Statewide Voter Registration Promotion Led By Newspapers

This week marked the opening of a statewide newspaper campaign organized by Secretary of State John L. Hill to promote voter registration in Texas. One feature of the registration drive is the publication of an application form which voters may cut out and mail to the county tax assessor-collector, who acts as the registrar of voters.

The deadline for registration is January 31.

Hill has organized the registration drive in his capacity as chief election officer of the state, a title which the Texas legislature conferred on the Secretary of State last year, along with placing upon him important new responsibilities in the administration of the state's election laws. In commenting on the drive, Hill said that one of his purposes is to publicize new laws affecting voting rights, which otherwise might go unnoticed by the average citizen.

One of the new laws enacted in 1967 makes registration necessary, for the first time in Texas history, for persons over 60 years old who live in rural communities and towns under ten thousand population. Heretofore, persons over 60 were required to register only if they lived in a city having more than ten thousand inhabitants. Many tax assessor-collectors have expressed a fear that lack of information concerning this new requirement will bring about disfranchisement of many elderly voters through their failure to register.

In order to vote in statewide elections, a person must meet the following qualifications on the day of the election: he must be over 21 years old and must be a citizen of the United States; he must have resided in Texas for one year immediately preceding the election; and he must have registered for the voting year in which the election is held. In order to vote in local elections (county, school district, etc.), he must also have resided in the county for six months immediately preceding the election. Residence in the city for six months is required for voting in a city election.

A new law enacted in 1967 permits voters who move from one Texas county to another within the period of six months preceding an election to vote on statewide offices and issues if they have lived in the state for a year. Formerly, a voter was totally disfranchised for a six-month period following removal to another county unless the county from which he moved was in the same congressional legislative or judicial district as the county to which he moved. A constitutional amendment adopted in 1966 authorized enactment of the new legislation.

The Texas Election Code enumerates "idiots and lunatics, and all persons convicted of any felony except those restored to full citizenship and right of suffrage or pardoned" as classes of persons who are not qualified to vote.

Texas voters must register annually. The 1968 voting year will begin on March 1, 1968, and will end on February 28, 1969. The registration period for the 1968 voting year began last October 1 and will end on January 31, 1968. Any citizen of Texas who now possesses the necessary qualifications for voting or who will attain them by February 28, 1969, may register during the current registration period.

Except for three limited classes of voters, all persons wishing to vote at any time during the 1968 voting year must register by the January 31 deadline, even though they may not yet possess full qualifications for voting. The only registration permitted after January 31 is (1) by persons who move into Texas after October 1, 1967, (2) by persons who become 21 years old after January 31, 1968, and (3) by former aliens who are naturalized after January 31, 1968. The first and second classes may also register during the regular period. Registration certificates issued to persons not yet qualified to vote are marked to show the date on which they will become qualified.

Any person eligible to register may apply for registration by mailing an application form to the county tax assessor-collector of the county of his residence. Registration certificates will be mailed before the beginning of the voting year on March 1 to persons who apply by mail.

Voters may also register by applying in person at the county tax assessor-collector's office or at the city hall.

The husband, wife, father, mother, son or daughter of a voter may act as the voter's agent in applying for registration if the relative is a qualified voter in the same county. Except for these listed relatives, which do not include those related by marriage, no one may act as agent for another in applying for registration.

Politics Promise Year Of Action

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN- Any way you look at it, 1968 shapes up as the most action-packed political year for Texas in more than a decade.

It will start with a wide-open governor's race in the Democratic primary, perhaps the roughest since 1956. Also, there may be some other close races for less exciting offices. And of course, the presidential battle will hold the November general election spotlight. If Texas Republicans make good their threat to field a strong candidate for governor, and it seems they will, there will be plenty of action on that front almost the year around.

There is no sure way of predicting at this point whether U. S. Senator Ralph Yarborough, Lt. Governor Preston Smith, Secretary of State John Hill, former Attorney General Waggoner Carr, Dallas radio man Gordon McLendon, Houston attorney Don Yarborough or an unheralded dark horse will emerge the Democratic nominee for governor. Neither is it clear who the Republicans will put up to oppose him. Congressman George Bush of Houston? Senator John Tower? An unknown?

While Texas national Democratic convention delegates obviously will be pledged to support President Johnson, state Republican leaders have not tipped their hands as to their favorite candidate for nomination.

Although the winners can't be picked in advance, red letter dates can be marked on the 1968 political calendar. Here are the main ones:

- February 5 - Last day for filing as candidate in primaries.
- May 4 - First primary election and party precinct conventions.
- May 11 - County party conventions.
- June 1 - Second primary election.
- June 8 - State conventions to pick national convention delegates.
- September 17 - State conventions to pick Texas party leadership (executive committees) and write the state party platforms.
- November 5 - General election.

Remember that, to participate in any of the action, you must register (it's free) with the county tax assessor-collector or authorized deputy at the City Hall by January 31. Registration is simple and can be accomplished through the mail on forms provided by most newspapers.

A Diet To Fit Your Need

The American public is now well aware that any effective weight control program must include dieting.

Hundreds—perhaps thousands—of different diets are presented to us. Most are billed as a "sure-fire" means of trimming off excess pounds.

The American Medical Association's home health book, Today's Health Guide, points out that weight can be lost on virtually any dietary plan, good or bad, that ensures a calorie intake less than energy used. It is apparent, however, that many diets are only temporarily effective and do not promote the fundamental purpose of permanent weight loss.

Reducing diets, ideal weight charts, calory-counting tables are available almost everywhere. It is our purpose here to discuss briefly some principles of the good reducing diet.

The diet should be individualized in harmony with income, national origins, religious principles and personal circumstances.

The diet should be practical, consistent with work patterns and other everyday obligations and responsibilities.

The diet should be balanced, and in conformity with good nutritional practice.

The diet should be a pattern for life, not just for the period of weight reduction.

Generally, physicians do not recommend the crash diet in routine weight reduction. Instead, they are more likely to prescribe a diet aimed at a gradual weight reduction over several months.

It usually isn't necessary to go hungry while dieting. Your physician can help you work out a diet that will be satisfying and at the same time permit you to lose weight.

HART, TEXAS 938-2317

All indicators points to 1967 as a definite pivotal year for cotton on the Texas High Plains.

This is the opinion of Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock.

Production from the 23 counties represented by PCG will come to around 1,150,000 bales for the 1967 crop year, the lowest production from the area since 1950 and less than half the record 2,344,000 bales grown in 1961.

And Johnson says "I think we can assume that this will be the low point for the number of bales produced on the Plains for many years to come. There will almost certainly be more cotton planted in 1968 and most people now expect a 1968 harvest of between 1.5 and 1.75 million bales. From there we are hoping conditions will warrant a return to 'normal' production."

He cautions against firm predictions of planted acreage on the Plains for 1968, pointing out that many farmers, probably a majority, have not yet made firm planting decisions for the year.

"But with the premiums paid for Plains cotton in 1967, and with nationwide prospects for a crop in 1968 that will at best barely cover market demands, some farmers are going to set their sights on the higher profits that can be made from maximum plantings," Johnson believes.

He called attention to the fact that cataloged Government stocks of cotton are now down below one million bales and that very little cotton from the current crop is expected to remain in the loan after August 1, 1968.

"So Government sales of cotton shouldn't have any significant effect on markets for the 1968 crop, and that's one of the strongest plus factors seen in the cotton market for many years."

Johnson goes on to say that 1967 was a turning point for cotton quality as well as quantity.

The most spectacular change in the quality mix of the Plains crop came in staple length. In a single year, from 1966 to 1967, the amount of cotton stapling an inch or longer almost tripled from 13.3 per cent to nearly 40 per cent. Final quality figures are not yet in, but 41.1 per cent of the first 950,000 bales stapled at least an inch and PCG is assuming the ultimate figure will be around 38 or 39 per cent.

Along with this dramatic improvement came a substantial rise in the tensile strength of area cotton. Average strength, or pressley, went up to 79,600 pounds per square inch on the first 950,000 bales, as compared to a final 73,000 psi in 1966.

"These quality advances were made in spite of a shortage of seed in some of the more sought-after varieties and under weather conditions that were far from ideal," Johnson notes, "and there is little if any doubt that another giant step toward longer, stronger cotton will be taken in 1968."

Ed Dean, Field Services Director for Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., will represent the High Plains area at the annual meeting of the National Council of Agricultural Employers Jan. 9 and 10 in New Orleans.

Of prime concern to all users of agricultural labor, and a major topic of discussion at the NCAE meeting, is the "O'Hara Bill" calling for the addition of agriculture to National Labor Relations Act, Dean says.

The bill (HR 4769), introduced by Representative James G. O'Hara (D-Mich.), has been reported out of sub-committee and will undoubtedly come up for consideration by the full Education and Labor Committee early this year.

Hearings have been held on the bill and NCAE, of which PCG is a charter member, has given vigorous testimony in opposition.

"This bill would open the doors to collective bargaining in agriculture and would make every farmer vulnerable to strikes at harvest time or at other periods of peak labor requirements," Dean points out, "and even the most open-minded grower must therefore oppose it."

Also included on the NCAE meeting agenda are roundtable discussions on "The Foreign Worker - 1967 and 1968;" "Collective Bargaining Legislation in the House and Senate;" "The NCAE and the Churches;" and "Housing Regulations - the Code to be Developed in 1968."

Principal speaker for the meeting is Florida's Republican Congressman Edward J. Gurney.

School Absences Hurt Student

Hart School has had many absentees due to sickness, but some are due to negligence on the part of parents and students, according to Supt. Andy Gardenhire.

It is most important for a student to be present each day in order to have an opportunity to learn. When students are absent many suffer. The student suffers because of the material they miss. Other students suffer because the teacher has to take extra time to help the student who has missed catch up; therefore, depriving the student who is present, of teaching time because some are behind.

The community gets state money according to the number of days a student is present. Poor attendance can easily cost a community from 5 to 10 thousand dollars per year.

For the interest of all let's have good attendance. In the past years the Hart Community has been extra good about their students attendance, but this year we have become lax. Help your school, your child, and your neighbor's child by being in school every day possible.

ADVICE FROM A PRO

Driver of the Year in 1966, Don Beaudette, advises teenage drivers, "What does spinning your tires prove? It doesn't prove that you're a bigger man because you happen to have more money than the next guy to buy a bigger car. All it means is that you are plain old driving careless, and it could mean an accident."

Hazardous Occupations Named By Secretary

The Secretary of Labor has issued an order identifying those occupations which are particularly hazardous to youth under 16 years of age working on farms and ranches. This interim order will become effective on January 1, 1968.

Exemptions are provided for student learners. Any bonified school can make application for an exclusion from this regulation. The order also permits persons under 16 to be employed by their parents or by someone standing in the place of their parents in any farm occupation on farms owned and operated by the parents.

The 16 occupations listed as hazardous in the Secretary's order are as follows:

"(1) Handling or applying anhydrous ammonia, organic arsenic herbicides, organic phosphate pesticides, halogenated hydrocarbon pesticides, or heavy-metal fungicides, including cleaning or decontaminating equipment used in application or mixing of such chemicals.

"(2) Handling or using a blasting agent. For the purpose of this subparagraph, the term 'blasting agent' shall include explosives such as, but not limited to, dynamite, black powder, sensitized ammonium nitrate, blasting caps, and pimer cord.

"(3) Serving as flagman for aircraft.

"(4) Working as -- (i) Driver of a truck or automobile on a public road or highway. (ii) Driver of a bus.

"(5) Operating, driving, or riding on a tractor (track or wheel) over 20-horsepower, or attaching or detaching an implement or power-take-off unit to or from such tractor while the motor is running.

"(6) Operating or riding on a self-unloading bunk feeder wagon, a self-unloading bunk feeder trailer, a self-unloading forage box wagon, a self-unloading forage box trailer, a self-unloading auger wagon, or a self-unloading auger trailer.

"(7) Operating or riding on a dump wagon, hoist wagon, fork lift, rotary tiller (except walking type), or power-driven earthmoving equipment or power-driven trenching equipment.

"(8) Operating or unclogging a power-driven combine, field baler, hay conditioner, corn picker, forage harvester, or vegetable harvester.

"(9) Operating, feeding, or unclogging any of the following machines when power-driven; Stationary baler, thresher, huller, feed grinder, chopper, silo filler, or crop dryer.

"(10) Feeding materials into or unclogging a roughage blower or auger conveyor.

"(11) Operating a power-driven posthole digger or power-driven driver.

"(12) Operating, adjusting, or cleaning a power-driven saw.

"(13) Felling, bucking, skidding, loading, or unloading timber with a butt diameter of more than 6 inches.

"(14) Working from a ladder or scaffold at a height over 20 feet.

"(15) Working inside a gas-tight type fruit enclosure, gas-tight type grain enclosure or gas-tight type forage enclosure, or inside a silo when a top unloading device is in operating position.

"(16) Working in a yard, pen, or stall occupied by a dairy bull, boar, or stud horse.

(FEDERAL REGISTER, Vol. 32, No. 216, Nov. 7, 1967)

Economy Will Expand In 1968

The economy of the United States can be expected to continue to expand during 1968 and the consumer's disposable income will also continue to rise.

This is part of the "Economic Outlook for 1968" by John G. McHaney, Extension economist at Texas A&M University. He based his outlook on the assumptions that the conflict in Southeast Asia will continue without major escalation, the proposed income tax surcharge will be enacted as evidence of renewed strong economic expansion piles up, and that interest rates will ease off after the first quarter of 1968 as the tax surcharge takes effect.

With these assumptions considered, McHaney says that the consumer's disposable income will rise with advances in output, employment and wage rates. Social security benefits will be raised, and although a tax increase may moderate the rise in disposable income, the consumer will gain in buying power.

Prices can also be expected to rise further with the indicated increases in expenditures for consumer goods, capital outlays and government purchases, McHaney believes.

The total government spending for goods and services continued to rise during 1967 and will probably do so during 1968. The growth in government spending at the state and local levels rose about 12 percent in 1967 and McHaney sees a similar increase in 1968. The federal purchases of goods and services, mainly for defense, also rose in 1967 but the rate of increase slowed through the year and McHaney predicts continued rising but at a slower pace than in 1967.

McHaney says that early surveys of businessmen's capital expenditure plans for 1968 point to an increase of about 5 percent which is a modest one, but reasonable in light of the average utilization rates in manufacturing of less than 85 percent of capacity in 1967.

Demand for housing is growing and can be expected to continue to grow in 1968, but McHaney forecasts limited growth because of tight credit conditions.

KITCHEN KORNER

By Lela Gallion

Say it is really slick out there on those streets and sidewalks this morning and every one is certainly stepping around with care. My sister-in-law, Mildred is coming today to spend some time with us and I am looking forward to it (believe it or not I have always liked my in-laws). She is a wonderful cook and I intend to get her to cook some meals for me as it is such a treat to get to eat some one elses cooking and she always has a new recipe to try out so maybe I can pass some along to you. I received a new cook book for Christmas and it is entirely Swedish cooking with complete Smorgasbord Menues. It is from the Bethany College at Lindsborg, Kans. and we will share some of these recipes with you.

Melvin Barton To Serve On Promotion Team

Melvin Barton, a grain sorghum producer in the Easter Community northwest of Dimmitt, was named this week by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman to be a member of a grain sorghum, corn and soybean promotion team to Asia. The 7-man appointed group will be made up of two USDA officials, one grain exporter, one grain feed miller, and one farmer each producing soybeans, grain sorghum, and corn. The team will be in Japan and Taiwan between Jan. 12 and 28th.

Secretary Freeman said that this is a continuation of his earlier statement that "USDA would do everything possible to try to strengthen U. S. grain prices through continued expanding exports". Earlier, similar groups of American grain industry people have been sent by the Secretary to both European and Latin American countries. The American farm leaders will travel in the Asiatic area calling attention to the supply, quality, and availability of U. S. feed grains, particularly grain sorghum which has its largest cash market in Japan. It is expected that the group will visit the Ministries of Agriculture in the various countries to discuss duty and tariff situations as well as call on feed users, livestock producers, and other grain trade individuals.

Barton is President of the Castro County Grain Sorghum Producers Association and has been a supporting member of the organization since it was founded.

POSTURE

Correct body posture can significantly lessen your chances of experiencing chronic back pain in later life. When sitting, keep your head, shoulders and trunk erect. Keep your back straight when standing or lifting. Lift with your knees and thigh muscles, rather than place all the strain on your spine by bending over. Treat a back strain with rest, heat, a pain reliever and a moderate amount of massage.

HEADACHES

Aspirin is still the best known home remedy for the occasional headache sufferer. Bed rest and the application of an ice bag to the head also have proved effective. If you suffer from chronic headaches, take aspirin and sound out your physician for the cause.

COMMON COLD

A common cold which persists longer than usual may develop into a virus pneumonia. Symptoms—aches, chills, fever, and headache—may be similar. Virus pneumonia victims later develop a dry, hacking cough, which lasts for several days. Consult your physician when a cold lasts for a lengthy period and the cough is not relieved by home remedies.

ATTENTION COTTON FARMERS . . .

If You Cannot Sell Now . . . Use Form "A" Loan

The area cotton industry has made great strides in 1967 in re-establishing itself in the Marketplace. We urge you to personally see that your product moves into the channels of trade, rather than allow it to become government property.

However, if you feel that it is not feasible for you to sell your cotton now, the Form "A" Loan is available to you as an orderly marketing tool. Your county A.S.C.S. office will help you place your cotton in the loan. Under this loan you retain title to your cotton, and have an opportunity to sell it until July 31, 1968.

TO PUT YOUR COTTON IN THE FORM "A" LOAN COSTS AT LEAST $1.00 PER BALE LESS THAN OTHER LOAN PROGRAMS AVAILABLE TO YOU. Also, it provides that you keep title and full control of the cotton.

SCHOOL IS IMPORTANT

By Iona Clevenger

To get ahead in a world like the world of today, you MUST get an education.

It was not too many years ago when a high school education was enough to get a high ranking job. Not too long before that an eighth grade education was enough to get a well paying job, enough to support a family.

But in a fast progressing country like ours, a Junior High or High School education is not enough.

Most well paying jobs require at least a college education and many require higher education than that. Doctors, lawyers, college personnel and some high school personnel, - all jobs such as these require up to eight extra years study.

Expected life income from eighth grade to a college graduate statistics have been calculated. An estimated $116,000 is the expected life income for a person having eighth grade education. This seems like plenty, but stop and do some quick math. That's not even enough to support a small family, much less a large one.

Then jump to the high school graduate. He earns approximately $165,000 for a lifetime. This is $49,000 more but still not enough to live comfortably.

Anywhere from one to three years of college will net around $190,000 in a lifetime and $268,000 is the estimated income for a college graduate. Each additional year is worth $25,000. So you see, it DOES pay.

Of course, many say, "Well, I can always get a job being a mechanic or working at a filling station, at least it will get me some money."

Okay, you've got some money; now - how long will it last you?

When you have no parents to lean back on, can YOU even live on this, much less support even a small family if you have one. No, of course you can't!

With automation replacing many of our jobs, how could you afford not to have an education?

The United States has such a need for educated men and women. There is such a shortage of teachers, nurses, doctors, scientists, just so many of these careers are open and are begging to be taken. And these are well paying jobs!

Now you've got another excuse. You don't have the money to go to college.

This isn't your biggest problem, believe it or not. There are numerous scholarships and grants available to students who are in need and are sincere about getting through college. There are athletic scholarships also. So you see, that's not such a problem.

So, people, my advice to you is stay in school if you plan on making a living. Stay in school if you DON'T plan on making a living. SCHOOL IS IMPORTANT!

NEW BOOK ON CAPITOL-- Winston Churchill once said, "We shape our buildings and they shape us." His quote is used in the handsome new book, "The Texas Capitol, Symbol of Accomplishment".

This 168-page volume is illustrated with color photographs and reproductions of historic documents. It was written and produced by the Texas Legislative Council in cooperation with the State Highway Department, at the direction of the 1965 Legislature.

It's so "hot off the presses" that it records some significant events of the 1967 session of the Legislature. "The Texas Capitol" reaches back graphically to those 18 days at Washington-on-the-Brazos in 1836 when Texas' independence was declared. That story is followed by a brief history of the Republic and the joining of the Union in 1845.

From that point on, the reader will find himself engaged in the story of the state's growth through the development of its government and the men who have guided it the past 122 years. Pictures and stories acquaint the reader with the present-day Capitol complex and surroundings.

This book should be read by every Texan who has seen, plans to see, or wishes he could see the State Capitol. It is available from the Travel and Information Division of the Texas State Highway Department in Austin. Price, $2.00.

MH-MR REORGANIZATION -- Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation will undergo a "broad reorganization" during the next six months, says MH-MR Commissioner John Kinross-Wright.

As plans now stand, the Deputy Commissioner for Mental Health and the Deputy for Mental Retardation each will be made responsible for activities in his respective field. Established will be the office of Director for Regional Coordination. He will work with all governmental, community and volunteer agency programs, and further liaison will be maintained with local boards of trustees for MH-MR programs.

SHORT SNORTS-- John C. White has announced for a 10th term as Texas Commissioner of Agriculture.

State Securities Board reports handling a record volume of $650,400,000 in permits to sell securities during the year, an increase of $100,000,000 over 1966.

B. F. Masters, president emeritus of Kilgore College, resigned from the State Board of Education effective January 1.

Texas Commission on Alcoholism estimates there are 300,000 alcoholics in the state and wants that one out of 10 who drinks is an incipient alcoholic.

Texas Water Development Board is putting together a number of studies made since the preliminary water plan was unveiled in 1966 for meeting the water needs of 30,000,000 Texans to the year 2020.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED--Gov. John Connally announced appointment of Lawrence Miller Jr. of Dallas and George R. Bolin of Houston to Texas Real Estate Commission. He also appointed McLennan Co. Court at Law Judge Derwood Johnson of Waco as Judge of the 74th Judicial District Court.

Governor placed Dr. J. Robert Baier of Houston on the Texas Board for Chiropractic Examiners and reappointed Dr. Charles E. Courtion of San Angelo and Dr. C. T. Harkey Jr. of Victoria.

Miss Wathena Douglas of Midland was named to the State Board of Hairdressers and Cosmetologists.

HUNTING

Always exercise extreme caution when in possession of a loaded gun. Carry the gun in a position that will give you control over the direction of the muzzle even when off balance from stumbling or tripping. Never fire the weapon until you are absolutely certain of your target. Carelessness is responsible for thousands of hunting fatalities and injuries suffered each year.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hamm of Amarillo, Mrs. W. P. Holland and children, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Cuffer and children of Amherst, Mr. and Mrs. Loyce Warren, Carol and Stevie of Dallas were all visitors recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hamm.
