Mrs. Woodward and her family were awakened when the flames burst through the door of their bedroom and while they were able to save themselves, nothing else was saved. Her husband was not at home at the time.

Highway Contractor Seriously Injured in Affray Wed. Morning

J. P. Foty of Dallas, contractor for the pavement between Quannah and the Foard County line at Peace River, is in a critical condition in the Quannah hospital as the result of receiving a blow over the head with a long handled shovel at the highway plant on the Foard side of the river Wednesday morning.

Trace Bradshaw, Foard County farmer living north of Crowell, was arrested by Sheriff R. J. Thomas, and was charged with assault with intent to murder, in connection with the case. J. W. Klepper, justice of the peace, named Nov. 24th as the day for examining trial and Bradshaw was released after making the $500 bond that was set by Justice Klepper for appearance at the examining trial.

Examination at the Quannah hospital revealed that Foty suffered a severe fracture of the skull.

Ernest Johnson Injured Result of 26-Foot Fall

Ernest Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Johnson of this city, suffered severe bruises and scratches about his body and head last Thursday as the result of a fall of 26 feet while he was at work at the highway plant near Peace River. He was working on the sand and gravel batcher when he slipped and fell from it.

He was rushed to the Quannah hospital. Besides his numerous bruises, ligaments in one of his hands were torn loose. He is still in the hospital.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Joe Reavis Spencer, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Spencer, underwent an operation for appendicitis Sunday. He is getting along nicely.

CROWELL AND QUANAH MEET IN GAME FRI.

The Crowell Wildcats will play the Class A Indians of Quannah High School at Quannah Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock as a result of a change in the local schedule that was brought about by Megargel's forfeiture of the football game that was to have been played here Friday afternoon of this week.

About the time that Coach Grady Graves received a telephone call Monday night from Megargel informing him that the Bluebirds wished to cancel their game here Friday, another call came from Coach Dan Stallworth of Quannah, who reported that his team was seeking a game for that day, with the result that the Wildcat-Indian tilt was promptly matched.

Quannah has one of the greatest football teams in its history and has practically "ruled the roost" as far as football is concerned in this section of Texas and southern Oklahoma. Their Class A team has scored one-sided victories over Wichita Falls and Electra and outplayed Vernon and a victory over Childress on Thanksgiving will give the Indians the championship of District 2, Class A, and there is hardly the slightest doubt but that Quannah will win this game. Besides teams in their own district, the Indians have won by scores up in the 70's and 80's over Oklahoma teams.

A victory for Crowell over such a powerful Class A team as Quannah would attract the attention of the entire state, since Quannah is one of the few undefeated Class A teams remaining in Texas. Naturally a Wildcat victory in this game is particularly desired and all members of the local squad will put forth every effort to gain a victory in this contest. Quannah has suffered defeat at the hands of Crowell before and will fight harder than ever to keep from being defeated by a team from a smaller town and of lower rank.

Crowell defeated Quannah 7 to 0 on Quannah's home grounds last year. The year before that the Indians in a game played here by the score of 13 to 7. However, Crowell outplayed Quannah worse than the score indicated that year. In 1928 Quannah defeated Crowell here by the narrow margin of 7 to 6.

Although Quannah is a strong favorite to win Saturday's game, yet this has been the case before and Crowell has won and local fans sincerely hope that the Wildcats will score a victory Friday, although they realize that in all probability Quannah is the strongest team that the local squad has ever faced.

WINNERS OF 4-H GRAIN SORGHUM PRIZES TELL OF METHODS USED IN SECURING BEST PRODUCTION

The three Foard County 4-H Club boys who won in the grain sorghum contest that was sponsored by County Agent Fred Rennels, have made reports on their methods along with other interesting information, and these reports are printed below. Howard Gamble, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Gamble of Thalia, won first; J. D. Miller, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Miller of Thalia, won second, and Richard Sparks Jr., 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Sparks of Foard City, won third. Howard and J. D. won a Hereford calf each and Richard won a Duroc Jersey pig.

Howard Gamble's Report

Howard Gamble made the following report:
Since I started to school and could see the 4-H Club boys holding their meetings and have heard them discuss their work I have always wanted to become a member. I joined. I decided to raise grain sorghum. We found out from the results of tests at the Experiment Stations that kaffir has produced more grain per acre over a period of eight years than any other of the grain sorghums, so I decided to grow five acres of black hull kaffir.

Daddy let me select five acres on the farm where I could plant my crop. On March 3rd I listed the ground with a 2-row lister to a depth of about 6 inches. On March 25th the land was knifed to kill the small weeds and grass and to mellow the land. May 2nd I harrowed the land to break the crust and hold the moisture. On May 10th after a light rain had fallen I plowed the land with a cultivator very shallow to better prepare it for planting. June 5th I planted the 5 acres with Certified black hull kaffir seed, using a twelve hole planter and seeding at the rate of 5 pounds per acre. It came up to a good stand. We had no rain in June. On June 29th I knifed the kaffir to drag a small amount of dirt to the plants. On July 8th a light rain fell. On July 10th I plowed the field with a cultivator, running the sweeps very shallow. On July 20th a good rain came. After looking the field over we decided not to plow the kaffir because the plow would disturb the roots and probably injure the yield. On August 1st I hoed out the big weeds which was not a very big task because of the thorough cultivation before and after planting. We went over this field often and pulled all of the off type plants out so that my seed would not be mixed.

I wanted to use some of this kaffir for seed and some for feed so I decided to thresh my entire crop. On Sept. 17th I headed six average rows, getting two disinterested men to assist me. On Oct. 2nd the heads were threshed, yielding 1,300 pounds

New Speaker of House

John N. Garner, Texas Democrat, will be the new Speaker of the House of Representatives as a result of victories by his party in the by-elections.

of grain from six rows, or one-half acre. This gave us a total of 2,600 pounds of grain on one acre and a total yield of 13,000 pounds of threshed grain on the 5 acres.

After cutting the heads off of 3 average size bundles they weighed an average of 12 pounds each. The entire field made 3,300 bundles which weighed 12 pounds each, making a total of 39,600 pounds of forage.

Effects of Demonstration

Due to carrying on this demonstration I have learned much about kaffir. I have learned something about the planting, cultivation, harvesting, length of time it takes to mature, how it compares with other crops in yield and time of maturity, threshing percentage and many things that will be helpful to me in my club work. It has also demonstrated the value of certified seed to me and my family and in fact many people of the community. The demonstration from a money standpoint will buy my clothes, furnish me with spending money and give me some capital with which to buy a few pigs and probably a calf so that I may further carry on my club work. It will also enable me to help the family by loaning them a few dollars when money is scarce and hard to get.

From a community and county standpoint it will serve to make kaffir more popular and by making it more popular the promotion of grain will be increased because of the fact that chinch bugs will not injure kaffir while they have practically ruined milo maize for the past few years.

SERVING ON FEDERAL JURY

Sam Rosenthal is serving on the grand jury for United States district court in Wichita Falls this week. The most sensational case that has developed in the court this week has been that in which Kelly Hunt, whose home at Wichita Falls was recently padlocked, charged that two Federal prohibition officers, W. R. King of Wichita Falls, and R. D. Heaton of Dallas, had accepted bribes from him for protection of his home against liquor raids.

District Governor Speaks at Rotary Luncheon Wednesday

Dr. T. D. Brooks of Waco, governor of the 41st District of Rotary International, paid the local club its official visit here Wednesday. Wednesday morning he met with the board of directors of the club and was the principal speaker at the regular luncheon at noon. Dr. Brooks is business manager of Baylor University. He is not related to the late Dr. S. P. Brooks, whose long term as president of Baylor was ended by his death a few months ago.

Dr. Brooks' talk at noon was without a doubt one of the most interesting ever heard by the local club. Of particular interest was his view of international problems and conditions that he gained from touring Europe during the summer and visiting Rotary Clubs on that continent in connection with his visit to the International Convention at Vienna.

He gave an interesting account of this convention, stating that nearly five thousand representatives from forty-eight of the sixty-seven countries in Rotary were present. George Brewer and A. T. Chaney, Quannah Rotarians, were visitors at the luncheon. Mr. Brewer extended local members and their ladies an invitation to be present at the inter-city banquet that is to be held in Quannah on Dec. 3. Childress, Vernon, Quannah and Crowell are to be represented at this meeting.

FOARD COUNTY DRENCHED BY GENERAL RAIN

Excellent wheat pasture for a large acreage in Foard County was practically assured as a result of the excellent rains that fell over this section Monday afternoon and night. Total rainfall at Crowell amounted to 1.85 inches. Reports from other parts of the county indicate that the rainfall was at least this heavy and in a number of cases it was heavier.

After light sprinkles Monday morning, the rain really started falling shortly after noon and then after a halt of a few hours it started falling steadily again Monday night. The skies were almost totally clear of clouds Tuesday morning.

Although the gathering of the cotton crop was delayed, the rains were welcomed throughout the county. As a result of the excellent rains during October a good season for the wheat crop has been provided and if other good rains fall at the right time in the future, Foard should harvest another bumper wheat crop in 1932.

A long drought in this section was definitely broken when rain started falling on Sunday, Oct. 11. Before stopping it had amounted to 2.8 inches at Crowell. Total rainfall during October amounted to 3.65 as the result of more rain during the latter part of the month.

A light rain fell last Friday, however, the rain Monday was the first real rain received here in November.

JAMES ASHFORD ILL

James (Uncle Jimmy) Ashford is ill at his home here. He became sick Sunday and Thursday morning his condition took a turn for the worse.

WITNESS METEOR SHOWER

Many Crowell and Foard County people were included in those over the nation who witnessed the shower of meteors at about 5 o'clock Tuesday morning. Those witnessing the shower, which lasted for about an hour, reported it was one of the most remarkable and beautiful spectacles that one could imagine.

Gordon Bell Wins Championship of Spring Lake Club

District Agent Visits Pantry Demonstrators

"In these days of well advertised 'hard times' it is cheering to visit in the homes of the 4-H Pantry demonstrators of Foard County, where plans have been made to feed the family at home through the winter months," said Miss Minnie Mae Grubbs, District Home Demonstration Agent, who has been visiting the home agent, Miss Dora Hays. "We visited two of the ten demonstrators Monday before the rain stopped us, and if the eight other demonstrators and the 165 cooperators can be judged by them there is plenty of good quality food going to be served on the tables of the home demonstration club women this winter.

"We saw some splendid fall gardens, too. Evidently this county can have greens and other hardy vegetables practically all the year round, which makes living at home an easier thing than it is where gardens cannot be raised," Miss Grubbs said.

"The first pantry we visited was that of Mrs. Clarence Ross of Margaret. Mr. and Mrs. Ross recently suffered the loss of their home by fire, but the pantry was safely stored in a cellar and was not damaged at all, and the irrigated garden is still green, so in spite of the fire the family food supply is bountiful. Mrs. Ross has a total number of 1318 quarts of vegetables, fruits, pickles, preserves, relishes, catsups, jellies, mince meat, chicken, meat, fruit juices, valued at $461.30, besides this, she has several bushels of dried peas and beans, some whole wheat and corn meal, and plans to can and cure plenty of meat later."

TO INSTALL OFFICERS AT LEGION MEETING FRIDAY

THANKSGIVING DAY

Thanksgiving Day, as we know it, is a distractively American institution, although festivals of similar import may be traced back many hundreds of years.

Immediately after the first harvest of the Pilgrims in 1621 Thanksgiving was first observed in America. Similar observances were instituted by other colonies—by Massachusetts in 1630, by Connecticut in 1639, and by New Netherlands in 1664.

President George Washington designated November 26, 1789, as "a day of public thanksgiving and prayer," and in 1795 he made a similar designation. President Madison appointed a day of thanksgiving at the close of the War of 1812.

Various states observed the day irregularly during succeeding years, but it was not until 1864 that the day became a fixed, annual event.

In that year President Lincoln appointed the fourth Thursday of November as a day of national Thanksgiving by official proclamation and the example thus set has been followed by all succeeding Presidents.

Washington's original Thanksgiving proclamation is preserved in the Library of Congress. The precious document was lost more than 100 years until it was discovered among some Washington manuscripts being auctioned in New York in 1921.

AGE AND EFFICIENCY

The late William James, reputedly the greatest of American psychologists, is said to have declared that most men are old fogies at the age of 25.

If this theory be correct, which we do not believe, there are certainly many striking exceptions. Many men long past the age mentioned have struck out into new fields of endeavor and have developed abilities in later life of which they gave little promise in their youth.

As to the continuance of executive and creative activities to ripe old age, innumerable examples may be cited. Consider Oliver Wendell Holmes, an active member of the Supreme Court at 90; President Hindenburg of Germany at 84; Andrew W. Mellon holding one of the most important cabinet positions at 76; Thomas A. Edison, who continued at work until a short time before his recent death at 84.

Some former notables who prolonged their activities far beyond the allotted span of three score and ten may also be mentioned. Sophocles finished "Oedipus at Colonus" at 90; Titian continued to paint almost to the time of his death at 99; Michael Angelo did some of his finest work after he was 80; Clemenceau wrote his lyric masterpiece, "Crossing the Bar," after he was 80; Goethe completed "Faust" at about the same age.

But if these grand old men ever heard of psychologists it is evident that they did not take them too seriously.

INNOCENT MEN LYNCHED

At least two of the 21 persons lynched last year were innocent of any crime, and 11 others were possibly so, according to a commission which has studied each of the cases in which death was inflicted by mobs.

There is real doubt of the guilt of at least half the victims of mob violence; less than one-fourth of persons lynched since 1890 have been accused of assaults upon white women; mob leaders can be identified without difficulty, but are seldom indicted.

Mentioning specifically some of the lynchings last year the commission said: "One man was lynched solely because he had offended political opponents and another to prevent his appearance in a serious court case against white men. In five cases it was not clear that the mobs got the guilty persons, and in six there was doubt as to the truth of the charges against the men lynched."

Not until we reduce the lynching record to zero can we lay claim to being an entirely civilized people.

A MAN WITHOUT HATE

There has been published the interesting autobiography of H. Rider Haggard, the English novelist whose vivid tales have entertained and charmed millions of readers throughout the world.

The author of "King Solomon's Mines," "She," and forty-odd other stories reveals a versatile and kindly personality and recounts his adventures in various parts of the world.

What a fine thing it was to be able to say that! How many of us have known all the emotions but hate?

A $60,000,000 BRIDGE

Another wonder of the modern world has been completed and dedicated to the use of man—the new $60,000,000 George Washington Bridge, linking New Jersey with New York City, which is the greatest suspension span ever erected, 3,500 feet long.

It is suspended from two giant towers 635 feet high, these towers requiring 40,000 tons of steel. On the New Jersey side the cables are anchored to the solid rock of the Palisades, on the New York side they are held in place by a block of masonry weighing 260,000 tons.

During the first 24 hours after the bridge was opened to traffic more than 60,000 automobiles passed over it. It is estimated that not less than 60,000,000 vehicles will cross the bridge during its first year of operation.

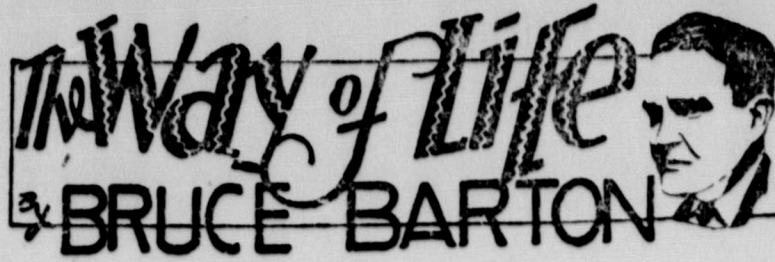

This great and useful structure is a monument to the skill of its designer, O. H. Ammann, 52, Swiss-born chief bridge engineer of the New York Port Authority, who came to this country at the age of 25 and is now a naturalized American citizen.

In Detroit a professional sword swallower nearly choked to death on a toothpick. He should use only implements that are kind to his throat.

A lot of fellows will be "mentioned" for high office next year, even if they have to do the mentioning themselves.

Now that the Empress Eugenie has to go, let us hope it will not be succeeded by the Queen Mary.

It would help some if newspapers would use numbers instead of names for those Chinese generals.

WHERE COMMUNISM FALLS DOWN

For several reasons I find it difficult to get as excited as some of my friends about the threat of Communism.

In the first place, we have had universal education in this country for a long time. Nearly all can read and write, and quite a large proportion can think.

In the second place, our wealth, though very inequitably distributed, is enjoyed by a far larger proportion of people than has ever been true in any nation before. Millions own homes, and land and stocks. Few are entirely satisfied; no one imagines the present social structure ideal, but very few care to risk losing what they have on the vague promise of acquiring more.

But there is a third and more fundamental reason. Communism, even if it came, would not continue. Some form of capitalistic society would very rapidly take its place.

Here is an interesting illustration. Back to the latter days of the Civil War, when it was necessary to draft men for the Northern armies, the Indians of the West thought it a propitious time to revolt.

Several regiments of Union soldiers were withdrawn from the front to settle the uprising. A Pennsylvania politician made a smart suggestion.

He said to Abraham Lincoln: "Our Federal military prisons are filled with Southern military prisoners. These boys are young and keen and good fighters, as we have plenty of reason to know. I'll bet that most of them would rather be outdoors fighting the Indians than sitting idly in jail. Why not recruit them into regiments and send them West?"

The proposal was adopted and was immediately successful. But this is what happened in one instance, which throws a fine clear light on the practicability of Communism. I quote from my father's Life of Lincoln:

"A thousand men were enlisted at Alton, Illinois, and Camp Douglas in Chicago. They left Chicago on two special trains. Each man had in his pocket two hundred dollars bounty in United States greenbacks, and none of them had any other money. During the period of their imprisonment most of them had become habitual card players, if they had not previously been so. It is said that before they reached their destination a very few individuals had the lion's share of the money. Perhaps never before on earth was there so equitable an experiment in the results of starting men out in life on the basis of equal division of property. The equal division appears not to have lasted very long."

Life is a battle and a gamble. We can improve the rules, give fairer handicaps to the less favored, and make the game more humane.

But we can't alter the fundamentals of human nature. Communism tries to do that; and Communism will always fail.

SIDELIGHTS

(By Marcy B. Darnall)

Babe Ruth complains because he can't have any fun. He must deny himself of ordinary pleasures in order to keep fit. He can't go to movies, night clubs, dances; he can't go swimming or gamble. He says: "Hang it all, I can't do anything. But wait, in two more years I'll be through with baseball. Then I'm going to break loose—wide open."

Passengers on the Isle de France which brought Premier Pierre Laval, his daughter Josette and other distinguished personages to the United States recently consumed among other things 55,000 eggs and about 30,000 quarts of wine on the round trip. The ship also carried 5,000 chickens, about nine tons of game and 11 tons of meat. A ton of bread and four tons of ice are consumed daily on this liner.

Some figures regarding the high cost of radio are given in a recent report, in which the price of a 50,000-watt radio transmitter is placed at $200,000. Land, buildings, offices and studios bring the total initial expenses up to about $338,000. Then the maintenance is estimated at $634,150 a year. That's a lot of money to spend for the sake of broadcasting the punk programs which make up most of the offerings on the air.

About 50,000 persons in New York City call the telephone exchange each day to ask the correct time. One operator on duty for the purpose answers them all, although she does not hear their voices. She simply announces the time every 15 seconds, and all connected with her number can hear.

Aimee Semple McPherson Hutton nearly went into the red in the first week of her revival meeting in Boston, the profits being only $64.82, half of which she had agreed to donate to charity. Quite a slump from the palmy days of her famed Angelus Temple in Los Angeles.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, last, the Army Air Corps set a new low fatality record, with only one person killed for every 1,691,000 miles flown. There is no doubt that air travel is becoming safer, but the deadly automobiles continue to take an ever increasing toll of human life.

Pathfinder tells of a Texas sandwich man who advertises that he uses only hams from the left side of hogs, which are more tender. This, he explains, is because hogs do most of their scratching with the right foot, consequently the right leg muscles develop, becoming hard and tough.

Many a man who thinks he is protecting his wife through life insurance is merely laying up money for swindlers. An investigator declares that three widows out of four lose their insurance money within two years after the husband's death, through investing unwisely upon the advice of unprincipled schemers.

THE FIRST PHONOGRAPH

In a letter written a few years ago, Thomas A. Edison said: "I conceived the idea of recording and reproducing human speech and other sounds on July 18 1877."

Mr. Edison went on to say that he worked on his first model of the first phonograph during the following two months and that "this first model was entirely successful." He also declared that this model comprised all the basic principles which are still used in all phonographs and talking machines.

Many will remember the phonograph records made on cylinders. These were greatly inferior to the later disc records and sides they were very fragile and short-lived. Still the principles in recording and reproducing sounds were the same as those employed up to the present.

The world owes much of its joyment and instruction to the phonograph. It is gratifying to know that Edison's fertile brain four years ago. It is gratifying to know that he was permitted to enjoy life in which to develop and the universal employment of and other epoch-making inventions which he gave to mankind.

In being the only person to predict a victory for A. & M. over Rice, Tanner Billington was the only guesser to pick all winners and therefore won the contest last week.

There were no upsets last week, although Rice was a slight favorite to win over A. & M. at Houston.

Results of last week along with Billington's guesses, with winning teams and actual scores coming first follow: Texas-T. C. U., 10-0, 14-7; A. & M.-Rice, 7-0; 7-6; S. M. U.-Baylor, 7-0, 20-0; Notre Dame-Navy, 20-0, 27-0.

Those predicting this week are: Tanner Billington, 1; Floyd Thomas, 2; Jack Roberts Jr., 3; Fred Rennels, 4; Ernest King, 5; Amos Lilly, 6.

Their predictions for games this week follow:

Table with 6 columns (1-6) and 10 rows of game predictions and scores for S. M. U., Navy, T. C. U., Baylor, Rice, and Arkansas.

Floyd Thomas and Jack Roberts Jr. are the only persons who predict a victory for S. M. U. over the Navy at Annapolis, Md. Ernest King is alone in guessing Baylor to beat T. C. U. All predict victories for Texas and Rice.

S. M. U. defeated Navy by the score of 20 to 7 last year and we believe that the Mustangs are capable of winning again in spite of the fact that they have been none too impressive this year even with an undefeated record so far.

Floyd Thomas is picked to win this week.

And again if Olney and Chillicothe win their games this week, it is up to Chillicothe to put Crowell back in the race with a victory over Olney on Thanksgiving. In such a case Olney, Crowell and Chillicothe would be thrown into a triple tie. If Archer City beats Olney and Olney beats Chillicothe, then Olney and Crowell will be tied for the district lead.

Local people are delighted to see Ragsdale Lanier about town again and trust that the very serious eye injury that kept him in a Dallas hospital for some time will give him no further trouble.

We nominate Ragsdale for the honor of being the best blocker that has played on a Crowell football team. His work along this line was particularly outstanding last year and was directly responsible for many Wildcat touchdowns.

For as Stoker stepped from his store this evening with the day's receipts in his hand one of a pair of armed bandits stepped from a coupe at the rear of the store.

Stoker refused to "stick 'em up" and instead went for his gun. In the melee that followed, Stoker bested both bandits in a hand-to-hand struggle. Seven shots were fired, one of them believed to have struck the driver of the car.

As his two attackers fled in their automobile in the direction of Covina, Stoker obtained a rifle from the store and fired three shots—just for good measure—at the rear of the car.

Then he continued homeward with his day's earnings.

If the Wildcats are to make a good showing against Quannah Friday they certainly must do some good blocking, and everything else in the football category.

Olney is naturally the favorite to win the district championship now, but that doesn't mean that Crowell is out of the race by any means for a number of things may happen to put the Wildcats again in a tie for the lead or for that matter it is possible, but not probable, for Coach Graves' team to win the championship without having to play Olney or Chillicothe again.

If we had our way about it we would have Archer City to win over Olney this week and Burk Burnett to beat Chillicothe. Then next week we would have Chillicothe to beat Olney, thus giving Crowell the championship with only one defeat, while Olney, Chillicothe and Archer City would have two losses each.

But if we can't have a victory for Chillicothe in that final game, then a tie will suit us for Crowell would still come out on top, that is if no arrangements are made to declare a winner in case of a tie and such was not done in the Olney-Crowell game and very likely a tie will be simply a tie in the rest of the games.

Quannah has not been defeated this year and has already won the championship of District 2, Class A. A victory for Crowell in this game would be the greatest possible boost for the Wildcats and Crowell and such an event is not all impossible. Crowell has beaten Quannah for the past two years after suffering a 7 to 6 defeat at the hand of the Indians three years ago.

We know that Quannah is plenty good but if Crowell plays like it did in the Olney game we don't see how Quannah is going to beat them.

years. It will also offer a supply of excellent seed to the people of the county at a low price.

There have been approximately 300 people who have looked at the field of kaffir from the community and also the entire county. The yield per acre, uniformity of the heads, early maturity, have caused many farmers to state that they are going to plant some certified kaffir seed.

The experience and information which I have gained in carrying on my feed demonstration have proven pleasant and profitable to me and I am sure will be of some help to the community and county.

The entire value of my crop was $439.50.

J. D. Miller's Report

J. D. Miller had the following report to make concerning his milo maize crop:

I listed my land in the spring the regular way of farming in this country. Then in April I relisted. By doing this I got my land in a better stage of cultivation and also killed a crop of vegetation. On May 8th I planted my maize. The way I planted my maize was to plant two rows and skip one row. I planted to make a water furrow and also to leave it suitable for cultivation with go-devil knives and after my maize came up to a stand of 18 or 20 inches apart I took a one row lister and plowed out the blank row just like I planted the other two rows.

The reason why I didn't plant the third row was to have a space of reserve moisture and for each of the two rows planted in maize to have more soil to feed from. When my maize got about six inches high I plowed it with go-devil knives and little plows so as to kill the vegetation and mulch the ground and cause the maize to grow and not to put too much dirt to the maize in order to allow it to sucker. Then I waited about ten days and cultivated it with a go-devil disc so as to pulverize the ground and level the ground for the next cultivation. The last days of June I plowed my maize with a cultivator with sweeps so as to put plenty of dirt to it and to plow out the middles good as it was the last time to be plowed.

Two of my neighbors had adjoining crops. They planted their maize about the same time I planted mine, on the same kind of land as mine. Mr. Butler got a stand with every row and he made about a half ton to the acre. Mr. Huntley planted every row and had a poor stand and made about three quarters of a ton to the acre. I made a little more than a ton and a half. Mr. Fleisher said that he always thought it would make more stuff planted the way I planted this year, but he had never tried it, but after he had seen it tried out so close to home he said that he was going to plant that way hereafter.

Richard Sparks Report

The five acres on which I had my kaffir corn was planted in cotton on the preceding year. In January I broke the land with an Emerson one-way. In March I bedded the ground.

In about the middle of April I purchased some pedigreed seed and planted it. I planted two rows and left one vacant row which greatly helped my yield. In the first part of May I cultivated the crop with a disc-cultivator. At the same time I hoed it. Then in the last of May I cultivated and hoed it once more.

There was not any more plowing done, as no vegetation appeared and the crop grew fast. In the last part of September I headed my crop and received thirty-two hundred pounds per acre, or a total of sixteen thousand pounds of heads. When the heads were threshed I had ten thousand eight hundred and eighty pounds.

On this year and many other years I have raised both milo maize and kaffir corn and have received a better yield on the latter every year. Therefore, I think that kaffir corn is much better for a country where there is a limited amount of rainfall.

Although the rainfall was limited on my crop I had good quality heads and seed.

eral new faces at our services last Sunday. We sincerely hope these and others will come often. Mrs. J. A. Feffcoat from Rule placed her membership with us Sunday and we welcome her very cordially.

Our services for the balance of the year are being pre-arranged, with the intention of allowing as many workers as possible to participate. The services for next Sunday are real interesting, and are as follows: In addition to our regular morning teaching and worship service, we will have a special story at the teaching hour; a specially arranged prayer and communion service; a special song; special scripture reading, etc. The morning message will be: "What is Christian Stewardship?"

The evening service will be in charge of the elders. "The Elders of the Church" will be the subject, with special prayers, scripture reading, songs and four talks by the elders and Bro. Dodd as follows: "The scriptural names for elders and how elders chosen;" "The qualifications of elders;" "The duties of elders," and "What the church owes the elders."

You can assist us in making the close of this year's work a success by participating in these services and by being present at each of them.

Christian Science Churches
The subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, November 15, was "Mortals and Immortals."
"We all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord," was the golden text, taken from II Corinthians 3:18. Included in the passages read from the Bible was the following from I Corinthians 15:54: "So when this corruptible shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory."
The service also embraced this citation from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, (p. 295):
"Mortals are not like immortals, created in God's own image; but infinite Spirit being all, mortal consciousness will at least yield to the scientific fact and disappear, and the real sense of being, perfect and forever intact, will appear."

PAUL IN ROME

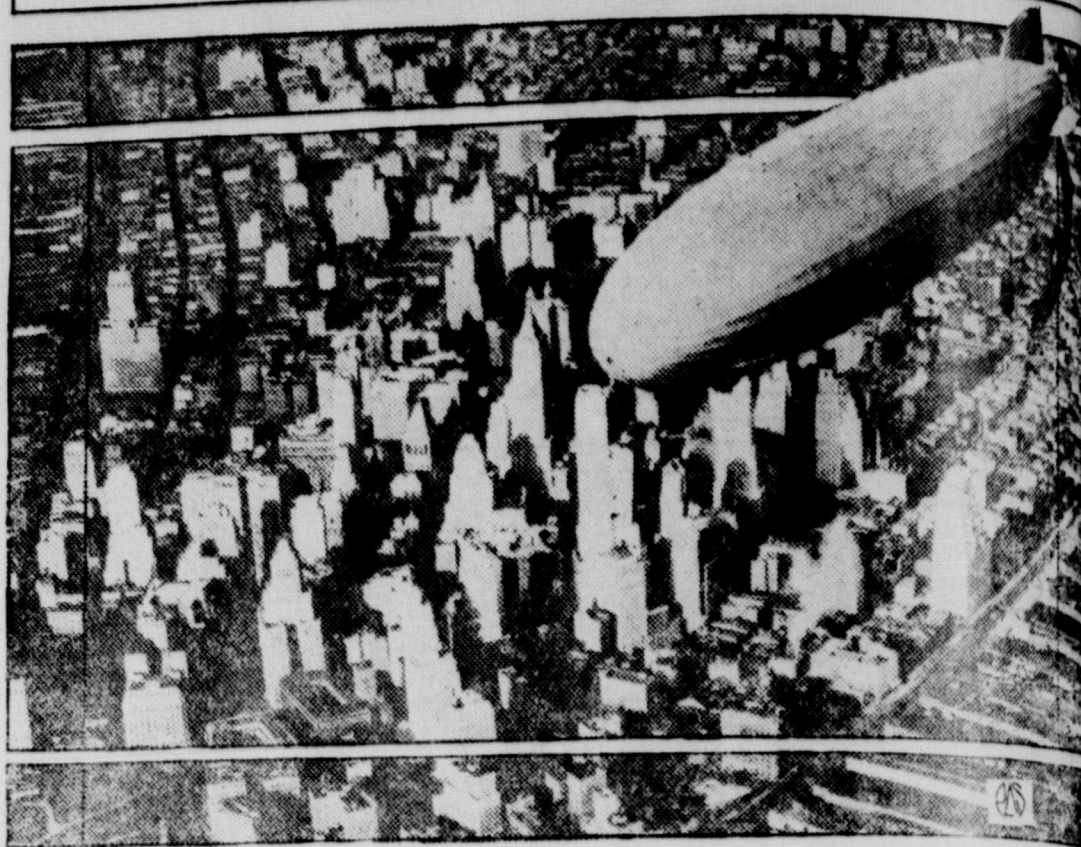

Acts 28:16-24, 30, 31

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

Keeping up with Paul will make you busy and also a student. This time you must undertake a real sea voyage navigation as you allow for wind and drift and you arrive at Malta where the shipwreck took place. Begin your reading at least with chapter 24. See how Paul made friends with and gained the confidence of his centurion guard and the ship's captain. As a result the prisoner had the freedom of his own hired house in Malta, though he was necessarily chained to the changing guard. Paul went to Rome by reason of the privilege of his Roman citizenship. When he saw that he could not obtain justice at Caesarea he demanded, "I appeal unto Caesar."

It was with real interest that the Jews in Rome arranged an audience for Paul. For many years to go to Rome had been the ambition of this great traveler. In a most thorough manner this man of many experiences retold how Jesus Christ was the Messiah of the Jews, long prophesied in Scripture. Then Paul settled down to make the most of his opportunities. First, he could gospelize as the guard was changed every few hours.

During the two years that followed Paul wrote four letters that are still helping mankind: Ephesians, Philippians, Colossians and Philemon. Try and find time to read each of these during the week. While in Rome some years ago the writer read the five letters which Paul wrote while in the midst of his two imprisonments in that city. In one of these epistles the author reveals at least one of his life secrets: "I can do all things in him that strengtheneth me," Philippians, 4:13, which is the Golden Text for today.

Reduce the Acid

SICK stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour. Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips Milk of Magnesia; one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. For 50 years the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours. Get the genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia, the kind physicians have prescribed for 50 years.

BLACK PEPPER

Perhaps very few people who dine ever think of the various medicinal properties residing in the fancy pepper shaker, that has ago earned its right to a place on every dining-table. Some years from pepper, advisedly perhaps—and from the smarting it uses when indulged too freely; then others, lovers of the pungent dietary, go to extremes and indulge the fiery red pepper to excess. There will always be extremists who go too far.

"Piper Nigrum," black pepper, depends upon an essential for its stimulating property. There are some modern medical authors who have little faith in internal antiseptics; one in particular tells us that an infectious, catarrhal process set up on a mucous surface, can be cured by the use of an agent that stimulates the surface-cells to activity,—that the cells do the work against the germs, and not the so-called "antiseptic" remedies exploited freely today by commercialists.

Black pepper certainly stimulates mucous surfaces. Hence a freer flow of gastric and intestinal secretions. And these are needed in abundance for perfect digestion. Moderate use of black pepper benefits the weak stomach—does away with "gases" that give distress. It does no harm if used temperately, except in moderation. One of the best anti-malarials I know of contains a small proportion of the oil of black pepper. "Piperazin" has value in certain affections with uric acid intoxication. The use of pepper is well known in convalescence from chronic alcoholism, causing the weakened gastric surfaces back into normal activity. The piquancy of a great and all-wise Creator is without parallel for a number of useful remedies. Ever think of it?

BOOKS

It has been said by a great philosopher, that books were man's only true friends. I am sure that the high school students do not agree with him, especially when one has to read a two hundred page book in one night to report on the next day. This week is National Book Week. Would not a great way to celebrate this week be for every one to read one good book? Perhaps this would increase one's desire to read good books. Some people do not read because they never seem to get interested in the story. This is because they do not read their type of book. Books must be selected according to the type one likes to read. Some people prefer mystery stories, others adventure, etc. Reading is not only for interest but also for education and to broaden one's knowledge of the world.

Why not celebrate book week by reading a good book?

HIGH SCHOOL

Crews Cooper managed to stick around here for five years; such perseverance certainly deserves some mention.

We nominate Lewis Brown for our Collegiate Hall of Fame because he looks so manly in football togs.

Doyle Carter has passed the year using his first period study hall as a place to set the waves in his beautiful curly hair.

The biology students say that they can always study better when Mr. Todd has his coat on as his suspenders are so loud when he hasn't.

Don't ever tell Orville Orr to act his age. It would be too disconcerting to see him running around in rompers and manipulating a rattle.

John Todd is another one of those specialists in social climbing, but that does not necessarily justify his thinking himself so indispensable to the "femmes" around here.

NATION OBSERVES NATIONAL BOOK WEEK, NOV. 15-22

National Book Week is to be observed this year in the third week of November. National Book Week is observed all over the United States in schools and colleges.

More than a decade ago Franklin K. Mathews interested libraries in the idea of setting aside a week in which libraries should stress especially books for boys. The movement met with immediate interest and has had much development in various lines of effort since.

Boys book week, children's book week, and book week, have been various names under which groups of interested people have called attention to the value of books in character development and under which at various times whole communities have been subject to an effort to concentrate the attention, not only of young people, but of the public generally, on books.

At first these efforts were limited to a week in autumn, midway between the opening of schools and the holiday season. This is still the plan generally followed, but as the idea of book week has become more extensive, book weeks are incorporated in the programs of many other kinds of celebrations in women's clubs, fraternities, high schools and civic organizations.

While the main idea concentrates on a book period for young people, the term generally adopted now is National Book Week, especially when the schools are giving unusual attention to books with the idea of placing them in front of all other interest. Schools of all grades are finding much help and great interest in book week projects, and so great has the interest grown that there is a sort of emulation in preparing the program, events and illustrative presentations.

HIGH SCHOOL OBSERVES BOOK WEEK

The high school, through its English classes, is observing National Book Week.

The Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen made posters to represent their books of fiction and prose.

The Seniors made stage models, representing one scene from a drama. Themes were also written on the drama.

Reports on modern books were given by various classes. These reports were taken from the "Book-man" and other literary magazines, and from Sunday's Book Page.

A campaign for new books for the library was conducted. The goal was one hundred books.

HISTORY CLASS ENTERTAINED

Mrs. Walden's pupils entertained Miss Ball's Modern History Class Thursday afternoon with a moving picture show entitled, "Scouting Over Europe." It was cleverly presented and consisted of scenes from all the countries of Europe. The pictures were well drawn and beautifully colored, free-handed by Mrs. Walden's pupils. Animals, landscapes, buildings, canals, ships, Spanish women and children made up the picture show. The modern history students are hoping that this will not be the last one.

PERSONALS

The grade school gave a very interesting program Wednesday morning.

Every student was supposed to bring a book and donate it to the library. The school's goal is 100 books. Nov. 16 to 20 is National Book Week.

The students in Spanish II are receiving answers to letters to Mexican "Machachos." Lewis Brown heard from two senoritas. Watch your step, Lewis.

GREELEY'S HANDWRITING

Many stories have been told about Horace Greeley's notoriously poor handwriting, which was a constant nightmare to his associates, and especially to the printers, on the old New York Tribune.

One printer, being given a Greeley manuscript to set up for the first time, exclaimed: "My God, if Belshazzar had seen this writing on the wall he would have been more terrified than he was." Later it is said, Greeley wrote to the foreman, directing that the printer be discharged because he made so many typographical errors. The printer got hold of the note before leaving, and carried it to the foreman of another newspaper as a recommendation—and got a job immediately.

Once Greeley was invited to lecture in Sandwich, Ill. He wrote that as he was overworked and would be sixty years old on the following February third, he felt unable to take the engagement. After much labor in deciphering the letter, the committee replied that they would be glad to have him lecture on February third, and that the fee of sixty dollars was satisfactory.

Queen of the Harvest

Elizabeth Herd, University of Missouri co-ed, has been chosen to preside over the agricultural harvest ball of that institution.

A burglar alarm invented by an Italian for use in hotels or apartment houses rings a bell and signals on a central switchboard any attempt to force the door of a room or open a lock with any but the right key.

A Virginian has invented a device that enables an automobile driver to apply chains to his car's tires by pulling a lever installed beside his emergency brake handle.

How to train BABY'S BOWELS

Babies, bottle-fed or breast-fed, with any tendency to be constipated, would thrive if they received daily, half a teaspoonful of this old family doctor's prescription for the bowels.

That is one sure way to train tiny bowels to healthy regularity. To avoid the fretfulness, vomiting, crying, failure to gain, and other ills of constipated babies.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is good for any baby. For this, you have the word of a famous doctor. Forty-seven years of practice taught him just what babies need to keep their little bowels active, regular; keep little bodies plump and healthy. For Dr. Caldwell specialized in the treatment of women and little ones. He attended over 3500 births without loss of one mother or baby.

Assistant Attorney General Explains Cotton Acreage Law

Maurice Cheek, assistant attorney general of Texas, has offered the following explanation relative to his recent opinion to the Department of Agriculture, constraining the cotton acreage law:

"I desire to call attention to the fact that my recent opinion to the Department of Agriculture, constraining the Cotton Acreage Law, has been misinterpreted in certain particulars. "It was not intended in the opinion to hold that no land which was planted in cotton in 1931 can be planted in cotton in 1932. The law expressly provides that a person may plant in 1932 thirty per cent of the area of each separately owned tract of land in cultivation in planted crops in the year 1931, a 'separately owned tract' being the total amount of land in a single county which such person owns, leases, or has any other title to, including a right of possession or control. Under the provision, a farmer is entitled to plant to cotton in 1932 land on which cotton was planted in 1931, but the total acreage planted to cotton in 1932 in a single county must not exceed thirty per cent of the total area in cultivation in planted crops in 1931 in that county.

"The opinion does hold that a person may not evade the meaning of the law by planting his entire acreage in cotton in 1932 by having only thirty per cent of the total rows of cotton in 1932 as were planted in 1931. In other words that the total acreage planted to cotton is the determinant, and not the spacing of the rows. Under this interpretation, a farmer who owns or has leased a hundred acres of land which was in cultivation in planted crops in 1931 may plant to cotton in 1932 thirty acres of that same land, even if it were all planted to cotton in 1931. He would not, however, be complying with the law, if he planted in 1932 the entire one hundred acres to cotton, but reduces the total number of rows to thirty per cent of the total number of rows planted to cotton in 1931.

"Attention is called to the fact that the unit of determining the per cent of planting is not each farm a person owns or has leased, or other interest or title to, but the total amount of acreage which he owns, has leased, or has any other title to, including a right of possession, in each single county. In other words the total amount of acreage in each county is the unit upon which the per cent of planting allowed is based. "The number of inquiries which the Department and the Department of Agriculture are receiving indicates that the above rulings have not been clearly understood, and a clarification will be appreciated."

Self Feeders—

On Labor Day, Sept. 7, he weighed his hogs for the first time. Three big hogs weighed 180 pounds each and eight Duroc shoats averaged 65 pounds each. About three weeks ago he weighed the three large hogs and they averaged 284 pounds each, a gain of 104 pounds for each hog in 41 days.

Fifty-nine days after the shoats were first weighed they averaged 185 pounds, a gain of 120 pounds to the hog in just 59 days. These hogs gained 25 pounds each in two nine-day periods.

Mr. Diggs stated that occasionally he gives a few maize heads and some alfalfa to the hogs. Plenty of clean, fresh water is provided at all times. Mr. Diggs is very enthusiastic about the self-feeding method and said that he wished he had started it long ago.

In order to get to the feed in the feeders the hogs have to lift a slanting lid with their noses. They quickly learn this method and if a person listens he can hear the lids falling throughout the day and night, according to Mr. Diggs.

Orr Builds First Feeders

Joe L. Orr of Margaret was the first farmer in Foard County to start the use of this type of A. & M. feeder that was introduced here last summer. He is a very enthusiastic booster for it. He stayed at the swine booth on "Achievement Day" here recently throughout most of the day for the purpose of telling farmers of the success he had in using self-feeders and encouraged others to start this method.

General interest in the feeders in Foard County resulted from the swine meeting that was held on Mr. Orr's farm on August 24, at which time E. R. Eudaley, special livestock agent for A. & M. College, was present and spoke on the essentials of hog production and the use of the self feeder, which was demonstrated before about 150 Foard County farmers.

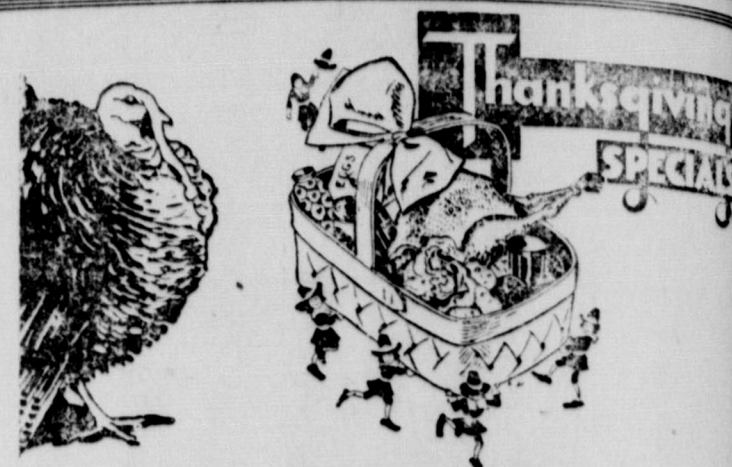

The self feeder is a labor saver and through its use, hogs have access to feed at all times.

James Allen, aged 83, walked 200 miles from Lancashire, Eng. to visit his birthplace at Twerton.
