Twenty-Two Boys and Girls Receive Diplomas From Munday High School

Baccalaureate Sermon Delivered Sunday Morning By Rev. R. B. Freeman; Graduation Ceremony Rained Out Monday and Tuesday

The baccalaureate services for the graduating class of the Munday High School were held at the community auditorium on Sunday morning at eleven o'clock, at which time the baccalaureate sermon was delivered by the Rev. R. B. Freeman, pastor of the First Methodist church, to a large and attentive audience.

The service was a very beautiful and impressive one, the graduates having marched into the large auditorium while the processional, Holy, Holy, was sung by the large choir, accompanied by an eight piece orchestra, after which the invocation was made by the Rev. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Rev. Freeman chose for his message a portion of the scripture by St. Matthew, and stressed the admonition contained therein to "seek ye first the Kingdom of God and all of these things shall be added unto you." Pointing out throughout his discourse that, regardless of the progress made by the individual along educational lines, the most important obligation resting upon the shoulders of the youth entering upon the responsibilities of manhood and womanhood was the acceptance of God and the living of an exemplary life before all mankind.

The rain and unsettled weather interfered with the graduation ceremony, and Dr. Godbold of Howard Payne College, Brownwood, who was scheduled to make the address on this occasion, returned to his home as soon as it was found impossible to hold the services, he having an important engagement there the following morning.

It was announced that the ceremony would be held on Tuesday evening, but again the weather man stepped in and interfered with the plans of the school authorities, and on Wednesday morning it was announced that the ceremony would be dispensed with, and that graduates would be presented with their diplomas without ceremony. However, we have secured the salutatory address, which was to have been presented by Lois Wyche, and the valedictory address, to have been delivered by Chase Eiland, and are publishing them in this issue of The Times.

This is one of the largest classes to graduate from the Munday High school in the history of the institution, and we congratulate this excellent body of young people upon their completion of the course prescribed by the authorities, and we trust that they shall continue their studies and better prepare themselves for usefulness and service to the communities in which they shall reside in the years to come, and especially do we want to extend congratulations to the young men in this class, for indeed it is not often these days that the number of young men exceed the young ladies in graduation classes, but this is an exception, thirteen of the class being young men, and we are inclined to believe that some credit for this fact is due to the efficient faculty, but, regardless of to whom credit is due, and without detracting one mite from the sweet young girl graduate, we want to say and congratulate this class of young men and to say that we are proud of them.

VALEDICTORY ADDRESS

By Chase Eiland

Ladies and Gentlemen, Members of the Board of Education and Faculty, and Classmates of the Munday High School:

There are as we know a number of laws that operate in the natural and physical world. In the social world there are also a number of unwritten and universal laws, as fixed and unchangeable as the law of gravitation or the movements of the stars in the heavens. These govern in their subtle ways the lives of men and kingdoms and govern the comings and goings of men and women. Some people live all their lives without waking up to the consciousness of the existence of these laws. They stumble along blindly, wafted hither and thither and on by every passing breeze of circumstance, drifting idly here and there thru an aimless existence, never knowing why they do this or that or the other. All the time they are however moving in obedience to the most powerful and invincible of all God's laws—the law of Compensation—the law which was first put into words by God himself when He said centuries ago, "With whatsoever measure ye mete, it shall be measured unto you again."

We may not be even dimly conscious of the workings of this great law. We may not guess why this or that great sorrow comes upon us suddenly. We may not have even vaguely realized that whatsoever harvest we reap, we ourselves must certainly have at some time or other have sown the seed. It may not have even vaguely occurred that for every effect there is somewhere behind it a primary cause. But it is none the less a vital truth in the life of every individual for hour by hour and day by day we are consciously or unconsciously signing our names to life's same old promissory note: "For value received, I promise to pay." In those words, ordinary and commonplace as they seem, lies the real keynote of all human life.

Gentlemen of the Board of Education, we realize that it has been your silent influence at work, thru the undercurrent of our school activities, that has laid the foundation for this hour. As we linger tonight just before we are to receive the diplomas of graduation from Munday High School—as we linger upon the threshold of a new life, the doors of our high school and its educational and protective advantages swinging closed behind us, the question naturally arises, "What are we going to get out of life anyway?" There is one sure and satisfactory answer. We are going to get out of life exactly what we put into it. We buy from the world exactly at the figure the ages have placed upon lives chosen gifts. Everything has its price and we shall be called upon by the Law of Compensation to pay every ounce of its value. It only remains then for us to deliberately sit down and decide what is most worth while in life and then count the cost.

Although there are everywhere people who think they are working their smooth graft on the world and society—people who think they are raising above the old law of creation in getting something for nothing—they must yet know that no such venture has ever been or ever can be successful. While the mills of the Gods may grind slowly sometimes, the hour of reckoning will inevitably come and often the pay is exacted for long overdue accounts. But sooner or later every account must be paid in full.

So members of the Board, if you realize value in full, if you have already not, in the generous and loyal service you have rendered to our school. It is common knowledge in Munday that you have labored as a unit for the school. Your painstaking deliberations and careful management of your duties have contributed greatly.

Funeral Services For R. C. Hamblin Were Held Here Sunday

Funeral services for Richard Chester Hamblin, 32, whose home was at Grandfield, Oklahoma, and who died in a hospital at Memphis, Texas, on Friday of last week, were held here on Sunday afternoon at the Baptist church, with the Rev. P. D. O'Brien, assisted by the Rev. R. G. M. Eiland, officiating, and following the services the remains were laid to rest in Johnson cemetery.

Deceased was a resident of this community for several years prior to the World War, having made his home for some years with Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Dobbs, and was married some years ago to Miss Irene McMahon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McMahon, who together with two sons, whose ages are three and five years, survive him.

At the outbreak of the World War he entered the service of his country and saw service on the front line trenches in France, where he was severely wounded, and it was these injuries which led to his death, as it is said that he has been in poor health since his discharge from the army, and some two years ago he underwent a major operation in the hope that his health might be restored, but he had never regained his health.

Chester Hamblin was born in Van Zandt county, Texas, April 17, 1895, and came to this section when a boy in his teens, and we have it from Mr. R. C. Dobbs, with whom he made his home for a number of years, that he was an exemplary young man, honest in his dealings, clean in his habits and a Christian character. He was a member of the Gillespie Baptist church and lived up to the vows of his church throughout his several years of affliction.

Thus the World War has taken another victim, and we, as American citizens, are made to realize the great sacrifices made by these young men who hurled themselves into the great conflict and brought to a halt the onward march of the Kaiser's army in his desperate effort to bring the entire world under his dominion, and we owe to Chester Hamblin and his comrades a debt that we shall never be able to pay.

Among the out of town relatives who came here to attend the services was the Rev. J. H. Hamblin, presiding elder of the Stamford district, who was an uncle to deceased.

To the bereaved members of his family we know that we can say nothing that will alleviate the great sorrow that has come to them, but let us say that he has left a heritage for the good wife and the two sons that they can cherish throughout life, for he was faithful to his flag when the call came, and paid the supreme sacrifice through the years of suffering and in final death, and by the further reason that he was faithful to his God through the adversities through which he was called upon to pass, and we know of nothing more that can be said to the credit of any man.

May he rest in peace.

MRS. INGRAM PRESENTS MISS HELEN SMITH IN PIANO RECITAL TUESDAY

On Tuesday evening of last week Mrs. Ingram presented Miss Helen Smith in a piano recital at the Methodist church, and Miss Smith was ably assisted by Miss Lillian Aycock, reader, and the program was one of the most enjoyable that has been presented during the closing of the schools.

In addition to the excellent numbers given by Miss Helen on the piano, she gave several vocal numbers, which were most enjoyable, and reflected the capable tutoring she has secured as a student of Mrs. Joe Davis, as well as that on the piano under Mrs. Ingram, and the readings by Miss Aycock added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening's entertainment.

Miss Velma Heald of Anson is guest this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wyche.

Verie Johnson of Haskell was a week-end guest in the home of Mrs. G. C. Spann.

Munday Country Gets Good Rains; Hail and Wind Do Some Damage

The Munday country has this week received good rains. Starting on Monday evening, it has rained each evening this week up to Wednesday evening, and as these lines are being written it is raining, and from 4 to 5 inches of rainfall is estimated over the Munday country, and in some localities hail has done some damage.

On Monday evening a severe hailstorm preceded the rain, and the ground was literally white for some time with hail, and many chickens were killed by hailstones, some of which were almost as large as hen eggs.

On Tuesday evening a heavy rain fell throughout this section, and was estimated at from 2 to 5 inches over this section of the county, the heaviest was reported to have fallen in the Knox City vicinity, where much damage was done by wind to crops and buildings. The front of the Orient Drug Store at Knox City was blown down and many of the brick buildings there suffered damage from being blown out of line by the strong wind which struck there about 6:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Crops and farmhouses in and around Knox City are reported to have been greatly damaged.

Much of the cotton in this vicinity will have to be replanted as a result of the heavy rains that have fallen, and while the rains were needed in some sections, it is feared that the other extreme may prove as disastrous.

Loveless Drug Co. Installs New and Modern Soda Fountain

The Loveless Drug Company has this week installed a new soda fountain in their place of business, which is the latest thing to be had in the way of a soda fountain, and differs from the old style fountains in many respects, the most noticeable difference being in the fact that this new fountain operates entirely without ice, and every portion of the unit is kept at near the freezing point by means of a Frigidaire system.

In order that the public may become familiar with the superior quality of drinks served from this new fountain Mr. Loveless has announced that he will serve drinks and ice cream free to the public between the hours of 2:00 and 4:00 on Saturday afternoon and between 8:00 and 9:00 on Saturday evening.

MISS DELPHINE HENDRIX PRESENTED IN READING RECITAL BY MRS. BARNES

On Wednesday of last week Miss Delphine Hendrix was presented in a reading recital by Mrs. H. F. Barnes and was assisted by Miss Madge Smith, pianiste.

The stage was beautifully decorated with fern-covered trellis, lilies and other decorations, and the perfect ease with which Miss Hendrix gave the various readings clearly portrayed the wonderful talent of the pupil and the unmistakable ability of her tutor, and the program, both the readings and the musical numbers by Miss Madge Smith, were thoroughly enjoyed by the large audience which filled the auditorium of the city hall, and too much cannot be said for the progress that Miss Delphine has made in this line.

G. W. Wren and son, Dana, are here this week from the Magic Valley, having come up to be in attendance at the trial of Dana's suit against a road contracting concern in the District court of Dickens county. However, the case has been postponed until the January term. Dana is still forced to wear the brace around his neck and plans to undergo treatment for some days in a sanitarium at Stamford before returning home. Mr. Wren likes the Valley fine and says that he and the members of his household scramble for the Munday Times each week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Jordan are rejoicing over the fact that a baby girl arrived in their home on May 30th.

ELECTRICAL APPLIANCES FOR TREATMENT OF ILLS INSTALLED BY DR. BURNS

Physiotherapy is not a system of medicine, but it has become universally recognized as one of the most valuable aids ever offered to the treatments of many diseases and ailments, and the medical profession has accepted and adopted many of the principals, and especially the principal of the therapeutic action of high frequency currents applied to the human body, by which means heat is produced within the tissues.

In line with the march of progress which the medical profession is making along these lines, Dr. E. J. Burns of this city has just installed equipment for the application of electrical treatment for the many uses to which it is recognized as an aid to treatment, and while it is difficult to explain the workings or even the purposes of these wonderful machines, we are sure that these machines will prove a useful adjunct in the alleviation of pain and the many other purposes for which they are applied.

In addition to the installation of a machine by which high frequency currents may be applied to affected parts of the body, Dr. Burns has installed an electric lamp for the treatment of certain ailments by means of the ultra violet ray, the use of which has also become universally recognized by the medical world in the treatment of many ills, but the principal of which would be too difficult to explain in these columns—even if we were sufficiently informed on the subject to do so.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mills left on Wednesday for their home at Commerce, Texas, and were accompanied by Miss Mills, who has been a member of the faculty of the Munday schools, and will return again at the opening of the next school term.

Hugh Layne and family came in on Tuesday for a visit with relatives and their many friends here. Cyril Layne, their son, has just graduated from the Hereford High School, and has grown until his friends of by-gone days could not recognize him. Mr. Layne will go on to South Texas on a business trip while Mrs. Layne and the children will visit in Fort Worth before returning to their home at Hereford.

SATURDAY AND MONDAY WILL BE DOLLAR DAYS AGAIN IN MUNDAY

As Will Be Noted From Ads Wide-Awake Merchants of These Two Days Dollar Day Bargains Galore Will Be Offered By

SALUTATORY ADDRESS

By Lois Wyche

My dear friends:

The faculty of the Munday High School has conferred upon me the great honor of speaking the words that shall bid you welcome here this evening. I am very grateful to them for this mark of favor and distinction, but still, as I look upon your faces, so much more clearly marked with the lines of wisdom and experience than ours may be for years yet to come. I cannot but feel that the words of welcome should come from you to us. For is it not we who are the outsiders, seeking for admission to your association and favor?

Friends, we who stand tonight at the meeting between a happy past and an unknown future have reached not the end but the commencement of our lives. And what those lives are to be depends in a large measure upon the foundations we have been building for them in Munday High School. This is indeed a big thought and I ask you to think with me just how big it is. For tonight I feel strangely fired with the thrilling force of class patriotism. I should like to transmit it to you.

It seems well for us who are about to step forth into the arena of the world's progress to consider something of what our parts in the great destiny of America are to be. As graduates of the best school that can be found from Ocean to Ocean and as citizens of the greatest republic the world has yet known, we ought to be greatly interested in finding our place in the battling lines of progress.

We believe our conceptions of citizenship are the highest and purest. Such a conception is that every one should earnestly seek to know what his country should be and then use all his power, influence, and energy to bring it as close to that ideal as possible. It does not mean in politics, "My party, Right or Wrong", or even "My Country, Right or Wrong." But rather, "My Country, make her Right; Keep her standard clean and white."

Of course conceptions of patriotism vary as the history of institutions and nations vary. Germany thought of and dreamed of a universal empire. The distinguished mark of American patriotism is freedom. The spirit of Americanism and American institutions is that of true Democracy, which shall seek to cultivate the best and eliminate the vicious in our national life. If we love our country then with the highest patriotism, we shall seek to set for her that high standard and seek always to maintain it at any cost.

There comes to me at this time a little poem entitled, "Wanted" by James G. Holland. It reads:

God give us men—the time demands
Strong minds, great hearts,
true faith and willing hands;
Men whom the lust of office does not kill;
Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy;
Men who possess opinions and a will;
Men who have honor, men who will not lie;
Men who can stand before a demagogue
And damn his treacherous flatteries without winking;
Tall men, sun-crowned, who live above the fog
In public duty and in private thinking.
For while the rabble with their thumb-worn creeds,
Their large professions and little deeds,
Mingle in selfish strife, Lo! Freedom weeps!
Wrong rules the land, and waiting justice sleeps!

This a fairly accurate description of the kind of citizens we intend to be. It may be as some have said that national integrity and personal responsibility (Turn to last page)

Dollar Days have come again, and will be observed by the merchants of Munday whose ads appear in this issue of The Times. Look them over and you will note that some extraordinary values are being offered the public on these two days and it will be to the interest of the buying public to avail themselves of the opportunity offered to make a saving on this merchandise. Those who were here last month are highly pleased with the values offered by the merchants, and we are sure that they will be even more highly pleased with the savings that are being offered in this issue.

Burglar Gets Small Change From Broach Grocery and Market

Burglars, gaining entrance by knocking a panel from the back door and removing a bar on the inside, secured about $15.00 in small change from the Broach Grocery and Market on Tuesday evening of this week. The back door of the store was found open by night policeman Bill Mabry about 9:00 o'clock, and an investigation revealed the fact that the burglar had already rifled the cash drawer and taken the contents thereof and made his get-away. The contents of the drawer, according to Mr. Holder amounted to about $15.00, and was all in small change.

MRS. LOUISE INGRAM PUPIL OF AN EMINENT PIANIST AT BAYLOR U.

Mrs. Louise Ingram and children left last week for Waco, where Mrs. Ingram will study for the summer months under Prof. Carlos Buhler, of London, England, an eminent pianist-instructor, who has come to America for his first visit and accepted a place on the faculty of the summer school at Baylor University, and Mrs. Ingram is looking forward to a most profitable summer under his able instruction.

Mrs. Ingram has been re-elected by the school board as teacher of piano in the Munday Public schools, and this recognition has come to her by reason of the faithful and efficient service she has rendered in this capacity, and she will be even better fitted to serve the patrons in this capacity when she returns for the opening of the next school term.

BAPTIST CHURCH ANNOUNCEMENT

After enjoying a fine day last Sunday in the two union services we expect to get back to our regular services next Sunday with renewed energy. Our Sunday school attendance was greatly curtailed for several Sundays on account of the scarlet fever excitement. But now that all danger seems to have passed we hope to see the children back in great numbers.

Brother McLean preached a most excellent sermon at the evening hour on last Sunday, which was enjoyed by a large crowd made up of the people of all the churches. We were very happy to have these guests, and hope they enjoyed the service as much as we did.

The Fifth Sunday meeting held at Brushy last week was one of the very best we have ever attended. Great crowds were present from the very first service. The addresses and sermons were of a high order, and there were four professions of conversion at the Sunday morning service. The people of the Brushy community entertained the crowds in a way never to be forgotten. Our next general meeting will be held with the Grace church near Knox City. This meeting will be on Monday, June 27th.

Visitors are welcome at all of our services. P. D. O'Brien, Pastor.

$1.25 tennis shoes will go at $1.00 on Dollar Days, Saturday and Monday, June 4 and 6.—The Leader.

Cottonwood club is having a play at Red Spring Friday evening, June 3, entitled "Yimie Yanson Yob," 2 1/2 hours, comedy drama in three acts. It is very thrilling. Admission 15 and 25 cents. By adding to the sum we have, we hope to make enough to build a club house.

She also showed samples of suitable material for curtains and bed-spreads for bed rooms. Our new business consists of discussion of sending one of members to the Short Course in July. We are giving an ice cream supper at the Prairie View school house on Friday, June 4th. Cake is served with the cream. Will also have lemonade to serve. Everyone is invited. Come and enjoy yourself. by the 5th Sunday meeting at Brushey. Missionary J. W. Read was appointed to arrange this itinerary. While no admission will be charged, a free will offering will be expected to pay the expenses of the speaker. It will mean much to your church to have this message, and it is to be greatly desired that great crowds will be in attendance everywhere. If your community is not listed see if you cannot get a group to go to the nearest place where one of these meetings are to be held.

W. H. McCandles Attends Celebration In Houston, Texas Federal Land Bank Assn.

The Rule National Farm Loan Association of Rule, Texas, was represented in Houston last week by its Secretary-Treasurer, W. H. McCandles, at the celebration of the first ten years of service to Texas farmers, and agriculture by the Federal Land Bank located in that city and the 350 National Farm Loan Associations of the State.

In the last ten years these associations have made more than 50,000 loans amounting to approximately $156,000,000.

The Rule National Farm Loan Association has made 414 loans amounting to one and one-quarter million dollars, and not a single delinquent.

Among the more important resolutions passed at this meeting was one which petitions congress to increase the maximum loan which farmers would be permitted to borrow from their local national farm loan association, from $25,000 to $50,000. This was done in order to help ranchmen to the advantage of the long time, low interest rate, amortized loans.

The subject of terracing farm lands was given a good deal of thought since in some parts of the state it is a paramount issue and one which virtually affects. The Federal Land Bank, as well as the farmer, since the rapid erosion of soils quickly deprecates the security offered for loans. Secretary-Treasurers unanimously endorsed the new activities recently instituted by the bank known as the Conservation and Soil Terracing Department.

The officers petitioned the Federal Farm Loan Board at Washington to change its ruling so as to permit Federal appraisers when in the field to tell the Secretary-Treasurer whether they will recommend a loan and how much.

With a view to still further increasing the collateral back of Federal Land Bank bonds also to assisting the borrowers, it was recommended that associations utilize part of their dividends received from the Federal Land Bank to set up a reserve, which would eventually be as large as the total of the borrowers liability or 5 per cent of the amount borrowed.

Then this 5 per cent with the association stock owned would constitute his total liability to the association. This fund is to be kept working, however under the management of the Secretary-Treasurer.

It was the consensus of opinion of all members present and a resolution was adopted leading to the more permanent tenure of office of the Secretary-Treasurer, to the end that he should continue in office until they were shown to be incapacitated in some way of having not lived up to both the spirit and the letter of the Federal Land Acts.

A great deal of resentment was shown, toward the so-called National Association of Farm Loan Borrowers, which was organized by a handful of men in Chicago about a year ago and which opened propaganda headquarters in Washington and endeavored to collect 25 cents each from nearly 400,000 borrowers, or approximately $100,000 promising the borrower in turn to "liberalize" the system. It was pointed out however that the Attorney General had ruled against contributions of this kind from association funds, saying that it is illegal. The only real progress made by the so-called borrowers association, it was brought out, has been a few articles published in farm and trade papers, which have been more detrimental than constructive and helpful.

The first borrower from the Federal Land Bank system died about a year ago. The second borrower, J. C. Flemming of Crosby, Harris County, took part in the celebration. Concerning this loan President Gossett said:

"The story of the second loan made by the Federal Land Bank of Houston is of a type which illustrates the value of the service which we have rendered. The loan was for $5,500; the rate 5 per cent; the borrower took $275 stock in the local Association. He has received in excess of 50 per cent dividends on his stock paid by the Association, out of a still larger dividend paid by The Federal Land Bank to his Assn. July 1st, 1927 there will have been paid twenty semi-annual installments of $165 each, or a total of 6 per cent annum, which includes the payment of 1 per cent to apply on the principal, and which has had the effect to reduce the principal from $5,500 to $4,799. The second Federal Land Bank borrower was paying 9 per cent and would have paid, under the old loan $495 per annum interest, or $4,950 and would still owe the original $5,500. He has since paid the Federal Land Bank a total of $3,300 and has not only paid the interests but $701 of the principal and now owes $4,799 he has saved alone in interests the difference between 5 per cent and 9 per cent—$220 per year or a total of $2,200 he has had the option of paying off this loan, in whole or part, without bonus or penalty at all times after five years from date of loan. This is an achievement in supplying the capital loan needs of agriculture never before available, measured by both low interest rate and easy terms of payment.

In addition to capital stock the association, which is a small one having outstanding loans only $120,000 has $226 legal reserve and undivided profits illustrating the soundness and strength of the Federal Land Bank co-operative system. The Federal Land Bank of Houston has paid dividends to National Farm Loan Associations to Dec. 1, 1926 in the amount of $2,732,814. For the last four years the bank paid a 10 per cent dividend annually and expect to continue to pay as much. The Bank now has $962,807 undivided profits. Farm Loan Associations in this the 10th District hold reserve and undivided profits in excess of $700,000."

President Gossett stated that the Bank at Houston is the second largest of the 12 in the system and easily has the smallest amount of delinquents same being only $1,722 or 1-50 of 1 per cent. He showed that the farmers of Texas who are borrowers from The Federal Land Bank are now saving approximately $4,000,000 in interest annually. The record of foreclosures is only 37 in ten years of lending on more than 50,000 farms.

There are many reliable, responsible, financially strong, lending agencies doing business in Texas. But only one Federal Land Bank and only one 5 per cent loan and as The Federal Land Bank Loans are co-operative loans there is not one cent of profit made by any one connected with the system, as all profits after setting aside the necessary sinking funds and paying the necessary operating expenses, are returned to the borrowers in the form of dividends.

The Rule National Farm Loan Association has loaned to 414 borrowers $1,250,000 which is a saving over the nearest competitor in interest rate of 1 per cent per annum totaling $12,500 per year in actual cash saved to the borrowers of this association.

The Rule National Farm Loan Association pays back to these borrowers each year in dividends $2,250.00

W. H. McCandles organized The Rule National Farm Loan Association in 1917, and has managed its affairs continually since the organization.

A STRIKE INCIDENT

During the recent strike in England the volunteer driver of the London-Liverpool express performed the miraculous feat of bringing the great train into Liverpool twenty-five minutes ahead of schedule time. The passengers went forward in a body to thank him. A pale green face emerged from the cab. "Don't thank me," it gasped; "thank God; I only found out how to stop this thing 10 minutes ago."

WHY HE WAS BEATEN

"My friends," began the aspirant for public office, addressing his fire audience, and in his own town, "I call you friends; I will not call you 'ladies and gentlemen.'" I know you too well for that."

A dog fills an empty space in a man's life, especially a hot dog.

BIRTH REGISTRATION CAMPAIGN STARTED

The State Department of Health has begun an active campaign to increase birth registration in the state to the extent that Texas may be admitted to the registration area of the United States by 1930, according to announcement made by Dr. J. C. Anderson, State Health Officer.

"Texas, at present," Dr. Anderson stated, "is one of the three states at the bottom of the list in the registration of vital statistics. Thirty-eight states are included in this registration area, and the goal set by the Federal Government is, 'Every state within the registration area by 1930.' In order that Texas may reach this goal, every citizen is asked to cooperate in securing the prompt registration of every child born within the state in 1926 and 1927, and every year thereafter."

"In order to further facilitate birth registration and make more certain that Texas does not present the sorry spectacle of being the only state not included in the registration area, a new vital statistics law complying with uniform regulations of laws now in effect in states in the registration area, and which is recommended by the Federal Government, will be submitted to the special session of the Legislature for enactment," further stated Dr. Anderson.

"This law will provide for the appointment of a registrar in every precinct in the state, instead of in each county and municipality as at present thereby making more certain the registration of all vital statistics of every community. With this law in effect, together with the co-operation of all our citizens, we should be well on the way to the realization of our hopes of seeing the vital statistics of Texas included in the official records of the United States."

Some of the reasons given by the State Department of Health as to why the birth of your child should be recorded within states archives are as follows:

Proof of age is needed at many times and on many occasions through life, such as admittance to school, settlement of claims pertaining to minors, enforcement of child labor laws, to vote, to obtain license to marry, to enter many professions, to hold many offices, admittance to or exemption from war service, to drive an auto, and in such matters as determining court jurisdiction.

Birth certificates are necessary to prove citizenship when obtaining a passport to foreign countries, exemption from war service when living abroad, readmission to the United States after visiting or living in foreign countries, and in settlement of many claims.

On many occasions, birth certificates have proven invaluable in supporting a child's claim to legitimacy.

Your child is your most valuable asset. Give it the same consideration that you do your valuable stock, by having it registered. If you do not know whether your child is registered, you can get this information by writing your State Health Department, giving full name, exact date and place of birth.

THE FRIENDSHIP GARDEN

Ehebe K. Warner

Three years ago this Spring Mr. Peter Swenson of Caddo, Texas, sent us the loveliest box of plants from his wonderful nursery at Siloam Spring, Arkansas. In that box we found strawberry plants, blackberry and raspberry plants, grapes, climbing roses and honey suckles, chrysanthemums and lilacs, and even trees of several varieties. And everything in that box lived and grew.

The same year, Victoria, our youngest daughter, bought some marvelous castor bean seeds from the Weymouth Ranch, up near Dumas, that her little pupils, James, Mary Ann and Betsey Weymouth, had given her. Last year, Mrs. Lee Curry of Summerfield, Texas, gave us another variety of castor bean seed. An aunt sent us some violets from Illinois. The Business and Professional Women's Club of Fort Worth sent us a beautiful basket of flowers one Christmas and some of them are still living. There are three roses that came from Grandfather Warner's yard years ago, and this Winter Mrs. Brown of Uvasota and the Brownwood Banner both sent us a package of Blue Bonnet seed. So this year we are planting our Friendship Garden. If it proves as much joy to watch it grow and actually see it in bloom as it has been to plan and plant it we are going to have bushels of joy at our house this summer. And we are counting on more fun when the strawberries are ripe and the flowers are in bloom than we have had in just thinking about it.

Then that's not all. We are going to get some petunias from our neighbor, Mrs. King, and we are going to send to San Saba for a pecan tree. This mocking bird comes every year and spend the summer in our garden and then we will have a Little Texas right in our own garden. And that's not all. There is a wonderful cactus already in the garden that was transplanted from the Palo Duro Canyon and as soon as there is time enough to do all those things we want a cactus in our Friendship Garden for all the wild flowers in Armstrong County. There is a row of black currant bushes already growing in the garden that came from the Canyon, and the big old pear tree is still there that Mr. and Mrs. Hoffer of San Angelo planted when Claude was only a few years old. Our garden is already full of happy memories. But from this year on it is to be our garden of Living Memories, and every plant and every flower in that garden is going to mean more than a plant or a flower. It is going to be our Garden of Memories. Some of the memories may bring tears but they will be the happy days of the past with tears.

And when we were watching the garden in the dirt that other day this thought drifted in to that garden. There are more than a hundred and fifty farm agents in Texas. There are ninety-one home demonstrators, more than fifty county federations and scores and scores of county superintendents of schools, thousands of clubs and a million homes in Texas. What would it mean to Texas if all of us would set apart one little corner of the yard or garden for our Friendship Garden and begin to collect therein the flowers we all love best and especially the flowers our friends love best?

Wouldn't it be interesting when we work in our garden to know that this flower reminds us of one friend and that one of another and every flower in that garden would bring some one dearer than the flower itself to our minds. Then, too, such a plan might encourage the exchange of more flowers throughout our home county and our home State and even the entire Nation.

Then another thought came to me. Wouldn't it be a beautiful plan to collect in our parks and our school grounds, and other public places more of the natural wild flowers that some day will be plowed up and exterminated? Talk about color! Texas has every color and every combination of colors beautifully blended in her native wild flower gardens. And there are thousands of plants in one part of the State that might grow in other parts if we would only watch our chances and try harder to increase our variety of flowers.

Out in our county the home demonstrator is planning this year to introduce about fifty new vegetables into our county. Isn't that a fine notion? And the women are going to do this by different members of the home demonstration clubs taking three or four new vegetables and giving them a trial in their garden. That will be an interesting experiment. And the home demonstration clubs in many other counties are doing the same thing. Why not add flowers and shrubs and plants of every kind and create a greater variety of beauty in Texas? Every county federation could have a flower exchange day and in this way hundreds of Friendship Gardens could be started. And if you want to add trees to your collection, the farm agents might be interested in that. And all this would be only another form of diversification which we all believe in. Diversification of crops, trees, plants, vegetables and flowers. This would make more than a balanced ration on our tables. It would give us a better balanced civilization into all our lives. And when the women's clubs have their flower shows in the autumn what a glorious array of beauty there would be!

But the best feature of all this work and beauty would be the new human interest in every flower. Nature loves beauty. So do women. And there are few homes in this big, broad State of our that do not have a fence corner, or a bare spot, or an ugly place, somewhere that would look better and be more sanitary if it were turned into a friendship garden. And in all our towns and cities there are whole blocks that could be turned into city friendship gardens and the flowers grown and gathered by the Boy Scouts and the Camp Fire Girls and taken to the sick and shut-ins. There are so many ways to use extra flowers that would bring sunshine and cheer. And who can doubt the influence of a beautiful flower on the soul of any sane person?

Flowers speak a language all their own that no one has ever yet been able to translate into mere words.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

W. O. Logan, Co. Agent

We thought that after two years fighting of the grasshoppers maybe there would be a rest, but it seems that no such good luck is to be ours this year. We find the pastures and grass land with a good supply, and predict the crops will suffer some later or maybe at present.

The formula that has been used successfully, and the one that is cheapest, and will give economical results if followed exactly and diligently, is as follows: 25 pounds wheat bran, 1 pound white arsenic, 1 full quart black strap molasses, (don't use Karo, or other corn syrups), 1 ounce Amyl Acetate, or (6 lemons or oranges), two gallons water, and then add what more water it takes to make a good flaky mash not mushy, and a pinch or two of salt helps but not necessary.

Knox County is to have a real two day Short Course June 20 and 21. There is to be several good authorities on the more important phases of farming and live stock work. It will be the best and biggest program ever put over in Knox County, and the best authorities on the subject, or speakers ever in the county. Knox will have a regular College Course, best trained teachers, and for two days we will have an A. & M. College, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Experiment Stations, and the best poultrymen, cattlemen, and all in our county. Plan now for these two days and don't let anything keep you away.

Next week announcements of programs, speakers, dates and plans will be announced and each community will be expected to get busy and have their biggest crowd out. It would be like going to college to follow the entire program the two days and you would be more than repaid. Possibly you'll never go to college, and you want scientific facts and training, and while these exceptionally qualified men are here you are losing if you don't hear them and talk to them while they are not on platform.

Letters from Gorce territory, Wood, Hefner, Washburn, Cottonwood, indicate the Club boys and girls getting baby chicks thru the business men, Chamber of Commerce, some ten days ago have hardly lost any chicks, seems they can be raised if started right and that is what Club Boys and Girls do. Knox City business men put out several hundred last week, and if nothing goes wrong we predict they will do as well or better than the Gorce youngsters.

The business men of the county are getting letters to familiarize them with Extension work in the county and enlist their aid in keeping Knox County boys and girls with interest in bettering rural homes and a better balanced agriculture. Knox County ought to be represented at A. & M. on judging work. They have in the past. Also trips to the Educational Encampment Dallas Fair is wonderful training and the Fair Association offers free entertainment, games, cats, and built a $10,000.00 dormitory to house the boys. We ought to see that they get there, the only way is competitive, the best wins. Knox County has never been represented by a booth at a State Fair, seems like this would be a good year to make our debut.

SIDELIGHTS

One of those random bits of information now going around confides that "symptoms very similar to intoxication can be caused by any one of 16 different illnesses." But it doesn't tell what those illnesses are, nor how they may be contracted.

Air in London sewers is said to be kept pure by an elaborate system of ventilation. If this be true, living in them would not provide a modern realist with the proper "atmosphere" in which to write a novel.

An accident insurance company has determined that more persons are injured by slipping in bath tubs than in any other accidents about the home. This Saturday night no cars were likely to be unlucky than Friday.

The question of whether another term for President Coolidge would really be a third term is being widely discussed. If he runs again some will surely use the third term arguments against him, and it will cause resentment and loss of votes among Democrats. Another debater, Dr. John son of the Mellon Institute, declares that the oft-repeated story that Thomas A. Edison sleeps only three or four hours out of the twenty-four is a myth. He says that the inventor snoozes eight hours on an average. Next we may learn that the wizard of Menlo Park is an inveterate loafer.

Professor Crume of Northwestern University has come out in defense of the split infinitive. Inasmuch as pretty nearly everything else has been split, twisted and shattered, why should the infinitive be held so sacred?

Ever hear of Snorri Karlsson? Well, according to Dr. Amandus Johnson of Chicago, decipherer of old Scandinavian records, he was the first white child born in America, of Swedish parents, in the year 1004, about 583 year before the birth of the famed Virginia Dare. Try this on your "ask me another" friend, or friends.

FACTS

about used car allowances

Most new car sales now involve the trading-in of a buyer's used car. More and more people are asking: "Why should my used car seem to have several values?.... Why should dealers in different makes of cars offer me allowances differing materially?.... Does the largest allowance offered mean the best deal for me?"

Here are basic facts:

- 1 Your used car has seemingly different values because competitive dealers are bidding to sell you a new car.
- 2 Your used car has only one fundamental basis of value: what the dealer who accepts it in trade can get for it in the used car market.
- 3 The largest trade-in allowance which is offered on your used car is not necessarily the best deal for you. Sometimes it is; but sometimes it is not.
- 4 An excessive allowance may mean that you are paying an excessive price for the new car in comparison with its real value.
- 5 Judge the merits of the new car in comparison with its price, including all delivery and finance charges. Then weigh any difference in allowance offered on your used car.

WHEN YOU are ready to trade-in your present car, remember that after all you are making a purchase and not a sale. You are buying a new car and simply applying your present car as a credit toward the purchase price of a new car.

HOWE ABOUT—

By ED HOWE

In reading a magazine I ran across a sentence which did me good; I hope you may gain benefit from it, also.

The writer was a convict grumbling at decent people, and said: "Disorderly living does more injury to a community than the few crimes which earn for their perpetrators long terms of penal servitude."

There is much in the statement; probably the convict stole it from a respectable source, since convicts are not fair and accurate thinkers.

Every day, in my walks I pass a lonely house where lives a martyr woman. In the yard stands an old wagon, but there are no horses in the tumble-down stable. Everywhere are signs of neglect. A son is foolish, and annoys the neighbors a good deal. Occasionally he has a fit in the yard, when we see a bedraggled, unhappy woman hurry out, and take him inside. The husband and father, we hear, is gone most of the time; looking for work, and rarely finds it. Two sons are with the father. The mother lives on what the husband sends her, and it is safe to say he doesn't send much.

I don't care to do anything for the African heathen, but should like to do something for this martyr woman, and do not know how to go about it.

In India the fact is as plain as the nose on a man's face that there is too much religion. And this religion has become so complicated, because of centuries of quarrelling about it, that now no one understands it: if it has a means of grace no one knows how to take advantage of it. When in that country a Brahmin priest who acted as my guide confessed that he did not understand his own religion and expressed the belief that no one did.

American politics has become so complicated and meaningless as the religion of the Hindus. In our country politicians exact a greater tax and create more disturbance than religion does in India. There are no ceremonies in the Hindu religion more meaningless than our own and our writers say more meaningless and foolish things about liberty, justice, etc., than the Hindus say about their Joss Man. We are neglecting simple, important, true things as regularly as the Hindus, and pay an equally great price for talk about Joss Man stuffed with sawdust.

FARM LAND VALUATIONS RAISING IN THIS PART OF COUNTY BY COURT

The Commissioners Court in session recently increased the land valuation on this side of the river about 20 per cent, and in conversation with Commissioner D. C. Osborne, we were informed that this increase is intended to be only temporary and will likely be brought back to its former basis next year.

Judge Osborne explained that the raise was absolutely necessary in order to provide funds to meet outstanding obligations and care for the work that is essential for the continued development of the county, and he points out that by another year valuations will be such that, in his opinion, a reduction can be made.

bility for cleanliness in politics is at the high tide in the United States. He that as it may, there is a clear call for such national living as Mr. Holland describes. And as a class we are overflowing with patriotism tonight. As we step into the arena of action, we have a full sense of our own importance. We know, of course, that we are not bound to make the world go right but we try to realize rather clearly our responsibility to liberate and lift.

Our teachers who have had a large part of their training during the last four years have fully realized the importance of citizenship. They have put forth noble efforts to make real Americans of the raw materials in their hands. How well they have succeeded only the future can tell. But we do thank them for their cheerful efforts and shall try to demonstrate to their satisfaction that we shall be all they aspired for us to be.

We expect great things of ourselves, and we trust that you too may expect great things of us—and not be disappointed. Class mates, let us here proclaim his case the most unusual in the history of their experience. While attending chores on his farm Mr. Weston was kicked on mand of its most efficient sons and daughters. Let us go forth and strive that Monday High School is one of the best mills for grinding out individuals that are worth while.

TEXAN'S SKIN IS INFLATED AFTER KICK

Lubbock, May 31.—Strange beyond belief is the case of C. H. Weston, farmer living near Dalou, who is a patient in a local hospital suffering from an air inflation of tissues. Doctors here proclaim his case the most unusual in the history of their experience.

While attending chores on his farm Mr. Weston was kicked on the right side of his chest by a mule. When alarming symptoms began to develop and after consultation with his family physicians, he was rushed to Lubbock for treatment.

There is no visible impression of the blow left on Mr. Weston's chest. The skin of his body is unbroken and apparently unbruised but his right side above the waistline is swelled with air, as a balloon would be.

An x-ray examination revealed the right lung in a normal condition. Touching his body around the right arm, one has the same sensibility as when touching an air filled pouch. The swelled portion of his body reaches from the waistline to his neck.

Doctors explain that the tissues of his body are filled with air, a condition which is rare and baffling.

W. E. Maddox, who underwent an operation in the Baptist Sanitarium at Abilene some two weeks ago following an injury received while unloading poles, has recovered sufficiently to be brought home and is getting along nicely.

VALEDICTORY ADDRESS

ly to making our school one of the best in Texas. For it we sincerely thank you.

Members of the faculty, when we pause to consider the workings of the Law of Compensation, we begin to grasp a little more definitely the value of your work in installing into our minds a few of your own noble principles and lofty ideals. How often we see men and women paying in years of misery and remorse for mistakes ignorantly and viciously committed; paying for hours of dissipation and crime by physical and mental suffering; paying for their indolence, shiftlessness, and waste by poverty and want; paying for their disregard of the laws of health and right living by disease and invalidism. On the other hand we see men enjoying the reward they have earned; enjoying prosperity because of economy and industry; enjoying the respect and esteem of their fellowmen because of their due regard for the rights and feelings of others. Thus we see the justice of the Golden Rule and it bids us, "Whatsoever you would that men should do unto you, do ye even so unto them." Yes, we begin to realize how grateful we must be to you during all our lives. We have enjoyed the guidance of a wholesome and fine a group of teachers as could be found. We do appreciate you for your long and patient work with us, we love you.

Finds of the Undergraduate classes, we are leaving you in the most capable hands we know and in the best place we know. But we can not resign our place to you without reminding you of the old proverb: Sow a thought—reap an action; Sow an action—reap a habit; Sow a habit—reap character; Sow a character—reap a destiny.

We have earned our rewards; we have suffered our punishments. In a slang of the day, "we got what was coming to us." We have paid the price for "value received." On the other hand, for every wasted hour, for every slighted task, for every inattentive or disobedient moment we have paid in the time of test or examination and by being relegated to inferior places in our classes. We wish it were possible for you to profit by our experiences and not have to learn the bitter truth by experience. To you, fond recollections and good luck.

Now Classmates, what a big thought it is that from thence we have the shaping of our own destinies in our own hands in a measure. During these years we have been on the receiving end of the line. We have received value. Now comes the time for us to work out the promise to pay agreement. We must put back into the treasury money, time, and service as it has been bestowed upon us. The world will demand character, attainment and service.

Let us then resolve to go forth to do, carrying lofty and unswayed ideals of service, to the end that our account with life shall be balanced and never a bad debt standing against us. Live out the law, "For value received, I promise to pay." "Freely, ye have received; freely give."

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

There will be preaching services at the Presbyterian church on next Sunday. Rev. Yourgan of Anson will fill the pulpit for the pastor. The pastor goes to Bridgeport to begin a two weeks revival meeting on Sunday. All the members are urged to be present to give the visiting Brother a warm reception. Sunday School at 10:00 a. m.

LINDBERGH'S TRIUMPH

Seldom has it fallen to the lot of any person in peace time to receive such a measure of world-wide acclaim as has been accorded Captain Charles Lindbergh, lone hero of the New York to Paris flight.

As a feat of sheer daring and skill Lindbergh's achievement has never been surpassed by any airman since the Wright Brothers flew their first frail craft at Kitty Hawk.

True, he was lucky in his brave flight. But luck alone would not have sufficed to conquer the tremendous odds against him. Without the consummate mastery of navigation which he displayed, the element of luck, important as it was, would never have enabled him to reach Paris. The accuracy with which he flew his course from Newfoundland to the Irish coast was a marvelous performance, which can be fully appreciated only by one who understands the difficulty of navigating a great circle course without the aid of astronomical observations.

The honors showered upon this 25-year-old knight of the air by the people of France, including the Legion of Honor insignia pinned upon his breast by President Doumergue, were almost unprecedented. The wild demonstration accorded him was spontaneous and sincere, in spite of the national sorrow of the French over the fate of their own gallant Nungesser and Gollé, who failed only a few days before in their attempt to make a similar flight and perished, how and where the world may never know.

Today Lindbergh holds the undisputed title of the world's greatest aviator. He is the first to cross the Atlantic alone in an airplane. He established a new world's nonstop straight line distance record, flying 3,600 miles in 33½ hours. Every true American has been thrilled with pride in his epoch-making performance.

FLOOD CONTROL PLANS

Flood control for the Mississippi river and its tributaries has become a paramount national problem, in view of the disaster which has overtaken the people of the valley states. Numerous plans are being proposed, and it seems certain that the next Congress will take preliminary steps, at least, toward preventing such a calamity in future.

Congressman Denison of the Illinois district in which Cairo is located believes the only solution of the problem lies in building new levees farther back from the river banks, so that in flood times the water may have a wider course. He believes that a reservoir system, as proposed by some, would be impracticable because of the prohibitive expense.

General Jadwin, chief of engineers declares that the levees should be built five feet higher than at present, and while he has made no definite estimate of the expense, he thinks that the work might take between 10 and 15 years. Nearly $40,000,000 has been expended on levee construction since 1922, when Congress authorized the expenditure of $60,000,000 covering a period of six years, to complete the former project, which the recent floods have shown to be inadequate.

Whatever plan may be finally adopted, it can be readily seen that the country is facing with a tremendous undertaking if these fertile valley states are to be protected against future inundations.
