S. P. KENY LOSES BARN BY FIRE

The large barn belonging to S. P. Keny, in the east part of town, was destroyed by fire Tuesday night. Mr. Keny and his family had just returned from the carnival, put their car in the garage and gone to bed. When they discovered the flames the barn was totally destroyed in a very short time. Mr. Keny stated that it seemed to be a spontaneous combustion.

It was fortunate that Mr. Keny had no livestock in the barn at the time, as at times in the past he has had as many as a carload of hogs in the barn at one time. There was a considerable amount of feed in the barn, some meat that Mr. Keny put up last winter. The buildings beside the barn were damaged. Mr. Keny estimates his total loss at about $3000, which is covered by insurance.

V. D. S. Club.

The V. D. S. Club, was entertained Tuesday afternoon at five thirty by Miss Grethen Howell. All enjoyed a few games of Bunco after which aniced course was served. Mitchell of near Roby stopped off here to spend a day with Mr. White and family, and caught Sam White. Mr. Mitchell is a brother of Mr. White.

RESOLUTIONS ARE ADOPTED

U. C. V.'s of Knox City Submit Congratulations to Comptroller Smith and Receive Reply.

The Confederate Veterans of Knox City, at a meeting held following the primary election, adopted resolutions congratulations to Comptroller Lon A. Smith upon his renomination for the office of state comptroller and reply was received from Comptroller Smith:

Austin, Texas, August 12, 1922. Adjutant Matt Guthrie, Knox City, Texas.

Dear Sir: The resolution adopted by your committee impresses me most deeply. I thank you very much for this expression of your friendship and good will for me. Acts like this are indeed oasis in the desert of life.

I am glad to number the old Confederates and their widows among my best and truest friends wherever they are found. They contributed much to the success of my campaign. I am glad to serve them in any way and am guarding most sacredly the pension fund, looking for an increase from time to time as the appropriation will permit and I shall represent certain matters of legislation which I think will be helpful to them when the Legislature convenes in January.

Again thanking you for your expression of confidence, I am,

Yours very truly,
Lon A. Smith,
Comptroller.

FIRST BALE IS RECEIVED

Knox City received her first bale of 1922 cotton Wednesday. It was raised by L. L. Houston, who lives on Route 2. The bale weighed 495 pounds and brought $2055, besides a premium made up by the business men of Knox City.

About two hours after Mr. Houston arrived with this first bale Mr. Thomas of near O'Brien brought in the second bale of this season.

The first bale last year came in on the 18th of August, two days later than this year's first bale was brought in.

Sergeant Grady S. Benedict of the local branch of the Texas National Guard, who had been on strike duty at Denison, returned home Sunday. It is probable that others of the local detachment, perhaps all who went from here, will return home within the next week. A move is on foot to get all the in the school age who are in the service released in time for the coming term of school, if the strike is not settled by that time.

EARL T. WILLIAMS BUYS THE LORRAINE LEADER.

OIL WELL IS "SPUDED IN"

According to schedule, Knox City's first oil well was spudded in Thursday morning at 11:30. A large crowd was on hand to witness the event. Dr. James M. Green, one of the principal stockholders and promoters of the Brazos-Beed Oil Company, made a brief talk in which he stated the purpose and plans of the organization and told of the plans that had already been carried out by the company. Promptly at the appointed time the machinery was started up and the drilling began.

A number of those present remained for some time after the drilling started, others returning to town soon afterward. The members of the company and others are taking much interest in the oil development proceedings and all are looking forward with expectation, hoping that soon the development will result in real financial benefit to the town and community and that oil will be found in paying quantities.

W. M. S.

The W. M. S. of the Methodist Church met Monday afternoon with Mrs. S. M. Clonts. There were about twenty members and four visitors present. The feature of the meeting was planning for the Christmas Bazaar. The Methodist ladies plan to hold a bazaar and all women of the church are invited to contribute articles for sale. The next social meeting will be held with Mrs. C. B. Teague on the second Monday in September.

The C. W. B. M. Social will meet with Mrs. Henry Haalin next Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. All members are urged to attend and bring their handwork.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Railway Executives Refuse to Accept President's Plan as to Seniority.

STRIKE SETTLEMENT FAILS

Federal and State Control of Coal Distribution Gets Under Way—Chicago Traction Workers Quit—Results of Some Interesting Primaries—France Warns Germany.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD
NEGOTIATIONS for the ending of the railroad strike were at least temporarily halted again last week when the plan of President Harding failed of complete acceptance. Optimistic prophets of immediate peace were confounded.

As expressed by himself, the President's plan comprised these stipulations:—
First—Railway managers and workmen are to agree to recognize the validity of all decisions of the railroad labor board and to faithfully carry out such decisions as contemplated by the law.

Second—The carriers will withdraw all lawsuits growing out of the strike and railroad labor board decisions which have been involved in the strike may be taken, in the exercise of recognized rights, by either party to a railroad labor board for rehearing.

Third—All employees now on strike to be returned to work and to their former positions with seniority and other rights unimpaired. The representatives of the carriers and the representatives of the organizations especially agree that there will be no discrimination by either party against the employees who did or did not strike.

The railway executives were the first to act on these proposals. They accepted the first; agreed to the second with the understanding that the strike be first called off and that the representatives of the strikers pledge themselves and the strikers against violence in any form against the men now at work and the property of the carriers, declared it was impossible for them to agree to the first sentence of the third proposal.

Having placed themselves in a strategic position by awaiting action by the executives, the representatives of the striking shopmen met in Chicago and voted, though with expressed reluctance, to accept the President's proposals. This was conditioned upon recognition of the union interpretation of the plan, which, among other things, would require the Pennsylvania railroad to abandon its fight for the open shop. The shop crafts also insist on the establishment of a national board of adjustment which would relieve the labor board of all disputes except those involving wages. Some roads have agreed to regional boards, but probably all of them are opposed to one national board which would prescribe uniform conditions regardless of needs of various localities.

Seemingly the rail executives are in dead earnest in their refusal to abandon their stand on seniority rights. They notified their local employees and other workmen that they would be protected and guaranteed permanent employment, and went ahead with the task of filling the places of the strikers. In New York it was said their decisive stand resulted in a rush of applicants for jobs. Public opinion is widely divided concerning this attitude of the railway executives. Many persons feel that it is only justice to the men who have remained at work and those who have responded to the call for workers to take up the tools the strikers laid down. Those who sympathize strongly with the demands of organized labor take the position that the action of the railway heads is a part of a campaign to destroy the unions.

It was predicted in Washington that President Harding would do nothing more in the matter at present, giving the railroads an opportunity to prove that they could operate effectively without the services of the striking shopmen. Roads unable to do so, particularly carriers reaching into the producing bituminous fields, may be taken over and operated by the federal government.

PRESIDENT LEWIS of the mine workers made a definite move for settlement of the coal strike by calling a joint wage conference of operators and miners of the central competitive bituminous field, to be held in Cleveland August 7. Unfortunately, the operators, or most of them, refused to attend.

Meanwhile Henry R. Spencer, who was appointed federal fuel distributor, and his committee and subcommittees began functioning actively. According to Mr. Spencer's plan, the federal organization will cover the distribution of available supplies among the railroads, federal institutions and states, and the governors of the states will handle local supplies. State fuel committees were called on to report at once the consumption of coal in their territories by utilities, industries and households and to submit a list of those who should receive priorities. These state committees are also made entirely responsible for the prevention of profiteering and extortion in the sale and distribution of coal within their respective states.

Governor McCray of Indiana took the most vigorous action yet reported in the matter of getting out coal. The miners of the state refused to issue permits to sufficient men to operate the mines for emergency purposes, so the governor opened two strip mines in Clay county under the protection of 800 state troops as a preliminary measure and declared a state of martial law to exist in that part of the county.

CHICAGO'S street car strike came along according to schedule. Some 20,000 employees of the surface and elevated lines quit early Tuesday morning and no attempt was made to take the cars out of the yards. Motor vehicles of all descriptions were called into service and on the first day there was a terrific congestion of traffic. By Wednesday the police, motor clubs and individual motorists had worked out a system that brought the situation almost to normal, and many a Chicagoan began to wonder if the city couldn't get along without the noisy street and elevated cars. Also they learned the worth of one-way street regulations in the business center.

Toward the end of the week peace negotiations were resumed, but the local president of the employees said he saw no prospect for an early settlement. The men are fighting not only a proposed wage reduction, but a nine-hour day. Chances of an order by the state public utilities board reducing fares and politics enter into the Chicago situation, and it was frequently and openly asserted that the strike was a "put up job" to prevent the fare reduction and to deal a blow to Mayor Thompson and his organization. The mayor has long promised a 5-cent fare and last week tried to take steps toward the establishing of a municipal bus line to supplant the street cars.

AT THIS writing it appears probable that United States Senator James A. Reed has been re-nominated by the Legislature of Missouri, defeating Breckinridge Long in a fight that was hot and even bitter. Mr. Long had the support of former President Wilson, during whose administration he was assistant secretary of state. The dislike that Mr. Wilson and many others have for Reed dates from the years of the World war. The Republicans of Missouri nominated R. R. Brewster of Kansas City for the senate.

In Kansas, W. Y. Morgan, Hutchinson editor, was leading former Gov. W. R. Stubbs for the Republican gubernatorial nomination when about 75 per cent of the returns were in. Phil Campbell, veteran member of congress from the Third district, failed of re-nomination. Senator Howard Sutherland was re-nominated by the Republicans of West Virginia.

Republicans of Iowa, in state convention at Des Moines, warmly endorsed the record of Senator Cummins and pointedly neglected to mention Smith W. Brookhart, the party nominee to succeed Cummins. This was pleasing to the Democrats, also in convention, and their candidate, Clyde L. Herring, predicted he would win with out any Republican opposition.

GERMANY has been trying to postpone the payment of debts to French citizens contracted by Germans before the war, and last week France grew tired of this and brusquely notified Berlin that unless assurance of the payment of $10,000,000 by August 15 were received within four days France would impose penalties of an economic and financial character. It was stated in Paris that these penalties would include the seizure of such German industrial enterprises as are still tolerated in Alsace-Lorraine. It may be some industries in occupied Germany will be seized. A still more elaborate scheme was proposed by members of the French parliament to Premier Poincare. This is nothing less than the separation of the Rhineland from Germany, giving it a parliament and government and a financial regime supervised by the allies. All Prussian officials would be ousted.

Great Britain sent a note to all the allies explaining that America's attitude concerning war debts made it necessary for Britain to collect from her debtors unless all the inter-allied indebtedness is canceled. The other European nations interpreted this as directed solely to America, and in Washington it was stated officially the note would cause no change in the policy of the United States toward its foreign debts.

Premier Poincare and members of his cabinet are in London this week, the date of the conference with Lloyd George having been advanced.

ONE after another the strongholds of the Irish rebels in the south are being taken by the nationals, and the irregulars so far have not made a determined stand, despite the reported pleas of De Valera. Harry Boland, one of De Valera's closest friends and who was with him in America, died of a bullet wound. Liam Mellows, Sean O'Malley, Rory O'Connor, General Quinn and other Sinn leaders are prisoners. The final triumph of the provisional government seems near.

FOR one minute last Friday every telephone and telegraph instrument in America was silent. This was the impressive tribute to the memory of Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, who died in Baddeck, Nova Scotia, at the age of seventy-five years. The great scientist perfected many other notable inventions, and also was untiring in his efforts to aid the deaf.

United States Senator William E. Crowe of Pennsylvania, who succeeded Senator Knox, died at his home after an illness that began last December. He appeared in the senate only twice before that time.

POULTRY

PLAN TO PREVENT MOULTING

Natural for Very Early Hatched Pullets to Go Through Partial Molt in Fall.

Every fall we hear a number of reports of pullet-egg production being cut down by fall moulting. This is perhaps only natural when we consider that every one is working toward early maturity and production by means of better breeding early hatching and heavy feeding. It is natural for very early hatched pullets to go through a partial molt before cold weather. In addition to this natural tendency, the molt may be hastened by any sudden change of feed, care or environment. The following simple rules, if followed, will be helpful to prevent this fall molt:

1. Avoid hatching out of season; March, April and May are best, the exact time depending on the breed.
2. Provide free range during the entire season.
3. Avoid rations containing an excess of protein.
4. Do not attempt to hold pullets back, let them mature normally.
5. Have the pullets in their winter quarters before production starts.
6. Avoid any sudden change in feed, care or management after production begins.—Connecticut Experiment Station.

DIFFICULTIES WITH TURKEYS

Hard Work to Keep Flocks From Wandering Over Wide Area and Invading Other Farms.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

One of the greatest difficulties with which turkey growers have to contend is to keep their flocks from wandering over too wide an area and invading neighboring farms. To some extent, feeding heavily night and morning reduces the area over which turkeys range, but even then they often go too far. When trouble of this kind occurs, the most effective plan is to drive them into an inclosure and keep them there until about noon.

In warm weather turkeys do most of their ranging early in the morning, and by nine o'clock they are usually as far from home as they will get during the day. As soon as the sun becomes very warm they spend most of their time in the shade, until three or four o'clock in the afternoon, when they begin moving toward home, ranging for feed along the way. If the weather is not too warm they do not spend so much time lying in the shade, and consequently range over a larger area, and may keep moving away from home until noon. By feeding in the pen every morning they soon learn to go there on coming down from roost, and so time is lost in penning them. If they fly out of the pen after being fed, the flight feathers from one wing should be clipped.

KILLING OFF BEST CHICKENS

Housewife Makes Mistake in Getting Rid of Cockerels Because They Are Large.

The housewife who kills off her largest and best cockerels and pullets is not as much a poultrywoman as some people think. Often it is the cockerels that are the most valuable, yet nearly every farm woman thinks she is justified in killing off her largest chicks if they happen to be cockerels. It is not a very hard matter to get $2 and $3 for good, vigorous utility cockerels nowadays. Better to certain before you kill the next one

ALWAYS NO

Nervous and Dizzy, Everything Seemed to Worry How I Got Well

Larwill, Indiana.—"My back was so bad I could not do my washing. I was always tired out and had no ambition, was nervous and dizzy and everything seemed to worry me and I had awful pain in my right side. I felt badly about 20 years and could not do my work. I should have done, I read Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised so much and it did so much good that I began to take it. I am feeling fine now and everyone who sees me they never saw me looking so well. I live on a farm, do all my work, and have three little girls to take care of. I am recommending this medicine to my friends and know it will help them if they use it like I do."—Mrs. HELEN LONG, R. R. 3, Box 7, Larwill, Indiana.

Many women keep about their work when it is a great effort. They are always tired out and have no ambition. When you are in this condition give it prompt attention. Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for it is especially adapted to correct such troubles, as it did for Mrs. Long.

Mardi Gras Mystery

"Very well. Do not plan to wear jewels, Lucie. I have a set to give you for the occasion—no, not a set, merely a loan for the sake of the occasion. They are very nice pearls; a little old-fashioned, because they were inherited by the Princess de Lauballe. You will find that they fit in excellently with your gown. I'll bring them with me when I call for you—"

CHAPTER VIII.

From the time they left the Ledanots house with Lucie, Gramont had no opportunity of seeing his chauffeur in private until, later in the afternoon, he left the Maison Blanche building and had enjoyed a thoroughly satisfactory interview with Jachin Fell. The car was waiting for him in Royal street, not far from the Monteleone, and Gramont approached it to find Hammond in deep worry over the outcome of the interview with Fell.

"If you're so blamed anxious to get out of the company, get out!" "Thanks. I'll be glad to be relieved of the job." Gramont turned and addressed his chauffeur. "Hammond, you'll kindly remember this conversation, in case your future testimony is needed—" "Confound you, what d'you mean talking that way?" broke out Maillard. "Do you suppose I'll deny being you?" "I don't care to have you offer any reflections on my actions, Maillard," said Gramont, evenly. "My course in this matter is perfectly open and above board, which is more than you can say for your doings."

Comus. Comus. From the time they left the Ledanots house with Lucie, Gramont had no opportunity of seeing his chauffeur in private until, later in the afternoon, he left the Maison Blanche building and had enjoyed a thoroughly satisfactory interview with Jachin Fell. The car was waiting for him in Royal street, not far from the Monteleone, and Gramont approached it to find Hammond in deep worry over the outcome of the interview with Fell.

While in search of smoking companions, Gramont encountered many of his acquaintances, and among them Doctor Ansley and Jachin Fell. The three strolled off together into one of the unused passages leading to other parts of the building. They opened a window and stood watching the crowd that surged in the street below, constantly increasing as the hour grew later, for the procession of Rex would be well worth seeing and nobody meant to miss anything upon this night of nights.

The Family Silver. "Whenever I'm invited out to dinner or one of those society affairs, you can leave it to me to make some bad break." Spud Murphy complained bitterly. "What's the trouble, Spud?" asked a sympathetic friend. "Well, the girl asked me up to her house for dinner. She told me they were high up in society, and that they had the family name on all the silver and napkins."

Texas Items

The tax rate for Taylor for the year has been reduced from $2 to $1.75. A special election to determine if the school tax shall be increased, will be held in the Mineola independent school district August 19. A rate of 27 cents per hundred on cotton from Houston to New York via Galveston for export, was announced Saturday by the Morgan line. The state board of education has fixed the apportionment for the public schools of the state for 1922-23 at $10 per capita, which is $2 less than the preceding year.

Steady progress is being made upon the extensive improvement work at the Cuero Light and Power Company plant, which is to provide power and light for the cities of Cuero, Victoria and Yorktown. A meeting of the Turkey Trot Poultry Association held at Cuero went on record as favoring a bonus for destroying wolves, which do a large annual damage in DeWitt County both to flocks of turkeys and sheep.

The attorney general's department has approved the following bond issues: Edwards County special road bonds, $300,000, maturing serially, 5 1/2 per cent; Hill County road district No. 1, $50,000, maturing in forty years with fifteen-year option, 5 per cent.

Giddings acquired land for the tourists' free camping grounds in the eastern part of town some time ago and is now fixing it up for use. Water pipes will be laid at once, also wires from the light plant. This tourists' park is on the Austin and Houston highway.

Permanent roads for Harris County, an estimated cost of $6,000,000, will be voted on at the November general election if plans announced this week by the commissioners court city. A bond issue of this size would require a 28c tax rate the first year, to be reduced 1c each year on 30-year serial bonds.

The committee that has been at work signing up ribbon cane acreage for a syren standardization plant at Lufkin, has completed its labors, growers having subscribed the output of 305 acres, which will yield approximately 106,750 gallons of syrup. It is believed this bona fide pledge will be sufficient to secure the establishment of the plant in Lufkin, as no other county in the East Texas cane belt has approached Angelina County in signed up acreage.

CALOMEL GOOD BUT TREACHEROUS

Next Dose May Salivate, Shock Liver or Attack Your Bones.

You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system. If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work, Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.—Advertisement.

That makes you feel your limbs are growing older; And it's not the hike on the hard turnpike That drives away your smile. Nor the socks of sisters that raise the blushing blisters— It's the last long mile. —Flattsburgh Marching Song.

Stringing out from the suburban transit terminals of New York every Sunday and holiday goes the army of khaki-clad hikers. There may be an automobile for every twenty of the country's population, but a host of city folks disprove the theory of a future leg-enslaved citizenry and are learning to walk all over again.

To the more casual minded, the hike is just exercise, but to those who catch its real significance the hike means a great deal more. It is the cheapest form of recreation and therefore appeals to those living in crowded districts and unable to avail themselves of the more expensive amusements. And these people be it noted, are just those the country is so anxious to have spread out and settled in the farming sections. The hike, indeed, has possibilities as a real starter for the "back to the farm" movement.

Doughboy and Boy Scout Lead Way

Just a brief survey of the rolling groups which move off from the outlying terminals on holidays establishes a few general types. There is the ex-serviceman and his friends who will hear from him the story of more serious excursions on the muddy roads of France. He tightens a strap here and another there on the blanket roll adjustment or the "shelter salt" in which the commissary is packed for the mid-day feast by the roadside. Expert directions come from him on the method of winding the pack so it will not feel so heavy or interfere with the free body movement. He will pass along the information gained in his army days, of how that same pack was evolved after numerous experiments to find the easiest way of carrying the heaviest load. With results he post compliments, but which he characterized when a doughboy as a "blankety-blank total failure."

Then there are the boy scout parties, adept at everything pertaining to "shanks mare" traveling and woodcraft. The ex-serviceman and the boy scout are pioneers in the hiking game. Listen to one of them right off the train and making ready for a twelve mile jaunt: "Get that canteen over to the side, Jimmie, and it won't keep bouncing off your leg every step. Is it filled? Well, then, we drink. How about the oats? Let's check 'em off. You got the spade, Bill; the bacon Jimmie. Who has the coffee and the Border tin cow?"

"Right here," announces a freckled comrade of the road, patting his knapsack. "Snatched the mocha and the can of milk when Sis wasn't looking."

"Well, then, let's go!" snaps the commander of the expedition. This party is traveling light for real distance. Another must expect to make a shorter hitch or else be counting greatly on its power of endurance. Perhaps the camp is not far off because the group is equipped for an over-night stay with heavy blanket rolls, hatches, lanterns, canvas waterpails, rubber ponchos, kettles, pots, new fangled firestand, etc., etc. The blankets are laid out for a better packing of the bags and cans of food. When the party commences to load up the members bristle all over with camp tools and equipment.

Back to the Farm

The veteran from the crowded city tenement has found a new territory to roam and one almost unknown to his associates. He is introducing them to this newly discovered land and teaching them how to be independent of any transportation buy their own good legs and of any subsistence but what they can carry and prepare. "Walk and cook your own," is his motto.

Who will say the leaven thus fermenting in the city crowds will not bear fruit in a keener appreciation of country delights, especially as these are added to by increased comforts on the farm. With his radio hitched up, the farmer listens in on the best entertainment the country has to offer. Modern home devices wipe out many hardships formerly imposed upon isolated dwellers. There is, in short, a rapid cutting down of the differential between farm and city life.

In the meantime, knowledge must precede a true appreciation of what the country holds, and this is what the hike supplies. There is more appeal in one apple tree in blossom than in reams of printed matter put out to induce the citizen of the city to change his abode to the country. The hikers constitute a growing army, equipped with bacon, spuds, coffee and tin cow for merely a day's outing but nevertheless seeing sights that make them yearn to be among them all the time. It is not too much to assume that the army may one day recruit the open places.

SILAGE MIXTURE TO FINISH OFF CATTLE

Steers Make More Economical Gains and Shrink Less.

Test Made by Department of Agriculture in Co-Operation With Louisiana Station—Value of Different Crops Worked Out.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

To get results economically most cattle feeders should use some kind of silage in the rations, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Steers fed on silage usually not only make more economical gains, shrink less, and make more profits than steers fed on dry roughage, but also make it possible to utilize crops grown primarily in a rotation for restoring the fertility of worn-out lands.

The comparative value of a number of different silage crops for steer feeding was recently worked out by the department in co-operation with the Louisiana experiment station. In one instance similar lots of cattle were fed a ration of cottonseed meal and blackstrap molasses in combination with corn silage, corn and Biloxi soy-bean silage, sorghum silage, sorghum and Biloxi soy-bean silage.

The best gain was made by the steers fed the straight corn silage, but it was shown that the capacity of a farm for fattening or wintering cattle may be greatly increased by the use of heavy-yielding silage crops such as sorghum and Japanese cane. Immature Biloxi soy beans mixed with corn or sorghum were not so satisfactory, but with late-maturing crops like Japanese cane these soy beans gave very good results.

SPRAY POTATO LEAF HOPPER

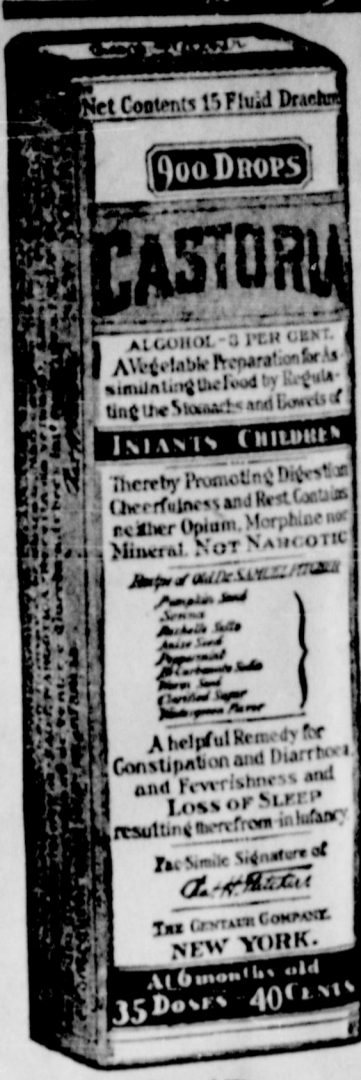

Bordeaux Mixture Should Be Applied Thoroughly to Under Side of the Leaves.

You can get the potato leaf hopper by using bordeaux mixture. The formula employed consists of four pounds of copper sulphate, four pounds of unslaked lime to fifty gallons of water. The spray should be applied to the under side of the leaves thoroughly, using at least 150 pounds pressure. This pressure gives a fine mist spray. At least three applications are recommended and a fourth might be given to advantage. Both sides of each row should be thoroughly sprayed to make the job complete.

That Baby should have a bed of its own all are agreed. Yet it is more reasonable for an infant to sleep with grown-ups than to use a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant.

Your Physician will tell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food.

A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving to your ailing child anything but a medicine especially prepared for Infants and Children? Don't be deceived.

Make a mental note of this:—It is important, Mothers, that you should remember that to function well, the digestive organs of your Baby must receive special care. No Baby is so abnormal that the desired results may be had from the use of medicines primarily prepared for grown-ups.
