ATTENTION CONTRACT WORK IS NEAR COMPLETION; ATTEMPT TO SECURE YIELD INCREASE

Foard County's cotton contracts are being completed, and the process of completion has been accepted by the State Department of Agriculture. A committee of Review and Forwarded Washington for payment.

There has been the cotton contract in Washington has been the efforts of the county committee to secure higher yield figures for the county. Requests have been made to Washington to the Section of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration for a higher average of lint yield.

A committee has requested the extreme drought years of 1930 and 1932 be discarded and average figured on the three years of normal production, 1929, 1931 and 1932. A letter in answer to the request has been received from the Administration stating in substance that it was to be told how the drought adjustment would be made, but advised that it would consider request and make such adjustments as would be fair to the action of the county.

LUTHER McMILLAN HAS ONE-FOURTH INTEREST IN BIG TEXAS OIL WELL

Luther O. McMillan, brother of A. F. McMillan of this city, has a quarter interest in the wildcat well brought in last week near Rusk in Cherokee County. This well flowed at the rate of 12,000 barrels daily and opens a new East Texas oil pool. Mr. McMillan also has over one hundred acres of royalty under this big well.

Community Canning Plant Operating as Relief Project Here

A community cannery was put in operation last Friday at the rear of the Fox building and is now producing hundreds of cans of products taken from the county relief gardens along Pease River in the northeast part of the county. The canning work is being supervised by Miss Maude Wheatley.

Co-Operation Needed

Bryan O'Connell, county relief administrator, states that donations of clean rags are needed. He also reports that large cookers or retorts are also needed until the arrival of state equipment.

Government Gives Free Record Books To Contract Signers

The necessity of keeping farm records has been placed before farmers more this year than ever before. Savings of many dollars to members of the various commodity groups in the county would have resulted had proper records been kept and the matter of assembling data for the contracts would have been simplified.

All members of the commodity associations—wheat, cotton, and corn—contract signers—agree to keep records of sales and production of crops.

In order to simplify records, the Agriculture Adjustment Administration has issued a farm account book, called the "Triple A Record Book," to be given to contract signers without cost. The book is small, simple to keep and gives a complete record of all farm operations, including a sheet for a map of the farm. While not imperative to keep records on this particular record book, these books are free to all contract signers and may be had by calling at the county agent's office.

Many Local Students Return From Various Schools and Colleges

Many Crowell and Foard County students have returned to their homes with the completion of terms in the various schools and colleges attended by them.

Leading the list in colleges attended by local students, is the Sul Ross State Teachers College at Alpine. The following local students attended that school: Irene Patton, Dorothy Florence Hinds, Jo Griffith, Faye Boman, Virginia Sue Crowell, Irene Nichols, Lillian Gene Bell, Loraine Carter and Billy Jake Middlebrook. All have returned with the exception of Miss Bell, who has gone to San Antonio to work in the office of her uncle, F. J. Kanatzar, at Fort Sam Houston. Miss Hinds has also returned to Sul Ross for the two summer terms.

Foard students who have returned from the teachers college at Canyon are: Jo Roark, Mary Ragland and Peggy Thompson, Katie Ward, Mrs. John Nichols, Francis Todd, Chas. B. Wisdom, John and Otis Toole.

Others who have returned from college are:

Texas Tech—Mary Frances Self, Evelyn Sloan, J. M. Crowell, Joe Ben Roberts, Arthur Bell, Ralph Cogdell and Richard Sparks. Miss Sloan returned to Tech Wednesday for the summer term.

New Information on Contracted Acreage Use Received Here

Additional information regarding the uses of government contracted acreage on wheat and corn-hog contracts has been received at the county agent's office in a telegram from O. B. Martin, director of the Extension Service of A. & M. College. A quotation from the telegram follows:

"Restriction on use of contracted acres modified to permit the planting and harvesting of all forage crops except corn and grain sorghums and to permit pasturing these contracted acres and harvesting foliage from them. This applies to wheat and corn-hog contracts.—(Signed) O. B. Martin."

LONG WINNING STREAK OF KNEE-ACTIONS SMASHED BY SPORTS; LOSE 14 TO 1

A 14 to 1 victory over the undefeated Knee-Actions by Gordon Bell's Sports Monday afternoon featured play in the local softball league during the past week. The Sports also defeated the Short Circuits 24 to 6 last Thursday.

MISS IRENE PATTON SECURES DEGREE FROM SUL ROSS AT ALPINE

Miss Irene Patton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Patton, of this city and a graduate of Crowell High school, received her bachelor of science degree last week in graduation exercises at the Sul Ross State Teachers College at Alpine.

For six years, she had attended the summer sessions at this college, however, during the past year she was at the college throughout the 1933-34 term.

Vaporizer Installed By Rialto Theatre

One of the latest products for increasing the comfort and guarding the health of occupants in public gathering places has been installed this week by The Rialto Theatre. It is a "West Sanitor Vaporizer."

With the use of this machine, together with the theatre's regular cooling fan, moist and slightly perfumed air is kept in circulation, which also does much in reducing the temperature inside the building.

Deodorants, fumigants and insecticides may be used in the vaporizer. With the completion of each evening's program, the theatre is fumigated with the machine.

Aged Margaret Man Buried Beside Wife in Chillicothe Cemetery

Josiah Jackson, 81, who died at Margaret on May 25, was born in Robinson County, Texas, on Feb. 14, 1853. His parents came to this state in his early days.

When a youth he moved with his parents to Rapides Parish, La. At the age of 27 he was married to Rose L. Grissom. To this union were born two twin boys, Edgar W. and Edward C., and one girl, Maudie Alma, now Mrs. John Kerley of Margaret.

In Dec., 1894, he moved his family to Shelby County. In Sept., 1909, they moved to Chillicothe, living in that vicinity until moving to Daingerfield, Shelby County, in 1919. They resided there until 1922, when they broke up household, returning to Chillicothe to live with their daughter, Mrs. Kerley. On Feb. 23, 1924, Mrs. Jackson died and in May of that year he moved with the Kerley family to Margaret, where he remained until death. He united with the Church of Christ in 1897, remaining a faithful Christian until the end.

Funeral services were held at the Margaret Methodist Church on May 26, conducted by Rev. C. V. Allen of Crowell, assisted by Rev. C. D. Baggett and Rev. M. G. Brotherton of Margaret. The body was laid to rest by the side of his wife in the Chillicothe Cemetery.

ANY ENROLL FOR '34 BIBLE SCHOOL HERE

A total of 179 children, from ages of 4 to 15, have enrolled in the Daily Vacation Bible School which is now being conducted in Crowell through the co-operation of the Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian churches. The school also includes teachers and teachers.

The school will close on Monday, June 4, with a closing program will be given at 7:15 in order that the school may be over in time for the start of the Christian Church.

Parents of children and the public generally are welcome at the sessions.

RE DESTROYS HOUSE

Of undetermined origin, a fire destroyed the frame structure just south of the West Station last Saturday afternoon. Originally built as a filling station, the structure had since converted into a residence and was occupied by L. V. Macy and family, all of whom were away from their home when the fire out.

NEW OIL WELL IS FEATURE OF DIST. ACTIVITY

"Big Foard County Gusher Features Events of Past Week" was headlined entirely across the oil page of the Wichita Daily Times last Sunday. Beneath this streamer, Jimmie Maxwell, oil editor of the Daily Times, had the following comment:

"Completion of the Texas Company No. 4 Les K. Johnson, in Section 36, Block 'L' in S. P. R. R. Survey, Foard County, featured the week's oil happenings throughout the district.

"The well, estimated at 3,500 barrels, located at an equal distance between the towns of Crowell and Paducah, is the second gusher to be completed on the Johnson ranch and also extends the deep lime production approximately 2,000 feet west of the No. 3 well."

The new Foard gusher was brought in May 30 at a depth of around 3,500 feet. The No. 3 well was brought in last July at 3,571 feet and was drilled 6 feet deeper last fall with the result that Oct. 9 it flowed 2,776 barrels in 24 hours.

TAX SAVING IF PAYMENT MADE BY JUNE 30TH

Those who pay their delinquent state and county taxes by June 30 will make a substantial saving, since no interest and only six per cent penalty will be charged if the delinquent taxes are paid by that time.

Taxpayers are being notified of this effect by R. J. Thomas, Foard County tax collector, through an ad elsewhere in this issue of The News.

It is stated in this ad that after June 30 the regular 10 per cent penalty and 6 per cent interest per annum from the time the taxes become delinquent will be charged and warns that payment before the end of the present month. If the month is allowed to pass, it would require $170 to get a tax receipt, plus, of course, the usual statutory costs.

COTTON CONTRACT CUTS RECEIVED BY FARMERS EVERYWHERE

College Station.—Cutting cotton production figures in cotton adjustment contracts was the rule and not the exception in Texas and everywhere else, according to the State Cotton Review Board. The farmer who feels badly that his first figures giving average five-year production were not accepted by the Board, and were reduced by the county committee to put them in line with the county allotment, may feel better if he knows that nearly all farmers took similar cuts.

When all the cotton production figures put by farmers into their contracts were added up it was found that they ran over the county allotments by a rough average of 20 per cent, the Board states. In some counties the over-run went more than 40 per cent.

This does not mean that farmers were dishonest in giving their production figures, the Board says, but that farmers had no way of knowing exactly what they had produced for five years. Production figures were of necessity estimates based largely on memory. The same was true of acreage figures. A farmer assumed he had 100 acres in a field but it might have been 90 acres or 110 acres if actually measured.

On the other hand, the Bureau of Crop Estimates knows with great accuracy the total bales produced in Texas every year. The average of this for five years became the Texas allotment. This was apportioned out among counties on the basis of local ginnings, cross county ginnings taken into account. It was imperative, if

THEFT OF WOOL PROVES COSTLY TO ALLEN FISH

Allen Fish of the Vivian community has suffered a loss of between four and five hundred dollars as a result of the theft of 2,000 to 2,500 pounds of wool from his farm.

He found the wool missing last Thursday from the shed where it had been placed, about one-fourth of a mile east of his farm home. The doors to the shed had been shut but not locked. Tracks indicated that the wool was carried off in a dual-wheel truck. It is believed that the theft occurred Wednesday night. One bag of wool, weighing about 225 pounds, was left in the shed.

The wool had been sheared from 264 sheep only a few weeks ago. Mr. Fish, Sheriff R. J. Thomas and a Paducah deputy made a trip to Dallas this week in an attempt to find the wool.

KNOX PIONEER WOMAN DIED LAST SUNDAY; WAS AUNT OF J. E. HARWELL

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Harwell attended funeral services at Benjamin Monday morning for Mrs. Harwell's aunt, Mrs. M. Alexander, 79, Knox county pioneer, who died Sunday at her home in Benjamin. She had been bedfast for the past 18 months.

Funeral services were held at the Benjamin Methodist Church and interment followed in the Benjamin Cemetery.

The deceased had lived in Knox County for the past 43 years. She was the last member of her immediate family. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. W. F. Bisbee of Benjamin and Mrs. E. Duvall of Abilene. She was a sister of J. E. Harwell's mother.

BUS DRIVERS EMPLOYED

At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Crowell Independent School District, bus drivers for the next school term were employed as follows: Frank Moore, W. W. Boyd and Roy M. Fox.

Alva Spencer to Be Crowell Postmaster For Next Four Years

Alva Spencer of this city received a letter last week from James A. Farley of Washington, D. C., postmaster general, notifying him that he had been appointed Crowell postmaster for a term of four years by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate.

Mr. Spencer will not assume his duties in this capacity until his commission has been issued. This action is now awaiting the approval of Mr. Spencer's bond and a few other minor details, which will likely be completed within a short time.

The new postmaster has served in the clerical department of the local office since 1919. He succeeded Gordon Gribble, who has served as the local postmaster for the past six years.

LOCAL GIRLS RECEIVE DEGREES FROM A. C. C.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Atcheson attended graduation exercises of the Abilene Christian College last week. Their daughters, Misses Violet and Pansy, received bachelor of science degrees at that time.

Miss Lela Patton accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Atcheson and was also present for the graduation.

The local A. C. C. graduates finished Crowell High School in 1930 and had attended the college from which they graduated for the past four years. Both were very active in the extra curriculum activities of the college. They were members of the Ellen H. Richards Club, Mission Study, South Plains Club, and A Capella Chorus. Miss Pansy was corresponding secretary of the W. Club, an honor organization for women. Miss Violet was assistant teacher in the Abilene Training School of A. C. C.

Crowell Team Beats Seymour Golfers Here

A team of Seymour golfers, including three players from Knox City and one from Gilliland, lost to Crowell linksmen in a match on the local course Sunday afternoon. Crowell won six matches to Seymour's five. Two ties resulted.

In the No. 1 foursome, Crowell won both matches. Bob Oswalt, Jr., beat Jacques Wilson of Knox City, former Texas Tech champion, 4 and 2. Last year Wilson also won the championship of Knox, Baylor and Haskell counties in a tri-county meet. R. D. Oswalt, Sr., won the other match, defeating Byron Shupee.

The two teams divided honors in the No. 2 foursome, with T. S. (Hid) Haney beating Davis of Seymour and Gordon Bell of Crowell losing to Farmer of Knox City.

Other results were: M. L. Hughston, Crowell, and Craddock, tie; Grady Magee, Crowell, beat Dixon of Gilliland; Guy Crews, Crowell, beat Alexander; Alton Bell, Crowell, beat Jackson; Bellows, Seymour, beat Alva Spencer; Lowry, Seymour, beat M. Allee; Ernest King, Crowell, beat L. O. Wharton; O. C. Harrison, Seymour, beat Gus Hooks; McCarty of Knox City beat J. T. Billington.

Par 72's were shot by three golfers, Haney and Oswalt, Sr., of Crowell, and Farmer of Knox City. A return match will be played at Seymour in the near future.

FOARD'S FIRST LOAD OF NEW WHEAT ARRIVES ON JUNE 1ST FOR 3RD CONSECUTIVE YEAR

For the third consecutive year Foard County's first load of wheat from a new crop has reached Crowell on June 1. The first load from the 1934 crop was brought to Crowell last Friday by Dwight Campbell from his farm 3 miles east of Crowell and was sold to Self Grain Company.

Ninety cents per bushel, ten cents above the market price, was paid to Mr. Campbell by B. W. Self as a premium for the first load. The hard winter wheat in this load of fifty bushels tested 61 pounds.

First loads of wheat during the past few years have been as follows:

1930—June 6, John Carter.
1931—June 9, E. V. Halbert.
1932—June 1, Jim Shook.
1933—June 1, Les Hammonds.
1934—June 1, Dwight Campbell.

W. G. Chapman brought in the first load of wheat received by the local Farmers Co-Operative Elevator. A premium will be voted upon at a meeting of the board of directors Saturday. Thomas Hughston received a premium of ten dollars for bringing the first load of new wheat to T. P. Duncan & Son.

Harvest Well Under Way

As a result of extra dry and hot weather, wheat has ripened very rapidly during the past week and it is estimated that around 40,000 bushels of the 1934 crop have already been combined.

Reports from a number of parts of the county indicate that yields are slightly better than expected. Mr. Campbell, who brought Foard's first 1934 wheat, stated that the 70-acre field from which it was combined, averaged 18.75 bushels to the acre and that an 80-acre field of his would average better than that.

NEW PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR TO PREACH HERE SUN. MORNING

Rev. J. A. Phipps of Kemp, Texas, who was recently engaged to serve as pastor of the Crowell and Chillicothe Presbyterian churches, will preach his first sermon in this capacity here Sunday morning at the local Presbyterian Church.

No evening services will be held Sunday due to the revival at the Christian Church. Rev. Phipps is making his home at Chillicothe.

HENRY TEAGUE RECEIVES A. B. DEGREE FROM ARIZONA STATE COLLEGE, FLAGSTAFF

Henry Teague, son of Mrs. L. Kamstra of this city, returned to Crowell last Friday night after spending the past three and one-half years at Flagstaff, Arizona. When he left Crowell in January, 1931, he was president of the C. H. S. senior class.

Last week he received his A. B. degree from Arizona State College at Flagstaff. He majored in business administration and was a member of Pi Omega Pi, a fraternity for commercial students.

For the past two years he has had experience in landscape gardening under George Robinson, landscape gardener for Exposition Park in Los Angeles, while working for the Flagstaff Floral and Nursery Co.

Miss Jewel Teague, a sister, has been teaching in Arizona for the past three years and is now taking a summer course at the State College in Flagstaff.

Crowell and Altus To Meet Here Sun. In Next Ball Game

The Crowell baseball club will play Altus here Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in a Red River Valley League game.

The local club will likely be stonger in this game than at any other during the current season, as a number of old club members will be back in the line-up, including Lewis Sloan, Haek Norman, William Bell and Jimmy LaRue.

The probable starting line-up for the game follows: Norman, cf; Brooks or Hough, lf; Sloan, 3b; Curran, ss; Ashford, 2b; LaRue, c; Sossman or Wm. Bell, rf; Collier, 1b; Russell, Glazier or Rabberry, pitcher.

RALPH COGDELL RECEIVES DEGREE FROM TEXAS TECH

Mrs. W. A. Cogdell and daughters, Misses Bonnie and Nancy, went to Lubbock last Friday to attend the commencement exercises of Texas Technological College, at which time their son and brother, Ralph Cogdell, received a B. S. degree in agriculture.

Ralph graduated from Crowell High School in 1930 and, for the past four years, has attended Texas Tech, in the Agricultural department.

REMOVE CASING FROM OIL TEST AFTER 23 YEARS

Casing that has stood for twenty-three years in an oil test within three-fourths of a mile of the court house square is now being removed by H. R. Faubin of Electra, who has purchased the casing from Grady Magee, Joe Roberts and Vance Swain, joint owners of the block, 300 feet square, where the old test is located.

There was about 1,800 feet of six and five-eighths inch casing and a few hundred feet having already been removed by the crew and special equipment brought here for this purpose.

This old oil test was drilled in 1911 by Robbins & Trice to a depth of 2,000 feet. By public subscription, enough funds were raised to drill the test to 2,200 feet, where operations stopped. It is reported that a showing of gas was encountered in this test.

One of the men interested in drilling this test is B. F. Robbins of Big Spring, who is still in the oil game. His partner in this Crowell test was J. A. Trice, deceased.

Rascoe Is Re-Elected Farmers Gin Manager

A regular meeting of the board of directors of the Farmers Co-Operative Society of Crowell was held at the organization's office last Saturday. Besides transacting regular business, the directors elected T. V. Rascoe as gin manager for the ensuing year. Mr. Rascoe is now serving his first year as manager of the local society's two cotton gins.

PROGRAM POSTPONED

The "Father's Day" program and singing that was to have been held at the Gambierville school next Sunday has been called off due to the rush of the harvest season.

There was to be a cotton program at all, that the total cotton production given by farmers in their contracts added to that of non-signers not exceed the known State total. That is why cuts were necessary, the Board explains.

They also visited Mrs. Bishop's sisters, Mrs. John Nichols of this place, and Mrs. Frank Moore of Crowell. Everyone is invited to attend the pie supper and candidate speaking that is to be given at the Black school house Friday evening. Proceeds to go to the Christian Endeavor Society.

Twenty Years Ago in The News

The items below were taken in whole or in part from the issues of The Foard County News of May 22-29, June 5-12, 1914. The issue of May 15, 1914, is missing from our files.

The Crowell Produce Co. has bought the ice business of Rasor & Allison.

Miss Grace Self left yesterday for Edmond, Okla., to attend the state normal.

Meessrs. W. F. Thomson and G. A. Mitchell have closed out their stock of feed and will discontinue business for a time at least. Mr. Thomson says that he could not resist the temptation to help the farmers harvest their crops, while Mr. Mitchell says that he has some political fences that need looking after.

New Rural Route

The people of Foard City and Good Creek are rejoicing because a rural route has been established out of Foard City into the Good Creek country. The Foard City postmaster has appointed A. L. Sloan as carrier.

T. J. Cates has purchased a 4 h. p. Cushing engine to fasten on his binder.

A. Y. Beverly has returned from Clarendon College.

Miss Lena Rasor is home from Canyon Normal.

Mrs. S. T. Crews and children left today to spend the summer at Edna, Texas.

Ed Adams and family of Hollis, Okla., have returned to Crowell to make their future home.

Baby Show Winners

There were about 30 entries in the baby show here First Monday. The judges were T. W. Staton, W. S. Bell and J. L. Martin. It was found that the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coulson won first prize and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boss Roark, second. The son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Womack won first for the prettiest baby boy and the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Coffey won second.

Sam Scales braved the rain to come to Crowell last week. Hard to keep people from coming to a good town.

We printed some letters this week for S. E. Norris of this place advertising the cotton planter attachment invented by him. It is a great invention and here is hoping that it may make its inventor rich.

Allee-Henry & Co. claim the honor of selling more binders than any other firm in West Texas, having sold fifty this season. They have sold other machines which they will unload shortly. The firm has also sold six complete threshing rigs.

Duke Wallace has purchased J. W. Coulson's barber shop. Mr. Wallace has consolidated the Coulson shop with the one he recently opened in one of the Ringgold buildings.

Beverly-Perkins

At the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Beverly in this city Tuesday evening, June 9, occurred a most beautiful wedding when Mr. Joseph Russell Beverly led to the hymenal altar Miss Emma Estelle Perkins, one of Crowell's fairest daughters. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. A. Stewart, pastor of the Methodist Church. A. Y. Beverly acted as best man. The officiating attendant was Mrs. Carl B. Thacker.

Miss Una Self, who has been attending school at Decatur, returned last week.

S. S. Bell has secured the agency for Maxwell cars for Foard County.

A. J. Page of Glencoe, Ill., just received $50 from a resident of India to whom he lent that sum 31 years ago.

Mary Levine had Nathan Green of Chicago arrested for taking a flower pot at her while she was being courted by Golan's son.

J. G. Smith of Atlanta is owner of a bed which he constructed of discarded tin cans.

Weight Reduced From 180 to 137

"Wonderful," Says She

Here's today's story of a woman who knew she carried too much fat and decided the right way to get rid of it—just a few words that wise fat folks should heed—worth reading.

"I use Kruschen Salts to reduce. It's wonderful. Take it daily and eat what I want and still lose. I did weigh 180, now 137. Want to get down to 125." Mrs. Leonard Bass, Ft. Atkinson, Wis., Feb. 6, 1934.

When you take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water—you not only lose in weight but you put healthy activity into your whole body—you feel younger and look it—get it at any drug store in the world.

For 73 years Emmett L. Nichols, 100, of St. Johns, Mich., has been married to the same woman and "I still take her everywhere I go," he says.

CHEVROLET ANNOUNCES SUBSTANTIAL PRICE REDUCTIONS

On all models of Chevrolet passenger cars and trucks

Reductions amount to as much as $50 on some models

Chevrolet's reduced prices reflect the record-breaking demand that, month after month, is keeping Chevrolet first in sales.

In offering these exceptional values, Chevrolet hopes to maintain, during the balance of the year, the high level of employment so necessary to the general program of recovery.

Chevrolet is particularly glad to make this announcement when you can see and judge the Chevrolet at the National Exhibits of General Motors Products.

Make it a point to look over these cars. Compare its modern features and new low prices with those of any other low-priced car.

Then you will know even more surely than before why we say, "Drive the Chevrolet only 5 miles and you'll never be satisfied with any other low-priced car."

Total of $28,000.00 Farm Mortgage Loans Made in This County

A total of $28,000 of Federal land bank and Land Bank Commissioner's farm mortgage loans was made in Foard County from June 1, 1933, to May 1, 1934, according to the Farm Credit Administration.

Of this total, farmers in Foard County used approximately $27,600, or 98.6 per cent to refinance their indebtedness. By refinancing, farmers obtained new mortgage loans which they used to repay their old debts. They generally reduced their annual interest charges in doing so. In a number of cases, scale-downs of indebtedness occurred in connection with the new loans. These and other advantages benefited farmers primarily. Secondly, creditors benefited from the receipt of cash or bonds in exchange for obligations they held.

Of the loan money used by farmers in Foard County for refinancing their debts, about $6,600, it was estimated, repaid their debts to banks; $5,900, their taxes; $15,100, their debts to "others," or creditors not separately classified, including private mortgage lenders, mortgage loan companies, retired farmers and many others to whom farmers were in debt.

A total of about $400 of loans in the county, the balance, was used for the purchase of stock in national farm loan associations, for loan fees, etc.

Throughout the United States approximately $675,000,000 of land bank and Commissioner's loans were made from June 1, 1933, to May 1, 1934. Most of these loans were made to refinance debts resulting from the long period of low farm income.

Generally farmers pay considerably less interest each year on the new than on the old loans. Land bank loans made through national farm loan associations carry an interest rate of 5 per cent, but there is a reduction to 4 1/2 per cent until July, 1938. Loans made direct by banks carry a rate of 5 1/2 per cent, but there is a reduction to 5 per cent until 1938. The rate on Commissioner's loans is 5 per cent. Against these rates farmers in most cases had been paying from 5 to 8 per cent, but on numerous loans they had been paying 9 per cent, 10 per cent, and even above 10 per cent.

Until March 26 the land bank and Commissioner's loans were made in cash. Commencing on that date they were made mainly in the government-guaranteed bonds of the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation. These bonds are exempt from all Federal, state, municipal and local taxation, except surtaxes, estate, inheritance and gift taxes. They are guaranteed fully as to principal and interest by the

The Allen Company of Crowell

A small portion of The Allen Company, local wholesale and retail automotive firm, is pictured above with its owner, C. V. Allen.

Local Automotive Firm Has Excellent Record; Stock Doubled Since Moving To New Location Eight Months Ago

An excellent record of progress has been made by The Allen Company, local wholesale and retail automotive firm, since its establishment in Crowell and at the present time the company carries a surprisingly complete stock for the ordinary needs of an auto, truck or tractor owner.

While conducting the local Chevrolet agency, the owner of the local company, C. V. Allen started handling automotive supplies on a wholesale basis in the fall of 1932 on a small scale.

On Oct. 10, 1933, he moved his business to the McLaughlin building on the east side of the square and has since been exclusively engaged in the retail and wholesale handling of automotive supplies.

Stock Doubled

When moved to the new location, the company had a $3,000 stock. In less than eight months the stock has been more than doubled and at present is worth more than $6,000.

"A lot of folks said that a business of this kind would not pay in Crowell," said Mr. Allen, "but I have found that it does. The plan we have been working on is to have a stock of sufficient variety to take care of every individual customer that comes in and as a result, by far the greater part of those who come in find what they want."

Thus far the wholesale business has been confined mainly to the garages and stations in Crowell, Thalia and Truscott, since the main purpose in building the business has been to take care of individual needs and for that reason the company has placed an emphasis upon having a wide variety of parts and accessories, rather than having a large volume of a limited number of items.

Regarding this matter, Mr. Allen pointed to his stock of gaskets, stating that a sale was seldom missed on them, although there are occasional demands for other than standard brands and when such occasions arise, arrangements are made to secure the needed item as early as possible.

The local automotive firm is continually adding worthwhile items and equipment. New and expensive brake lining equipment of the most modern type was recently added. During the past week a cabinet, containing carburetor parts for practically every make, was received.

Besides Mr. Allen, who is manager of the firm, its staff includes James Page, salesman, and Mrs. Allen, bookkeeper.

Advertises Regularly

Mr. Allen is a regular user of newspaper space and seldom misses an issue of The News in which he does not have an ad containing information of interest to the motorists and tractor owners of this section.

P-C Ass'ns. Handle $44,500,000 Loans In Only Two Months

The associations have advanced $27,300,000 of this amount," Mr. Garwood said, "and the balance of $17,200,000 has been allocated to the accounts of borrowers. Most of this balance goes to farmers who are getting their loans in a series of payments during the season, so they will have the money when they need it and meanwhile save on interest charges."

"Most of the loans made this spring have been for crop production," Mr. Garwood continued, "and while the spring seasonal demand for crop production loans has now passed its peak, the gradual increase in the size of loans indicates that farmers and stockmen are turning their attention to livestock loans for general farming purposes."

"The extremely low cost of money this spring is very encouraging to new agricultural financing. The production credit associations have been able to reduce the interest rates on new loans to 5 per cent; and this factor is enabling many farmers to get loans who up until now have postponed the purchase of needed workstock, horses, equipment, machinery, repairs and improvements."

"Such loans must be secured by first liens on sufficient livestock or equipment, owned or purchased, to secure the loan adequately."

SEEING NEW SIGHTS

It is difficult to imagine the sensations experienced by persons from isolated sections of the world, particularly island dwellers, when first brought into contact with the facilities of modern life.

A recent dispatch tells of the wonder with which Rachel Gillies, a 17-year-old girl from the Island of St. Kilda, off the English coast, first saw a horse, and automobile, a railroad train and a moving picture, on her first visit to the mainland.

Thousands of people live die without seeing any of these things, although they live in a comparatively short distance from them all.

But it is not only those who live in sparsely settled localities who are unfamiliar with things which are commonplace to the great majority. Not long ago in a certain section of New York city to see a strange animal often had been heard of but not witnessed by those who wished to gaze upon the beast.

It was a cow.

THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation for the many expressions of confidence and good will contained in last week's issue of The Foard County News and for all other personal expressions received in connection with the opening of our new elevator. This is evidence of a fine community spirit and we are proud to own a business where this spirit prevails.

Sincerely,
T. P. Duncan & Son

After that the regular 10 per cent penalty and 6 per cent interest per annum from the time the taxes became delinquent will be charged.

EXAMPLE OF SAVING

If you had $100 taxes delinquent since 1924, $106 would settle the bill if paid before the end of the present month. If the month is allowed to pass, it would require $170 to get a tax receipt, plus, of course, the usual statutory costs.

Can you afford not to take advantage of this unusual—

Many Improvements Are Being Made By Tex. Cowboy Reunion

Stamford, Texas, June 6.—The most elaborate building program undertaken in any year since the Texas Cowboy Reunion was organized in 1930 is now in progress on the Reunion grounds one mile southwest of the city. Having weathered four depression years with a remarkable yearly increase in attendance, the Reunion is now a well-established institution. Attendance last year was estimated at 42,000.

The Texas Cowboy Reunion, Incorporated, the organization responsible for the financing of the annual meeting and improvement and maintenance of the grounds, has several projects under way. Among these is a new grandstand on the east side of the rodeo arena which will increase the seating capacity 25 per cent. The new stand provides a more comfortable type of seat than the old stands. This project is to cost $1,575, and will be completed before this year's celebration, to be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, July 2, 3 and 4.

Another improvement which has been contemplated for several years and which is now under construction is a large pavilion on the grounds to serve as a place for meetings and for dances at night. The pavilion is to be 48 by 60 feet. The roof will be built of height to allow for a second floor to be built in the future. The present building will cost $1,500.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation for the kindness and sympathy shown us during the illness and death of our dear father, May God's richest blessings rest upon each of you in this world, and may you be listed with the redeemed where all the purest and best will be united in the one great family of God.

CROWELL VISITOR HAS LONG SERVICE RECORD IN UNITED STATES ARMY

Clinard W. Taylor of Barksdale Field, near Shreveport, La., who is visiting his sister, Mrs. J. E. Harwell, and family, has been in service with the U. S. Army for the past 22 years and is now staff sergeant airplane mechanic. He is enjoying a 60-day furlough and is scheduled to return to Barksdale Field on July 25.

He entered the service at Fort Logan, Colorado, in 1912 and was sent to the Philippine Islands with the field artillery. He was discharged in 1915 at San Francisco and re-enlisted in the Quartermaster corps at Fort Sam Houston, serving as chief baker until 1922. After his discharge that year, he re-enlisted in the air corps at Crissy Field, near San Francisco and has been with the air service since, having been stationed at the following army air fields: Crissy, Rockwall and March of California; Brooks, Randolph and Kelly of Texas, and Barksdale of Louisiana.

During the time when the army flew the air mail several weeks ago, Mr. Taylor was sent to Love Field, Dallas, as chief mechanic for army mail planes.

Health Department Gives Warning About Diphtheria Danger

Austin, Texas, June 6.—Make sure that your child is immune from diphtheria, warns Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer. Children need not have this disease if proper steps are taken and these are very simple.

If parents would have their family physician administer toxoid to their child as soon after it reaches the age of six months as possible, much suffering and many deaths could be prevented.

The administering of toxoid is a very simple procedure and causes the child very little or no discomfort and there is an interval of three weeks between doses. In approximately ninety per cent of the children receiving toxoid, there will be established a life time immunity to this disease.

To be sure, four to six months after the final dose of toxoid, the child should be Schick tested so

Christian Science Churches
"God the Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 10.

The Golden Text is: "Blessed be the Lord God, the God of Israel, who only doeth wondrous things" (Psalms 72:18.)
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else" (Isaiah 45:22.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Science of being repudiates self-evident impossibilities, such as amalgamation of Truth and error in cause or effect. . . There is but one primal cause. Therefore there can be no effect from any other cause, and there can be no reality in aught which does not proceed from this great and only cause" (page 207.)

RUBEN LOFTIN IN RACE FOR STATE SENATE

In announcing as a candidate for the office of State Senator for the 23rd Senatorial District which is composed of Wichita, Clay, Willbarger, Hardeman, Foard, Knox, Baylor, Young and Archer counties, I wish to say to the people of Foard County, that I appreciate very much the support that they have given me for four years in my race for this office. To those friends who so loyally supported me in that race I want to express my sincere appreciation. I believe that any man who solicits the vote and support of intelligent people for the high office of State Senator, should be able to tell the people what he stands for and what he expects to try to do when elected. On account of limited amount of space it will be necessary for me to present my platform very briefly, merely touching on the issues.

Taxation
I believe that our entire tax system should be reorganized so that those who are now escaping taxation to a greater or lesser extent should be required to pay and carry their proportionate part of the burdens of Government. I believe the lands should be relieved as much as possible, the burden of taxes that it now carries. In this connection, I believe that the Poll Tax law ought to be repealed. Many of our best citizens are disfranchised as a result of our present poll tax system.

Judicial Form
I shall favor the consolidation of a number of the departments of Government. Many of our courts can be abolished, both District and Appellate courts and a great saving to the taxpayers of the state can be made in this way. Our legal procedure should be announced so that the trial of cases could be expedited and the cost of litigation cut down. In this connection I shall favor the creation of a larger Ranger force in Texas. Although I regret to say it, our State has become the rendezvous for criminals. We should stop this, whatever the cost may be.

Schools
I shall favor maintaining the present apportionment of $16.00 per capita. I believe that every boy and girl in Texas is entitled to an opportunity to secure a fair education. I wish to further state that I am in favor of making of the University of Texas, a better

THE STORY SO FAR

Gordon, loving Page Roemer herself in marriage to Richard Morgan for fifteen dollars, the amount her father stole to give to a Helena Haddon, sophisticated woman, in love with her for Nancy, although she was nothing of the secret marriage. Mr. Gordon sells his home to continue making love to her when she finds that he has run away with her. He seeks her in the hovel of a woman whose baby is dying, and after all, and sends for her. He saves the baby's life, repudiates the help of his Helena, finding that they spent the night together in a hovel, spreads the news about town. Angie Fuller, childhood sweetheart, and Major Lomax, tries to stop her. Just then Roddy returns home—drunk. His mother sends him crazy and sends for her, who takes Roddy with her. Nancy goes to see her brother. He says, "have you been stealing?"

Mr. Gordon's face worked. "Give him another chance, Papa! Poor Rod,"

Mr. Gordon passed his other hand over his face, then he let it fall heavily on his daughter's shoulder.

"My poor girl! You ruined your life for that—that young scoundrel!"

"Roddy, we thought you would try to make good."

GO ON WITH THE STORY

"Staying?"

She did not trust herself to look up.

"Nancy Virginia," her father said at last, slowly, "I won't have this secret kept any longer—you've got to get a divorce. I'll make that follow give it to you!"

Nancy rose slowly to her feet. "He says I can have it," she told him, moving away from him. "He doesn't want me, that's all," she added with a little gasp.

She ran upstairs and shut herself in her own room. Dropping on the edge of the bed, she stared out of the window with unseeing eyes. In her pocket was a letter from Page Roemer; in it he sued for forgiveness—pleading his love. "Forgive me, trust me, I only want to serve you."

Nancy tore it in little pieces, just as Page Roemer had torn her love for him in little pieces and trampled it in the mire—when he asked her to run away with him.

Roddy, tramping in the wet meadow grass, had gotten to the bottom of his misery. "Pretty white to treat a poor devil like me so well!" he mused bitterly, with that rush of friendship for Richard that comes to a man at the end of his tether. No one had told him that he owed his freedom to Richard.

Roddy, in the rush of his friendship and gratitude to Richard, did not know how much he owed. He was tramping up and down the river meadow in the dusk when he came suddenly upon old Major Lomax.

"Eh, there!" he shouted.

Roddy stumbled. He knew the voice and it brought a rush of memory.

"It's only Rod Gordon, Major," he said in a choked voice.

The old man sat down his lantern and held out his hand.

"Come and shake hands then, sir," he said sharply. "drat it, I thought I'd caught my chicken thief!"

Red in the face, Roddy came up and shook hands. The old man swung the lantern in his face.

"Been drinking?" he asked grimly. "You look fishy, but come in—Angie hears your voice."

Roddy wanted to escape. Then he looked up and saw the girl in the lighted doorway. Before he knew it, he was holding her soft cool hands in his.

"Come in, come in," said the Major testily, "I'm playing chess tonight with Haddon, but you and Angie can talk if you've a mind to."

The Major, hanging his lantern on a hook by the door, surveyed him. "Beaver says you've given up," he remarked sharply, "going up to turn into a foot-pad, young man, or a toe-dancer—which?"

"Uncle Robert!" gasped Angie. Roddy swallowed hard. "I'm going to work here," he answered thickly. "I'm looking for a job near home this time—I'm done with New York."

"New York's done with you," corrected the Major grimly. "I'll give you a job," he said flatly, "got one in the insurance office now—twenty dollars a week to start—and no fooling. Take it, Roddy."

Roddy gasped. "I'd—like to think about it, sir."

The Major laughed shortly. Then he heard their maid-of-all-work admitting a visitor.

"There's Haddon! Did you set out the chess table, Angie? All right, then, you take this young firebrand in hand and talk sense to him." He started down the hall to meet Haddon, but threw a word back over his shoulder, "Better take it, Rod, unless you want to jockey for Polstar."

She did not trust herself to look up.

"Nancy Virginia," her father said at last, slowly, "I won't have this secret kept any longer—you've got to get a divorce. I'll make that follow give it to you!"

Roddy said nothing. "Won't you sit down, Rod?" He swung around and found her, sitting in her corner, just as she used to sit.

"Angie, I'm not fit to lace your boots!" he cried impetuously.

She was startled. "I'm so sorry uncle was rude—" she faltered, "please don't mind it, Roddy. He means to be kind."

"No one could be dreadful enough to me," said Roddy flinging himself on a low stool at her feet.

She was shocked, but her heart began to beat in her throat. He was always impetuous. He had come back to tell her—he was sorry then!

"I've done awful things," he went on, in a passion of self-abnegation. "do you remember—when I was here last? I didn't come to see you."

"Yes, I know. I saw you go by—I thought you'd forgotten."

"I had," said Roddy. "I was ashamed to remember. I'm a rotter, Angie. I'd been stealing to help a bad woman out of trouble."

The girl shrank back into her corner. It was a long while before she could speak. "I—can't believe it, Roddy, you're—why, you are a Gordon!"

He turned crimson. She had touched the tenderest spot about him.

"I stole fifteen thousand dollars from the trust company, Angie. I ought to be in jail," he went on, pouring it all out in a molten stream of passionate regret and repentance. "My sister helped me. Nance borrowed the money and kept me out of jail! A girl, Angie! I'm a rotter—I let her do it."

Angie's quick gasp escaped him. He was too much wrapped up in himself to perceive that he had given a key to a mystery. Richard had money—could Nancy have come to him?

"I—I'm so glad you didn't go to jail!" she gasped, and then: "Rod, you ought to have gone. We ought to pay for what we do—ourselves."

He caught her hand and held it feverishly; he had forgotten his hatred of the sex.

"You don't despise me—for it?" he asked huskily.

She shook her head. Then, suddenly, without warning, she burst into tears. Her tears melted Roddy; he felt a rush of self pity as great as her pity for him.

"Oh, Roddy!" sighed the girl meltingly, and before she knew it her soft fingers touched his brown hair with shy fondness. "Oh, Rod, there was a woman, you said—"

"I hate her!" he vowed, "I was a fool, Angie. She fooled me. She begged for help for her old father—"

"—oh, a touchy story—and she said she'd return it. I—I thought I could myself. Then I found out she was married," he blazed.

Angie dried her tears angrily. "She ought to have gone to jail!"

"New York's done with you," corrected the Major grimly.

"That's what Nance thinks," he admitted a little sheepishly, then, abruptly, he kissed Angie's hand.

"Roddy, you're going to work here? You'll—"

"You'll take Uncle Robert's offer?"

He rose slowly and began to walk up and down, with the same picturesque melancholy. "I think I'll ask Richard, you see Richard took me in—drunk—and took care of me."

Roddy's voice choked, "pretty white, wasn't it? I'm grateful to Richard."

"Grateful?" Angie sprang up, her face crimson. "you've no reason to be grateful to Richard Morgan!" she cried impetuously, "no reason in the world!"

Roddy caught the change in her tone, and he saw the anger in her face. He stood still, with a shock of surprise.

"What do you mean, Angie?" "Don't be grateful to that man!" she answered furiously, "that's all—I can't tell you why, but let him alone, Rod!"

"Richard Morgan? Why? I don't understand—tell me, Angie." She drew back at that, she saw the look on his face and suddenly remembered. If she told Nancy's brother the story that was going the rounds, the story that linked Nancy's name with Morgan's, Roddy would go to Richard and demand satisfaction. He would have to go—and it would mean death! The girl began to tremble; she had been a fool, what could she say?

"I entered the bedroom contest because I was anxious to have a bedroom of my very own. I wanted it arranged to suit myself," says Geraldine Rhea, bedroom demonstrator for the West Rayland 4-H Club. Geraldine took a seldom used room of the house and converted it into the prize winning bedroom of the county. At the beginning of the demonstration the room contained a dresser which was placed across one corner of the room, a writing desk used for doll clothes, school supplies and

Vivian Girl Made Nice Bedroom From Old Storage Room

A storage room converted into an attractive bedroom was the work of Melba Lee Blair, bedroom demonstrator for the Vivian 4-H Club. Melba Lee's first job was to repair the ceiling which had fallen in and then to build in a closet. A door was moved from one corner of the room and the closet built in out of sheet rock. The old paper was torn from the walls, they were canvassed with old sheets and repapered. The floor was given a coat of dark varnish.

An old dresser was secured at a second hand store, the paint removed and enameled with ivory. An iron bed was painted to match the dresser. A desk and chair were painted to match the others. Color was introduced in the room by the figures in the wall paper and in the orchid bedspread and orchid ruffles on the cream colored curtains.

Melba plans to continue her work of improvement by assisting her mother with other rooms of the house.

Texas Centennial

On Tuesday, May 22, the writer, who was chairman of the committee appointed by the American Legion for that purpose, announced the selection of Pompeo Coppini as the sculptor who will make the model for the coin to be minted under the Connally-Patman Bill in commemoration of the Centennial of Texas Independence. These coins are to be 50c pieces and 1,500,000 of them are to be minted and sold by the Texas Centennial Commission for $1 each in order to raise the necessary funds to erect a suitable building to hold the historical relics of Texas and create a Texas Museum. The design submitted by Coppini to the committee on design was unanimously accepted and arrangements were completed that day for the coining of the commemorative pieces. Coppini and his work are widely known and especially in Texas for he is the creator of the War Memorial Fountain on the University of Texas Campus, the statue of the Texas Ranger on the Capitol grounds and numerous works in and around the capitol of Texas. Coppini is the holder of a grand prize for an exhibition at Bologna, Italy, is a member of the Rotary International and the National Arts Club, and has been decorated by the crown of Italy.

Oil

The proposed bills for the Federal Control of the Oil Industry have been receiving much attention in Washington during the week of May 21-26. Due to the hot oil being produced, the independent operators of the Southwest have become seriously alarmed over the possibility of the return of the 25c oil of a year ago. With the introduction of the Thomas Bill for the Federal Control of the industry, independent operators throughout the Southwest realized that perhaps here was a method of forestalling the demoralization of last summer and when the President endorsed the purpose of the bill and placed it on his "must" list the chances of the enactment of such legislation became much greater. Enthusiastic representatives of several thousand independent operators have been in Washington working hard for the immediate passage of such a measure. Among these were W. B. Hamilton of Wichita Falls, representing the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the North Texas Oil and Gas Association; Joe Pearson of Corsicana, E. L. Smith of Mexia, Carl Estes of Tyler, and Cecil Storey of Longview, all representing the East Texas Chamber of Commerce; W. Fred Weeks of Tyler representing the Texas Petroleum Council; Judge C. L. Richards and Malcolm Crim of Kilgore representing the Landowners Association; and various others for other organizations in both Texas and other oil producing states. The hearings before the Senate Mines and Mining Committee were concluded on Thursday and according to Senator Logan, the Chairman, the committee gave its general approval although a formal vote was postponed until Monday, May 28. The fate of the bill now rests to a large extent with the House In-

"REMEMBER GIRLS
.. I must leave at 4
to cook supper ..."

"Goodness, Evelyn," says Rose, "when will you ever make up your mind to get an Electric Range? We girls also have to have 6:30 suppers, but it's no problem at all with automatic cooking. We just put the entire meal in the oven before going out, set the clock control, and supper is being cooked while we play. The same control automatically turns off the current when the cooking process should stop, and the insulated oven retains sufficient heat to keep the food tender and piping hot to serve when we want it."

"Don't say you can't afford one. Really, it's so economical. Costs less than a penny per person, per meal, to operate, and you can buy one on a small down payment and easy terms. I wouldn't be without one, would you girls?"

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule... and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

PUPILS OF MRS. SAM CREWS PRESENTED IN RECITAL

A solo piano program was presented by several pupils of Mrs. Sam Crews' music class at her home on last Friday, at 4 o'clock. The greater part of the numbers were given in costume. These piano pupils appeared entirely at ease and posture and technique were also emphasized. The following were presented at this recital: Mary Kathrine McMillan, Miriam Turrentine, Edward Turrentine, Virginia Thomas, Juanita Brown, Billy Brown, James Victor Allen, Laura Belle Whitfield, Helen Harwell, Mary Jane Turrentine and Mary Elizabeth Hughston. Parents of the pupils and a few invited guests were present and were appreciative of the attainments of the participants and of their instructor. A pleasing finale to the occasion was a plate of home-made ice cream and cake.

Marjorie Schooley and Bill Middleton Married Wednesday

Miss Marjorie Schooley became the wife of Bill Middleton Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock in a quiet home wedding at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Schooley. The ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Paul J. Merrill, pastor of the local Christian Church. Others present for the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Schooley and son, Albert, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Graves and daughter, Larue, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Walker, and Mrs. F. A. Davis. The home was decorated in cut flowers.

The bride was born and raised in this city and was a member of the Junior class in Crowell High School during the past year. She became "Miss Crowell" in 1933 by winning first place in a beauty contest conducted at the Rialto Theatre. Mr. Middleton was an outstanding athlete in Crowell High School lettering four years each in football and basketball. He was also on the C. H. S. track squad two years. Leaving Crowell at mid-term in 1933, he graduated the same year from Morgan Mills High School, where he was also a member of the track squad. He is a brother of Mrs. I. T. Graves of this city and during the greater part of the past ten years, he has lived in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Graves, living with them at Kirkland before they came to Crowell in 1927. He was born at Morgan Mills. Mr. Middleton is now employed at the local Phillips "96" Station. He and his bride are now making their home at the Schooley residence.

Through a stretch of the imagination, it seems that our good friends, staff members of the Paducah Post, have been able to shrink the distance from Paducah to the Johnson No. 4 oil well in Foard County.

Two weeks ago an article in The Post said the well was 15 miles south of Paducah. Last week The Post admitted that the well was also east of Paducah, but that it was still 15 miles away.

Last Sunday we had the opportunity of driving over the Paducah road to the field and the distance measured exactly 22.8 miles from the gas plant to the court house square.

Birthday of Foard County's Earliest Settler Celebrated; Talk With Sul Ross About Cynthia Ann Parker Discussed

The News was delighted to have John Wesley of Margaret, Foard's earliest settler, as a visitor last Saturday. In company with his grandson, Gordon Taylor, Mr. Wesley had just recently returned from Oklahoma City, where he visited his wife, who has been ill there for several months in the home of a daughter. Mr. Wesley reported that his wife had improved considerably.

Mr. Wesley became 93 years of age on May 18 and his birthday was appropriately celebrated in the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. M. Pollock of Oklahoma City, with over 30 relatives present, including three daughters, Mrs. Joe McGill and Mrs. Pollock of Oklahoma City, and Mrs. W. H. Grimm of Guymon, Okla.

While at The News office Mr. Wesley secured extra copies of the

The distance over the main road from Crowell court house square to the plant is almost exactly 22 miles and by turning off the pavement over a mile nearer Crowell, the distance is 21.5 miles.

It is now in order for the Quanah Tribune-Chief to move the gas plant several miles north of Quanah.

The Month of May

While most every month claims some important historical dates, the month of May is no exception from a local standpoint.

May 19 was the day that Cynthia Ann Parker was recaptured from the Indians on Mule Creek.

May 18 is the birthday of Foard's earliest settler, John Wesley, of Margaret.

May 12 is the birthday of Mrs. N. A. Crowell. It was for her husband that the City of Crowell was named.

May 9, 1930, was the date that pavement was officially opened that gave Crowell its first concrete highway connection with the outside world.

May 2 is the birthday of the late Joe W. Beverly, who justly held the unofficial title of "Foard County Historian" during his long residence here.

There may be other important events from a local standpoint that claim May as their month, but right now we do not know of them. Feb. 12 and April 27 will always stand out as two of the county's most important dates, for Foard County was created by an act of the Legislature on Feb. 12, 1891, and was officially organized on April 27 of the same year. Sept. 27, 1908, marked the arrival of the first passenger train in Crowell.

Boy Graduates Increase

A few weeks ago we commented that it was rather unusual that Crowell High School had more boys than girls in its graduating class. Now in reading accounts of graduation in other papers, we find that the boys outnumber girls in graduating classes of many high schools.

Evidently the depression contributed to this situation for it really held sway during the high school careers of the present crop of graduates and little opportunity was offered the male membership of the high school classes to get school because of chances to quit good jobs, as the case had often been in years past.

Gasoline Pump Census

To the best of our knowledge there are 73 filling station type pumps of gasoline pumps that are now standing in Crowell. Some, however, are not in use. We estimate that Crowell has one gasoline pump to every five and one-half automobiles in this city.

We have heard that statement about how you could sleep in a different hotel in New York each night for years and years and that it, which reminds us that it would take about a year or more for the average local motorist to fill up each time that it was necessary from a different local pump. However, the above reference is not made to convey the impression that Crowell shares any of New York's metropolitan atmosphere.

Our inspiration to check up on the local gas pump situation was gained one night when we tried counting Crowell gas pumps instead of sheep in an effort to get sleep. Incidentally the plan worked pretty well, and we got to sleep somewhere between the Quick Service Station and Falls Independent after starting the count on the west end of town.

Truscott Methodist Church

The following services are announced for Sunday, June 10, 1934: Sunday school at 10 a. m., S. E. Mills Supt. Classes to the needs of all ages. Preaching at 11 a. m. by the pastor.

There will be a "Church Day," program rendered at evening service at 8:30. The theme of this program is, "The Church From the Past."

Special music will be rendered by Miss Virginia Browder, Maddox, Mrs. Virginia Browder, Elizabeth Young, and H. B. Maddox. The Junior Department of the Sunday School will also take part on this program. There will be brief talks on "Methodism Part In Early Sunday School Movement," by Miss Irene Maddox; "The Story of the Cross," by Myrna Burton; "The Christian Flag," by the Department; "Development of Southern Methodist Sunday School in the Past Fifty Years," by Ley Chiloat. "The Presentation of the History of Our Own Church and Church School History," Mrs. T. B. Masterson.

The opening day of the Vacation Bible School will be Monday, June 11, at 1:30 p. m. The sessions will run for two and three-quarters hours a day for 2 weeks or until June 15. All boys and girls from the age of 5 to 14 years of age are cordially invited to attend. Every boy and girl entering on first day, June 11, so as to get the greatest benefit that this school has to offer. This school will be held in the Methodist Church. The faculty consists of a selected group of teachers representing all churches in town.

The Methodist Church cordially invites you to all of its services. Its doors are open to all who are weary and need rest to those who are discouraged need comfort, and to all those who need a Saviour in the name of Christ we most earnestly greet you. "You are Welcome." O. C. STAPLETON
