GRADY GRAVES SIGNS 2-YEAR CHS CONTRACT

Grady Graves, Crowell High School football and basketball coach since 1927, signed a contract to continue as the local coach for two more years following a meeting of the Crowell school board Tuesday night.

This action removed the prospects of the Wildcat mentor going to Altus Junior College at Altus, Okla., where he and two Oklahomans, Hap Briscoe and Frank Crider, were the three men being seriously considered by the Altus college officials for the head coaching position at that institution.

During the eight years that Graves has coached in Crowell, his high school Wildcats have achieved one of the greatest athletic records of any Class B high school in West Texas.

In football his teams have played 83 games, winning 57, losing 21 and tying 5. For the past two seasons the Wildcats have been district and bi-district grid champions. They achieved their greatest success in the 1934 season by winning the regional championship, the Class B limit. Before winning a district title, the Wildcats were runners-up for two years in the district, 1931 and 1932.

During Coach Graves service here, his basketball teams have played 210 games, winning 182 and losing 28. They have won the championship of their district for the past five years. In 1933 they were quarter-finalists at the state finals in Austin. Numerous invitation basketball tournaments have also been won during this period.

This May Interest You—and Maybe Not! But Read It Anyhow

The subscription list of The Foard County News is now larger than ever before in the history of this publication, which has served this county since the year of its organization, 1891.

Not only is the list larger, but it is also "cleaner" than it has been in many years. Practically all of the old subscribers took advantage of the bargain rates, which came to an end Monday, and now have their expiration dates marked up several months to over a year ahead on their subscriptions.

Besides the fine renewal record, many new subscribers were added during the bargain season, which was one of the most successful ever conducted by The News. Around 1,200 papers are now published each week. Multiply this by five and you have 6,000, a fairly conservative estimate of the number of people reached by The News each week.

The News staff is especially proud of the success that attended the subscription season. Without special solicitors and without premiums or other special inducements, the people of this area have responded with renewals and new subscriptions in a manner that really exceeded our most optimistic expectations.

Naturally, this makes us feel sure that the best method of keeping your old subscribers and to continually add new ones is to simply "work like the dickens" in trying to improve the paper from week to week—and then offer a bargain subscription rate that is fair to all concerned. In this case it was $1.50 per year.

Throughout the depression we strove to improve The News, instead of following the course taken by scores of other publishers in cutting out features and reducing the size of their papers. We did this, feeling that when business conditions finally picked up that our newspaper business would recover much faster than it would, had we reduced the interest of subscribers and advertisers by taking numerous courses to reduce expenses. Evidently, we guessed correctly—judging by subscriber interest.

We believe the depression has taught people to depend more upon their home newspapers. People have always been interested in good live local news, but now they are more interested than ever before in opportunities to save money on needed merchandise and they have found that newspaper ads offer the best and most convenient method of locating bargains.

And advertisers are realizing this fact more and more all the time. Some do not. (Readers, you may skip the next paragraph or so if you wish, for they form a confidential message to irregular and non-advertisers in your home paper.) . . . Mr. Business Man, think this over: Hundreds of your potential customers have invited The News to come to their homes each week. They want it and have paid cash to see that it reaches them. They not only want it to keep up with local news, but also for its service as an advertising medium.

Yes, it is a cherished and INVITED member of the family circle. It is ordered and is not an unwelcome intruder on the premises. Can you say this about "Printed in Dallas" circulars? Haven't you waded ankle deep in circulars at the post office that have been disgustingly thrown to the floor by persons removing these "intruders" from their boxes? And when, if ever, have you seen your home paper on the post office floor or in the post office waste basket?

Why not place your message in the publication that is sought by each member of the family—yes, and even borrowed by the neighbors—instead of a circular or handbill that will be tossed aside by the first person it reaches? It will be convenient and economical for you and will reach prospective customers in a manner that will be appreciated by them instead of irritating them.

And now . . . some sincere remarks to our subscribers: We greatly appreciate your splendid interest and co-operation and again we promise to do everything possible to give you a paper that will be of real value to you and your county.

The news columns of this paper belong to you as much as they do to anyone else. In helping to make this publication more interesting for yourself and others, let us know of any news that comes to your attention that would be of interest to others.

Most sincerely,
THE NEWS STAFF

Arrests Made Sunday In Connection With Theft of Four Mules

Charged with the theft of four mules from L. D. Fox at his farm north of Crowell on the night of Feb. 21, M. L. Gover of Crowell waived examining trial before Justice of the Peace J. W. Klepper Wednesday afternoon to await the action of the grand jury at the May term of district court in Crowell. He was released from the county jail after making the $1,000 bond set by Justice Klepper.

Gover and Jim Parker of Burk Burnett were arrested in Vernon last Sunday evening by Wilbarger County officers. Parker was released Wednesday afternoon after charges against him were dismissed by Mr. Klepper. Following the arrest of the two, Sheriff R. J. Thomas and L. D. Fox of Crowell who were in Vernon at the time, returned to Crowell with Gover, who was placed in the local jail. Parker was brought here the next day.

Sheriff Thomas and Mr. Fox drove to McKinney Monday and found that the mules had been sold there. The original buyer had made a partial payment of only fifty dollars on the mules and had sold three of them to Collin County farmers and one to a Memphis, Tenn., buyer. Mr. Fox was paid in full for the mules by the buyers.

Although Mr. Fox missed his mules Thursday, Feb. 21, he felt that they had strayed and did not report their loss until the following Monday. Investigation at that time revealed that the mules had been carried away in a truck. A search followed that carried Sheriff Thomas and Mr. Fox to various points, including the South Plains, Panhandle, Oklahoma, Fort Worth and finally to McKinney.

Schools that have already indicated that they will compete in one-act play this year are: Childress and Carey of Childress county; Quannah and Chillicothe of Hardeman; Crowell of Foard; Silverton of Briscoe; Ogden of Cottle; Memphis, Turkey and Estelline of Hall.

The county winners will compete in the district tournament here and the following week the district winner will compete in the Region No. 1 tourney at Canyon for the right to enter the state finals at Austin.

A. at tables arranged in the form of a "U," made attractive with cut flowers and other decorations carrying out the University's colors, gold and white. President Bragg served as toastmaster.

Following the address of welcome by Merl Kincaid, two vocal numbers were given by Miss Jo Griffith with Mrs. W. M. Bralley of Thalia as accompanist, who also accompanied Wanda B. Cobb in a tap dance presentation.

A novelty piano arrangement of "The Eyes of Texas" by Mrs. Bralley preceded a reading by Miss Peggy Cooper.

"I appreciate the past support and co-operation given me and trust it has been justified by the service that I have rendered," Mr. Schlagal concluded.

"HUEY LONG"

Washington, March 6. (Auto-caster) — Ask anybody in Washington who is the outstanding figure here today and more than half will reply: "Huey Long." The Senator from Louisiana fills the public and political eye almost as completely as President Roosevelt did two years ago. For Senator Long is responsible for the first important defeat the President has experienced since he took office.

That was on the President's "work relief" bill, carrying $4,880,000,000 to be spent as the President pleases. The issue was the proposed amendment to direct that the prevailing rate of wages must be paid on all public works under this appropriation, although the President had stated that to do that would utterly destroy the whole project. Huey Long led and directed the fight in the Senate which resulted in the adoption of the amendment by a majority of one vote.

That, for the moment at least, puts Huey Long in top position in the political eye. To be sure, he had powerful weapons to play with in his fight against the bill. The most powerful was the organized labor lobby, which is bitterly opposed to the President's plan to employ men at "subsistence wages" on public works, instead of the "prevailing rate." Another was the honest feeling of a good many Democrats that it was not wise to put the practically unlimited power which this bill carries into the hands of one man, who had not even told Congress where, when and how he proposed to spend the money.

Discuss Compromise Measure

Senator Byrnes of South Carolina, who is supposed to be in the confidence of the President, said after the vote that the whole plan to substitute work relief for the dole is dead. That does not necessarily follow. The outlook is that the Senate will reconsider its action, but at the same time, as this is written, all sorts of compromise measures are being discussed.

The important fact is that the President's word is no longer unquestioned law on Capitol Hill, and that Huey Long has proved himself a master of political strategy, perhaps as skillful as the President himself, who has heretofore been regarded by experienced political observers in Washington as the most able political manipulator seen here in a generation or more.

The necessity of "doing something" to curb Senator Long is becoming a fixed idea in Administration circles. The belief is growing that he can either head a third party next year, or dictate the Democratic party nominee—who would not be Mr. Roosevelt, if Huey had his way. He privately calls the President names, publicly opposes his policies, and is now waging a bitter war on Postmaster General Farley. At the Executive end of Pennsylvania Avenue Senator Long, who was first looked on only as a joke, then for a while only as a nuisance, is now being regarded as a menace.

The Pension Mess

The Old Age Pension project seems certain to be divorced from the unemployment insurance plan. The bill as submitted to Congress was a mass of unrelated items, but what Southern members are pointing to as the worst feature of the Old Age scheme is that it would pauperize the Southern Negroes. It can't be drawn, under the Constitution, to apply to white folks alone.

It is said by some Southern members that if every Negro over 65 got as much as $30 a month old age pension, his children and grandchildren would quit their jobs and come to live with the old folks, and there wouldn't be any labor left for the cottonfields. That may be an exaggeration, and probably is, but it may result in killing the Old Age pension scheme in a Congress in which Southern members dominate.

Only one major bill has been enacted by this Congress after nearly two months. That is the one enlarging the powers of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. All other major legislation seems to be dammed up behind the work relief bill, with the bitterness of organized labor against the Administration growing more apparent every day. The proposal to extend NRA for two years, made by the President, will not get consideration for another two or three months, in all likelihood.

Mid-Term Feelings

Even the President's friends are a bit concerned over the ineptness of some of the men upon whom he relies for political maneuvering. Too many have undertaken to speak for the President, with the result that several Senators who have been regarded as his friends consider that they have either been insulted or slighted.

Many members of both Houses are complaining that they have not been getting their share of patronage. No previous Administration ever worked as hard and as fast to get members of the opposition party out of their jobs and fill all the places with its own political supporters, but the Postmaster General, in his capacity as Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, is charged with paying more attention to the recommendations of the party leaders back in the States than to the Senators and Representatives in Congress.

The items below were taken in whole or in part from the issues of The Foard County News of March 4-11, 1910.

George Hinds left last week for Waco to attend Hill's Business College.

Fifteen Automobiles Here

There are now 15 automobiles in Crowell, and we are glad there are so many. We wish there were a hundred, for the man who rides in an auto is, without exception, in favor of better roads.

We hope the auto has come to stay, until we at least have built up good roads. If good roads are the result of the introduction of the auto, the public should feel very well paid for the fright their terms have often shown at their appearance.

The following from Crowell bought new machines at Dallas last week: J. W. Allison, W. B. Bell, G. A. Burks, J. W. Gimmell, Dr. J. M. Hill, Major Johnson, C. P. Sandifer, J. H. Self and B. W. Self. Six Overlands and three Fords were bought by them. The Overlands and one Ford came through the country, while the other two were to be shipped.

The party arrived Monday about noon, giving account of a pleasant trip with their machines, although they encountered some mud.

Ten years from today we shall witness startling results of scientific methods of agriculture. Keep the boys on the farm.

Light Plant Franchise

Crowell will have a light plant sometime in the near future. C. L. Rucker of Sweetwater met with the city council Tuesday and submitted a proposition, at the same time, securing a franchise from the city to put in the plant.

With the full intention of going to work at this business in the immediate future, Mr. Rucker purchased a site for the plant, and is now taking the necessary steps looking to that end. He is not merely making an investment for the profit alone from the business. He will move his family here and become one of our citizens. Mr. Rucker is thoroughly experienced in this business and we believe that the light proposition, so far as Crowell is concerned, has been well disposed of. He conducted one of the finest light plants to be found at DeLeon.

The foundation is being laid for a new modern dwelling for J. F. Cheek.

There will be Socialist speakings over the county next week and at the court house at 3 p. m., March 12.

Texas Press Plans "Centennial Special" Through Old South

Corsicana, Texas, March 5.—(Special)—Plans for a major publicity project in behalf of the Texas Centennial—the operation of the "Centennial Special" train through the Old South under auspices of the Texas Press Association, are nearing completion.

Carrying about 150 Texas editors, publishers, public officials and business men and women, the "Centennial Special" will visit 14 Southern States, leaving from Houston on April 25, will visit Washington for two days and will return to Texas, via Little Rock, Ark., arriving at Dallas where the train will disband on May 4.

Following is the tentative route: Houston—New Orleans, Birmingham, Montgomery, Jacksonville, Savannah, Columbia, Raleigh, Richmond, Washington, Charlotte, Atlanta, Chattanooga, Nashville, Memphis, Little Rock and Dallas.

"The trip offers an opportunity for any Texan to enjoy a wonderful vacation trip, seeing one of the most beautiful scenic sections of the United States when it is at its most beautiful, in the spring, and at the same time, render a real service by helping to advertise Texas and the Centennial," said Martin. "A remarkably low all-expense rate has been arranged by the Press Association with the participating railroads, and for the first time in history, women are invited on such a trip."

TRUCK OPERATORS NOW RE-REGISTERING UNDER NATIONAL TRUCK CODE

Austin, March 4.—More than 3,000 operators of 6,000 trucks in Texas are now re-registering their vehicles under the trucking code in the new code year, which has just begun.

Registration forms and other materials have been sent to every known for-hire operator in Texas. For the entire country, approximately 190,000 operators of about 300,000 vehicles pooled their efforts under the code during the initial period.

Registrations, however, in both Texas and the entire country, were in progress only a little over eight months, since the actual work did not begin until late in May, 1934. President Roosevelt

State One-Act Play Contest Has 483 Schools Enrolled

Austin, Texas, March 6.—A total of 483 schools have enrolled in the one-act play tournament of the Interscholastic League this year, as compared with 346 last year, according to Morton Brown, dramatics director of the University of Texas Bureau of Public School Interests, which serves as the State executive office for the League.

Through a series of elimination contests in the county, district and region, the contestants will be narrowed down to eight casts. These will participate in the State tournament to be held in Austin during the State Meet of the League in May.

"For the most part, casts which reach the finals are seasoned troupers, quiet, business-like in their preparations, and with a back-stage discipline which would do credit to professionals," Mr. Brown said. "In the finals each year, we find a fine spirit of sportsmanship among the contestants. They are becoming better losers year by year."

Col. Harry E. Stewart of Dallas, chairman of the Texas State Code Authority, which has main offices at 702 Scarbrough Building, Austin, today predicted that progress under the Code would be speeded up considerably in the new year.

"Just beginning to feel their own strength after a year's experience at self-regulation, the truckmen of Texas expect to make greater headway under the Code in the new year," Col. Stewart declared.

CHS WINS OVER AMARILLO HI; LOSE TO PAMPA

Defeating Amarillo in one game and losing two contests to Pampa by two-point margins, the Crowell High Wildcats took third place in the Region No. 1 basketball tournament at Canyon on Friday and Saturday. Lamesa's Tornados repeated as regional champions by defeating Pampa 41 to 28 in the final game.

In the initial game of the tourney, the Harvesters of Pampa came from behind in the last three minutes of play and defeated Crowell 29 to 27. The Wildcats had been in the lead at the conclusion of each previous period.

As a result of Amarillo's loss to Lamesa in the initial game for these two teams, the two losers, Crowell and Amarillo, met Friday night with Crowell winning 28 to 21. Lamesa beat Pampa Friday night 32 to 24.

Under the double elimination plan used at the tourney, Crowell and Pampa clashed again Saturday morning for the right to meet Lamesa in the championship game Saturday night.

Second Pampa Game

Again the Wildcats' three-quarter complex that has proven Crowell's worst jinx this season, asserted itself. Leading 12 to 9 at the half, Crowell lost this lead in the third quarter when the Harvesters scored 13 points to the Wildcats' 2.

Crowell scored 6 points in the last quarter and held Pampa scoreless with the result that the game ended 22 to 20 in favor of Pampa. The Wildcats barely missed several goals in the final period that would have tied the score.

Sam Houston Tree Dedicated Monday Morning at CHS

A pecan tree grown from pecans from a tree planted by Sam Houston on the old Houston homestead at Huntsville was dedicated on the Crowell High School grounds Monday morning. The tree was secured through the efforts of Mrs. N. J. Roberts, local Texas Centennial chairman, and was planted about two weeks ago by the agricultural class of the high school.

An appropriate dedication program was conducted in the auditorium with Ray Thomas in charge. The agricultural class participated in the program which included the following numbers:

Invocation—Rev. O. B. Darby of Eastland.

"Sam Houston"—Mary Byrl Bell.

"Get Acquainted with Texas"—Dorothy McKown.

"Letters of Sam Houston"—Lois Evelyn Norris.

"Mementos of Houston"—Mary Louise Adams.

"The Pledge of Texas"—Ruth Ferguson.

"Trees"—J. C. Ross.

Mrs. Roberts gave an interesting talk on "The Historic Trees of Texas." She stated that Governor Hogg requested that when he died, instead of a monument being placed at his grave, that a pecan tree be planted upon it and that the fruit from that tree be scattered over the state for planting.

An effort is being made to secure one of these trees for the local school grounds.

The program was closed with the assembly singing "The Eyes of Texas."

Taylor Named On All-Region Team

Garland Taylor of Crowell was named on the "all-region" basketball team selected by coaches, officials and sports writers who saw every game of the Region No. 1 tournament at Canyon on Friday and Saturday. Three Crowell players were named on the second team.

Players selected on the two teams were:

First Team: Forwards—Taylor of Crowell and J. R. Green of Pampa.

Center—Harrell of Lamesa. Guards—Jordan of Amarillo and Dunaway of Pampa.

Second Team: Forwards—Middlebrook of Crowell and Boswell of Lamesa. Center—Russell of Crowell. Guards—Dunn of Crowell and Harlow of Amarillo.

HAVE YOU PAID YOUR CITY TAXES?

No Penalty Whatever on 1934 and BACK TAXES IF PAID BEFORE

March 19

CONSIDER THESE FACTS

The City of Crowell has never borrowed any money and all that it owes is on its bonded indebtedness. This record has resulted from cutting expenses to the very minimum and careful management of the city's affairs.

MR. TAXPAYER, we have done everything within our power to operate the city's business economically and efficiently and believe that our success in this respect certainly warrants better support on the part of our taxpayers.

City tax payments for the past few years have been less in proportion to the total on the rolls than has been the case with other local tax payments.

City Tax Payments Are Needed

—and needed badly. Help your city and SAVE MONEY by paying your city taxes while you can yet do so without any penalty whatever.

Over 28,000 Sign Corn-Hog Contracts For 1935 in Texas

College Station.—Twenty-eight thousand Texas farmers have signed the new 1935 corn-hog adjustment contract, it was announced here today by E. M. Reizenbrecht, Extension Swine Specialist.

This is an increase of more than 25 per cent of signers over last year.

"The progress of the 1935 sign-up is gratifying," Reizenbrecht declared. "Much of the increase, in signing the contracts, is due to the new liberal regulations of the contract. The increase is particularly noticeable in the 'Black Lands.' Corn-hog farmers may now receive payment from the government by retiring a part of their corn crops and at the same time plant an unlimited amount of other feed crops such as oats, barley or other feed grains.

"Also," he added, "this year the government has raised the ante on payment. Thirty-five cents a bushel will be paid for the corn, an increase of five cents a bushel over last year."

Each county is allowed to set its own deadline on the signing of the contracts. Reports show that the majority of the counties have set closing dates as between March 1 and March 15.

A report from Dr. A. G. Black, chief of the administration's corn-hog section at Washington, D. C., states that more than 450,000 farmers of the Corn Belt and other states throughout the nation have signed applications for the 1935 contracts.

This estimate was based on reports from Extension directors in the major corn and hog growing states.

FORMER FOARD RESIDENT WRITES FROM LYNN CO.

The News had an interesting letter last week from Tom Johnson of Wilson, Texas, brother of A. L. Johnson of Crowell, and former resident of Foard County for 39 years. He moved from this county in 1928 and bought a farm from the C. W. Post Estate in Lynn County where he has resided since. Judging from his letter he is well pleased with the country with the exception of the sandstorms. He says they have good water and raise and can plenty of vegetables and meat products to live at home. He and his family cultivate about 250 acres of land with two-row implements.

Mr. Johnson is the son of the late V. T. Johnson, one of the early pioneers of this county.

Increasing Number Dying From Cancer Each Year in Texas

Austin, Texas, March 7.—The definite increase in the number of persons dying from cancer makes the subject of tumors a timely one. A tumor is a mass of new tissue which is of no use whatever to the body. If tumors or their manifestations were more generally appreciated, much of the misery and many deaths could be eliminated, stated Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

The malignant tumor known as cancer may consist, as in the case of benign tumors, of any bodily structures such as fat, bone, connective tissue, superficial layer of the skin, mucous membrane and bodily organs. They grow rapidly and may establish secondary growths far from the site of the parent tumor by means of detached cells traveling in the blood or invading the lymphatics.

Where benign tumors are concerned surgical removal usually results in permanent cure. However, in cancerous tumors surgery or irradiation (X-ray and radium) or a combination of the two, to be effective depends upon early diagnosis and prompt professional action.

While a number of cancerous growths unfortunately do not present early symptoms, many of the more common ones do. It is the deliberate or ignorant disregard of such early symptoms that has so decidedly occasioned the increase in cancer deaths.

The outstanding signals which justify a suspicion that cancer may be present, though not necessarily so, are: any lump; any unexplained bleeding from any bodily opening; a persistent sore; and chronic indigestion.

To disregard these signs, which may mean cancer in an early and therefore curable stage, is to flirt with death. Most certainly it does not pay to take any chance with any kind of a tumor or manifesta-

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

by Charles E. Dunn

Peter Preaches to Gentiles.
Lesson for March 10th. Acts 10:34-48.
Golden Text: Acts 10:34, 35.

The story of the Gentle Cornelius brought to the Master by the Jewish Peter is most fascinating. Cornelius was almost the first, if not actually the first, Gentile convert. He had never seen Jesus in the flesh, and was nurtured in a distinctly Roman atmosphere. But out from the grey light of paganism he first walked into the brighter rays of Judaism, becoming a proselyte, or God-fearer, who observed the three primal laws of Jewish piety, alms, pray-

... the first line of which reads, "The Holy Bible," and which contains Four Great Treasures

by BRUCE BARTON

THE HEART OF DAVID

We know that David solidified his kingdom and made it respected among the powerful nations of that part of the world. Let us pass by, then, the record of his official life and touch on two incidents that reveal his heart. It was after one of the great battles with the Philistines when his little force was surrounded, cut off from supplies and even from water, that David, worn out and thirsty, thought of the clear water in his father's well which had cooled his lips in boyhood. His parched throat yearned for it.

Bruce Barton

And David longed, and said, Oh that one would give me drink of the water of the well of Bethlehem, which is by the gate!

And the three mighty men brake through the host of the Philistines, and drew water out of the well of Bethlehem, that was by the gate, and took it, and brought it to David; nevertheless he would not drink thereof, but poured it out unto the Lord.

And he said, Be it far from me, O Lord, that I should do this: is not this the blood of the men that went in jeopardy of their lives? therefore he would not drink it.

It is easy to understand why men worshipped a leader like that.

The other incident occurred in the campaign against his son Absalom, the boy whom he loved more than all the world and who repaid his love by organizing a revolt and attempting to seize the throne. David gave orders that the boy was under no circumstances to be killed, but the zeal of a professional soldier was not to be curbed by such an order, and word was brought to the king that Absalom was dead. The revolt was broken, his throne was safe, he could go back to the security of the palace, but it all meant nothing. The feelings of the monarch were swallowed up in the heart-breaking anguish of the father.

O my son Absalom, my son, my son Absalom! would God I had died for thee, O Absalom, my son, my son!

Perhaps the most poignant cry in history from a father's bleeding heart.

The faults of David are set forth none the less clearly than his virtues; we feel the reality of him in every line. Yet no catalogue of his shortcomings can hide his essential greatness. He was a genius in war, in administration and in literature. He organized a government that lasted more than four centuries as a single dynasty and which lived as an ideal through thirty centuries.

SLUMBERING GOLD

By Aubrey Boyd

Third Installment

PROPSIS: On the old sider "George E. Starr," on its first rush of '37. Speed Maitland experienced gold-camp folk and gambler, and young Ed land, on his first trip, trying to scoop his lost family fortune, took up a strong friendship, and left Speed playing Solo two other men and wandered around, to be sharply recalled by report of a pistol and the news his partner had been shot had gone over board. Ed landed in after him, without second thought. But the cold waters him, and in the end it was d who did the rescuing, holding his head above water until were taken aboard a little by a French fisherman from the. The big ship went on out them.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

Frenchy raised his eyes, folded arms, unfolded them and burst a geyser of language which, the activity of his arms signifying anything, was far from pious, when the torrent subsided, he grinned. He drew from his et five double-eagles, and ped them on the table. ere's a hundred dollars bein' to me and my pardner. Now does I up and do but gamble gold pieces"—he stacked five gold pieces in a neat col—"that you're takin' as north at the fisherman began anotherburst in his native tongue. ith no sign of impatience, the bler pulled out a short-bar, triggerless .45 Colt, broke en, clicked it back and set it he table.

"Unwind the verdie', Judge. Is it legal?" Maitland had been considering the proposition as it took shape. The chart in the cabin was sketchy, but he had sailed broken coasts before with less to go. He liked the feel of the boat. Anything seemed better than turning back. The fisherman was being well paid. "I can't pay my share," he began. "Sink me, Bud," protested the Westerner, "if you ain't as unexpected as a parson's mule. The money was won on your stake, and half of it's yours. Also, you're the deep-sea shark. Boats is a branch of knowledge I'm free of, and I don't figure Frenchy for no oceanic scout. So we'll owe you for gettin' us there. The boy pulled on his clothes and went out to look at the Susette. She proved to be a strong, deep-keeled boat with the remains of a cutter's rigging, and a look of having known better things before Frenchy turned her into a smack.

Having had to overstay several watches, Maitland was glad when he found the open sea at Dixon's Entrance, and was able to shove the tiller into Frenchy's unwilling hands and go below. He ate a mulligan Speed had compiled from the "tailin's" of the previous meal, and tumbled into the bunk for a sleep. Awakened hours later by a thud of running seas, he had just caught a drowsy glimpse of his dormy mate playing solitaire with Frenchy's cards under the swinging cabin lamp, when a sudden lurch sent chair and player sprawling. "Pitchin' cayuses!" the gambler mumbled ruefully. "Am I goin' to ride this critter before we hit Skagway?" Mention of Skagway reminded Maitland of a question he had wondered about. "Why do you choose that camp instead of Dyea?" he into the glamour and mist of a wider channel when they heard siren, passing southward by another course. It sounded queerly, in that solitude, a far echo of the world with which they had lost contact. Speed wound in his line. "How'd you come to choose this route, Bud?" he asked. "It isn't a course the steamers would take," Maitland answered after a pause. "I thought, if she George E. Starr were to pass us in the narrows, going back, someone might get the idea you weren't drowned."

The reflection of a wave to which they were rising illumined the others face but left his eyes obscured. "That's a long way to go for a stranger," he said. Maitland shook his head. The word "stranger" hardly applies to a man with whom one has been drowned and brought alive again. "I was thinking as we came up the gulf," he said, rather hesitantly, "of how we started this trip together. It's a fresh start for both of us, in a way. Why couldn't we see it through as partners?" The gambler twisted the line in his hands. "It says a whole lot to me, Bud. I've always wanted to square you for that lost outfit, and I could steer you some in the gold camps. But as for pardners—you don't know who I am."

"Forget about the outfit. And the other trouble too. It's a new deal, isn't it?" "Meanin'?" "If you'll agree to respect the Law while we're partners, your word's good with me." The flaw in his proposition appeared to Maitland during the silence that followed. While Speed might have left his record behind him, he had come north with a purpose he wasn't likely to forget. The Westerner's reply, however, took an unexpected form. "Suppose I copped against a forced lay by sayin' I'd pull out and leave you clear if I had to tangle with the Law. Would that be?"

He looked up with a misty question in his eyes, and two brown hands locked on the bargain. From the outer waters of the Lynn Canal, a great marine corridor contracted toward their destination. Vast walls of rock loomed on either side to heights of a thousand feet or more, sheer out of the sea, casting a half-mile shadow into the gulf. On ledges of these canyon faces, spruce and jackpines perched like window shrubs. Above them, in the upper air, snow-crowned peaks glistened with a molten splendor, and in the deep, brooding shadows at their base, gigantic boulders lay sprawling in the seaweed that wavered and streamed with the ground swell.

When the Susette traversed the shadow of these ramparts, late one afternoon in August, sunlight was falling in shafts into the fjord, pearling the mists that hung like webs between the canyon heads, and dazzling the smoky fall of mountain streams which cascaded into the gloom and rose again as rainbow spray.

At a bend in the narrowing sea gerge a sudden echo among the shore rocks set the travelers' ears tingling, and shortly afterwards they emerged on a dazzling vista of bright water in which a cargo steamer lay at anchor, some two hundred yards from shore. The landing beach shone gold in the sunlight, shelving steeply down from gravel flats, where a river canyon opened its broad delta on the gulf. Gray tents, scattered along the flats, and the snowy crest of a bald peak, which glittered high above the canyon, marked it as the outlet of the Skagway river and the base camp of the White Pass.

"Landin' horses," said Speed. The heads of the swimming animals bobbed at several points between the ship and the surf. As they drew nearer, a gaudy pinto flashed into the air and took water in a smother of diamonds. The broncho swam off—not to ward shore, however, but in blind panic down the gulf. "Might buy us a feed if we round up this cayuse," Speed suggested. "See if you can turn him, Bud."

Cutting across the runaway's course, Maitland skillfully matched the frightened zigzags with which it tried to evade the approaching sail, till they could see its opal-blue eye, flaming with terror. As the boat came close, a rope sang from the Westerner's hand, neatly ringing the pinto's head. To avoid dragging its nose under ward shore, however, but in blind panic down the gulf. "Might buy us a feed if we round up this cayuse," Speed suggested. "See if you can turn him, Bud."

"You can do better. If you tied in with a horse outfit on the White Pass, they might pay for help and throw in the grub." "But tools," Maitland objected. The gambler's mouth twisted humorously, as he studied a card. "If you mean picks and shovels, Bud, the hist'ry of prospectin' learns us they's mighty little satisfaction in a shovel, and none at all in a pick. You can pick them up anywhere off the landscape."

From the chart in the cabin Maitland discovered that they were north of the fifty-fifth latitude and actually in Alaska, though the map did not mark the lower boundary of that long strip of Coastal islands called the "Penhandle."

Through one of these channels Maitland turned a course west of Zarembo Island into a long sea gorge, which proved to be easily navigable, but slow for sailing. When fish had followed fish as an unvaried menu for days, the idea of fish became by degrees more sinister than hunger, even to Frenchy. The cliff shadows had melted

WEST RAYLAND H. D. CLUB

Mrs. Luther Marlow presented the wardrobe demonstration at a meeting of the West Rayland Home Demonstration Club at the home of Mrs. John S. Ray Tuesday, February 26.

Mrs. Marlow showed the records she has been keeping in connection with the work. Mrs. Ray, chairman of the exhibit committee, reported that this club had eight entries in the next show at Crowell Friday and Saturday.

The uncooked soap entered by Mrs. Shirley McLarty and the cooked soap entered by Mrs. Luther Marlow both placed third.

A discussion on the booklet "America Must Choose," was given by Mrs. Ray and Miss Bonnie Schroeder, who also used posters in their explanations.

Ten minutes of recreation were enjoyed. The club will meet with Mrs. Otto Schroeder March 12. A demonstration on the foundation waist and sleeve pattern will be given at this time.

GOOD CREEK 4-H CLUB

Members of the Good Creek 4-H girls club learned how to build a modern closet and how to make a shoe rack at their last meeting. Those present answered roll call by having permission to use fifty feet of garden space.

The club decided to have a party at the home of Ada Groomer on March 7. The next club meeting will be at 10:30 a. m. on March 13 at the school house.

VIVIAN 4-H CLUB

The Vivian 4-H Club met at the school house on Feb. 28 with 13 members and Miss Holman present. Miss Holman gave a demonstration on how to make a closet. A game brought the program to an end.

Chevrolet Has New Method of Flooding Con. Rod Bearings

A unique method of flooding connecting rod bearings with a surplus of lubricating oil at high engine speeds is one of the new mechanical features of the Chevrolet engines in all 1935 models. The new oiling system assures an extra supply of oil to the bearings when most needed, that is, when the car is being driven above 70 m. p. h. for long periods.

At lower engine speeds, lubrication of the crankpins is provided by oil picked up from troughs by dipper on the connecting rods. The oil pan troughs are kept filled in shafts into the fjord, pearling the mists that hung like webs between the canyon heads, and dazzling the smoky fall of mountain streams which cascaded into the gloom and rose again as rainbow spray.

At high engine speeds, as the pump pressure increases, oil is forced from these nozzles with sufficient force to cause high pressure streams of oil to be thrown clear across the crankcase, directly in the paths of the connecting rod dippers. Because of the high speed of the dippers as the engine turns over 3000 or more r. p. m., they hit the solid stream of oil with so much force that tremendous pressure is created. The oil flows through the outlet in the top of the dipper and is forced through the deep grooves in the connecting rod bearing. The force of the impact of the oil stream provides positive lubrication to the entire

VIVIAN H. D. CLUB

The Vivian H. D. Club had an all-day meeting at the home of Mrs. J. H. Myers last Thursday with fifteen members and five visitors present. The visitors were Mrs. H. H. Beggs of the West Side Club, Mrs. John Marr, Mrs. Leonard Hudgins, Mrs. Bishop, Mrs. Melvin Stepp and Grandma Rutledge. Miss Holman was present a short time.

Roll call by Miss Bernita Fish was answered with facts regarding Henry Wallace's book, "America Must Choose."

The club voted to have a "42" tournament at the school house Friday night, March 8, to raise some money to the Council pledge.

The next meeting is on March 14 at the home of Mrs. Allen Fish.

WEST RAYLAND 4-H CLUB

At the meeting of the West Rayland girls 4-H Club on Feb. 26, Miss Holman gave a closet demonstration. She illustrated her talk by showing a miniature closet and a shoe rack made from an orange crate.

Nine members were present. The next meeting will be on March 12.

WEST SIDE H. D. CLUB

To derive benefit from a club demonstrator every member should do as nearly as possible what the demonstrator does, said Mrs. H. H. Beggs of the West Side Club, which met with Mrs. Roy Steele Wednesday.

A discussion of Henry A. Wallace's "America Must Choose," was led by Mrs. G. H. Patton, who was assisted by Mrs. Roy C. Steele, Mrs. Charlie Bryson and Mrs. F. A. Davis.

An entertainment at the home of Mrs. S. E. Tate was enjoyed by club members and their families Tuesday evening.

FOARD CITY H. D. CLUB

"A foundation pattern is an individually fitted pattern," stated Miss Holman at the meeting of the Foard City H. D. Club at the club house Tuesday afternoon.

The foundation pattern is made of unbleached muslin and fitted to the person for whom it is made. It may be used for all types of dresses, making it unnecessary to secure a pattern for each dress made.

Mrs. Blake McDaniel, Mrs. W. B. Jones and Mrs. R. L. Taylor will represent the club at the school on the use of foundation patterns on March 16.

Mrs. I. S. Rundell and Mrs. F. A. Traweck were visitors at the meeting.

FOARD CITY 4-H CLUB

The Foard City girls have finished their first goal, which was the making of dresser scarfs. Several have finished the second goal also. Members have been asked to make a collection of wild flowers as soon as they begin blooming.

Ten members and Miss Holman were present at the last meeting. The next meeting is on March 19 at the school building.

LIGHTING . . .

Yesterday and Today

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

musical compositions, frequently dwelling on candle light, are but recollections of a luxury in bygone days?

That such spectacular illumination from candles would compare as only modest electric illumination today?

That one modern electric lamp (50-watt size) gives the same illumination as 48 candle light give?

That the wax candle will burn about 4 hours, necessitating 250 replacements to one replacement of the electric lamp?

That an average home today has the equivalent of approximately ten such electric lamps (50-watt size) in use, and with 24 months or 1,000 burning hours as their useful life, the two-year total lighting costs, including cost of lamps and cost of electric service, is only $27?

That a comparable illumination from wax candles (not considering the inferior light or the danger accompanying any flame, its fine soot floating or gaseous odors) would necessitate consumption of 120,000 wax candles over such a two-year period at a cost to you of more than $2,400, yet complete electric "lighting" service is supplied by this company and enjoyed by all members of your household for less daily costs than a cigar to one member of the household.

Further, that over half of all domestic service customers in West Texas pay less than 4c a day for all their residential electric service, including lighting.

Centennial Dinner Given in Honor of Faculty Members

The members of the faculty of the Crowell schools were honored with a Centennial dinner last Friday evening, given by the executive board of the local P. T. A. with the hospitality committee in charge. The hospitality committee is composed of Mrs. H. K. Edwards, chairman; Mrs. O. R. Bowman and Mrs. W. C. McKown.

The dinner was served in the basement of the Methodist Church and the dining room was decorated in patriotic colors. The national motif was further used in table decorations and the place cards were reminders of the 1936 Centennial. Places were marked for about fifty guests.

Following invocation by Supt. L. T. Graves and words of welcome by Mrs. A. F. McMillan, president of the local P. T. A., a turkey dinner was served. Between the courses questions concerning Texas, found on the back of the place-cards, were answered.

Mrs. N. J. Roberts, Foard County Centennial chairman, made a talk on "Dallas, the Central Exposition City." Henry Black talked on "Texas the Largest State in the Union." Mrs. A. F. Wright and Mrs. T. B. Klepper sang "Texas, Pride of the South." They were accompanied by Mrs. A. L. Rucker. Mrs. R. L. Kincaid spoke on "What the Centennial Will Mean to Texas." Mrs. S. T. Crews played "LaPaloma" as a piano solo. The closing number was "The Eyes of Texas," sung by the group.

The Gambleville Home Demonstration Club will be host to the County Federation at an all-day meeting tomorrow, Friday.

A Texas Centennial program with Mrs. N. J. Roberts as leader has been announced as follows:

Gambleville Scene of Co. Federation Meeting Tomorrow

Immediately following the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Vance Swaim last Friday evening, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Haney, parents of the bride, at Thalia, for the families of both the bride and the groom and the wedding party.

The receiving line was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Haney, Mr. and Mrs. E. Swaim, Mr. and Mrs. Vance Swaim, Mrs. Jno. Raser and Miss Harriet Swaim.

A pink and white wedding cake occupied the center of the lace-covered table and was flanked with pink tapers. The cake was cut and served by Miss Corene Haney, assisted by others of the bridal party and Mrs. T. S. Haney presided over the punch bowl.

Reception at Thalia for Bride and Groom

Miss Frankie Pennington entertained her niece, Miss Mary Lou Fudge, with a surprise birthday dinner at their home on last Thursday. At the noon hour the following friends "went home from school" with the honor guest, Misses Florene Miller, Mary Elizabeth Hughton, Peggy Cooper, Dorothy McKown, Mary Byrl Bell and Ruth Ferguson.

A three-course birthday dinner awaited them with the table centered with a birthday cake with fifteen lighted candles. As plate favors the guests were given attractive boxes containing ear screws.

The honor guest received a number of birthday gifts.

Surprise Dinner on 64th Anniversary

Celebrating the 64th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Wallen of Foard County their children and grand children surprised them with a dinner at their home on Friday, March 1.

Mrs. Joe Owens and Mrs. O. E. Connell, daughters, and Mrs. Geo. Owens and Mrs. D. W. Barron, granddaughters, prepared the dinner, and with their families, enjoyed it with Mr. and Mrs. Wallen.

Mrs. G. C. Rector, a daughter, of San Angelo, and W. M. Wallen, a son, of Wichita Falls, arrived in the early afternoon for a visit with their parents.

Many friends of the couple called during the afternoon. W. M. Wallen brought them a radio as an anniversary gift. Other gifts were received.

The announcement of the 64th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Wallen was made over radio station KGKO. This is a remarkable record and a rare one. The couple still are keeping house in their own home and are enjoying good health. Their many friends wish for them continued health and many more anniversaries.

It seems that the Lamesa and Pampa basketball teams were rather unkind to the prediction in this column last week that Crowell would win the regional championship at Canyon. Anyway, third place in an area embracing the entire Panhandle, South Plains and Lower Panhandle section of Texas is an honor for local people to be proud of and we have no apologies to make for the prediction.

Coach Graves and his Wildcats made a mighty fine record this season in winning the championships of the Matador tourney, the Big Seven conference and the District 4 tourney at Childress, together with the very creditable showing at the regional meet, in which they eliminated the Amarillo High quintet.

Naturally, it is pleasing to local fans to know that Graves has signed a contract to be with CHS two more years, especially after widespread publicity to the effect that Altus Junior College might secure his services.

Fred Thompson, "The Rambler" of the Wichita Falls Record News, had some mighty nice comments about the local coach in his column last Saturday, which is reprinted as follows:

Grady Graves, coach of the Crowell 'Pioneers,' as we have liked to call them of late, is being seriously considered as head coach of Altus Junior college, according to a dispatch from Altus.

He has some mighty fine opposition and he may not get the job. Grady was in Canyon with his Pioneers attending the regional basketball tournament Friday night, and so we couldn't find out whether he even wants the Altus position.

But if he does want it, the Altus Junior college certainly would not make a mistake in draping the mentor's mantle over his shoulders. Graves has handled some mighty fine athletes at Crowell. He has developed them well. It need only be said that Dick Todd developed under his tutelage.

MRS. WILLIE CATO HOSTESS TO THALIA IDLE HOUR CLUB

Mrs. Willie Cato was hostess to the Idle Hour Club at her home near Thalia, Thursday afternoon, February 28.

The afternoon was spent in conversation as the members sewed. Plans were made for the club to do something for Mrs. Mack Eden whose home was burned Thursday morning.

A refreshment plate, consisting of cheese sandwiches, salad and coffee, was served to the following club members: Mesdames C. C. Battenfield, Charlie Woods, Wallace Scales, Raymond Grimm, W. J. Long, Bob Abston, Howard Bursley, Ben Hogan, T. F. Mathews, Royce Cato, J. A. Stovall, Cap Wheeler, Lee Sims, Lloyd Fox, and the hostess.

Hough Home Scene of Class Meeting

The Faithful Workers' Class of the Methodist Sunday school recently met in a social meeting at the home of Mrs. W. R. Hough, with Mrs. Hough and Mrs. Tom Ferguson, hostesses.

In the forenoon, Mrs. S. T. Crews gave the devotional and Mrs. T. L. Hughton and Mrs. B. F. Ringold were in charge of the diversion in the afternoon. The entire program carried out the patriotic idea. A covered dish lunch was served at noon.

Those present were Mesdames S. T. Crews, Fannie Thacker, J. A. Johnson, J. F. Steele, Bettie Thomson, Eva Ashford, P. S. Lovelady, T. L. Hughton, Maggie Magee, P. P. Cooper, W. R. Tuttle, B. F. Ringold and one guest, Mrs. A. F. McMillan.

Constipation Can be Helped!

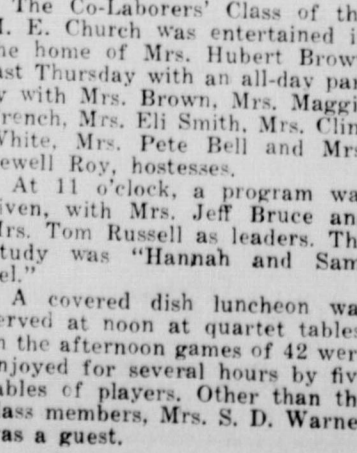

Why do the bowels usually move regularly and thoroughly, long after a physician has given you treatment for constipation?

Because the doctor gives a liquid laxative that can always be taken in the right amount. You can gradually reduce the dose. Reduced dosage is the secret of real and safe relief from constipation.

Ask your doctor about this. Ask your druggist how popular liquid laxatives have become. The right liquid laxative gives the right kind of help, and the right amount of help. When the dose is repeated, instead of more each time, you take less. Until the bowels are moving regularly and thoroughly without any help at all.

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara, and these are natural laxatives that form no habit—even in children. Your druggist has it; ask for—and it is established that he knows how to handle high-powered boys endowed with athletic talent. Grady has a wonderful personality, is courageous, honest and sincere. His players without exception have loved him. They fought hard for him. And this factor has played a major part in Crowell's great athletic record of the last few years.

"If Grady is offered the job at Altus, he would be perfectly justified in accepting it, or turning it down. As reasons for accepting it, he might say that he wishes to advance in his profession; and though he might not admit this, he might be justified in thinking that the splendid material he has had the last few years is playing out. The Todd boys, you know, have all graduated.

"As reasons for refusing, he could say that the people of Crowell have treated him splendidly, that he has tried and true friends there, and that so far as material is concerned no man can say but what a green hand on the squad this year might develop into another Dick Todd next year.

"No matter how Graves decides the question, we believe he has been accorded a deserved honor in being seriously considered for the Oklahoma position."

With 1934 Seniors

Bill Baker, one of the youngest members of the 1934 Crowell High graduating class, enrolled for a business course in the Byrnes Commercial College at Dallas this week.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Baker. The Baker family left last week for Dallas and will remain there for five months before returning to Crowell. Bill attended seven public schools before receiving his diploma.

Although they have not been out of high school one year, the 1934 CHS graduates who are not enrolled in college, are engaged in many different kinds of work.

Miss Anita Fish, pictured at the left, is an expert operator in one of the beauty shops at Paducah. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Fish of the Vivian community and is a native of this community.

Another entirely different line of work is followed by Darvin Bell, one of the only members of the 1934 graduating class who can qualify as a genuine cowboy.

From all reports, Darvin is giving a very satisfactory account of himself in this line of activity and his friends predict that he will some day become one of the county's leading ranchers. He is the son of Mrs. Edith Bell of this city and is a native here.

With the basketball season over, track is now claiming the attention of CHS athletes.

Origin of "Wildcats"

Have you ever wondered how and when CHS came to adopt the name "Wildcats?" Bob Oswald states that Irving Fish, now of
