Robert Hawkins Attends Two Day Meet Of NFO

Robert Louis Hawkins attended a two-day convention last week of the National Farmers Organization in St. Louis, Mo.

NFO is the only farmer's organization offering block bargaining power for a farmer to control his market price.

Prospects look brighter than any time during the past 15 years, Hawkins reports.

Members of the organization feel that the group has a good program and extend an invitation to all interested persons to attend NFO meetings in their area, he added.

Castro County is in the process of enlarging their organization at the present time.

Deaf Smith County's NFO met Nov. 27 and ratified a contract for 30 million pounds of grain sorghum at $2.05 per hundredweight. Contract was signed with a Deaf Smith County feedlot.

The Deaf Smith contract is the largest such contract that has been signed in the Panhandle area. It is an increase of approximately 50 cents per hundredweight over the prices at the beginning of this year's harvest.

Approximately 140 farmers attended the meeting when the contract was ratified.

An NFO meeting was held Dec. 10 in Nazareth with 52 persons in attendance.

Reports were given on the national convention and discussion followed. The complete structure of NFO was explained.

The NFO is now forming committees in Texas, Georgia, Arizona and California to formulate a program for cotton.

Hawkins concluded, "We urge all persons interested in the future of private farms and private enterprise to investigate this organization thoroughly."

Financial Facts

By Willis A. Hawkins, Jr.

The John F. Kennedy 50-cent piece, authorized by an Act of Congress represented the sixth portrait coin used in our coinage program. Portraits of Presidents are now on all coins being minted.

They are: the head of Lincoln on the penny, adopted in 1909; the nickel featuring Jefferson, adopted in 1938; the quarter with Washington's portrait which was first issued in 1932; the Franklin D. Roosevelt dime struck in 1946; and the Kennedy half dollar. The Kennedy 50-cent coin replaced the Benjamin Franklin half dollar.

The words "In God We Trust" were first used on an American coin in 1864. Salmon P. Chase, then Secretary of the Treasury, granted the requests of many religious persons urging that the deity be recognized on our coins.

Moments Of Meditation

C. T. Cunningham, pastor of First Baptist Church

Jesus said that we are not to judge. And the Apostle Paul agrees with this. But yet we still find ourselves sizing up people. And someone will say "but you are not a judge." There is one thing in the life of Jesus that will help at this point. That is where He said, "By their fruits you shall know them." How can we use this as a criteria and not pass judgment on another person.

First, we must have a standard by which we come to a conclusion about another person. Too many times we use a false standard. Something like, what he owns, size of his bank account, and maybe simply because he does or does not go to church.

Let's look at the positive side. What about his language. This can tell very much about a person. Their thinking habits, how they feel about themselves and others. A man's language will betray him everytime.

Then next we can list his aim in life. What is he working toward and for what end? What does he want his life to be, that is when it is over and he looks back upon it?

How does he treat other people? If he is in a place of authority, does he respect the rights of others, that he demands for himself.

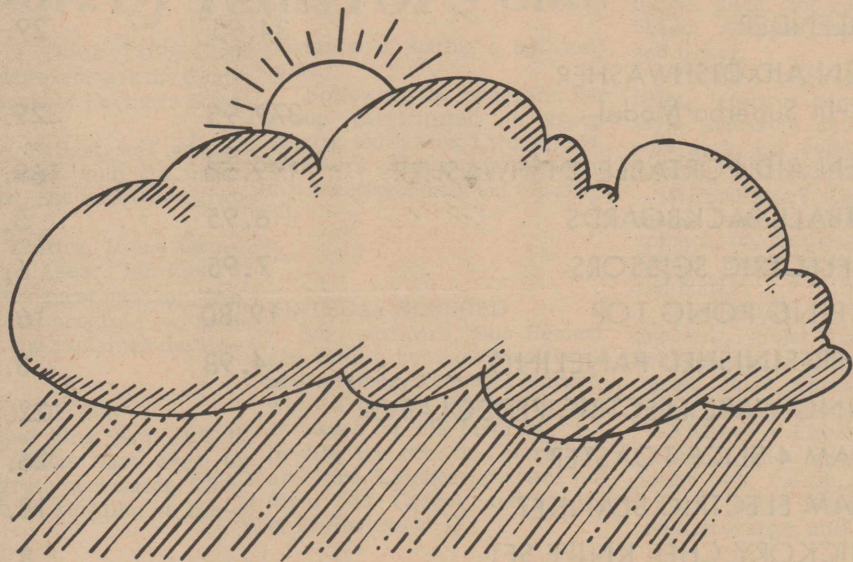

We must list next what he likes to do. Ann Landers says that nothing can tell more about a person than what they call fun. In the name of fun many persons are hurt, injured or property destroyed, etc. Yes, what does he like to do? This is a very important.

These are some positive things to look for in another person's life. Then too, how does your life measure up to these?
