Battle Not Yet Over for These Two

BRUNO HAUPTMANN IS FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER IN FIRST DEGREE; SENTENCED TO DEATH

"We find the defendant guilty of murder in the first degree," stated the foreman of the jury in the Lindbergh kidnaping case last night at Flemington, N. J. Hauptmann was sentenced to death after 11 hours and 6 minutes had been spent in reaching a verdict that pronounced the solemn doom of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, charged with the kidnaping and murder of Baby Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr.

Two More Victims

The announcement of this verdict made it mandatory upon the trial judge, Justice Thomas W. Trenchard, to sentence Hauptmann to death in the electric chair, which he did without delay. The German carpenter, convicted of one of the worst crimes in history, received the verdict and sentence in a calm manner and without comment, although he was a pale and weary figure after first turning flaming red while standing as the verdict was read. Mrs. Hauptmann was visibly affected more than her husband at the outcome.

The week beginning March 18 was set by the judge as the time for the execution. Edward J. Reilly, chief of the defense counsel, announced that an appeal was to be made, however, chances for Hauptmann to escape the chair appear slim since the jury failed to add recommendation of life imprisonment in its verdict, which it could have done under provisions of the charge from Justice Trenchard.

All members of the jury, 8 men and 4 women, agreed from the beginning as to Hauptmann's guilt, however, 5 ballots were taken before the final verdict was reached, the delay being occasioned by some of the jurors wanting "life imprisonment" to be recommended.

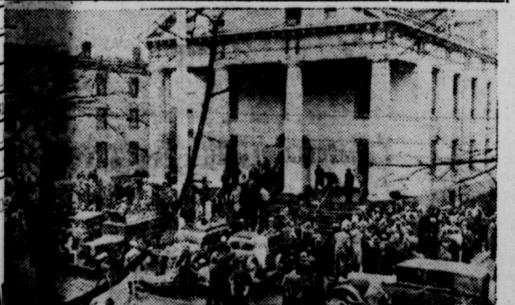

This most famous kidnaping trial in history lasted through 32 days in court and resulted in 1,500,000 words of testimony from 154 witnesses and $35,000 expense to New Jersey. The total expense to all concerned since the crime was committed is estimated at $600,000.

Brief History of Case
Baby Lindbergh, 20-months old, was kidnaped from his crib on March 1, 1932. On April 2, Dr. J. F. Condon, intermediary, paid $50,000 ransom in a Bronx cemetery. The body of the baby was found May 12, 1932, five miles from the Lindbergh home.

Federal authorities took charge of the case on Feb. 10, 1933. On Sept. 18, 1934, Hauptmann was arrested in the Bronx after passing Lindbergh ransom money. He pleaded not guilty on Sept. 27. Extradition to Flemington took place on Oct. 19.

The wife and young son of the convicted slayer of the Lindberghs by are shown above—further samples of the fact that the guilty do not always suffer the most, whatever their fate may be.

Over $14,000.00 in Cotton Checks Are Received This Week

A total of 555 cotton parity checks aggregating $14,245.85 were received early this week at the office of the county agent. This is approximately 85 per cent of the total number of parity checks due in the county.

Notice of approval has been received on forty-seven delayed second rental payments and checks covering these are expected at an early date.

Foard General Fund Is "Out of the Red"

For the first time in a number of years the general fund of the County of Foard was out of debt last Friday when part of the 1934 tax payments were turned into it. At present the fund is about two thousand dollars to the good.

The maximum indebtedness of the fund in recent years was in January, 1933, when approximately $11,000 was registered against it that could not be paid. As a result of reduction in county expenses and better tax payments for 1933 and 1934, the general fund has been taken "out of the red."

County finances in general now are in fairly good shape. All other funds are out of debt and the bonded indebtedness situation has been arranged so that all maturities for 1935 can be met.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Mrs. Sid Mason of Thalia has sufficiently recovered to be removed to her home.

Mrs. Jno. Bell is still in the hospital but is improving nicely following an operation.

New Officers Are Elected Monday at Tri-County Meet

Eighty young people from the Christian Endeavor societies of Quanah, Vernon, Black and Crowell were present for the regular monthly Tri-County C. E. Union meeting at the American Legion hall in Crowell Monday night.

The program and decorations followed patriotic lines. Harry Mason of Vernon delivered the principal address of the evening. He spoke on Christian citizenship.

Officers Elected

The next meeting will be held at Vernon on Tuesday evening, March 11, at which time the new officers will be installed. The following officers were elected to serve one year: Miss Fay Toland of Quanah, president; Miss Elsie Mae Cook of Crowell, vice president; Wm. Gafford of Black, secretary; Miss Rebecca Galloway of Vernon, the retiring president, treasurer, and Rev. L. W. Bridges, Crowell, pastor counselor.

DISTRICT CAGE MEET FEB. 22-23 AT CHILDRESS

Sixteen will compete in the district interscholastic League high school boys' basketball tournament at Childress on Friday and Saturday, Feb. 22 and 23, as a result of a new plan adopted by district league officials which will permit each county to have two teams at the tournament instead of one as has been the case in the past. The two representatives of each county may be the Class A and Class B winners, or the county winner and the runner-up.

In the case of Foard County, Margaret, the Class B winner, will be one of the teams and Crowell or Thalia will be the other. Crowell has already beaten Thalia in one of the Class A championship games. The second of the series will be played tonight and if necessary, a third game will be played within a few days.

Crowell has competed in the tournament for the past five years, winning the district championship the last four years to set a new district "winning-streak" record. Teams likely to compete in the tourney this year are:

- Hardeman—Quanah and Williams.
 - Childress—Tell and Childress.
 - Cottle—Paducah and Valley View.
 - Mctley—Matador and Flomot.
 - Briscoe—Quitauque and Silverton.
 - Hall—Turkey and Lakeview.
 - Collingsworth—Wellington and Sannorwood.
 - Foard—Margaret and Thalia-Crowell winner.
- It may be necessary to start the tournament next Thursday night, according to recent word from Childress.

CROWELL AND HARROLD CLASH IN "BIG SEVEN" CHAMPIONSHIP GAME HERE TOMORROW NIGHT

Crowell and Thalia Play 2nd Class A Game Here Tonight

The second game in the series for the Class A basketball championship of Foard County will be played tonight at the local gym between the Thalia Tigers and the Crowell Wildcats.

Crowell won the first game of the series last week. A victory for Crowell tonight will give the Wildcats the championship. If Thalia wins, the deciding game will be played within a few days.

The largest crowd of the season is expected at the local gymnasium tomorrow night, Friday, when the Harrold Hornets invade the Wildcat den for the championship contest of the Big Seven race, since this is the final game of the conference race and both of these teams are now at the top in the standing.

A victory for Crowell will give the Wildcats the championship. A Harrold victory will throw the leadership into a tie. Crowell has lost only two Big Seven games, Harrold being the first team to down the Wildcats, the score being 36 to 29 in an extra period game at Harrold on Jan. 22.

Double Feature

Preceding the championship contest, a game will be played between Seniors and Juniors dressed in football togs. Everything goes in this game except biting, slugging and scratching, according to announcements about the game.

Two More Games

Two other very interesting games are expected at the local gym on Monday and Tuesday night. On Monday night the Wildcats will clash with the strong Margaret quintet.

The following night, Tuesday, the Vernon Lions will play Crowell here. While the Big Seven race will be over by that time, this game should be a very interesting one, since both squads have divided honors in their two conference games. Vernon has not lost a game in the second half of the Big Seven race and has numbered Crowell as one of its victims during the Lions' "giant-killing spree."

Parked Truck on Highway 28 Causes Another Accident

Rev. L. W. Bridges, pastor of the Crowell Christian Church, narrowly escaped serious injury last Friday night when the sedan in which he was riding alone crashed into the rear end of an unlighted truck that was parked on the pavement of Highway No. 28 about ten miles west of Crowell. The sedan was very badly damaged and Rev. Bridges suffered torn ligaments in his left arm, especially about the wrist, together with numerous other bruises about the body. The truck belonged to B. L. Smith of Ogden and had been stopped on the highway a short time before the accident by an employee of Mr. Smith. The truck was only slightly damaged.

Rev. Bridges was on his way to preach at the Ogden school. His vision was partially obscured by fog and when possible to see the truck, it was so close at hand that he had time to steer only a short distance to the left, which was enough, however, to prevent almost certain death. Due to the fog his speed had been lowered to about 25 miles per hour, Rev. Bridges stated.

BABY SLIGHTLY INJURED

Joe Ray, 18-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Coufal of the Thalia community, received a blood vessel cut at the front of his head shortly after noon Wednesday when a truck ran into the sedan that his mother was driving, causing the baby to be thrown against the windshield which broke and inflicted the injury, which was promptly treated at the office of Dr. Hines Clark. The injury was not considered serious.

Young Son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Cox Died Sun. Morning

Johnnie Robert, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Cox, died of double pneumonia at about 9 o'clock Sunday morning in the family home, 15 miles southwest of Crowell in the Claytonville community. The little boy had been ill 15 days.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Baptist Church of Crowell by Rev. H. H. Haston of Paducah, moderator of the Northwest Brazos Association of Freewill Baptists. Interment followed in the Crowell Cemetery. Pall bearers were: A. L. Davis and Carl Cox of Foard County, V. W. Dunn of Chillicothe and Howard Dunn of Truscott.

Johnnie Robert was born at the home where he died on Nov. 28, 1932. Besides his parents, he is survived by one sister, Doris Marie, and two brothers, Albert and Billy.

COLLISION NEAR CROWELL

Considerable damage to the front end of the sedan belonging to Dwight Campbell resulted near Crowell Tuesday afternoon when the machine collided with a truck operated by an Elk City, Okla., broom company.

Mrs. Campbell was driving the sedan at the time and was returning to her home just east of Crowell on Highway 28 with her three children, Doris, Lowell and C. D., whom she had picked up after school had been dismissed in Crowell. All escaped injury.

The truck was headed toward Crowell. It was not damaged. The left portion of the front of each vehicle came together in the collision.

Local Officers Take 38 Gallons Whiskey In Recent Arrests

A total of thirty-eight gallons of liquor have been taken by the sheriff's department as a result of arrests in recent weeks. On Wednesday night of last week forty-two one-half gallon jars of whiskey were taken by Sheriff R. J. Thomas and P. D. Moseley, deputy, following the arrest of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Hopwood and Mr. and Mrs. Verner L. Basham, all of Hardeman County. Willie Gribble, to whom the liquor was being delivered, according to officers, was also arrested.

Eleven and one-half gallons of whiskey were taken on the night of Jan. 28 following the arrest of N. C. Jenkins and F. H. Stepp of Hardeman County just outside the city limits by Sheriff Thomas and A. T. Schooley, deputy. On Jan. 25, S. T. Crews, deputy, arrested Willie Gribble and W. A. Holman of Crowell for possessing five and one-half gallons of whiskey.

All of the parties arrested were charged in justice court with possessing intoxicating liquor for the purpose of sale. All waived examining trial and their cases now await the action of the grand jury at the February term of district court, which opens in Crowell Monday.

Starting Next Week SLUMBERING . . . GOLD

The story of man's struggle for gold almost always is a tense tale of action. "Slumbering Gold," from the pen of Aubrey Boyd, is a story from the raw, a recital of the deeds of adventurous men who swarmed into the Yukon field in '97. . . . It combines all of the elements of mystery, adventure and romance, a thrilling, well-told story as tense in action as any fiction ever written of the West and the Northwest. "Slumbering Gold" starts in this newspaper next week. Watch for it. From the first to the last chapter it is packed full of exciting drama.

FOARD COUNTY IS SOAKED BY ANOTHER RAIN

Foard County's second general rain within a week started falling Tuesday morning in a very slow manner and continued until late in the night.

At Crowell the rainfall measured six-tenths of an inch and it is reported that this is about the average for the entire county, although a heavier downfall is reported around Foard City and Thalia.

This was the same amount that was measured at Crowell last Thursday morning following another slow and general rain. Although the rainfall total for the week, 1.29 inches, does not sound very impressive, yet the moisture came in such a manner as to bring as great benefits as the average two or three-inch down-pour.

Substantial Dividend Declared by Local Co-Operative Society

In spite of the fact that the cotton crop for the past season was one of the poorest in recent years, the Farmers Co-Operative Society of Crowell operated its two gins here on a paying basis with the result that a dividend of two dollars per bale was declared at the meeting of directors here last Saturday.

In addition to receiving a refund of $2.00 on each bale they had ginned at the local plant of the society, members will also receive a dividend of $1.90 per ton on cotton seed sold to the gin, as a result of action at the meeting Saturday.

Dave Sollis, president, reports that the gins are out of debt and that all taxes and expenses have been paid. About 600 bales were ginned from the 1934 crop at the two farmers gins.

The three officers who form the executive committee, Dave Sollis, president; J. M. Marr, vice president; and Homer Zeibig, secretary, are now serving their second year in these positions. Directors are: T. F. Welch, E. M. Gamble, Dave Adams, Lee Morgan, R. S. Haskew, A. W. Barker, E. A. Dunagan, H. E. Davis and Tom Kink. T. V. Rascoe is gin manager and Clyde Ring has been serving as bookkeeper.

ORGANIZE NEW BALL CIRCUIT AT MEET HERE

Preliminary plans for a new baseball league in this section of Texas were set in motion at a meeting in Crowell Sunday when E. P. Storm of Truscott was elected temporary president and O. E. Hollingsworth of Crowell temporary secretary of the new circuit, which is to be known as the Cottonbelt League.

According to present plans the following towns will compose the league: Quanah, Crowell, Truscott, Medicine Mound, Kirkland and Eldorado, Okla.

At the initial meeting here, the player limit was set at eighteen eligible players. The season is to open on April 14 and end on Aug. 18, after which the play-off games will be played.

The Shaghnnessy play-off plan was adopted, which is used by many leagues, including the Texas and Southern, and also by the nearby Red River Valley League, which included Crowell for part of last season. Through this plan, the top four teams in the standing at the end of the regular season play an elimination schedule. The No. 1 team plays No. 4 and No. 2 plays No. 3. The winners then play a series of three games for the championship.

Meet Next Feb. 24

The next meeting of the league will be held at Crowell on Feb. 24. At that time permanent organization of the new circuit will take place. Permanent officers will be elected, by-laws adopted, a schedule arranged and other business transacted.

HOME-STATE PULL

Washington, Feb. 13. (Associated Press)—The impression is growing that Congress is inclined to take the bit in its teeth and show a good deal more independence of the President than it looked like a couple of weeks ago. This is not alone because of the order of the Supreme Court in the "Hot Oil" case that Congress must do its own legislating, but because there is a good deal of public opposition to some of the Administration's policies being voiced all over the country. The President, loves its own chances of re-election more than anything else.

The first real slap from Congress toward any of the President's proposals was the refusal to authorize the entrance of the United States into the World Court. Mr. Roosevelt, his Secretary of State and his chiefs in the Senate were insistent upon this but the pressure of public opinion upon Senators from the home states was more powerful than the Presidential demand.

Divided Opinions

There is a decided difference of opinion inside the Administration as to whether the ultimate economic salvation of the United States is going to come about through closer international relations or by imitating the narrow nationalistic policies which have led to dictatorships in Europe. The decision against the World Court indicates a strong swing toward nationalism.

The arguments of the internationalists that we cannot sell our goods abroad unless we take the other fellow's goods in exchange have been somewhat shaken by the reports just issued by the Department of Commerce that we sold $1,200,000,000 more goods to Europe last year than we imported and that the foreign countries paid us the difference in gold.

Another blow to the bright dreams of the internationalists is the failure of the negotiations with Soviet Russia looking toward the payment of the Russian debt to the United States or at least some acknowledgment that the debt exists. The whole negotiation initiated by Ambassador Bullitt simmers down to this: If the United States would lend Russia enough money to pay the debt they would acknowledge the debt and pay it on condition that we lent them a lot more money with which to buy American goods. All of this was to be done through the Export-Import Bank which was set up for the purpose of financing the enormous trade Americans were going to do with Russia as soon as we officially recognized the Soviet Republic. It is now announced that the Export-Import Bank will be dissolved and that Mr. George N. Peek, the head of it, will be used to help negotiate trade arrangements with other nations in which Uncle Sam and his nephews stand a chance to make a few cents profit. But so far as trade relations with Russia and American participation in the World Court are concerned Washington is through.

Richberg, the Target

Donald Richberg is becoming known in Washington as the human pin-cushion. He is having so many arrows shot into him from so many different directions that he figuratively resembles the ancient paintings of St. Sebastian, whose picture may be seen in many European cathedrals with as many arrows sticking in him as a porcupine has quills.

The latest volley at Mr. Richberg comes from the American Federation of Labor, which accuses him of being a traitor to the cause of organized labor because he has agreed to an extension of the Automobile Code without putting a special closed shop clause in it. Some of these arrows which landed on Mr. Richberg were undoubtedly intended for the President. Mr. Roosevelt has been insistent that there shall be no more labor provisions in the Codes which can be interpreted as putting the Government under control of any labor organization.

Secretary of Commerce Dan Roper has set up a council of 52 business leaders representing large and small industries and every part of the country, and is getting a pretty good line upon how far business men will go in support of social reforms.

Present Old Age Relief

The social security program embodied in the Wagner-Lewis bill is due for a very large number of drastic changes before it gets out of committee in either House, and probably still more changes on the floor. Congress is going to take plenty of time before committing the United States to systems of old age pensions, unemployment insurance, child welfare and public health.

Congress wants to know just what it is going to cost, how many old people will have to be taken care of by the Federal Government and what the states are willing to do and are doing now. Besides about 180,000 old people now drawing pensions in the 24 states which now have old age assistance laws, there are about 700,000 people listed at a cost of $45,000,000 a year, another 1,000,000 in receipt of public relief from other sources, and about 150,000 elderly people

Twenty Years Ago in The News

The items below were taken in whole or in part from the issues of The News of Jan. 22, Feb. 5 and Feb. 19, 1915.

The Ford automobile is becoming a popular car in Foard County. Messrs. Self and Bell have recently sold a carload of them and have placed their order for another carload.

Exciting Fire

A fire that might have cost the lives of two children was narrowly averted Friday morning when a house belonging to E. G. Campsey in the west part of town caught fire. It is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Bruton. Mr. Bruton was at work in the county and Mrs. Bruton had run across the way to the Campseys, leaving two children alone.

It is supposed that one lighted a match causing the fire which was discovered by Hubert Brown as he was going to school. Hubert gave the alarm and help soon arrived and the children and house were saved as a result of fast and brave work on the part of several. Mr. Campsey's head, which is bald, was badly burned.

Opens Blacksmith Shop

C. B. Garlinghouse has opened a blacksmith shop south of the old Burks & Swain garage. The old garage has been torn down and work on the big brick will begin soon as material arrives. This makes the fourth blacksmith shop for Crowell, but Crowell is a good town, here is hoping that all four may live and prosper.

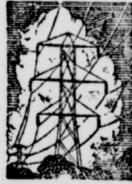

Norris House Burns

The S. E. Norris residence in the northwest part of town burned to the ground about noon Monday. The family was on the way to town when they looked back and saw their home in flames. How the fire originated is not known.

Clyde McKown is here from living on industrial and trade union pensions.

All of this has nothing to do with the long range aspect of old age pensions, which is intended to operate so that after a man has worked for 40 years he will have enough to his credit in the pension fund to take care of him in comfort the rest of his life. It is a sort of compulsory thrift plan. But there is a great difference of opinion as to whether the plan can ever be made self-supporting in the form in which it has been drafted and it is recognized that for the next 40 years at least it would call for large annual Federal appropriations.

Looking Forward—

West Texas has untold possibilities for development. Although much progress has been made, there is much room for further achievements by all thrifty and enterprising citizens.

A bulk of our natural resources lie virtually untouched. A continued diversification of agriculture in its broadest sense will materially benefit our section. Homes and places of business, as evidenced in travel over West Texas, need repairing, painting or entirely rebuilding. Many of our cities have faced a shortage in the better class of homes for the past several months. Industry and capital needs encouraging in West Texas so that more labor can be profitably employed.

Capital can be secured and this continued program of development can be realized when men are convinced of the attitude of governing bodies on taxation and government competition in business. The debacle of 1929 to 1934 will have passed and progress will have begun when government experiments give way to co-operative efforts of American principles of private initiative.

Your power company has co-operated fully, and eagerly anticipates the part it will play in the future development of West Texas at rates and service in keeping with the demand.

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule . . . and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

BIOLOGICAL WONDERS

Stunted children may be developed to normal size in future through scientific means, according to a prediction by Dr. Oscar Riddle, noted biologist, who recently related over the radio some of the results of experiments with animals and humans.

By the use of substances derived from certain glands of animals, some surprising developments have been produced. Through special feeding mice have been made to grow to twice their normal size. Salamanders, rats and dogs have been greatly increased in size, and in some instances human dwarfs have shown marked growth under treatment with "hormones" from thyroid or pituitary glands of oxen and sheep.

Undersized humans of the future may not have to go through life as "runts" if, as Dr. Riddle believes, the hormone treatment shall be successfully developed. Much further experimenting will be necessary, however, before such treatment becomes available for general use.

Some other interesting laboratory experiments and their results were enumerated by Dr. Riddle. It was found that by shaking up certain eggs they would develop without fertilization by a male parent. Tadpoles developed eye lenses from skin taken from their backs. Refrigeration of the skin of a white rabbit caused it to turn black and grow black hair. Sex of many animals can be controlled and reversed.

These are only a few of the strange things accomplished by scientists in recent years. And there is no telling what they may do next.

THE SMALL STORES

Pessimists have long predicted the gradual extinction of the small stores and their absorption by the national chains. One observer of the trend toward the dominance of combinations of capital in the retail trade wrote:

"It is not pleasant to the small merchant to be dragged behind the counter as a salaried employee; a little spoke in a big wheel."

But it happens that this doleful prediction is not of recent origin. It was written and published in the Springfield Republican in 1895—40 years ago. At that time the big department stores were just getting under way. Since then we have seen added menaces to the small retailer in the form of mail order houses and chain stores. Yet thousands of small town stores have survived, many of them becoming big stores. Naturally those which have succeeded are the ones which have kept abreast of the times, adopting new methods and policies as occasion demanded to meet the keener competition presented by the larger enterprises. And a most important factor which has contributed to the success of retailers large and small has been intelligent, persistent and adequate advertising.

BACKWARD BOYS

Rusty, a native Siwash malamute in the cold bleak stretches of the far North, never had much of a chance in life. Fate seemed always a plot against him. . . Yet that same fate made Rusty an unsung hero in as tense and thrilling a drama as the West and Northwest ever knew.

Rusty crossed the path of Speed Malone and Ed Maitland. . . He lurked in the far shadows of their campfire long enough to prove to himself the key to a mystery which had baffled man. You never get to really know Rusty. But you will look back with favoring eyes on him, when you have read the concluding lines of our new serial story:

ness, declared that Charles Darwin and Sir Isaac Newton were both backward as children, and would probably have been considered subnormal by present-day authorities.

We may also be reminded that Richard Brinsley Sheridan, the great dramatist, was characterized by his own brilliant mother as an "impenetrable dunce." Similar stories are told of early dullness on the part of Sir Walter Scott, Thackeray, Wellington, Cromwell, and even the great Napoleon.

Our own General Grant, while always mentally alert, was a ne'er-do-well during a part of his life and although he had performed a creditable service in the Mexican war, resigned from the Army in 1854, and at the outbreak of the Civil War was a clerk in a store at Galena, Ill. Yet he became the first ever to hold the rank of a full general in the United States Army and was President eight years.

These examples, with many others which might be cited, should be encouraging to those who may be considered below the average during their school years.

But they do not necessarily indicate that because a youngster is a dumb-bell he is assured of a brilliant future.

Twenty-One Vernon Rotarians Present at Local Luncheon

With a total of 24 Rotarians and entertainers present from Vernon, the attendance at the regular weekly luncheon of the local Rotary Club Wednesday about doubled the average weekly attendance.

A very entertaining program was provided by the visitors. Eli Smith, program chairman for this week having arranged for the Vernon club to present the numbers on it.

L. A. Wilson of Vernon was in charge of the program, which included accordion selections by Mrs. Eldon Hughes; harmonica numbers by Casey Mitchell, colored, and a talk by Ray H. Nichols, all of Vernon. Before the program opened, greetings on behalf of each club were extended by the two presidents, H. K. Edwards of Crowell and M. K. Berry of Vernon.

Personalities, with respect to individuals and communities, constituted the principal part of Mr. Nichols' talk. "Preserve your own individual personalities and don't try to be like some other person or town," advised the speaker. Regret in seeing any individual or section of the country lose their own particular characteristics through the general trend toward standardization was expressed.

Those present from Vernon were: C. M. Ladd, E. O. Youngblood, M. K. Berry, R. H. Nichols, Geo. Zelios, R. S. Williams, S. W. Bailey, D. Goldfeder, Hub Colley, W. N. Martin, C. M. Owens, Cy Long, Lew Bray, Bob Sherrill, E. T. Evans, J. H. Cope, Dr. B. D. Flaniken, Bob Hoffman, W. D. Curtis, Cully Swartwood, and L. A. Wilson, Rotarians, and Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Hughes.

Crowell visitors were: W. H. Meyer and Raymond Burrow.

WASTE IN SMOKE

The annual financial loss in the United States due to smoke is estimated at nearly two billion dollars. This does not refer to fire losses nor to smoke produced by cigars, pipes and cigarettes. It is the amount wasted through the burning of coal without conserving the valuable substances contained in the smoke.

According to Gordon D. Rowe, chief smoke inspector of Cincinnati, the elimination of this waste would save enough money in a year to build a 12-inch concrete road 50 feet wide from New York to Los Angeles and another from Chicago to New Orleans.

The smoke nuisance also pollutes the atmosphere in the vicinity of large coal-burning plants and causes considerable damage through falling soot.

Mr. Rowe declares that it is a crime against future generations to burn coal in its raw state, and recommends that it be pulverized or gasified, in order that it may be burned smokelessly and economically. By these methods the valuable by-products of coal tar may be saved, as is already being done in many industries.

When we see clouds of smoke rolling from some factory chimney we are also witnessing the dissipation into the air of great quantities of many of the most useful substances known to man.

A $60,000,000 BRIDGE

Another wonder of the modern world has been completed and dedicated to the use of man—the new $60,000,000 George Washington Bridge, linking New Jersey with New York City, which is the greatest suspension span ever erected, 3,500 feet long.

It is suspended from two giant towers 635 feet high, these towers requiring 40,000 tons of steel. On the New Jersey side the cables are anchored to the solid rock of the Palisades, on the New York side they are held in place by a block of masonry weighing 260,000 tons. There are 4 cables weighing 28,450 tons each.

During the first 24 hours after the bridge was opened to traffic more than 60,000 automobiles passed over it. It is estimated that not less than 60,000,000 vehicles will cross the bridge during the first year of operation.

This great and useful structure is a monument to the skill of its designer, O. H. Ammann, 52, Swiss-born chief bridge engineer of the New York Port Authority, who came to this country at the age of 25 and is now a naturalized American citizen.

THE FIRST PHONOGRAPH

In a letter written a few years ago, Thomas A. Edison said: "I conceived the idea of recording and reproducing human speech and other sounds on July 18, 1877."

Mr. Edison went on to say that he worked on his first model of the first phonograph during the following two months and that "this first model was entirely successful." He also declared that this model comprised all the basic principles which are still used in all phonographs and talking machines.

Many will remember the early phonograph records made on wax cylinders. These were greatly inferior to the later disc records, besides they were very fragile and short-lived. Still the principles used in recording and reproducing the sounds were the same as those employed up to the present.

The world owes much of its enjoyment and instruction to the idea born in Edison's fertile brain fifty-seven years ago. It is gratifying that he was permitted to enjoy a long life in which to develop and witness the universal employment of this and other epoch-making inventions which he gave to mankind.

ANCIENT CLUB RULES

The custom among luncheon clubs of the United States, whereby a club is supposed to limit its membership to only one of each business or profession, recalls a similar rule of the famous Spectator Club, organized by Addison, the English essayist, more than two centuries ago.

In that day the rule was stated thus: "None shall be admitted into the club that is in the same trade with any member in it."

Some other rules of the Spectator Club, however, find no counterpart among the modern regulations governing the Rotary, Kiwanis and similar organizations, but they are nevertheless interesting, the following being examples:

"If any member swears or curses, his neighbor may give him a kick upon the shins.

"If any member tells stories in

by BRUCE BARTON

NOAH

Carlyle said that no age need go down to destruction if only there arise a man who knows his times and can lead. Noah had one of these qualifications but not the other. He could not lead. He preached for one hundred and twenty years to an ever-diminishing congregation.

You can imagine the derisive comments of his neighbors. Forty days and nights of rain, indeed! It never had happened before, it never could happen. Noah was a crazy old fool.

But it did come! In the six hundredth year of Noah's life, in the second month, the seventeenth day of the month, the same day were all the fountains of the great deep broken up, and the windows of heaven were opened.

And the rain was upon the earth forty days and forty nights. . . . And every living substance was destroyed.

It is an interesting question for every man to ask himself: "If I had been on the earth in the days of Noah, should I have been one of the survivors or one of the wise ones who knew it all? If I had been in Jerusalem in the days of Jesus, should I have been one of the few who saw Truth, even in its rough peasant garb, or should I have stood with the respectable, well fed majority, shouting, 'Away with this disturber, Crucify!'"

Only a few have courage and vision to stand against the crowd; Noah had both in plentiful amounts.

Thus did Noah; according to all that God commanded him, so did he.

A grand tribute to a man who stood firm and true when humanity as a whole went wrong. He did what God told him to do, and he was justified in the result. And then?

If you or I had written the story we should have pictured the serene old age of Noah, in his uniform as a retired admiral of the navy introduced to the fast multiplying posterity of mankind as the man who saved the world. We should have provided for him a future worthy of his great achievement. The record shocks us:

And Noah was drunken.

Drunken perhaps with his success. Drunk with pride when people told him how all his weather predictions had come true. Drunk with the praise which he had richly earned and could not wisely appreciate. Drunk also with wine. A shameful scene as he lay in his tent, Ham peering in with mocking laughter, and the other sons doing their sorrowful duty.

Noah was drunken. The man who had saved the world did not continue in the work of its salvation. The new age that followed the flood had to find new leaders for its new problems. Yet so long as the rainbow overarches the storm cloud the world shall remember the integrity and courage and obedience of Noah.

the club that are not true, he shall forfeit for every third lie a half penny.

"If any member brings his wife into the club, he shall pay for whatever she drinks or smokes.

"If any member's wife comes to fetch him from the club, she shall speak to him outside the door."

The last rule was considered quite necessary in a day when there were no telephones, and may have enabled a timorous husband to escape by the back door while a faithful steward assured his wife that he was not in.

CROWELL BEATS CHILDRESS AND WICHITA FALLS

Crowell maintained its lead in the Big 7 cage conference by defeating the Childress Bobcats 22 to 17 in a closely fought basketball game before one of the largest crowds of the season in the local gymnasium last Friday night. A Bobcat victory would have thrown the two teams into a tie in the league standing.

Defensive play featured on the part of both teams, with the Wildcats having a considerable edge in this department. Bill Dunn, Crowell, captain and guard, featured on the defense and was ably assisted by all other Wildcats. Lance Middlebrook and Garland Taylor were outstanding on the offense as well as defense. Only one field goal, by R. Andrews, was made by Childress in the first half.

At the very beginning of the contest, the visitors took a one-point lead with a free toss. Frank Meason shoved the Wildcats ahead with a nicely executed field goal and from then on Crowell held the lead, the score being 6 to 4 at the first quarter, 16 to 8 at the half, 19 to 11 as the third period ended and 22 to 17, final.

Margaret Boys Lose to Tell in Game at Crowell Gymnasium

The Margaret Buffaloes suffered a 41 to 25 loss at the hands of Tell's tall cagers in a basketball game at the Crowell gym Tuesday night. In two previous games the quintets divided honors, Margaret beating Tell in the Kirkland tourney early in the season and then losing later at Tell. Tell boasts probably the tallest high school team in West Texas, the three Osborn brothers on it measuring 6 ft. 7 in., 6 ft. 6 in., and 6 ft. 5 in.

Tell led throughout the game, although Margaret seriously threatened in the third quarter, running up ten points to come within two points of a tie, before Tell was able to score after the opening of the second half.

Margaret Girls Win Over Childress High

The Margaret High girls avenged their only loss of the season here last Friday night by defeating the Childress girls 32 to 17 in a basketball game following the Crowell-Childress boys game. The previous Friday night at Childress, Margaret lost a closely fought game to Childress by the score of 23 to 20.

The attractively clad Margaret sextet formed one of the prettiest passing combinations ever seen on a local court, either for girls or boys teams.

Taking an early lead, they held it throughout the remainder of the game.

Points made by Margaret forwards were: Gladys Russell 12, Faye Ingle 11, Alice Ruth Shaw 4, and Eva Dale Morrison 5. Margaret guards were Nadine and Edna McCurley and Lucille Shaw. Those composing the Childress team were: Rossiter, Moore and Reynolds, forwards; Cawthon, Edwards and Pugh, guards. Rossiter scored 8 points for the Bobbies. Roy Mints served as referee.

Excellent Egg and Butter Record Made On S. E. Tate Farm

Another successful "butter and egg" record was made during the year of 1934 by Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Tate on their farm a short distance west of Crowell.

The production from approximately 250 White Leghorn hens reached 36,662 eggs, an average of about 147 eggs per hen. Egg sales amounted to $315.99 and the feed cost was $166.30, leaving a clear profit of $149.69, not counting about $30 realized from chicken sales and the fact that the home needs for four persons were supplied throughout the year with regard to eggs in connection with meals. Feed raised on the Tate farm was counted in the feed cost, the feed products being figured at regular market prices.

Mr. and Mrs. Tate are keeping the same size flock this year, believing that about 250 hens form the most practical size flock for average farm purposes.

Butter sales from the Tate farm amounted to $245.85. A total of 1,058 pounds of butter were realized from the farm's six Jersey cows.

"Soul" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 17, 1935.
The Golden Text is: "Set your heart and your soul to seek the Lord your God." (I Chronicles 22:19.)
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven." (Matthew 7:21.)
The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Soul has infinite resources with which to bless mankind and happiness would be more readily attained and would be more secure in our keeping if sought in Soul." (page 60.)

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

by Charles E. Dunn

Peter Teaches Good Citizenship. Lesson for Feb. 17th, 1 Peter 2:11-17.

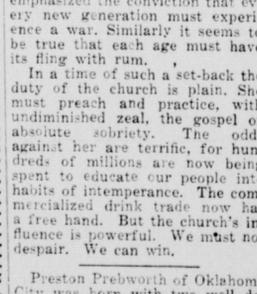

Golden Text: Romans 13:10.

"Abstain," writes Peter in our lesson text, "from the passions of the flesh." Never was this advice more needed than at such a time as this. We have repealed the 18th amendment and no effective substitute has been found. Meanwhile the nation has swung back with gusto into the intemperate habits of pre-prohibition days. It was freely predicted by the victorious 'wets' that, with the overthrow of prohibition, a really temperate era would emerge. The bootlegger, the speakeasy, the night club, the road house, so it was said, would disappear. Crime and lawlessness, we were also told, would become unfashionable. And the saloon was never to be permitted to lift its head again. More than a year has passed. What do we find? "As concerns liquor," says Mr. Choate, Federal director of alcoholic control, "the United States is living in a fool's paradise." Bootlegging, he points out, continues on an immense scale, for two-thirds of all the liquor sold in our country comes from illicit stills. Moreover the number of drunken drivers has greatly increased. Vermont, for example, reports five times as many automobile accidents as in any year previous to repeal. The saloon, too, is once more with us, even though called by such a respectable name as "bar" or "grill."

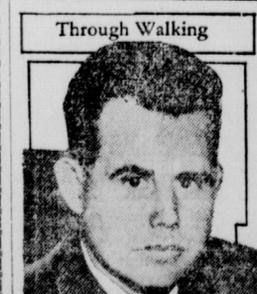

Thus the pendulum has swung back, giving a new lease on life. It was Israel Zangwill who emphasized the conviction that every new generation must experience a war. Similarly it seems to be true that each age must have its fling with rum.

In a time of such a set-back the duty of the church is plain. She must preach and practice, with undiminished zeal, the gospel of absolute sobriety. The odds against her are terrific, for hundreds of millions are now being spent to educate our people into habits of intemperance. The commercialized drink trade now has a free hand. But the church's influence is powerful. We must not despair. We can win.

The WOMAN'S ANGLE

by NANCY HART

Of all the advice on beauty, the soundest is "get eight hours' sleep every night." That will do more to take out the wrinkles than all the creams and lotions you can use. A sensible diet with only a moderate amount of sweets, a bit of exercise and plenty of water to counteract the ravages of winter winds are all helpful.

Now that repeal is definitely established, new flavors in foods are the order of the day. This for example: roast your leg of lamb in the usual way, but baste with equal parts of sherry wine and water. The difference is deliciously surprising.

Some of the most attractive of the new cooking and serving utensils are made in spun aluminum that refuses to tarnish. Light and practical, there are some new things on the market that look just as well on the table as in the kitchen.

The greatest criticism of Americans returning from travel in England is the unimaginative preparation of foods. Yet how many Americans use canned foods intelligently, adding unusual flavors? Have you ever added a bit of sugar, a clove or two and a slice of onion to tomatoes? Try it sometime and see.

An old fear seems to have been laid to rest—that ripe olives in cans are frequently poisonous. I haven't heard of anyone being poisoned in years, and the packers say that a long, long time ago when they hadn't learned how to process and pack so well, there was some difficulty, but that is years in the past. Attractive mittens worn with winter sports with the old-fashioned one sleeve, around the down the other sleeve, the mittens out of the sportsman stops to skate or a ski.

New Baby Every 4 Minutes in Texas

Austin, Texas, Feb. 14.—A new baby every 4 minutes, 320 every day, 10,100 a month—that's the record of Texas, who showed 121,508 births registered with the State Bureau of Vital Statistics in 1934. This total carries an increase of 8,800 over 1933, when 112,669, the greatest number of births ever registered with the Bureau in any year, were registered.

The 1934 records showed an excess of 57,956 births over the total deaths. Last year in Texas there were 63,552 deaths recorded, or one death every 8 minutes, 174 each day, or 5,296 per month. Or putting it another way, about two babies are born in Texas each time a death occurs in the State.

The Bureau of Vital Statistics is a part of the Texas State Department of Health and is charged with the duty of seeing that every birth and death occurring in the State is properly filed and registered. Such records are known as vital statistics because the information contained is of vital importance to the person himself, the community, and the State.

Texas is now in the Registration Area for both births and deaths. Every one can assist in helping to keep our records at this high requirement if they insist that every birth and death occurring in their family be registered.

An old stuffed chair, transplanted from the living room, his legs were stretched out on bright, chintz-covered cushions. His face was a little paler than usual; there was still a hint of brown in it. On his arm, in a white sling, spoke of what might have been tragedy.

"It's nice out here," said Tony, "isn't it?" "Nicer than it ever was before," said Ellen. She smiled swiftly. "Nicer than I ever knew it could be."

"I was afraid," Tony's voice was serious, "that you'd be unhappy. Ellen, coming back this way. I mean, with me. I was afraid that your mother—" He fumbled for words, "would be just a little too close. That you might be lonely for her."

"Not too close," said Ellen, "but her head was suddenly lowered above her knitting. For among the flowers she had visioned a tall casel and a white-haired woman working upon a canvas that the easel held.

"Let's not talk about my mother," said Ellen, "not just now. It's enough to know that we're here and that she knows we are and that she understands. We've done enough going backwards. Tony, let's go forward for a while."

Perhaps five minutes passed. Perhaps ten. The cigarette was thrown away and another cigarette was lighted. And then Ellen was conscious of the opening click of the garden gate. She stepped forward and stood waiting and, as she waited, she saw an approaching figure coming toward her down the garden path. It was a messenger boy in the rural idea of a uniform—the village had progressed in three years! Ellen recognized him as the youngest who worked around the post office.

"It's a letter from the city," she told Tony as she took a square envelope from the boy's hand. Eagerly she slit it open, glanced through it.

"It's from Claire," she said, "and it's full of news. Nice of Claire, isn't it, to be writing? She says she and Gay are sending me a wedding present."

"It's about time somebody did," said Tony. He spoke complacently. Ellen went on, ignoring the interruption.

"Claire says," she told Tony, "that she's taking Dick out for the week-end to Long Island to meet her mother. I didn't know she had a mother..."

"I wonder what that means!" said Tony. Ellen moved over, very quietly, until she could rest her head against Tony's cushion-propped knee. She sighed ever so gently, but Tony heard the sigh.

"Happy?" he asked. "Darling," Ellen answered. "I wish everybody in the world," she said—and as she spoke her small world, Gay and Sandy and Jane and Claire and Dick, were passing her, in review—"I wish that everybody were just one-half as happy!"

A little leaf, gallant and golden and frail, came floating down from one of the autumn trees. It touched Ellen's cheek in passing. Perhaps it was the first promise of another spring!

Rambling 'Round New York With HUGH KENNY

Suburbanites always take a bit of chiding when heavy snows come. Third rails get buried in the snow. Trains are always delayed. Manhattanites, tied to their stuffy city apartments take the chiding in summer.

Fifty thousand men worked to clear Manhattan of snow, recently. And even so, threats of investigation for the delay were heard.

Valentine Tea of Adelpian Club Attended by Many; Past President of State Federation on Program

About 120 guests responded to invitations from the Adelpian Club to a delightful valentine tea in the home of Mrs. Baxter Johnson on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. R. D. Oswalt, Mrs. Geo. Self and Miss Martha Schlagal as hostesses.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. J. U. Fields of Haskell, a past president of Texas State Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. F. T. Sanders of Haskell. They were presented to the guests by Mrs. M. S. Henry. Other members of the house party were Mrs. A. F. McMillan, Mrs. A. Y. Beverly, Miss Frankie Kirkpatrick, Mrs. J. A. Johnson, Mrs. T. S. Haney, Mrs. Esca Brown, Mrs. Raymond Burrow, Mrs. Merl Kincaid and Miss Frances Hill.

Mrs. Henry presented an interesting program, which featured a thoroughly enjoyable and instructive address by Mrs. Fields on "Historic Gardens of the Old South." Mrs. Sidney Miller played as a piano solo, "The Feast of the Flowers." Frances Henry Johnson read two numbers, "My Grandmother's Rocking Chair" and "A Valentine." A vocal solo, "You're Just a Flower from an Old Bouquet," was sung by Miss Josephine Griffith. Mrs. J. H. Lanier, Jr., read "The Last Duchess" and a valentine number. A quartet composed of Misses Griffith, Geraldine Carter, Doris Oswalt and Peggy Cooper, in colonial costumes, sang two numbers, "Moonlight and Roses" and "Just an Old-Fashioned Garden." The musical numbers were accompanied by Mrs. Miller.

At the conclusion of the program, the guests were invited into the dining room where tea was poured from a beautifully laid table by Miss Frankie Kirkpatrick, president of the club, and Mrs. T. S. Haney, president-elect. The table had for a centerpiece an arrangement of red carnations and red lighted tapers were placed at either end. Mrs. Esca Brown, Mrs. Raymond Burrow, Mrs. Merl Kincaid and Miss Frances Hill assisted in serving rolled sandwiches, open sandwiches, sandbar cookies, candied ginger and salted almonds. Plate favors were cupid's a-top candy hearts.

As soon as every one arrived the fun began with a game in which every one followed a red string until he found a heart upon which was written something for him to do. Each stunt proved very entertaining. Many other games which were as equally interesting followed.

Refreshments of red heart sandwiches, hot chocolate and cake were served to: Jimmie Williams, Joe Mark Magee, Ted Crosnoe, Charles S. Clark, Que Meason, Clark Rennels, Joe Bob Baker, Margaret Long, Wilma Jo Loveley, Thelma Lois Moore, Frances Henry Johnson, Joyce White, Miss Mildred Cogdell, their teacher, and Robert Lewis, the honoree.

Miss Treva McLain and Ernest Spears Married Last Week

Miss Treva McLain became the wife of Ernest Spears in a wedding Wednesday night, Feb. 6, at Knox City, where Rev. W. D. Green, Baptist pastor, performed the ceremony at his home. Mrs. Jack Sparks, sister of the bride, and husband of Abilene were present.

Mrs. Spears is owner and operator of the Modern Beauty Shop, which she established in Crowell in November, 1933. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. McLain of the Foard City community, where she spent most of her life. After graduating from Crowell High School with the Class of 1932, Mrs. Spears completed a course in beauty culture at Abilene.

Mr. Spears is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Spears and has lived here over 15 years. In 1930 he graduated from Crowell High School, where he had been prominent in athletic and class activities, securing three letters each in football, basketball and track and two in baseball. He served as president of the Junior and Senior classes. At present he is associated with his father in the operation of Spears Blacksmith & Welding Shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Spears are now at home in an apartment in the Lanier building.

Crowell PTA Will Have Founder's Day Pageant on Tuesday

February seventeenth is the anniversary of the founding of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. At some time during the month all P. T. A. units celebrate Founder's Day and dwell in loving memory on the far-sighted generous women who first had the vision which made the organization possible. The Crowell unit celebrates the 38th anniversary of this worthy undertaking with a Founder's Day Pageant at the High School auditorium next Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Not only is honor paid to the women who conceived the great plan but to the ideals on which they built their lives, ideals which have yielded rich fruit of child welfare throughout the world.

The founders of the Texas branch of the National Congress and the local pioneers in the work, are also worthy of honor and the 26th anniversary of the Texas Congress is celebrated in this same pageant.

Everyone, whether he is a P. T. A. member or not, will enjoy and appreciate the program on next Tuesday afternoon.

W. M. S. MEETS
The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church met Monday, Feb. 4, at the home of Mrs. B. F. Ringgold with Mrs. Ringgold and Mrs. Shelton Ferguson as joint hostesses.

Fathers Digged," given by nine women. Supplies were brought for a box to be forwarded to Laredo. A Bible contest was enjoyed after which refreshments were served to twenty members.

The Missionary society has instituted a "hen" campaign, in which each member of the church is being asked to give a hen. Mrs. W. W. Kinsey has so far, sent in the prize hen, the sale of which brought $1.08.

COLUMBIAN CLUB
With Mrs. T. L. Hughston as hostess and Mrs. Dow Miller as leader, the Columbian Club met on last Wednesday afternoon.

Current Magazines were used for the study of the afternoon and Mrs. Miller reviewed a splendid article from the Atlantic Monthly. Mrs. T. N. Bell used an article from the Golden Book as the basis of a very interesting talk.

Mrs. J. R. Self gave a demonstration of how the teachers present the "Music Appreciation" course to the pupils and played several of the new records which have recently been purchased for the course. This is an annual project of the club.

The hostess served a delicious dessert course to club members and Mrs. Florence Gaitner of Waco, a guest of Mrs. S. J. Ferguson.

Radio-Phonograph Campaign at Local Schools Extended

The campaign to secure sufficient Victor records to exchange for a radio-phonograph for the school, is still on. Through the courtesy of the company the time limit has been extended. This means that it is still possible for the Crowell school to have a combination radio-phonograph at no cost of money whatever. The only requirement is to secure old Victor phonograph records, scarred, cracked or broken, and send them to the factory, in exchange for which a new combination machine will be given.

A large number of records have already been secured but there must be more if the offer can be claimed.

If anyone in Crowell or in the rural districts has one record or more and will give them to the school, a telephone call to the school will bring someone to the home for them. Or the records can be left at the school or at The News office. They will be appreciated very much and will help materially in securing the radio for the school.

Other schools have attained the goal and have the machine in operation. Crowell can do it with the help of everybody who has a Victor record they are willing to spare for a good cause.

Ida Mae Happy Again

CAZIZ, O. . . . Ida Mae Stuhl 36, (above), is happy again. She's back at work in her beloved coal mine, digging coal. Last year Ohio's Mine Chief found a law that said women couldn't work in coal mines. But Ida Mae owns part of the mine and the courts reversed the decision.

This-That, Etc.

By Typo Wrighter

Well, fellow citizens, we have a real treat for you this week. Yes, authority has spoken—not only spoken—but has set it down in black and white for Typo to pass on to posterity. Throughout the years this gentleman to whom we refer has been preparing for this event. His keen eyes, accurate judgment, careful analysis and intestinal fortitude (whatever that means) have co-operated in at last bringing from his pen an announcement of colossal importance. Flash!—TOM BEVERLY announces his all-time ALL C. H. S. basketball team and here 'tis:

- Forwards
- Gordon Bell Jack Russell
- Center
- Travis Hays
- Guards
- Dick Todd Alton Bell

So that's that. If you feel that you can pick a better team, then don't keep your opinion to yourself—let us have your selection. Incidentally the above team covers a period of about 15 years.

All-Star Grid Team

Now we have the fever. This business of selecting all-star teams and predicting is contagious so far as Typo is concerned. The result is that we now must name some sort of all-star team. We will not attempt to name an "all-time" CHS team of any kind because we have not lived here long enough, however, we have seen all of the football teams in action since the season of 1927 and here is our all-star CHS football team for the period 1927-1934, inclusive:

- Ends
- Lester Patton Lewis Gibson
- Tackles
- Bill Dunn Ernest Patton
- Guards
- John Todd Recie Womack
- Center
- Bob Oswalt
- Quarterback
- Dick Todd
- Halfbacks
- Ragsdale Lanier Haskell Norman
- Fullback
- Guy Todd

In announcing this team, we offer sincere apologies for any injustice done. Don't confuse this as being an "all-time" CHS selection. From what we hear, consideration would have to be given to such names as Awbrey, Glover, Rader, Jimmy Ashford, Cates, Jno. Carter and of course, many others in selecting an all-time team. But those boys were playing before the 1927 season, so we are willing to let someone else select the all-time team.

It also comes to our mind that the above squad represents the "cream of the crop" (in Typo's opinion) of the gridsters coached at CHS by Grady Graves, since the 1927 season was also his first one here.

Not So Funny After All

In glancing over our exchanges last Saturday we got quite a laugh upon reading an article in the Anson paper in which the people were requested to turn in fire alarms to the phone office, since several times in the past fires had been reported otherwise with the result that the fire boys had to get out and hunt the fires. Somehow the article doesn't seem so funny since reporting the account of the necessity of pushing Crowell's fire truck to the scene of our own fire this week. Now it's time for Editor Henslee of Anson to laugh.

With 1934 Seniors

One of the most active girls in class and school activities in the history of CHS is living up to her past record during her freshman year at Abilene Christian College. She is Miss Lona Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson, who live south of Crowell. Besides appearing regularly on the honor roll, she has been honored in other ways. This week The News received a release from the ACC news service announcing that Miss Johnson had been elected to membership in the Pickwickian literary club on Feb. 7. The club requires prospects to present samples of their writing, have faculty approval, and receive favorable vote of the club before accepted for membership. A magazine, "The Pickwickian," is published by the club and members are required to write for it.

Lona is also a member of the Latin club, the "Pan Handle" club and the Scribblers club. Seven others were accepted into the Pickwickian club last week. The states of Tennessee, California, Kansas and Texas were represented by this group.

Similes

As disregarded as the "Keep Off the Grass" signs on the court house lawn.

As tame as a race between Dod Greening's mail truck and the local fire truck.

As thick as good basketball players (male and female) at Margaret.

As sure to happen as a bad accident at the street intersection on the northeast corner of the square.

About Women

Miss Helen McCollam, RFC stenographer, whose father is an unemployed bricklayer, will shortly marry William B. Dern, son of the Secretary of War.

Miss Elsie Janis, known as the "sweetheart of the A. E. F.," because of her fine service in entertaining overseas soldiers, is now a radio announcer.

Mrs. Cordelia MacDonald, who was the original "Little Eva" in the first performance of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," is still living near Boston at the age of 86.
