New Pastor Assigned To Local Methodist Church

Members of the Munday and Goree United Methodist Church will be greeting a new pastor in the near future, as Rev. Don Travis has been assigned to the Claude UMC.

Elroy E. Wisian Jr., is the new pastor for the local churches. He has served three years at Epworth United Methodist Church in Abilene. The changes were made during the Northwest Texas Conference's annual meeting held last week in Abilene. United Methodist ministers are assigned to churches each spring by Bishop Louis W. Schowendgerdt of the Northwest Texas and New Mexico conferences.

Rev. Travis and his wife, Dorothy, will be missed by the community. During their two year stay in Munday, they had been involved in various activities and local organizations. They were honored by their congregation with a farewell reception on Sunday, June 3.

Another area change in the Seymour district is the announcement of C. Edward Allsup as pastor of the Seymour and Vera churches. He moves from the Spur and Dickens UMC to replace J. Alvis Cooley, who served Seymour and Vera two years and is retiring.

Milson To Coach Boys' Basketball

The teaching staff for Munday Independent School District is again complete following the announcement that David Milson has been employed as boys' basketball coach for the 1984-85 school year.

Milson is a native of Benjamin, graduating from Benjamin High School in 1975 and Midwestern State University in 1980. After serving as a junior varsity coach in Olney, he has spent the last three years as head basketball coach in the Spur school system. In Munday he will be assuming the duties formerly held by Coach Robert Redden, heading the boys' basketball program and assisting in football and track.

School superintendent Doyle Lowrance said the school is fortunate to have been able to employ a coach of Milson's caliber, as he comes highly recommended and his head coaching experience should prove to be valuable in continuing Munday's fine basketball program.

Milson and his wife, Valerie, will be moving to Munday sometime this month.

Applications Being Accepted For Emergency Farm Loans

The Emergency Agricultural Credit Act of 1984 authorizes the naming of counties contiguous to a designated county as areas eligible for Farmers Home Administration emergency loan assistance for any disaster occurring during 1983. Applications for emergency farm loans for losses caused by drought, flooding, heavy rainfall, high winds, high temperatures, severe storms, hurricane Alicia, early frost and unseasonable freeze are being accepted at the Farmers Home Administration office located in Knox City, FmHA county supervisor Joe T. Boone said.

Any loan would have to be based on a loss occurring from January 1, 1983 through December 31, 1983. Applications for these loans will be accepted through December 4, 1984 rather than dates previously announced. The on-going drought condition that is now being experienced will not be covered under this authorized designation.

Knox County is one of 166 in Texas recently named by Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block as eligible for loans to cover part of the actual losses.

Boone said farmers may be eligible for loans of up to 80 percent of their actual losses, or the operating loan needed to continue in business, or $500,000, whichever is less. For farmers unable to obtain credit from private commercial lenders, the interest rate on the first $100,000 borrowed is 5 percent; interest rate is 8 percent on the balance borrowed over that amount. For farmers who can obtain commercial credit but who choose to borrow from FmHA, the interest rate is 13.75 percent.

As a general rule, a farmer must have suffered at least a 30 percent loss of production to be eligible for an FmHA emergency loan, Boone said. Farmers participating in the PIK or federal crop insurance program will have to figure in proceeds from those programs in determining their loss.

Applications for loans under this emergency designation will be accepted until December 4, 1984, but farmers should apply as soon as possible. Delays in applying could create backlogs in processing and possibly carry over into the new farming season, Boone said.

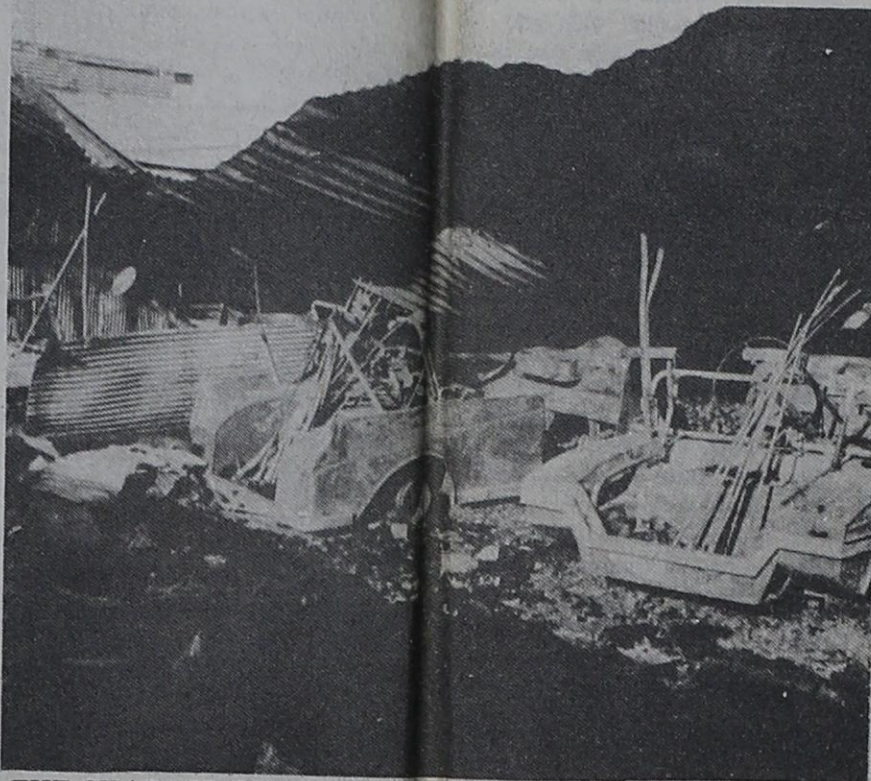

FmHA is a credit agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It is authorized to provide disaster emergency loans to recognized farmers who work at and rely on farming for a substantial part of the living. Eligibility is extended to individual farmers who are U.S. citizens, and to farming partnerships, corporations or cooperatives in which U.S. citizens hold a majority interest.

The FmHA office in Knox City is open from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Reminder To Citizens

A representative of the state comptroller's office will be in Munday on Tuesday, June 12. Residents may see him at the City Hall between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m. for assistance with tax problems.

The Social Security representative will be at the City Hall between 9:30 and 11:30 a.m. on Wednesday, June 13. He will assist citizens in applying for various Social Security benefits.

THE CHARRED REMAINS of a shed at the Lake Creek Golf Course are evidence of a fire that caused a good deal of damage late Wednesday night, May 30. Several carts and sets of clubs were destroyed in the flames. The fire is thought to have started due to faulty wiring.

Sales, Exhibits Add To Vegetable Festival

More names are being added to the list of entries for various events in the Knox County Vegetable Festival slated for June 22 and 23. Plans are coming along according to schedule, and every Knox County citizen should note the dates and times of events of special attraction to their family. With different interesting and educational exhibits and displays, sales of art and craft work and delicious locally-grown vegetables, and games, races and entertainment planned, this will truly be an occasion for the whole family to enjoy.

Art shows and craft exhibits are always successful in our area, and these will be important additions to the Vegetable Festival. The art display will be located at the old Motel Shop between Hurst's and the Fair Department Stores in Munday and will be open both Friday and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. A sidewalk art sale will be conducted outside the building.

Local and area artists will show works in oils, watercolors, china painting, photography, folk art and other mediums, both in the display and for sale. Anyone wishing to exhibit or sell their artwork should pre-register by contacting Mary Smith at 422-4027 or 422-4918, or Gail Ramirez at 422-5507 or 422-4100.

The elementary school lunchroom will be the site for a sale of hobbies and crafts to be held between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. Saturday, June 23. Crocheted and knitted items, handwork of other sorts, ceramics and various types of crafts made by talented persons in our area will be shown.

If you would like to rent table space for selling your craft items, call Brenda Shawver at 422-5372 or Stella Caram at 422-4476 for more information.

Another interesting exhibit being planned for the festival is a group of antique farm machinery, including pieces of equipment used by early Knox County farmers. According to David Key, chairman of this exhibit, area farmers and ranchers are gathering vintage machinery used by their families. Plows, tractors and other pieces of equipment will be on display on the elementary school lawn between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. on both days of the festival.

Please call David Key at 422-4658 if you have any old farm implements you would like to contribute for this exhibit.

A schedule for the June 15 promotion day is shaping up, and we will print more information about this in next week's Courier. But all Knox County men are advised to be waiting for a phone call advising them that they have been chosen to be a finalist in the Men's Legs Contest. A panel of impartial female judges has been scouring the county looking for the best set of legs, and finalists in this judging will be notified. The final contest will be held after the bed races on Promotion Day. Contestants will not be required to show their faces, so everyone's identity can be preserved. Only the legs will be shown and judged.

More information on this and other events will be forthcoming.

Wheat Harvest Almost Complete

Barring any substantial rainfall, which is not expected, wheat harvest in the Knox County area should be wrapped up by the end of this week or the first part of next week. Several harvest crews have already gone on to their next destination, and the exodus is expected to continue throughout the week.

The wheat harvested has been, in many spots, better than expected considering the drought conditions under which it was planted and grown. Maynard Moore, manager of Farmers Grain Co-op in Munday, said some irrigated wheat made over 90 bushels per acre. Jimmy Ray Albus had 51 acres southwest of Munday that yielded 98½ bushels per acre. Dryland wheat is making from 15 to 40 bushels to the acre, with average yields ranging in the 20's.

Wheat was bringing $3.40 per bushel as of noon Tuesday.

Flames Damage Golf Equipment

Munday volunteer firemen have had a relatively busy week fighting fires. The most severe of these blazes occurred late last Wednesday night at the Lake Creek Golf Club in a fire that is thought to have been started because of some faulty wiring.

Among those who had equipment damaged or destroyed in the fire were Alvin Michalik, Red Hurst, Jimmy Harlan, Melvin Cypert, Larry Swan and Ed Murphy. Cost of the damage is estimated to be between $5,000 and $6,000.

The firemen also answered a few calls involving wheat stubble on fire, one Saturday afternoon northeast of town and another Monday afternoon near the Don Hawkins residence between Munday and Knox City.

Notice To Home Canners

The Knox County Extension Service will sponsor a free pressure canner check-up at the Munday M-System between 9:30 and 11:30 a.m. Wednesday, June 13.

It will take approximately five minutes for canners to be examined and approved as ready for use.

Have a happy June!

City Hopes To Extend Drainage Facility

The City Council of the City of Munday, Texas met in special session Friday, June 1, at the Munday City Hall.

Members present: Mayor Doris Dickerson and Aldermen Von Marr, Gary Decker, Richard Albus, Garon Tidwell and Jessie Tucker.

Mayor Dickerson called the meeting to order at 8 p.m. First business was to hold a public hearing to secure citizen input on community needs. An application will be made to the Texas Department of Community Affairs for a grant for needed improvements in the community.

Lloyd Patterson, president of Knox County Drainage District #1 and Kenneth Baker, board member, again met with the Council. They requested that the application be made for extension west of the present Corps of Engineers channel approximately .4 of a mile to pick up additional water into the Corps channel. Extension of this channel would receive all or most of this flood water which flows north, then circling into the Weaver Lake area north of Munday and then flowing, in part, back into Munday into the 5th Street, 7th Street and North Park area and continuing on into the East side of Munday. The Corps channel, they believe, is adequate to receive the additional water.

No one else appeared at the hearing. Mayor Dickerson declared the public hearing portion adjourned.

Next to be considered was passage of a resolution as follows:

A resolution of the City Council of the City of Munday, Texas authorizing the filing of an application with the Texas Department of Community Affairs (TDCA) for a community development program grant.

Whereas, the City of Munday duly advertised, gave notice, and held two public hearings, as required, for the filing of the application for a FY '84 Community Development Program Grant; and

Whereas, the application grant funds, if approved, will be used for the project described as:

The extension of an existing flood prevention drainage ditch in the southwest portion of the City.

Now, therefore, be it resolved by the City Council of the City of Munday, Texas;

Part 1. That the CDP application shall be submitted to the Texas Department of Community Affairs. Part 2. That the Mayor is hereby authorized to submit the application and sign all necessary forms pertaining to said application. Part 3. That the Knox County Drainage District No. 1 is committing the following funds for the proposed project;

Local: $12,000; revenue sharing: -0-; total: $12,000. This fund commitment is documented by a District Resolution.

Part 4. That this resolution shall

Olympic Torch To Pass Through Knox County

Vera citizens will have a special reason to watch the Olympic torch relay when it comes through Knox County on Friday, June 15.

Rosalyn Bratcher of Conroe has received confirmation from the Olympic committee that she has been designated as a runner in the Olympic torch relay team that will pass through the Vera area. Mrs. Bratcher's husband, Burt, was reared in the Vera community and is a 1967 graduate of Seymour High School. Mrs. Bratcher is a four-year marathon runner in the Houston area, and requested Vera for her section of the relay.

The Bratchers are graduates of Texas Tech University and have two children, Timothy, 12, and Tara, 9. Parents of the couple are Claudell and Mary Bratcher of Vera and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Davis of La Porte. Citizens of Vera are looking forward to viewing the Olympic torch caravan and consider themselves fortunate to be on the torch route and to know one of the runners.

The runners are expected to cross from Baylor County into Knox County at approximately 3 p.m. and plan to go through Benjamin around 5:30 before continuing on to Dickens, where they will spend the night. The caravan consists of medical, lodging and dining facilities preceding the runners, their security people and county officials.

The Olympic torch relay began May 8 in New York City and will travel 82 days over 9,000 miles and 34 states before arriving in Los Angeles to open the 1984 Summer Olympic Games. Almost 4,000 runners are involved in the relay, backed up by 10,000 support personnel. The caravan is sponsored by AT&T.

IN TOUCH

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

How do you react when things don't go your way? How do you respond when life deals you a hard knock? Many believers get mad and puff up with indignation when they don't get their way. Some hold their anger inside and become sour, bitter and resentful.

Sometimes folks direct venomous, critical comments against the Lord, His servants, and His church. Things as small as an occupied parking place, a flip-offensive remark, behavior you don't approve of, or as major as death, illness, or losing a job can evoke a negative reaction.

As a pastor, I encounter people every week burdened with a load of anger, bitterness and resentment because things have not gone their way. Because their lives have not worked out as they planned, they feel cheated, abused, exploited and disappointed. There are people with a permanent chip on their shoulder, who expect others to defer to them because of their misfortune and who think the world owes them better.

I am convinced that real faith is most clearly revealed when life deals its hardest blows. The mature Christian does not go to pieces when they do not get their way. The genuine believer does not puff up with resentment when things do not go as planned. They accept the blow as a gift from God. They realize the blow can draw them closer to Jesus, promote their growth, and enable them to better glorify the Lord. They accept the blow with praise knowing that Sovereign God will sustain them and make things right in the end.

Listen to the Word: "When they hurled their insults at Him, He did not retaliate, when He suffered, He made no threats. Instead He entrusted Himself to Him who judges justly." (1 Peter 2:23 NIV) "Consider it pure joy, my brothers, whenever you face trials of many kinds, because you know that the testing of your faith develops perseverance. Perseverance must finish its work so that you may be mature and complete, not lacking anything." (James 1:2-4 NIV)

Police Report

by Police Chief Gerald Saffel

For the period of May 21-31, the Police Department issued six traffic citations and ten warnings. We assisted with two funeral escorts and helped the fire department once. One prowler call was investigated, and we delivered one emergency message.

Warrants were obtained on three adult males for injury to a child. Two of these subjects have been arrested and the other is supposedly living in Fort Worth at the present time. The Sheriff's Department was very helpful in assisting with this case and in several others during this reporting period.

In animal control, two small dogs approximately ten weeks of age, one male and one female, were picked up and taken to Dr. Stewart's clinic. If you are the owner or you are missing some black and white puppies, contact the Police Department. These dogs were found on Saturday, May 26.

Greg Rawdon, Miss Nifong Married June 2nd

Nancy Colette Nifong and Gregory Lynn Rawdon were married Saturday evening, June 2, at the First United Methodist Church in Mansfield. Parents of the couple are Mrs. Harry D. Nifong, Jr., and the late Mr. Nifong and Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Rawdon of Mansfield.

Arch, spiral and tree candelabras were used with palm trees, floral arrangements, and a unity candle to create the setting for the candlelight ceremony. Dr. B. Thomas Tribble was the officiating minister.

Charles Anderson was the pianist and organist. Musical selections included You Are So Beautiful, Ave Maria, Brandenburisches Konzert Nr. 3, Trumpet Voluntary, and Edelweiss.

The matron of honor was Sandra Walden Payne of El Paso, and the maid of honor was Jane Hamlin Barclay of Little Rock, Arkansas. Nicole Noel Back of Bureson was a junior bridesmaid and Cathy Rawdon, niece of the groom, was the flower girl.

The best man was Ronald Rawdon of Godley, brother of the groom. Groomsmen and ushers were Bobby Sosolik of Munday, Jimmy Little of Cisco, Hanspeter Hofer of Zurich, Switzerland, and Daryl Back of Mansfield.

The bride, escorted to the altar by Dr. Charles Rice of Mexia, wore a formal gown of candlelight taffeta and beaded French Alencon lace. The fitted bodice had a scooped neckline with accents of beaded Alencon lace on the bodice, forming a point at the waistline in front and a deep point in the back. The puffed taffeta sleeves, worn slightly off the shoulders, had sheer fitted lower sleeves with beaded Alencon lace cuffs. The full tissue-taffeta skirt extended into a cathedral train edged with scalloped Alencon lace.

On her head, the bride wore a juliet cap of imported lace and pearls. The fingertip illusion veil was scalloped with floating French lace appliques in the scallops. The bride's bouquet was a cascade of gardenias, white roses, denrobium orchid sprays, baby's breath and sprengrie.

The matron and maid of honor wore formal length dresses of cerise taffeta. The fitted bodices had natural waistlines with bows of taffeta accenting the shoulders. The full bouffant skirts had rows of cascading ruffles on the front that formed an apron effect in the back with a bow at the waist. The junior bridesmaid and flower girl had similar dresses of cerise taffeta. The groom wore a black traditional length tailcoat with an ivory pique wing-collar shirt, vest and bow tie. The best man, groomsmen and ushers wore black designer tuxedos with ivory wing-collar shirts and black bow ties.

A reception followed the service at the Walnut Creek Country Club. The music was provided by the Curt Wilson Quartet. A four-tiered white wedding cake was decorated with fresh flowers. Grapes and lemon leaves decorated the groom's red velvet chocolate cake. Assisting with registering and serving of the guests were Candace Bawcombe, Dot Badura, and Becky Rawdon.

The bride and groom left the reception in a chauffeured limousine. After a trip to Jamaica, the couple will be a home in Mansfield. The bride is a graduate of Midwest City High School, Midwest City, Oklahoma, and Texas Christian University, Fort Worth. She is employed by Turbomeca Engine Corporation in Grand Prairie.

The groom, a Mansfield High School graduate, received his bachelor's degree from Tarleton State University. He is co-owner of the Western Auto - Trustworthy Hardware store in Mansfield.

Learning Continues In Summer

School may be out for some students, but the Munday High School home economics department remains open for summer courses.

Several incoming freshmen attended a basic clothing construction class recently. They made a letter pillow, a sewing kit, a cosmetic case and a summer blouse during their week of instruction.

Students participating were Natalie Hernandez, Erlinda Sosa, Melanie Little, Debbie Brown, Alexis Bordovsky and Esther Escamilla.

Two levels of cake decorating classes for students will begin Thursday, June 7, with Cheryl Wilde and Mrs. Penny Winchester assisting twenty students in developing this art. Twelve adults are currently enrolled in a lap quilting class being taught on Tuesday nights during June. This class was planned by Mrs. Phyllis Reid and Mrs. Winchester.

The FHA officers elected for 1984-85 have planned a leadership meeting for Monday evening, June 11, at the swimming pool. They hope to combine work and fun at this get-together.

The vocational home economics department is proud to be able to offer extended learning experiences to students and adults during June.

Attends FHA Seminar

Selwa Choucair, Area IV vice-president of Encounter, attended the FHA officers leadership and program planning seminar on June 5 and 6 in Stephenville.

Miss Choucair will be compiling a packet to be distributed to all FHA chapters in Area IV. She will also assist in planning the area meeting for 1985.

In July, Selwa will attend the National FHA meeting in Chicago, Illinois.

CORRECTION

In the fiftieth anniversary article in last week's Courier we mistakenly stated that former Gore residents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Edwards, live in Seymour. The couple does in fact live in Wichita Falls.

MRS. JAMES MICHAEL DOUGLASS
... formerly Marla Kay Roznovsky

Relative Of Munday Residents Wed In Fort Worth Ceremony

Saint Andrews Catholic Church in Fort Worth was the setting for the wedding of Marla Kay Roznovsky and James Michael Douglass on June 2, 1984 at 7:30 p.m. The Rev. Gary Geurtz officiated the formal double-ring ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Roznovsky of Fort Worth, is the granddaughter of the late Jim and Theresa Roznovsky of Seymour and the late Joseph and Catherine Kuhler of Munday. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Burt of Joshua, and the late James D. Douglass.

The ceremony was performed before a background of spiral and arched candelabra holding lighted votive candles. The altar was centered with large fresh floral arrangements of pink and lilac gladiolas, white white bows designated the family pews.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal princess style gown in white sheer organza over prelude satin. The satin bodice, trimmed in pearly Venise lace with seed pearls and sequins, featured a neckline with dropped shoulders accented with silk organza ruffles. The sheer, flounced skirt over prelude satin fell from the fitted waistline forming a lovely sweeping cathedral train. An embroidered border above rows of silk organza ruffles extended to encircle the train and form the hemline.

To complete her bridal ensemble, Marla chose a two-tiered, fingertip length veil with pearl beaded edging featuring a cap adorned with silk organza flowers accented with pearl droplets and tiny silk star blossoms emphasizing one side with the entire cap accented with round and seed pearls.

The bride's bouquet was a cascade of rubrum lilies, stephanotis, white elegants, baby's breath and English ivy.

For good luck and something old, the bride had a penny of the year of her birth in her shoe. For something borrowed and something blue, the bride wore her mother's wedding garter.

Serving as matron of honor was Mrs. Lois Lewis of Fort Worth. Bridesmaids were Rachel Griffith and Wende Witherspoon, both of Fort Worth; Nancy Gutierrez of Arlington; Stacy Douglass, sister of the groom; and Judy Brown, cousin of the bride, of Munday.

The bridal attendants wore matching taffeta ballroom gowns in candy pink. The fitted bodices featured ruffled off-the-shoulder necklines and long full skirts cascading from fitted waistlines. Each attendant carried a crescent bouquet of purple iris, light pink carnations, orchid daisies, purple statice, baby's breath and springrie fern.

Serving as best man was Larry Henges of St. Louis, Missouri. Groomsmen were Craig Overcash and Lee Taylor, both of Fort Worth; Skylar Thompson of Beaumont; Mike Draper of Dallas; and Ross Wade of Arlington.

The groom, his attendants, his father and the father of the bride wore full-dress black tuxedos with tails, white pique shirts with wing-tipped collars, black bow ties and black cummerbunds. The groom wore a contrasting white bow tie. The groom's boutonniere was three white stephanotis. Boutonnieres for his attendants were white rosebuds.

Ushers were Donald Roznovsky, brother of the bride, and K. C. Miller, both of Fort Worth.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Roznovsky chose a floor-length periwinkle lace-over-taffeta gown with a matching long sleeved jacket with pearl buttons. The groom's mother wore a floor-length light pink gown with a tear-drop lace bodice. The mother of the bride was

Local Cancer Society Exceeds Crusade Goal

Knox County unit volunteers for the American Cancer Society experienced a good feeling when they met recently in the Munday First United Methodist Church to declare their 1984 crusade completed. The crusade exceeded its goal with a total of $5,787.66 in donations and $568 in memorials.

County crusade chairman Myrtle Everett expressed gratitude to all the volunteers and especially to those who served as town chairmen: Shirley Amerson, Munday; Grace Welch, Knox City; Valera Hertel, Rhineland; Wilma Beck, Vera; Lucille Moorhouse, Benjamin; Margie Allen, Goree; and Sheryll Simmons, Gilliland and Truscott.

Katherine Smith, president, took charge of the meeting as minutes were read and officer reports given. The service and rehabilitation committee reported three patients served and the public information committee announced newspaper and radio contacts for the memorial program. The public education division was 90 persons short on the projected service figure. Films are available for any age group and can be secured by calling Beverly McGaughey for appointments.

Nominating chairman Frances Coffman submitted a slate of officers for 1985, and they were elected by acclamation. They include Louise Moore, president; Beverly McGaughey, vice-president; Myrtle Everett, secretary; and Shirley Amerson, treasurer.

Six new board members were elected: Violet Patterson of Vera, Lucille Moorhouse, Ruth Ressel, Pearl Ryder and Veta Campbell of Benjamin, and Grace Welch of Knox City.

Attending the meeting were Sheryll Simmons of Gilliland, Grace Welch of Knox City, Shirley Amerson, Ruby Roden and Louise Moore of Munday, Katherine Smith, Loyd Clark, Frances Coffman and Bertha McKinney of Vera and staff member Jeff Bulloch of Wichita Falls.

Band Shirts Being Ordered

Students in Munday high school and junior high bands need to order band T-shirts as soon as possible. To place your order, go by T-Shirts Too or call the store and give your size. Different sizes of the shirts are available for trying on if you don't know what size you need to order.

Band members are reminded that a shirt cannot be ordered for them if their size is not known and turned in, so those who have not placed their order should do so as soon as possible.

Irrigation An Answer To Drought?

Drought conditions over parts of Texas have farmers thinking about irrigation, but it's a major step that calls for careful planning, says an agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. An irrigation system is a major investment and operational costs are high.

Select an appropriate system for the particular crop, type of soil and lay of the land. Plan the irrigation development carefully to achieve efficient operation and minimum operating cost. Also remember the system must be used to recover the investment.

Pickles have been popular for centuries, having been first recorded in history in 2030 B.C. when inhabitants of Northern India introduced cucumber seeds to the Tigris Valley. Historical records show that early settlers grew cucumbers. These pickled vegetables were one of the few green foods available during the winter before the development of modern transportation and storage of fresh vegetables. Although we no longer depend upon pickled vegetables as a source of green vegetables during winter months, pickles remain a popular item.

Pickles add zest and excitement to meals, not to mention eye appeal, flavor and an irresistible crunch! Scores of Texans make their own pickles each year from cucumbers grown in their own gardens, given to them by friends or purchased from local farmers markets.

Pickles fall into three basic categories: fresh pack, salt pack or brined and genuine dill.

Fresh pack pickles are made from fresh cucumbers to which vinegar and salt, sugar and spices are added. The jars are sealed and pasteurized. The characteristic flavor of the pickle develops in the jar. Fresh pack pickles are the most popular variety for home canning because they are easy to prepare yet high in quality when prepared with modern recipes, good ingredients and proper processing.

Salt stock or brined pickles are more difficult to produce at home because it's difficult to maintain a cool brining temperature in our hot Texas climate and the brining process is lengthy. However, brined pickles do have a unique and delicious flavor.

Genuine dill pickles are cured in salt, dill and other spices and have a unique melon flavor which is different from quick dill varieties.

There are a number of steps home picklers should take to assure a quality home-prepared pickle. First, select a cucumber that is pickling variety such as National Pickling, Explorer, Salty or Crispy. Do not make the mistake of trying to pickle salad cucumbers by selecting the fruits when they are small.

Attention, Bed Racers!!

Anyone interested in participating in the bed races planned for the Vegetable Festival Promotion Day on Friday, June 15, should contact Perry Kuehler at 422-4712. There must be five members on each team, and teams should dress in costumes of some type. Entry fee is $5 per team.

The races will be held between the First National Bank and Production Credit office at 6 p.m. on June 15, and teams planning to enter the race should contact Kuehler before that time.

An ad in the Munday Courier will get results. Have yours in by noon Tuesdays.

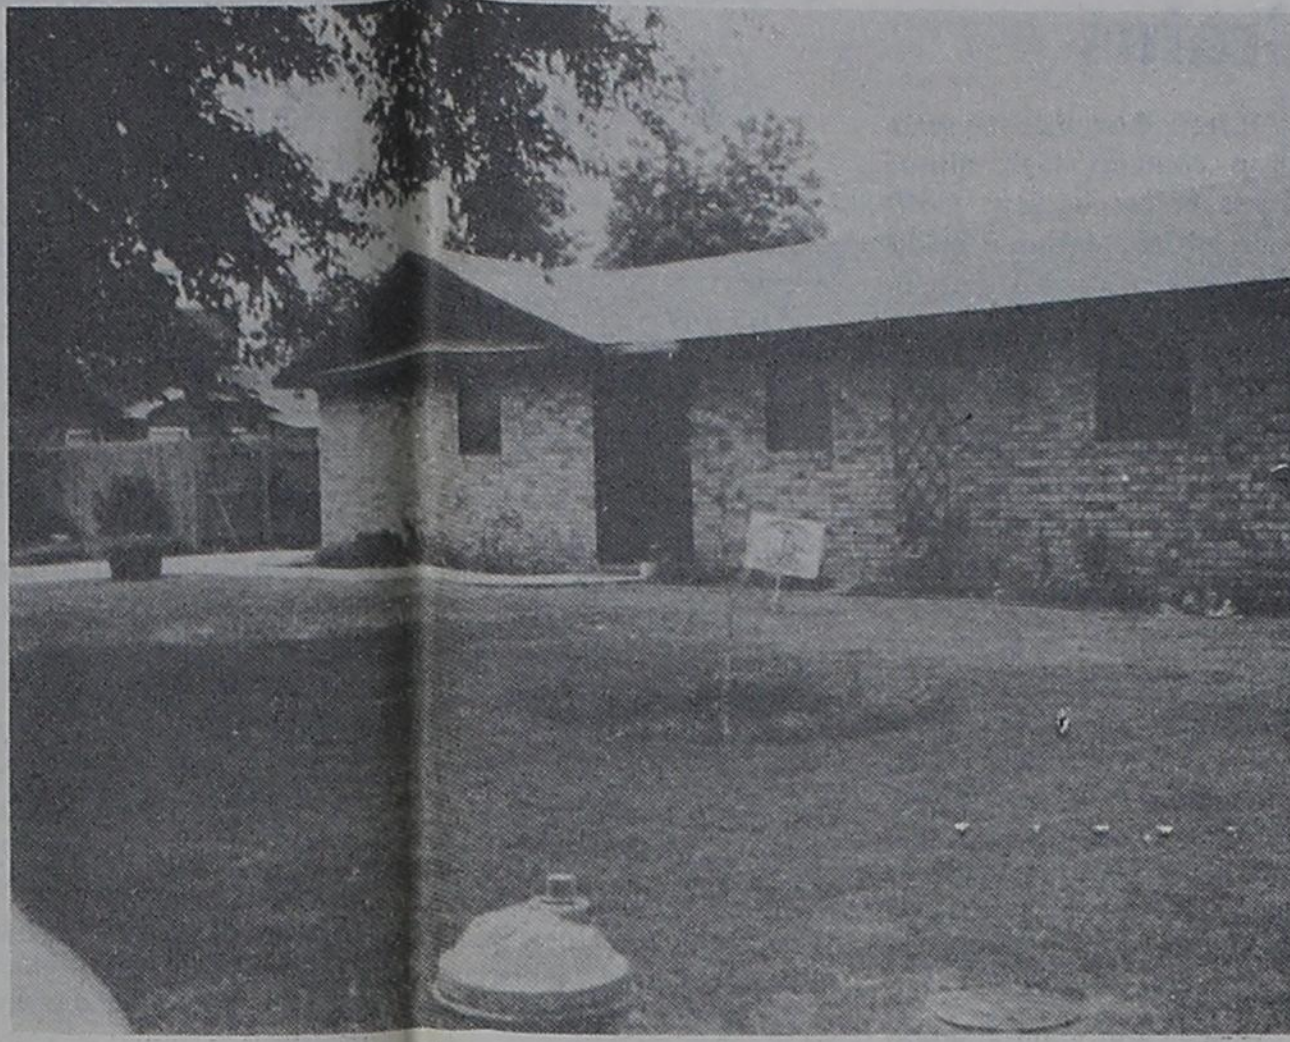

Small salad cucumbers are immature fruit and will not yield a quality product.

Process as soon as possible after pickling. If fruits and vegetables cannot be packed immediately, store them in the refrigerator and pickle within 24 hours.

Use high quality, four to six (40 to 60 grain) vinegar, fresh spices and soft water. Heat processing in a water-bath canner is recommended for all pickle products to destroy spoilage organisms and enzymes.

Whether you enjoy making your own pickles or prefer to purchase them at your local supermarket, refrigerate them after opening to maintain their best quality.

With canning season in full swing we all need to have our pressure canners checked. On Wednesday, June 13, I will be testing canners at M-System in Munday from 9:30 -11:30 a.m. and at M-System in Knox City from 1:30 -4:00 p.m. All you need to do is bring your pressure canner led by and it only takes a couple of minutes. I hope you will do so. If you can't make it that day please call me so we can work out a time to test your equipment. It could be vital to your health.

Telephone Companies Note Change

Changes approved by the Federal Communications Commission on May 25, 1984 will affect General Telephone customers using interstate long-distance directory assistance, customers using AT&T to make long-distance calls, and businesses with more than one line.

An interstate directory assistance charge of 50 cents per call with a two-call allowance for each billing period was approved for AT&T, the nation's only provider of interstate directory assistance service. To obtain the two-call directory assistance allowance, the customer must make at least two interstate calls during each billing period. If the customer makes one or no interstate calls, the allowance would be one or zero respectively.

The FCC also ordered AT&T to reduce its interstate long-distance rates by approximately 6.1 percent.

At the same time, the FCC approved interstate end user access charges of $6 per line for businesses with more than one line.

All of the changes became effective May 25.

Beware Of Nitrates In Grains

Use of drought-stricken corn and grain sorghum for hay or grazing may cause nitrate poisoning in livestock. Grain crops stressed by drought may accumulate nitrates to lethal levels, points out Dr. Cloyce Coffman with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Therefore, producers should have a nitrate test run on these crops before they are grazed or harvested for livestock feed.

Crops that contain more than 1 percent nitrates (on a dry matter basis) can kill livestock that feed on them, says Coffman, an agronomist. Even if animals survive this level of nitrates, other economic losses may occur, such as abortion, weakness among the young, infertility and difficulty in conception, lameness and decreased milk production.

The nitrate level in grain crops is normally highest in the lower portions of the stalk and lowest in the grain and upper leaves, notes Coffman. So, turning a few animals into a field for a short time to "test the water" may not indicate danger from high nitrates since these animals will likely graze only leaves easy to reach that are lowest in nitrates.

On the other hand, heavy grazing by many animals may result in animals eating the lower portions of stalks where nitrate levels are highest. This could lead to adverse results, says Coffman.

Weeds such as pigweed (often called careless weed), may also contain high levels of nitrates, notes the agronomist. Under stress conditions, they may be quite palatable when grazed. If the grain crop is harvested as hay, these weeds may be consumed simultaneously by livestock.

The nitrate levels remain relatively unchanged once grain crops are harvested for hay, says Coffman. There is no known chemical that can be added to this hay to reduce nitrates. Nonetheless, there are a few management practices that might help to modify, minimize or control the toxic effects of nitrates. For example, partially feeding animals with feeds low in nitrates and high in energy or thoroughly mixing high nitrate material with other forages may reduce the risk of poisoning. Coffman suggests consulting a veterinarian under these circumstances.

If tests show that the grain crop contains high nitrate levels before harvest, Coffman advises leaving it in the field. A heavy rain will usually lower the nitrate level sufficiently to allow safe harvesting for hay.

Over the years, a couple of "quick tests" have been developed to detect nitrates in plant tissue. However, these have not proved reliable, notes Coffman, so producers should send plant samples to diagnostic or plant tissue testing laboratories. Two such laboratories are at Texas A&M University: the Soil and Plant Testing Laboratory and the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory.

Proper and careful sampling of grain fields or hay is most critical in obtaining accurate and reliable information regarding nitrate levels, Coffman emphasizes. Take composite samples from 10 hay bales using a hay probe. If the crop is still in the field, get one sample from areas or plants that are most severely stressed and a second sample from areas or plants that are least stressed. The range of nitrates may be of interest in deciding how best to use the crop.

Farm And Ranch Report

DAVID TUNMIRE
COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT-AG

Tomatoes - Fun, And Maybe Frustrating

Tomatoes are the most popular home garden vegetable in Texas. A lot of people who don't have gardens will have a few tomato vines growing in a flower bed some place around the home.

There is a certain amount of satisfaction when you go out to your garden to your tomato vines and harvest tasty, vine-ripe tomatoes. But as everyone knows, sometimes those tasty, vine-ripe tomatoes never happen. A project which was started with high hopes has ended with frustration.

Most of the tomatoes are blooming or are about to bloom in Knox County. There are a few things you can be watching for so your tomato vines don't become a frustration to you.

Why aren't my tomato vines setting fruit? This common question was recently asked by Jerene Cypert of Knox City. Many things can cause blooms to drop. These include extreme high or low temperatures, too much nitrogen and insects.

Avoid too much fertilizer. Tomatoes do not require a high level of nitrogen. Examine your tomato plants regularly for insects. If a pest is observed, use a labeled pesticide for control.

The dry weather we have been experiencing is setting us up for another common problem, blossom end rot. Blossom end rot is identified by a dry and brown to black rot on the blossom end of the tomatoes.

Low soil calcium and/or extremely dry or wet soil are the causes of blossom end rot. The extremely dry or wet soil will most likely be the main problem in this area. The best way to deal with this problem is to even out the soil moisture. Don't let the soil get extremely dry before watering. Mulching will help reduce rapid water loss from the soil.

Daily examination of your tomato vines will help catch a problem before it is too late. Knowing how to prevent problems with your tomato vines before they can start will put you well on your way to harvesting tasty, vine-ripe tomatoes you grew yourself.

VEGETABLE CLINIC TO AID HOME GARDENERS

A Vegetable Clinic will be held from 8:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m. Friday, June 22, at the Munday Band Hall. The clinic is part of the many activities which will be taking place during the Knox County Vegetable Festival.

Dr. Roland Roberts, Extension Horticulturist, and Emory Boring, Extension Entomologist, will be on hand to answer questions. This will be a good opportunity for home gardeners or commercial producers to get some good information about a problem they may have been having.

Try Surge Irrigation For Effective Watering

By Jerry Pearce
District Conservationist

A new method of row watering is being used in this area. Surge irrigation, which was developed at Utah State University, is the application of irrigation water in a series of pulses or surges rather than a conventional continuous furrow stream.

Soil Conservation Service engineer Ron Slocum stated that the heart of the surge irrigation concept is the surge valve. The valve is about the size of standard "Y" or "T" aluminum pipe fittings used in row watering. The valve is operated by a small motorcycle battery which also runs a timer. The timer can be set to allow shorter or longer pulses of water. The timer, battery and controls are mounted in a box attached to the valve. In some cases, a solar panel may be attached to the unit to keep the battery charged.

One type of valve has a rubber donut-shaped bladder that is mounted within each side. When started, water is pumped into the bladder until it closes. This forces water out the other side. At the end of a surge, the water is pumped from the closed side to the open side. Irrigation water then flows down the opposite side.

A second type of valve uses flap gates to control the flow. The two flap gates are linked together, and when the timer closes one side, the other is opened.

Two sets of pipe are connected to the surge unit. Water alternates from one set to the other. As water flows down one set, the other set is soaking into the ground. When the water is switched back to the first set, it then flows down a partially irrigated row. This causes the water to flow faster than normal, and gives it more energy to break through clods while moving quickly down the furrow. Since each side is irrigated half the time, the total amount of water applied is about the same as in conventional row watering. However, the swift moving water seals the surface of the furrow with silt and decreases deep percolation while shortening the amount of time needed to get the water out.

While surge irrigation is fairly new to our area, it has the potential to change row watering in much the same way that center pivots have changed sprinkler irrigation, and may result in lower operating costs to the producer.

For more information on surge irrigation, contact the Soil Conservation Service in Knox City or the Knox County Extension Service.

LETTERS FROM

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR WILLIAM P. HOBBY

Dear Fellow Texans:

As you know, Governor White has called a special session of the Legislature. He has stated that education, highways and a tax package will be the principal topics for discussion.

This special session will be a challenge. Education and highways are vitally important to our State's economic growth. The success or failure of reforms for either area will be felt for years.

Education is the primary building block for economic growth and the best defense against unemployment. An education teaches more than how to live; it teaches how to make a living.

Texas highways contribute immeasurably to commercial and personal convenience. If we cannot build and maintain an efficient highway system, we risk economic stagnation.

Establishing top quality educational systems and highways that can accommodate the growing population of Texas will cost money — a lot of money that can come only from broadening our revenue sources. The sources under review are the sales tax, liquor and gasoline taxes. For over ten years these taxes have not been increased, but Texas and the world are different places now. In the early seventies, high technology was associated mainly with the space program. Now, it is a common household term. The changes over the last ten years have been dramatic. If our children are to compete in today's world, then we must implement changes — changes for the better.

As June 4 becomes a reality, I ask that you give the legislators your full support. Because after they have finished their work, then the job will go to parents and teachers, whom we plan to give our wholehearted support.

Local Riders To Compete In Annual County Horse Show

Knox County's annual Open All Trophy Horse Show will be held at the Knox City arena Saturday, June 9, with classes getting underway at 9:30 a.m.

Judging this year's show will be Jimmy Poole of Stephenville. Poole, a former collegiate judging team member, is an experienced and well qualified judge and will be familiar to many in this area, as he recently judged the Wilbarger County Open Show at Vernon, according to show chairman Mary Ann Boone of Knox City.

There will be halter classes for stallions, mares and geldings.

Performance classes will be divided into three divisions according to contestants' age. Included will be showmanship, western pleasure, western horsemanship, western riding, reining trail, barrels, flags, poles and stakes.

Two open English classes, English pleasure and English equitation, have been planned. Walk-trot classes for children aged eight and under, with lead line optional, will also be included in the show.

A silver buckle will be awarded to high point winners in each of the three age groups, which are 13 and under, 14-18, and 19 and over. Trophies through fifth place will be given in each class in all divisions.

A concession stand will be provided by the Scarlet Belles drill team.

For more information, contact Mrs. Joe Boone at 817-658-3916.

Large Crowd Enjoys Benjamin Homecoming

By Gladene Green

"It was as nice a one as I ever saw or attended!" That comment was heard by many on Sunday as folks began to go their separate ways after a three-day Benjamin homecoming, vowing to return in 1986.

Between 400 and 500 people registered, and several in attendance never made it to the registration table. It was a fun-packed weekend, and events were scheduled to satisfy all ages.

A business meeting was held Saturday afternoon after the parade to install new officers and board members and recognize those who retired. New president is Donnie Ryder, and other officers are Sammy Pierce, vice-president; Bobby Frank Hudson, secretary; and Julia Propps, treasurer. New board members include Wyman Meinzer, Kenneth Groves, Nancy McGreger and Philomae Roberson. Jonnie Williams will also serve on the board.

Recognized as retiring president was Jim Bob Bisbee. Other out-going officers are Julia Propps, former vice-president; and Jonnie Williams, retiring secretary. Grace Snailum, Juanita Burnett and Joe Barton are retiring board members.

The parade was great. There were winners in several categories. Best float was the Sorosis Club and second place went to the Star Promenaders. Other categories and winners were:

Best bikers - Michelle Conner, first; and Stephanie Conner, second.

Best cowboy - League Ranch, first; Penny Eaton, second.

Best horse-drawn entry - Lanham Jones and Sandy Patterson, first; and Bill Ryder and his mules, second.

Best motorized entry - Benjamin fire truck, first; Benjamin All-Stars, second.

Best of Theme - Mariachi band (Chris McGreger, Chris and Kent Hertel and Zeke Duke), first; Michelle Conner, second.

Best of Show award and recipient of $100 prize - Benjamin Sorosis Club.

The highlight of Friday night's activities was the coronation of the Homecoming Queen and Coming Home Queen. Leola Kilgore Isbell, 1927 graduate of Benjamin High School, was crowned Coming Home Queen by 1982 queen Nela Beth Swanner. Mrs. Isbell was escorted by her grandson, Craig Hertel.

Debbie Bufkin, escorted by her father, Sonny Bufkin, was crowned Homecoming Queen by her sister, Michelle, the out-going queen. Crown bearers were Aaron Littlecreek and Kendra Eaton.

The church services Sunday morning were well attended. Terry Cartwright, a 1974 BHS graduate, brought a most inspiring message. A noon meal followed, and then folks began to depart.

It was fun, and we all here in Benjamin were glad to have all you who live out of town to come back home.

City Council

take effect immediately from and after its passage. (Proposed project est. cost: $322,000, less pledge: $12,000 by Knox County Drainage Dist. #1; $310,000 to be requested for project.)

Adopted this 1st day of June, 1984.

Marr moved the resolution be passed. Albus seconded. Voting for were Marr, Albus, Decker, Tucker and Tidwell. Noes, none. Carried.

Next business was discussion of the new city hall and fire station. Building two separate buildings, approximately 2800 to 3000 square feet for the fire station and approximately 2400 to 2500 square foot for city hall, was discussed. Proposed floor plans as drawn by John Lee Wilde and M. Booe at request of Building Committee were discussed. A building site for the new fire station is still being considered. Additional information will need to be compiled prior to blueprints being made for bidding. Financing planning has been delayed until more complete cost estimates are developed.

Von Marr, alderman over the Police Department, gave a report on efforts to secure a certified night patrolmen. After considering several applicants, costs, etc., he recommended Lou Speer be considered for employment by the Council. He recommended hiring Mr. Speer on a six months probationary period at $1,100 per month. Requirements are that he fill out proper forms and provide other information necessary to secure temporary certification, also, that he fill out a new application for employment and pass the city physical and other physical and psychological requirements as needed by L.E.E.A. to renew certification. Full certification is required within one year if Speer continues employment with the Munday Police Department past six months.

After completion of above requirements, Mr. Speer will be considered for employment by official council action at its regular June 12, 1984 meeting.

No further business. Tidwell moved to adjourn. Decker seconded. All in favor.

DPS Advice To Summer Vacationers

Now that school is out and vacation time is here, motorists are heading for the road in droves, thus increasing their chances of experiencing unfamiliar driving conditions.

Major V. J. Cawthon, Department of Public Safety Commander of Region 5, said, "When driving in the rural area, slow down before, not after entering a curve. If you wait until it seems urgent to slow down, it is too late. Your engine should be pulling your vehicle through the curve. This pulling force aids in directional control, when you use a safe speed in a curve."

The major reminds Texas motorists to be alert to the fact that many people lose their lives within 25 miles of departure and/or destination. This fatal fact of the road is due in great part to abusing the speed laws.

Plan your trip so you have plenty of time to reach your destination and return in comfort. This means a minimum of night driving, no speeding and no driving when fatigued.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

Describing the turmoil of the Allied invasion of Normandy during World War II, Lt. Gen. Omar Bradley said, "Every man who set foot on Omaha Beach that day was a hero." On June 6th, 40 years will have passed since the D-Day invasion, the largest amphibious operation in the history of the world. The invasion sparked the eventual defeat of the Germany army and the end of the war in Europe.

Never before had the entire free world been united behind a single cause as they were that day. Their dedication and cooperation made the invasion successful and should be an inspiration to us today as again we face totalitarian forces in the world. Let us look at that day and the sacrifices made by free men around the world.

The Normandy invasion, also known as Operation Overlord, was not put together overnight but had been in planning for several years. Millions of pounds of equipment and over a million soldiers had been shipped to the British Isles for the future attack.

The Germans had been anticipating an invasion of Northern France for quite some time. One of the biggest secrets of the war was when and where the invasion would occur. The Germans were not counting on an invasion of Normandy and had deployed troops and supplies along other beaches in Northern France.

The invasion originally had been scheduled for May but was postponed to June. As the sixth of June approached, inclement weather moved in over the English Channel, and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Supreme Allied Commander, considered postponing the invasion plans. If such a postponement had been made, the Allies would have to wait another month for favorable conditions. Another month also could have meant the loss of the Allies' best weapon: surprise.

Anticipating a break in the weather, Eisenhower gave the order to attack. Paratroopers and gliders dropped behind German lines on the evening of June 5th. Their mission: capture chief bridges and roads.

Many men missed their drop sites and landed in the middle of German-occupied towns. Others were shot from the air by enemy machine gunners on the ground.

Soon after 6 a.m. on June 6th, the actual invasion began. Troops scrambled into landing crafts as American ships bombarded the shoreline with heavy artillery. Large waves and German fire hampered the 156,000 men landing throughout the day.

American troops landed on Utah and Omaha beaches while British, Canadian, French, Dutch and Polish soldiers went ashore on other parts of Normandy. Many of them were pinned down by machine gun fire a large part of the day. Some were trapped in the water and had to inch their way to shore under heavy fire to avoid drowning.

Fighting was intense throughout the day, and at one point Allied commanders considered abandoning parts of the Normandy beachhead. Allied forces had advanced several miles inland by the end of the day at a cost of over 10,000 lives.

Most of those brave soldiers are buried at Normandy. The American Cemetery at Omaha Beach serves as a constant reminder of the cost of freedom. They sacrificed their lives fighting fascism but never lived to enjoy the fruits of that freedom. Nothing could come closer to pure selflessness.

The heroes of Normandy are all around us. They are members of our own families and communities. On June 6th, let us remember those who are eternally at Normandy, and thank those men who did come home for the freedom we enjoy today.

Ambulance Report

Munday ambulance personnel made 20 calls during the month of May, according to ambulance coordinator Bobby Hutchinson. A total of 84 calls have been made this year.

Charges for May are $1,237, adding to a figure of $6,828.00 for 1984, 31% of which has been paid. *****
