STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

AUSTIN--With a lackluster first Democratic primary behind state political insiders are looking toward the big general election contest for the U.S. Senate-- and even to a potentially-exciting 1968.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, the Democratic Senate nominee, and Republican Sen. John G. Tower have their company machinery in gear. Both are ranging widely over the state.

Carr boasts of drawing nearly 80 per cent of the May 7 vote in his race against John R. Willoughby, carrying both liberal and conservative areas and rural and metropolitan counties by lopsided margins.

He cites this as evidence the Democratic party will close ranks behind him in the rough race against Tower next November.

Speculation already has started on potential candidates for governor in 1968 if Gov. John Connally steps aside. Lt. Gov. Preston Smith admittedly plans to run for the top job when it opens up. House Speaker Ben Barnes is giving it some thought. Among liberal prospects are U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough and State Sen. Franklin Spears who made the attorney general's runoff against Crawford Martin.

Present Martin - Spears race is the only statewide contest on the June 4 runoff ballot. Martin received about 47 per cent of the first primary vote to 37 per cent for Spears and 16 per cent for Galloway Calhoun. Calhoun has endorsed Martin. Both candidates are beefing up their organizations and replenishing financial resources before their final stump tours and appeals. Getting out the vote again is expected to be a real problem, with so few local runoffs.

Governor Connally scored a clean-sweep victory in the May 7 primary and conventions. Not only was he nominated to a third term with 75 per cent of the total vote cast in his race, but his supporters apparently scored overwhelming victory over liberal forces in party conventions.

Only one incumbent was upset. Court of Criminal Appeals Judge W. T. McDonald lost to John F. Onion, San Antonio district judge.

Lieutenant Governor Smith, Railroad Commissioner Byron Tunnell and Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler won hand-down.

Texas' Senate, with no fewer than 10 new faces, will be a more-liberal body than it has been in the past. Lieutenant Governor Smith says it offers the greatest challenge in history to the presiding officer. One-third of the upper house membership now is from metropolitan counties.

House of Representatives, with a minimum of 54 newcomers, will remain moderate or conservative in tone, with Speaker Barnes retaining firm control of the gavel.

MEDICARE SETUP APPROVED--New procedures for medicare aid to the aged have been approved by the State Board of Public Welfare.

All old age assistance grants will automatically be increased $3 a month beginning in June. This will enable those 65 and older to pay supplementary medical insurance benefits. Old age assistance grants will thus be raised to $100 maximum, with aid to blind increased to $95 top.

A contract will be signed with Blue Cross-Blue Shield to handle payment of medicare deductibles. Separate contract will be signed for dependent children and for the disabled.

Beginning date on contracts is July 1.

CATTLE DIPPING COMPLETED--Dippings of scabies infected cattle in the Texas Panhandle was completed on April 27, according to Dr. S. B. Walker, executive director of Texas Animal Health Commission.

A total of 15,452 head were dipped twice 10 to 14 days apart in an approved manner and solution, while 257 head were dipped once.

Federal quarantine for Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley and Randall Counties still is in effect, though cattle from these counties have undergone state and federal inspection.

A request for release of the federal quarantine is being prepared, Dr. Walker said. Requirements for shipments to other states remain the same.

Dr. Walker praised cooperation which prevented the six Texas outbreaks from spreading.

AG RULES--

Public employees are entitled to 15 working days leave for military training, regardless of whether duty is on consecutive days.

A defendant is not entitled to calendar time served on a subsequent conviction when the original conviction for the same offense has been set aside and declared void by a federal court.

Area Students Receive Honors

Six area students were honored at the recent annual Recognition Day program at Wayland Baptist College.

Receiving recognition were Susi Leuckfeld, philosophy award; Margaret Weatherly, modern languages award; Gloria Summers, sociology award; Robert Stubblefield, Chemical Rubber Co. award for outstanding freshman science student; Tom Brian, history award; and Richard Cheatham, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Cheatham of Hart, speech and Timothy award.

AUTO INSURANCE

On June 15 the State Board of insurance will hold a public hearing on automobile insurance rates.

Based on evidence presented to the Board at its 1965 hearing, rates were upped an average 13.4 per cent. But a relatively minor change in motor vehicle traffic accident rates for 1965, compared to a dramatic increase in 1964, may mean good news for car owners.
