Methodist Youth Observe Youth Week Activities

Youth from the First Methodist Church held Youth Week July 7 through 12.

Youth were in charge of the Sunday morning service. Susy Hawkins gave the invocation with coming events announced by Debbie Bailey. The children's sermon was given by Bill Bledsoe.

Bible scripture was read by Laura Dudley. Gaylene Hawkins led the pastoral prayer. Ike Graves directed the youth choir with Ronnie Cox as pianist. Kay Schultz, youth director, brought the morning message. Ushers were Steve Cox and Steve Brown.

Sunday evening, youth of the Baptist and Methodist churches joined together for a Youth Choir for a joint service of the two churches. Following the services the youth played volleyball and had refreshments.

Youth visited other youth Monday afternoon to invite them to youth meetings throughout the week. Visitation teams included Ricky Black, Jeton Jones, Laura and Joan Dudley, Susy and Gaylene Hawkins, Bobby Bledsoe, and Steve Brown.

Approximately 20 young people were present Monday night to hear the Rev. Roy Ward of Y. L. Methodist Church. The speaker was accompanied by his wife. Ladies of the church served refreshments after the services. Games were enjoyed by the youth.

Tuesday afternoon, Sandy Bennett, Ricky Black, Jeton Jones, Susy and Gaylene Hawkins, Laura and Joan Dudley, Sue Bates, Steve Brown, Bobby Bledsoe, and Nancy Graves met at the church to clean the storage room and mow the church lawn. After several hours of work, Mrs. Betty Brown treated the group to soft drinks at the cafe.

Willie Gene Green of Olton was speaker Tuesday night. Refreshments and recreation time followed the services.

Youth from Hart and Lockney met at the church and enjoyed a hayride to the John Norfleet farm Wednesday night. Eldon Reynolds, youth director from Lockney, brought the message. Refreshments were served around a bon fire. A singsong followed the refreshment period.

On Thursday morning, a tired group of young people met at the church to sell themselves to make money. They journeyed downtown where Gaylene and Susy Hawkins, Linda and Debbie Bailey, Jeton Jones, David Hawkins, Bobby Bledsoe, Debbie and Rita Heck, Steve Brown, Laura and Joan Dudley, Sandy Bennett, Cathy Nelson, Jerry McAdams, Rhonda Newsom, and Ricky Black were sold to various townspeople. All worked very hard to earn their money.

Thursday evening, the message was brought by the Rev. Kenneth Wyatt. After the service, refreshments were served and the young people were entertained by magic tricks.

The week's activities were concluded Friday evening beginning with an evening meal served at the church at 7 p. m. The service began at 8 p. m. with the Rev. Bobby Chaney bringing the message. Afterwards, the Rev. Fred Brown, assisted by Rev. Chaney, served Holy Communion.

Hart Youngsters Compete For Bike

Four Hart youngsters entered the Hart Beat sales contest last Friday and began selling subscriptions in order to be eligible for a brand new Bronco bicycle.

Those signing up as junior salesmen are Johnny Newsom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Newsom; Jim Tucker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lanny Tucker; DeAnn Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bailey; and Peggy Lee Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Scott.

Salesmen will turn in their subscriptions and money Friday afternoon and those having a total of 25 new subscriptions will be awarded a Bronco bicycle by Sue Cannon, manager of the Hart Beat. Bicycles are furnished by White Auto, Olton.

There is still time for others to enter. Contest doesn't close until August 10. Those interested in selling subscriptions may enter any time. If the required number of subscriptions to win the bicycle are not sold by the close of the contest, salesmen will receive 25 per cent of total sales.

Everyone is a winner!

Rep. Bill Clayton Now Studying Water Problems

Since the called special session of the 60th Legislature of Texas was concluded July 3, 1968, State Representative Bill Clayton of Springlake, Texas has been travelling extensively in behalf of water and water related problems.

Early in the Month he attended the 2nd Annual National Conference of State and Federal Water Officials in Detroit, Michigan; the week of July 19th he will be attending the Texas Water Code Revision Advisory Committee meeting in Austin; he will be in San Antonio, July 26th to preside at a public hearing of the House Interim Water Study Committee; and he will be leaving July 30th to attend the Southern Region of the Council of State Governments Water Resources Conference in Miami, Florida.

A legislative bill pertaining to the operation of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District #1 could not be introduced at the special session of the legislature because it was not within the call of the Governor's Proclamation calling the special session. Clayton stated that the legislation could be introduced and passed early next year during the regular session of the 61st Legislature.

Miss Futrell Attends National FHA Convention

Rebecca Futrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Futrell, returned home Friday from Miami, Fla. where she attended the National Future Homemakers of America Convention.

While in Florida, Rebecca stayed with other delegates at the Americana Hotel.

Theme of the meeting was "Citizenship-A Challenge to Cherish."

Approximately 1200 youth delegates and some 300 adult advisors attended the meeting.

The Texas delegation was responsible for conducting the Roll Call of States, provided listening teams for one general session and served as leaders for one of the Idea Swap Shops. Miss Futrell was recording secretary for the Swap Shop.

Tuesday's session included participation of the audience.

The four-day program included outstanding speakers, business meetings, fun sessions, national projects reports and discussion groups.

Farmers Meet Slated Friday

Area farmers are invited to a meeting Friday night, July 19, at 9 p. m. in the Community Room of Farmers State Bank. It will be conducted by the National Farmers Organization.

John Oster, of South Dakota, will be guest speaker.

Spokesmen for the group announce that all area farmers who are concerned with present farm economy are urged to attend.

Richard Cheatham Completes Course

Richard Cheatham, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Cheatham of Hart, has completed a year's preparation at Purdue University towards earning his doctorate on rhetoric. He will complete his work on the degree this summer.

Cheatham completed his year's work with a grade average of six points, or all A's.

His undergraduate work was at Wayland Baptist College. He received his master's degree in speech from Purdue University at Lafayette, Ind.

While earning his doctorate, Cheatham is pastor of West Point Baptist Church in West Point, Indiana. He is on a 3/4 assistantship, teaching three freshmen speech classes.

Cheatham, his wife and baby daughter, Tina Marie, live in West Point.

Frank Ford Urges Training For The Under-Employed

Frank Ford, Republican candidate for State Representative, has called for greater effort in providing skills training for the under-employed. Stating that "Jobs are the best answer to poverty," he has proposed a plan to utilize existing school facilities and volunteer teachers to step up adult education in Texas that will meet the needs for those skills that will be required for jobs in the 1970's.

"With increasing mechanization of farm labor and other low skill jobs in Texas," said Ford, "the need for job training is well recognized, and I am not satisfied with the current progress in education."

"Industry must continue to assume a greater role in education, and there must be greater state appropriations for learning as well as increased local effort for education and vocational training. However, with our rapidly increasing tax burden, we find ourselves walking a tightrope. This points up the need for mobilizing those who are willing to volunteer their time and talents to help others become more productive, self-supporting citizens."

"We have many talented retired individuals and others with great ability and a thorough knowledge of a productive skill," Ford concluded, "who have voiced a willingness to offer their services in a well-planned, practical program to meet this pressing need. With this volunteer teaching corps, the utilization of existing facilities during idle hours, and only a token increase in tax cost, giant strides forward can be made in Texas education."

Ford is a candidate in the 72nd Legislative District, including Cochran, Lamb Bailey, Castro, Parmer, and Deaf Smith Counties.

Wake Up "Sick American!" You're Losing A Heritage

Are you a sick American?

If you do not realize how sick you really are, we suggest that you get yourself a television set, and listen regularly to the so-called commentators, especially NBC's "Buntley and Hinkley" who, in the midst of their prize-winning newscasts, take an especial delight in pointing their finger at you and editorializing in stentorian tones about the things which you and I are doing in the sick, sick country.

According to the commentators, we sick Americans have already shot two Kennedys and Martin Luther King; in addition, we have thrown hundreds of fine people out of jobs and are persecuting all Negroes in such a manner as to make Uncle Tom appear to be a pampered aristocrat. Right now, we seem busy at the job of undermining the "poor people" who are encamped in Washington, D. C.

No one, it seems, is anxious to recognize the fact that the man who shot President Kennedy was a "leftist" who defected from the American way of life to live in Cuba and other foreign countries, nor do they stop to point out that the man who shot Robert Kennedy was a native of Jordan, and that he came to this nation from another country. While it is possible that the man who shot King was an American, it still remains to be decided.

Should the 150,000 Americans who stood in line, plagued by sizzling New York heat and humidity, from eight to 12 hours to pay homage to Robert Kennedy be branded as sick merely because some bureaucrat approved the admission of an immigrant into the United States?

All in all, it seems to us that the American people suddenly find themselves in the same position as the teenagers, who are always condemned along with Hippies and the few others who live in a fringe world.

What about all the good boys and girls, most of whom do get haircuts regularly? Like the average American, they are accomplishing worthwhile things.

Robert Kennedy, it must be remembered, placed himself in a precarious position. He was basing his campaign on the "fringe area" vote of people who had problems and who were restless. Regrettable though the incident may have been, Mr. Kennedy voluntarily moved into this faction and was seeking the vote of such people, even when he lost his life. In most cities, there have always been areas which law-abiding citizens avoid, or enter at their own risk.

Why then, should the average, hard-working, tax-paying American be condemned a sick? We agree that a sickness exists, but if we diagnose it carefully, is it not more with our Great Society than with the millions of Americans who do their jobs efficiently, attend church regularly, and try to send their kids to college?

The only sickness we can truly attribute to the average American stems from the fact that we have too often elected demagogues, even on occasional charlatan. It all started with Franklin Delano Roosevelt and his so-called "New Deal", based primarily on the assumption that we could "get something for nothing" - and out of this chaos we appear to have spawned a generation of minority free-loaders, who are calling the shots for all of us.

If one takes a careful look, the American people are suffering more from stupidity than from illness.

As a result, the American dollar, long-time hallmark in the world of international finance, is now so shaky that outsiders are threatening us with chaos, unless we cease deficit spending and start operating on a more sensible plane. Out left-wing minorities, on the other hand, feel that we must guarantee our non-workers a lavish income from week to week and month to month.

Yes, there are a lot of things wrong with America. Some of us are sick, maybe even those TV commentators who insist on editorializing under the guise of news presentation. Many of us are fat and soft as a result of easy living. Others cannot find jobs, though our classified columns and employment agencies are urgently searching for people who are willing to turn out a honest day of work. Never before, since the Pilgrims first landed on these shores, have people been faced with such great opportunity as we enjoy today.

American needs, most of all, to veer away from the socialistic trend it adopted in 1934 and has pursued since that time. Americans must also substitute the Golden Rule for greed and selfishness which now dominates many stratas of our national life. We are still blessed with an abundance of natural resources, plus a tremendous lot of "know how". These assets, conducted along Christian principles, brought forth the worlds greatest known civilization - and once the American people reassert themselves, we will again pursue the tenets of life, liberty, and happiness.

Who knows, we might even see the time when it is again legal to hold prayer services in our own public schools.

Wartime Service Veterans May Qualify For Pension

Needy veterans with wartime service who are 65 years of age or older may qualify for a Veterans Administration disability pension without proving a specific disability, Jack Coker, manager of the VA Regional Office in Waco, said today.

For VA pension purposes, wartime veterans are considered by law to be totally and permanently disabled at age 65.

This makes such veterans eligible for pensions at the rates authorized for other needy veterans who are totally and permanently disabled from causes unrelated to military service.

Currently, a veteran without dependents must have an annual income of less than $1,800 to be eligible for a pension, Coker said. The limit for veterans with dependents is $3,000.

However, under a law signed recently by President Johnson, beginning January 1, 1969, all income limits are to be increased $200 a year and most payments will be increased under a scale computed by $100 income increments.

Today, veterans without dependents receive monthly pensions ranging from $104 a month (for incomes not over $600 annually) to $79 a month (for incomes over $600 and not over $1,200 annually) to $45 a month (for income ranging from over $1,200 to $1,800).

For veterans with more than two dependents pensions range from $119 a month (for an annual income not over $1,000) to $84 a month (for incomes over $1,000 and not over $2,000) and $50 a month (for incomes of more than $2,000 and not over $3,000).

Under a law signed by President Johnson last summer, the Vietnam era (after August 4, 1964) is considered wartime service for non-service-connected disability pension purposes.

Veterans interested in more information should contact their nearest VA office. Coker said they should keep in mind that PENSION benefits are not related in any way to COMPENSATION to which a veteran may be entitled for disability relating to his military service.

No income limits apply to compensation payments, Coker said.

'The People's Choice' Available To Schools

Texas school children and their teachers can learn some interesting facts about some of the men who have been President of the United States in a new audio-visual presentation produced by the Texas Education Agency.

Entitled "The People's Choice," The presentation focuses on the accomplishments of James Monroe, Grover Cleveland, Woodrow Wilson, John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson.

Consultants Dan T. Bonner and Jack P. Risher, producers of the series, say they felt that this election year was a particularly good time to make this 15-minute presentation available to Texas teachers.

With "Hail to the Chief" as its unifying theme, the presentation focuses on Monroe and the Doctrine named after him which declared that, henceforth, America was no longer to be considered for further colonization.

It also tells about Wilson asking a joint session of the two Houses for a declaration of war on Germany during World War I; and Cleveland's little-known struggle with cancer, during the financial crisis of 1893. The last part of the presentation contrasts the presidential careers of Kennedy and Johnson and their performance in the job "in which a strong man will grow gray before his time."

The presentation features introductory remarks by Bonner and recordings from the United States Navy Recruiting Service, five transparencies for an overhead projector and a teacher's guide. "Hail to the Chief" is used as background music.

Texas teachers may obtain a free copy of the presentation by sending in a blank tape on which the narrative can be recorded. Inquiries should be addressed to the Texas Education Agency, Tape and Television Laboratory, Austin, Texas 78711.

KITCHEN KORNER

By Lela Gallion

This hot weather certainly makes you enjoy the air conditioner and cool drinks even though they tell you a hot drink is better for you, the cold ones taste the best. Did you ever try diluting a can of lemonade and freezing it in your ice cube tray? Then drop one of these in each glass of tea or here is a lemon tea and a cookie recipe I tried and is real good to serve with the tea.

LEMONADE TEA

6 teabags
1 qt. boiling water
1 can (6 oz.) frozen lemonade concentrate
2 qts. cold water
1/4 c. sugar

Steep teabags in boiling water 15 minutes. Add lemonade concentrate; stir until melted. Stir in cold water and sugar until sugar is dissolved. Chill. Serve over ice. Makes twelve 8-ounce servings.

CANDY DOT OATMEAL DROPS

1/2 c. shortening, soft
1 c. sugar
1 egg
1 tsp. vanilla
1 3/4 c. sifted all-purpose flour
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. salt
1/2 c. milk
1 c. rolled oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)
1 c. multicolored candy coated milk chocolate pieces.

Heat oven to moderate (350 deg. F.). Beat shortening, sugar, egg and vanilla together until creamy. Sift together flour, soda and salt. Add to creamed mixture alternately with milk, beginning and ending with milk. Stir in oats and candy. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto ungreased cookie sheets. Bake in pre-heated oven (350 deg. F.) 12 to 15 minutes.

Raisin-Nut Drops: Omit candy in above recipe. Sift 1 teaspoon cinnamon and 1/3 teaspoon cloves together with dry ingredients. Stir in 1/2 cup raisins and 1/2 cup chopped nuts with oats.

Coconut-Almond Drops: Omit candy in above recipe. Substitute 1/4 teaspoon almond extract for vanilla. Stir in 3/4 cup flaked or shredded coconut with oats.

Friends are invited to attend.

Smoking Slow Suicide

A teenager in Mexico City this April asked a passerby for a cigarette. He will never make that mistake again.

"God gave men noses to breathe with and not to use as chimneys," the passerby shouted. Then he pulled out a pistol and shot the teenager three times. At last report, the boy was in serious condition.

The craving for a cigarette can have disastrous consequences, but attempted homicide is not usually one of them. The damage is self-inflicted instead. Smoking, for too many people, is suicide in slow motion.

The evidence of self-damage is no longer controversial. The medical facts are in--and doctors know it. Surveys show that 95 per cent of physicians accept the incriminating evidence against cigarette smoking. That is why 100,000 doctors have quit smoking.

In the same month as the shooting episode, a new attack against smoking was begun by a nation-wide group of health experts in this country. The National Forum on Office Management of Smoking Problems called on every doctor to warn his patients about cigarettes. It seems that although almost all physicians agree that smoking is injurious, only 40 per cent are actively advising non-symptomatic patients to quit.

"The hazards of smoking are now known to be so great that it is the duty of every physician to advise each of his patients from teenager to oldster to stay away from cigarettes," Dr. Alton Ochsner, chairman of the group, said.

The anti-smoking campaign is picking up steam. That campaign is one of the activities of your local TB-RD association.

C. T. Cunningham, pastor of First Baptist Church

How Deeply Involved ought The Christian to become? Luke 10: 20-42

Just how separate is the Church and State? How much involved should the Christian become in secular affairs? Or again, when is a matter secular and when is it Religious? These are some of the questions many people are asking.

How deeply involved with governmental affairs should I become? Joseph became a governmental leader so he could save his family and Israel from starvation. And Joseph was Governor over the land, and he it was that sold to all the people of the land...Genesis 42:6. God wanted to provide leadership for Israel, but they wanted a king to be like other nations. Make us a king to judge us like all the nations I Samuel 8:5. Nehemiah 2:3 Nehemiah became the king cupbearer so he might make the request to return and rebuild Jerusalem. Because of Daniel's involvement in government, he was able to save his people. "Then this Daniel was preferred above the presidents and princes, because an excellent spirit was in him; and the king thought to set him over the whole realm" Daniel 6:3.

Now concerning involvement in welfare and social affairs. The parable of the good samaritan leaves no doubt in the mind of the Christian that involvement is taught by Jesus. The concern for widows in the early church brought about the selection of deacons. Acts 6:11.

James teaches pure religion demands concern for the welfare of widows and orphans. "Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this: To visit the fatherless and widows in their afflictions, and to keep himself unspotted from the world" James 1:27. Offerings were received by the church at Antioch for the poor Christians in Jerusalem. Acts 11: 27-30.

What about involvement with sinners? Jesus certainly became "involved with sinners." He was called a friend of publicans and sinners. Matthew 11:19. He placed himself in jeopardy with his conversation with the Samaritan woman and the adulterous woman. John 4 and 8:1-11. Paul and Silas became "involved" with the girl possessed with an evil spirit in Phillippi and went to jail. Acts 16: 16-24.

In the light of sin that runs so rampant, it seems so necessary for the good people of the nation and world to become involved. This could well be the only hope of the world.

$30,000 Tax Free?

As a part of the Federal estate and gift tax law, Congress has provided a system for giving your money away without paying tax, or by paying less tax than the estate tax would be later.

Briefly, the rules are: You can give each of your children, grandchildren, etc., $3000 each year without paying any gift tax or being liable for estate tax later (unless you die within three years after the gift).

Out of community property, you and your spouse can give $3000 each or $6000 to each child, grandchild or other beneficiary. By filing a gift tax return, Form 709, with the Internal Revenue Service you can give $30,000 tax free out of your estate. Of course, in community property this would be doubled to $60,000 tax free from both spouses. This must also be more than three years before date of death.

So, if you and your wife have three children who are all married, and you have nine grandchildren, you can give your 15 heirs $6,000 each, tax free, or $90,000 a year. By filing a form 709 with Internal Revenue you can use your $60,000 exemption (two 30,000 life time exemptions), you can pass $150,000 out of your estate the first year and $90,000 a year thereafter, tax free, provided you live for three years after the gift.

If you are making an estate plan, it is probably advisable to consult an experienced Federal estate and gift tax consultant.

The American Farmer

For the information of the Press: The following is the text of Senator Tower's weekly report to Texans:

The American farmer, with his energy and ingenuity, has historically produced a food and fiber supply in excess of the demands of our own exploding population and also has supplied millions of people around the world.

The farmer is one of the largest purchasers of American produced products, buying in excess of five Billion dollars worth of equipment annually.

He is a bedrock of our national prosperity.

Unfortunately, while our national economy has soared to record heights, farm earnings have sunk to record lows.

Total farm debts have risen from 25 Billion dollars in 1960 to some 50 Billion dollars today.

Farm production costs have risen 31 percent. Farm prices today are nine percent lower than in 1940.

The farmer has thus been forced to substitute credit for income and savings for profits. A majority of farmers have been forced to live only off the value of their land. The farm population has been reduced by four Million persons since 1960. It is a wonder there are any

If the forecasts of leading economists and sociologists are true, there exists the possibility, in a few short years, of terrible famine in a large part of the world. How we react to this food crisis will affect the destiny of our civilization.

We must pay close attention to these problems. We must recognize the American farmer, and we must put profit back in agriculture.

The Agricultural Act of 1965 was a basically good law, but administration of the Act has created the dilemma we observe today. With less farmers today we find Agriculture Department employees have increased to an all time high -- to a ratio of one USDA employee for each 100 persons on the farm.

I think our farmers must obtain a stronger and more direct voice in the operation of the Department of Agriculture. High positions in that Department should go to men with broad farm experience. Reorganization of the Department is an absolute necessity.

Farmers must have the opportunity to run their farms with minimum government interference. Our farm policy must be designed to meet the challenges of the 70's and must discard the antiquated philosophies of the 30's.

Our farm program must be developed to give the farmer freedom to manage his farm and an opportunity to earn a fair share of the national net income.

Some people see the farm program as a likely place for heavy budget-cutting this year.

And, many well-intending, but misinformed persons have made a great issue of farm subsidies and of payments to cotton farmers. It is necessary to correct this misunderstanding.

The cotton farmer's support payments are a vital part of his income. For the great majority of farmers they represent not only all their profits, but also a significant part of their cost in producing cotton. Any sudden denial of payments to larger farmers would put out of business our most efficient and productive people. To place a ceiling on the support a farmer could receive would destroy all semblance of efficiency in most American agriculture and would bring chaos and ruin to all producers of agricultural products, regardless of size, because such a ceiling would destroy the effectiveness of all voluntary farm programs. The lack of good management in administration of the cotton program is particularly apparent.

I am informed the Agriculture Department will announce on August 1, a 6.7 million bale carryover. In actuality this cotton is the reject of industry for years, and for all practical purposes it is worthless.

I think it is mandatory that we maintain a 6 to 7 million bale hold-over of quality cotton to provide protection against a crop failure and for national defense stockpile needs.

In my view, the Agriculture Act of 1965 must -- in the closing days of this Congress -- be extended for one more year, and for no longer.

This will provide the necessary interval in which the next Congress and the next Administration can formulate an effective farm program that will improve the economic status of the American farmer.

The American farmer has done much and asked little. It is our duty and responsibility to recognize him. We must receive more responsible farm programs and that those programs be administered by persons who understand farmers.

That certainly will continue to be my goal as your United States Senator.

AMERICAN BANKERS' MAGAZINE

"No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and address being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This does not mean you should have a whole, half or even a quarter page ad in each issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned, even if you do not use more than a two-line space.

"A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town by looking at the paper. This is the best possible town advertising. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and to the town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to town, but refuses to advertise his own, is not a valuable addition to any town . . . The life of a town depends on the live, wide-awake and liberal advertising man."

California Governor To Speak At GOP Fund Raising Dinner

California Governor Ronald Reagan will arrive by chartered jet at Amarillo Municipal Airport approximately 2:30 p. m. Friday, July 19th, according to Dr. Tom Duke of Amarillo, chairman of "An Evening with Ronald Reagan" GOP fund-raising dinner. It will be the only appearance in Texas for the colorful and popular former movie star-turned politician.

The dinner will honor 18th Congressional district Congressman Bob Price, and will see outstanding Republicans from throughout the Lone Star State and the Golden Spread area in attendance, including Senator John Tower, GOP gubernatorial candidate Paul Eggers, and state Republican chairman Peter O'Donnell.

Governor Reagan will hold a press conference immediately after arrival, following which he will meet with Texas delegates and alternates to the Republican national convention.

All dinner ticket holders are invited to attend a reception with Reagan at 5:30 in the commercial Exhibits Building. A famed Walter Jetton-catered barbecue will begin serving at 6:30, with the program starting promptly at 7:30 p. m., according to Dr. Duke.

Dinner tickets are priced at $100. However, persons who do not want to eat but desire to hear Governor Reagan speak may purchase box seat tickets for $40, reserved seat tickets for $25, adult general admission for $10, and student general admission $5. All tickets for the fund-raising dinner may be purchased from any Republican county chairman throughout the 18th Congressional district.

Governor Reagan, who is leaving a UCLA Board of Regents meeting in Berkley, California to make his only scheduled Texas appearance, will depart immediately after the dinner for a Republican governors' conference in Tennessee. Reagan, who thus far has managed to delicately side-step the question of the presidential race, is expected to announce he is a full-fledged candidate when he steps from his plane in Miami two days before the Republican national convention begins in August.
