County Third In Texas Grain Production

Castro County's grain sorghum production for 1965 was 13,295,000 bushels according to final figures released by Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

This was a gain of 970,000 bushels or a 7.3 per cent increase over the 1964 crop which was 12,325,000 bushels.

This ranked it third in grain sorghum production among all counties in Texas according to V. F. Snodgrass, south plains representative GSPA.

Parmer County again led the state and nation in grain sorghum production with 18,- 683,500 bushels this past year. The trend for the past several years has been increased grain sorghum production in this county and in Texas. Texas, the number one grain sorghum producing state, had a production of 285,740,000 bushels in 1965 which was 43 percent of the total grain sorghum produced in the nation. All Panhandle counties had increased grain sorghum production in 1965.

The 1965 grain sorghum crop was the largest ever in Texas and the Nation. National production was 666,062,000 bushels, 35 percent above last year and 21 per cent above the five year average. The biggest production shift came in the 13-county North Plains of Texas area which produced 81,111,600 bushels of grain sorghum in 1965 which was 12 per cent of the national production and 21 per cent of the Texas production.

The coastal bend area around Corpus Christi also registered increases in grain sorghum production. Nueces County moved up to the fourth place producer in the state with 12,784,000 bushels. Even in the heart of the traditional cotton area of the south plains, grain sorghum showed gains. Lubbock County itself leaped from 4,715,000 bushels in 1964 to 6,104,000 bushels in 1965.

It is expected that the increasing grain sorghum production trend will continue this year, particularly in the north plains, coastal bend and south plains.

Along with these production increases, utilization of grain sorghum has steadily increased at home and abroad through intensive promotion program by Grain Sorghum Producers Association. When such programs were started in 1956, livestock use of sorghum was 179 million bushels, now it is 479 million. Exports in the same period have moved from 22 million bushels to over 200 million in 1965. The other major uses of grain sorghum, commercial and industrial, now promises to double with the opening of the new wet milling plant to be built at Dimmitt.

Castro County grain sorghum production record is as follows: 1959 -- 13,563,000; 1960--14,-784,000; 1961 -- 11,772,000; 1962 -- 11,273,000; 1963 -- 14,-190,000; 1964 -- 12,325,000; and 1965 -- 13,295,000.

Lawn Mower Injury Toll Alarms Safety Experts

With 24,000,000 power mowers in use today, and 4,500,000 new ones produced each year, mower manufacturers and safety experts have watched with alarm as the toll of injuries mounts, reports Changing Times, the Kiplinger magazine.

Safety officials estimate that from 55,000 to 80,000 people are injured each mowing season, and almost nine out of ten mower injuries treated involved rotary models. According to Changing Times, many of these accidents are not serious. But many others result in the loss of toes, fingers, eyes and occasional life.

The trend to bigger, heavier mowers is one of the reasons for the rising number of accidents. The American Standards Association has set up safety and design standards which have been adopted by most manufacturers. Over 85 percent of all mowers sold this season will carry the ASA seal. So, if you're in the market for a new mower, be sure it carries the ASA seal.

The editors of Changing

Times list these rules which every mower operator should follow:

Know your machine. Read the owner's manual carefully and know how to stop the engine quickly in an emergency.

Before you start to mow, check the mower for cracks, loose nuts and bolts. Fill the gas tank before you start, not after. The motor gets hot, and never while the motor is running.

Check the lawn for stones, sticks and other debris that could get hurled out of the mower.

When you are ready to mow, clear the area of children, pets and other bystanders.

Before you start the motor, make sure all blade and drive clutches are disengaged. As you start the machine, keep your feet well away from the blades.

If you are called away from the machine, shut it off. Stop the engine before pushing the mower over walks and other non lawn areas.

Never let a child or someone not thoroughly familiar with the machine mow you lawn, especially if your property is hilly or uneven.

On a slope, mow sideways, never up and down. Never pull a running machine toward you.

Don't mow in the grass is wet. This is particularly crucial with electric mowers.

As you turn a rotary mower, always make left-hand turns (away from the direction in which the grass chute points). Never walk by the chute while the motor is running and never reach in with your hand or a stick to unclog grass while the motor is running.

If you have to work on the cutting blade, disconnect the spark plug. Merely shutting off the engine doesn't guarantee that it won't start again as you crank the blade around.

If you have a riding mower, be especially careful on hills and never allow a passenger on board. These machines can and do tip over.

And lastly, pay attention to the job at hand. Perhaps the single greatest cause of accidents is the mental lapse that sends your thoughts wandering when you should be alert.

ON MEMORIAL DAY

Water Accidents Expected

With the approach of the Memorial Day weekend Americans throughout the land already are busy with the spring chores of scraping and painting small boats, in eager anticipation of another summer on the lakes and streams.

And once again the American Medical Association reminds that the Memorial Day weekend will launch a summer of boating and fishing accidents and deaths from drowning. Most of these accidents need not happen. The AMA reminds each spring that most boating and fishing accidents could be prevented if outdoorsmen would observe a few simple precautions.

Fishing is highly recommended by your doctor as a healthy, relaxing sport that will get you out of doors into fresh air and sunshine, and help to clear away those mental cobwebs left over from home and office worries. Fishing is not particularly hazardous, but there are some pointers to watch to help avoid accidents.

Fishhooks are designed to catch and hold fish. They also can snag an unwary finger, hand, arm or leg. If you're deeply hooked, go to a doctor and ask him to remove it. Don't try to work the hook out backwards. Your doctor has the instruments and know-how to remove the hook with a minimum of pain and further damage.

SAYS FAMILY LIFE EXPERT
A Little Tension Is A Good Thing

What causes tension?
Tension is a rather uncomfortable complaint that most everyone suffers at one time or another.

"A little tension is a good thing, because it keeps us on our toes," says Mrs. Patsy R. Yates, Extension family life specialist at Texas A&M University, "But too much can be dangerous."

Tension that persists over a period of time can set its victim up for a serious breakdown.

There are many ways that tension can be relieved. Mrs. Yates recommends some of the following solutions based on certain basic rules for handling tension which have been developed by mental health experts:

(1) Tired of the same old routine week after week? Live a little, the experts say -- vary your routine. Go to a good movie or read a good book.

(2) When the children have been noisy and impossible all day, and you've had all you can take, try to refrain from lashing out at them. Instead, release that pent-up energy in some physical activity -- like scrubbing an already clean floor.

(3) Preparing in advance for common emergencies such as unexpected guests for dinner is a great tension-reducer. Coping with minor crises without fuss conditions you to face bigger ones calmly.

(4) When you have several important things to do, by all means get the worst done first. Putting things off -- especially if you dislike doing them -- builds up stress; having something pleasant to look forward to reduces it.

(5) After dinner, your husband often spends an hour or so putting around in the garage. Should you go see what he's doing and perhaps help him? No, say the experts. Companionship is important for a happy marriage, but in today's families, there's often too much "togetherness." Everyone needs some time to himself, to think, to dream maybe just to unwind emotionally without fear of getting on someone else's nerves.

Wayland Summer Clinics Set

PLAINVIEW -- Bandsmen, church secretaries, young homemakers, basketball players and budding young artists join college students this summer on the Wayland Baptist College campus for a series of workshops and clinics.

First comes the Texas Youth Leadership Institute, June 2-5. Designed for high school young people and their counselors and sponsors, the Institute is sponsored by the non-profit organization, Texas Leadership Institute.

Church secretaries hold a workshop June 16-18, with Professor Gracie Knowlton of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary as head clinician. Miss Knowlton has taught secretarial practice at the seminary in Fort Worth for several years.

The college is now accepting advance registrations for the workshop which is open to church secretaries of all religious denominations. Registration fee is $9.50.

Following the secretaries on campus will be bandsmen from junior or senior high schools. Charles A. Wiley of Lamar State College in Beaumont heads the instructional staff for the June 20-25 band clinic.

On campus at the same time will be a College for Young Homemakers. Date for the event is June 20-22. Area I, Young Homemakers of Texas is sponsoring the event.

Two workshops are scheduled for two weeks in July. An art camp for boys 9-14 years of age will run concurrently with a reading workshop for teachers, July 11-22.

Registration for the art camp will be limited to 15 boys, according to Ron Reynolds, Wayland instructor, who will teach the course. Cost to each young artist will be $25 which includes supplies.

Boys who can commute to the Wayland campus for the camp each day should contact Reynolds at the college. Hours for instruction will be 9-12 each morning.

The reading workshop will feature an emphasis on teaching of phonics and three semester hours of college credit may be earned for the two-week course.

Dates for the annual boys basketball clinic have not been announced, but the clinic is a traditional part of Wayland's summer workshop and clinic program.

ONLY THE BEGINNING

For all those who truly seek wisdom this is "Only The Beginning" time. It's time for rewards but also time for setting the sails to cope with the high winds ahead. Commencement to serious minds can be little less than frightening. Have these young people learned well to do their duty? Are they qualified to accept prosperity? Are they fortified for adversity? Have they learned about God? If they have not learned these things well, then they have learned but little.

Opportunities are in abundance for those who are determined. Commencement is only the first round on a ladder that reaches to the stars for all who will but apply themselves. Then, young graduates, be of great faith and unlimited perseverance. For He said you have only "to seek and ye shall find, knock and it shall be opened unto you."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To me, there is no greater opportunity to serve God and Country than being in an elected public office. This has been my privilege for nearly 18 years as a member of our Texas House and Senate.

It was a thrill and an honor to again, this year, place my name before the people and participate in our sacred, and almost unique, system of free elections -- a right denied to most of mankind today.

Now the people have retired me from public office -- and, as always, I am more than willing to accept their verdict.

But, from the depths of my being, I wish to express my most sincere gratitude for the opportunity of the past 18 years to serve the interests, ideals and

Sugar Beet Wage Rate Is Set

Jim Elder, chairman of the ASC county committee, announced recently the wage rates and requirements for sugarbeet work performed after April 10.

The rates were determined by the Secretary of Agriculture following public hearings in the sugarbeet producing areas. The general provisions are the same as in the previous regulation. Eligibility for a Sugar Act payment depends upon the producer's compliance with these wage rates and requirements.

The chairman explained that workers employed on a time basis must be paid not less than $1.35 per hour for each of the hand labor operations of trimming, hoeing, hoe trimming, blocking and thinning, weeding, pulling, topping, loading, or gleaning. Special wage and hour provisions cover the employment of workers 14 to 16 years old.

When employment for hand labor operations is on a piece-work basis, the following minimum rates per acre apply:

Trimming, $10.75; hoeing, $13; hoe trimming, $15.75; and wedding (following trimming, hoeing, or hoe trimming) $8.

principles of the people of our State as my conscience directed.

Last, but not least, I wish to thank each and every individual who gave me their vote and support in the recent primary.

My very best wishes to you and every citizen of our 30th Senatorial District.

Sincerely,
Andy Rogers
