Olney and Crowell Meet in Important Football Game Friday Afternoon

BOTH TEAMS ARE UNDEFEATED IN DIST 4 RACE

The game of games for Crowell this football season will be played here Friday afternoon, beginning at 1 o'clock, when the Olney Cubs and the Crowell Wildcats meet in a game that should do much in deciding the district championship.

Neither team has been scored on in conference competition so far this season. Olney has won the championship of District 4-B for the past five years and is determined to repeat this performance a sixth time. The Cubs have not lost a game in their own district in over five years.

In this year of "new deals," the Crowell Wildcats have decided that it is time for District 4-B to have a new deal in football and that it is up to them to see that the job is properly done.

Crowell has won second place in the district for the past two seasons, suffering defeats only at the hands of their bitter rivals, the Cubs. Despite the Cubs' great record for this and past seasons and the fact that some of the district experts are picking them to win, every member of the Crowell team is determined that Olney's long undefeated district record is going to come to an end in Crowell Friday, Nov. 3.

Local fans are one hundred percent behind their local club in this important tilt and also feel that Crowell is going to give that old Olney jinx a swift kick in the pants and that after Friday the "Big Three" of District 4-B, Crowell, Olney, and Seymour, will be reduced to the "Big Two," Crowell and Seymour.

HONOR ROLL IS ANNOUNCED FOR LOCAL SCHOOLS

With this issue The News publishes the list of students in the Crowell schools who qualified for the honor roll for the first six weeks of school.

The honor rolls this year are classed as "A" honor roll and "B" honor roll. To be on the "A" honor roll a student must make an average between 90 and 100 in his studies and average between 80 or 90 to qualify for the "B" roll. A perfect attendance honor roll is also given, which means that the students on it have been neither tardy nor absent during the six weeks.

Supt. I. T. Graves states that first graders are not being included on the honor rolls, since it is difficult to determine the true ability of most first year pupils.

Mr. Lucas was driving at night with a load of lumber on a street that was blocked with a train of flat cars. Failing to see the cars, he drove into them and was crushed between the engine and the lumber. He died the following day.

START WORK ON HIGHWAY 16 IN FOARD COUNTY

Excavation work on culverts was started north of Crowell Saturday in connection with the Highway No. 16 project, calling for the construction of grade ad drainage structures on 7.5 miles from Crowell to Pease River.

C. W. Logan, superintendent of concrete work for the McClellan Construction Co., contractors on this project, is in charge of the work that is now taking place. Only a small number of workers are being used now, however, this number will be greatly increased when cement and steel for bridge and culvert construction reaches here. Mr. Logan has moved his family here from Hartley County, where highway construction work was recently completed.

All persons securing employment on this project must first register at the office of the Federal administrator for Foard County, Leo Spencer, since a large portion of the money for this work is being furnished by the Federal Bureau of Public Roads for its unemployment relief program this winter.

Gov't. Cotton Loan Plan Is Explained

Although some difficulty has been experienced in getting the cotton loan machinery in operation so that producers may borrow the 8 and 10 cents per pound which the government proposes to loan, it is evident that most compresses and warehouses have practically worked out the details of storage and are ready to receive cotton.

Due to the fact that Foard County does not have a bonded warehouse for storage of cotton, local farmers are handicapped to some extent, however, this handicap is not serious, according to those who are familiar with the proposed method of securing the loan.

According to latest information on securing the loan, a farmer who wishes to borrow on his cotton, may wish to borrow from the nearest bonded warehouse or compress. The warehouse or compress operator will receive his cotton, secure the samples and send them, with his warehouse receipts, to the shipper. The shipper will take the samples with the receipts to any authorized cotton man for grading and the filling out of his note and loan agreement.

After this is completed, the papers must be signed by the warehouseman, after which they are taken to any bank and the loan completed. According to reported information from the compresses, the shipper will not be required to pay freight on the cotton from Foard County points to the compress. This freight charge will be held against the cotton and paid when it is sold and moved from the compress.

SCHOOLS TO REOPEN

The West Rayland and Ayersville schools will reopen Monday, Nov. 6, after being dismissed for the past six weeks for the cotton picking season, according to the principals of these schools.

Three Leaders of Crowell High Wildcats

COACH GRADY GRAVES

Three of the principal figures connected with the Crowell High School football team this year are pictured above. Grady Graves is now serving as coach for his seventh consecutive season. During this period Crowell teams have been among the strongest in this section.

Capt. Bill Dunn is now playing his second year with the Wildcats. He is serving the team very successfully as captain and sets an example for clean sportsmanship, hard and excellent playing in each game that is a real inspiration for his teammates to follow. His position is right tackle.

Dick Todd, one of the greatest ball carriers and football players in general to be found in Northwest Texas, is the veteran of the squad, since this is his third year as a regular in the Wildcat backfield. The responsibility of directing the team's play rests with him, since he calls signals from his position of right halfback.

COTTON GINNINGS IN FOARD PASS 16,000 BALES; 1933 IS ONE OF BEST COTTON YEARS

A total of 16,166 bales of cotton has been ginned at Foard County's seven cotton gins up to 8 o'clock Wednesday night. This total lacks only 3,173 bales of reaching the 1932 total of 19,339 bales. Total ginnings for 1931 reached 12,322 bales and only 4,429 bales in 1930. Ginnings at different points in the county up to 8 o'clock Wednesday night, counting round as half bales, were as follows:

Crowell—3 gins	6,787
Thalia—2 gins	4,967
Rayland—1 gin	2,705
Margaret—1 gin	1,707
TOTAL	16,166

According to figures released by the Bureau of Census at Washington on Oct. 27, Foard County's ginnings, prior to Oct. 18, amounted to 10,467 bales, as compared with 4,580 bales for the same period last year.

Best Cotton Year

The year of 1933 will go down in local history as one of Foard County's best cotton years. It is estimated that Foard's production this year was cut by at least 5,500 bales as a result of the plow-up campaign. Had it not been for the plow-up, the cotton production in Foard this year would no doubt be the largest in the history of the county. It is estimated that around 5,000 bales or more are yet to be ginned.

The year of 1926 holds the record as Foard's banner cotton year. A total of 24,298 bales were produced from the 1926 crop. The following year, 1927, was the next heaviest in county history with 21,566 bales.

Weather conditions so far have been almost perfect for gathering and ginning the 1933 crop.

Island Prison For Uncle Sam's Gangsters

Alcatraz Island, located in San Francisco Bay, is the spot where Uncle Sam proposes to house desperate gangsters, kidnapers and racketeers, thus eliminating outside aid in prison breaks and riots. The prison now located there, (above), is being taken over from the War Department... and foremost among the first 400 to 600 "bad men" to be confined there are "Machinogun" George Kelly, left; Albert Bates and Harvey Bailey, right, leaders in the Urcell kidnaping, for which all received life sentences.

FOURTEEN APPLICANTS FOR CROWELL POSTMASTER TAKE EXAM AT QUANAH SATURDAY

Fourteen applicants for the position of Crowell postmaster took a Civil Service examination at Quannah Saturday. The applicants taking the examination were: Troy Erwin, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Spencer, Alton Bell, W. B. Franklin, Gordon Bell, Leonard S. Clements, Leo Spencer, Mrs. Pearl Carter, Claude Callaway, Miss Ira Pearl Saunders, Gordon Cooper, Sam T. Crews and L. A. Andrews.

CHEAPER IN CROWELL

Groceries are cheaper in Crowell, says M. L. Bird, after making a personal investigation on this matter. "I often hear some one make the remark that they can get groceries cheaper in neighboring cities than in Crowell so last Saturday I decided to really find out for myself just how true such remarks were," Mr. Bird said. "I bought a nice bill of groceries in Crowell Saturday morning and then went over to Crowell's principal competitive city Saturday afternoon and carefully checked grocery prices in various stores over there and found that the general run of grocery prices were higher there than in Crowell. I feel that local people ought to know these facts," Mr. Bird added.

NEEDED RAIN IS RECEIVED OVER FOARD COUNTY

A general rain over Foard County started falling about midnight Wednesday and by 9 o'clock Thursday morning it had amounted to 1.2 inches at Crowell. Reports reaching Crowell Thursday morning indicated that as much or more rain had been received over the rest of the county.

While weather conditions have been about perfect this fall for gathering and ginning of cotton, grain crops were in need of rain and the downpour should prove of great benefit to the county in general.

Merchants' Pageant Will Be Presented Here Tuesday Night

A merchants' pageant is to be held at the high school auditorium Tuesday evening, Nov. 7, at 7:45 o'clock under the auspices of the Crowell P. T. A.

Practically all the business firms of Crowell will be represented on the stage by Crowell young ladies dressed in attractive costumes, suitable for each trade or business.

There will be catchy songs, talks and acts. Lady blacksmiths, barbers, porters, butchers, dentists, photographers, will present comic acts. There will be a wedding, too. More than one hundred people will take part in the program and they are all homefolks.

An experienced director is in charge of rehearsals and special music will be furnished by the Crowell school band.

The proceeds are to be used for the purchase of books for the Crowell schools. The need is imperative and the program promises to be one of high-class entertainment.

BIG PEP RALLY

The big "pep rally" of the year will be held at the high school auditorium at 8:30 o'clock Friday morning and all people who wish to do their part in helping the Wildcats to win their most important home game of the year against Olney are urged to be present for this event.

Anyone present for the pep rally preceding the Chillicothe game last year knows that such an affair is the world's surest cure for the blues and that no matter how you feel before one of these rallies, you will feel better after being in attendance.

A good pep rally does much in giving a team the spirit that is often needed to win a tough game—so come on out and help the Wildcats down the Cubs by attending this rally.

Fat Man Race

Two events will take place in the afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock on the south side of the square. The first will be a "fat man" race. Any man weighing over 200 pounds and over 40 years of age will be eligible to participate in this contest. The winner will be given $2.50.

Following this, a "boat race" will be staged. W. B. Tysinger, A. W. Lilly and George Cates will have charge of the contests.

QUE MILLER IS CHARGED WITH BANK ROBBERY

Charges of robbery with firearms were filed Sunday by Sheriff W. B. Mobley of Waco against Que R. Miller, former Foard County Sheriff, Tom Herndon, R. E. Flood and J. C. Elg in connection with the robbery last Friday night of the National Bank at West, Texas, in which masked bandits took about $1,600 from the bank vault after tying up the cashier, two national bank examiners and two R. F. C. agents.

Herndon and Flood were arrested in Dallas Saturday and were positively identified as two of the robbers. Miller and Elg were arrested in Dallas Saturday night. Elg was also positively identified as one of the robbers and Miller was tentatively identified as one of the robbers.

On Monday embezzlement of funds from the bank was charged against Cashier Howard Ellis and Assistant Cashier Joe Popp by Federal examiners. It was revealed at that time that another assistant cashier had been missing for ten days.

Miller Detained

The former Foard sheriff posted $5,000 bond in the robbery case but was detained at the request of Crowell and Vernon officers. W. N. Stokes of Vernon, district judge, issued a warrant for the arrest of Miller for Foard and Hardeman officers upon release of bondsmen from the cases pending against Miller in these two counties.

The bondsmen, S. E. Seales of Crowell and Clyde D. Watts of Vernon, asked the court Tuesday morning to release them from the Miller cases. Miller, who is under indictment on four counts for the misapplication of public funds as sheriff and tax collector of Foard County, had been at liberty under bonds totaling $11,000.

Sheriff R. J. Thomas plans to go to Waco Saturday and return Miller to the local jail. He had planned to go a few days earlier but was notified not to come until an examining trial in the robbery case had been held.

OUTWITTING A CROOK An unusual package was delivered recently to Hermann Pattberg, a wealthy citizen of Duisburg, Germany. Inside was a carrier pigeon and a letter.

A letter directed him to securely fasten a 5,000-mark note, equivalent to about $1,200, to the pigeon and turn it loose. He was warned that he would be murdered should he fail to comply. Pattberg thought it over, then a bright idea crossed his mind. He hired an aviator to follow the pigeon when it was released, minus the money. The flyer carried a camera with which he photographed the house on which the pigeon alighted, then returned and gave the picture and directions to the police. The would-be blackmailer was soon in jail.

Which illustrates that a slick crook can be outwitted if his intended victim is just a little bit slicker.

Many Animal Heads Received in Year by State Health Dept.

Austin, Texas, Oct. 26—The State Hygienic Laboratory of the State Department of Health received over two thousand animal heads during the past year for examination to determine whether or not the animal had rabies.

Rabies is transmitted to man through a bite or having a cut exposed to the saliva of a rabid animal. Bites through clothing are not as dangerous as bites on exposed surfaces, because the saliva is wiped off as the tooth passes through the cloth.

If a person is bitten, the offending animal should be penned, if possible, for a period of ten days. If the animal is normal at the end of that time, the case can be dismissed. If it is necessary to kill the animal, this must be done in such a manner that the brain is not destroyed. If it is, an examination to determine whether or not the animal had rabies will be impossible.

Rabies is commonly supposed to be a disease of warm weather, but the warmth of weather has no influence on the disease. On the contrary, rabies is more prevalent during the winter months because exposure to the cold lowers the resistance of the animal. It is true that more dogs are killed during the summer months, but the percentage of rabies is low.

BAD BOYS REFORMED

Like all other cities, Detroit has had its bad boy problem. From the juvenile court records it appeared that in a recent year one out of every eight boys from 17 to 19 years of age had been arrested. Detroit led all the big cities in juvenile delinquency.

Then a number of citizens took notice of the situation and organized the Boys' Club of Detroit. A four-story building was fitted up with lockers, showers, games, work-shops and the like, and the boys were invited to make themselves at home. The membership now numbers nearly 4,000, with dues at 25 cents a year.

These boys are drawn from the class which formerly roamed the streets, engaging in all sorts of devilry. Now they spend much time in their club, playing games or building radios, airplane models, toys, and many useful articles. A specialty is making toys for crippled children, craftsmanship going hand in hand with social education.

Members of the club seldom come before the juvenile court any more. With suitable outlets for their energies they do not find it necessary to engage in anti-social activities. Great good has been accomplished through the initiative of a group of forward-looking citizens who did not believe that the "bad" boy was as bad as he seemed to be. And results have proved that they were right.

AN EXPENSIVE GUEST

Count Ilya Tolstoy of Russia, when touring in America, had a very thrifty manager, who did not propose to allow the Count to lend his presence to any function without pay. So, when a group of Chicago professors sought to honor the Count by inviting him to a luncheon, the manager wired an acceptance, but stipulated that a fee of $50 would be charged.

The hospitably inclined professors were at first dumbfounded by the suggestion that they must pay $50 for the privilege of entertaining the Count. After consultation they delegated one of their number to reply to the manager which he did in the following telegram:

"How do you get that way? We might be able to afford breakfast or a chocolate soda with the Count. What is your scale for tea and toast with Tolstoy? Also go jump in the lake."

A pleasing part of the story is that County Tolstoy later told it on himself and exhibited the telegram to amused newspaper men.

Crowell-Olney

to be played in this section of Texas this week, since there are no big games to be played by any of the Class A teams. As a result hundreds of fans from surrounding towns are planning to descend upon Crowell for this grid classic, for it is common knowledge all over Northwest Texas that a real thrilling battle may always be expected when Olney and Crowell clash in an athletic contest.

Starting Line-up

Coach Grady Graves will likely use the following players in the starting line-up:

Jim Riley Gafford, 151, left end. Lester Patton, 161, left tackle. W. F. Briscoe, 158, left guard. Bert Lovelady, 153, center. Edward Jones, 156, right guard. Capt. Bill Dunn, 178, right tackle. L. Middlebrook, 136, right end. Paul McKown, 138, quarterback. Guy Whitfield, 151, left half. Dick Todd, 157, right half. Aldon Horn, 151, fullback.

Officials will be Sportsman of Denton (N. T. S. T. C.), referee; Beaty of Vernon (Texas U.), umpire; Gilliland of Quannah (Austin College), headlinesman.

The admission to this game will be 25c and 50c. The regular adult admission here this season has been 35c, however, 50c is the regular admission for all games over most of this section. After paying Olney and numerous expenses, local school officials hope to realize enough to help pay for improvements that have been made at the new athletic field and for other football equipment that has been purchased and not yet paid for.

Annual Dist. Legion Convention at Snyder

Several Foard County Legionnaires hope to attend the annual meeting of the 18th District of the American Legion that will be held in Snyder on Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 4 and 5.

Edgar E. Witt, lieutenant governor, and a number of district and state Legion officials, head the parade of distinguished speakers and visitors.

Entertainment will be headlined by boxing, football, horse racing, special foods and band concerts. Since the canchre in Congressional districts, this will be the last meeting for Legionnaires of the old 18th District.

BRUCE BARTON

Writes of "THE MASTER EXECUTIVE"

WALKING ALONE

When last we caught a glimpse of the people following Jesus they were cheering his name beside the lake, seeking to force him to be their king. He eluded them and retired into the mountain to think and pray. It must have been a dramatic moment when he re-appeared. Only a single "Yes" was needed and they would have lifted him on their shoulders and borne him in triumph to the city gates.

Bruce Barton

Hushed and expectant they waited for his answer! "I am not come to restore the kingdom to Jerusalem," he cried. "Mine is a spiritual mission; I am the bread of life. You have cheered me because I fed you in the wilderness, but I tell you now that what I have come to give you is myself, that by knowing me you may know your Father."

They could not have been more stunned if he had struck their leaders across the face. What did he mean by this senseless mysticism, this talk about "the bread of life"? Hadn't they seen him heal the sick and conquer the Pharisees in debate—were not these signs that he was the leader, so long promised, who would rout the Romans and restore the throne of David?

"The Jews therefore murmured concerning him, because he said 'I am the bread that came down from Heaven.'" It was sacrilege or nonsense, one or the other. Gentiles might continue to follow him, if they chose, but his company was clearly no place for a self-respecting Jew.

Silently the cautious people slipped away, and afterward denied that they had ever had anything to do with him. Those who were more daring, or devoted, continued with him through the rest of the week, and on the sabbath crowded into the synagogue where they knew that he would speak.

The days had given him time to reconsider and compose his thoughts; perhaps now he would make a reasonable reply to their hopes. But there was no compromise. Again he repeated his seemingly senseless talk about the "bread of life."

And then the note of tragedy. "Upon this many of his disciples went back and walked with him no more."

The tide had turned. Jesus realized it clearly though the disciples could not. At every opportunity he sought to build up in them an increased sense of their responsibilities. He must "go into Jerusalem," he told them, "and suffer many things of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed."

The Family DOCTOR

By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

DEPRESSION'S TOLE

There is no doubt that the terrible stringency of "times" in last five years has borne—is yet bearing its deadly fruit. We doctors know. We who watch over the welfare of so many human beings.

This week a young man—of thirty-five—came to consult me . . . a case of complete breakdown. Of such a severity that one practitioner believed he had "T. B." in a hip-joint. Could not even think of doing any work—had just left his bed, when his relatives brought him to see me.

History of almost working night and day, to make a living with something besides if possible . . . toil—toil—all day—late and early hours, bolting meals to save time . . . some years of the grind—then a lift on a heavy object—a "snap" of something in the back—down and out!

Each time a rest in bed and suitable treatment got him up and around—immediate return to strenuous duty—a linotype worker in a rural newspaper office—bending over the machine—strain on the eyes—nerves—digestive apparatus—elimination arrested—another "knockout" from a slight lift—to bed again . . . a series of rounds.

Tuberculosis of the hip? No. Germs? O, the hunt for them!! The entire set of thirty-two teeth were extracted—but it didn't help the trouble that was ALL BELOW THE WAIST-LINE. . . He has a new and very perfect set of store teeth—and the same old sciatic neuritis!

He has lost thirty pounds in weight; do you wonder? He is, as he says, "mighty near to a skeleton." Here is a young man worn out and broken down by hard work—a diffuse neuritis is coming—HE MUST REST FIRST. He has gained two pounds in weight, I note this morning. He will recover with rest and diet.

ATTEMPTS JAIL BREAK

Hoy Jeter, who was wanted in Colorado City, Texas, on an escape charge, was arrested Thursday by Sheriff R. J. Thomas and P. D. Moseley, deputy, on a farm north of Thalia, where he was being held.

Two deputies from Colorado City arrived here Friday morning and turned the prisoner to that city. After Jeter's departure Mr. Moseley discovered that he had attempted to saw his way out of his cell, however only the paint of the tool-resistant steel was affected by the saw. One of the saw blades was broken in an escape attempt and was found in the jail. Jeter carried several of these blades cleverly concealed in the section of a shirt pocket or nearly used as a pencil holder.

Colorado City officers were notified that their prisoner had the blades on his person.

School Supt. Reveals Needs of Libraries in Crowell Schools

(By I. T. Graves)

The work that the P. T. A. is doing to help supply the needs of the school is greatly appreciated. Much has been done this year and previous years to aid in playground equipment, libraries, and other things for the schools. However, due to general financial conditions the past few years the P. T. A. and School Board have not been able to keep the libraries up to standard. For example, the minimum requirements in the grades is for each room to have library books that are worth $25 in value. The class rooms for the Grammar Grades will not average $10.00 worth of library books per room. Three different rooms have only six library books each and these are in bad condition.

The minimum requirements as stated by the State Department of Education is for affiliated high schools to have at least one source book in history for every three pupils, to have one copy of each of drama, essay, biography, vocational reading, travel, poetry, for each five pupils and to have one copy of prose fiction for every three pupils. At present Crowell High School library does not contain half enough books to meet these requirements. The dictionaries need to be replaced as they have been used for seven years. You take one hundred and seventy pupils who have to use the same books with very few additions each year, you can see that the need is very great.

The School Board has purchased a set of encyclopedias which is the first that has been bought for the library in a number of years. Due to the many expenses this is all that the Board of Education can do at the present time. Co-operation with the P. T. A. to try to help supply the much needed aid for our libraries will be appreciated.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

by Charles E. Dunn

Paul in Jerusalem.
Lesson for November 5th, Acts 15:1-35.
Golden Text, II Corinthians 3:17.

We have arrived at one of the most critical moments in the life of the early church. Both Peter and Paul had preached the gospel to Gentiles with gratifying results. But the Christian Jews, in their zeal for the Mosaic law, insisted that while Gentiles could be received into the church, they must first be circumcised. This demand Paul and Barnabas, in the name of freedom, vehemently resisted. They did not want the Society of Christ to be a mere Jewish sect, but a universal community embracing all men sharing the Master's faith. How far-sighted they were! We cannot be too thankful that, at this early stage, the fortunes of the church were decided by men of such liberal sympathies. If the narrow "Judaizers" had triumphed, the Christian movement might have been condemned to perpetual obscurity. Fortunately, by the historic decision of the Jerusalem council, a broad and generous strategy determined the future expansion of the church. Instead of becoming the private possession of a Jewish clan, zealous for the legal tradition of the old covenant, Christianity grew into a world religion animated with the spirit of a new and living way faith saved.

Note that both sides of the question were presented in the course of the debate. Then James, the Master's brother, proposed an honorable compromise. The Gentiles, he suggested, should be asked to observe only four reasonable regulations embodied in the Mosaic law. This judgment, really a victory for Paul, but also recognizing a certain merit

Christian Science Churches
"Adam and Fallen Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientists, on Sunday, November 5.

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him . . ." (Genesis 1:27).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The great truth in the science of being, that the real man was, is, and ever shall be perfect, is incontrovertible; for if man is the image, reflection, of God, he is neither inverted nor subverted, but upright and Godlike" (page 200).

SERMONETTE

IN SPITE OF YOU
By Arthure B. Rhinow

Slowly he turned the dial of the radio, listening to snatches of program after program with a dissatisfied air. Another turn and the room was filled with exquisite music, music that has stood the test of time. That seemed to displease him most of all. A click, and the radio was silent.

"You may bar that music from this room, or even your life," I said to myself, "but it will go on just the same and thousands will listen in."

We may shut our eyes to the beauties of nature and art, but beauty will go right on adorning the lives of millions. We may encase our minds in worn-out notions and prejudices, but "His truth is marching on." Shut the Bible and say, "I am done with that," but the old Book does not cease to inspire because you have laid it aside. Selfishness may narrow our spiritual windows and darken our lives, but love will continue its conquests, nevertheless.

Shut yourself up in your little shell and devote your energies to lamenting the wickedness of the world, if you will, but all about you are living tokens of faith and rays of hope. Wickedness there is, to be sure—we dare not blind ourselves to its hideous presence—but God's universe is full of glory.

The grand procession takes its course, increasing armies singing the marseillaise of truth, and they who will not join the ranks because they are not brave enough to keep in step will never check the march to victory.

In the position of his opponents, was adopted and sent, in the form of a letter, to the Gentile brethren of Antioch and vicinity.
We have the right to consider this letter a Magna Charta of our Christian liberties. The follower of Jesus is not under the yoke of any ceremonial system, be it Mosaic or otherwise. "A Christian man," said Luther, the 450th anniversary of whose birth falls on November 10th, "is most free lord of all, and subject to none."

WHISPERING ROCK

Thirteenth Installment

SYNOPSIS: . . . Ruth Warren, living in the East, comes into possession of three-quarter interest in an Arizona ranch, left to her in the will of her only brother, reported to have died on business in Mexico. With her ailing husband and small child she goes to Arizona to take possession, thinking the climate may prove beneficial to her husband's weakened lungs. Arriving at the nearest town, she learns that the ranch, "Dead Lantern," is 85 miles across the desert. Charley Thane, old rancher and rural mail carrier, agrees to take them to "Dead Lantern" gate, which was 5 miles from the ranch house. As they wearily walked past a huge overshadowing yonder in a gulch in coming to the ranch house, a voice whispered "Go back! Go back." At the ranch house they are greeted suspiciously by the gaunt rancher partner, Snavelly and Indian Ann, a herculean woman of mixed negro and Indian blood. Snavelly is difficult to understand but regardless, Ruth takes up the task of trying to adjust their three lives to the ranch and its development. Kenneth, Ruth's husband, caught in chilling rain contracts pneumonia and passes away before a doctor arrives. Ruth tries to carry on. She is not encouraged by Snavelly in plans to try and stock the ranch or improve it. She writes to her father in the East asking a loan with which to buy some cattle. She receives no reply. Will Thane comes home to visit his father . . . and Ruth meets him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

The day came when Ruth, Ann, and David set out to obtain some Mexicans. She had told Snavelly that she wanted to go, herself, because she had never seen the town of Palo Verde. This was partly true, she felt that he knew her real reason: she wanted to be sure to get some Mexicans. He refused to go with her and she commended Ann for an interpreter. She hoped David could stand the ride—it would be twenty miles there and back. They would have to spend the night—Heaven only knew how and where. They had reached the highway and were perhaps a mile south of the gate when they met a covered wagon, accompanied by a horseman. A lean old Mexican with white mustaches and a wispy goatee, drove the team. Beside him sat a girl of eighteen, whose beautiful fawn-like eyes left the figure of the young horseman, as Ruth and Ann came nearer.

Ann spoke quietly to Ruth, "I think we better ask them people."

"Yes, do."
"Buenos dias, Senor," Ann addressed the old man. He promptly pulled up the horses, arose, and shifting the reins to his left hand swept off his large hat in a courteous bow.
"Buenos dias, Senoras," he replied in a voice which was mellowed graciously.

Ann turned to Ruth. "They will be good—they come from far in Mexico—'round th' border they doan speak so."

She replied to the old man and continued to talk for some time. The young horseman caressed his tender young mustache and drew a little closer to the girl's side of the wagon. The girl caught her black mantilla about her throat with a dainty ivory hand, her large eyes lowered to the small tips of her toes which rested on the footboard under a voluminous blue skirt.

Ann talked steadily and with surprising animation for several minutes; her gestures and expression were much like those of the old man. Ruth saw that she spoke Spanish more naturally than English. Finally, she nodded toward Ruth and swept out her arm to indicate the western mountains. The old man was silent for a time after she had finished. He spoke a short sentence to the young horseman. The young man smiled, shrugged his shoulders and said a word or two, his eyes on the girl.

The old man seemed undecided. He asked a few questions of Ann, and after her replies fell into another silence.

The conversation was resumed and continued pleasantly. Suddenly Ann turned to Ruth. "They'll come. We pay them fifty dollars a month, an' give them fresh beef when we butcher. The other things they eat they will buy from us. We can fix up a place in the barn fer 'em."

Apparently everything was settled.

She spoke to Ann. "What have you learned about these people?"
"I doan know th' country they come from—a ranch ten days over the line. Don Francisco was the major domo—boss—of the ranch but there was a death an' a changin' amongst the owners that he didn't like, so he left an' come to th' U. S. Alfredo was workin' at the ranch an' come along on account of the girl. They ought to know cattle work."

They were entering the foothills four miles beyond the ranch gate when the old man drew his horses to a stop. Ruth had noticed for some time that he was intently studying the mountains before him. He turned to Ann and asked in his soft polite Spanish, "Are these low mountains not named with the name of the wolf?"

work which one was familiar.
Ruth drove the wagon with David and Magda seated beside her. She had never in her life driven a team, but it was not necessary to do other than hold the reins; the horses were content to follow the road. As they neared the brown boulder, Ruth began talking animatedly to Magda, her smiling lips close to the Mexican's ear. Yet she need not have done so; there was no whispering in the vicinity of the rock.

Snavelly was not in sight when Ruth arrived at the barn where Ann and the two Mexicans were waiting. But ten minutes later, as Ruth and her son were on their way to the ranch house (Ann stayed with the new arrivals to help them establish themselves) Snavelly rode out of the trail west of the corral, toward Ruth. She stopped to wait for him. "Thinkin' of startin' a town on the Dead Lantern?" he asked with-out smiling.

Ruth laughed. "No, we only brought three—they've come from the main road—they've come from Mexico. I think they'll be good workers—they know cattle."
"What's the woman for?"
"The girl? Oh, she's the older man's daughter—I suppose she'll keep house for them."

Snavelly looked at Ruth for a long moment in silence, his slits of eyes glinting jerkily. Suddenly he left her and rode toward the barn, dismounting at the saddle shed.

When she reached the porch of the ranch house Ruth paused with her hand on the door, and, changing her mind, seated herself on the rawhide cot.
When next her eyes sought the barn Ann was nearly at the house. The giantess went to the rear and entered the kitchen without noticing Ruth. Ruth had risen to join Ann when she saw the distant figure of Alfredo come out of the barn with a rolled mattress on his shoulder, walk to the wagon and toss it in. Immediately behind him came Magda, an olla on her head and a half-filled sack in her hand. She also placed her load in the wagon and returned to the barn. By the time Don Francisco emerged with two chairs and an armful of smaller things, Ruth was well on her way.

"Why are you putting your things in the wagon?" she called to Alfredo, who came out of the barn carrying a copper tub as she approached.

The young man placed the tub in the wagon, regarded Ruth with a shrug and remained silent, his fingers smoothing his mustache.

Snavelly was standing just inside the door.
"What did you say to them?" demanded Ruth.
"Well, I fired them, that's what I did! Do you think I'm going to have a lyn' undependable bunch of trash like that on this place? They tell me they won't work an' are fixin' to leave; then you come down here an' they tell you will work — what can you do with people like that?"

Ruth did not reply, but she to Magda and taking her arm paged to the ranch house.

The Mexican girl's eyes questioned her. Ruth smiled and led toward the house. The three followed.

At the kitchen door, Ruth turned and addressed Snavelly. "You will have to stay here," she said. "I want to talk to Magda with a help—it's going to be a feminine conversation. Excuse."

Snavelly took a step forward, stopped.
"Ann," said Ruth when she led Magda into the kitchen, her is it not true that she make it just between us girls?"
But Magda was very much embarrassed. She drew her mouth about her face and twisted foot. But she nodded.

"Good! Now, Ann, you tell that if she and her people stay are good workmen, that I'll help and Alfredo build a little house that I'll give them ten acres of which is not included in the partnership but is part of some I tell her that she and Alfredo her father can have this land ever. And tell her that they working for me, not for Snavelly."

Magda was transfixed with embarrassment when she took an uncertain step toward ceased to speak. The girl took uncertain step toward Ruth, denly she curtisied almost to floor and kissed her hand, as she she were a great queen.

"Well," said Ann, "I can't you what she said 'cause I know th' fancy words in English anyhow she thinks you're poor good. But she says she can't Alfredo nothin' 'cause he ain't her to marry him yet. But she here she'll see to it that they here forever an' work much."

"Ask her why they were gone leave."
Before the Mexican girl ceased to reply, sudden fear Ann's face. The Indian woman not translate Magda's words; left the kitchen, crossed the and entered her room.

Magda looked at Ruth, put "The man say go."
Ruth smiled and shook her "No go, Magda."

"No, no, no—ah, mil, mil, mil Senora!"
There is a tradition in southern Arizona and northwestern Mexico that the summer rains begin on Day of San Juan—the twelfth of June. Especially is this tradition strong in the San Valley, for it is here that the erable Ambrosio Vega is said have rain records for six and years. The discerning still say can make out his records scribbled in the adobe—just left of the niche—in the ruin which was his home.

ECONOMY, CONVENIENCE, SAFETY

with a Modern Electric Refrigerator

Three outstanding features of superiority have made modern Electric Refrigeration an overwhelming favorite of progressive home-managers throughout the Nation.

ECONOMY—Unusual economy of operation . . . savings realized through the elimination of food-spoilage . . . and the profits of buying groceries in larger quantities at bargain prices will net substantial savings for you.
CONVENIENCE—Trouble-free . . . constantly dependable . . . furnishing an adequate supply of sparkling ice cubes . . . offering delicious frozen desserts and salads . . . and providing ample storage space for perishable foods, the modern Electric Refrigerator is a model of convenience.
SAFETY—Authorities agree that food-safety depends on a constant temperature of less than 50 degrees—in summer and winter. Electric Refrigeration maintains this safe temperature automatically—providing a constant health safeguard for yourself and your loved ones.

Truly, you cannot afford to be without this efficient "Electrical Servant." Present prices are planned to fit the average family budget—and monthly payments can be made from savings. Ask for your demonstration today.

Orient Wreck
An Orient passenger train going west on Sweetwater Sunday wrecked about 4 miles south of Benjamin, front trucks of the tender jumped the track and cutting about 100 ties half in two. The train stopped just in time to prevent a wreck, as it was within about 100 feet of a lengthy trestle.

Allison-Sanders
The irresistible influence which woman has over man was never more fully demonstrated than in the action of our esteemed friend, Herman Allison, who, a few weeks ago, boarded the train for a little town in faraway California, because there was to be found the one most attractive of all on earth to him. But if Miss Bessie Sanders had chosen other than the town of Covina, Cal., as her home, Covina would have been the last place Mr. Allison would have gone for a wife. This only shows how events are determined and history made.

When Charles Hager, of Chase, Kansas went down to McPherson to attend college this fall he tied old Bossie to the rear of his flivver. Crowell Is Third in Enrollment at Alpine; Club Officers Named

The Crowell Club of Sul Ross College, Alpine, was recently organized and the following officers elected: Irene Patton, president; Virginia Sue Crowell, secretary-treasurer, and Dorothy Hinds, vice-president and chairman of the social committee. Other members of the social committee are Miss Stather Elliott and Billy Jake Middlebrook.

Crowell Ranks Third

Crowell ranks third in enrollment in Sul Ross, Alpine being first with an enrollment of sixty-five, and Fort Stockton second with nineteen students.

The Crowell Club has thirteen members and meets regularly in Cottage 13. A black cat as an emblem and colors of black, scarlet and silver grey were adopted by the club. Scarlet and silver are the college colors.

The first meeting of the Crowell Club was held in Cottage 13 on Oct. 8. Organization of the club was the principal activity at this meeting. The group will meet once a month for social activities.

On Sept. 24, these students were entertained with a picnic at the Indian Caves by President and Mrs. Morelock; Miss Stather Elliott, head of the Spanish department; Mr. Gillev, head of the Math department; Mr. Ratliff, head of the Education department; Mr. Coleman, professor of Education, and Mrs. Coleman.

The group climbed mountains and enjoyed a camp-fire supper. Miss Elliott, sponsor, entertained the club at her home Thursday evening, Oct. 26, with a Halloween party. Fortunes were told and favorite Halloween games were played. Refreshments consisted of cakes and hot chocolate.

The following officers were elected: Mrs. J. L. Hunter, president; Mrs. Jimmie Larue, vice president; Mrs. Tom White, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. S. B. Middlebrook, reporter, and Mrs. J. S. Owens, parliamentarian.

A tempting plate of refreshments consisting of apple pie with whipped cream and coffee was served by the hostess to twelve members. The club will meet next in the home of Mrs. S. B. Middlebrook.—Reporter.

Sophomores Enjoy Halloween Party

The Sophomore Class of the Crowell High School was entertained Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Bob Allee with a Halloween party.

A ghost, in the person of Mrs. W. C. McKown, received the guests with chilly hand and another ghost, impersonated by Mrs. Allee, led them throughout the rooms.

All the decorations, the games, the costumes and the refreshment plate, realistically followed the Halloween motif and merriment reigned during the hours. The class sponsor, Henry Black, planned the entertainment features. Mrs. Hubert Brown, in gypsy attire, proved to be a popular fortune teller.

The refreshment plate was attractive, with its contents carrying out the season's motif and a black bat as a favor. The plate held chicken sandwiches with orange colored bread, fruit salad, brown and white cookies, pumpkin pie and whipped cream and hot chocolate. The refreshments were furnished by the mothers of the Sophomore Class.

Those who attended were Evelyn Norris, Myrthal Ketchersid, Mary Byrl Bell, J. M. Lousouer, Sam Crews, Austin Wiggins, Merrill Allee, Lke Wilson, Banks Campbell, Mark Saunders, Mary Elizabeth Hughston, Dorothy Pauline McKown, Edith Marie Gover, Peggy Cooper, George Cook, and the sponsor, Henry Black.

Carnival Presented Here Saturday Night

The carnival atmosphere permeated the high school carnival as presented on the court house lawn last Saturday evening by the Crowell high school under the auspices of P. T. A.

Bingo, turtle racing, and cake-walking proved very popular and remunerative. Other interesting features were the house of horrors,

This-That, Etc.

To the Wildcats

At this time, the eve of the Olney-Crowell football game, we respectfully dedicate this column to our high school Wildcats. We admire and respect the ability of everyone of these boys on the athletic field, but most of all we admire these boys for their everyday conduct.

It is our honest opinion that you cannot find a cleaner and finer group of boys than those who compose the Wildcat football squad. They are real fighters, clean sports, good scholars and the type that follow their coach's instructions to the very limit in working for the good of their team instead of for individual glory.

Of course local people are proud of their football team, but it can be truthfully said that the town and county might well be proud of members of the squad even if they did not have their excellent ability on the grid-iron.

Since it is only natural for young boys, especially those of grammar school age, to have their secret heroes, it is indeed fortunate that the Wildcats lead the kinds of lives on and off the field that furnish a real inspiration for young hero worshippers to follow, as the principal heroes in the minds of local boys year in and year out seem to be the members of the high school athletic teams.

Maybe someone is wondering: "Well, if those boys are that type, what business do they have on a football team where the going is rough and tough?" Well, our answer to a query of that nature is simply that the Wildcats can get right in there and mix it, no matter how rough and tough the going may be. They play hard—but clean—and their answer to unfair tactics on the part of an opponent is a return of such actions in a tougher—but strictly fair—manner.

Win or lose—we are for those Wildcats because we know they are going to be out there on the field in each game giving the very best they have. What more could you ask?

Favorable Situation

Judging by similar situations existing before the all-important game with Chillicothe here last season, the Wildcats are in a favorable position to win the game with Olney.

Last year "The Rambler" in the Wichita Falls Record News and the Chillicothe Valley News predicted that Crowell would lose its most important home game, which was with Chillicothe. The Wildcats proved that both were wrong.

Well again this year The Rambler and the Chillicothe paper have predicted that Crowell will lose its most important home game, which is with Olney this time and again we believe those Wildcats are going to prove that they are wrong.

Stunt Nights Given By Co. Federation

On Thursday and Friday evenings of last week the County Federation sponsored programs at the high school auditorium which were composed of stunts from the various clubs and organizations of the county. The stunts comprised skits, songs, dialogs, farces, etc., and provided evenings of entertainment and fun.

The proceeds from the two programs are to be used in enlarging the county library.

Wilma, the wonder woman, the freaks, the hula dancers, the gypsy fortune teller, and Dr. Kill'em Quick. The features did great credit to the ingenuity and imagination of the producers.

A total of $78.00 was realized which will be devoted to the high school library.

prove that they are wrong.

Press reports from Olney indicate that the Cubs and their followers are mighty chesty about winning another championship. A news item from Olney a few weeks ago stated that it was all in a day's work for the Cubs to win a district championship and that they were already looking beyond the district race—or in other words they considered that they had already won the Crowell game.

This week we read that Olney fans are freely predicting another district championship for the Cubs and they have great admiration for Coach Blannard Spearman and "his successful efforts in whipping a bunch of green men into a winning team.

We believe the Wildcats are going to defend the honor of their own coach by beating those Cubs, thereby proving that the Olney coach has no more reason to deserve the admiration of his fans than does the Crowell coach, since Coach Graves had less experienced men than Olney at the opening of the season.

Last season this writer had sarcastic remarks directed at him from points in this section as a result of his predictions that Crowell was going to beat the powerful Chillicothe Eagles.

We have just as much faith in the Wildcats this season as we did last year. Our first prediction this season that Crowell would beat the Cubs was on Sept. 7 and we have stuck to that prediction ever since. Again we hope that the Wildcats will prove that their own sports writer had the correct opinion about their ability and we believe they will.

A Rare Opportunity

Friday, the Wildcats will have the opportunity of gaining that which no other District 4-B team has been able to gain since 1927—a victory over Olney.

Let all do their part in helping Crowell High to do this by attending the pep rally Friday morning and the "game of games" Friday afternoon.

Weather Department

After correctly predicting Foard's first frost for Oct. 23, Typo last week predicted that a good supply of needed moisture would be received by Foard farmers on Thursday or Friday of this week.

After hitting the nail on the head in these two cases, we are going to play safe this week by predicting
