CHAPTER III—Huldy, at once Jenny's secret, mercifully... becomes the subject of favorable gossip in the Valley. Will apparently is blind to the fact. Wandering in the night she sees Will, running, and in an ungovernable rage.

CHAPTER IV—Entering his unlooked for, Will had seemingly damning evidence of his wife's unfaithfulness, man who he knows is Seth... breaks from the... With the echo of his wife's laughter in his ears, Will... He overtakes and after a struggle chokes to death, though Humphreys... Pierce's house the leg is... Jenny goes to break news to Huldy. She finds Bert... with the woman. When he... Huldy makes a mock of... sympathy, declaring she... use for "half a man" and... and she does so.

CHAPTER V... in October that Will was... and Huldy went away... Marm Pierce's farm... leg was healed; and Jenny... in attending him. She... Huldy's message, and he... it uncomplainingly.

"the one that takes a lot... in the way folks look... She was like a cat, always... herself. Took as much... in herself as an old skin... in his money. And she... to have everyone around her... Farm folk like us, we're... kind of forget. If I come... the house with barn on my... it always bothered her."

... Bart Carey was not so tacti... Will silenced him. Jenny... kitchen, heard them talking... heard Will's slow tones... "I don't," he said strictly, "I don't... that kind of talk about Hul... was used to gay times in... and when I fetched her... it was bound to be hard on... don't blame her none."

... protested hotly: "You was... enough, yourself when you... after Seth!"... "I was," Will confessed. "He... was a man, and responsible. But I... dunno as I can blame Huldy. Any... way, no for—leaving now!"

... "She was scared, Bart insisted... "Scared for fear you'd treat her... the same as you did him. She... knew it was her due. That's why... she skinned out!"

... "She had no cause to be scared... of me," said Will gently. "I would... n't harm her. And Bart, you keep... your tongue off her, if you're a... good friend to me."

... And Jenny, listening, loved him... more and more.

... In the matter of Seth's death, Will... was held blameless. None had... seen the beginning of the encount... er between them; but the mill men... had seen and could testify that Seth... shot Will, and tried to shoot him... again; and Bart could testify that... Seth had borrowed the gun, as... though the thing were premeditat... ed. So, though Will had to an... swer to the law, he was presently... free again; and when he had learn... ed the use of a peg leg, he went... back to the farm on the hill.

... He dwelt there alone that winter, and Bart daily tramped up the... steep road from his farm to take... the heavier chores of the cripple's... hands; but by February, Will had... become almost as nimble on his... peg as he had used to be on his... sound foot. Only the work indoors... he sighted, as a man will; and... Jenny sometimes went to catch up... loose ends. She had snowshoes... and beat a trail through the woods... Marm Pierce may have felt mis... givings, but she kept them to her... self. There was in the girl a force... not easy to oppose; a driving force... which sent her to Will's side when... ever he had need of her.

... And between them during these... winter months a bond began to... form, and no longer on Jenny's... side alone. Will never spoke his... mind nor his heart to her, nor she... to him; yet to them both the thing... was clear. To him it was a trouble... and deep concern. From Huldy he... had had no word; yet to her he... still was bound, and would remain... so if she chose.

... He told Jenny this one day. They... approached the subject guardedly, by long indirection, naming Huldy not at all; until at... last Will said soberly: "Jen, no use our dodging around... to the thing. Here's my look at it. A... man might want to say a woman... wa'n't his wife, if she'd acted... wrong. But I don't see it so. The... way I see it, I'm bound—any man's... bound—long as he's give his word."

A Hot Game

Last Saturday the Margaret and Crowell baseball teams crossed bats. The game was close and the Crowell boys saw they were up against it, but as usual with Allee in the box, the home team took the lead and when the rain stopped the game, the score stood 5 to 2 in favor of Crowell. The Margaret team is a good strong team and a quite well behaved set of boys, and we predict that in the next game they will make our boys work for all the laurels that they gain. Battery: Margaret—Mitchell and Ainsley; Crowell—Allee and Leak.

Misses Josie Carter and Annie Gilland, two of Good Creek's most popular young ladies, were shopping in the city Thursday.

Frank Meason and family of Big Sandy, Texas, are in Crowell now and we hear it rumored that they will remain here. They all come back. A sensible move.

The school bond election Saturday resulted in favor of the bonds by a vote of 53 to 15.

The Crowell National Bank is succeeded by the J. S. Hagler Banking Co. with J. S. Hagler, president; J. K. Quinn, vice president; and W. F. George, cashier. Mr. Hagler came up from Fort Worth to adjust matters to the change.

H. W. Norwood and family left Crowell Saturday for Vernon, where they will make their future home.

W. C. Sears, who was bitten by a spider last Friday, has been a great sufferer since that time, but is considerably improved now. The region of the heart is very much irritated yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Boren had born to them July 29, a boy.

J. W. Allison went to Quanah Saturday after his daughter, Miss Inez, who has been attending the normal at Waco.

Two Mormon preachers have been in town several days. They have failed so far to get a house to preach in.

RFC $100,000,000 Surplus
Would Cover All Losses

Financial experts and many others who criticized the expansion of Reconstruction Finance Corporation activities under the Roosevelt administration openly predicted in magazine articles and newspaper interviews that the RFC would incur tremendous losses. Yet in its statement at the end of the third week of July Chairman Jesse Jones declared: "We have accumulated a surplus over operating expenses and interest paid of more than $100,000,000 which should cover such losses as we must inevitably make. Our operations have proved that the government can do business in a business-like way."

In addition to its emergency re-financing of relief and loans in continuous process of liquidation to financial institutions in other classifications, the RFC has loaned to banks $1,398,615,058. Of this huge sum, $1,398,615,058 has been repaid, leaving outstanding $480,403,310. Of the outstanding loans, approximately $20,000,000 was in loans to closed banks to provide prompt distribution to depositors. These are secured by prime collateral which is daily increasing in value. This leaves open banks owing the RFC only $160,000,000, or 10 per cent of the sum originally advanced. Like all other RFC loans, these draw 4 per cent interest, while RFC pays 3 per cent or less for its funds derived from government bonds.

Another feature of Chairman Jones' report was that the "ratio of promptness" in repayment of RFC advances on preferred stock of banks—as distinguished from the open loans—has been 85 per cent to July 22. In this connection it was pointed out that the RFC relief of having preferred bank stock placed on the date, as the nation's discoverers were convinced that the banking structure of the country had been sufficiently strengthened. It was added, however, that execution would be made in unusual or urgent cases. A total of $1,009,420,034 was invested in the preferred stock of 6,468 banks out of the total of 14,187 banks in the country.

Margaret Postmaster Recalls Long Ride from Old Pease City

H. A. Wesley, Margaret postmaster, provides additional information of interest regarding the earliest settlements of this section of Texas, as a result of the story published last week about the old map found in a trunk by M. F. Bowley.

It was mentioned in the article that the map was probably prepared shortly after 1880. Mr. Wesley states that the map could not have been published before 1883 or 1884, since Vernon was shown on it, and there was no such town as Vernon in 1880. It was Mr. Wesley's father, John Wesley, Jr., resident of Margaret, who with D. E. Lower and Fred Ditman established old Pease City in 1880. Pease was the only town shown in Hardeman County on the old map. At that time Hardeman included the area that is now Foard County.

A part of the Margaret postmaster's letter follows: "The original name of Vernon was Eagle Flat, and was located about three miles west of where the Wilbarger County court house now stands, and the first postmaster was R. D. Rector. "This map, if published in 1880 should have given the name of Tee Pee City in Cottle County, as it was established about the same time as Pease City. "The reason I remember Eagle Flat so well is that my father carried the mail from Pease River City to Eagle Flat on horseback and I used to hear the cowboys talk so much about Eagle Flat that I thought it must be some big town and I would beg father to let me go with him, but having only one saddle, I could not go, but one day some of the cowboys found an old pack saddle and loaned it to me and one day soon after, father let me go with him and when I rode that thirty-five miles on that old pack saddle, I did not want to see Eagle Flat or any other town, for I did not have a bit of hide on me from the top of my head to the sole of my feet, and for two weeks Aunt Mandy Coffee and Grandma Ferego rubbed me with arnica. From that day to this I have never wanted to see another pack saddle, for I believe that old saddle had more loose nails and tacks and old curled up raw hide straps than any saddle I ever saw."

"Aunt Mandy Coffee and Grandma Ferego lived just north of where John Ray now lives and had a garden each year about half way down where Mr. Ray lives and the river bluff. They raised corn and most of it was put up in hominy. The lye for this hominy was made from wood ashes and I used to think it fun to help them make the lye."

Urge Correction of Children's Defects Before School Opens

Austin, Texas, Aug. 1.—Now is the time, according to Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, that every parent should ask himself if his child is physically ready for school. A visit to the family physician and dentist will answer this question and give time for the correction of minor defects before time for school to open.

A child with defective vision cannot be expected to do the required work in school until this handicap is removed. Inflamed, watery eyes, granulated lids, chronic styes, nervous actions as habitual winking may be caused by defective vision and should be attended to immediately.

The far reaching effect of infected tonsils on the system has been recognized by health workers for many years. Many of the ills of later life, as heart disease, arthritis, deafness, etc., are directly traceable to tonsils that became infected during childhood and were allowed to remain untreated.

Dental defects are found in more children than any other imperfection, and for this reason children should be taken regularly to the dentist for examination and cleaning of the teeth. This precaution keeps the mouth clean and makes it possible to discover dental defects as soon as they appear.

Postural defects appear in the child much sooner than we formerly suspected. Have your family physician see if your child's shoulderblades project and if his arches are low. Simple exercises, diligently adhered to, when the child is young, will prevent later serious developments in many cases.

Small Towns and Country Areas to Be Remembered in Works Progress Program States Harry L. Hopkins

The drive to employ the country's able workers on government jobs and to direct them into available private employment will not miss the country areas and small towns, Harry L. Hopkins, Works Progress Administrator, said today.

That there is urgent necessity to care for the Nation's rural and small town unemployed is shown by the fact that approximately 40 per cent of the 5,000,000 families on relief are to be found in the open country and towns under 5,000 in population, Mr. Hopkins said.

"The city used to be a giant magnet drawing unemployed labor from the country," Mr. Hopkins pointed out. "This is no longer true. For a while, after the beginning of the depression, the flow reversed, some 700,000 city to country. Now even this movement has slowed down. Unemployed needy people are in both city and country."

"Work is largely the answer for both areas," he said. "This is borne out by the fact that, contrary to the general belief, a majority of the families on relief in the open country are those whose economic heads, whether men or women, are not farm operators. They comprise a group of workers who maintained themselves in the past by working at a great variety of trades and jobs."

"It is plain that the country and small town problem is not predominantly a farm-operator problem but essentially one of finding work for non agricultural workers, just as it is in the city," Mr. Hopkins declared.

"Plans are being made under the $4,000,000,000 Works Progress to take care of the rural unemployed who were on relief rolls as of May, 1935," he continued. "One of the main features of this program will be an extensive secondary road-building program. A substantial sum will be spent by the Works Progress Administration for this purpose."

Claudette Colbert in "Private Worlds" at Rialto Theatre

America's outstanding actress for 1934, Claudette Colbert, is featured in "Private Worlds" which is being shown at the Rialto Theatre tonight and Friday. Critics have named this picture as one of the outstanding productions of the year.

Another highlight on the Rialto program is "Traveling Saleslady" with Joan Blondell and Glenda Farrell, which will be shown at the Saturday night preview, Sunday matinee and Monday night.

"Stolen Harmony," featuring George Raft, Ben Bernie (and the lads,) will be shown Tuesday and Wednesday.

Miss Kathryn Ferguson, a student nurse in a Fort Worth hospital, arrived here Sunday to spend a vacation of two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ferguson, and other relatives and friends.

owners, and 14 per cent were families of farm croppers living in the Southern states.

The great majority of the 1,500,000 non-farmer heads of rural and town households on relief are unskilled laborers. One-third of them are unskilled industrial laborers, while more than 350,000 are farm laborers. Another 350,000 are skilled and semi-skilled industrial workers. "White collar" workers, including professional, proprietary, and clerical workers, include 100,000 heads. There are 60,000 servants in the group.

The above figures were based on proportions revealed in 138 sample counties selected as representative of the nine major agricultural areas. These counties contained eight per cent of all rural and town families in the general population of the areas they represented. The areas, in turn, contained 54 per cent of all such families in the United States as a whole.

The States included in the study were Alabama, Arkansas, Colorado, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Virginia, West Virginia, and Wisconsin.

The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortals believe in a finite personal God; while God is infinite Love, which must be unlimited. More than this we cannot ask, higher we cannot look, farther we cannot go" (pages 312 and 6).

Experiences in Wardrobe Demonstration Work Related by Foard Club Women

In this and next week's issue, The News will publish summaries of wardrobe demonstration work completed in the past year by Foard County H. D. club women. The first of the series follows:
Mrs. F. E. Diggs
"There has not been a single time in the last twelve months when my clothes were not ready if an emergency had arisen," says Mrs. F. E. Diggs, wardrobe demonstrator for the Gambleville H. D. Club. This, she says, is the first thing that she is proud of in her wardrobe work. The second thing is that she has improved her last closet and now has one for her own individual use.
This closet was used for storing canned stuff and caught everything else that did not have a special place. Mrs. Diggs improved this closet by rearranging the shelves down one end, making five shelves in all conveniently spaced and one long shelf above the rod. These were all painted white as well as the woodwork and the inside of the closet door. The walls were then papered in white. A rack for belts was attached to the closet door and a pattern bag below this. Boxes suited in size and shape to the things to be placed in them were covered with the white paper like the walls and placed on the shelves.
In addition to this closet Mrs. Diggs improved two other closets in the house, both being papered in white with sufficient rod and shelf space, and racks for hats and shoes. The dresser drawers were also divided into convenient size spaces for storing folded garments.
Mrs. Diggs says that some day she will expect to build a closet of shelves for storing quilts and that will be all the storage space she wants.

Mrs. Roy Steele
"My storage space is adequate for my needs but I plan a few minor improvements," stated Mrs. Roy Steele of the West Side Club when she entered the wardrobe demonstration about the middle of the year. These "minor" improvements turned out to be just about everything except building a new closet. She lined the walls with cardboard and put in a false ceiling to keep dust from falling in from the attic. When this was done it was papered throughout with a light ceiling paper.
Since the closet was too narrow for the racks to hang straight, it was decided to substitute three notched brackets which gave room washed the woodwork, and papered the walls and ceiling with white paper. I then put the rod on a side so that it shelves in one corner, and made a shoe rack, laundry bag, and hat box.

"I have a foundation pattern and have cut several different types of patterns by it. I have made seven dresses by the pattern, one eque, one voile, one crepe, and four prints. I have cut and fit four foundation patterns."
WEST SIDE H. D. CLUB
The West Side H. D. Club met Wednesday, July 24, at the home of Mrs. G. H. Patton. Mrs. Roy Steele led a very interesting lesson on "God in Nature."
Every member responded to roll call with a Biblical quotation on nature.
In a discussion of Trees of the Bible Mrs. Curtis Ribble stated that the oak is by far the most common tree in Palestine. Abraham's Oak, the old oak under which Abraham is supposed to have entertained the three Angels is near Hebron and is now owned and carefully preserved by the Russian government, said Mrs. Ribble.
In a council report Mrs. G. H. Patton stated that the encampment would be at Gribble Park August 8. Mrs. Garnet Jones was elected wardrobe demonstrator. Mrs. J. M. Bostic was a visitor.
The next regular meeting will be September 11 with Miss Lela Patton as hostess.

FOARD CITY H. D. CLUB
The Foard City H. D. Club met at the club house July 24. After a short business session, an interesting program was given on the Bible and Nature.
At the next meeting Aug. 6, a special program will be given with Mrs. Lewis Sloan as leader. Every member is urged to attend, as names will be drawn for "Forget-me-Not" friends. An interesting demonstration will also be given.
On Saturday night, Aug. 10, the members of the club will entertain their families with a picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Blake McDaniel.

THRIFTY H. D. CLUB
(West Rayland)
The Thrifty Club of West Rayland met with Mrs. Fred Duffie Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Duffie, wardrobe demonstrator this year, exhibited a very attractive and practical wardrobe.
Mrs. Horace Taylor gave the council report. Exhibition of a well-planned closet was discussed. Her closet cost her 50 cents. She used material already on hand.
Both closet and dresser were very neat and attractive. The club presented Mrs. Duffie with a nice dress. Eight members and four visitors were present.
WEST RAYLAND H. D. CLUB
The West Rayland H. D. Club met with Mrs. Frank Butler July 23. Mrs. J. S. Ray discussed flowers of the Bible and Mrs. H. W. Young discussed the trees of the Bible.
Those present included fourteen members and seven visitors, Mrs. M. L. Cribbs, Mrs. Ernest Cribbs, Mrs. Mae Shoumate, Mrs. Roy Hendrix, Mrs. Edward Hendrix, Mrs. Hershall Butler and Miss Veda Cribbs.
The next meeting will be with Mrs. Luther Marlow.
VIVIAN H. D. CLUB
Mrs. I. H. Myers talked about trees of the Bible and Mrs. T. W. Cooper about the Garden of Eden at the meeting of the Vivian H. D. Club last Thursday in the home of Mrs. Oliver Woolley.
Thirteen members and 3 visitors, Mrs. Wayne Dishman, Miss Elvira Marr and Miss Alice Bowley, were present. Two quilts were almost quilted.
The next regular meeting will

TEN HOT WEATHER RULES

Ten excellent hot weather rules are contributed by Gladys J. Ward, home management specialist of Illinois Agricultural College, to the current issue of The Progressive Farmer:

1. Eat moderately and use as many vegetables and fruits in the diet as possible.
2. Beware of drinking too much cold water when exceedingly warm as this may be injurious.
3. Get plenty of sleep.
4. Rest and relax at least 15 to 30 minutes at noontime each day.
5. Keep the pores of the skin open by frequent bathing and drink enough water to replace that lost through perspiration.
6. Do as much of your work in the cool, shady place as possible. When out in the hot sun exercise moderately.
7. Close the windows nearly shut and draw the blinds in the early morning. Air the house well during the evening and night.
8. Don't worry. It never gets anybody any place and it keeps the nervous system depressed and irritated.
9. Do not refer to the thermometer too frequently. Don't talk about the weather. Think of cool, pleasant things. The effects of heat are both physiological and psychological.
10. Keep "mentally" cool, if you can. If you cannot, do not make things worse by getting someone else "all het up" in an argument.

Ben Jones of Paris, Ark., spends much of his time playing checkers by correspondence with people all over the world. He has had as many as 400 games in progress at once.

Haskell County's 50th Anniversary Will Be Observed Oct. 16-19

Haskell, July 30.—Definite plans were announced this week regarding the eleventh annual Central West Texas Fair to be held in Haskell October 16 to 19. The fair will be in commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the organization of Haskell County in 1835. In keeping with this, the golden Jubilee Fair, will feature many special attractions for the old settlers of this section. They will be admitted free to all attractions of the fair at all times upon registration with the secretary of the fair. Registration may be had by mailing your name together with the date of arrival in this section to H. T. Sullivan or by registration upon arrival in Haskell.

The fair will open with a parade featuring a picturization of the progress and the history of West Texas. Sponsors are being invited from the neighboring towns and cities to participate in this parade. Following the parade, the horse racing program will open at Rice Springs Park. This program will continue during the four days with a minimum of five races each day, during which time over $1,000.00 in purses will be given away. Pari-mutuel betting will be conducted under a license from the State Racing Commission.

Other features of the celebration will be the coronation of the Queen, a monster pageant with a cast of over 500 people picturing the history and development of the West, an old settlers picnic and reunion at which leading Texas figures will be invited to speak, exhibits of live stock and farm products and the carnival attractions of Tidwell's Shows. In addition, on the opening night the high school teams of Rochester, Knox City, Munday, Aspermont and one team as yet unnamed will contend for the football championship of the Golden Jubilee Fair. Haskell High School will play its regular scheduled game on Friday night.

With this program as a starting point Haskell and the Central West Texas Fair Association confidently anticipate one of the greatest Central West Texas Fairs ever held and are extending to all Central West Texas a sincere invitation to attend and participate in the fair. Catalogues of the fair may be obtained by mailing a request for the same to the fair secretary at Haskell.
