Holloway's Break-In Loss High

Between $2,000 and $3,000 worth of merchandise was reported missing at Holloway's after a break-in at the store early Friday morning.

Missing are approximately $600 worth of shirts and $600 worth of slacks along with ladies' coats, men's jackets, men's sport coats and watches.

Back door to the store was reported to have been pried open.

Investigating are Deputy Sheriff Granville Martin and the Texas Rangers.

P-TA SETS

AUDITIONS

Auditions for a talent contest have been set March 20 at 2 p.m. at the grade school here.

The contest, sponsored by Hart PTA, is scheduled Friday April 2.

Cash prizes will be given in two divisions: 14 years of age and under and 15 and over.

Contestants will furnish their own accompaniment and winners of last year's contest will not be eligible to enter.

Additional information may be obtained from Virginia Hansen at 938-3230 or Marsha George at 938-4654.

Mayor Race Gets Third Candidate

One up and one down ... This is the way the Hart city election stood this week with one new candidate filing and another withdrawing his name from the ballot.

E. E. Foster, co-op gin manager, has filed for mayor. Other two candidates are Joe Newman and J. P. Armstrong.

Joe Bailey, who previously filed for councilman, has withdrawn from the race, leaving John Holloway as sole candidate for councilman.

Bailey said he withdrew from the race because his poll tax was not paid, adding:

"This is the first time in 12 years I hadn't paid it."

This leaves Hart voters with a choice of three candidates for the single post of mayor and only one candidate for councilman with two to be elected.

Deadline for filing for the April 6 election is March 5.

Science Fair

Monday Night

Hart School science fair is scheduled here Monday night from 7 to 10.

More than 300 projects are entered, including elementary, junior high and high school work.

Candidates may file at the city hall.

In the school board race, Wamon Foster and C. B. Martin, whose terms on the board will expire this year, have filed as candidates for re-election.

School election is set April 3 with deadline for filing set March 4.

School Board

Dangers Of Measles Told

Anyone who thinks measles is a harmless childhood disease is sadly mistaken.

In the first place, "childhood disease" is a misnomer. Any person, regardless of age, who has not had measles may have them. Measles is, however, rightly associated with childhood since 90 percent of our children have it before their fifteenth birthday.

Secondly, measles is not the harmless illness that most mothers seem to think it is.

Although recovery is routine for most children, about 500 children in the nation die every year from illnesses stemming from it. Or, a side-effect can be inflammation of the brain, leading to mental retardation.

Last year 7,629 measles cases were reported in Texas. Statistics show several characteristics of the disease. One is that every two or three years a reservoir of susceptible children builds up. A measles epidemic empties the reservoir. Nearly all children who are exposed and not protected come down with measles.

Another fact the figures show is that February through April is the measles season - that is, more cases occur during this time of the year.

A virus so small that it measures only from two to five millionths of an inch in diameter is responsible for the disease.

A child coming down with measles may seem to have cold symptoms---a dripping nose, watery eyes, wheezing and similar discomfort---about 10 days after exposure. The first sure sign that it is measles is the appearance of "Koplik spots"---bluish-white specks surrounded by redness in the mouth. A blotchy rash follows on the child's face and body,

CHI PSI PARTY -- Above is a scene from the Chi Psi western party held Monday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glyn Reed.

Chi Psi Party Held

Chi Psi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held a dinner and western party in honor of the new pledges in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glyn Reed Monday night March 1 at 7:30.

Honor guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Wister Clevenger, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ed Carson, and Mrs. Andy Gardenhire.

Members present were Mrs. H. H. Parker, Jack George, Joe Hart, DeWayne Brown, Lanny Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Aven, Paul Armstrong, Bob Bennett, Ed Bennett, Walt Hansen, W. A. Hawkins, Newlon Roland, Bill Rich, David Willis, Bob Reed and Mr. and Mrs. Glyn Reed.

Study The Grocery Ads For Good Buys In Food

COLLEGE STATION--Supermarkets are featuring a number of good buys at present, so study grocery ads and make shopping lists accordingly, recommends Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

At retail meat counters, look for best beef values on ground beef, short ribs, arm and blade pot roasts, sirloin, T-bone, round steaks and beef liver. Look for more emphasis on marketing the rib and loin cuts during the next several weeks. Consider stew meat for variety in menu planning and to help stretch the budget as well.

Pork values include pork loins, picnics, hams, shoulders, roasts and steaks. Pork supplies are below those of a year ago, however some markets are featuring specials on roll sausage, Boston butt roasts and chops.

Frying chicken continues to represent a good value, and the fryers are weighing about two and a half to three pounds, giving more meat in proportion to the bone. The Grade A large eggs offer food shoppers the most economy and quality for their money.

Plentiful supplies of dairy products are also available, and there's no price change here. Cheese is one of the valuable protein foods and is versatile.

HOSTS CLUB

Mrs. John Rice's home was the scene of the regular meeting of the Good Neighbor Club Tuesday Mar. 2.

The program subject was history of Hart and tri-chem-painting.

Appearing on the program as guest speakers were Rita Bitz of Lubbock and her topic was Tri-Chem Painting and Hazel Merrit of Hart whose subject was the history of Hart.

Ladies attending were Mmes. A. L. Aven, M. L. Aven, G. R. Bennett, Paul Brooks, Homer Hill, Fred Hamm, Percy Hart, Wade Mills, J. D. Murray, W. R. Reed, T. B. Cox, and John Rice.

Bananas highlight most fruit counters, so use them generously while they are available at attractive prices. Several varieties of apples are plentiful. Just appearing on the markets in limited supply are pineapples, rhubarb, strawberries and honeydew melons. Red tart cherries and pears high light the canned goods department.

Best vegetable buys include head lettuce, celery, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, broccoli, green peppers, radishes and green onions. Potatoes are available at relatively higher prices since supplies are down considerably.

Girl Scout Week Slated March 7-13

Hart Girl Scouts will join more than 5,000 girls of the Caprock Girl Scout Council and three and three-quarter million

Girl Scouts throughout the country in celebrating Girl Scout Week from Sunday, March 7, through Saturday, March 13.

Since that first troop of a few girls, more than 20 million members have made the Girl Scout Promise to do their duty to God and country, to help other people at all times, and to obey the Girl Scout Laws of loyalty, honesty, courtesy, cheerfulness, usefulness, kindness, and thrift.

This year, Girl Scouts are paying special attention to the "bridges" which give continuity to their program. The program adapts activities related to the arts, the home, and the out-of-doors, to the changing interests and needs of girls ages 7-17, thus "bridging" the four age levels: Brownie Girl Scouts (ages 7 and 8) to Senior Girl Scouts (ages 15 through 17).

Special days are earmarked throughout Girl Scout Week to illustrate the various aspects of the Girl Scout program. They are: Girl Scout Sunday; Monday Homemaking; Tuesday, Citizenship; Wednesday, Health and Safety; Thursday, International Friendship; Friday, Arts; Saturday, Out-of-doors.

In observance of Girl Scout Sunday March 7, thousands of Girl Scouts are expected to attend religious services in uniforms.

Many schools throughout the West Texas area will join in the celebration of Girl Scout Week.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale March 4-18

All Girl Scouts of the Caprock Council will begin their annual cookie sale on Thursday, March 4, at 4 p.m., Mrs. Dale Grimes of Lubbock, Council cookie chairman, has announced. Scouts will sell cookies in the Council's 18 counties through March 18.

Mrs. Dwight Miller will serve as the neighborhood cookie chairman for Hart.

Goal for this year's cookies sale is 60,000 boxes, or 5,000 cases of Girl Scout Cookies to be sold.

"The success of the cookie sale is vital to the Girl Scout camping program," Mrs. Grimes said. "Local Community Chest and United Fund drives provide support for the operating budget of the Council, but the annual cookie sale provides funds to improve and maintain camps in the Caprock Girl Scout Council."

Chocolate and vanilla sandwich cremes, sugared shortbread, cookie mints, and lemon lime sandwich cookies are the varieties of cookies which the girls will sell for 50 cents per box. Profits from sales are divided between troops and the local council. Each troop retains six cents, while 23 1/2 cents will go to the camps. Cost of cookies are 20 1/2 cent per box. Girls from seventh grade up will be selling peanuts.

Troop profits are used for troop registration, cook-outs, service projects, and other troop activities.

While girls are selling cookies, they will wear their Girl Scout uniforms or pins. They will give each customer a window sticker to indicate purchase.

REDISTRICTING-- Legislators got a sampling of public views on congressional and legislative redistricting during a four-hour public hearing before the House Districts Committee.

As expected, they didn't get much help since every plan advanced met opposition from some quarter.

House committee members heard lengthy testimony on four congressional reapportionment proposals and two bills to realign the state House of Representatives.

Eight more measures remain to be heard. Chairman Gus Mutscher of Brenham said he hopes to set all of them next week and get the job into the hands of sub-committees as the Senate districts committee already has done.

In the Senate, Sen. Ralph Hall of Rockwall is interviewing individual senators on how congressional lines should be redrawn. House sub-committees are moving into their second week of similar contacts with the 150 representatives.

Hart Junior Play Planned

Hart School juniors will present a three-act farce "Pick a Dilly" Tuesday March 30.

Kay, and their 11-year-old prankish brat, Wilbur played by Billy Inscore.

The junior play, written by Jay Tobias, is a mixture of mirth and mystery and uses a 16-member cast.

The dreadful "ha'nt" of Old Betsy, the Horendous Hag portrayed by Verletta Crick, enlivens proceedings as does the escape from a mental hospital of Azariah Coffin, the Mad Mortician played by Oscar Brooks, who starts trying to embalm the live ones.

Young Rod Benedict, played by David Smith, will inherit a fortune from his late uncle, Jason Strong, providing he marries one of three Dilly sisters, April Violet, May Lily or June Rose, played by Charlene Moses, Judy Humphry and Rita Henderson, respectively.

Other characters are June Roses's secret boyfriend, Dick Purcell played by Larry Houston; Rod's sidekick, comic Tex Larebee played by Kenneth Sharp; Thaddeus Bleeker portrayed by Bill Bob Bell, the prim lawyer; Susan Clark portrayed by Judy Graves, the housekeeper; and Purina Hogg played by Donna Daubert, the spook-jittery maid.

Their father was Jason Strong's war buddy. However, if all the girls refuse Rod's proposal, he'll still get most of the fortune. Now Rod does not want to settle down to married bliss until he is at least 30.

Accordingly he disguises himself as an illiterate, boorish, wild-and-wooly cowpoke, there by hoping any and all of the Dilly sisters will refuse to marry him. The girls are horrified at his crude, zany actions, but tearfully promise Opal, their martyr-mamma played by Becky Burress, that the sister Rod chooses to wed will sacrifice herself for the good of the family.

Castro County Cotton
Shows Increase In '64

Castro County's total of 63,950 bales of cotton ginned in 1964 placed the county among one of only seven counties on the High Plains that increased their production over the previous year.

The 23 High Plains counties represented by Plains Cotton Growers and their ginnings, in 500 pound running bales, appear below along with the comparable figures for the 1963 crop.

Castro's increase was high percentage-wise, with 28.7 percent.

Most observers attribute the drop in High Plains production to drouth conditions which prevailed over the area during the growing season. Only six other counties -- Lamb, Floyd, Hale, Deaf Smith, Parmer and Swisher -- were able to show an increase in bales produced.

COUNTY	1964 Ginnings	1963 Ginnings
Bailey	83,402	111,758
Borden	7,000 Est.	10,000 Est.
Briscoe	21,407	25,079
Castro	63,950	49,687
Cochran	62,979	73,294
Crosby	130,018	138,578
Dawson	95,131	150,609
Deaf Smith	11,755	9,433
Dickens	22,324	26,984
Floyd	119,364	112,480
Gaines	61,086	65,561
Garza	13,252	19,371
Hale	211,223	188,082
Hockley	171,287	206,373
Howard	20,605	43,781
Lamb	178,820	165,133
Lubbock	233,879	245,812
Lynn	105,254	155,245
Motley	9,153	16,880
Parmer	52,495	50,346
Swisher	59,086	50,238
Terry	121,164	125,926
Yoakum	37,234	42,060

In the 16 other counties where production went down, Howard with its large dryland acreage had the heaviest percentage loss at 52.9 percent, followed by Dawson with a 36.8 percent drop and Lynn with 32.2 percent.

The preliminary ginning totals, as reported by the U. S. Bureau of Census, show 1,891,686 running bales ginned in the 23 High Plains counties through Jan. 16, 1965. This figure compares with a total of 2,090,740 bales as of the same date last year, a decrease of almost 200,000 bales or about 10 percent.

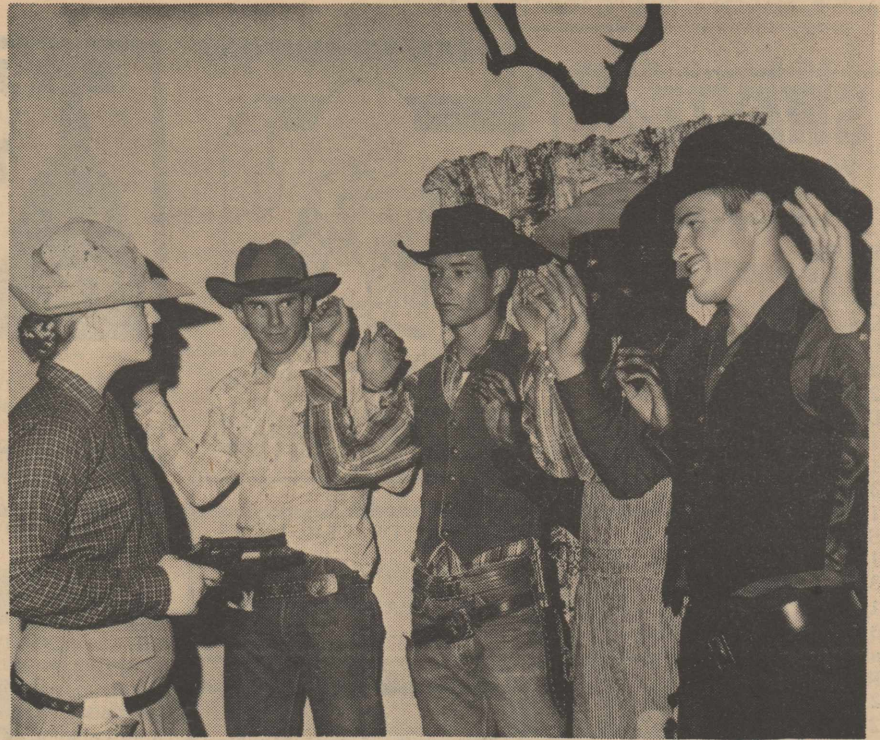

While these are only preliminary 1964 production figures they should be fairly close to final production for the year.

The report also indicates a drop in state production from 4,375,887 to 4,053,000 bales. Latest USDA estimates place total national production at 15,317,000 bales, up slightly from the 15,289,986 bales grown in 1963 and the largest crop since 1953.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN--Gov. John Connally served notice on the U. S. Labor Department he doesn't like its directives that unskilled high school students in War on Poverty program jobs must be paid more than some of their parents make.

Connally, needled by an unnamed Labor Department official, indignantly denied he is scuttling the new Neighborhood Youth Corps job project. But he made clear he won't approve applications of some 23 local school districts for participation in the program until he is sure they know what they are getting into.

NYC offers part-time jobs (10-15 hours a week) around schools and public agencies to youngsters 16-21 who are on the verge of becoming high school dropouts because of financial difficulties. Federal government pays 90 per cent of the cost and local participating units 10 per cent. But next year the cost will be shared 50-50.

Connally spoke out against the Labor Department ruling that students must be paid $1.25 per hour, the federal minimum wage.

The 23 districts, before ruling was announced, proposed to pay rates ranging from 60 cents to $1.20 per hour. Originally, Labor Department had notified the districts wages "should be a little below the prevailing entry rates for inexperienced workers in similar occupations."

The $1.25 order came out after applications were filed. "This action," protested Connally, "would place local school districts in the awkward and unrealistic position of paying inexperienced school age students of underprivileged families a rate of pay for casual chores that in many cases would exceed that of adult employees working in the same facility, the average earnings of their own parents, and the wages he himself might reasonably expect to earn in the days immediately following school."

Furthermore, Connally noted, a directly parallel program for potential dropouts among college students administered by Department of Health, Education and Welfare pays 75 cents an hour upward.

House of Representatives applauded Connally's stand but specified it did not intend to criticize the President or his War on Poverty program.

COORDINATING BOARD APPROVED --- Governor Connally's number one project of the session -- creation of a powerful 18-member coordinating board to supervise all aspects of higher education in Texas -- swept through both houses of the Legislature with the speed of a blue norther.

Legislators who opposed it -- and there were only a few -- had as much chance of stopping it as they would of forestalling a gathering storm.

After being guided through the House by Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria, the bill was picked up by Sen. Bill Moore of Bryan in the Senate, where it went through with out an amendment and was passed on to the governor for signing.

Connally has until Sept. 1 to chose the 18 members of the board. They will replace the Texas Commission on Higher Education and will take on the task of directing all higher education institutions from junior colleges through the university systems.

Board will decide what courses are to be offered by each institution. It was given the most far-reaching authority granted by the Legislature since the Railroad Commission was authorized to grant railroad permits. Present college boards of regents will continue to serve. But they will be responsible to the new overall coordinating board.

Another of the governor's education plans, to replace 12 separate boards of regents which govern the 22 state col-three boards of university systems, had not yet been introduced when the coordinating board plan was adopted.

Some legislators feel that the system board plan may have served to lessen the opposition to the coordinating board particularly among representatives from the colleges whose board would be abolished.

LIQUOR, RACING BILL HEARINGS SET-- Horse racing and "small bottles" liquor bills are expected to turn out some of the biggest crowds at legislative hearings this month.

Bill by Rep. Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville to legalize parimutuel betting on horse races will be heard by House State Affairs Committee on March 29.

Edinburg Sen. Jim Bates' bill to permit sale of two-ounce bottles of liquor by restaurants will get hearing before Senate jurisprudence committee on March 16.

San Antonio Rep. V. E. (Red) Berry has introduced a proposed constitutional amendment of his own to legalize horse racing on a local option basis in Baxar, Cameron, Dallas, Hidalgo, Harris, Galveston, Midland, Tarrant and Webb counties.

Only teacher pay raises attract more mail to lawmakers than parimutuel wagering and liquor-by-the-drink legislation.

This year, there's strong support on, as well as opposition to, both propositions.

PESTICIDE PROTESTED---
A cheap poison used against roaches and rats in many homes and in grain storage bins and warehouses can cause loss of hair and mental disturbances, physicians testified in a House committee hearing. In heavy doses, it can kill a person or leave him mentally incompetent, they said.

Doctors appeared at a public health committee hearing on a bill which would outlaw the sales, use or possession of poisons based on thallium compounds.

They said the poison can take effect upon even very brief exposures and that its symptoms are hard to diagnose.

CITIES ASK SALES TAX--
Spokesmen for cities urged a legislative committee to recommend that cities be given authority to levy local sales taxes up to one per cent if citizens vote approval in special elections.

They said they have gone about as far as they can with raising property taxes and need additional sources of revenue to provide necessary services.

HART, TEXAS

The Texas High Plains region "stuck out like a sore thumb" in a recent report from the U. S. Department of Agriculture on the number of hibernating weevils across seven cotton-belt states. The High Plains area revealed that the number of weevils in hibernation declined by 89.2 percent below the number recorded last year, while all but two of the seven states showed substantial increases.

Other things being equal, the number of weevils hibernating in the Winter gives an indication of the degree to which growing crops will be infested in the Spring. The survey in Louisiana and Tennessee found fewer hibernating weevils, but the Carolinas, Mississippi, Alabama and Texas (over the whole state) yielded increases ranging up to over 850 percent. This phenomenal increase was recorded in four Central Texas counties, a jump from 517 to 4,406 weevils per acre.

The reduction of hibernating weevils in the Plains area just below the Caprock without doubt is the result of the diapause control program carried out last Fall, and the 89.2 percent reduction is in close agreement with estimates made by entomologists evaluating the percentage of kill during spraying. Trash examinations this Winter are also being carried out by the South Plains Research and Extension Center, and preliminary indications are that these weevil counts will also show about a 90 percent reduction in hibernating weevils. And, according to W. L. Owen, APREC associate entomologist, there will also be additional mortality rate between January and the latter part of March of 1963 was about 70 percent, and "we are hoping" for at least this percentage of deaths this year. Owen said.

FARM LABOR DEVELOPMENTS

There is still hope in some quarters that all is not yet lost to farmers in the controversy over whether the Secretary of Labor will permit the importation of supplemental farm workers when citizen labor is not available and willing to do the job.

The National Council of Agricultural Employers, of which Plains Cotton Growers is co-founder and charter member, reports from Washington that on Feb. 18 a group of bipartisan Senators severely criticized the Department of Labor's farm labor policies from the Senate Floor. Chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, Senator Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana opened the debate with a statement reviewing the recent hearings held by his committee. He said the Secretaries of Labor and Agriculture had heavy responsibilities to protect the interest of all concerned, and called on them to "make it plain and certain to growers that if, as, and when, crops that are to be planted become mature for harvest a sufficient number of stoop laborers will be able to come into the country should it be necessary to have those people do the work."

Senator Spessard Holland of Florida, whose constituents this year reportedly have suffered losses for lack of labor to harvest citrus crops, held the Senate floor for over three hours. He said between $4 and $6 million dollars had been lost from insufficient harvest labor and that there is also grave danger of sugar cane losses attributable to the same cause. The Senator termed arguments that Congress intended to end foreign supplemental labor programs as "completely inaccurate, completely false and is shown to be such by the debate (on Public Law 78) in numerous places." Senator Holland expressed sharp disagreement with the Secretary of Labor's assumption of authority to set wages and hours of farm workers, and pointed out that the farm labor problem was one affecting major areas of the country.

Other Senators--Democrats and Republicans alike--from Texas, California, Michigan, Wyoming, Colorado, Ohio, Tennessee, Arizona and Oregon expressed similar criticism of the Secretary of Labor's current farm policies. And, following this lashing from the Senate, a group of House members took the Labor Secretary to task on Feb. 19.

Still, Secretary Wirtz continues to refuse to certify foreign supplemental workers. His view remains that sufficient domestic labor is now and will be available to meet growers' requirements.

On this point, Senator George Smathers of Florida, said: "It appears to me that with the Secretary of Agriculture, who agrees with us on one side, and the Secretary of Labor, who does not agree with us on the other side, the eventual solution of the problem will probably come through our making an appointment, en masse perhaps, with the President of the United States and presenting to him this very real problem insofar as we are concerned, and the very real problem insofar as the cost of living is concerned. It is to be hoped that we shall obtain the relief that is so urgently needed."

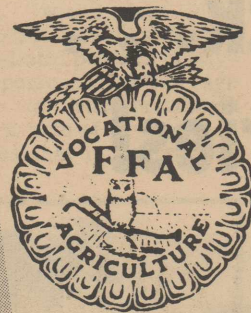

At least the situation is not being allowed to rest, and so long as the fire burns, there is hope the pot will boil.

Plains Cotton Committee Reports From Washington

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Concern over the one-cent per pound cut in the cotton support price for 1965 brought a committee of 10 farmers and businessmen from the South Plains to Washington last week for meetings. The main purpose of the committee's trip was to urge that the one-cent-per-pound cut be restored. The Department of Agriculture has announced the drop of cotton supports from 30 cents a pound, middling-one-inch, in 1964 to 29 cents a pound in 1965.

Congressman George Mahon arranged for the group to have extensive discussions with Vice President Humphrey, Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman Under Secretary of Agriculture Charles Murphy, Representative Bob Poage, vice-chairman of the House Committee on Agriculture, Representative Jamie Whitten, chairman of the subcommittee on Agricultural Appropriations, and other officials.

"I think I have never seen a group from our District receive a better reception from government officials, nor have I ever seen a group do a better job in stating its case," Mahon said after participating in the meetings with the committee.

Officials explained to the group that to eliminate the one-cent cut would cost the government 75 million dollars which had not been included in the President's budget. It was also pointed out by key members of Congress that it would be difficult to secure approval in the House of an additional 75 million dollars for cotton, especially without a request from the Department of Agriculture and the Bureau of the Budget.

Last year's cotton support program required government expenditures in excess of 850 million dollars. Congressman Mahon said that there probably was not a 50-50 chance to get the additional 75 million dollars required for the restoration of the 30-cent support price but he pledged to continue to do everything he could to be of assistance, realizing that the impact of the reduction in the support price last year, plus an additional reduction this year, would make it difficult and in some cases impossible, for farmers to conduct a successful cotton farming operations in 1965.

Mahon stated that there was full agreement on the point that one of the major difficulties confronting cotton farmers is the fact that while the support price on cotton is going down, the cost of production is going up, and the farm labor situation is getting more difficult every year.

While the group came to Washington for the purpose of discussing the one-cent price drop, much time was devoted to discussions of what should be done at this session of Congress about new cotton legislation. Such legislation is required, as the present law expires at the end of this year.

Mahon said that he felt the group did an exceptionally good job in impressing on officials in Washington the urgent necessity for the maintenance of a healthy condition among commercial farmers who produce the great bulk of the food and fiber required by the nation. He pointed out that it is estimated that more than 90 percent of South Plains farmers would be classified as commercial farmers.

An opportunity for Hart area residents to test their aptitudes for Peace Corps service will come at 8:30 a.m., Saturday, March 13, at the Post Office, Room 322, Amarillo.

The opportunity is the Peace Corps Placement Test. It is not passed or failed, but simply indicates where greatest potential lies. The Peace Corps Questionnaire, which must be filled out and brought to the exam unless previously submitted, tells what an applicant has done in the past. But the placement test is aimed at showing what he or she can do in the future. Applicants do not have to register for the test ahead of time.

The Peace Corps Questionnaire can be obtained at all post offices. On college campuses, they are available at college placement centers or the offices of Peace Corps Liaison officers, who are members of the faculty or college administration. They may also be obtained by writing the Peace Corps, Washington, D. C. 20525.

There are two parts to the Peace Corps Placement Test: a general aptitude test and a modern language aptitude test (for which knowledge of a foreign language is not necessary). Applicants should plan on about one and a half hours at the testing center, unless they wish to take the Spanish or French language achievement test, which requires an additional hour.

Test results are used, with the character references and questionnaires, to estimate the applicant's potential for completing the intensive training program and his ability to be an effective volunteer overseas.

Mrs. Tom Vestal, district advisor of Girl Scouts of Plainview, met with the Scout Leaders in Wanda Miller's home. She gave instructions on how to camp out and also a few points on rope lashing.

EDITORIALS

Local Office Seekers

What does it take to run for local office? It takes qualifications, ideas, ability and a willingness to work for election to the City Council or Board of School Trustees, but there are other equally important ingredients.

First, it takes boldness for one to toss his hat in a race. Although it is not disgrace to lose, a person always wants to win. Certainly, he does not wish to go down in defeat unmercifully.

Secondly, it takes a rare kind of courage. The candidate, if successful, cannot flee to Washington, to Austin, or even to the county courthouse in Dimmitt—even if he wants to. He is pledged to live day by day with the problem and needs of his community. In so doing, he remains constantly accessible to his fellow citizens, sometimes for congratulations but more often for criticism.

Thirdly, it takes a person who has friends to spare when he takes office, because he's going to lose many of them as his term wears on.

The latter "ingredient" may be all too valid.

When discussing councilmen's or trustees' handling of situations, we are often prone to forget that our votes did not create "instant experts." The men who offer their contribution, large or small, to the community's well-being are laymen, our neighbors and fellow citizens.

Local government is potentially democracy's showcase. The window dressing should include gratitude for our fellow citizens' willingness to serve us in government closest to home.

Girl Scout Week

A short time ago, the nation observed Boy Scout Week. Next week will be the girl's turn—and they eminently deserve it.

The Girl Scout Week observance will run through the March 7-13 period, with the purpose of celebrating the founding of the movement in this country.

It began in Savannah, Georgia, March 12, 1912. In the ensuing years, it has grown steadily and made an ever more important contribution to the basic strength and character of this country. The Girl Scouts of today will be the wives, mothers, homemakers and career women of tomorrow. And the moral spiritual and practical values that come from Scouting will serve them well all their lives.

It's interesting to note that Girl Scout experience refutes those critics who say that the modern girl is losing her taste for domesticity.

In the past year, nearly one million Scouts -- Juniors and Cadettes -- chose to work on badges for demonstrated skills in homemaking. The largest number of Juniors--ages 9, 10 and 11--picked the "Cook" badge out of 47 badges offered in a wide variety of subjects. The Cadettes--12, 13 and 14 years old--can choose from some 60 badges, but more "Hostess" badges were earned than any other.

Woman's role in the world has broadened enormously over the generations, but the traditional feminine interests and aptitudes remain.

The Girl Scouts are a major force in developing and perfecting them.
