KNOX CITY, KNOX COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, MARCH 10, 1922.

Number 43.

I am for any law that will lift the burden off the farmer. For strict enforcement of all laws, not opposed to doing it with a mask on. I am for strict economically managed business for the State and the Nation. I am against exorbitant appropriations, which have, in the end, to be paid by taxation. Taxation is a burden. We are more than Ten annually to support Municipal, State and Federal. The burden which it is possible for this country to bear is not as much as we are now carrying. We are ev-very country. Take a European for us. I shop and see our children. I am entitled to a share of the work. I will be land way to do obstructions. I should be Guaranteed. I care of the state. Public ownership. I believe. Have. The. I. Southern. to put a tariff on products. I am equal to the tariff in manufactured stuff; then the producer will have the same protection as the manufacturer. I have other views that I will discuss at the proper time.

The Moore Hopkins Players played to a full house each night this week at the Opera. Their bill for tonight is "Long Legs," in which a number of the school children of the city will take part. A matinee at 3 p. m. tomorrow. The other play tomorrow night will close their engagement here.

GOREE ORGANIZES C. OF C. LAST WEEK

First Meeting Will be Held Monday Night at the Pastime Theatre

In response to a call circulated among the men of the town Thursday morning, some twenty men met at the First National Bank and organized a Chamber of Commerce with the following officers for the ensuing year: E. L. Covey, President; F. W. Burgess, Vice President; Geo. McMeen, Secretary-Treasurer.

It will be the purpose of the organization to study the needs of the town and work out movements for its betterment. A regular Trades day was planned for the Saturday before the first Monday in each month, the first to be held Saturday of this week. While preparations for this day will not be as extensive as others that will be planned, several interesting features will be carried out. The Goree Band will give a musical concert at 3:00 o'clock.

A meeting of the Chamber will be held at the Pastime Theatre next Monday night at which time the question of some local improvements will be discussed. — Goree Advocate.

OIL MEETING HELD HERE LAST FRIDAY

Citizens Go Into Temporary Organization—Another Meeting March 17th.

A meeting was held at the Opera House last Friday afternoon for the purpose of organizing and arranging plans for drilling an oil well on one of the leases in this vicinity. The Knox City Band, at first, rendered some fine music in front of the Opera House, after which the large crowd that had assembled for the occasion marched into the building, accompanied by the band, and some more splendid music was enjoyed while preparations were being made for the meeting.

The house was called to order by C. C. Hoge, who stated the purpose of the meeting and spoke of the work that had been done by citizens of the town and community in the interest of oil development. Dr. J. M. Green was nominated as chairman of this meeting, and elected by a vote of those present to act in this capacity. W. H. Clonts was appointed by the chairman to act as secretary.

Short talks were made by Dr. Green, Joe H. Payne, C. C. Hoge and G. C. White, in which the various phases of the matter in hand were discussed, including the best methods for organization and carrying on the work of oil development, the work that had been done by those in charge of the work here and the prospects for oil that exist in the Knox City territory, and other phases of the work.

A committee, composed of J. W. Smith, R. E. Harger, J. E. Clarke, John B. Wilson, Joe S. Smith, G. C. White and C. C. Hoge, was appointed to form a temporary organization and to transact such business as may come before them. In the absence of one member of the committee, H. Hackfield was called upon to take his place on the committee. The committee retired from the room and elected the following officers: J. W. Smith, chairman; G. C. White, vice-chairman; John B. Wilson, secretary.

Another meeting will be held at the Opera House on Friday March 17, at 2 p. m., for the purpose of forming a permanent organization, provided a sufficient acreage has been leased at that time by the committee and a sufficient amount of money has been subscribed by the stockholders are urged to be attend this meeting, and others who are prospective stockholders or are otherwise interested in the move for oil development in this vicinity are invited to be present.

R. C. GOREE WRITES INTERESTING LETTER FROM CALIFORNIA AND RENEWS SUBSCRIPTION FOR YEAR

Riverside, Cal. (Arlington Station) March 3, 1922.

Editor Knox City Journal:

Enclosed please find check for one dollar on my subscription. We are having a very wet and disagreeable winter. The records show this to be the wettest winter for 32 years. Over 16 inches of rain so far this season. It insures us plenty of water for summer use. Crops are very good.

Eggs are cheaper than known here. I am getting 20 cents per dozen this week. Eighteen months ago they were for 91 cents a dozen. They are doing fine; am getting to 500 eggs a day. My chickens are not giving as good as last year. Have about 1300 one month old. Broilers, 1 to 1 1/2 lb., are selling at 45 cents per lb. Old hens are selling from $1.00 to $2.00, owing to weight, or 25 cents per lb.

Give my regards to all my old friends.

Very respectfully,
R. C. Goree.

CULLEN F. THOMAS VISITS KNOX CITY

Candidate For U. S. Senate Speaks to Large Audience Here Thursday.

The Opera House was crowded to its capacity Thursday morning at 10:30 to hear Cullen F. Thomas' speech in his candidacy for the United State Senate. The band did its part to enliven the occasion.

Judge Morison introduced the speaker, paying very high tribute to him as a former College Mate.

Mr. Thomas, with only a few preliminary remarks plunged into the discussion of some of the great political questions of the day. He first discussed the concentration of power in the supreme Judge-ship where, in several cases, a decision of 5 to 4 has changed the act of congress and thwarted the will of the people. His remedy was to make such a vote require seven out of the nine, to increase the number of Judges to 12 and require 9 out of the 12 for such a decision. The speaker then discussed the concentration of money power, stating that one man in the United State owned one one-hundredth part of all the wealth of the country. For remedy to this he advocated a stiff income tax and a rigid inheritance tax. He cited the rank injustice being practiced by corporate wealth that was robbing the poor. The speaker favored the direct tax for raising necessary money but opposed indirect methods of taxation.

The believed the soldier who was working in the trenches at $30 per month while his brother was getting rich at home is entitled to some back compensation. But to raise this bonds he would devise a plan by which some of the many who became millionaires during the war could be disgorged. The speaker favored a plan by which the government should in some way stabilize the price of the three staple farm products, cotton, wheat and corn; and thereby protect the farmer from losing his years labor.

All who heard Mr. Thomas pronounced his speech really great. We believe his list of supporters was greatly increased in Knox City. We wish more might have heard him speak.

Mr. Thomas, Senatorial candidate, who spoke here Thursday takes a stand on the tariff that will stand the test. He stated that he believed in the principle of "tariff for revenue only." He said that the tariff should be distributed in a way to benefit all classes alike. The manufacturer should not receive any more consideration than the producer of raw material. However, he emphasized the point that the southern farmer needed a market for his products and could not expect to find such a market with a high "protective tariff." Mr. Thomas' argument should convince every one that the people of the South and especially the farmers should strive to secure legislation that will assist in finding markets for the surplus products rather than close the markets of the world by passing high protective tariff laws. We would favor giving the producer every benefit of the tariff that is given the manufacturer, but lets not deceive ourselves in believing that the Republican plan of protective tariffs is the road to prosperity.

West Texas, as usual, will be well represented at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, Fort Worth, March 11 to 18, inclusive. This event, in fact, has been made a success by the exhibits of West Texas products.

Goals

By Norton Braley
Most men are drifting
And changing and shifting
In all that they plan and they do;
Their schemings are hazy,
Their purpose is lazy,
They have no objective in view,
But those who're successful
Aren't fooling with guesses—
Such casual ways they abhor;
They know WHERE they're going
And WHY they are going
And WHAT they are going for!
It's not that they're clever,
Or all their endeavor
Of mind and of body and soul
Is wisely selected
And grimly directed
To reach to some definite goal;
They've laid out their forces
On well-chosen courses
To win in life's clamorous war;
They know WHERE they're going
And WHY they are going
And WHAT they are going for!
On history's pages,
Down all of the ages,
The names that are written in fire
Are those who, undaunted,
Knew just what they wanted
And never forgot their desire;
The lesson is there for
Your use if you care for
A place in the dominant corps;
Know WHERE you are going,
And WHY you are going
And WHAT you are going for!

BY P. D.
We saw a man the other day whose only claim to fame was the fact that his mother had at one time cooked for Mary Pickford's mother. That, he explained was in the good old days before Mary became an actress and copped a salary running in to five figures. That is the way of the world. If personal glory is lacking most of us are wont to attempt to bask in the reflected radiance of another. This is aptly illustrated in the case of the Pitchers girl, the celebrities boon companion and the false and fickle friends that come with power or position in life. Life is a lottery and if we fail to draw the sun we are prone to try to steal a little gleam of its radiance from some larger luminary than ourselves.

Good roads are a sound investment. Tire and gasoline mileage is proportionately greater on well paved or graveled roads as compared to uncared for thoroughfares to more than pay for their up keep and a goodly amount on the principal each year. Why not some good roads for Knox?

We need to overcome all the self styled phobias and he is partly correct. Work is a great factor in the development of the nation and the individual but play is also needed. In some lines more work is done in eight hours than in ten and the grouchy person usually the person who has forgotten how to play. Not "all work and no play" or "all play and no work" but a proper admixture of both will bring health, wealth and prosperity.

Prudish persons are perpetually harping upon the theme that American youth is departing from the straight and narrow paths of rectitude and fidelity to duty that characterized the country in those halcyon days that are dead. Such may be the case but we doubt it. Underneath the cloak of unconcern the average American carries a gravity of demeanor and a seriousness of mind that stands him in good stead when the crucial moment arrives and he must "make the grade" or be lost, and it is a notable fact that those who do make good in a larger degree than would have been considered possible in grandfather's day. Failures? Sure, but there have been failures in all ages of man and doubtless will be and we do not believe that there are proportionately more failures now than in previous periods.

A town is like a plant. As long as it is green it is growing but when the plant becomes brown and sere the growth stops and decay begins. As long as the townsmen can be changed from their path to a newer and better one the town is alive and possesses the spirit necessary for progress. When the citizenship becomes sophisticated to such an extent that there seems to be no way other than their own way, and their town seems to them to be the epitome of all things hoped for in civic development and community pride, then it is time to look out for that town is done for.

There are children, grownups and even whole towns and communities that live in the past. The entirety of their mental consciousness is peopled with the shadowy spectres of past progress and dead achievements and they have no thought for the present. Thank God Knox City is not of that type.

Yes, Alfred. There are some communities where they actually do the cheek dance and shake the sympathetic shimmy.

We are told that the hope of the world lies in Christian religion. Judged by some men the hope seems forlorn, small and altogether insufficient.

Look alike, but their personalities are different. And if you remember, you have seen twin girls or boys that looked alike, and their personalities are also different.

And so it is with Merchandise. Two, three, four or five different makes may look alike, but the quality and prices are different.

And so it is with STORES. Their general aspect may be similar, but their general policies.

So, in order to find the best among merchandise that looks alike, you must place your confidence in the store whose policies you indorse.

TRIPLE WHISTLE

Some time ago there was put into use by a big electric railway company a giant triple whistle. Four times a day this mammoth whistle is blown and it can be heard for ten miles, north, south, east and west.

It being connected with an electric clock, which is guaranteed not to vary five seconds in a year, this whistle has proved a most valuable time dispenser. Residents in the immediate neighborhood of the power house anticipated trouble when the big whistle was first talked of. They expected to hear only shrill and objectionable sounds every time the big affair was blown. But no one has had an opportunity to complain of discord at whistle time.

QUALIFIED TO APPLY

The commercial side of Chinese love is emphasized in this translation of an advertisement which the father of a Chinese girl inserted in a Shanghai daily: "I have several ten-acre of fertile land and am quite well-to-do. I have no son, but only a daughter who is now in her teens. Her rosy cheeks are like peach blossoms and her dainty feet resemble three-inch golden lilies. It is my desire to have a good son-in-law who, after being adopted by me, shall become entitled to all my property. Any young man under twenty years of age, who has a face like a waterlily, and is versed in Chinese classics, is qualified to apply."
