Santa Claus Writes, Asks For Letters

It won't be long until Santa Claus will be making his yearly ride with a sleighful of toys and gifts for all good boys and girls.

But he cannot make the right deliveries unless his little friends let him know what they want for Christmas, so get your orders in now. When St. Nick is through reading your letters he will send them to the Hart Beat to be published.

Address letters to Santa Claus, North Pole, 99701, but be sure and mail them no later than December 17.

The Hart Beat received the following letter from the jolly bearded-gentleman:

Dear Sue:

Once again I'm getting anxious to see you and all my little friends in and around Hart. It's been almost a year since I have been able to visit in the area, and that's a long time to be away from the fine group of friends living in the Hart area.

There have been a lot of changes made around here during the past year, and they have made the old workshop a lot more efficient. My helpers and I have been very busy all year long, and we have the best presents in the history of the workshop this year -- and in record-breaking numbers, too.

We're just waiting for the proper time to spread happiness and good cheer all over the world this year. We're doing our best to see that everyone has the very nicest and happiest Christmas ever this year -- we wouldn't want it any other way.

Sue, please remind the children in the Hart area that I still have a Zip Code (same as last year--99701) and ask them to please use the zip number on all their letters to me.

Oh yes, and ask them to include their own zip numbers on their return addresses. It would sure make things a lot easier on old Santa if every boy and girl would take just a minute or two and add a zip code number for me to use when I make the rounds this Christmas.

You see, one of the changes we've made around here was to install one of those computer gadgets to sort the mail. It really zips them through, but it goes all to pieces when it gets hold of a letter without a zip number -- and then one of our helpers has to stop making presents and go sort out the letters without any zip numbers.

And then, too, the zip numbers make it a lot easier for me to find my way around and get the proper presents to the proper children when I make my trip through Hart on Christmas Eve.

Until I see you again, I send my love, best wishes and hopes for the merriest of merry holidays to you and all my friends in Hart.

Sincerely,
Santa Claus

1969 Upland Cotton Acreage Designated By ASCS Office

Notices of individual farm acreage allotments and yields for the 1969 upland cotton crop have been mailed to farmers in Castro County, according to Charley E. Hill, Office Manager, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee.

He pointed out that any question about the allotments should be taken up immediately with the county ASC committee.

The intention is to let farmers know how the allotment program will affect their farms before the referendum on marketing quotas for the 1969 upland crop. Balloting will be conducted by mail -- or the ballots may be returned to the ASCS county office in person -- during the period Dec. 2 through 6.

The law requires a favorable vote by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in order to keep marketing quotas in effect. Where referendums on more than one commodity are being held in the same county, growers are cautioned to put the ballots in the proper envelopes.

Generally, those eligible to vote are all producers who shared in the 1968 cotton crop or its proceeds. Questions about eligibility to vote should be referred to the county ASCS office.

If the vote is favorable, Hill explained, quotas will apply to the 1969 upland cotton crop, with penalties on any excess cotton produced; loans and price-support payments will be available to growers who plant within their allotment.

The loans will be based on a national average rate of 20.25 cents a pound for Middling one inch cotton at average location and price-support payments will be 14.73 cents a pound on the farm's projected yield for the acreage planted within the farm's domestic allotment. No acreage diversion will be necessary and no diversion payments will be offered for the 1969 crop.

Special provisions apply to "small farms." Growers who elect not to participate in the price support program will be able to apply for a share of an export market acreage reserve and to grow and export all their cotton without government assistance and without marketing penalties.

If the vote is unfavorable, he added, there will be no quotas or penalties for the 1969 upland cotton crop, no price-support payments, no export market acreage reserve and price-support loans to growers who do not exceed their farm acreage allotment will be available at 50 percent of parity.

Applications for the transfer of 1969 cotton allotments may be filed on or before Dec. 31, 1968, regardless of the outcome of the marketing quota referendum.

Castro County received an allotment of 52,962 acres for distribution to growers in producing their 1969 upland cotton crop. This represented the county's share of the national allotment of 16.2 million acres, including a national reserve of 200,000 acres to take care of minimum farm allotments.

Wool And Mohair Program Marketing Year To End Dec. 31

Growers were reminded today that the 1968 marketing year under the wool and mohair program ends Dec. 31.

Jim Elder, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, explains that this means that payments for the current 1968 year will depend on completing all details of marketing either wool, mohair or lambs by that date. Marketings completed after Dec. 31, will become marketings in the 1969 marketing year, and thus not eligible for payments until early 1970.

The chairman urges producers to make sure that all details for the 1968 sales are completed by the end of the year.

This includes passing title to the buyer, delivering the wool or mohair to the buyer either physically or through documents (such as warehouse receipts or bills of lading) transferring control to the buyer and having available all the information needed to determine the buyer's total purchase price.

Applications for 1968 marketing year payments under the National Wool Act may be filed with the county ASCS office at any time, and the Chairman advises that this be done as soon as possible.

Incentive payments under the wool program are based on the average national price for marketings during the whole year, and this can be determined more exactly if reports on marketings are complete. ASCS therefore is urging that all 1968-year applications be filed before Jan. 31, 1969.

Payments for the 1968 marketing year will likely begin in April of next year.

Future Farmers Taking Orders For Citrus Fruit

Hart Future Farmers are taking orders for oranges and grapefruit. The fruit is the highest quality available and is being secured through Lindsey Dennis of Olton.

Orders should be turned in by Dec. 10 and delivery will be during the week of Dec. 16.

The fruit may be purchased in full cases, half cases or mixed cases and sells for $4.50 per case.

Anyone who has not been contacted and wishes to place an order may call any member of the FFA Chapter or Lanny Tucker.

Additional orders will be taken in January for delivery that month.

FFA members have announced that all purchases will be appreciated.

Cotton Classing Office Issues 1968 Reports

The three Cotton Classing Offices of the USDA in this area classed 145,000 samples of new crop cotton last week ending Friday, Nov. 22. This brought the total for the entire season to 486,000. 23,000 samples had been classed on the South Plains this time last year.

Predominant grades were SLM, MID LT SP & SLM LT SP. Those 3 grades represented 68 per cent of the total classed.

The average staple length from the South Plains area last week was 1-inch.

Micronaire readings by percentages were: 3.5 - 4.9 56%, 3.3 - 3.4 17%, 3.0 - 3.2 29%, 2.7 - 2.9 12%, and 2.6 and

The average Pressley test, which is the breaking strength of the fibers, for the Lubbock area was 83,000 pounds per square inch, for the Lamesa area was 83,000 pounds, and for the Brownfield area was 85,000 pounds.

Prices reported to the Consumer and Marketing Service of the USDA at Lubbock ranged from $7.50 to $12.50 per bale over the Government loan value for White grades, and $8.00 to $14.00 per bale over the loan for Light Spotted grades in the 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire range.

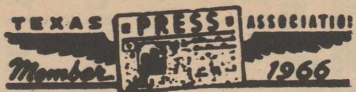

Average cottonseed price paid to producers was $49.00 per ton.

Soybean Program Gains Support

Half-cent per bushel self-assessments by U. S. soybean producers now total more than half of the $23,428.86 received to date by the American Soybean Association's expanded program of international market development and research. Agribusiness firms have invested the balance of the funds.

Though "Phase I" of the ASA program has been active for less than three months, better than 23% of the additional $100,000 income goal has been reached.

As combining operations wind up in the south and mid-west growers finish harvesting corn, ASA officials expect increased participation in the self-help program.

It was pointed out that "Phase I" is a grower's program and that it's no surprise grower self-assessments exceed agribusiness contributions.

Checks have been received from growers in 24 different states. Largest single check was $271.26 and smallest $1.99.

Chet Randolph, ASA executive vice president, noted that $100,000 is a minimum goal and funds in excess of the goal will be applied directly to market development.

ASA officers, staff and members met with top officials from more than 30 agribusiness organizations in recent weeks and were well received. However, many firms require additional time to process contributory checks or respond to the ASA program in other supportive channels.

In addition to hiring the first full time state-level field man, Illinois leads all other states in both the total self-assessment dollars and number of growers participating.

Iowa is currently second and Ohio third.

Two states--Arkansas and Texas-- have moved directly into "Phase 2", a voluntary soybean checkoff at the first point-of-sales.

All states have been encouraged to pursue a self-assessment program best suited to the regional need. ASA is coordinating the program nationally.

Moments Of Meditation

C. T. Cunningham, pastor of First Baptist Church

"But it shall not be so among you; but whosoever will be great among you, let him be your minister; and whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant." Matthew 20:26-27

Jesus also said that whosoever will be great among you let him be servant of all.

What is the measure of a man? There may be many of people's opinions. But I like the way a man named William Cowper Brann, born 1855 and shot to death in a duel in Waco, Texas in 1898. He was an American journalist. He wrote a little thing called, "A Man's Real Measure".

"The place to take the true measure of a man is not in the darkest place or in the amen corner, nor the cornfield, but by his own fireside.

There he lays aside his mask and you may learn whether he is an imp or an angel, cur or king, hero or humbug. I care not what the world says of him: whether it crowns him boss or pelts him with bad eggs. I care not a copper what his reputation or religion be; if his babies dread his homecoming and his better half swallows her heart every time she has to ask him for a five-dollar-bill, he is a fraud of the first water, even though he prays night and morning until he is black in the face and howls hallelujah until he shakes the eternal hills."

"But if his children rush to the front door to meet him and love's sunshine illuminates the face of his wife every time she hears his footfall, you can take it for granted that he is pure, for his home is a heaven."

"He may buy votes in blocks of five, and bet on the elections; he may deal 'em from the bottom of the deck and drink beer until he can't tell a silver dollar from a circular saw, and still be an infinitely better man than the cowardly little humbug who is all suavity in society but who makes home a hell, who vents upon the helpless heads of his wife and children an ill nature he would inflict on his fellow men but dares not."

"I can forgive much in that fellow mortal who would rather make men swear than women weep; who would rather have the hate of the world than the contempt of his wife; who would rather call anger to the eyes of a king than fear to the face of a child."

Well, somehow I think we all must agree with Mr. Brann. We may not like what he says, but isn't he so right?

IN AMARILLO

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Maples spent Thanksgiving in Amarillo and attended a family get-together in the new home of their granddaughter, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Herring and Shanell.

Bailey of Hartley, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bailey and Teresa of Dalhart, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Orman and Mitzi of Floydada, Mr. and Mrs. Swain Beggars, Kent and Keith of Petersburg, Mr. and Mrs. Frankie Karvens, Tony and Kevin of Anton, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Biffle and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Biffle of Lubbock, Rev. and Mrs. Alby Cockrell of Brownfield, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Stallings of Dimmitt and Kenneth Sharp of Hart.

Tax Man Sam Sez

During 1967 Internal Revenue audited the tax returns of 3.1 million taxpayers. 52.4% or 1.6 million were found to owe an additional $3,313,800,000. However, 40.2%, or 1.3 million, had no change in their returns. (These people had obviously kept good records and followed the tax instructions.) About 200,000 or 7.6% of those audited had the happy experience of receiving refunds amounting to $190,600,000. (Of course these taxpayers had overpaid their tax to start with and would never have known of the $190 million if they had not had the good fortune to get a tax audit.) Correcting tax returns is a necessary part of the Internal Revenue Service's business to assure that each of us pays his fair share. However, if 7.6% of us pay more than we owe, the Internal Revenue Service may not find time to audit our returns and send the money back. It just might be a good idea to read the instructions a little more carefully this year.

Business Deduction Pamphlet Available

If you plan a list of business deduction for travel and entertainment expenses be sure to have the records to substantiate these expenses, Ellis Campbell Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for Northern Texas, said today. Estimates of these expenses are not legally acceptable for tax purposes.

Campbell said in many instances, a taxpayer should keep a diary or timely record as well as receipts and invoices to back up a travel or entertainment expense.

To substantiate entertainment expenses you must establish the amount of each separate expenditure except for miscellaneous items like cabs, phone calls, tips and meals while traveling away from home, which can be added together for each day. In addition, the date of the expenditure must be confirmed, the name of the person entertained indicated and the type and location of the entertainment described.

Campbell said the taxpayer's records should also show the reason for the entertainment or the business benefit expected, the nature of the business discussion and the names, titles and business relationship of the persons entertained.

The detailed rules on how to deduct travel and entertainment expenses are given in IRS Publication 463. For a free copy, send a post card to Supply, Internal Revenue Service, P. O. Box 1738, Dallas, Texas 75221.

Financial Facts

By Willis A. Hawkins, Jr.

Early in the history of our country, paper money, known as "continental currency" was in regular use at the time of the American Revolution. This currency decreased in value to such an extent that the saying, "north worth a continental" became a common expression.

Congress adopted the dollar in 1785 as the unit of American money. This was followed in 1792 by the establishing of our monetary system.

The first United States mint was in Philadelphia. There were gold eagles valued at $10 each, half and quarter eagles, silver dollars, halves, quarters and dimes were stricken off. Half dimes, pennies and half pennies were also minted.

Then followed coins of unusual denominations such as a three cent piece in 1851 and a twenty cent piece in 1875.

HOW TO RUIN A WARM FRIENDSHIP--There are lots of ways to put the freeze on a warm friendship and the colorful characters described below have discovered most of them. This satirical collection of kooks based on a psychologists' summary and prepared by Florists Transworld Delivery reveals some common foibles sure to turn the TRUST in any relationship straight into BUST, with practical advice on how to avoid them.

◆ How To Ruin A Friendship ◆

The sit-in, shoo-out, hang-up and put-down are just four of the common ways in which wonderfully warm friendships are ruined--sometimes turning in-laws into outlaws, and taking the "r" out of friend.

Though a really good friend is hard to find, losing one is often far too easy. Nobody wants to change from a pal to a pill and a recent psychologist's report describes some colorful characters whose foibles usually turn affection to rejection...with some sage suggestions on how to avoid them.

1. Bad News Bernie.

Bernie is a wonderful friend as long as you're having a tough time. If your mother-in-law moves in or your wife moves out, Bernie is always the first to know and to call -- full of sympathy. BUT when you get that big promotion or your first son weighs in at a lusty 9 pounds, Bernie is strangely absent...and stays that way till fate deals you another blow.

Don't be a Bad News Bernie. Your friends need you around to celebrate as much as to commiserate. So when good news comes their way, be the first to call or write. Even better--send flowers. Any florist with an FTD symbol in his window will be glad to speed congratulations anywhere, any time. And it's surprising how pleased folks are to be remembered this way--when things are going well!

The "We'll Be There" Wilkinsons.

Almost everyone has friends like the Wilkinsons-- for a while, anyhow They're always the life of every party and they never miss one. If you decide to ask a few neighbors in for drinks, the Wilkinsons turn up as a surprise. And when you rent that little cottage by the lake, they just happen to be driving by--for the weekend. Obviously, the Wilkinsons are so busy with their gregarious gadding, they never have time to entertain YOU. And, since they're never at home, you can't just drop in on them.

Needless to say, the Wilkinsons have ruined a number of warm friendships-- as you will, too, if you lack common consideration and fail to reciprocate with your own invitations. Even when friends say: "Drop in any time" its tactful to call before you do. And after an overnight visit, it's a must to send a thank-you note, a bread-and-butter gift or a thoughtful bouquet of flowers with your own individualized message.

GOOD TIME GILDA.

You may have at least one Good Time Gilda on your list of friends... temporarily. The opposite number to Bad News Bernie, she's just as obnoxious in her way. Gilda is one of those blithe spirits who gravitates toward fun and runs from trouble. Whether you lose your job, your boyfriend or your apartment, Gilda is the first to know--and go. She won't be around till you've fully recovered and by that time -- who needs her?

Many people instinctively shun misfortune as though it were contagious. But this type of behavior is guaranteed to turn the TRUST in any relationship straight into BUST. DO be a friend in need, offer positive help as well as sympathy and you'll be pretty sure to have a friend around when you need one.

"YOU-POOR- THING" PATTIE.

Pattie is a remarkably sympathetic friend. In fact, she fairly overflows with sympathy but, unfortunately, that's all she has to offer and as she continues with condolences on your latest haircut, most expensive dress, brand new draperies, your husband's business affiliations and your children's behavior you start by feeling awfully sorry for yourself then decide you may be allergic to Pattie.

Expressing the right amount of sympathy at the right time is certainly in order. But DON'T overdo it. Belittling a companion is one sure way to rub the "r" right out of friendship.

HOW-TO-DO-IT HARRY. Harry's the kind of friend who loves to give advice, solicited or not. Whenever you have to make a decision, Harry makes it for you. And, if you fail to follow his suggestions, regardless of the outcome, he is certain to say--"I told you so". Harry is also an amazing second-guesser, given to such endearing expressions as "How could you have--" "What, you mean you've never heard of--" and "I'm surprised you didn't--".

Of all the ways to ruin a warm friendship, offering unwanted advice or criticism is probably the most potent. Even when friends ask for your advice, they usually prefer to make their own decisions and want to be respected for it.

There are a number of others on the list--some of whom may be among your own acquaintances: Catastrophe Cate who goes from one ghastly crisis to another and insists on phoning you about each, usually at 3 a. m.; The Two-Faced Tatems who ooze with compliments and chuminess in your presence, but run you down mercilessly behind your back; the Borrowing Barclays who are always in debt and find it's easier and cheaper to borrow from you than a bank; Name-Dropping Ned who knows everybody you don't and loves to rub it in; Boring Benjie who only stops talking about himself long enough to repeat the same old jokes which weren't even good the first time and Awkward Annie who inevitably manages to break up the furniture, burn a hole in the rug or smash your best china whenever she's a guest.

The fictitious characters described above are obvious exaggerations. Few real persons are so consistently poisonous yet, according to psychologists, everyone commits SOME of these unfriendly acts occasionally--even to their nearest and dearest. However, with a little effort and self-examination you can eliminate most of them and thus manage to keep on good terms with those friends you most want to keep.

Troop 246 met Monday evening at the Legion Hall for a regular meeting. Scouts are meeting as troops again rather than in patrols.

The Christmas party was planned and Sonny Mancias and Pete Niabes completed requirements for First Class Scout.

New boys in the troop are Danny Booe, Leon Follis, George Hernandez, and Amado Caldera.

Attending were fourteen Scouts and Scoutmaster Deryl Clevenger.

A&M University Announces Pest Control Short Courses

Texas A&M University has streamlined several overlapping agricultural short courses into one annual meeting to be known as the Texas Conference of Insect, Plant Disease, Weed and Brush Control.

The first session is set for Feb. 24-26 at Texas A&M.

Dr. Jack D. Price, Agricultural Extension Service Leader-Chemicals, said the new conference consolidates several annual meetings related to pest control in crops and range land.

These include the Insect and Plant Disease Control Conference in November, the Agricultural Aviation Conference in February, and short courses on weed or brush control in crops, ornamentals, turf and grasslands.

The conference will cover plant diseases, insects, weed control in field crops, vegetables, fruits, nuts and range lands. Other discussion topics will be application equipment, new chemicals, pest control programs, and recommendations for application and use of herbicides, insecticides and fungicides.

"These sessions will provide an opportunity for participants to obtain the latest developments in each of the major disciplines in one single annual meeting," Price said. "Farmers, ranchers, county agricultural agents, vocational agriculture teachers, custom applicators and operators, and representatives from industry are invited to attend."

Conference sponsors are the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Additional details on the conference are available by writing to Price in care of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at College Station.

Here we are, right in the middle of our third annual basketball tourney.

GOOD LUCK HORNS!!

Tuesday, third period was the scene of a most disastrous affair. Yes, it was time for the Senior girls to take their "Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow" tests. Yes, again, it was hard. Yes, we hated it.

WIN OUR TOURNEY!

The Horns opened their 68-69 basketball season at Kress Tuesday against the Kangaroos. As of now, we do not have the results.

WE WANT A TROPHY!

Did you know that Christmas is only nineteen days away. That is less than three weeks! Whoopee. Now Hear This:

If you have a letter to Santa Claus drop it in locker 9 or 29 by Tuesday and we will print it. Okay? Okay.

Many people think that teenagers do not take world affairs or their future seriously. This poem, written by an HHS Senior shows differently.

ALL FOR MY COUNTRY

I'm a sailor across the Ocean Blue

I'm a sailor who's in love with you.

You're at home with the guys and gals,

Even dating some of my old pals.

Last Christmas I gave you a diamond ring

This year it doesn't mean a thing.

You said that you'd wait and be true.

Now I'm a sailor lonely and blue.

Last week I received a letter from you,

It told me it was quits and we were through.

Said you found someone you love better,

That's the reason you wrote the letter.

Said things were over between you and I

Now all I do is cry.

They said that if I joined I'd be doing my part.

Now I'm dying from a broken heart.

Why were you bad and so untrue?

I'm a sailor dying for you.

Pretty soon I'll be going away,

I hope you get the message on your wedding day,

I hope you're a true and a real good wife,

For remember it's for you that I'm giving my life.

For remember it's for you that I'm giving my life.

Remember last spring?

Don't gamble next spring.

Apply Treflan[®] this fall.

(Treflan[®]-trifluralin, Elanco)

Remember last spring? Hundreds of cotton and soybean growers do. Many were as much as a month late in planting. Weather was so bad they couldn't get into the fields.

But those growers who applied their Treflan last fall at least didn't have to worry about grass and weed problems. Weatherproof Treflan stood fast . . . allowing growers to plant quickly, making up for lost time as soon as fields dried. Don't gamble on another wet spring. See your Treflan dealer about applying Treflan this fall.

Premiums May Be Deducted

Premiums paid on health insurance policies usually can be deducted -- up to a point.

According to Doris Myers, Extension home management specialist, deductions of insurance premiums as a medical expense are limited to payments which cover medical care. This means any money paid for the diagnosis, cure, treatment, or prevention of disease, for malfunctions of the body or for transportation primarily for and essential to medical care, she explains.

Premiums paid for insurance covering reimbursement for loss of limb or loss of time resulting from sickness or accident are not deductible, Mrs. Myers says. Premiums on insurance that provides only for reimbursement of prescription drug costs are deductible.

The Extension Service specialist at Texas A&M University advises keeping records of all medical costs. One never knows at the beginning of the year if such cost will be large enough to justify itemizing at income tax time.

Poor Practices May Result In Hospitalization

One out of every six older people will enter a hospital during 1969, many because of poor health and safety practices, according to a specialist for aging with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Most people more than 65 years old stay in the hospital an average of two weeks, twice as long as the average stay of younger people. And the bill will be twice as large, adds Dorothy Taylor.

Persons more than 65 years of age often wait to see a physician until it is too late because they have inadequate resources to meet medical expenses, explains Miss Taylor at Texas A&M University.

Some are modest, some hope to avoid charity and others do not want to burden their families. So they put off seeking medical attention and hope the ailment cures itself.

Sometimes senior citizens try to treat themselves. From previous experiences, they feel capable of diagnosing their ailment. They may use home cures, medications from friends or the wrong medicines, warns Miss Taylor.

Senior citizens often are victims of poor diets. Food fads, food habits and lack of interest in eating when dining alone may lead to poor nutrition, says the specialist.

The older person's diet may be determined less by good judgment and more by the cost of the food or the ease with which it may be prepared.

Poor safety habits also can bring poor health. Two out of three accidents in which aged persons are involved occur in the home.

RICHBURG GUESTS

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Richburg and DeAnn, the first part of last week were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Richburg of Paris, Ark.; Penni Browder of Amarillo; Sandra Richburg of Canyon and Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Shaw of Dimmitt.

No Substitute For Evergreens

There's no substitute for the beauty of a natural Christmas tree if it's wisely purchased and safely used, says Bill Smith, Extension forester at Texas A&M University.

Texas imports over three million trees annually with some coming from as far away as Western Canada, he pointed out. As a result, the trees are stored in boxcars and undergo temperature extremes.

Those undergoing warm temperatures for a period of several weeks may already have dried out by the time they're put on our Texas markets, Smith said.

He makes the following suggestions to help keep a Christmas tree fresh and green:

1. Buy your tree early. This will enable you to be selective in the purchase of a reasonably fresh tree. Check for signs of needle shedding and brittleness. These indicate excessive drying.

2. Store the tree outdoors in the shade until ready for use and spray it frequently with water. When it's brought indoors, make a diagonal cut removing 1 to 2 inches of the base.

3. Stand the tree in water and keep it in water until it's discarded. Check the water level daily.

For further information on Christmas tree care, contact your local county agent's office for a copy of L-722, "Safe Use of Christmas Trees," suggests Smith.

Faye Cockrun Is Club Winner

The Community Room of Farmers State Bank was the scene Monday evening for the regular meeting of the Hart of Texas TOPS Club.

Members recited the TOPS pledge and sang the club song. Mrs. Weldon Jones, leader, presided.

Roll call revealed Faye Cockrun as the week's winner with the most weight loss. She received the grab bag gift.

Two members tied for Queen for November.

Two new members were added bringing the membership to 24.

KITCHEN KORNER

By Lela Gallion

The week after Thanksgiving it seems as if there were just too many left overs that had to be eaten or so we thought. So our appetites are sort of off the rich foods but Christmas will be here before we know it and there we are again trying some more new and reliable foods.

Although we have lived in Texas for the past 18 years I still miss being home (Kansas) around the holidays. They always write me that they still have the same big family dinners and often send me new recipes which I know are bound to be good if they like them -- not much prejudiced am I?

Here are a couple you may enjoy fixing for your family.

DESSERT SALAD

1 1/2 envelopes of plain gelatin
1/4 c. cold water
1/2 c. sugar
2 c. pineapple juice juice of 1/2 lemon

VISIT WELTYS

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Venable of Bovina visited Sunday in the home of her uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Welty.

1 pt. pineapple sherbert
1 pt. vanilla ice cream
1 c. pineapple chunks
1/2 c. Royal Ann Cherries
1/4 c. Maraschino Cherries

Soak gelatin in water. Boil sugar and 1 cup pineapple juice and add to gelatin. Add the remaining one cup of pineapple juice and lemon juice and cool until partially set. Mix the slightly softened sherbert and ice cream together and add to the gelatin mixture. Add pineapple chunks, and cherries and freeze in 9" x 13" dish. Serves 15.

FRUIT COCKTAIL DESSERT

Part 1
1 c. sugar
1 c. flour
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. soda
1 egg beaten
2 c. drained fruit cocktail

Part 2
1/2 c. brown sugar
1/2 c. chopped pecans
Mix all of part 1 and pour into an 8" or 9" pan. Sprinkle the sugar and nuts of part 2 over the top. Bake at 325 degrees for 50 minutes. Top with whipped cream and serve.
