FUNERAL FOR MRS. WOMACK HELD FRIDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. R. P. Womack, 84, resident of Foard County since 1886, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. B. Ribble, last Thursday morning, were held at the First Baptist Church Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. B. Fitzgerald, assisted by Rev. Geo. E. Tarrentine, pastor of the Methodist Church. Special music consisted of a mixed quartet composed of Mrs. A. F. Wright, Miss Dorcas Oswald, Eli Smith and E. A. Dunagan, who sang "Rock of Ages." Mrs. Wright sang as a solo, "Sunrise." Mrs. Arnold Rucker was accompanist at the piano and Mrs. Solomon also accompanied on the violin.

Funeral arrangements were in charge of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Underwood of the Underwood Funeral Home of Vernon, assisted by the Norris Funeral Home of Paducah. Pall bearers were: T. P. Reeder, C. W. Thompson, H. E. Ferguson, John Raser, Joe Brown, and T. B. Klepper. Flower bearers were: Mrs. Texia Mae Gooden, Mrs. W. B. Short, Mrs. Herman Greening, Mrs. A. F. McMillan, Mrs. Walter Thomson, Mrs. Ed Bruce, Miss Cora Carter and Miss Minnie Ringgold.

Surviving Mrs. Womack are three sons, W. R. and T. E. Womack of Crowell, and E. S. Womack of Dallas, and six daughters, Mrs. Ida Reavis, Mrs. Ben Greening, Mrs. Clarence McKown and Mrs. Curtis Ribble, all of Crowell, Mrs. H. L. Kinsey of Bogata, and Mrs. Mattie Hutchison of San Dimas, Calif., all of whom were present at the time of her death. Mrs. Womack was unable to come. Mrs. Hutchison had made an extended visit with her mother and other relatives here in September. Mrs. Womack is also survived by 17 grandchildren and 2 great grandchildren, all present for the funeral except five.

Long Christian Life
Mrs. Womack was converted and joined the Baptist Church at an early age and lived a long, beautiful Christian life, a life of service to others, emblematic of the spirit of Christ, whom she served so long and faithfully. She was a charter member of the Crowell Baptist Church and since her death Mrs. N. A. Crowell is the only surviving charter member of the local church.

In the early days of this thinly populated area Mrs. Womack took every opportunity to minister to the sick, going for many miles and tending as long as necessary to nurse a sick friend or neighbor back to health. When misfortune came to her neighbors she considered it a privilege to help them in any way possible.

Born in 1851
Mrs. Womack was born near Brandon, Miss., on Feb. 14, 1851. Her maiden name being Mattie Shields and, at the time of her death, the last surviving member of her family. She was married to R. P. Womack at Brandon on April 18, 1868. To this union 11 children were born, nine of whom survive.

Following their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Womack moved from Mississippi to Tarrant County, Texas, in 1879. From there they later moved to Dallas County and then in 1883 they removed to Taylor County. In 1886 they moved to the area which now comprises Foard County which at that time was Hardeman County.

Mrs. Womack's husband preceded her in death, March 10, 1931. Up until that time they had been married for a period of 52 years, 6 months and 22 days, at that time the longest record for any couple in this county.

Out-of-town relatives here to attend the funeral were Howell Hallmark of Amarillo, James Henry Kinsey, Ft. Sill, Okla., Recie Womack and Mr. and Mrs. W. Dee Johnson of Wichita Falls, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Womack and Miss Mattie Belle Greening of Dallas, Mrs. L. L. Kinsey of Bogata and Fred Kinsey of Graham.

INJURED IN CAR ACCIDENT
Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Bowers and their son, Gary Coffey, of Beaufort, who are here visiting Mrs. Bowers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Coffey, were in an automobile accident on the Northwest Highway near Roanoke on their way to Crowell to spend the Christmas holidays. The baby was uninjured but Mr. Bowers received severe cuts on the head and neck and Mrs. Bowers was badly bruised and her car was completely wrecked. Mr. Bowers, who was driving, was blinded by smoke on the highway and ran into two other cars that had been wrecked only a short time before. Mr. Bowers is recovering satisfactorily.

They expect to return home the latter part of the week.

WPA Sewing Room Making Garments For Needy Folks

Starting with 3 sewing machines in November, the Crowell W. P. A. sewing room has grown now to the point where 10 machines are used and the quota of workers has been raised to about 21.

Mrs. Tip Edgin, supervisor of the project, states that the room is kept busy all of the time and that since starting, around 300 garments have been turned out.

Work in the room consists in the making of dresses, shirts, underwear, trousers, and overalls. The supervisor states that it is rather indefinite yet as to the distributing of the products because of the change in relief agencies and distribution to the needy.

The project calls for a nine-month work period.

VERNON IS TO INVADE LOCAL COURT FRIDAY

After losing to Paducah Monday night, Coach Graves' Wildcat cagers will be more determined than ever to take the laurels from Vernon's Lions here Friday night. This game will open the Northwest Texas Cage Conference this season.

Vernon is reputed to be one of the strongest teams this season, having won one game and lost one. The losing game was with the strong Harold Hornets, ending with a score of 29 to 18. Crowell's record is marred by one defeat in a series of eight practice games. Starting with only one squadman back from last year, Coach Graves has staged a build-up in his team which indicates hopes for a good standing in the conference in spite of the poor prospects at the first of the season.

Wiggins, reserve on the '35 team, is the tallest man on the squad, playing regularly at center position. Dunagan and Middlebrook are playing as regulars in the forward positions while Patterson and Zeigbig are starters at the guard positions. Reserves include: Merrill Allee, Joe Eddy and Junior Nelson at forward positions; Sam Crews, center; Bob Lilly and Goodloe Meason at guard stands.

Reports received from the County Tax Collector's office indicate that a fair return has been made on the collection of general taxes for county, state and schools up to the first of January. Average returns are being made since the first of the year, the report shows.

County taxes, including poll taxes, amounted to $24,393.94 for the year 1935, up to the first of the year, while redemptions received amounted to $3,737.94. For the state, current taxes amounted to $6,828.69 while redemptions were $1,196.25. Taxes for the Thalia school amounted to, current, $3,992.61 and $296.35 redemption taxes. A total of $40,445.78 had been collected by the collector's office up to January 1. The total valuation for county and state, excluding poll taxes, amounts to $100,122.08 for 1935.

Preliminary Work is Advancing at Humble Company's Location

Work is advancing on the preparations for the drilling of a test well by the Humble Oil and Refining Company, 15 miles west of town, located on the Tom Burnett ranch. Excavating is completed on the dump pit which has been going on for some time and heavy equipment is being placed on the location preparatory to the erection of a derrick. It is probable that actual drilling work will start soon.

PRECIPITATION RECORD IS HIGH

Precipitation in Crowell during the past year exceeds all figures dating back to 1926, a check of the rainfall records shows. In 1935 Crowell received 27.69 inches of rainfall, the greatest since 1926 when 36.96 inches was received.

In the month of May Crowell received 9.81 inches which was the most moisture received during any other month of the year. In September 4.80 inches were received. Figures for the past five years show the following totals: 1934—20.83, 1933—19.27, 1932—25.57, 1931—22.46, 1930—23.13. The greatest amount of rainfall reported for Crowell since accurate reports have been kept, 1913, was in 1919 when 39.49 inches were received.

During the month of June Crowell received no rainfall.

Gas Well is Killed In Texaco Field

After causing a small amount of excitement the gasser in the Texaco field west of town was killed and put under control the first part of the week.

The well, the old No. 5, had been leaking gas due to a cracked gate and had to be killed before it could be repaired. The Haliburton Oil Well Cementing Company of Lawton, Okla., had to be called in to kill the well.

Reports are not definite just now as to what will be done with No. 5. It had been an oil well and the company was attempting to make a gasser out of it.

PADUCAH TAKES GAME WITH 22-19

Getting away to a slow start Crowell's Wildcats failed to get ahead in a game with the Paducah Dragons, at Paducah Monday night. The score ended with Paducah holding 22 points while Crowell totaled 19. Once during the game Crowell ascended to within one point of the Dragon's score, but with the fouling-out of Wiggins they fell behind.

Although Paducah played a better game than they did here last week, the Cats were not up to par on their basket tricks. Patterson seemed to move rather slowly, helping hold the Crowell boys on the losing side of the score board.

Out of eight games played this season this is the first time the Cats have met their Waterloo. All of these games have been practice games and do not count in the Northwest Texas Cage Conference.

Middlebrook scored high for Crowell while Damron piled up the points for Paducah. Scoring by quarters, in favor of Paducah at the end of each: First, 7-2; second, 14-5; third, 20-17; and fourth, 19-22.

Negro Man Held For Assault Here Sunday

Arrest of one negro man and the aid of medical service to another was the result of a cutting scrape in the colored section of Crowell about 2:30 Sunday morning.

Fred Davis is in jail on charges of assault with attempt to murder while Arthur Williams is recovering from cuts on the arm, forearm and shoulder blade made by an "East Dallas Special."

TEAL ARRESTED ON OLD CHARGE

John Teal, one-time Foard County resident, is en route to Texas to face a 17-year-old murder charge, the Associated Press reported from Lubbock, Tuesday. He is charged with the slaying of a school teacher in Bailey County in 1918.

Now 50 years old, married and known as William Owens, he had been assistant roundhouse foreman for the Union Pacific railroad since 1922. He was arrested Monday by Sheriff Tom Abel of Lubbock and Jim Cook of Muleshoe.

Teal will be tried for the killing of Miss Evelyn Monte, Bailey County school teacher, April 7, 1918. She was shot to death after a school picnic. Sheriff Abel quoted Teal as saying he killed Miss Monte because she wouldn't marry him.

District Attorney Charles H. Dean of Plainview said that rewards totaling $1,000, offered for Teal's arrest, were still in effect.

It will be remembered that Deputy Sheriff L. D. Campbell of Vernon, former Foard County sheriff, traveled over six thousand miles and put forth much effort in an attempt to capture Teal. The first trip made by Campbell was to Ryan, Okla., after a long distance telephone call. On this trip Campbell was accompanied by R. J. Thomas, present sheriff of Foard County, who was then City Marshall of Crowell.

Production Credit Association To Meet At Memphis Jan. 8

The Memphis Production Credit Association is endeavoring to approach 100 per cent attendance at its annual meeting which will be held in the courthouse at Memphis, Jan. 8, 1936, according to J. H. Smith, secretary-treasurer. Quite a little rivalry has developed among the 38 associations over the state, each trying to beat the others in the percentage of members in attendance at the meetings. Every member has been asked to bring at least one guest.

In addition to the election of directors for the coming year, an interesting program will be given, including an address by an officer of the Production Credit Corporation of Houston. The manager and directors of the association will report to the members on the 1935 operations of the association, telling them how many farmers and stockmen have been served, how much income the association has received, the amount of expenses for the year, and the net earnings available for reserves.

Texas farmers and ranchmen are showing a rapidly increasing interest in these new credit institutions, Mr. Smith said. During the past two years much interest has been shown by the members of these associations in the fact that these are strictly farmers' and stockmen's organizations in which each member has a voice in the management. They have found that through the selection of their own leaders as directors of the associations they can have an active part in seeing that the associations are serving the purpose for which they were established.

FIVE FROM FOARD BUY IRRIGATED ACRES

Purpose of the committee's work is to help farmers readjust farm debts. The Resettlement Administration now handles the work formerly done by the Farm Debt Adjustment Administration.

FARMERS AND BUSINESS MEN ELECT OFFICERS

Election of officers and the appointment of committees featured the meeting of the Farmers and Business Men's Association, held at O'Connell's Tea Room Monday night, starting at 7 p. m. The committee appointed for the Monday Trades Day program consists of: A. Y. Beverly, M. F. Crowell, Eli Smith, and John Raser.

Members of the Forty-fifth Anniversary invitation committee are: H. E. Ferguson, J. R. Beverly, and J. C. Thompson. This committee will undertake the task of notifying and inviting all old-timers to the celebration. H. E. Ferguson, of the committee, stated, "No matter where they are, in other towns and states, we don't want to slight a single one." Persons will be asked to send in names of old-timers and their addresses later on.

Shelterbelt Trees Are to Be Planted In County in 1936

A certain amount of tree planting, under the Shelterbelt program, will be permitted this year, in Foard County, officials state. About a ten-mile strip of sandy land in the Rayland and Riverside area is the probable location of the planting program in this county.

First planting in this section will begin about Monday of next week 15 miles southwest of Vernon, in Wilberger County. This information was received by the Wilberger County agent, Fred Rennels, from E. H. Kemp of Chillicothe, Shelterbelt assistant.

Trees for the Foard County planting will come from one of the several nursery sites which the Shelterbelt project has in this section of the state. A site is located on the S. W. McLarty farm near Rayland.

The trees are usually planted in rows about eight feet apart in strips 165 feet wide. The strips are placed about a mile apart where the land is suitable. In an effort to help stop dust storms such as was experienced last spring and to aid in erosion work this project covers a vast amount of territory.

GROCERY STORE IS BURGLARIZED

Allie Golleher is being held on charges of burglary. In a statement made to County Attorney J. E. Atcheson, Wednesday, the defendant admitted that about 10:35 Monday night he entered the Olds Grocery Store by breaking a window in the front of the store and eating cheese, crackers and canned meat. He also admitted taking a box of crackers and a can of smoking tobacco which he threw away somewhere near the rear of the store. In making this statement he said that he was under the influence of liquor at the time and did not distinctly remember everything, but did remember breaking into the store.

Upon investigation of the burglary, Sheriff Thomas took articles which had been thrown around the store to Wichita Falls for fingerprint identification. When the prints were checked it was revealed that Golleher had handled the articles.

County Judge's Office Is Sought By Callaway At Next Election Date

By FRED HALE
Swine Husbandman

Claude Callaway has made announcement this week of his intention to run for the office of County Judge, in this announcement Mr. Callaway has to say:

"I desire to submit my candidacy for County Judge, subject to the action of the democratic primary. I realize that the office I am asking for is one of the most important in the county, and perhaps carries more responsibility than any office in our county. However, there is no duty that comes to this office that I am not acquainted with. In asking the people of Foard County to elect me to this office of many responsibilities, I assure you that I feel that I am qualified to take care of every phase of work that comes to this office.

"I would feel ungrateful indeed, if I should fail to mention the fact, that the people of Foard County have been extremely nice to me in past years, for which I still owe a debt of gratitude that I will never be able to repay. Yet these facts inspire me to present my candidacy for election again, assuring each individual of Foard County that I will still maintain that same degree of appreciation, for everything said or done in my behalf.

"It is my intention to see every voter of Foard County before the primary and ask that you accept this announcement as my personal solicitation for your vote and influence until I have the opportunity to see each of you personally."

CARE SHOULD BE TAKEN IN PORK KILLING AND CURING

By FRED HALE
Swine Husbandman

The average farm family consumes about three 225-pound hogs each year. In order to cure and preserve hams, bacon and other pork products so as to prevent spoilage or waste, and to secure the luscious taste and quality desired, certain points of prime importance must be taken into consideration.

Proper temperature, slaughtering, and correct handling of the carcass are necessary to prevent spoilage. After a healthy animal is selected for slaughter, it should be taken off feed and water for twenty-four hours before it is killed. Thorough bleeding is of prime importance and lessens the chance of spoilage of the meat in the carcass. Avoid sticking the shoulder as the knife goes in just in front of the breast bone. After the hog is stuck, one should allow at least six minutes time for complete bleeding. For scalding, use water at a temperature from 145 degrees to 150 degrees. If the water is too hot the hair will set and will be very difficult to remove. For a barrel scald, the temperature of the water should be not over 160 degrees.

After the viscera is removed, the carcass should be split and hung up over night to cool out. In the event of unexpected warm weather, rush the carcass to the ice plant in town and arrange for curing at the ice plant, if possible. Do not salt down hot pork. Quick cooling of carcass after killing will insure a safer cure and less spoilage.

For methods of cutting up the hog for curing, write the Texas Extension Service for their Circular No. C-60. For your immediate information on curing and storage of pork, however, we will say:

A clean, cool cellar, ventilated so as to keep the air fresh, is an ideal place for curing pork on the farm. There are many methods of curing meat, but they are all a variation of two principal methods—the dry cure and the brine cure. The dry cure is very popular and practical in Texas, as it is simpler and requires less handling of the meat.

The principal curing agents are salt, saltpeter, and sugar. Salt when used as a sole curing agent makes the meat hard and dry. Saltpeter is used principally to retain the natural red color of the meat. Sugar reduces the drying effect of the salt, tends to soften the muscles fibers, and imparts a flavor to the meat. Vessels used for curing meat should be of a type that are easy to clean, free from bad odors, water tight, and of sufficient size.

The following dry sugar cure mixture is one of many good mixtures giving good results when the previous killing, handling, and cooling of the carcass has been properly executed. The mixture, for each 100-pounds of meat, is:

- Fine salt ————— 8 pounds
- Brown or white sugar 3 pounds
- Saltpeter ————— 3 ounces

Mix the above ingredients well and rub half of the mixture on the meat thoroughly and pack down in an oak barrel or some other suitable vessel. Place the hams on the bottom of the container, shoulders next, then the bacon sides, and the small cuts on top. Pack the meat with skin side down.

It is advisable to push some of the curing mixture up along the shank bone and some into the hip joints where the ham has been cut from the side.

A week later, remove the meat and rub the remaining half of the mixture on and repack. Information collected at the Lubbock Station in co-operation with the Texas Extension Service shows that it requires less time to cure hams and bacon in Western Texas than is generally recommended.

At Lubbock, Texas, hams kept in good condition after they had cured two days per pound. That is, a 15-pound ham required 30 days in the cure. Bacon, however, will cure when left in the cure only one day per pound. That is, an eight pound bacon will cure in eight days. Ordinarily bacon is left in the cure 1 1/2 days per pound and hams for 2 1/2 to 3 days per pound. After the meat is cured, it should be removed and washed in cool water, (about 60 degrees.) Use fresh water for each batch of meat, as the water when once used gets salty like the meat.

After the meat is washed, it should be hung up to drip and dry over night. The meat is then ready to be smoked. Use hard wood or corn cobs for smoking fuel. After the meat is smoked to a nut brown color, the meat should be allowed to cool and dry before wrapping or storage.

The Texas Station, in co-operation with the Extension Service has found that cured hams and bacon may be kept in refined cottonseed oil in perfect condition. The cottonseed oil prevents mold drying out of the meat, loss of weight, and insect damage. Other storage methods include hanging the cured pieces in a screened smokehouse, free from vermin, insects, or wrapping each piece separately first in paper, then in muslin bags (flour sacks are satisfactory) and suspending in a dry well ventilated building. If tight fitting bags are used and painted with yellow wash (see U. S. D. A. Bulletin No. 1186 for yellow wash formula) the meat will keep in storage.

Write in to the Director of the Texas Extension Service for their Circular No. 60 on the Killing and Curing of Pork, and also the U. S. D. A., Washington, D. C., for their bulletins No. 913 and 1186 on killing hogs and curing pork for detailed information.

NO EX-TEXANS

The letters "ex" belong in the middle of Texas, but never before it.

There are no ex-Texans. There are Texans, though, the world over, leaders in arts and letters, in industry and finance, in engineering and public service. Every one of them will vow "I am a Texan."

The spirit of the Lone Star Staters, demonstrated at this turn into the calendar year that marks an epic century of independence and four centuries of progress, testifies in advance of a great homecoming in 1936.

ARTIFICIAL DIAMONDS

A chemist in a Kansas college claims to have succeeded in making artificial diamonds by quickly cooling molten iron in which carbon had been dissolved. But no one has been able to believe something new has been discovered which will make possible the commercial production of artificial diamonds. Diamonds were made by this method 40 years ago by a French chemist, Henri Moissan. He got his idea when tiny diamonds were found in fragments of iron meteorites. Knowing diamonds were crystallized carbon he attempted to reproduce the conditions which had once existed in the meteorites. Dissolving carbon in molten iron he then suddenly cooled the mass. This caused the outside to harden first forming an outer shell which contracted and exerted a tremendous pressure on the inner substance. When the entire mass had cooled and hardened Moissan dissolved the iron away with hydrochloric acid and found that tiny diamonds had been formed from the carbon. This method has no commercial value, however. The cost far exceeds the value of the diamonds produced.—Pathfinder.

VEHICLE INSPECTION

Many automobile owners appear to lack sufficient pride and sense of obligation to keep their vehicles at mechanical par. This all too human failing is at the bottom of the growing realization of the necessity for periodic motor vehicle inspection.

The National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, long a leader in the automobile safety movement, urges periodic inspection.

tion as an effective means of making the streets and highways safer. John J. Hall, Street and Highway Safety Director of the National Bureau, points out that "inspection" figures from states and cities which require that every car be inspected, reveal that three out of four cars examined are in inferior mechanical condition as respects safety features. Obviously, a car with inefficient brakes, defective or badly adjusted lights, poor tires, wheels out of alignment, broken windshield wipers, or defective steering mechanism, is dangerous. Inspection is necessary to determine where such danger lies and to bring about its elimination.

It is not necessary to wait for a state legislature to pass an inspection law. Any city or town can require such inspection. Memphis, Tenn., has done this, using modern testing equipment and meeting all expenses through a fifty-cent fee. So have Evanston, Ill., and Des Moines, Iowa. And the citizens liked it, asked for more. In the two and one-half months after its testing station opened, automobile fatalities in Memphis fell off 25 per cent from the figure for the corresponding period of the previous year, despite increased registration and gasoline consumption.

Periodic inspection of motor vehicles certainly recommends itself to the serious consideration of public spirited newspaper editors, public officials and all others who are seeking a solution of the automobile accident problem.

AMAZING CAR ECONOMY

If the dream of some of the country's leading metallurgists comes true and the price of aluminum through a much greater output is brought down materially in price, it is likely to completely revolutionize engineering practice. It has been pointed out that in the automobile industry alone the use of cast aluminum for cylinder blocks would cut 35 to 40 per cent from the weight of the engine, thus contributing materially to the performance of the car as well as to its economy.

The possibilities of aluminum cylinder block castings as well as its use for an infinite range of other purposes, both in the automotive field and in other industries, are seen in the employment of a Bohnalite cylinder block for the first successful Diesel-passenger car engine.

This engine, an American design known as the Cummins, placed in a stock passenger car, recently traveled from coast to coast at a fuel cost of a little over $7. It has shown on tests throughout the country that it traveled for about one-seventh the cost of a similar gasoline-powered unit. This engine employs Bohnalite aluminum alloy for the cylinder blocks, cylinder head, crankcase and other important units.

A similar employment of aluminum in gasoline engines would likewise increase their efficiency and economy, engineers declare.

TRIBUTE TO WEEKLIES

Some of the late Will Rogers' philosophic and humorous paragraphs will go down in literary history as masterpieces. Perhaps one of the finest of these is his tribute to the "home town paper," one of his last writings.

"Take away my ham, take away my eggs, even chili," said Will, but leave me my newspaper. Even if it has such purely local news as 'Jim Jones came home last night unexpectedly, and bloodshed ensued' or 'Jesse Bushyhead, our local M. D., is having one of the best years of his career, practically speaking—but they just won't pay him when they get well.' The county seat was packed yesterday with prominent people from out of town, attempting to renew their notes and 'election ain't far off and everybody is up for office that can sign an application blank.' "Now all that don't seem much news to you. But it is news to you, especially when you know the people and they are your own folks. So no matter how punk you may think your local newspaper is getting, why just take it away from you and see how you feel. The old newspaper, I think, is just about our biggest blessing. So let's all read and be merry, for tomorrow the paper may not have enough ads to come out."—Journal-Democrat, De Pere, Wis.

SENSE AND SPEED

It has been rather well established that laws which arbitrarily fix speed limits for automobiles are little protection against accidents. The speed at which one may safely drive depends upon the road and traffic conditions involved.

A high executive of one of the leading automobile manufacturing companies, who has made a close study of speed in its relation to accidents, declares that 50 or even 60 miles an hour over good open roads in the country may be safer than 15 miles an hour in cutting corners in town.

The safe driver is not necessarily the slow driver, but one who uses common sense whether driving fast or slow. Careless driving while turning corners, passing pedestrians or other cars, crossing railroad tracks and maneuvering in congested traffic is the greatest menace to life and limb.

Sense, not speed, is the important factor in determining whether a driver is safe or unsafe.

TEXAS COTTON CROP IS ESTIMATED AT 3,050,000

Cotton production for Texas in 1935 is estimated at 3,050,000 bales, compared to 2,406,000 in 1934, with the average list production per acre of 138 pounds against 112 in 1934. This report comes from the agricultural development department of the Santa Fe Railway Company, publishers of "Earth."

Heavy rains falling in Texas recently have made unfavorable crop conditions. In the Harris County area the damage is estimated at $200,000 to crops and livestock ranges. Rainfall distribution in other sections has been such that a sufficient moisture content is assured for spring crops—the best prospect from a moisture standpoint in several years. The base area for Texas rice has been set at 161,452 acres with a production of 2,256,155 barrels of 162 pounds to the barrel.

CONTEMPORARY COMMENT

Mack Boswell, Plainview-reared boy, whose career began a few years ago as a newspaper man at Crowell has been watched with sympathetic interest and pride by many friends. This week he has gone to Vernon to try his hand at work on a daily, a little larger field than with The Foard County News. Perhaps it gives Mack better opportunities to prove his abilities. At least let us hope so. What a newspaper job or any other job must do, in the long run, is to give one a greater satisfaction with life and with the part he is playing in its drama.

Luck to Mack in his role on a new stage.—Floyd County Hesperian.

Much has been said about the loyalty of actors who will insist on giving a performance regardless of their physical condition or unforeseen obstacles though in most cases such strenuous life only lasts a few weeks or months a year.

But how about the newspaper that has to come out every week and every day of the year, regardless of the scarcity of news, overdrafts at the bank, scarcity of help, breakdown of machinery and a hundred other causes. Their customers far outnumber those of the show people, and while the latter may make apologies when such apologies have to be made to thousands of newspaper readers they are never accepted.—Quannah Tribune-Chief.

Courage is the underwear beneath the more ornate apparel of success and work is the sound boots to keep the soul dry through the slush of failure before the fairer days arrive.—Trail Dust, Matador Tribune.

Valley of the Kings in Famous Carlsbad Caverns

In Carlsbad Caverns, where the Mojaves fought with the turbaned Yumans, lies the American Valley of the Kings. Created as a national park by the government, it was brought to the attention of the world by scientists in 1925, and there is nothing to show that the ancestors of the Pueblos, who still inhabit the region, ever penetrated beyond the giant entrance.

A zigzag pathway leads down to the underground. At the end of the corridor there is an elevator which carries visitors 750 feet below the surface. Passing beyond and below enormous folds of frozen drapery, where the stalactites have grown together in perfect theatre curtain formation, one beholds a Wagnerian stage setting in glowing onyx with lighting effects of delicate pink and rose supported by ghostly columns. The corridors, which lead upward into the misty vaults of cathedral domes. From the subterranean basement miles of intricate galleries and passageways extend through the chambers.

Two great royalty chambers, the king and queen's rooms, are surrounded by throne rooms. Beyond are the rows of temple rooms resembling ancient Egypt, flanked by palaces and altars.

Nature dramatically lights the scenes through thousands of fluted shafts, which produce the color spectrum.

In the Gila valley is the "Primitive City," where excavations have revealed tombs and effigies similar to the discoveries in the Vale of Anahuac accredited to the migrating Aztecs.

Barker Announces For Re-election To Precinct No. 3

A. W. Barker of Foard City makes the following announcement:

"I wish to take this means of announcing my candidacy for re-election as Commissioner of Precinct No. 3 of Foard County, Tex. I have been serving you in this capacity for the past three years and wish to take this means of thanking the citizens who supported me the other times that I have run for this office; I also wish to thank the citizens of my precinct for the support and help that you have given me since I have been serving you as commissioner. "I feel like that I have done my best in serving you as commissioner. I realize that I have been wrong in some instances and have made some mistakes, but I feel like that the mistakes that I have made in the past will be a help to me in the future as I will not make them again and will be more familiar with the work and duties of this office. I can sincerely say that I have always voted for what I thought was the best for the interest of the precinct and the county and against what I thought was wrong.

"During the time that I have served as your commissioner I have tried to keep the roads in good condition and have tried to divide the money that I have spent so as to equalize the work on the roads in each of the different communities that I served.

"I have been one of the commissioners of Foard County that has always voted to pay cash for everything that the county had to purchase, and I can gladly say that we have succeeded in paying cash and have nothing charged against the county that was purchased during my tenure in office.

"Since I have come into this office we have had many things to learn and deal with that commissioner's courts heretofore had nothing to do with. I have filed several worthwhile projects with the Works Progress Administration and have them all approved, and if the W. P. A. continues, and the men are available, I hope to work them all out before the 1st of the year. In filing these applications with W. P. A. I have tried to file projects that would be useful to the precinct.

"I will sincerely appreciate you giving my candidacy your consideration and in the event that I am elected again I will try to serve you in such a way as to justify your faith and confidence."

"Neither Fish, Flesh, Herring"

The expression, neither fish, flesh, nor good red herring means suitable for no class of people; fit for no particular use. Not fish, food for the monk; not flesh, food for people generally; not red herring, food for the poor.

Ski Men Measure Snow To Predict Water Supply

While winter snows fall in the high mountains of the West, State and Government men are planning the most extensive snow measurements since this way of determining irrigation water supplies was first attempted more than 30 years ago. The job has its dangers.

Observers travel in pairs on skis or snowshoes, taking readings at spots marked during summer months. One man, blinded by wind and snow, fell 30 feet into an abandoned mine pit, but lived to tell about it. When snow is loose and the trail must be broken, a relentless schedule is followed, the leader becoming the follower every 15 minutes. When snow is firm and the path downhill, a pace is set through timber and over rocky slopes that often leads to sprawling falls.

More than 160 new routes have been selected and marked this year under the general direction of the Bureau of Agricultural Engineering in Wyoming, Colorado, Idaho, Nevada and Oregon. Prior to this year 292 snow lines had been established in these States and in Utah and California, most of the readings being taken by forest rangers for Weather Bureau forecasts. Eventually it will be possible to forecast water supplies for all irrigation areas which get their water from mountain run-off.

Rowboats Used as "Tugs"

Before tugboats were used, sailing ships were sometimes brought into pier by the seamen, lowering small rowboats or lifeboats and towing the vessel in. In some cases the vessels were anchored in deep water and smaller boats used to transport passengers and cargo to and from the vessel.

The Curve Passer is an optimist—albeit a very foolish one. ### Stephin F. Austin Is Top In Texas History

Stephen F. Austin was selected the most outstanding figure in Texas as by high school students throughout the state following a recent poll conducted by Texas State College for Women (C.W.). Sam Houston ranked second and David Crockett, third.

The nine other famous Texans who lead in the balloting and who will be included in the original Texas Hall of Fame, which is being established at the college, include Moses Austin, James Bowie, James W. Fannin, James Hogg, Mirabeau Lamar, Robert LaSalle, Ben P. Milam, Deaf Smith, and William Travis.

In the near future the college will attempt to secure portraits of these twelve Texas heroes, and later on when funds are available busts will be obtained. These will be placed in the college library.

Four hundred and fifty-two high schools of the state participated in the project. Two ballots were submitted, the final one containing the names of thirty-nine outstanding Texans.

New Orleans Receives Centennial Invitation

Texas' Centennial invitations to Louisiana and New Orleans was extended New Year's day by Lieut. Gov. Walter F. Woodul of Houston, chairman of the Centennial commission of control, who led the Lone Star State's delegation to the Sugar Bowl game.

Lieut. Gov. Woodul's party was received New Year's morning at the New Orleans city hall by Mayor T. Semmes Wilmsley, city and state officials, the consular corps, and representatives of many organizations. In his invitation to the Centennial the Texas official recalled the historic ties between New Orleans and Texas. Later, at the game between Texas Christian University and Louisiana State University, he greeted Governor O. K. Allen of Louisiana and his party, inviting them to Texas during Centennial year.

Both the LSU and TCU bands played at the morning reception. Sight of the six historic flags of Texas, carried on the field between halves of the game by a group of TCU co-eds led by Miss Helen Moody, band sweetheart, brought the 38,000 spectators to their feet cheering. The band, led by Don Gillis, played "Eyes of Texas" as the flags were carried across the field.

The Plow That Turned the Soil With a Singing Sound

Of the many steps by which plows have progressed from the crooked stick powered by the muscles of man to modern methods of turning the soil, none were more important than improvements undertaken by James Oliver beginning in 1852. Oliver wanted a plow that would "turn the soil with a singing sound," says a record of the Bureau of Agricultural Engineering.

Cast-iron plows made about that time were superior to wooden plows, but they wore too rapidly and would not scour properly in the rich, sticky soils of the Mississippi and Ohio Valleys. They "rooted, but would not invert, the soil." Oliver's experiments led him to obtain several patents for the process of hardening or "chilling" the nose and cutting edge of the share. Thus he realized his ambition for a plow that "sang" as it cut its way through rich prairie sod or heavy soil.

A new means of identification by the use of X-ray photographs of the sinuses has been discovered.

"Sacrament" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 12. The Golden Text is: "In the world ye shall have tribulation; but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world" (John 16:33.)
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer: . . . be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life" (Revelation 2:10.)
The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Sorrow has its reward. It never leaves us where it found us. The furnace separates the gold from the dross that the precious metal may be graven with the image of God" (page 66.)

SOLAR TOWER
Inspired by the achievements of an amateur astronomer, the sixth solar tower of its type in the world is rapidly being completed near Lake Angelus, Mich. Its construction was planned and is being completed under the direction of Robert R. McMath, Detroit engineer and amateur astronomer, whose success in making moving pictures of cyclonic disturbances on the sun has made him world famous in the astronomical field. Rising 55 feet above the ground and extending 34 feet below to a six-inch diffraction grating, the silver-domed solar tower is expected to be the finest and most successful in the world when it is completed next April.

CHURCH FORCES TO HOLD MEETS

A state-wide committee representing the Methodist, Presbyterian U. S., Presbyterian U. S. A., Nazarene, Episcopal, Baptist and Christian Churches of Texas, composed of Rev. Patrick Henry of Fort Worth, Rev. R. N. Huckabee of Haskell and Rev. C. E. Matthews of Fort Worth, have designated the week of March 9-13 as Centennial Revival Rally Week, and will direct the holding of an interdenominational rally in each of the following cities: Texarkana, Sherman, Tyler, Houston, Harlingen, San Antonio, Austin, Waco, San Angelo, El Paso, Abilene, Lubbock, Amarillo, Wichita Falls, Dallas and Fort Worth. The combined membership of the cooperating churches is one million two hundred thousand people in Texas.

The Central Interdenominational Committee, of which Rev. R. N. Huckabee of Haskell is chairman, will sponsor many religious features during the Centennial Year of 1936, and this series of rallies will be the initial feature. These meetings are not in the nature of a union revival effort, but rather to urge and challenge every church of every denomination in every community in Texas to hold a revival meeting during 1936.

The program for these one day rallies will consist of a general meeting at 10:30 in the morning; two simultaneous meetings at 2:30, one for women and one for ministers and lay leaders; two simultaneous dinners at six, one for young people and one for men; the rally will be climaxed with a mass meeting at eight. All the speakers for the various meetings will be Texans. The list will be released at an early date.

Many Names for Fungi

There are many names of fungi which remind us of our forefathers' superstitious beliefs in fairies, gnomes and elves, fairy rings and elfin tricks. For example, there are Dryad's Saddles, Fairy Clubs, Golden Spindles, and Dryad's Clubs. These dainty club fungi range from an inch to a foot in height and are colored variously, some being of a clay shade, while others are primrose, ochre, red, or black. There are also many Elf-cups, such as the Scarlet, Orange, Pink and Brown Elf-cups, and a little fungus called Here's Ear or Bat's Ear, which is longer and not so cup-shaped. Answers Magazine.

The Coconut Palm

The coconut palm is so widely disseminated throughout tropical countries that it is impossible to distinguish its original habitat. It flourishes on the coast of the East Indies, throughout the tropical islands of the Pacific and in the West Indies and tropical America.

One Millionth Chevie Of 1935 Will Be Given

Chevrolet's one millionth car of 1935 production is to be presented to the owner of the oldest Chevrolet licensed and in regular use in the United States, according to H. C. Howard, Zone manager, Chevrolet Motor Company, Dallas.

Mr. Howard says, "The millionth Chevrolet built within the current year came off the assembly line at Flint, Mich., on December 12, just eight days after Chevrolet produced its eleven millionth car since the beginning of the company."

He continued "Presentation of the millionth car of the year—a 1935 Standard coach—will be made to the owner whose Chevrolet is discovered, between December 16th, 1935, and midnight Jan. 15, 1936, to be the oldest model licensed and in regular service."

He specified that, to win, the old-timer Chevrolet must have been regularly licensed for operation during the current year, possessing its own 1935 license tags issued before December 1. It must, also, have been licensed as a passenger car, and be equipped with a complete passenger car body. It must bear the original engine and chassis numbers, legible and unaltered.

To enter a Chevrolet for consideration, the owner need only drive it to any Chevrolet dealer's salesroom and submit it for examination, receiving a blank on which he will report the engine and chassis numbers of the car to the Chevrolet Motor Company at Detroit, where the company's records will determine which is the very oldest in service.

SENIOR PRESIDENT RESIGNS

F. L. Rennels, Jr., has resigned as president of the 1936 Senior class of Crowell High School. He will begin the last part of his high school career in Vernon, where his parents have moved, after mid-term. His moving will be a great loss to the high school, to his classes, and especially to the Seniors.

F. L. was a member of the High School Band two years, and was a participant in the one-act plays of 1935. He was also sports editor of the High School News staff. Sam Crews, vice president of the senior class, will now become president.

KNOW YOUR WILDCATS

This is Merrill Allee's first year to go out for basketball, and he seems to have made a success of it. He plays in the forward position and plays it well. "Rat," as he is called, will probably have another year to play basketball.

Garrett Middlebrook is another outstanding contribution of Margaret to Crowell's basketball team. He plays in the guard position and does a very good job of it. This is his first and last year on Crowell High School's basketball team.

HOME ECONOMICS NEWS

Monday afternoon the girls of the Home Economics I Class modeled their dresses which they had made in class this semester. Mrs. Tanner Billington and Miss Gussie Todd were the judges. Helen Harwell and Louise Eubanks were given first place. Margaret Woods and Lenagene Green won second.

State Health M. D. Issues Warning On Spinal Meningitis

Austin, Texas.—A definite increase in the number of cases of epidemic cerebro-spinal meningitis has been noted in Texas, according to Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer. While the number of these cases is not alarming as yet, preventive measures should be followed. The best method of escaping this disease is the prevention of overcrowding either at home or in public. Overcrowded conditions in camps, barracks, jails, or other institutions where men are brought in close contact are most favorable for outbreaks. Children and old people are more susceptible than those of middle age, and Negroes contract meningitis more frequently than whites. Persons with colds and coughs should stay indoors if possible, should practice personal hygiene and cough into their handkerchiefs. The early symptoms of meningitis are those of a cold or influenza. If one has headache, backache, fever and chilly sensations, he should consult his family doctor at once. Healthy carriers spread the disease from their nose and throat to those who are susceptible. Most adults are not susceptible to the disease. The earlier the diagnosis is made, the better are the chances of recovery. All suspicious cases must be isolated.

NEW EDITOR

G. D. Reeder has been promoted to the position of Sports Editor on the High School News staff that has just been vacated by F. L. Rennels. G. D. is a member of the football team and is expected to make an excellent editor.

BOOTS

Santa Claus has gone west! By the stamping that has been going on in the halls since Christmas, it seems that every little boy in the school wrote Santa for cowboy boots. And not only the noise, the appearance! Did you ever see a great big, long-legged spider walking around in a human being's clothes? If you have not, come to the high school and watch them stumbling up and down the halls.

An increased enrollment is expected; however, there will not be any promotions to high school from the grammar school.

SYNOPSIS

Following his father's bitter criticism of his idle life, and the realization that he need not expect any immediate financial assistance, Hal Ireland, only son of a wealthy banker, finds himself suddenly without funds but with the promise of a situation in San Francisco, which city he must reach from New York, within a definite time limit. He takes passage with a cross-country auto on a "share expense" basis. With five others, Hal begins his journey. Four of his companions are his interest: a young attractive girl, Barry Tafford; middle-aged, Giles Kerrigan; Sister Anastasia, a nun; and a nondescript individual whom he instinctively dislikes, Martin Crack. Barry's self-withdrawal annoys him. To Kerrigan he takes to at once. The driver, Miller, attempts to abandon the party and abscond with their fares and baggage. Hal follows him.

"Train comin'," Pulsipher murmured. Miller chuckled. "I seen that it's a ways back," he said. And for another two miles it sped away on its divergent course, the bursts from the whistle followed by its faint screams for passage—hurry, hurry, hurry, as the blackened breath as if it drew the whole country to cross beneath its night.

Then they came to Akron, a town of buildings that grew irregularly higher toward a nubbin the tallest, in the modern style. Pulsipher knew it was Akron from the smell of rubber. The city had lunch places, and it was important. It was near six o'clock. Miller frankly distrusted the "Shoppie" that had caught Pulsipher's bright and hungry eyes, and he wouldn't go in. But the lady made it hard for the other.

"Impossible for John—not to follow her. The dog had dragged her down the street on a goodly piece, and Hal and Ferrigan let others fill one table, avoiding solicitation of Crack's lazily playful look. "You and the princess aren't walking round each other flattered, are you?" said Kerrigan.

"Wouldn't be sure," said Hal, catching the friendly, brown eyes. "Why?" "Oh, I haven't got any Kreuger in me," said Kerrigan quickly. "I just wondered if we could be having a happy time—the three of us—or whether I had to be a referee."

"I think she's a grand girl," said Hal, calmly. "You'll forgive my saying what Kreuger blood's got to do with it." "Kreuger made matches once with a Mr. Toll," said Kerrigan. Hal laughed and started to say nothing, but then Barry came in, and then having a smile of assurance at having been waited, he barely included Hal in its beginning, and the end of it, with a tired drooping of the eyelids, he all for Kerrigan. And that looked Hal smartly, even while he tended to chuckle to himself.

"I know a weakness in you, beautiful, and I'm still going to use it," said Kerrigan, as he found himself watching Barry carefully, alertly, as if he had just discovered something pleasant. "The truth is," said Kerrigan, when he'd sat down, "we ought to be so sociable."

Barry glanced up from her menu innocently inquired. "I thought we're," she said, "aren't we?" "All right, we are," said Kerrigan. "You admit it. Then let us set our hearts to each other, even if we—"

"Oh, let's order something besides that," Barry said. "The body, know." "Yes," said Kerrigan, on a sigh, "I know the body, but my sorrow, it is yours having?" "Hal suspected Barry of putting Kerrigan off in whatever he had to do about to suggest; but when the waitress returned away, she said to Kerrigan: "as it pains—your idea?"

"To us who are pure there—"

"Kerrigan said. "Here's what I thought—just for an awfully long time. Each of us gives a biography of him, or her, or you, see—like the suburban curries in the city paper—" at Kerrigan. "You get questions, too." "What do you like best—to do?" said Kerrigan at once. "Read," she said. "You've read a lot?" he said. She smiled easily. "I learned to read when I was six, and I've read ever since. I've learned almost everything I know from reading—what I like, what I don't like, what I want, I copied characters in books until one day I found I didn't have any idea who I really was at all. And that frightened me a little."

Lunch came then, and she seemed to stop sooner than she had at first intended. Hal hoped the obituary notices would be ended too—excluding his question to Barry. He couldn't ask her any of the things he found he really wanted to know, and such passable questions as he thought of sounded silly. But when the dishes were settled and the iced tea and coffee situation straightened out, Kerrigan looked at him and said, "Now your question."

Barry looked up at Hal with a frank, quiet confidence that gave him unexpected pleasure. "If you—when you make good in the movies, and have lots of money," he said, "what will you do?" Her eyes were faintly surprised by interest and they stayed on his appraising the picture he'd provoked for her. "I hadn't thought," she said. "If—if I should arrive, . . . That picture was dubious, but I've got unguessed genius in my eyes, neither reckless with hope nor intimidated by disappointment. "If I should arrive and they plugged me and finished me, I'd go to England—France, to see it, to see if it's the place I've thought it might be. I'd live there for a while, and then . . . I don't know."

Her lighted eyes came back slowly and without bitterness to the fragile, cheap tearoom, strayed expectantly to the table opposite, where Mrs. Pulsipher's account of Niagara Falls had struck a snag in her husband's doubt that it was there they'd been charged sixty cents for tough steak with yesterday's onions. Whatever Barry hoped to see, she didn't see. Hal wondered if the loneliness in her look was accidental, he felt that if she'd been aware of it, she wouldn't have let it appear. "Now it's your turn," she said to him.

Announcement Made For Commissioner's Post By J. M. Marr

J. M. Marr in making announcement for re-election as Commissioner of Precinct No. 4 states:

"I wish to take this means of announcing my candidacy for re-election to the office of Commissioner of Precinct No. 4, of Foard County, Texas.

"In the beginning I wish to say that I have held this office but one term and if elected it will be my second term.

"During the time that I have served as your commissioner I have always tried to take care of our precinct and Foard County in a business-like manner, and have always voted for the things that were of interest to Foard County and against what I thought was wrong.

"During the year that I have served we have had many duties to perform besides road building and road-keeping. The time has come when all persons who have heretofore been on direct relief will be placed on the county, and it has been my desire to try to keep the dole off of the county as much as possible, believing that those needing relief should be taken care of by our State and National Government, if possible.

"It has also been my policy to keep from buying anything or handing out anything that we could possibly get by without. I realize that this is a small county and does not have the valuation for taxable purposes that other counties have and therefore do not have the money to spend on things that other counties have to spend for.

"I have tried to keep all the roads in the precinct in good condition and have spent what money I have had in such a way as to try to benefit each community that I serve. At the time I took the oath of office my precinct fund was in the red some five hundred dollars and for that reason I have been unable to do everything that I would like to have done. The fund is out of the red now and I feel like that I will be able to do a little more in the future than I have in the past as I have the money to do so with.

"It has always been my policy to run the county finances the same as I do my own, and that is, pay cash for everything that you buy.

"I will sincerely appreciate your consideration in the next election, and if I am re-elected I will try to get a full dollar's return for each dollar of the county's money spent."

And a brief statement of the cause of action being alleged as follows:

Suit for trespass to try title as well as for damages, wherein plaintiffs allege that they have full title to the hereinafter described tracts of land by virtue of the Five, Ten and Twenty-five year Statutes of Limitation, alleging actual possession and such facts as constitute limitation under said laws; and that the defendants' claims are not known but are inferior to plaintiffs' claims and title;

Plaintiffs pray Judgment for damages and for costs of suit, and also for title and possession, for Writ of Possession and for removal of all clouds from their title to all of that certain tracts or parcels of land, situate, lying and being in Foard County, Texas, and being all of Sub-surveys No. 2, 9, 13, 18, 19, 21, 26, 27, 28, 46, 55 and 63, containing 10 acres each, and the South 8.78 acres of each of the following: Sub-surveys No. 69, 71 and 72; all in the Crowell Realty Company's Subdivision of the West one-third of the Abbe Luce, Sr., Survey, as shown by the map of said Subdivision in the Plat Records of Foard County, Texas; and all of said tracts containing in the aggregate, 146.34 acres of land.

Herein Fail Not, But have you before said Court, on said first day of the next term thereof, this Writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Tea Honoring Recent Bride is Given Here

A pretty affair of the winter social season was a tea honoring Mrs. Tom Reeder Jr., the announcement of whose marriage was recently made, given at the home of Mrs. N. J. Roberts last Friday afternoon with Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. O. R. Boman as hostesses.

A color scheme of pink and green was used in all appointments, pink cyclamen being the favored flower throughout the reception rooms, pink and white sweet peas also being used.

Mrs. Boman greeted the guests at the door and presented them to a receiving line composed of Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. B. W. Self, Mrs. T. P. Reeder and Mrs. Reeder Jr., honor guest.

Little Miss Mary Evelyn Edwards presided at the guest register. Mrs. H. K. Edwards invited the guests into the dining room where the color motif was further emphasized. The table, covered with an Irish linen lace cloth, had for its centerpiece a white cake with a miniature bride and groom decorating the top. The cake was surrounded by sweet peas and ferns. Pink punch was poured by Mrs. Gordon Bell from a beautiful cut glass punch bowl. Others assisting in the dining room were Miss Frances Hill, Miss Martha Schlaeger and Mrs. T. V. Elliott, who served the punch and sandwiches and cookies from two-tiered sandwich trays.

Mrs. Roberts opened a short program with "Down Memory Lane," in which she told, in a clever way, of her friendship for the bride and her family, through the years. Mrs. I. T. Graves presented "Blue Roses." Jovzelle Tysinger gave a reading "I Wish You" and June Billington gave a toast to the bride and led her to an adjoining room where a surprise shower of beautiful gifts awaited her.

The little Misses Mary Evelyn Edwards, Jovzelle Tysinger and June Billington were dressed in green taffeta frocks.

Mrs. S. E. Tate will be leader for the County Federation meeting which will meet in the court house next Thursday afternoon, Jan. 16.

County Federation is To Meet January 16

The meeting will begin at 10:30 in the morning and the program will open with a song, Mrs. H. E. Ferguson will talk on "My Burning Bush," "Protecting Trees; and Ground Covers Under Trees" will be the subject of a discussion by Mrs. Allen Fish. "Planting and Feeding Trees" will be discussed by Mrs. H. Schindler and Mrs. B. W. Self will talk on "The Boulder Dam."

The Community Club will be hostesses at the lunch hour when a covered dish luncheon will be spread.

The afternoon program, a fine arts program, will have for its first subject "House of Steinway" which will be presented by Mrs. George Self. Mrs. Roy Todd will have for her subject "Edgar A. Guest." Mrs. M. O'Connell will talk on "Richard B. Harrison" and "Color in the Movies" will be discussed by Mrs. R. L. Kincaid.

PTA Meeting Held on December 17th

The Christmas meeting of the local P. T. A. was held on Dec. 17 at the home of Mrs. A. L. Kincaid. Mrs. Sidney Miller led a Christmas devotional.

The primary department of the school rendered a pleasing Christmas feature, "Geography as a Basis for World Citizenship" was the subject of a talk by Mrs. L. A. Andrews. Mrs. Sanders gave the outstanding features from the current P. T. A. magazine.

Mrs. R. L. Kincaid, president of the local unit, who attended the State convention of the Congress of Parent and Teachers which met in El Paso in November, gave an intensely interesting report of that meeting.

The fifth grade mothers served delicious Christmas cake to a large number of members and friends.

First Presbyterian Church Regular services will be observed at the Presbyterian Church, Sunday, Jan. 12. Sunday School at 10 a. m. and preaching at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. will be held.

The pastor is anxious to see every Presbyterian at these services, not primarily for his sake but as the testimony of your love and loyalty to God.

This being the first preaching day of 1936, the pastor will bring a special "New Year's" sermon at the morning services. The subject for the evening service will be, "Flowers From Gethsemane." Hope to see you.

J. A. PHIPPS, Pastor.

PACIFIC TRAVEL BOOMS One of the most significant results of the turmoil in Europe is the increase in ocean travel from American Pacific ports. Innumerable tourists who would otherwise have visited France, Germany, Italy and England, are turning instead to Hawaii, Samoa, Fiji, New Zealand and Australia. Thousands of natives of New Zealand and Australia who were already traveling in Europe and would normally have preceded home via the Suez Canal, canceled reservations, crossed the Atlantic and caught fast New American liners from San Francisco and Los Angeles. Accommodations on practically all American ships for the Antipodes and South Seas are filled for this winter season. Such an unexpected boom is a good thing for business all over America and a blessing to the American Merchant Marine which has to compete with foreign vessels cheaply built and much more cheaply operated.

Many of our cousins from Australia and New Zealand are seeing America for the first time, becoming acquainted with American goods, American standards of living and American hospitality. This creates better understanding among nations fronting on the Pacific.

The increase in travel from America to New Zealand and Australia caused the creation of Semi-Weekly Farm News (Dallas) and The Foard County News, both for one year—$2.00.

BRIAR ROOT MUST MATURE BEFORE USED FOR PIPES

The roots from which briar pipes are made are at least a hundred years old. They must mature that time in the earth before they can be used for this purpose, notes a writer in Answers Magazine.

The root may come from France or Algeria, but those which are used for first-class pipes are dug in Corsica. Algerian roots are inferior because there is too much sand in the soil.

The briar roots arrive at the factory in sacks. An expert tells at a glance which are most likely to be suitable. His selection is governed by size, quality, and grain. The chosen roots are then passed on to an operator for rough-shaping, which produces a caricature of a pipe.

After the root has been rough-shaped it is passed on to another operator who shapes it into a pipe bowl. A third operator gives the final trimming, when it is ready for boring and rough-polishing. This last process brings out the grain in the wood and the pipe bowl takes on a deeper hue.

Pipe stems are supplied separately, as an entirely distinct process is required to mold or cut the vulcanite into the required shapes and sizes. Finished pipes are carefully scrutinized and rejected for the slightest flaw.

Alcohol in Body Cannot Ignite, Chemists Assert

According to popular belief, the body of a person soaked with alcohol is combustible. Cases of the spontaneous combustion of the body have been reported, especially in France, when the first instance of this kind is said to have happened in 1725.

The spontaneous burning of an alcohol-soaked body is a popular belief in Rumania, according to a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer. Prof. A. Elfer of Cluj, in a lecture before the Hygienic society, is reported by the Bucharest correspondent of the Journal of the American Medical Association as saying that "in past centuries it was earnestly deemed possible that the alcohol laden breath of a tippler may catch fire from the glow of an over or even from his own pipe."

In 1847, the Countess Gorlitz was said to have become ignited spontaneously in Darmstadt, Germany, and burned to death. A commission whose members included the greatest chemical experts of the age, Liebig and Bischoff, studied this case and completely refuted the theory of spontaneous combustion.

EISTEDDFOD, EXPRESSION OF WELSH NATIONAL LIFE

Eisteddfod (pronounce it "Ice-teehvod," with accent on the "teh" and the "th" soft) is said to be the supreme expression of Welsh national life. Long, long ago the original legislative and judicial functions of the bardic assembly were transferred to London. Nowadays they are part of the ordinary government machinery of Great Britain. Yet the Welsh have remained to this day a distinct nationality, states a writer in the New York Times. Their national institutions and national heroes are wholly unlike those of the Saxons, their memories are centuries longer than Saxon memories and the whole of their national life is contained within a language which is Sanskrit to the Saxon. Their sense of nationality has never been stronger than it is today, partly perhaps because theirs is a cultural nationalism. Independence for the intellect is its doctrine.

Every Welshman is potentially a chaired bard. It may in fact be taken as a law of human nature that no two Welshmen can meet without holding an eisteddfod of their own then and there. As a matter of fact, big and little eisteddfods, or eisteddfodau as the world would say, are held the world around, whenever there is a sufficient number of Welshmen to form a choir.
