VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL TO OPEN SESSION OF TWO WEEKS IN CROWELL MONDAY MORNING

An invitation is extended to every boy and girl in the Crowell area, from the ages of 4 to 15, to attend the daily vacation Bible school that is to open in Crowell Monday morning, July 10, at 8 o'clock. After a session of two school weeks, this event will come to a close on Friday, July 21, and a big picnic for all who have been enrolled in the school will take place Saturday, July 22.

Four Crowell churches, Christian, Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian, are co-operating in this school, which is the first event of this kind in which more than one church has had a part in this city. A similar school was conducted by the Methodist Church alone last summer.

In addition to Christian culture, a great deal of entertainment will also be afforded to all who attend the school. Programs will be varied and in addition to Bible study, considerable attention will be given to handiwork.

Rev. George E. Turrentine, pastor of the Methodist Church and general superintendent of the school, stated: "We feel that we have as capable and earnest a group of leaders as has ever been assembled for a vacation Bible school and trust that we may have the co-operation of all parents of this community in keeping their children regular and punctual in attendance at the various sessions. We hope to do much in the way of helping all children to live and work together in Christian fellowship and we believe all who enroll in this school will find it to be the event, from a cultural and entertaining standpoint, of their summer vacation."

Morning Assembly

While the school does not open until Monday morning, a parade of young folks will take place on Saturday of this week, starting at the Methodist Church at 8 o'clock in the morning. All who expect to attend the school are invited to participate in this parade.

Throughout the days of the school, there will be a general assembly at the Methodist Church auditorium each morning at 8 o'clock. After the general assembly, the sessions of the

WHEAT FARMERS WILL BENEFIT IF U. S. DOMESTIC ALLOTMENT PLAN WORKS SATISFACTORILY

College Station—An extra 30 cents per bushel is in store this fall for Texas wheat growers for that part of their crop that goes into domestic human consumption in the United States if the domestic allotment plan of the Agricultural Adjustment Act works out satisfactorily, says O. B. Martin, director of Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. Returning from a regional wheat conference for representatives of 9 southwestern states last week he pointed out that it is the firm intention of the Administration to force wheat prices up to a parity with the general price level through distribution of a 30-cent-per-bushel processing tax proclaimed effective July 8th by the Secretary of Agriculture.

"On the other hand," says Mr. Martin, "by the plans tentatively announced Texas growers would have to reduce the acreages an average of 25 per cent in order to participate in the benefits if a 20 per cent reduction is ordered. In some counties growers might have to reduce acreage by as much as 50 per cent to receive benefits. This is due to the fact that the five year acreage averages on which state and county allotments are based is not as high in Texas as the three-year acreage average on which the individual farm allotment is based. This in turn is due to the newly settled wheat lands of the Panhandle. The same problem exists in Oklahoma, Kansas and Colorado. We are presenting a brief for Texas to the Agricultural Adjustment Act officials pointing out the injustice and suggesting charges."

National campaign plans call for preliminary conferences as early as July 15th and an active contract signing campaign beginning early in August, Mr. Martin reports. Plans for the Texas campaign are being (Continued on Last Page)

GOVT. COTTON CAMPAIGN WILL END SATURDAY

"All farmers who intend to co-operate in the government's cotton acreage reduction program are urged to sign contracts to this effect before Saturday night of this week, if they have not already signed up," stated Fred Rennels, county agent, who is directing the reduction work in Foard County.

"According to present government plans, Saturday, July 8, is the last day of the reduction campaign," he said.

Over 350 Foard County farmers had signed contracts up to noon Thursday and the total reduction involved in these contracts amounted to about 9,000 acres. Foard County's quota has been set at 14,982 acres by the government. This represents a 30 per cent reduction from the average yearly cotton acreage over a 5-year period.

County officials in the movement have hopes that the quota will be reached by Saturday night. Those who have not signed contracts and wish to do so should report to the county agent's office before Saturday night. Those who have not signed contracts and wish to do so should report to the county agent's office before Saturday night or get in immediate touch with their community committeemen, who are as follows:

- Crowell—H. E. Davis, Homer Zeibig.
- Vivian—J. M. Marr.
- Thalia—H. W. Gray.
- Rayland—Ralph Gregg.
- Margaret—Joe Orr.
- Foard City—E. V. Halbert.
- Good Creek—P. M. Hinkle.

The county committee is composed of T. M. Haney of Thalia and Dr. R. L. Kincaid and M. S. Henry of Crowell. This committee has already approved over 200 of the contracts that have been signed.

Considerable delay in the signing of contracts was caused by the fact that the initial supply of blanks was exhausted last Friday morning and no more were received until Tuesday, however, temporary contracts were made by the local workers and many of these were used.

All who signed these temporary contracts are urged to come at once to the county agent's office and sign again on the permanent contracts. This must be done before the end of the reduction program.

J. R. Beverly and Mrs. Arnold Rucker are assisting Mr. Rennels in his office, as there is a tremendous amount of detailed work to be handled in this government move.

John R. Edmonds of College Station, district county agent, who is supervising the work in many counties, was here Monday and after investigating the work in this county, he complimented the manner in which it was conducted.

Fairness Prevails

As a whole a spirit of fairness has prevailed in the program, according to local officials. Only a very few have failed to co-operate in this voluntary acreage reduction campaign.

The government has worked out a plan that it thinks is necessary to save the cotton industry and it is now up to the cotton growers themselves whether this program is successful or not.

In its issues of the last two weeks, The News has given detailed information about the program in general. Additional information has been received this week from College Station regarding the cotton option contract, which farmers, who agree to the option clause in the Build Up that Skinny Child!

Enrich His Impoverished Blood

Sickly, weak, underweight children are usually lacking in rich, red blood. When blood becomes poor, a child becomes rundown. Already weak, he loses appetite, which makes him still weaker. Take no chances on a child gaining strength by himself. Start giving him Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic right away. This famous tonic contains both iron and tasteless quinine. Iron makes for rich, red blood while quinine tends to purify the blood. In other words, you get two effects in Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. Put your child on this time-proven tonic for a few days and see the difference it makes in him. Good appetite, lots of pep and energy and red roses in his cheeks. Children like Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic and take it eagerly. It is absolutely harmless and has been a reliable family medicine for half a century. Get a bottle today at any store.

THE HIGH FLYERS

Practical air navigation at altitudes of eight miles or more is predicted for the not very distant future by conservative aircraft engineers...

At least two aviators have already attained an altitude of approximately eight miles at which the temperature is between 60 and 70 degrees below zero.

Owing to the rarity of the atmosphere at such heights, an artificial supply of oxygen is necessary, and such has been carried by the pioneers in exploring the upper air.

This rare atmosphere also presents another problem, in that resistance to the airplane propeller is reduced, making more powerful motors necessary in order to keep the craft aloft.

WASTEFUL FOREST FIRES

In spite of all precautions, last year was one of the most disastrous in history in forest fire losses. Nearly 6,000 separate fires occurred in national forests alone...

No estimates of the losses in state and private forests are available, but they reach an enormous total. When it is considered that a large percentage of the trees burned were around 100 years old...

The problem of reducing these losses is a most difficult one. Much money is being spent in providing forest rangers, lookout stations, airplane patrols and other means for detecting and extinguishing incipient fires...

Still, nearly all these losses are caused by the carelessness of tourists and others, who fail to exercise caution in the disposition of burning matches, cigar and cigarette butts...

NEW NAVY PROGRAM

Some details of the plan to strengthen the American Navy in accordance with recent legislation have been made public by Secretary Swanson.

A total of 32 new vessels will be built during the next three years, including two 15,000-ton aircraft carriers, four 10,000-ton cruisers, four 1,850-ton destroyers...

For this program $238,000,000 will be made available and the work will be divided between government and private shipyards, as is customary. It is estimated by Secretary Swanson that 85 per cent of the sum to be expended for new warships will go to labor.

Last it should be thought by some that we are setting a bad example at a time when efforts for general reductions in armaments are being made, it may be said that even with the addition of these 32 new ships the United States will be still far behind the strength permitted by the London treaty...

CHOOSING A TRADE

Selecting a trade or occupation today is a rather more serious matter than in years gone by, owing to the rapid changes in methods of manufacture and in the products demanded by the public.

In hardly any line of manufacture does one know how soon some new method or process may render all his present skill useless as a means of gaining a livelihood. Highly skilled hand craftsmen in many lines are continually being replaced by machinery...

Speaking from the manufacturer's standpoint, E. W. McCullough of the United States Chamber of Commerce recently said: "I could enumerate a hundred lines of business this evolution has wiped out, and lines without number have changed in materials, construction and form."

These changes have affected the individual workmen, as well as their employers, and never were changes

A GREAT PUBLISHER DIES

Cyrus H. K. Curtis of Philadelphia, who started his business career at the age of 12 with three cents of capital as a street newsboy and became one of the world's greatest publishers, died a few days ago at the age of 83.

Born in Portland, Me., in 1850, Mr. Curtis received only a common school education. His first publishing venture was launching in Philadelphia at the age of 26, when he became publisher of a small periodical called the Tribune and Farmer.

He purchased the Philadelphia Public Ledger in 1913, and the New York Evening Post in 1923, and was the active head of all these important publications until he was stricken with heart disease about a year before his death.

He was widely known as a philanthropist, although his benefactions were bestowed without ostentation. His only daughter became the wife of the late famed editor, Edward Bok, who was associated with Mr. Curtis for many years.

Few men who started to make their way with limited education and no capital have ever traveled farther than Cyrus Hermann Kotschmar Curtis.

made so rapidly as at present. Those who enter the mechanical trades today must be prepared to adopt themselves to new conditions as they arise.

WHEN THE SUN COOLS

For many years astronomers have speculated regarding the possibility that some day the sun will have exhausted its heat and become cold.

Dr. E. E. Trevine, president of the Mexican Astronomical Society, is one who holds this view and points out that thousands of now extinct suns are known to have existed in the dim past.

SCRAMBLED RADIO

The stenographer was about to be married and was greatly interested in cooking recipes, which she had been taking down in shorthand from a radio lecturer on home economics.

One morning she got two stations on approximately the same frequency at the same time, one broadcasting the recipes she wanted and the other giving directions for the daily exercise. Here is what she wrote in her notebook:

"Hands on hip, place one cup of flour on shoulder. Raise knees and depress clothes and wash thoroughly in one-half of milk. In four counts raise the lower leg and wash two hard-boiled eggs in a sieve. Repeat six times. Inhale one teaspoon of baking powder and one cup of flour—breathe naturally and exhale and sift. Attention! Jump to a squatting position and bend white of an egg backward and forward over the head and in four counts make a stiff dough that will stretch at the waist. Lie flat on the floor and roll into a marble the size of a walnut. Hop to a standstill in boiling water, but do not boil into a gallop afterward. In 10 minutes remove from fire and dry with towel. Breathe naturally, dress in warm flannels and serve with fish soup.

Don't be in too much of a hurry. Remember the fate of the early worm.

Another kind of hypocrite is one who pretends to believe a fellow he knows is lying.

Let's hope the new Federal Reserve chairman, Mr. Black, will help get us out of the red.

An educator declares that modern youth is not so wild. Except, perhaps, during second childhood.

Warm weather will favor our London delegates if they lose their clothes and have to come home in a barrel.

Folks who are to take vacations this summer should be getting into physical condition to stand the strain.

Time To Cut Behind

By Albert T. Reid

BRUCE BARTON

Writes of "THE MASTER EXECUTIVE" Supplying a week-to-week inspiration for the heavy-burdened who will find every human trial paralleled in the experiences of "The Man Nobody Knows."

SIMPLICITY AND STRENGTH

Jesus hated prosy dullness. He praised the Centurion who was anxious not to waste his time; the only prayer which He publicly commended was uttered by a poor publican who merely cried out, "God, be merciful to me a sinner."

Bruce Barton

Jesus' language was marvelously simple—a second great essential. There is hardly a sentence in His teaching that a child can not understand. His illustrations were all drawn from the commonest experience of life: "a sower went forth to sow" "a certain man had two sons"; "a man built his house on the sands"; "the kingdom of heaven is like a grain of mustard seed."

"I recollect a case in which my father at a public meeting was appointed to draw up an article," Beecher continued. "He had written one sentence: 'It is wrong.' Some one in the meeting got up and moved in his enthusiasm that the sentence read: 'It is exceedingly wrong.' My father got up and said in his mild way, 'When I was writing out this resolution in its original shape that was the way I wrote it, but to make it stronger, I took out the "exceedingly."

Jesus used few qualifying words and no long ones. We refer to those three literary masterpieces, The Lord's Prayer, The Twenty-third Psalm, The Gettysburg Address. Recall their phraseology: Our Father which art in Heaven, hallow be thy name The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. Four score and seven years ago. Not a single three-syllable word; hardly any two-syllable words. All the greatest things in human life are one-syllable things—love, joy, hope, home, child, wife, trust, faith, God—and the great advertisements generally speaking are those in which the most small words are found.

Six Lynched in First Six Months of 1933

There were six lynchings in the first six months of 1933, according to a report sent The News by Robert R. Moton, principal of Tuskegee Institute, Alabama. This is one more than the number 5 for the first six months of 1932. Ten years ago, 1923, 15 persons were lynched in the first six months of the year.

During the first six months of 1933 there were 14 instances in which officers of the law prevented lynchings. Of these 3 were in Northern States and 11 in Southern states. In 9 of the instances the prisoners were removed or the guards augmented; in the 5 other instances force was used to repel the would-be lynchings; thus a total of 17 persons, 6 white and 11 negroes, were saved from death at the hands of mobs.

Of the persons lynched, 2 were white and 4 were negroes. The offenses charged were: rape, 1; murder, 4; charge not reported, 1. The lynchings by states were: Georgia, 1; Louisiana, 2; Tennessee, 2 and Texas, 1.

More than 2,131,600 children in the United States ride to school every day in motor buses.

Sunday night an old friend of the pastor, Rev. O. F. Sensabaugh D. D., of Dallas, will preach. You will be inspired by his message. Members will be received into the church by baptism and vows Sunday.

Christian Science Churches

"Sacrament" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, July 9.

The Golden Text is from I Corinthians 10. "The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?"

Included with other passages from the Bible is the following from Mark 10: "Jesus said unto them, whosoever of you will be the chiefest, shall be servant of all. For even the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many."

The Lesson-Sermon also includes citations from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "It is the living Christ, the practical Truth, which makes Jesus 'the resurrection and the life' to all who follow him in deed. Obeying his precious precepts, following his demonstration so far as we apprehend it, we drink of his cup, partake of his bread, are baptized with his purity; and at last we shall rest, sit down with him, in a full understanding of the divine Principle which triumphs over death" (p.31).

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

by Charles E. Dunn

CALEB

Lesson for July 9th. Joshua 14:6-14 Golden Text: Psalms 40:4

Caleb is one of the most attractive of the minor characters of the Bible. As a vigorous man of forty, he left the wilderness at Kadesh-barnea as one of the spies on that famous scouting expedition into the promised land of Canaan. He and Joshua were the only ones to bring home a favorable report. The other ten were sure that the land could not be successfully occupied, that the obstacles were too great.

But as so often Rev. Charles E. Dunn happens, time proved that the minority were right. And it is pleasant to note that Caleb and Joshua lived long enough to personally participate in the occupation of that golden land they had so courageously and accurately praised. In fact, they alone of the twelve spies were permitted to share in its colonization.

The lesson presents Caleb as a hale, hearty veteran of eight-five appealing to Joshua for the inheritance promised long since by Moses. The land was divided by Lot. But before the division took place, Caleb asked for special consideration in view of the hazardous journey of exploration he had taken as a young man, and the subsequent pledge of Moses. His faithful colleagues had perished in the wilderness, but he himself had been preserved with eye undimmed and strength unabated. Did he not, as a true, loyal champion of God's truth, deserve a peculiar reward?

Yes, he did. He who had "wholly followed the Lord," as Moses testified, deserved the blessing of his friend and co-worker, Joshua, and the gift of Hebron, that ancient city so filled with memories of Abraham. Located in a mountainous region, in a basin on a lofty point on the ridge of Juraea, it offered only a meagre living at the expense of exhausting work in stony soil. Like a good soldier he craved hardness. We leave him at Hebron, a grand old figure, beginning life anew, in the face of difficulty, with all the ardor of youth. And we rejoice that the promise of God to Moses that Caleb and his descendants should own the land he had explored, was so admirably fulfilled.

SERMONETTE

THE SHIPWRECK

By Arthur B. Rhinow

In the doctor's parlor I saw a painting of a shipwreck, a storm lashing the waves into fury so that they seemed to be greedy for their prey.

"Why is it," I said to myself, "that a shipwreck attracts us more than a vessel in good condition, bravely plowing the waves toward its destination? It certainly does, even as a fallen tree arrests our attention more than one that stands strong and healthy, or a man who drops over on the sidewalk than hundreds who walk along briskly. It is because disaster is, after all, extraordinary? Or is it because we take a morbid interest in the abnormal? Or is it because an accident touches a string of sympathy in our hearts? It may be all of these. A house on fire attracts a crowd of people who probably never noticed it before. And when feelings are not sanely directed, they are likely to indulge in a slush of sympathy.

But I believe there is another motive for our interest in wrecks, though we may not be conscious of it. Something within us always peers to see the gain beyond the loss. If all of life proceeded in what we call the normal way; if there were no wrecks and no suffering, we would become very small. The soul-reach would become just earthly, and it craves to touch eternities. Through the loss of money many a man has been made to see the riches of which no misfortune can rob him; a serious illness has made patients acquainted with the Great Physician and the heart think of the Pilot who guides His own to the harbor of peace in spite of destructive gales. And who has not felt eternity when he pondered the thorny-crowned head that bowed in death on the cross?

"Lone Star" failed to diet... and as a result she was awarded a trip to the World Fair at Chicago. "Lone Star" claims the title of the "World's Largest Cow". TEXAS PASTURES

College Station—Texas may become a land of rich pastures with cattle on every hill and plain if pasture demonstrations promoted by county farm demonstration agents are heeded by the mass of farmers, says R. H. Bush, special agent in the Extension Service at Texas A. & M. College.

A detailed study of these pastures in the eastern half of Texas shows that average improvements on 62 of them, costing 71 cents per acre, gave grazing last year worth $10.86 per acre. Two acres pastured an average of one beef cow or its equal 365 days per year without additional feed. Improvement consisted in the main of clearing out surplus timber and underbrush and controlling weeds. The average size of these pasture demonstrations was 43 acres.

In 10 woods pastures averaging 190 acres, where part of the trees and unnecessary brush was cleared out and no other improvement made, owners found that it took five acres to pasture a beef cow or its equal, and that they made a net return of $3.33 per acre. The cost averaged 21 cents per acre.

In the 10 best demonstrations, where at least six kinds of adapted clovers and grasses were sown in addition to weed control and clearing trees and underbrush, an average net income of $30.58 per acre was made at an improvement expense of $1.91 per acre. One acre of this type of pasture furnished yearly grazing for an average of two beef cows or their equal.

"These 72 demonstrations show about what a man can expect to get by improving East Texas pasture land," says Mr. Bush. "For partly clearing up woods pasture to give native grasses and clovers a chance, he should double or treble the value of his pasture. By spending a little more and controlling weeds he may expect to multiply the value of his native pasture about 10 times. If he goes still further and in addition sows adapted grasses and clovers, may expect to get back $15 or more for every dollar spent in improvements. To prevent over-grazing, dry summers and to permit better seeding, permanent pastures should be supplemented by sowing grass for temporary summer pastures."

government's campaign, will receive if their option offers are accepted by the Secretary of Agriculture. The contracts, however, will not be issued to a producer until he has signed the option offer, according to H. H. Williamson, Texas Extension Service vice-director and state agent.

Option Contract

The main points of the cotton option contract are as follows:

1. This option is not-transferable and expires May 1, 1934, unless exercised before such date.
2. Any exercise of this option must be for the full amount of cotton covered hereby.
3. The basis for cotton covered by this option is a bale of 500 pounds gross weight middling in grade, seven-eighths-inch staple.
4. To facilitate the execution of the contract the Producer specifically authorizes the Secretary to convert by any appropriate means the cotton covered by this option into cotton futures contracts.
5. On the form printed below (or on a form identical therewith) the Producer shall give notice to the Secretary that he elects to have his option exercised on a designated date, and such notice, subject to regulations of the Secretary and to the terms of this contract, shall be effective as an exercise of this option when received at the place designated for such notice. Upon receipt of the notice, the Secretary, in his discretion, may sell for the account of the Producer, either (a) cotton held by Secretary, in an amount covered by this option, on any recognized spot market at the earliest practicable date, having in view the condition of the spot market at any time after the date indicated in the notice; or (b) future contracts held by the Secretary covering an amount of cotton specified in this option. If future contracts are sold, the price will be fixed as of the close of the New York Cotton Exchange for the nearest generally quoted cover month on the date specified in the notice unless the price is received after 4:30 o'clock p. m. eastern standard time on the date specified, or unless such Exchange is closed on the date specified, in either of which events the price shall be fixed as of the first opening of the Exchange thereafter.

6. If the date designated in the notice is a date prior to December 1, 1933, the Secretary, in his discretion, may postpone compliance with such notice until such time as in his judgment a price of not less than 9 1/2 cents a pound can be obtained for cotton covered by all like options, the holders of which have given notices to have their options exercised on such date; but in no event shall such compliance be postponed beyond March 1, 1934. Such postponed compliance shall be deemed an exercise of the option.

7. The secretary shall pay to the Producer, as soon as practicable after the exercise of this option, the difference between six cents a pound and the price as fixed in paragraph 5(b)—or if the option is exercised pursuant to paragraph 5(a), then the difference between six cents a pound and the price at which sale is made. held up pending a satisfactory adjustment of the basis for computing the individual farm acreage. The Extension Service has been drafted to conduct the work of informing growers of the details of the plan. As planned by the Administration, signers of contracts would organize through direct contact with regional wheat offices. It is proposed to meet the local expense of administration in the counties by levies on farmers' benefits, estimated to amount to an average, the country over of about 2 cents per bushel.

The plan in brief consists of the grower signing a three-year contract to reduce acreage as directed by the Administration and to farm the remaining wheat acres in a workmanlike manner, in return for which the farmer would be paid each fall 30 cents per bushel for the portion of the expected crop that is estimated will go into domestic human consumption. Payments would be made in two installments, the first about September 15th and the other after seeding time. First payments would be made this fall, which means that in exchange for a re-

Reach Semi-Finals in Scotch Golf Tourney

M. L. Hughston and Tom Reeder Jr., are scheduled to play either Pete Bell and Raymond Burrow or Ernest Spears and Dow Miller in the final match of the local Scotch golf tournament.

Up to Thursday afternoon results of the tournament were as follows:

Raymond Burrow-P. Bell beat Magee-M. O'Connell; Oswald Sr.-Hill beat Edwards-Ralph Burrow; E. Spears-Miller beat Haney-R. J. Roberts; A. Bell-John Rasser beat G. Crews-B. O'Connell; Oswald Jr.-Jack Thomas beat Billington-Kenner; Griffith-Savage beat Oswald-Thomas; Hughston-Reeder Jr. beat Kincaid-Smith; Ross-F. Spears beat Schindler-King.

Second round—Bell-Burrow beat Oswald-Hill; Spears-Miller beat Bell-Rasser; Griffith-Savage beat Oswald-Thomas; Hughston-Reeder beat Ross-Spears.

Semi-finals, Hughston-Reeder beat Griffith-Savage; Burrow-Bell and Spears-Miller match not yet played.

duced acreage for 1934 and 1935 the grower would receive three yearly payments, in the autumns of 1933, 1934 and 1935.

Of vital importance to Texans is the crop insurance feature which provides that payments will be made if the farmer fulfills his contract even though the crop is destroyed by hail, wind, drouth or insects.

On the other hand, the farmer must contract this year for three years and may not withdraw. Failure to comply with the contract later this year or in the succeeding two years would result in the Government declaring the advance payments a lien against future crops.

As the plan stands now farmers who have grown wheat for two years would have to reckon their acreages on a three year average which would virtually eliminate them. This provision is being protested by Texas and other states where new settlers have recently opened up farms.

"The plan for the relief of the wheat farmer is in a formative stage and may be modified later by direction of M. L. Wilson, United States wheat administrator," states Mr. Martin.

Local Boys Keeping in Shape for Grid Season

Paul McKown, who will be a candidate for a backfield position on Crowell High School's football team next fall, started running a half mile each morning before breakfast on Wednesday of this week and plans to keep up this training regularly in order to get in the best possible physical condition by the time school opens. He also is getting plenty of exercise in his work with the M System Grocery.

It is also pleasing to local fans to see the physical development in a number of other prospects. Most of the 1933 prospects are engaging in work this summer that furnishes excellent development.

Capt. Bill Dunn requests all boys who intend to come out for the team next fall to do everything possible in getting in shape for the 1933 season. "By starting early, we will be just that much ahead when the season opens," he stated.

Beautiful Martha Morrison of Asheville, N. C., has been chosen from among the prettiest girls of that city to rule as "Queen of Rhododendrons" in the annual rhododendron festival.

This-That, Etc.

By Typo Wrighter

Whatta Crowd!

It has been many years since Crowell has had so many people within its limits on two successive business days, as was the case on the past Saturday and First Monday. The town was literally packed and jammed on both days and added further proof to the statement that was made in this column last week to the effect that "old Crowell has the stuff and is really coming back." Despite everything to the contrary, she hasn't been so far away any time during the last few years.

The main thing lacking has been a real co-operative spirit on the part of the people. Of course the "new deal" and the general upturn in business have helped a lot but had local people failed to get together as they did at the first of the year in promoting the interests of this section through the medium of Trades Days, we doubt if the number of people in town on Monday and Saturday would have been half of what it really turned out to be.

You Bring the Ducks

As a whole the co-operation has been fine, but in some cases—not so good. While almost too negligible to mention, some local ideas on co-operation seem to be like this: "Now it's o. k. for us to holler about co-operating and we sure are going to co-operate by selling all we can when the big crowds come to town, but we don't want to be out anything in getting the crowd to town if we can help it. Of course we don't want the town to be without a newspaper, but we want you other merchants to do the advertising in it that makes the paper possible. Of course we want the newspaper to continue to go to extra expense in sending out hundreds of extra papers to Knox, Cottle, Hardeman, Wilbarger and our own county advertising each trades day, its free show, horse race, and merchandise and service bargains that the town has to offer—sure, we know that people will come to town when they hear about all this, but darned if we want to bear a fair share of the expense in getting this word to the people. Yeah, we want the benefit of the ride but you guys furnish the fuel."

Interesting Facts About The Home Town

Crowell has the only one-man pep squad in Northwest Texas, according to latest statistical information reaching Typo's desk. We can thank Charlie Thompson for this great honor.

C. E. Flowers drives Crowell's most unusual car. It has a Graham-Paige body and front wheels, but uses a Model A Ford engine and rear wheels. Sort of a half-breed, so to speak.

The oldest motor vehicle in daily operation in West Texas, so far as we know, is the black and orange colored White truck used by M. F. Crowell, local Gulf Refining Co. agent. It is now of voting age, since it was born in 1912.

What's this we hear about a secret marriage?

Even though the old ball park was used as a race track on Trades Day, we still insist that it was even more of a race track last October when Crowell High beat Megargel 102 to 0 in football.

Too Bad Department

It seems that a local boy who has had unusual opportunity to really get somewhere in this world has about decided to ruin the confidence that a great many local people have had in him. Here's hoping that the local youth has enough sense, and we believe he does, to realize that he is headed toward oblivion on his present route and that by a change of acts and attitude, he still has a chance to really amount to something in the years ahead.

J. H. Self and T. P. Reeder have threatened to sue Typo for mentioning their names last week in connection with Jim Ferguson and Frank Norris. Maybe Jim and Rev. Frank wouldn't appreciate the connection either.

That collision at the highway intersection on the northwest corner of the square Tuesday morning sounded like part of the customary Fourth of July fireworks program. But as loud as that report was, it was nothing more than a cap pistol report compared to the noise that is going to accompany a collision on the northeast corner of the square. Travel on both streets at this point is faster than at any other part of the business section and many serious collisions are narrowly averted each week.

The Reason

A reader asks: "Why don't we read about the birth of local girls in the 25-year ago column. I see a number of reports about the births of local men in this column and surely some of the babies in those days must have been girls." Mr. Reader is right. Girls were born then and in our old files we find many accounts of their birthday parties and announcements about their births, but we have found by experience that the parties concerned don't exactly appreciate this kind of publicity.

Local Historical Facts

The C. B. Garlinghouse home is the oldest residence in Crowell and the Thacker building, occupied by Franklin Grocery and Jim Cook's Market is the oldest store building yet in use in Crowell.

It was once against the law in Crowell to turn a corner in an automobile without first honking your horn. Now some of the local citizens are not satisfied unless they turn a corner at 35 miles an hour.

Crowell Loses Game On Fourth of July

The Crowell baseball club suffered a 13 to 1 loss at the hands of the Goodner Wholesale Grocery baseball team of Wichita Falls in a game here on July 4.

Crowell's only run came in the second inning when Steffey's single scored H. Bell, who had tripled on a freak hit. Goodner's ace pitcher, Vernon Stewart, allowed only eight hits, all scattered, and fanned 11 men in addition. He also scored a home run in the sixth with the bases packed.

Score by innings:
Goodner..... 000 308 200—13
Crowell..... 010 000 000—1

The game scheduled between a team representing Crowell and managed by O. O. Hollingsworth, and a Wellington team at Wellington on July 4 was not played. Mr. Hollingsworth stated that he was unable to reach a financial agreement with the Wellington club.

The local team plays at Quanah Sunday afternoon.

Texas-Oklahoma Golf Association Arranges Last-Half Schedule

Frederick won the championship of the first half. Electra won second; Crowell, third, and Vernon, fourth.

Chillicothe Is Loser In Game with Crowell

The Crowell Cats finally got their batting eye and slapped ball to all corners of the lot to Chillicothe 11 to 7 at Chillicothe Sunday. Rasberry started on mound for Crowell and allowed 2 hits until the 7th, despite the fact that he was hit over the heart a pitched ball and knocked out for a few minutes but he soon revived and stayed in the game until the when he was again hit by a pitched ball, this time on the pitching and after allowing 4 hits in the he was relieved by Harper who was called in to check the rally. Hitting of Norman for Crowell the feature of the game. In 6 to the plate he had 2 double singles and a walk for a perfect at bat. Sensational play in the field by the Chillicothe team the score down.
