Hart Basketball Season Starts

Boys Trample

Bula B-Squad

In the second game of Friday's basketball doubleheader The Hart Longhorns dropped the Bula B boys 82 to 31. The game started almost exactly opposite from the first as the Longhorns took a three to 0 lead and were never passed. The Longhorns, led by the rebounding of Tommy Gonzales, Jim Swindle and David Harris, poured in shot after shot and left the impression that the score could have gone much higher, as in fact it could have.

The Longhorns led in every department except at the free throw line where they lagged far behind their opponents shooting at only a 37% rate compared to 61% for Bula. Bob Crick led the Hart scoring with 11; followed by Tommy Gonzales, David Harris, and Jim Swindle with 10 each; W. A. Hawkins with 9; Andy Rogers with 8; Ricky Bennett and Gary Rambo with 7 each; and Larry Henderson with 4.

Tony Newton was high man for Bula with a total of 23 points.

The chorus is composed of 54 young people from seven different states and two foreign countries. They take extended concert tours through Texas, New Mexico and Colorado. The Hart stop is part of

Basketball Tournament Starts Play Here Today

The Hart Basketball Tournament will be held this Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights in the Hart High School gym. Everyone should be out to back the boys and girls as they attempt to win their first tournament of the year. Teams from the surrounding area will be on hand and this should be some of the finest basketball action of the season.

Charles Cox, a native of Florence, Ala., is beginning his sixth year as director of the Meistersingers. One of the chorus members, Paula Brooks, is from Hart.

Girls Lose

In First Match

Basketball season got underway with a bang here last Friday night as the High School boy and girls teams opened the season against Bula. The nights action saw the Hart girls fall to the Bula A girls by a 26 point margin, 27 to 53. The Hart boys got off to a better start as they downed the Bula B boys 82 to 31.

The first match, featuring the girls teams, saw the Bula team take command almost from the start and remain in command throughout the entire game. The game could have had a different story had the Hart team been able to reduce their own mistakes and to improve their own shooting record. The Hart team gave their opponents 25 chances at the charity line and the Bula team connected on a remarkable 76% of these tries. At the same time Hart had only 14 chances and could sink only five for a 35% rate.

Sherry Morrison led Hart in scoring with 11 points, followed by Linda Popejoy with 8, and Josie Sanchez and Margaret Swindle with 4 each.

Allene Van Vliet and Vicki Hankins turned in fine performances at guard for the Hart team.

Marilyn McCall led the visitors with 24 points while teammate Judy Sawder tossed in 19.

Pleasant Pastime Became Career

(Editor's note: The following article, taken from an Amarillo paper, is written about a former resident of Hart. He is the son of Temple Rogers and nephew of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. McRee of the rural area between Hart and Dimmitt.)

When Brooks Rogers was 10 years old he bought a .58 caliber Springfield muzzle-loading rifle from a New York gun firm. It was a big gun for a little boy who had only shot .22s on rabbit hunts. This big gun turned out to play a big role in the life of Rogers.

Today, the 35-year-old gunsmith, who lives four miles west of Amarillo, looks back and laughs. "You could say that .58 caliber rifle really got me interested," he said.

Rogers makes sporting rifles of all calibers and sells them to individuals throughout the United States. He also does the usual small repair jobs required of a working gunsmith. His shop is located at the rear of his home.

But when it comes to Rogers preferred cartridge, the choice originated when he began shooting in earnest.

"I've always had a .45 caliber rifle," he said.

"After I shot that .58 caliber for a couple of years, I began shooting a .45-70 Springfield and reloading my own shells," he added.

The .45-70 Springfield is the rifle General Custer's men carried to the Little Big Horn to meet Sitting Bull. Custer's defeat has been blamed on a lot of things, but it has never been blamed on the performance of the .45-70 cartridge.

Rogers said the large rifle cartridge is capable of knocking down any game on the North American continent. During almost 20 years of experience, he should know.

His latest shooting with the .45-70 has centered on prairie dogs.

"Most people wouldn't think you could do varmint shooting with the .45-70," Rogers said. "Of course, you don't have the range of most varmint guns but the .45-70 is accurate and it is deadly."

Rogers said his specialty in gunsmithing is rebarreling.

This means that he takes some type of rifle action—military, sporting or even single shot—and converts it through rebarreling and rechambering into a more desirable caliber.

He has built high-powered rifles in calibers from .22 to .45. Rogers is presently working on a .50 caliber rifle.

Rogers began gunsmithing on a part-time basis about 10 years ago. "I just tinkered around working on guns," he said.

"I decided to take it seriously," he added.

He went to Trinidad Junior College — which offers a gunsmithing course — and studied under P. O. Ackley. This was Ackley's last year to teach at the school and Rogers feels fortunate to have studied under the renowned designer of rifles and cartridges.

Rogers said his favorite gun "is an accurate one."

Though he refuses to make the flat statement that the .45 caliber remains his favorite, he is still obviously partial to the gun.

Rogers still owns — and shoots — the 1873 Model Springfield that got him started. He has three or four .45 caliber rifles that he shoots regularly.

He walked out on the range near his shop and pulled a shell out of his pocket.

The .45-70 cartridge almost always impresses the uninitiated. It looks like a short, fat cigar when it is held in the hand.

When it is shoved into the chamber of a rifle, it looks like a shiny stick of dynamite.

Rogers touched off two quick shots through a Mannlicher-type carbine. Both of the bullets slammed into a sand box 125 yards away with a smart crack.

"These guns don't really kick," Rogers said.

"You know, you can load these cartridges to shoot just about like you want them to. They can be mild or they can be loaded to stop elk or bear."

Rogers said he thinks the .50-110 rifle he is currently building will impress most gun nuts. He said it will shoot a 500-grain bullet (a bullet that weighs more than three bullets from the average deer rifle) faster than the .22 long rifle.

With that type of ballistics, Rogers said it will hit with the energy of a speeding train.

After a little experimenting Rogers should have him another passable varmint rifle in the .50.

Governor Calls Attention To Needless Traffic Deaths

IT HAPPENED IN HART

Governor John Connally said today in proclaiming Sunday, Dec. 11, "Safety Sunday" in Texas that useless infliction of human injury is "an abuse of God's most precious gift -- life itself."

The Governor also called attention to the fact that 3,028 persons were killed and 186,062 injured on Texas streets and highways in 1965 "despite an intensive and continuing campaign by both official State agencies and citizen-support groups."

"Safety Sunday" is sponsored each year by the Texas Safety Association. S. Ross Carr of Houston, TSA President, said purpose of the observance is to focus public attention on the moral obligations and responsibilities of vehicle drivers to protect their own lives and the lives of others. It is observed each year during one Sunday in December to give further emphasis to the need for accident prevention during the Christmas-New Year's holiday season.

In his proclamation, Governor Connally said: "It is essential that every Texas driver realize that safety for himself, his loved ones and his friends, as well as other drivers and passengers is a matter of moral responsibility, and that useless infliction of human injury is an abuse of God's most precious gift -- life itself."

He urged all citizens to join in a united effort to awaken the conscience of every driver and further urged the pastors of all churches to remind their members of the personal and moral responsibility "to drive carefully, to obey the traffic laws and to protect the sanctity of human life in our State."

Carr reported that the Texas Safety Association Holiday Safety Campaign begins the first of December and is carried through New Year's Day. Approximately 1,000 kits of holiday safety campaign materials have been mailed to the various individuals and groups throughout Texas planning to participate in the campaign activities. News releases on holiday safety will be furnished to all Texas newspapers, and spot announcements on holiday safety will be sent to all radio and television stations in the state.

Each year TSA holiday publicity efforts are coordinated with the Governor's Office and state agencies, such as the Texas Department of Public Safety and the Texas Highway Department.

The TSA Holiday Safety Campaign is sponsored by the group's Church Activities Section under the direction of J. O. Musick of Austin, TSA General Manager and Mrs. W. B. Streetman of Fort Worth, TSA Vice President for Church Activities.

Dear Santa,

I at first thought you were not very nice, with that big long beard and fat tummy, but mommie and daddy explained to me that you have to have the big beard to keep warm where you live, and that the fat tummy makes you say Ho Ho Ho better than skinny people, and it makes you jolly.

I am three years old and have a little brother who is one. We have been very good, we pick up our toys and don't cry when its time to go to bed. I would like to have some Pom Poms like the big Cheerleaders that yell for Daddy's Boys, and I would like for you to bring Jeff a football and a truck so he won't play with my Pom Poms. He messes them all up. I'll leave you some cookies and milk out. Thank you.

Service projects were discussed including distributing house numbers in Hart and helping prepare the Santa sacks for the Lions Club.

Twenty boys and four adults were present.

Miss Sherrie Lynn Schulte Weds Bryan W. Birkenfeld

Before an altar covered with white chrysanthemums, Miss Sherrie Lynn Schulte, became the bride of Bryan W. Birkenfeld in an mid-afternoon ceremony conducted by the Rev. Alexander Beaton, S. A. The vows were exchanged in St. Anthony's Catholic Church in Hereford, Thanksgiving Day.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schulte, Hereford and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Birkenfeld of Nazareth and is presently serving in the U. S. Navy.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Schulte wore a sheath gown of bridal satin, designed with chapel train, which was attached at the waist and featured a skirt of floor-length, slit at the center back hemline.

Lace re-embroidered with sequins and pearls overlaid the scoop-necked bodice and formed a design on the front of the skirt. She wore her mother's diamond pendant necklace.

White satin pillows on which the rings were carried at the marriage of the bride's parents, held rings for their daughter's wedding, borne by Janice and Denise Albracht, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Albracht.

Miss Patty Schulte, served her sister as maid of honor and Ronnie Birkenfeld of Lamar, Colo., was his brother's best man.

Miss Staphanne Birkenfeld, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Loretta Hoffman were bridesmaid. George Shulte, the bride's brother and Carol Birkenfeld were groomsmen.

Ushers were Conrad Schulte, the bride's brother and Tommy Reiter and Wayne Reinart of Amarillo, Joe Venhaus, Leslie Birkenfeld and Louie Acker of Nazareth.

The bridesmaids were attired in royal blue velvet street length dresses, princess style in design. They wore gold shoes and carried baskets of white mums. Dresses of the ring bearers were of the same design.

Mothers of the bride and groom both chose suits in light shades of blue and each wore a white carnation corsage.

At the reception in St. Anthony's auditorium following the ceremony, guests were received by the families of the wedded couple.

A six-layer wedding cake, with the replica of a stairway winding around the layers to the top, where a miniature church was set was the centerpiece of the refreshment table. Bridal party figurines stood on the stairs.

For a wedding trip to Coronada, Calif., where they will make their home, Mrs. Birkenfeld chose an olive green suit with matching accessories and a corsage from her bouquet.

The couple will make their home at 760 H. Ave., Coronada, where Birkenfeld is stationed on the USS St. Paul, based at Coronada.

The bride was graduated from Western Republic College in Amarillo in August and was employed by J. C. Penny Co. She is a 1965 graduate of Hereford High School. Birkenfeld was graduate from Nazareth High School in 1960.

KITCHEN KORNER

By Lela Gallion

The Christmas Holidays are upon us and Christmas will be here before we hardly realize it. The season usually brings out the best in us if at no other time of year. Let us all examine our hearts and minds and see if we are really doing good unto all others as we profess to be doing or if we are hurting others by our own acts to please ourselves. Share some Christmas Candy with friends or give to those who you can not think of anything to buy for them.

MARSHMALLOW FUDGE

Mix in a heavy 2 quart saucepan:

- 2 1/4 c. sugar
- 2/3 c. evaporated milk
- 1/4 c. butter
- 5 oz. jar marshmallow creme

Bring to a bubbling boil quickly, stirring all the time. When bubbles appear over all the top, boil and stir over medium heat 5 minutes.

Remove from heat and add:

- 6 oz. pkg. semi-sweet chocolate pieces

Beat until chocolate is completely melted and blended into mixture.

Pour into buttered 9 inch square pan. Cool thoroughly. Cut into 1 1/2 inch squares. Makes 2 lbs.

MARTHA WASHINGTON CANDY

Mix together:

- 2 boxes powdered sugar
- 4 c. chopped pecans
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1 can Angel Flake coconut
- 1/2 lb. melted oleo
- 1 can Eagle Brand milk

Roll into small balls. Melt in top of double boiler:

- 12 oz. dipping chocolate
- 1/2 pkg. paraffin

Chill balls of candy, then dip in chocolate and paraffin mix by inserting toothpick in balls of candy. Place on waxed paper.

ENGLISH TOFFEE

- 1/2 lb. butter
- vanilla
- 1 c. granulated sugar (1/2 may be brown sugar)
- 1 c. blanched almonds

Place butter over very slow fire, stir constantly. Slowly add sugar. Cook to hard ball stage when tested in cold water. Stir mixture constantly. If it separates, slowly add tablespoon sugar. Let boil slowly. When brittle, remove immediately from fire, add vanilla and almonds. Pour into buttered cookie sheet. Pour and spread in thin layer.
