Uneasy Payments

(Editor's note: The following article was submitted to The Hart Beat by Mrs. Willis Hawkins Sr.)

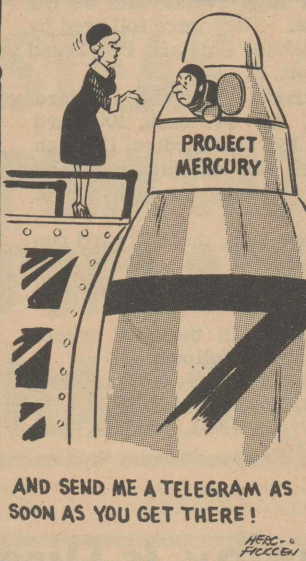

There is probably no greater source of mental distress than the anxiety caused by the common practice of trying to live beyond one's income. It is impossible to be happy or have any peace of mind when we are constantly faced with financial obligations that we cannot meet. Our misery increases with the realization that such obligations are creations of our own vanity and foolishness. When our payments become uneasy payments we are unable to fully enjoy the thing we have bought.

It is impossible to enjoy driving a car when there is little possibility of making the next payment. What pleasure is there in using a piece of furniture when the monthly payment is overdue? Many people exchange their potential peace of mind for the things they buy on the installment plan. They do so when they buy more than they can easily pay for. There is nothing wrong with installment buying so long as the obligation can be met in easy payments, but when the obligation is beyond our income and we are constantly faced with uneasy payments we have thrown away most of the joy and happiness that we might otherwise experience.

Considering the general situation, someone said that the world's greatest humorist was the man who named them "easy payments."

When we make obligations that require uneasy payments we have made an uneasy life.

E. E. Martins Home From Trip

The E. E. Martins returned Sunday from a 10-week trip touring and fishing through New Mexico, Arizona into the Salton Sea area of California, returning to Port Aransas by route of the coastal bend of Texas.

Some points of interest they reported included Marencia, Ariz., a copper mining town that has produced copper for the last century; Tombstone, Ariz., once a silver bonanza and now a town of priceless treasures of American heritage patiently and carefully restored to a natural state of splendor; Yuma, Territorial Prison, preserved in all its "gruesome" array of corrections.

The Martins particularly enjoyed the Texas Big Bend National Park, which they described thus:

"...where nature mixed a wild desert and lush Chisas Mountains, where Rangers are applying conservation practices that overgrazing and farming ravaged in the past, edged by the Rio Grande River still busy carving a national boundary."

Use Of Water On Grain Discussed By Agronomist

BY W. F. "BILL" BENNETT AGRONOMIST

Water use efficiency definitely can be increased by proper fertilizer use. This is pointed out in a recent release prepared by The Texas A&M South Plains Research & Extension Center at Lubbock. Researchers from this station conducted an experiment on an Amarillo fine sandy loam on grain sorghum and calculated pounds of grain produced per acre inch of water under various fertility rates.

Grain sorghum receiving no fertilizer produced 150# grain for each acre inch of water. An application of 80# nitrogen produced 164# grain per acre inch which is an increase of nine percent in water use efficiency over the check. At the 120# nitrogen rate, 181# grain were produced per acre inch of water or an increase in water use efficiency of 20 per cent over the check.

The most significant increase in water use efficiency was produced when the fertilizer program was properly balanced with phosphorus. An application of 80-40-0 for example, produced 214# grain per acre inch of water. This is a 43 percent increase in water use efficiency when compared to the check.

Water use efficiency figures can often be misunderstood. The application of fertilizer will not decrease the need for water, instead, it will give you better use and more production out of the water which is applied.

Yield increases attributed to fertilizer in this test can be compared to the increases in water use efficiency since fertility combinations that increased grain yield also increased water use efficiency. The check with no fertilizer yielded 4385# grain per acre. The 80# nitrogen rate produced 4701# per acre with the 120# nitrogen rate producing 1581 pounds grain per acre. The addition of the phosphorus in the 80-40-0 rate produced 6135 pounds of grain per acre.

These yields and water use efficiency figures provide a good illustration of the importance of nutrient balance.

COTTON TALKS

LUBBOCK--Speakers at the recent American Textile Manufacturers Institute Convention in Florida almost without exception made statements of prime, direct interest to market-minded cotton producers.

In the opening session William E. Reid, president of Reigel Textile Corporation and president of ATMI, gave "the multi-fiber mind of today's textile industry" as one of the cornerstones in the foundation of a "resurgent and prosperous textile industry." He said that as a multi-fiber industry textile manufacturers can no longer afford to think solely in terms of any one fiber, and; "therefore with respect to cotton situation which has been very much in our thoughts lately, let me say very simply that we have one-price cotton and it must be retained. If cotton marketing is returned to a two-price system," he continued, "my considered judgment is that cotton will have committed suicide. We shall have no alternative except to turn away from it as rapidly as possible."

W. J. Holman, treasurer of Johnson and Johnson of New Brunswick, New Jersey said: "The leaders of the cotton-growing industry are beginning to realize that our own mills constitute their principal market; that cotton is grown to be spun and not to be put into the loan, and that a growing, thriving domestic textile industry is their best hope for the future. As a result," Holman said, "they are beginning to take a somewhat different attitude toward the price of cotton."

The most somber note from the cotton producers standpoint was inject by a spokesman for E. I. DuPont de Nemours & Company, who forecasted booming production and use of synthetic fibers in textiles. The speaker, Ford B. Draper, General Director, Marketing Division, Textile Fibers Department of duPont, made his point by citing a 63 percent increase in man-made fiber production from 1960 to 1964; a growing proportion of man-made fibers and filament yarns in knitting and weaving production; and "a massive and dynamic technology" that has created desirable "newness" in textile markets. Pointing to trend projections which show man-made fibers providing 52.5 percent of the pounds of fibers consumed by the industry by 1975, Draper said: "We in the industry believe these penetration claims to be modest. Such levels may be attained well before 1975."

In another address somewhat on the brighter side, James B. Mayer, executive vice-president of Producers Cotton Oil Company, Fresno, Calif. predicted that competitively priced, consumer-oriented cotton will continue to have the leading role in the textile world of the future. He said the national interest demands policies which will permit cotton to continue employing millions of persons and generating billions of dollars while retaining its traditional position as the greatest earner of foreign exchange for America. Mayer admitted that there would be a period of adjustment within the raw cotton industry, and said that the future accent would be on efficiency which will enable cotton to compete successfully. "We have a potential for reducing cotton costs by at least 11 cents a pound and we are working hard on that potential," he states, and went on to say: "We are going to get cotton to the door of your mills at a competitive price and we are going to make a profit doing it."

August 21, prior to the beginning of the High Plains cotton harvest, the maximum permissible gross weight of farm trailers used to transport cotton from field to gin will be increased from 10,000 to 15,000 pounds. The act bringing about this weight increase has now been signed into law by Gov. Connally and should prove of substantial benefit to High Plains farmers during the 1965 harvest season. Available strippers in this area (21,014) can gather our crop approximately four times as fast as gins can gin it, and passage of this bill will promote maximum use of trailers for needed storage on gin yards.

The bill was introduced into Texas Legislature by Representative Ralph Wayne of Plainview and vigorously supported by Texas Independent Ginners, Texas Cotton Ginners, Plains Cotton Growers and other interested organizations.

The Legislative Committee of Plains Cotton Growers, composed of members from each of six High Plains districts, meets April 9 to face the task of developing a legislative policy for recommendation to the organization's board of directors, PCG officials note that differences of opinion on the vital subject of cotton legislation are wider and more numerous this year than ever before. They stress, however, that the policy stand taken by PCG will be one with maximum support from High Plains producers and which will have maximum influence on the eventual passage of a satisfactory cotton bill.

Chairman of the legislative committee is W. L. Edelson, of Friona. Other members include vice-chairman W. T. (Bill) Millen, Muleshoe; Ed Dawson, Dimmitt; Gene Leach, Dimmitt; W. C. Thompson, Shallowater; J. D. Smith, Littlefield; Frnak Moore, Plainview; L. D. STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

You probably didn't know it, but 291 holidays will be celebrated in Texas in the coming six months.

Most of the holidays aren't statewide observances. But Monday's June 18 Vegetable Festival, the May 7 Panola County Queen Pageant, Boerne's April 24 Saengerfest, and Raymondville's April 15 Onion Fiesta are in the offing, as well as 287 other local celebrations.

In order to help Texans and tourists keep track, and plan their travels accordingly, the State Highway Department has published a Texas Calendar of Events. It covers the period from April 1 through Sept.

For the first time, the Highway Department also issued a calendar in Spanish, to serve "a remarkable surge" of tourists from South of the border.

provide over $85,000,000 to Texas schools next year.

Conferees, wrestling with the problem of how to balance the books, or recommend new taxes, hope to figure some way that federal funds can be used to reduce pressure on state money.

Medicare offers some complex questions as to how much money the state must provide in matching funds to meet federal program requirements.

With new federal programs springing up in all areas, veteran Texas lawmakers are looking toward annual sessions of the Texas Legislature. They say the state's antiquated system of biennial budgeting soon must yield to one-year financing and annual sessions if Texas is to keep in line with congressional operations.

FEDERAL DOLLARS FLOW

Legislative budget writers, nearing the end of a long trail, are confronted with a new problem. Question is how to anticipate the effect on state finances of an unprecedented flood of federal dollars flowing into a variety of programs.

Some think a special session of the Legislature may be necessary, after final congressional action, in order to tie down overlooked matching-fund requirements.

Two proposed federal programs are perplexing the appropriations bill conferees:

1. Medicare--hospitalization and health care for the aged, blind, disabled and children--now on public assistance rolls.

2. The elementary and secondary education act which passed the House of Representatives in Congress. It would

WATER PLANS MOVE

Senate passed and sent to the House key water proposals recommended by Gov. Connally.

One would make the Texas Water Development Board, a six-member agency, the state's official water planning agency.

Another would authorize $200,000,000 in additional bonds for construction or purchase of water storage facilities. Earlier the Senate passed a measure giving the Texas Water Commission a new name--the Water Rights Commission-- and authority to decide water rights and conflicting claims.

ENLARGE SENATE MEMBERSHIP

Senators saw bugs in the plan they passed earlier to enlarge their membership from 31 to 39, guaranteeing all but five incumbents terms extended through next year's elections.

So, Sen Louis Crump of San Saba introduced a new version which would require all Senators to run for re-election in 1966 if they want to keep their jobs. New measure quickly won committee approval.

Increasing terms from four to six years still is a feature of the "big senate" plan. If approved by the Legislature, it will go to voters July 24. Senators think it will be a relatively painless way out of re-districting for them.

A Senate bill to legalize variances of 15 percent over and under the mathematical population average for House and Senate districts also received committee approval. This despite warnings that federal courts, which ordered districts of equal population, might disapprove.

HORSES STOPPED AT THE GATE

After the longest committee hearing thus far this session, the bill by Rep. Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville to legalize parimutuel bets on horse races in counties which approved by local option was sent to a subcommittee.

Whether it is reported out of the subcommittee depends on how many votes Pipkin thinks he can garner on the House floor. Right now, the odds are that the bill would be defeated in the House by about 2-to-1.

If no better results can be expected, Pipkin will ask the subcommittee to kill the bill quietly for this session by not reporting it out.

Texas Racing Association, which has been trying to "educate" Texans on horse racing, says it will be around for another try.

At a public hearing the association presented a series of "expert witnesses" on horse racing as a sport and also as a money-raiser both for the general economy and for the local and state tax coffers. It emphasized the impetus horse racing reportedly gives to agriculture and argued that parimutuel betting is not so much betting as it's a test of knowledge and skill in selecting a winning horse.

Opponents of the bill attacked it on moral grounds, saying horse-race betting would attract undesirable persons and would weaken the moral fiber of Texas society.

AG OPINIONS

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has held that a county clerk has no authority to issue a duplicate marriage license unless the license he issued was returned and recorded by him. Ruling was given in answer to a request by Gillespie County Attorney Richard Hoerster.

Carr also ruled that nothing in the State's laws prohibits the operation of a mobil barber shop.

GROCERS FIGHT LABELING

Texas retail grocers raised strong objections at the public hearing for Rep. A. C. Atwood's bill to require labeling of imported citrus fruit, dating original packing of fruits or vegetables and marking "cold storage" any bin in which produce has been under refrigeration as long as 60 days.

Atwood and Bob Lilly of the (Rio Grande) Valley Farm Bureau told the committee that the bill is intended to help build consumer acceptance of fresh Texas fruits and vegetables over cold-storage and imported products.

Grocers argued that the provisions of the bill would be a nuisance and serve no useful purpose.

EARLY CLOSING ADVANCED

House passed to the Senate a bill which would require liquor stores to close at 8 p.m., but would let hotels and motels deliver liquor to guest rooms until 10 p.m., the present closing time for liquor sales.

Bill was fought by representatives from the larger cities. Its author, Rep. L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi, successfully staved off a series of proposed amendments.

PUBLIC NOTICE

In an interview with County Judge Raymond E. Wilson, Paul Hilburn, Superintendent of Schools and Kent Birdwell, Tax Assessor-Collector of Castro County, the following questions were propounded concerning the upcoming bond election for construction of an Agricultural Building:

Question to Judge Wilson:

If the bond issue is voted, will it be necessary to increase our taxes to pay these bonds?

Answer: Yes.

Based on a 20-year repayment schedule paying interest at about 3 1/2%, how much interest will we pay?

Answer: Approximately $45,000.00.

Then our total indebtedness will be about $165,000.00, right?

Answer: Yes.

Question to Kent Birdwell:

How much will this raise our taxes?

Answer: Based on a 20-year repayment schedule we would have to raise our taxes approximately 7 1/2%, or about $18,368.44 per year.

Question to Kent Birdwell: But we only need about $8250.00 per year to pay these bonds. Why do we have to raise our taxes $18,368.44 per year?

Answer: Because the county is already assessing the maximum rate of 95c per $100.00 of valuation. So we will have to raise our valuation by the 7 1/2%, thereby raising all the different taxes collected on the State and County tax rolls. This includes the State taxes, Water District taxes, Hospital District taxes, and the County Road taxes.

Question: Based on an annual payment of $18,368.44 per year for 20 years what will the total expenditure be?

Answer: $367,368.80.

Question to Paul Hilburn, Dimmitt Supt. of Schools:

Will the raising of the County Valuation affect any other taxes paid here in our county?

Answer: Yes, one of the factors that determine the local fund assignment to the local school districts of the State is the State and County valuation. When our county valuation is increased a million dollars it increases local fund assignments approximately $6400.00 per year. Over a 20 year period this would mean an additional cost to the local school districts of $128,000.00.

Question: Gentlemen, based on the total estimated costs to the State and County and to local school districts what will be the total cost of the bond issue?

Answer: $495,368.80.
