STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

AUSTIN, Tex. -- Texas has some 615,000 new voters as a result of the March 3-17 free registration period.

Turnout was six times larger than state officials had predicted and could be an indicator of a dawning new era in Texas politics.

More than half the total came from four big counties -- Harris with an estimated 100,000; Dallas with 96,017; Bexar with 88,100 and Tarrant with 50,662.

Gubernatorial candidate Stanley C. Woods and two members of the State Democratic Executive Committee are attempting to intervene in the federal court action resulting from the poll tax suit and force reopening of the registration period. They are urging the court to allow registration up until 30 days before each election.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr is strongly opposing the motion -- arguing that all Texans interested in voting this year had amply opportunity to sign up during the 15-day period provided by the Legislature.

Federal judges have promised a decision -- after they review evidence -- on whether the period should be lengthened.

Carr has submitted a 7,500 page report (including 3,500 newspaper articles from 500 Texas newspapers) to support his claim that everybody who wants to vote got a chance to qualify.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Neighbor:

Thousands of non-paid volunteers throughout the nation are giving of their time and energy to the campaign to defeat and control cancer by educating the public and by donating their money to the research so necessary to help eradicate this dread disease.

The results have been startling: some types of cancer have been detected so early that a neglected case is a rarity. People are coming in earlier for diagnosis and treatment.

This year's campaign will begin April 11 and continue through April 20. Will you help our crusade and our fellow human beings?

Cancer Board Committee of Hart Area

Dear Hart Beat,

I would like to thank you in buying my pig and supporting the Hart FFA like you did. Thanks a lot for buying my pig and what you did for all of the boys in FFA.

Yours truly,

INCOME TAX

Last mailing at the Hart post office for income tax forms will be April 15 at 4 p.m.

FEDERAL FUNDS

Texans hope to have eight new programs approved by the federal government by April 1 to launch a venture to promote technical services for business and industry.

Under the State Technical Services Act of 1965, programs approved by the U. S. Department of Commerce would make available new scientific and technological discoveries to inquiring businesses, industries and commercial enterprises.

Texas now is seeking $144,000 for the last quarter of this year to get the requested programs started at Texas Woman's University, University of Texas, Texas A & M University and Southern Methodist University.

Federal funds fully support these planning programs.

These eight fields have been suggested in proposals submitted to the Commerce Department:

Texas A & M -- Training formation specialists, chemical engineer workshop; electronic corporation managers, primary metal industry and petroleum industry workshops.

University of Texas -- Continuing education for engineers.

Southern Methodist -- Technical information services, North Texas.

Texas Woman's University -- Activation analysis workshop.

DRAFT QUOTA DOWN

Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service director, says 979 men will be called to fill the April draft quota. This is the lowest call since August, 1965.

Monthly calls in the period from September through March ranged from a low of 1,068 to a high of 1,523.

Pre-induction physical and mental examinations will be given to 3,005 men during April. This also is a reduction from March, when 5,515 were tested.

During the same period, he said men classified as students rose from 85,000 to 104,000. At the end of January, there were 106,000 men classified in 2-S as students.

VERNON CENTER LAUDED

A model demonstration center for aged, to be located at Vernon "will be finest of its kind in the nation," says Gov. Connally.

According to the governor, the center will include facilities for all phases of geriatric care. It will provide cottage type units for ambulatory patients and a pre-admission unit to screen elderly persons considered for admission.

Center will place patients in community rest homes, nursing homes and convalescent centers in which they would receive proper care.

Hope you all have a happy Easter holiday. The Easter vacation is a break in the long last semester of school which everyone enjoys.

Ham is the traditional meat for Easter and here is a nice way to fix it for a small family.

FRUIT-CROWNED HAM STEAK

1 slice ready-to-eat ham (about 1 lb)
1 can (1 lb) peach halves
Whole cloves
4 slices pineapple

Drain syrup from peaches into a cup; stud 4 of the peach halves with whole cloves. (Save remaining peaches for dessert another day.)

Arrange peach halves and pineapple slices around ham. Stir mustard into peach syrup; pour over ham and fruits.

Bake in moderate oven (350) basting several times with syrup in dish, 1 hour, or until ham and fruits are lightly glazed. To serve, cut ham into 4 even-size pieces; top each with a peach half and pineapple slice cut and twisted, on serving plates. Garnish with water cress, if you wish. Weight-watcher's serving: 1/4 of the ham, 1/2 peach, and 1 slice pineapple.

Here is another meat dish you might use while you are entertaining friends and family:

Senator Hightower Seeks Re-Election

State Senator Jack Hightower of Vernon today formally announced his candidacy in the Democratic Primary for re-election to a second term in the Texas Senate. He seeks election in the new 30th Senatorial District which includes Lamb County and Castro County.

Senator Hightower, 39, was the choice of a wide margin of voters in 1964 to succeed the well-known Sen. George "Cotton" Moffett of Chillicothe, longtime agricultural leader.

During his first term in the Senate, Sen. Hightower became well-known as an effective and dedicated legislator. He has achieved the enviable record of appointment as chairman of an important committee and a member of twelve of the Senate's committees, some of the most important of which are: Water and Conservation; Finance; State Affairs; Counties; Cities and Towns; and Agriculture and Livestock. He has been named by the Lieutenant Governor to two interim committees to make studies of the Texas Election Laws and the needs of the Nursing Profession in Texas. The findings and recommendations of these committees will be made to the next legislature.

Senator Hightower's distinguished service earned his appointment by Governor Connally as a delegate to the Southern Regional Education Board Conference on Higher Education. His effectiveness has been fully demonstrated in his support of important legislative measures concerning water and soil conservation, education, law enforcement, water and air pollution, health, etc.

Senator Hightower has an impressive record of public service. He served two years in the Texas House of Representatives and seven years as District Attorney. In 1957 he was appointed by the Governor to the Texas Law Enforcement Study Commission, and at the time of his election to the Texas Senate, was vice-chairman of the Board or Regents of Midwestern University.

A native of Memphis, Texas, where his mother, Mrs. Walter Hightower, still resides, Sen. Hightower moved to Vernon in 1951 to begin the practice of law upon his graduation from Baylor University. He served in the U. S. Navy during World War II.

He is a leader in civic, religious and fraternal affairs on the local and state level. His wife, the former Colleen Ward, is a native of Tulia, Texas, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ward of that city. They have three daughters, Ann, 13, Amy 9, and Alison, 6.

The recent Supreme Court decision concerning redistricting caused a major rearrangement of Senatorial Districts in West Texas. The new 30th district now contains 90 thousand voters, approximately 60 per cent of whom live in that part of the new district heretofore represented by Senator Hightower and approximately 40 per cent live in that part of the district heretofore represented by another Senator.

"In order to properly represent the people a Senator should know them, their problems and their needs. I have been privileged to know many people all over the wide area that is now the 30th District I hope to become better acquainted with many hundreds more during this campaign. My promise is to serve you sincerely," Senator Hightower said. (Pd. Pol. Adv.)

COTTON TALKS

The final tabulation of cotton production from the 23 Texas High Plains counties represented by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., came to 2,205,097 running bales in 1965. This is the third largest crop on record for the area and is over 300,000 bales above the 1,899,351 bale total for 1964.

The figures were compiled by PCG from the U.S. Bureau of Census report on state and county ginnings for the 1965 crop. The last 1965 estimate of High Plains production, issued jointly by the Lubbock Cotton Exchange and Plains Cotton Growers last Dec. 1, was 2,273,000 bales - slightly over three percent above actual production.

The 1965 output on the Plains was exceeded only in 1961 and 1962, when totals were 2,344,803 and 2,328,293 bales respectively. And it again enables the Plains to boast higher production than any other entire state excepting Texas itself. This was not true in 1964, when the state of Mississippi turned out 2,223,221 bales, about 300,000 bales above High Plains production for that year. But Mississippi dropped to just over 2,010,000 bales in 1965, and no other state has even been close in recent years.

The prolific High Plains area accounted for 14.79 percent or about one-seventh of the 14,912,461 bale total U. S. production, and 47.62 percent, almost one-half, of the 4,630,181 bales grown in Texas.

Lubbock County again lead all High Plains counties with 271,943 bales, and was the fifth largest producer in the nation behind California's Fresno and Kern counties, each with over 400,000 bales, and Maricopa and Pinal counties in Arizona, with 304,753 and 277,141 bales respectively. Other High Plains counties ranking in the nation's top 10 were Hale, eighth, and Hockley, tenth.

Joining Lubbock County to lead all Texas counties in cotton production were Hale (216,475), Hockley (199,288), Lamb (193,141) and Lynn (185,619). These were followed in Texas by Hidalgo County which turned out 169,739 bales. Castro County had 54,868.

The air is rife with speculation as to how much production will drop in the nation and on the High Plains under the new cotton law effective this year. This law calls for a mandatory acreage cut of 12 and one half percent on all farms and gives farmers the option of reducing cotton plantings by 25 or 35 percent with strong payment incentives offered those electing the larger cuts.

Friday, April 1, was the last day for farmers to "sign-up" with county ASCS offices to indicate their planting intentions, and the extent of acreage reduction on the Plains won't be known for some time after that. But preliminary reports show a high percentage of farmers, both on the Plains and elsewhere, taking the maximum 35 percent reduction.

So it is probably safe to say that this area has seen its last 2 million bale crop, at least for the four years of this program.

Three cotton spinning mills in LaPaz, Bolivia and possibly three more in Santiago, Chile may soon be filling all of their cotton import needs from the U. S. and much of them from cotton grown on the High Plains.

This is the opinion of James S. Parker, textile consultant for MISS CARTER congratulated on winning Lions Queen Title.

Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. Fiber and spinning tests have been run and cotton samples mailed to the Bolivia mills through PCG's free textile consulting service, and Parker will spend a week or 10 days working personally with the mills beginning April 4.

The director of yarn production for the Bolivia mills first began considering the use of High Plains cotton as the result of PCG's advertisement offering free fiber and spinning tests. Then, satisfied with test results and impressed with the cotton samples supplied, he asked Parker to visit his mills and work with him toward a possible switch from the cottons he is now using.

Cotton Council International, though an agreement with the Foreign Agriculture Service and using P. L. 480 foreign currency funds, will pay the expense of Parker's trip. PCG has the only program of technical assistance with individual mills to promote the use of cotton. Previously this work has been done with personal visits only in the case of U.S. mills, but PCG is attempting to extend this personal contact work to foreign mills. Parker believes there is perhaps an even greater market-building potential for High Plains cotton in foreign mills than in the U.S.

A meeting of the three main committees directing the PCG boll weevil control program has been scheduled at the Johnson House, Lubbock April 14 at 9:30 a.m.

Spraying in the fall of 1966 will complete the initial three-year phase of the program, and committee members will lay plans for that operation as well as look at the need and possibilities for control action after that spraying is completed.

Attending will be the areawide committee, made up of one member from each of PCG's 23 High Plains counties; the steering committee, with 17 members farming in the weevil control zone, and the technical advisory committee which includes the nation's top private and government entomologists.

Gardeners Given Safety Tips

With the return of warm spring days, millions of home gardeners once again are getting out to spade beds, plant seed, spread fertilizer, mow grass - and the other countless chores attendant to keeping the lawn neat and attractive.

Your doctor recommends gardening as excellent therapy, for both body and mind. For those who enjoy digging in the dirt, gardening offers good exercise, fresh air and sunshine after a winter of being cooped up indoors.

Your doctor and his American Medical Association also offer a few suggestions on keeping gardening fun and safe:
 *Take it easy for the first few sessions. Don't try to work a 10-hour day at hard manual labor on the first warm weekend.

Take frequent rest breaks and work at a pace that isn't too tiring. As the season advances, your muscles will be able to do more with less discomfort.

*Cut, scratches and bruises are the fate of most gardeners. Usually they aren't serious. Clean minor cuts with warm water and soap, and cover with a light bandage.

Tetanus lurks in the soil, and a booster shot of tetanus toxoid is recommended at the onset of the gardening season for all who have not kept their immunization up to date.

*Stop and think briefly about safety before handling garden tools - especially power tools such as lawn mowers. Power tools are great labor-saving devices, properly used.

Used carelessly, they can slash off fingers and toes. Always turn off the mower when it is left unattended, even briefly. Always turn it off when adding gasoline to the tank. If the motor is electric, don't use it in wet grass. Power tools usually are accompanied by safety instructions. Read them carefully.

*Modern gardening is made possible by the pesticides that dispose of the many varieties of bugs that thrive on growing plants. Careless storage and use of pesticides can cause serious accidents.

A cardinal rule is to read the instructions on the package carefully and obey their safety warnings. Pesticides are safe if properly used and kept away from children.

*Poison ivy, poison oak and poison sumac also sprout up in the spring, to the great discomfort of many amateur gardeners. Look for the three-leaf sprigs that mark poison ivy and poison oak. If in doubt, consult a botany handbook or garden encyclopedia.
