This work was put in motion by the Farm Credit Administration at Washington for the purpose of saving farm homes from wholesale foreclosure and to enable farmers to adjust their debts.

A special representative from Washington to assist the state chairman, R. J. Murray, in new set-up plans for this state, will be at the Paducah meeting and will be accompanied by an officer of the Federal Land Bank of Houston.

Three committee members for each county in the state, appointed by the governor, will be announced soon, according to Mr. Gregg.

PLANS FOR NEW CONSOLIDATED DISTRICT MADE

Work of tearing down the Ayersville school was started Monday by C. W. A. workers under the supervision of Chas. Blevins, president of the board of trustees for the school district resulting from the consolidation of Ayersville with West Rayland, which was authorized by voters of the two districts on May 8.

Material from the old Ayersville frame structure will be used in improvements at West Rayland, which will include the creation of two new class rooms, study hall, library and office by leveling the floor and adding partitions to the auditorium of the building.

Plans are also being completed for the construction of a separate 80x100-foot building which will serve as a combination gymnasium and auditorium. It is planned for this new frame structure to include two class rooms also.

School officials expect to complete this improvement program by the time school opens early in September. Members of the school board are: Chas. Blevins, president; R. G. Whitten, secretary; Ralph Gregg, C. L. Cavin, L. F. Ward, Luther Tamplin and Richard Johnson.

J. Bailey Rennels, West Rayland superintendent for the past five years, will continue in this capacity with the consolidated system for the 1935-36 term. Next year the school will include a total of six teachers. High school subjects will be taught by Mr. Rennels and Edwin Reed and Mrs. Estelle Turner, who will teach in the intermediate department. Mrs. Howard Bursey and Mrs. Bailey Rennels are the other intermediate teachers. Miss Cora Carter will have charge of the primary department.

Ten grades will be taught during the coming term. According to Supt. Rennels, the school hopes to have a fully affiliated 11-year school within the next few years and will start working toward that end this year.

Two new school buses with all-steel bodies are to be secured by the board. The recent school census taken in Foard County credited West Rayland with 120 scholars and Ayersville with 77, making a total of 197. According to these figures the new school district will be third largest in the county from a scholastic standpoint, being exceeded only by Crowell and Thalia.

Interest Rate On Federal Bank Loans Reduced for 1 Year

The interest rate on all Federal Land Bank loans made through National farm loan associations will be reduced to 3 1/2% for all interest payable in the one-year period commencing July 1, 1935, and to 4% for all interest payable in the two-year period commencing July 1, 1936, according to J. C. Thompson, secretary-treasurer of the Crowell National Farm Loan Association. This announcement was made June 6th when Mr. Thompson was notified of the new loan rate by A. C. Williams, president of the Federal Land Bank of Houston and General Agent of the Farm Credit Administration of Houston.

This temporary reduction of interest on Federal Land Bank loans having installments due prior to July 1, 1938, is the result of new legislation, the Farm Credit Act of 1935, which was signed by President Roosevelt June 3. Interest payable on installment dates occurring after July 30, 1938, will be at the original contract rate, which is 4 1/2% on loans now being made through National farm loan associations and varies from 5 to 6% on loans made prior to April 1, 1935.

The Farm Credit Act of 1935 also provides for another important innovation. Under its terms, the Land Bank Commissioner now may make loans to finance the purchase of farms by deserving tenant farmers. Formerly, Commissioner loans could be made only for the purpose of refinancing debts, for repurchasing farms lost through foreclosure and for working capital. The Act extends to January 1, 1940, the time in which the Land Bank Commissioner may make direct loans to farmers on first and second mortgages. The Commissioner loan plus any prior encumbrances on the property may not exceed 75%.

This test is located on the Leslie McAdams ranch, 1,270 feet from the south and 1,940 feet from the west lines of Section 35, Block "L," S. P. R. R. survey in Foard County. No. 7, located approximately 1,500 feet over the line in Cottle County was abandoned as a dry hole early in April at a depth of 3,894 feet.

No. 6, the last producer brought in by the Texas Company, is on the Leslie McAdams ranch and was completed Nov. 29. The well came in flowing 2,000 barrels daily of high grade oil, accompanied by a heavy gas flow, estimated at 5,000,000 cubic feet. The formation of sandy lime was topped at 3,546 feet and was penetrated to 3,581 feet, when it blew in and flowed naturally until closed.

The new test is about 1,400 feet east and 110 feet north of No. 6. Both are in Section 35. The other three producers are in Section 36, just south of No. 35 and are on the L. K. Johnson ranch. They are about 25 miles south of Mollie Low well that has created so much excitement in Childress County.

Goodyear "G-3" Tire Meets Overwhelming National Approval

Akron, Ohio, June 2.—One of the most unusual and spectacular surveys ever conducted by an American manufacturer has just come to an end in New York City with the arrival there, following a two-months' "tire hunt," of Joseph A. Faurot, one time Deputy Police Commissioner of that city and the man who first used fingerprints as evidence in an American courtroom.

The famed detective's inquiry has revealed overwhelming national approval of the new "G-3" All-Weather Tread tire made by Goodyear.

Setting out from New York with James Cannon, ace Manhattan newspaper man, Faurot visited parking lots, gas stations, garages and back yards from New York to San Francisco and from Winston-Salem, North Carolina, to Detroit. Wherever he paused, he "third-degree" car owners for tire clues. They interviewed thousands of tire users and the results of this inquiry produced evidence of the outstanding performance of the "G-3" in all parts of the nation.

"I have been gathering evidence for a long time," Faurot stated on his return to New York. "I guess

Rid Yourself of Kidney Poisons

Do you suffer burning, scanty or too frequent urination; backache, headache, dizziness, swollen feet and ankles? Are you tired, nervous—feel all unbrung and don't know what is wrong?

Then give some thought to your kidneys. Be sure they function properly, for functional kidney disorder permits excess waste to stay in the blood, and to poison and upset the whole system.

Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are for the kidneys only. They are recommended the world over. You can get the genuine, time-tested Doan's at any drug store.

THE Foard County News

T. B. KLEPPER, Editor-Owner. MACK BOSWELL, Asst. Editor.

Crowell, Texas, June 13, 1935

FOARD'S FAITH

Over one year ago the voters of Foard County authorized the issuance of bonds of this county to the amount of six thousand dollars for the purpose of buying right-of-way on Texas Highway No. 16 from Crowell south to the Knox County line at the Wichita River.

This bond issue was authorized by a near 4 to 1 majority because Foard County people believed that the State Highway Department would carry out its part of the deal at an early date. According to county officials at the time of the election, the Department had indicated its willingness to provide work within a comparatively short time on the new right-of-way as soon as the county made provision for securing it.

The commissioners' court found but one logical way to secure the funds for purchasing the right-of-way—and that by a bond issue. As a result they took the matter to the people of the county. Despite considerable objection to the proposed route for the new right-of-way determined and approved by the Highway Department, the issue carried 367 to 118 on May 18, 1934.

The court promptly acted in good faith and the right-of-way was purchased. High hopes were held that work relief would be provided during the 1934-35 winter through the letting of a grade and drainage contract on the new route. Now we wonder if such work can even be expected for 1935-36 winter.

Foard is a small county and its taxable valuations last year were only around $3,800,000, yet in 1927, when the valuations were close to $5,000,000, Foard County voted a $400,000 bond issue for highway improvement after assuming thousands of dollars of indebtedness prior to that time for the purpose of highway development in the county. In proportion to its wealth, we believe Foard has gone much farther than the average county in making provision for highway development.

We have acted in the best faith with respect to the State Highway Department. Now, we are only FAST WHEAT HARVEST DELIVERIES PLANNED BY FALLS REFINING CO.

In order to provide fast deliveries of petroleum products during the wheat harvest, Falls Refining Co. has added another truck and has employed Sewel Roy as a new member of its local staff. Day and night service will be provided.

ICE CREAM FACILITIES INCREASED AT HARWELL'S

In order to provide for increased business in connection with the ice cream and malt department that he started April 30, J. E. Harwell has purchased a 60-gallon dispensing cabinet to replace the 30-gallon cabinet that has been used since the department was started at Harwell's Variety.

The floor of the west show window has been removed this week and the counter freezer and hardening cabinet will be placed in this space so as to provide additional room for the new and larger dispensing cabinet.

LeRoy Bisbee, formerly of Benjamin, devotes full time to this department and numerous times during the day it is necessary for other members of the store's staff to assist in providing for the heavy demands made for the department's products.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our most sincere thanks for the many acts of kindness shown us during the illness and death of our loved one, Mrs. Otis Ross and children, and other relatives.

expecting the co-operation that the Department itself had indicated was forthcoming within a comparatively short time if the county carried out its part on the deal mapped out by State Highway officials.

We sincerely believe Foard County has done its part completely and that if such co-operation deserves to be rewarded, then a grade and drainage contract should be let on the new right-of-way within a very short time, followed by a paving contract entirely across the county on Highway No. 16, a distance of about 19 miles.

RAILROAD WEEK

"Railroad Week" is being observed throughout the United States from June 10-16. While Crowell cannot be termed a railroad center in any sense of the word, yet one has but to look back over local history to see the important part that our one railroad has played in developing this town and Foard County and it is nothing more than right at this time for local people to pause and consider facts along this line.

Foard County's first major development came with the arrival of the old Orient Railroad in 1908. The first passenger train over this line reached Crowell Sept. 27, 1908. The railroad continued as the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient until Aug. 1, 1929, when it started its existence as the Panhandle & Santa Fe. It has since operated under that name. Vern Walden, present station agent, has served in this capacity for the past five years.

Besides paving the way for the development of this county, railroad taxes have been among the heaviest in the city and county for 27 years and have played a major part in the support of the city and county governments, school systems, maintenance and building of roads and highways, and various other causes for which tax money is spent.

Too often we must lose that which we have before we appreciate it. Consider for one moment the change in local conditions that would result if we did not have our railroad, especially with the wheat harvest about to get underway. Without our railroad, property values would decrease, inconvenience would result, prospects for future development would be greatly decreased and a very important source of tax revenue would be cut off.

We are glad during this "Railroad Week" to pay tribute to an organization serving this community in good times and hard times, in fair weather and bad, and which stands ready to play its part well with respect to any situation that may arise in the future.

"God the Preserver of Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 16.

The Golden Text is: "The Lord giveth wisdom; . . . He keepeth the paths of judgment, and preserveth the way of his saints" (Proverbs 2:6-8.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "He will fulfill the desire of them that fear him; he also will hear their cry, and will save them" (Psalms 145:19.)

The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The relations of God and man, divine Principle and idea, are indestructible in Science; and Science knows no lapse from nor return to harmony, but holds the divine order or spiritual law, in

REV. STAPLETON WRITES FROM NEW LONDON, MO.

The following letter has been received from Rev. O. C. Stapleton, who recently resigned as Foard City-Trusscott Methodist pastor:
New London, Mo., June 8, '35.
Dear Friends of the Trusscott and Foard City Communities:
We arrived in New London, Mo., Friday, May 31, at 2:30 p. m. It was a rather hazardous trip as we met with hail, rain and high water from the time we landed in Oklahoma until we arrived at our destination, and the Missouri River at St. Louis at this writing is four feet over Federal Highway No. 61. However, if it had not been for the rains we would not have been able to have enjoyed the profusion of wild flowers that beautified the landscape along the highway.
Our trip took us up highway No. 71 through Kansas City, and east from there over highway No. 24 to Hannibal. In going this way we missed the detours. It has rained most every day with few exceptions since we arrived here. Hardly any of the farmers have been able to plant their corn yet, but today dawned fair—tomorrow promises to be the same. This will enable the farmers to plant corn by Monday and if it is late fall they will make a bountiful crop.
We have a delightful parsonage home. Brother Elovins left us a fine garden which we are enjoying immensely. He has a name of growing a good garden when everyone else failed. He and his splendid family hold a warm spot in the hearts of the people of this town and charge and we feel sure that it will be the same in the Trusscott-Foard City charge and communities.
May God be with you until we meet again in our prayer. We are, Very sincerely yours, Rev. and Mrs. Stapleton.

which God and all that He creates are perfect and eternal, to have remained unchanged in its eternal history" (page 470.)

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

by Charles E. Dunn

Christian Stewardship.
Lesson for June 16: Duet. 8:11-18.
Golden Text: 1 Corin. 4:2.

How do we spend that marginal part of our income not devoted to necessities? The answer is a sure revelation of character. What do we do with our spare cash is a very clear indication of the kind of men and women we are.

Rev. Chas. E. Dunn

A careful estimate shows that 24c out of the average American dollar is devoted to living costs, 21c for luxuries, 14c to waste, 15c to miscellaneous items, 11c to investments, 9c to crime, 5c to government, 2c to our schools, leaving only 1c for church support. The fact that we spend twenty-one times as much on the various comforts and pleasures of modern life as we do on our churches is most revealing. It demonstrates how dimly we fail, as a nation, to apply the principles of Christian stewardship.

How are we to correct this tragic habit of devoting only a tiny fraction of our wealth to education and religion? First of all, there must be a spiritual understanding of our church budgets. A parish canvass should never be inaugurated without prayer. Secondly, Christian folk must be kept thoroughly informed of the program of the churches, both in its local and benevolent phases. Information is the mother on interest.

How much each person should give to church and charity can be decided by a careful analysis of one's income and probable expenditures. Most families could give a tenth of their means to the promotion of religion if they managed their finances in accord with a carefully planned budget. The giving of a tithe has Bible sanction, and should be heartily commended to all not in straitened circumstances.

St. Paul sums up our duty in this matter in his famous advice to the Corinthians: "Upon the first days of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him."

Pontiac Builds More Cars in May Than Any Month Since '29

Pontiac, Mich., June 13.—In May the Pontiac Motor Company built more cars than in any single month since June of 1929. H. J. Klingler, president and general manager announced today.
Output for the month was 19,406 units, bringing total production of 1935 models through May to 89,964 cars or approximately twenty per cent more than were produced in the full twelve months of last year, Mr. Klingler stated. May this year exceeded the combined total for May of the two previous years. Last May Pontiac built 7,129 models, he said.
A significant factor in this year's performance to date is that not since the boom years has May and substitute in lieu thereof the following:

"ARTICLE XVI, Section 20. (a) The open saloon shall be and is hereby prohibited. The Legislature shall have the power, and it shall be its duty to define the term 'open saloon' and enact laws against such.

Subject to the foregoing, the Legislature shall have the power to regulate the manufacture, sale, possession and transportation of intoxicating liquors, including the power to establish a State Monopoly on the sale of distilled liquors.

"(b) The Legislature shall enact a law or laws whereby the qualified voters of any county, justice's precinct or incorporated town or city, may, by a majority vote of those voting, determine from time to time whether the sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes shall be prohibited or legalized within the prescribed limits; and such laws shall contain provisions for voting on the sale of intoxicating liquors of various types and various alcoholic content.

"(c) In all counties, justice's precincts or incorporated towns or cities wherein the sale of intoxicating liquors had been prohibited by local option elections held under the laws of the State of Texas and in force at the time of the taking effect of Section 20, Article XVI of the Constitution of Texas, it shall continue to be unlawful to manufacture, sell, barter or exchange in any such county, justice's precinct or incorporated town or city, any spirituous, vinous or malt liquors or medicated bitters capable of producing intoxication or any other intoxicants whatsoever, for beverage purposes, unless and until a majority of the qualified voters in such county or political subdivision thereof voting in an election held for such purpose shall determine such to be lawful; provided that this subsection shall not prohibit the sale of alcoholic beverages containing not more than 3.2 per cent alcohol by weight in cities, counties or political subdivisions thereof in which the qualified voters have voted to legalize such sale under the provisions of Chapter 116, Acts of the Regular Session of the 43rd Legislature."

Section 2. Such proposed Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at a special election to be held throughout the State of Texas, on the fourth Saturday in August, 1935, at which election all voters favoring said proposed Amendment, shall write, or have printed on their ballots, the words:

And those voters opposed to said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

production gone ahead of normally the peak month of the year. Yet this May—so far as has been the retail demand—Pontiac plant operated at highest possible capacity and produced 700 more cars than just ended than in April.

Several times during the month of cars manufactured in one day crossed the 1,000 mark. "Our problem so far as manufacturing automobiles to meet the demand," said Mr. Klingler, "is not, as we have been familiar with the manufacturing processes involved, we have succeeded in turning out more than in the preceding months. By reason of an high output of cars we have been able to make quick delivery of any production."

SLUMBERING GOLD

Final Installment

OPSIS: Speed Malone, gambler, and Ed Maitland, a seafaring New Englander, were partners in the gold rush of '97. They met in a crowd that was a Frenchy, the fisherman, Rose, the beautiful girl who fell in love with Maitland; Fallon, of the miners, who resent- ed the interest in Maitland; and time prospector; Gar- net, who gave Maitland and Speed the clue that led to the trail; and his drunken partner, who was drowned after a fight. Speed killed a Skagway—a cheat man—shell game—and months later arrested and put in jail for murder. He got out, but waited for Lefty, who of- fered him to get back the gold he had been carrying for the prospector where Drew Garnet were stationed—he captured by his enemy, but Maitland and Pete him as Fallon was about to shoot him. They made for their horses, by one route, by another. Led by the lead, they found Dalton's cabin. The second morn- ing Maitland staggered in mortally and died before he could tell where the claim on Mounties arrest Speed for the murder (of the innocent) of a man on Lake Lebarge. Garnet had long thought the man Siwash was a blind for prospector who wanted to find the gold discoveries to him- self and the dying Dalton. He thought Maitland had had a letter had sent to Owens mention- ing gold find, Rose Valery, the girl, started her story, and she decided to sing in the mine when a man who heard her told her he was going to take her and Rose Valery, the girl, and a surprise witness, telling her story from the crowd murmured, fearing another objection.

"Part of Dalton's letter read," Rose quoted evenly, "You wouldn't recognize me on sight, I've been living native style, to keep the prospect and so on covered. Wait at the head of Lake Lebarge till the trail's clear after the freeze-up. If we miss connections on the lakes, camp there till spring, and if you don't hear from me before then, float the outfit down to the creek the drawing shows."

"That's how I know the accus- ed men are innocent. My motive in explaining this is to turn the Law's vengeance where it belongs, on a man who has taken human life, the man who shot the U. S. Marshal in the train hold-up. I mean Fallon. My motive is to see him ride into his own deadfall and laugh in his face!"

Her eyes flashed at Fallon's clenched hand. "If it takes proof to open—" the low, vibrant tone of the words seemed to fill the room—"it's in his hand. The lucky, clover-leaf nugget. He was afraid of Malone's interest in that piece of gold. It disappeared from the marshal's safe when he left Skagway. A telltale bit of evidence he couldn't leave at large. But a fascinat- ing keepsake he wouldn't de- stroy. He's trying to shift it now! The luck piece—the proof that outplays and hangs him! Do I win?" Her voice lifted with an in- describable taunting challenge.

Fallon was on his feet—savagely, hate-maddened, yet somehow still commanding himself and the mute attention of the Court. "You'll hear my answer now!" he said, in a hoarse, rasping shout. "If I hang, I don't swing alone. That man—" he pointed at Speed in the dock—"was the partner of the stranger who rode the bay. I've figured his trail. He's thought to be drowned, off the George E. Starr. He calls himself 'Speed Malone.' Since we're talkin' of right names, that man is Buck Tracy, sometimes known as Buck Solo—the most notorious desperado and gunman that ever come out of the Northwest!"

While his hearers stiffened un- der the shock of the announcement he flung at them, he wheeled on Rose with a movement as swift as light.

"As for you, you b— —!" he yelled—

Only one pair of eyes caught the lightning gleam of the drawn gun. There was a stunning double report. Fallon's gun went out of his hand as if he had thrown it away. With a blankly staring look he sagged in a crumpling fall, dropped by a bullet in the brain from a gun which Speed had jerked from the holster of the belated police guard.

It seemed that his body was still falling when Speed jumped the courtroom floor and leaped for the open window.

The fractional margin of another instant or of one wild shot might have carried him through. Then, with the river before him and a long shore-line of wharves and docked barges, there is no telling what the Mounted Police might have had to write on their flawless man-getting record.

But the odds were too steep. A gun crashed as his boot touched the sill, and Speed fell backward into the courtroom.

For an instant the court stood dazed in the swirling smoke.

The bar of the prisoner's dock broke in splinters; Maitland was struggling in the hold of two police guards, to reach his partner.

Yet even in that frozen moment the wheel of Justice turned. Judge Gugas looked down on the fallen outlaw with a curious stillness, and then at Wade, whose response, though no one heard it, was trans- lated to the police guards.

"Release the prisoner."

Half-lifting Speed out of a wide- ening pool of blood, Maitland had a blurred awareness of Pete on his other side. The outlaw leaned against their supporting arms, deeply breathing the cool breeze from snowy peaks that came through the open window.

"A doctor—" Maitland tried to say, but his heart strangled the words in his throat, and tears rained on his partner's reddened shirt.

Speed looked up at him mistily and shook his head. "I don't ask for no better—run of luck than this, Bud. Always figured I'd— fall in some mountain pass alone—and here—"

He paused at something beyond his power to say. "We both got what we looked for—and more—on'y not where we was look- in'." His eyes rested on the sun- burnished gold of Pete's hair, and a stray back to his partner with a ghost of his old-time ruminating smile. "Gold is where you find it, like—Steiner said."

The strength seemed to ebb from him; he looked dimly at the waver- ing pools of light and shadow on the wall, and then in wonder at a bright glory of cloud floating across the far azure glimpse that showed through the window open- ing. It was as if a mirage had crossed his eyes in their last gleam of life.

But something of that same tenacity of will which had held Dal- ton against the cliff brought him back for a moment, and Maitland heard him say, as he drifted out on that last trail, "Give Rose a hand, Bud—she run a great bluff for ye. Tell her—I was plumb wrong—about women. Tell her—how much—I liked the singin'!"

INSURANCE AND RECOVERY

Consideration of the drain of depression expenditures on the nation's resources, it is cheering to note that individual Americans have begun to rebuild their estates for the future. Their purchases of new life insurance increased more than 10 per cent last year, according to estimates of the National Association of Life Insurance Un- derwriters. It was the first year since 1929 that this item of the collective family budget was higher than in the preceding year.

This is not only an encouraging index of present business condi- tions, showing an improvement in individual fortunes; it is also an indication of recovery thought. It reveals a new stimulation of the desire of every far-seeing man to make provision for future emer- gencies. Every section of the United States participated in the improvement. In dollars, the total of new life insurance purchases is estimated at 14 billions, an increase of more than a billion and a quarter dollars over the year 1933.

The estimate shows that, at the end of 1934, the people of the United States owned 98 billion dollars of life insurance. This total repre- sents the investment of approxi- mately one-half the entire popu- lation of the country, and is an en- couraging sign that the founda- tions of recovery are being well laid.

QUANAH NINE LOSER IN GAME WITH CROWELL

The Crowell ball club drove Cecil Mitchell, ace Quanah pitcher, from the mound with a barrage of six hits and six runs in the first inning of the Cotton Belt game at Quanah Sunday afternoon, which Crowell won, 12 to 5. Two other Quanah pitchers were used in attempting to stop the Crowell attack.

Faircloth relieved Mitchell in the first inning and pitched until the 7th, when he was relieved by Garner, who pitched the rest of the game.

Jim LaRue, Crowell catcher, was the stick artist of the game, collecting three doubles and two singles in five trips to the plate.

Skeet Raspberry allowed Quanah only eight scattered hits and aided his team's cause at the bat by hammering out a triple and a single.
