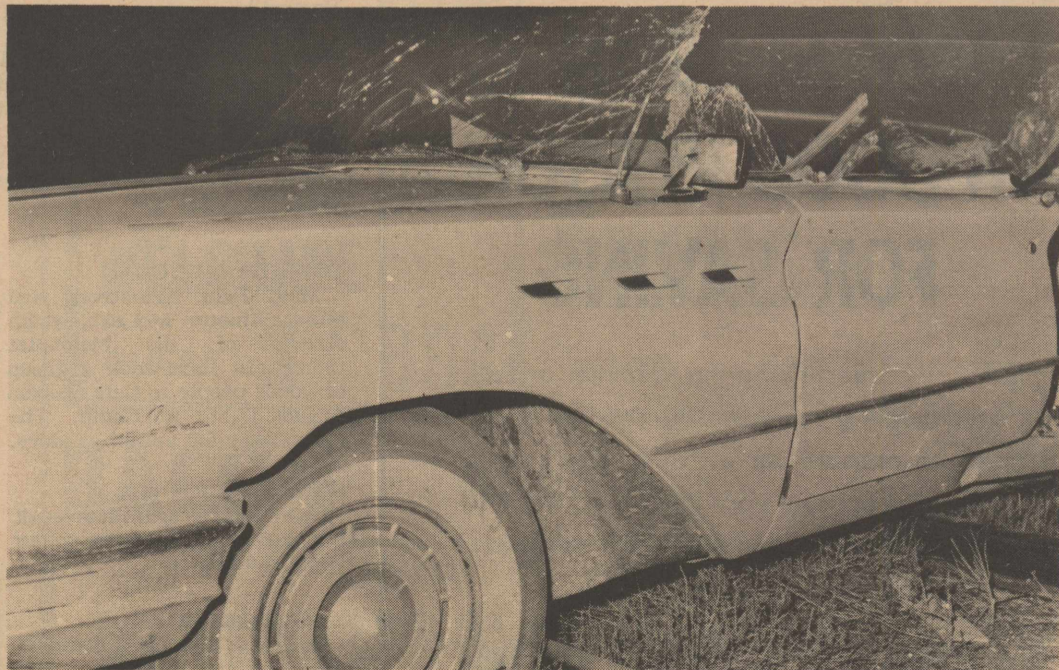

The family was on its way to a lake cabin at Lake Conchas, N.M., for a vacation.

Dimmitt law officers radioed Lockney police requesting help for the two uninjured children. Lockney city officer Abel Anzaldua drove to Dimmitt to pick up the children.

Suggs, who had practiced law at Lockney since 1961, was also school attorney and secretary of the Lockney Chamber of Commerce. He was a member of the board of trustees for the First Methodist Church in Lockney, taught an adult Sunday School class. He was an outstanding local lay speaker.

A native of Hereford, Suggs married Barbara Wingate Nov. 24, 1960, at Austin.

Surviving in addition to the immediate family, are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Suggs of Hereford; a sister, Mrs. Ira Haven of El Campo, and a grandmother, Mrs. Dora Suggs of Hereford.

WHERE ONE DIED—Lockney City Attorney G. W. Suggs was killed instantly near here when his car collided with a loaded potato truck. His wife and two-year-old son were seriously injured in the fatal accident.

Agronomist Speaks On Fertilization

By Bill Bennett, Agronomist

Rates of fertilizer use should be related to the price you can expect for your crop. Farmers are looking at this point now in regard to the price of wheat and the rate of fertilizer to use. So let's discuss the economics of wheat fertilizer.

One major point is that it is false economy to try to cut costs by decreasing fertilizer rates. With prospects for relatively low wheat prices, it is necessary to produce optimum yields per acre. It takes fertilizer to do this.

You know what ammonia can do for wheat per acre with 80 lb. nitrogen. A 120 pound nitrogen rate will usually produce an additional 15 bushels per acre. Fifteen bushels of wheat at $1.40 will provide an extra $21 for a cost of $8 for the ammonia.

Phosphorus is also a good investment on wheat where it is needed. Returns may not be as great as with nitrogen.

A 40 lb. Phosphorus Pentoxide rate will usually provide an extra 4 to 8 bushels per acre—a return of $6 to $11 per acre from a $4 per acre investment.

Phosphorus is usually the element which gets left off when a cost-price squeeze comes around. In this regard, let's look at one important point—nutrient balance. In a Swisher County test conducted by the personnel of the Bushland experiment station, 80 lb. nitrogen per acre increased yield by 4.7 bushels. The application of phosphorus alone actually decreased yield by 1.6 bushels. An application of the two together—80 lb. Nitrogen and 80 lb. Phosphorus Pentoxide—gave an increase of 21.1 bushels per acre.

This 21.1 bushels of wheat at $1.40 represents a $29.54 return for an investment of $13.20 worth of fertilizer. This is a good example of nutrient balance and it illustrates the importance of using both nitrogen and phosphorus where needed.

Keep in mind that if it pays to grow wheat, it pays to fertilize for maximum returns from your fertilizer program.

COTTON TALKS

John Reynolds, executive vice-president of the Western Cotton Growers Association of California has recently completed a two week survey of textile mills and offices to determine what effect the cotton law passed in April of this year is having on the farmer's cotton markets.

In a letter to Plains Cotton Growers, which included a number of quotes from textile executives, Reynolds said: "There's no doubt about it. Everybody's optimistic even though the law has been in operation only a few months," and added that "The threatened big acreage cut has been forestalled."

Reynolds quoted William Reid, president of Riegel Textile Corporation, as saying: "Before this legislation, cotton was in more serious trouble than most people realized because growers had not yet felt the full impact of what was going to happen to their markets unless the price of cotton came down. Now that has changed. In our company we will use from 9-13 per cent more cotton for the balance of this year than we did in the same period last year."

The head of Avondale Mills' New York office, Frank Mountcastle, told Reynolds that their mills would be running from 6 - 10 per cent more hours on cotton than they were before the law was passed.

"The new cotton legislation stopped the planned expansion into synthetics which our company was considering," Mountcastle said, "and one other firm that I know of which was a heavy user of synthetics has shifted entirely to cotton."

A 6 or 10 per cent increase in the use of cotton by a mill may not sound like much to beat the drums about, but when multiplied many times over a lot of cotton is involved.

Furthermore, in many instances such increases are replacing planned reductions, which has the effect of doubling the benefits received. Consider what Ben Tipton, vice president of Dan River Mills, had to say.

"We would have dropped about 10 per cent without the new cotton law, but we have already increased cotton use by 10 to 15 per cent since the bill was enacted," he said, and brightened the picture more by adding that, "Our new $10,000,000 plant is evidence of our renewed faith in cotton because it is set up to spin 100 per cent cotton fibers."

The overall optimism in the industry is confirmed by Plains Cotton Growers own textile engineer James Parker. "Generally speaking," he says, "the cotton textile industry is the most vigorous I have seen it in several years, and every mill man is enthusiastic about the future of cotton yarns and fabrics."

Parker also states that some 25 or 30 cotton processing companies have announced plans for either expanding present facilities or building new plants.

He adds that: "There is a definite interest in shifting some of this expansion to southwestern parts of the United States, including concrete plans for another cotton textile plant to be located on the High Plains in addition to the one announced by the Hanes Company."

New plants for spinning cotton; mills switching from synthetics back to cotton; other mills stopping plans to switch away from cotton; increased output of cotton fabrics—all are words to warm the cockles of a cotton man's heart, but the inevitable and sobering question is: What will happen if the law which has made all this possible is not extended beyond 1966?

J. P. Stevens' cotton buyer Cecil Nelson told Reynolds: "We expect to buy much more cotton under the new law, but if it is not extended we will drastically cut cotton buying in favor of synthetics."

C. A. Gibson, president of B. I. Cotton Mills, said: "Previous to this law cotton was being priced out of the market and synthetics were taking over," and added "I can assure that the buyers of textile fibers, although they may prefer cotton, will continue to switch to man made fibers if the pricing ground rules for cotton are not stabilized."

In short, what is happening to cotton under the lower prices of the new law is nothing short of wonderful, but should that price go back up after two years the cotton industry could well travel the same road to stagnation as the coal industry.
