HART AWAITS CLEAR SKIES

FINE WEATHER FOR A DUCK -- The dreary, drizzly weather this past week presented Hart students with a few minor problems -- and some major ones. Kathy Cheves, Hart third grader who is nine years old today, had a problem Tuesday trying to figure out how to get to the car so her mother could drive her home -- though a long hike around the puddle finally solved the problem.

Library Goal Hart Teachers Attend State Meet 2,000 Books

Hart High School is working toward the goal of obtaining a standard library according to Mrs. Dewitt Allsup, librarian.

In order to be considered a standard library, the library must contain 2,000 titles, a figure set up by Texas Education Agency

At the present time, Hart Library has approximately 965 titles with about $10,000 in books ordered for this year.

Special speaker for the evening was E, L. Galyean, who is In 12 counties in Texas where with Texas State Teachers the average educational level Association. He spoke to the is 12th grade, the average in-group on "Pending Legis- come is $5600. lation."

be ready for stripping anywhere from 10 days to two weeks after a good old-fashioned freeze. This date, of course, depends to a great extent upon the return of dry weather to the area.

E. E. Foster, manager of Hart Producers Co-op Gin said Tuesday, "We need a dry, killing freeze so bad we can taste it.

Hart school children could care very little about the freeze, but they definitely echo the sentiments about dry weather.

Though only half an inch of moisture had fallen in Hart though the second day of school in the week, the street between the schools was a shallow sea of soupy mud. The street south of the schools was a sea of deep mud, and the play-ground was spattered with puddles of the gooey mud.

Downtown Hart became something of a shopper's nightmare, as the main street turned into a broad expanse of mud -- slippery and messy -- which stuck to the shoes, splattered on clothes and made walking across the street a major undertaking.

The dirt roads in the country became something of a dilema -- and the more they were traveled the slicker they got.

With all the mud being splattered around, motorists in the area discovered the difficulty of trying to keep an auto wind-shield clean enough to see out of.

All in all, very few people in the Hart area seem to be over-anxious for the wet weather to continue -- and cotton farmers are not only anxious for the wet weather not to continue, they are anxious for the weather to get colder while getting drier.

Cotton, which has been getting most of the attention lately, is, of course, not the only farm crop in the area.

Charles Hottel of Dimmitt reported last week that cotton is about 2 per cent harvested -- and sorghum is about 95 per cent in, with only a few late fields remaining.

Area wheat is completely planted, and the wet weather is very beneficial. The wheat is area, the harvest will move into full swing in a matter of days.

The library has already received a shipment of 70 biographies and about 80 more are to be shipped. Mrs. Allsup has ordered approximately 300 science, 180 fiction, 150 history, and 300 miscellaneous books covering such areas as literature, sports, social sciences, languages and philosophy.

Biographies received in the latest shipment include historical biographies such as stories of Benedict Arnold, Herbert Hoover, and Andrew Jackson. Other biographies include Dizzy Dean, Micky Mantle, Sitt-ing Bull, Cochise, Patrick Henry, Thomas Jefferson, Ellen Richards, Dr. Salk and Albert Schweitzer.

sidered in January would raise beginning teachers salaries from $4014 to $4419. The bill would increase the state cost of education to $85 million for a two-year period.

Another proposed bill would put sick leave for teachers on a state basis instead of local level. At the present there are no provisions for sick leave on a state basis.

The legislation proposes five days of sick leave per year, accumlative up to 30 days. This legislation would cost the state two and a half million dollars every two years.

Hart Girls Win, Boys Drop

Hart basketballers entertained visitors from Spade Tuesday in the high school gym. The visitors made themselves right at home -- winning two of three games played before the home crowd.

The Hart girls grabbed a 61-35 victory, but the two boys' teams went down to defeat --58-30 for the "A" team, and 30-29 (the hard way to lose a game) for the "B" team.

Gary Heller was easily the top offensive player for the "A" team. Heller dropped in 24 points during the game -as to the amount of money spent 80 per cent of Hart's 30-point total -- and he only lofted the ball into the air 15 times for his scores.

Coach Haden Moore said that the boys' team suffered quite a bit from lack of accuracy hitting only about five per cent of their shots against the Spade boys.

The Hart girls, though, handled the Spade visitors with relative ease, and the high point scorers for Hart set out almost half the game.

Dixie Kendrick poured 28 points through the basket, and Connie Bailey tossed in 18 points.

The "B" team boys led through much of their game, but some critical missed shots toward the end of the game left them one point short of victory.

High scorers for the "B" boys were David Brooks, Jim Swindle and W. A. Hawkins.

The two "A" teams take the floor here Friday against Kress. Game time is 6:30 p.m.

The two teams travel to Amherst on Tuesday for the final games this month.

HART IN UN-H

The end of a long, hard football season for the Hart Longhorns came with a 38-0 defeat by the Happy Cowboys here Friday.

The Cowboys outweighed the Longhorns by an average of 15 pounds per man, and the extra weight -- among other things -- proved to be too much of an advantage for the outmanned Horns to overcome.

Through the first three periods of play, though, the Longhorns gave a pretty good accounting of themselves. In the fourth quarter, however, the game was all for the Cowboys.

Perhaps the biggest advantage of all for the Cowboys was a 190-pounds senior fullback -- Jim McManigal. A bruising ball carrier, McManigal finished off his high school football career in fine fashion.

Hart lost the toss before the game started, and in practically every case, the Longhorns found the breaks of the game going against them.

Larry McKay started the game by kicking off to the Cowboy 13-yard line. Tom Moudy, a senior halfback, fielded the ball and dashed to the 32-yard point -- where the Cowboys put the ball in play.

Moudy, McManigal and Joe Johnson -- another senior halfback -- started carrying the ball through the Longhorn defense. Only once in nine plays did the Hart defense stop one of the three seniors for nogain.

Nine plays and three first downs into the game, Cowboy quarterback Gary Culptoted the pigskin himself -- for a 15-yard gain to the 11-yard line.

McManigal picked up two yards, and then Moudy missed a handoff -- and W. A. Hawkins jumped on the ball at the 17-yard line.

Longhorn fullback David Smith made four consecutive trips up the middle -- picking up a first down and moving the ball out to the 32-yard line.

Danny Rodriguez gained to the 33, and Gary Heller dashed 20 yards to move the ball into Happy territory -- at the 47. But then -- disaster. Hart caught Happy's fumblitis, and Joe Johnson jumped on the ball for the Cowboys at the Hart 39-yard line.

Culp passed incomplete. But McMangial marched off eight yards to the 31, and Johnson zipped to the 22 -- before Heller and Rodriguez managed to catch him.

An off-sides penalty against the Longhorns moved the ball on down to the 17, and Mc-Manigal reached the 7-yard line in two carries.

Johnson gained three yards on the first play in the second quarter, and HB McManigal boomed through the middle for the first touchdown of the game -- with 11:13 left in the half. Culp's kick for extra points was wide to the right, but the Cowboy had a 6-0 lead.

The Longhorns put the ball in play at the 41, following Mc-Kay's kickoff return.

Smith went to the 47; Heller gained the midfield stripe and Doug Martin picked up the first down at the Cowboy 48.

Smith carried to the 39, and then he moved to the 30 -- plenty for a first down. But a penalty moved back the Horns to the 44. Smith was stopped at the line of scrimmage, but a penalty moved the ball back to the Hart 38. Heller was stopped at the line of scrimmage, and then passed incomplete.

Rodriguez punted to the 14yard line of the Cowboys.

The Cowboys bogged down at the Hart 45, and Culp punted to the Longhorn 18-yard line. The Longhorns bogged down at the 24, and Rodriguez punted to the Hart 48. Culp immediately connected with David Penn on pass play, covering 48 yards for the second Cowboy TD. Culp's kick for the extra point was good this time, and Happy took a 13-0 lead with almost four minutes left in the half. W. A. Hawkins returned the kickoff 17 yards to the 32, where the Longhorns put the ball into play.

ALMOST -- Happy's Wayne Stevens managed to push Gary

Heller out of bounds at the Happy 3-yard line, after an eight yard gain early in the second half. It was a good play for Happy, for it stopped the only really serious Hart scoring threat of the game.

quarter, the Cowboys had picked up a first down at the 23. Moudy went zipping around his own left end, and he traveled down the side of the playing field all the way in for the score. Culp's kick was no good, and the Cowboys led 19-0 with almost 10 minutes left in the game.

Hawkins returned the kickoff 12 yards to the 40, where the Longhorns put the ball inplay. Heller passed incomplete, and then came the play that was to break the game open for the Cowboys. The Horns lined up in a scattered line, and an apparent bad snap from center sailed over and past Rodriguez -- standing some eight yards back of the line. Before the Horns had even figured out quite what was happening, Richard Todd had recovered the ball for the Cowboys at the Hart

20-yard line. Three plays later, McManigal was in for the TD. The pass for extra points was incomplete, but the Cowboys had amassed a 25-0 lead -- with more than eight minutes re-

McManigal picked up a first down at the 38 in two carries. Culp passed to Stevens, and Rodriguez stopped the play at the 44 of Happy. McManigal then blasted through to the 42 of Hart, where Tommy Morrison managed to stop him. Culp hit Steven with a pass good to the 28.

Culp hit Stevens again, good to the 8-yard line. Culp hit Moudy for the score.

The kick was no good, and the Cowboys led 31-0 with less than two minutes left in the game.

Moudy jumped on Culp's on-sides kick, and the Cowboys had the ball again.

Culp passed, but Hawkins broke up the play. Then Culp scampered 28 yards to the 21, where Rodriguez and George Bennett managed to catch him.

Culp passed to Stevens, but the senior end dropped the pass in the end zone. Culp tried a pass to Penn, but the senior end couldn't quite reach the ball. Culp ran the ball to the 18 and then Joe Johnson crashed through the left side of the line for the score. Randy Johnson kicked the extra point, and the Cowboys had run up a 38-0

Homecoming Scheduled

LUBBOCK -- Texas Tech brings to a close one of its most successful seasons with ressibly the toughest competition in college football at this stage of the 1964 season -the University of Arkansas Razorbacks -- in Jones Stadium at 2 p.m. Saturday.

At 2 p.m. Saturday. Arkansas's Razorbacks, already in the Cotton Bowl, will be seeking a possible No. 1 national ranking, a perfect season, and an undisputed Southwest Conference championship. All the incentive will not be that of the invaders.

Texas Tech is also definitely in the running for a major bowl invitation. Furthermore, a Red Raider victory would tie the mark of Tech's last winning team, the 1955 squad that posted a 7-2-1 mark, and would please alumni assembled for homecoming.

More than the impetus of homecoming will be needed. Tech's homecoming record hardly is formidable, since the Red Raiders have won on 1 9 such occasions while losing on 14, tying one. Not since a 28-7 win over Souther Methodist in 1960 has Tech won at reunion. The law of averages may be working for Tech, however. Arkansas has taken all seven games played.

played. Still, the Razorbacks are hardly to be lulled by previous meetings with Tech. Only last year the Red Raiders, behind 20-0 in the first half, rallied to tie the game before losing 27-20.

Last week the Red Raiders captured their sixth victory of the season by rallying to a 28-10 win over Washington State University. As a result of 119 rushing yards, Donny Anderson of Stinnett sent his season total to 877, six more than the Tech record of 871 established by another Panhandle product, Walt Schlinkman of Dumas in 1945. Schlinkman, later a star with the Green Bay Packers, is offensive coach of the St. Louis Cardinal footballers.
