Cotton Vote Is Tuesday

Just what a "yes" or "no" vote will mean in the Nov. 23 referendum on upland cotton marketing quotas was explained recently by the agriculture Stabilization and Conservation service.

All farmers who engaged in the production of upland cotton in 1965 are eligible to vote in the referendum.

Basic program choices are:

1. If at least two-thirds of the growers who vote in the referendum approve of quotas, the quotas will be in effect for the 1966 upland cotton crop, and marketing penalties will apply to any excess cotton produced on a farm. A broad program will be available to farmers who reduce their cotton acreage at least 12.5 percent below the effective farm allotment, put the diverted acres into a conserving use, and meet other provisions. Benefits will include loans, and tion program may apply for a share of the export market acreage reserve and produce for export only, without government subsidy or marketing quota penalties.

2. On the other hand, is more than one-third of the growers who vote oppose the quotas, then there will be no quotas and no penalties applicable to the 1966 upland cotton crop, no "domestic allotment" program providing price-support and diversion payments, and no export market acreage reserve. Price support to farmers who do not exceed their acreage allotments will be available at 50 percent of parity, as directed by law. Acreage allotments will remain in effect as a means of determining eligibility for the available price support.

Lease or sale of the cotton allotments is provided under certain conditions, and the Nov. 23 referendum will also decide whether growers wish to permit such transfers outside the particular county but within the price-support and diversion payments. Growers who elect not to participate in the reduc-

State. The outcome of the marketing quota referendum, however, will have no effect on the lease or sale of allotments.

The secretary of Agriculture is directed by law to proclaim quotas for the next crop when the total upland cotton supply exceeds normal, but it is the growers themselves who decide whether or not quotas shall be used.

Marketing quotas for the 1965 upland cotton crop were approved by 96.2 percent of the growers voting.

Hart Lions To Sponsor Trap Shoot

Hart Lions Club will sponsor a trap shoot Sunday Nov. 21 starting at 1 p.m. at the Edmonson Trap grounds, according to Lion Boss DeWayne Brown.

The Edmonson grounds are located six miles east of Hart on the Plainview Highway and four miles south.

Prizes will be hams and turkeys. Concessions and ammunition will be available at the shoot.

The public is invited.

Student Council Named At HHS

Hart High School recently elected a student council.

Goals of the group are "to create and maintain a wholesome understanding and co-operation between the members of the student body and the faculty, and to foster an interest in school work, school spirit and school pride."

The idea for the council came from High School Principal H. L. Cheatham.

Retta Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Henderson, was selected by school officials to act as president for the organization.

Doug Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Martin, was named vice-president, and Lynda Shive, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Shive was picked to act as secretary-treasurer for the group.

Council members from each class are juniors Cheryl Newman and Jerry Smith, sophomore David A. Harris and freshmen June Leonard and Gary Rambo.

Regular election of officers and representatives has been scheduled for April.

It really doesn't seem like fall when the days are so warm. When it turns cold we will probably notice it so much more than usual. This next week is Thanksgiving and we do hope you all have a wonderful day. Let's give our children the things to remember about Thanksgiving that we remember when we were a child. The most important things we give our children are their memories of happy times and special holidays.

FARM AND RANCH SERVICES

Box 202

Canyon, Texas

Mr. Landowner:

The farm program passed by the 89th Congress, among its many provisions, permits the sale or lease of cotton allotment acreage across county boundaries under certain conditions.

S & H Farm and Ranch Services, basically an organization interested in farm and ranch sales and loans, offers a service in connection with the sale/lease or purchase/lease of cotton allotments.

This service will operate on the same "ask and bid" principle as used by Merrill Lynch-Pierce-Fenner & Smith, Inc. in "over-the-counter" sale of stocks and bonds.

We will be ready to service and close transactions immediately after the referendum, required by the Act of Congress, passes in this county.

Your local representative, whose signature appears below, can explain the mechanics of this service we offer to you.

Vote and be prepared to act the day after the referendum passes in your county.

LONGHORNS FA

Hart's football game with the Happy Cowboys Friday night started out as a contest, but quickly turned into a rout.

And the Longhorns saw their hopes for at least one win for the season speed out of range on the heels of two complete sets of Cowboy backs.

The Happy crew lived up to its name, merrily scoring from every spot on the field, to roll up a 66-6 win.

The Cowboys rolled up a tremendous 632 yards and gathered in another 115 in kickoff and punt returns.

And tucked neatly in all that yardage were 10 touchdowns and six conversion points, the worst licking dealt to the Horns all season.

The lone Hart tally came on a four-yard plunge through the line by Doug Martin with only 40 seconds left in the contest.

Both clubs were almost identical in the number of plays unreeled, with the Hart squad getting off 64 tries, and the Happy group 62.

But the difference was the fact that the Cowboys crossed the goalline for either a touchdown or an extra point on just slightly more than every fourth play.

Gary Culp was the mainthorn in the often pricked Longhorn side. Operating from both the halfback and quarterback slots, the big senior ran for three touchdowns, passed for two more, and kicked two extra points.

Further disaster was avoided when clipping penalties called back two other Cowboy TD's.

The game started off on a fair note of optimism for Hart fans when the Cowboys stalled on their own 36-yard line, a yard shy of a first down.

But that was almost the last time the Cowboys failed to score when they touched their hands to the pighide.

The Longhorns had equally hard luck on their first drive and the Cowboys took over on their own 47, after Culp returned the punt 18 yards.

On the first play of the series, Culp advanced the ball to the Hart 26, and halfback Mark Maynard slid off left tackle for the first score of the long night.

Fullback Randy Johnson didn't quite make it on the conversion run, but the Cowboys were off and running.

Hart once more couldn't move the ball, and once again it took Happy but two plays to cross the goal stripe.

Culp returned the punt to the Hart 43, and Gary Rambo broke through the Happy line to drop Johnson for no gain.

This time it was Curtis Fowler's turn, and he picked up the 43 yards needed without a scratch. On the extra try, Johnson fumbled the ball while holding for Culp's kick, and couldn't get away before being stopped.

Happy kicked off from their own 25, the penalty coming for a foul committed after the touchdown was scored.

But it made no difference. David Brooks bobbled the kick-off boot at his own 40, and Richard Todd pounced on the loose ball to once again give the Cowboys the ball.

Doug Martin made up for the bobble on the next play, when he intercepted Johnson's aerial on his own 11.

Same story once again. Hart punted to the Hart 45, and a clipping penalty moved the ball back to the Happy 40.

But a short time later, Johnson lateraled to Culp, who found Todd waiting in the end zone for the third Cowboy score of the period.

Culp's kick of the extra met with no success, but the Cowboys didn't appear to be unsettled by the failure.

A penalty on the next Hart punt gave them their first first down of the game, and the Longhorns promptly marched for another before the drive ended on the Cowboy 30.

At that point, end Bill Vernon intercepted a Martin pass and took it all the way to the Hart 25.

The Cowboys managed to drive to the Hart five before a

On the next series, the Hart squad at last seemed as if it would click offensively, but a fumble on the Happy 45 ended any hopes. A penalty and two successive losses dropped Happy back to their own 26, but Culp was once again on the scene. On fourth down, Culp pulled a Hart trick out of the bag, and waltzed 74 yards for the eighth Cowboy tally on a fake kick and run. This time Don Maynard ran the extras, and it was 52-0 with 10:59 left in the final frame. Huston's kick went to the Cowboy 10 after another drive had failed to materialize and Culp took it to the Cowboy 32. From there Don Maynard passed to Mark Maynard at the Hart 40, and from there M. Maynard took it the rest of the way. This time freshman Bobby Lee got into the scoring act by running the two extras. The Happy squad got their final tally when a Happy defender pounced on a Hart fumble at the Cowboy 34. Four plays later Mark Maynard ran 48 yards for a tally, but it was called back. Then, on the next play, Don Maynard passed to Culp who ran it in for the final touchdown. Don Maynard's pass for the extras failed. Hart's final chance for a score turned out to be the series of downs in which they finally managed to cross the goal stripe. Culp kicked off to the Hart 15, where McKay took the ball and advanced it to the 39. McKay once again drew ball carrying chores and moved the ball nine more yards. Then Joe Quiroz took it to the Cowboy 49 for the first down. David Brooks inched the ball to the Happy 46, and it was McKay who picked up another first down by taking the ball to the Cowboy 31. Then Martin took the ball in to the Happy 23, and McKay once again drove to the 18 for another first. A Martin to McKay pass took the Longhorns to the Cowboy 11, and Martin picked up the first this time with a five-yard pick-up. From there McKay advanced the ball two more yards and Martin took it in for the score. George Edd Bennett failed to make the goalstripe on the extra attempt. An onside kick by McKay took a Happy bounce and ended up on the Hart 37. Fowler was thrown for a three-yard loss, however, and time ran out before the next play could get underway. The loss ended one of the worst seasons ever for the Hart squad, and injuries left the school almost without a team before the season ended. The Horns went into the game with only 17 players on the traveling squad, and two more were disabled during the final contest. The nearest the Horns came to a win was against Turkey early in the season, when the Turks downed the Hart squad 22-6.
