About 175 Alumni of the West Texas State University of Agriculture Department and their families, attending the organizational meeting of the WTSU Agriculture Alumni Development Association Saturday Oct. 11, were told by Hank Brown executive director of the West Ex-Student, Inc. that the department is next in line to become a school at the University.

Willis A. Hawkins II of Hart, was chosen for one of the directors for the newly formed association. Hawkins is 43 years old and has been associated with the Farmers State Bank since 1965, when it was purchased and reorganized by its present owners.

Letter To Citizens

The Mayor and city commissioners strongly urge everyone in the city limits of Hart to clean up around their property; to cut or mow all weeds, keep all trash picked up around their homes.

Some of the business places have a terrible fire hazard around their buildings. This needs to be taken care of immediately.

At this time of the year weeds and trash can be a terrible fire hazard. You might save your home or your neighbor's home by keeping your property clean.

This trash and rubbish can be placed by your trash barrel and the city will pick it up. If you have no way of mowing your vacant lots contact the city and they will mow them and bill you for this.

E. E. Foster
Mayor, City of Hart

Annual Texas Prison Rodeo Final Performance Sunday

The final performance of the 38th Annual Texas Prison Rodeo here Sunday, Oct. 26, will be a three-way event highlighting an honor to State Senator William T. (Bill) Moore of Bryan, the personal appearance of colorful singer Hank Snow, and forty-five determined convict cowboys giving their all to close out the 1969 series.

Senator Moore, who represents the 5th district, will receive special recognition for his efforts in supporting the legislative programs of the Texas Department of Corrections.

Known as "The Singing Ranger", Snow, a native of Nova Scotia, has been climbing the ladder of success with appearances on the "Grand Old Opry", plus top-selling recordings which have been popular for a number of years.

As to the rodeo part of the show, which begins at 2 p. m. in the prison stadium, there will be tough convict riders doing their best to chalk up enough points to win cash for their efforts. As to which one of these cowboys will be the top man, it is anybody's guess since thus far the spirited broncs and wild Brahma bulls have controlled most of the unusual events.

To round out the fast-moving two-hour show, prison rodeo officials have arranged for the best inmate performers to present their talents between the regular rodeo contests.

'PHRIENDLY PHANTOM' JOINS HALLOWEEN FUN

"Whooo . . . Whooo . . ." Ghosts, goblins, witches and hobos are out celebrating a spooky Halloween eve. Trick or treating is fun for youngsters as they run from house to house gathering goodies. After bags are full and legs are weary, have kids invite their friends over for a Halloween party. Games and fun continue with fortune telling, bobbing for apples and a hunt for the witch's broom. And no party is complete without refreshments. For a festive centerpiece make a "Phriendly Phantom" Ghost. Puffed rice is combined with a marshmallow-butter mixture and molded to form a ghost. He's fun to look at, and kids will enjoy eating this chewy ghost, too. Serve doughnuts and warm spiced cider for a "Happy Halloween".

"PHRIENDLY PHANTOM" GHOST
Makes 1 ghost

- 6 cups puffed rice
- 3 cups miniature marshmallows
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 large licorice gumdrop, cut into 3 circles

Heat puffed rice in shallow baking pan in preheated moderate oven (350°F.) about 10 minutes. Pour into greased large bowl. Melt marshmallows and butter in saucepan over low heat, stirring occasionally until smooth. Add vanilla.

Pour over puffed rice, stirring until evenly coated. With greased hands, shape a figure that resembles a ghost, about 8 inches high. Attach gumdrop circles with confectioners sugar frosting for the eyes and the mouth.

All of the stainless steel components in the experimental plane "Pioneer", built by The Budd Company of Philadelphia, which flew for the first time in 1931, were found to be in excellent condition when the plane was recently rededicated at the Franklin Institute in Philadelphia. The body of the "Pioneer" employed welded nickel stainless steel in the fuselage skin and inner framework. The high-strength metal was also used for the ribs, spars and struts in the wings and tail section and for the wingtip pontoons.

The U. S. normally uses 40 per cent of the world supply of nickel and tin and 45 per cent of its chromium.

A PRIMORDIAL METAL?

Nickel in trace amounts has been found in marine organisms. Plankton sampled by marine biologists had twice as much nickel as was present in higher marine plants. Their nickel content was found to be ten times that of fish and mollusks examined. It has been suggested that this concentration of nickel is evidence that the element has some function in the growth or metabolism of plankton.

Horns Trample Bulldogs

By David Bass

Hart Longhorns spotted Anton seven points in the first quarter and then went on to beat the Bulldogs 49-7 in Anton Friday night.

It was the last non-district game for the Horns. They open district play against Nazareth Friday in Hart at 7:30 p. m. The game will be Hart's Homecoming.

Against Anton, the Horns received the opening kickoff and proceeded to march to the Anton 25-yard line. An untimely fumble stopped the drive there. The Bulldogs showed that they were not to be denied either, and took the ball to the Hart 30, where they lost the ball on downs.

The Horns could get nowhere, however, and had to punt to the Bulldogs. James Holmes received the punt on the Hart 45 yard line and the Bulldog halfback ran the rest of the way to the goal line. Holmes also kicked the extra point to take the lead 7-0.

The rest of the first quarter found both teams getting nowhere and the first 12 minutes of play ended with Anton's Bulldogs leading 7-0.

In the second period things got going for the Horns when Andy Rogers intercepted a Bulldog pass and turned it into a 50-yard touchdown. Jerry Heller threw to Donnie Black for the two extras and the Horns went ahead to stay.

The Bulldogs could get nowhere on the ground so they decided to try to move the ball air mail. This turned out to be another break for the Horns as defensive halfback Gary Six intercepted a pass on the Bulldog 45. Behind some fine running plays by Johnny Ethridge and Landria Bruington, the Horns moved the ball down to the Anton one yard line.

Quarterback Harold Bennett took the ball in from there. Try for the extra point was no good but the Horns went to the dressing room at halftime with a 14-7 lead.

The Horns kicked off to the Bulldogs to begin the second half. The Bulldogs found running room getting scarce and had to punt.

The Horns took the ball on their own 30-yard line. After one running play, Black took the ball on a pass and ran 64 yards to a touchdown. The kick by Johnny Ethridge for the extra point was good.

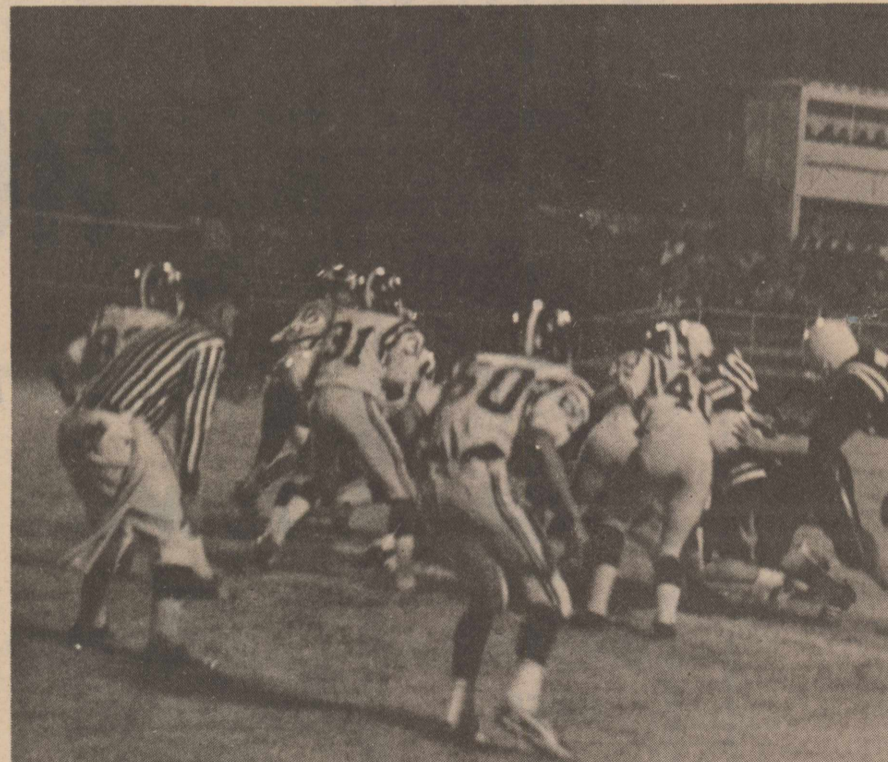

On the next Bulldog drive, Heller recovered a fumble and the Horns were rolling again. This time it was Bruington scampering to a touchdown from the Anton 45. The kick by Johnny Ethridge was good and the Horns led 28-7.

The Bulldogs could get nowhere in the fourth quarter as the ball was back with the Horns soon. Bruington ran a fine touchdown play from the Hart 45 to start the scoring of the last period. Ethridge converted and Hart led 42-7.

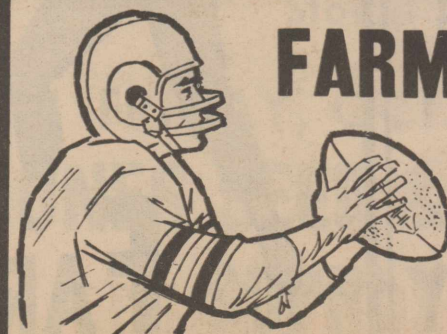

The Bulldogs still could get nowhere and Hart had the ball again. But this time the Horns found the going a little tougher and punted back to the Dogs. Still Anton could find no running room and back went the ball to the Horns. This time the Horns moved the ball to the Anton one yard line where Dyer blasted in for the final Hart touchdown.

Ethridge converted and the Horns led 49-7. The Bulldogs found a little running room on the next and final drive of the night and with a little help from a 15 yard penalty, the Dogs found themselves on the Hart nine yard line. The Bulldogs made a game effort at scoring, but time ran out and the score stood at Hart Longhorns 49 and Anton Bulldogs 7.

East Texas State Buffs Face New Mexico Aggies

During their third homecoming Saturday night at Anton stadium, West Texas State Buffs face the New Mexico Aggies at 1:50 p.m. in the homecoming clash.

The Buffs will bring a 3-2 record to the game at Anton stadium. One of the nation's top sophomores, Ron

Clarence Redic, playing on an injured ankle, had his least effective day at quarterback. He connected on only four of 13 passes and had two interceptions. Redic also ended the game with a minus six yards and fumbles. Twice the Buffs fumbled, once at the 16-yard line of Colorado State and once at the Ram 25. In the second quarter a Ram defender intercepted an Olan Thompson pass in the end zone. Later in the game a drive was halted when a pass intended for Duane Thomas bounced off his arms and into the hands of a Ram defender.

Olan Thompson put the Buffs on the scoreboard with a 90-yard sprint with a kickoff. He also rushed for 105 yards in 15 carries to become the leading Buff rusher for the season. The junior halfback has 339 net yards, one more than Thomas, who rambled for 85 yards in 15 carries against the Rams.

Clarence Redic, playing on an injured ankle, had his least effective day at quarterback. He connected on only four of 13 passes and had two interceptions. Redic also ended the game with a minus six yards rushing, the first time he has been on the minus side of the ledger in five games.

In James, New Mexico State has a tremendous all-around threat. He has picked up 489 yards rushing in five games and leads the team in kickoff returns, averaging 29.8 yards per carry.

The 195-pound Aggie sophomore also leads the team in scoring with 31 points. He has three touchdowns, eight of 10 extra point kicks and two of six field goals.

Shorthorns Whip Lazbuddie For Third Win In A Row

By David Bass

The Hart Shorthorns eighth grade team found that football could be fun as they whipped the Lazbuddie Shorthorns 52-6. It was the Shorthorns third win in a row. The Horns have beaten Kress, Amherst and now Lazbuddie. Amherst and Lazbuddie games were district games.

Hart's first score came in the first quarter when Juan Valadez scampered in from the eight-yard line. Extra point was good.

A few minutes later Valadez scored again, this time on a 40-yard run. Extra point was again good. To cap the first quarter scoring Kim Dyer caught a 10 yard pass from James McLain for the TD and extra point was good.

Early in the second quarter it was Valadez again, on a 34-yard run. The extra point was good. Near the end of the half, Dyer scored on a 40-yard run and the extra point made it 40-0 at the half.

Lazbuddie's lone score came in the third period on a 12-yard run by their halfback. Extra points was no good.

In the fourth quarter, Hart got back on the scoring trail as Jimmy Brown ran Lazbuddie's kickoff after their T. D. back 80 yards. To finish the scoring, Ken Davis ran 10 yards for a touchdown. Point after was no good but the Shorthorns won the game 52-6.

'The Up And Down Drugs'

SECOND IN SERIES

NEED-TO-KNOW ABOUT DRUG ABUSE: What Are The "Up and Down Drugs" And What Can They Do?

Amphetamines and barbiturates are the "up and down" drugs, usually taken in pill form.

They are said to "pick you up when you're down and bring you down when you're up." For most people, amphetamines do have exhilarating effects, while barbiturates bring calming.

They are powerful drugs, too powerful to play around with. Yet too many people are doing so. No one knows how many, but the best estimates are that about 200,000 -- and perhaps as many as 400,000 -- persons REGULARLY abuse these and other non-narcotic drugs.

The case of Mary Jones illustrates the matter. It's a hypothetical case, not a real name, but it is true.

Mary takes amphetamines to get going and barbiturates to put her to sleep. She does this day in and out. She takes the "up and down" pills WITHOUT the supervision of her family doctor.

Mary is -- or is on the way to being -- a slave of these drugs, addicted to them, a "junkie" as the slang goes. What is worse, she doesn't know it. She doesn't know facts she needs to know, like these:

The "up drugs," pep pills also called "bennies" and "speed," are a group of drugs know as amphetamines. They form one-half of what is perhaps the biggest part of the drug abuse problem in the U. S. today.

The other half of the problem are the "down drugs" -- sedatives, sleeping pills, the large family of drugs made for medical purposes to relax a person.

What do the "down drugs" do?

They produce a relaxing effect for most people; in normal, medically supervised doses, they mildly depress the action of the nerves, skeletal muscles, and heart muscle. In abnormal doses, the effects resemble alcoholic drunkenness.

Are these drugs addicting? The amphetamines or "up drugs" produce "psychological" dependence -- a practice that can become a habit for mental or emotional reasons.

The "down drugs," barbiturates usually, are physically addicting. Some experts consider barbiturate addiction more difficult to cure than dependency upon a narcotic like heroin or cocaine.

Are these drugs dangerous to use?

They have definite medical and health values if properly used under a physician's direction.

None is properly available WITHOUT a physician's prescription. This is for the very good reason that their misuse or abuse can be dangerous.

Barbiturates are a leading cause of accidental poison deaths. Sleeping pills distort how people see things; they slow down reactions and responses. They are an important cause of automobile accidents.

Amphetamines misused can lead to accidental deaths and to accidents because they can distort perception, judgment, and even cause severe mental derangement.

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

Help to Destroy Church, Nation?

Some Negro church leaders have more discernment and, apparently, more courage than many white religious leaders.

One such man is Rev. C. L. Conner, pastor of the Pilgrim Baptist Church in Cincinnati. This Negro clergyman says:

"If a man goes into a bank and hands the teller a note demanding $10,000, he will be arrested for bank robbery. Yet we have preachers who are so cowardly as to allow godless people to come into their churches, disrupt their service and read the Black Manifesto which demands $500 million.

"Any man of the cloth, regardless of his denomination, is unworthy of the title 'Reverend' when he allows this to be done in his church. I want them to know personally that I neither have respect for them nor their parishioners who tolerate this blackmail attempt."

Money for Militants

Either because of lack of courage or for some other reason, the Episcopal Church has voted to give $200,000 and the National Council of Churches has voted to give $500,000 to the National Committee of Black Churchmen.

"But we expect the NBEDC to be the ultimate recipient," stated Rev. Robert P. Varley, chairman of the Episcopal Church committee that produced the original resolution on the gift. Rev. Varley was referring to the $200,000 promised by the Episcopal Church, but the same thing appears to be true also of the $500,000 voted by the National Council of Churches.

The NBEDC, of course, is the National Black Economic Development Conference.

The Richmond (Va.) News Leader has described the NBEDC as "a group whose declared purpose is to destroy the Christian church."

If the Episcopal Church and the National Council of Churches are acting out of fear -- terrorized by the threats contained in the Black Manifesto -- let them say so and we will understand, though we cannot approve of their actions.

But if they are truthful when they say that they are giving this money willingly, though not endorsing the Black Manifesto program, that is a different matter.

To say that we disagree with a man's principles and objectives -- and yet to give him willingly the money with which to advance these objectives is the act of a fool or a knave.

Wisdom Perishing?

Long ago, the prophet Isaiah declared, "The Lord said, 'Forasmuch as this people draw near Me with their mouth, and with their lips do honor Me, but have removed their heart far from Me . . . I will proceed to do a marvelous work among this people . . . for the wisdom of their wise men shall perish and the understanding of their prudent men shall be hid.'"

Are we seeing a repetition of the "marvelous work"? Have some of our religious leaders so departed from right ways that they can no longer discern when the actions that they take are leading to the destruction of the church and the nation to which they owe loyalty?

It is hard to believe that they are deliberately working to accomplish the objectives set forth so clearly in the Black Manifesto -- objectives which no loyal American, and certainly no loyal Christian, can endorse.

I suggest that you pray that this program will be defeated.

Danger To Panhandle Youth

Dear Friends:

The illegal traffic and use of narcotics in Amarillo and other Panhandle communities is on the upswing. This is the alarming news I received from sources close to the problem during my most recent trip to the 18th Congressional District.

This news troubles me greatly. The illegal use of narcotics brings slavery not freedom; drugs possess the potential for ruining the lives of all those who come in contact with them.

The dangers of illegal narcotics can hardly be overstated. I have been advised that samples of some of the illegal drugs sold to unsuspecting young people throughout the Panhandle contain as much as 85 percent strychnine poison and 15 percent opium, heroin, or other narcotic by-products. These drugs are deadly; their use must not be permitted or condoned.

Your cooperation is urgently needed. I urge all citizens to join together and fight this growing menace. Discussion groups both in and out of the classroom are needed to fully acquaint our citizens about the dangers of narcotics and to determine the full extent of this problem in Panhandle communities. In addition, suspicious situations and individuals should be reported to the police immediately.

I am in the process of obtaining a film on the narcotics problem which will be made available for public use through my Amarillo office. For further information concerning what you can do to help rid our local communities of this peril, please contact your local police department.

Congressman Bob Price

According To IRS

There has been a lot of discussion about how we should run the Post Office. Without getting involved in this question at all, we do think that the post Office deserves some sort of public service award. The Postmaster in most small towns and rural communities acts as "Mr. Federal Service" for all government agencies. If you want a federal job, you go to the post office. If you want any kind of federal information, or have to register under any federal law, you ordinarily go to the post office. If you want to go hunting and you need a duck stamp, you go to the post office. Since most Postmasters are popular community leaders and are automatically expected to eat chicken at all local civic luncheons, the good mail men must be pretty accomodating folks.

The Dallas District Office of Internal Revenue started working with Post Offices in Northern Texas many years ago to make common tax forms available at the Post Office for taxpayers who need them and to provide a simple postcard order form for the other, or out-of-the-ordinary forms. This helps the taxpayer get his publication or unusual tax form from the Dallas IRS office without giving the mail men too much trouble. Every year the 1000 Post Offices in Northern Texas help taxpayers get several million extra tax forms that they need over and beyond those IRS sends them through the mail in the regular tax package. The Postmasters and all of the Post Office employees who work with the good tax folks deserve the taxpayers' public service award year after year.

'The Farmer Is In Trouble'

GUEST EDITORIAL H. M. BAGGERLY TULIA HERALD

There are many ideas abroad concerning the plight of today's American farmer. There are as many voices as there are farm organizations.

On one thing, most agree. The farmer is in trouble! Serious trouble!

Every time we listen, we hear a different proposal as to the solution of the problems of agriculture.

So far as details are concerned, it is understandable that we hear a variety of suggestions. But the underlying problems of agriculture... and its basic solution... are far less complex.

There is little debate over the problems of labor and management. It has been determined, to an extent, what is a fair wage... and what is a fair rate of return to business. Of course this system is not perfect. Business and labor will never be in total agreement as to what is a fair profit and wage. But we have been able to live with the system... and neither labor nor business have any valid complaints of any magnitude. Of course there are exceptions to all rules, but in the main, both business and labor never before had it better! Labor has a decent standard of living, and business, generally speaking, has been able to remain solvent and show a profit.

We call this balance between business and labor parity. Both are getting their fair share of the economic dollar... parity.

This is done through negotiation. Wages are not arbitrarily set by business but are arrived at on the basis of facts and figures and a balance of power between the negotiating parties.

But we have a third party involved... the agriculturist. He is the third leg of the three-legged stool. He is due his fair share of the economic dollar, just as is business or labor. He produces the ingredients that go into a product. Labor does the work of manufacturing the product. Business furnishes the overall management, takes the risks, and markets the product. All three are necessary. All contribute a necessary service. All deserve a fair share of the profit.

We need not point out that the farmer, unlike labor or business, has not the slightest power of negotiation. He is like the smaller brother who gets what his two larger brothers will that he should have!

The farm problem is simple in that even a fool must recognize that the producer of raw materials is due a fair share of the total production just as are the other two parties involved.

The only problem to be solved is... what is the best, the most feasible way to assure the producer his fair share.

Business has traditionally been in a position to demand its fair share of the economic dollar... it sets its price accordingly. It produces what the public must have... and our only choice, within reasonable bounds, is to pay what business asks. Detroit decides the fair price of a new car... we have no choice but to pay it!

Until less than a hundred years ago, labor, like the farmer, was the "little brother." Labor received for his services whatever business offered him. His choice was to accept it... or starve.

But he recognized the fact that he didn't have to live on starvation wages. Although business was in the saddle, it still could not produce without labor. So labor got smart, organized, and became a partner to the working agreement. Through cooperation, labor was able to speak not as individuals but as a group. He solved his problem.

The farmer, like business and labor, also has his peculiar problem. He has been too individualistic to organize. Organization demands as its price concessions and compromise. One surrenders a part of his individualism in return for security and a living wage.

During occasional periods, both business and labor were able to prosper without controls under the law of supply and demand. In wartime when laborers were scarce, wages tended to climb and the worker prospered. In times of peace when laborers were plentiful, wages tended to sag and business enjoyed prosperity. So it was that when agricultural production facilities were underdeveloped and drouth or insect cut production, agricultural prices tended to climb. But when there was a bountiful harvest, down went prices!

It isn't good enough to have a prosperous year just every now and then... and usually at the expense of another segment of society.

The farmer has several choices in seeking his fair share of the economic dollar.

He can voluntarily unionize, demand parity for his produce, and hold out until he gets it. Problems include getting highly individualistic farmers to abandon their independence and individualism in numbers sufficient to control the market and the ability of the farmer to "hold out" when he produces on borrowed money and has obligations due at the time of harvest.

The government can assist by setting up machinery whereby a government activity can perform the functions of a union to the extent of determining a fair price and guaranteeing it by "subsidizing" the market price. The cost of this "subsidy" would be passed on to the public through taxation just as it would be passed on to the public through higher prices in the case of a union. The net effect is the same in either case.

Thirdly, he can do nothing, he can maintain his individualism and his "freedom"... and go broke.

The farmer, under either plan, is no more "subsidized" than is labor and business. The public would pay a little more in order to cover the cost of production, just as it now pays lots more to assure business and labor its fair share. Whether the public pays a fair price through the grocery store or through taxation is immaterial, completely beside the point.

We live in a world where nobody voluntarily gives us anything... we must demand what we get... including a fair price for our merchandise, labor, or raw materials.

The farmer will be willing to continue the present system of taking what he is offered... provided... labor and business are willing to do the same.

But if labor and business are unwilling... it is time for revolution!

Youth representing the churches will be involved, calling themselves "Youth In Action". These volunteers are supervised and will be wearing CROP "help stop hunger" identification tags.

Collected funds will be given to CROP which sends food and supplies to hungry people in more than 30 countries through Church World Service. High protein foods are shipped to victims of war or disaster, primarily to nursing mothers and children. CROP also provides supplies and equipment, as well as funds, to attack root causes of hunger.

Special assistance is given to develop water resources or to provide fertilizer or higher-yielding seed. CROP also supports family planning clinics.

All young people of junior high and high school age are urged to participate in the canvass. The group will meet at the Baptist Church at 7 p. m. for instructions and identification tags.

Refreshments will be served following the canvass. Businesses and people who live out of the city limits may make their contribution in the form of a deposit to CROP at the Farmers State Bank.

Ricky Farris

Sandy Bennett

Hi again! As most of you know this week is Homecoming. Like every year in the past we have a full week and believe us, this has been a busy one. Things got underway Monday. Everyone, or should I say most everyone, was out hunting bonfire wood, just like they were doing Tuesday and Wednesday. Wednesday was dress up day and the Seniors had their "little" pictures made. Thursday was western day and Friday was Maroon and White day. The "Pinning Ceremony" was held in the gymnasium Friday morning. It's too bad we can't do that every Friday.

SOCK IT TO 'EM HORNS

Friday at 7:30 we play Nazareth. At 7 p. m. the 1969-'70 Football Queen will be crowned.

Our Bonfire King will be crowned Thursday at the pep rally. King candidates are Andy Rogers, Graciela Catano, Harold Bob Bennett. Congratulations!!!

GET 'EM HORNS

We would like to congratulate the Horns for their great victory over Anton last Friday. The score was 49-7. Keep it up, Horns.

ALL THE WAY HORNS

The junior play "Rest Assured" has been cast as follows: Mrs. Morlock, Janet McLain; Mr. Morlock, Ralph Bell; Mary, Sandy Bennett; Jessica, Debbie Daves; Joe, Lonny Daves; Mildred, Carol Miller; Miss Akers, Sheron Brooks; George, Donnie Shives; Luigi, Vic Nelson; Martha, Carolyn Cole; Dr. Brown, Gary Six; Jake, Don Follis; Mr. Black, David Warren; Lucifer, Donnie Burruss; The Man, Donnie Burruss; Mrs. Smaltz, Denise Lowery; Mrs. Frinck, De Rhonda Brown.

The play is under the direction of Mrs. Farris and Miss Scott and will be presented Nov. 18. Good luck Juniors!!!

WIN DISTRICT HORNS!!!

This week, and for a few weeks more, we are asking a teacher to write a few words on a specific topic. This week we have asked one of our new teachers, Miss Scott to give us her first impression of our little community.

"I came around the curve on 168 and saw the grain elevators. My car bumped across the railroad tracks, and passed the Phillips 66 station. I asked myself, "Is this all of it?" Then I found the bank, the hardware stores, the grocery stores, and the cafes. Hart was getting bigger.

The school, the churches, and the homes were not difficult to locate. Hart was even bigger than I thought it was.

I was frightened of this new experience. Every face was strange to me, but it seemed as though everyone knew that I was the stranger.

Two months have gone by since my arrival. I've met many people. Now, those strange faces have friendly names to go with them.

Hart isn't so very small after all!"

Financial Facts

By Willis A. Hawkins, Jr.

An ancient Roman bank consisted of a large, solidly constructed apartment. The money changer sat on a high stool. Coins were spread out before him behind a bronze mesh screen.

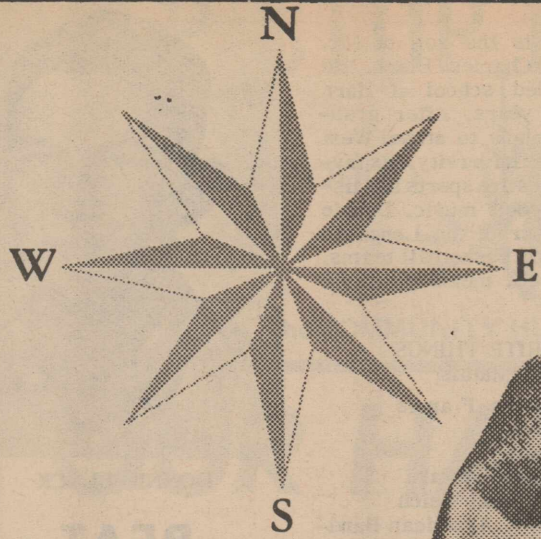

His clients entered from the porticos in front. Perhaps one client was a lawyer depositing a fee won in the Forum. Or it might have been a young patrician on his way to the circus. He would draw a thousand restatii to bet on his favorite gladiator. Even a Thessalian slave could enter. He would add to a growing sum for purchasing his freedom.

Ancient Roman bankers were not merely money-changers. Their daily routine included: opening accounts, receipt of deposits, issuing bills of exchange, making loans, and purchasing mortgages.

EAST, WEST LOVE IS BEST

Sue and Lee were only names to me when I first saw their picture. Incredible — that the children I now mother tenderly, once were strangers!

It seems only yesterday Dan wrote he was bringing them home. How frantic I was with worry and self-doubt. Could I love, as my own, children with slanted eyes and tinted skins? Would I fail them? Could I fulfill Dan's faith in me? We had been longing for children, true — but not foreigners!

In desperation, I called my pastor. Calmly and with understanding, he spoke to me of God's love as the common denominator of all nationalities.

And so from the moment I saw them, Sue and Lee have been our own, bringing laughter and joy without measure.

How grateful I am for God and His Church and the wisdom they teach — in Christ there is no East nor West. Without this truth my arms might still be empty.
