1934 Cotton Acreage Limited to 25,000,000

Coming after weeks of discussion and after the plan would be adopted after next year, Secretary Wallace announced Saturday that a cotton reduction program intended to limit the 1934 crop to 25,000,000 acres...

This would make next year's acreage 5,000,000 less than this year's, and 1,000,000 under normal planting.

The plan contemplates a combination of rental payments to farmers and a form of domestic allotment program.

Henry Morgenthau, Jr., governor of the FCA, announced that all farmers who have pledged cotton as collateral under the total crop production loans prior to this year's crop will be notified to sell their collateral cotton at once in liquidation of the loans...

For every bale of cotton sold, a bale of long futures will be bought, as authorized by the Agricultural Adjustment Act. The long future contracts will provide the Secretary with the total crop carrying out the acreage reduction program...

Lamesa Good Will Troopers To Be In O'Donnell Friday

Lamesa Good Will Troopers will be in O'Donnell at six (6 P. M.) Friday evening of this week for a band concert and general get-together...

Such visits create a spirit of friendliness and good will which is not forgotten. The old rivalry of towns that thrust them at each other throats is a thing of the past.

It has been the custom of Lamesa people to come here annually for a get-together and it has always been a very pleasant visit.

From O'Donnell the Lamesa party will go to New Moore where they have arranged to render a splendid program.

Bounty of $552,151 Due Lynn Co. Farmers

With checks arriving daily in the counties east of us, payment from the Federal government for plowed under cotton is being made.

The farmers bought this cotton at six cents per pound, and at its sale will receive a quarter of a million dollars, but also a future purchasing power of even more than that before December 1, 1933.

Eaching optioned cotton although, each of the 1681 farmers will probably receive this week a sum sufficient to give him more buying power than he has enjoyed.

Usable fixtures in the building were purchased by Mr. Baldwin, and others will be built especially for the store here.

Mr. Baldwin has many friends in this territory, having made his home here for a number of years, while he was in the Cross Creek order.

Football Prospects Good As Season Gets Under Way

The Eagles are going into the first game of the season slightly crippled it seems. Clayton, Debusk and Lawler are all out with injuries.

There is lots of strong competition for positions in the backfield. At quarterback, Foster and Treadway are the best bet, although Debusk may be shifted to that position.

In the line there is also lots of competition. Greenlee looks like a sure bet for center, however, Dewey and Wilson McLaurin look like the starters at guard positions.

Both are good at honoring passes. The defense is made up of the best players in the county.

SYMPATHY AND PRIDE

The kids are back in school again and we know just how they feel. We still have a vivid remembrance of the days when we crawled out of bed at that last minute, packed our breakfast in a few gulps, loped off to school and barely slipped into the class room under the wire.

We can understand just how the pages of the school books become blotted and how the ink blots and the impatient arm yearns to hurl them out of the window, and what an eternity of time passes between the opening of school in the morning and the noon hour.

We sympathize with the kids today but we'll be mighty proud of them in later years when they are the leaders of thought and action.

JUST PLAIN TRUTH

For years we have been urging our local citizens to do their buying from home business firms instead of sending out making money elsewhere. We honestly believe we have been instrumental in keeping thousands of dollars in circulation at home through those urgings. We believe every business house in town has been benefited thereby.

We still hand out the same good advice, but we would feel a little better if some of our local dealers would show some degree of appreciation of our efforts in their behalf.

Reciprocity is reciprocity only when it works both ways. It is greed when it is one-sided.

These may be plain words, but truth needs no apology.

Employment Opportunities For Veterans

Below is quoted a letter addressed to postmasters in this territory and received this week:

The Veterans Administration Regional Office at Dallas, Texas will select approximately 165 veterans for enrollment in the Emergency Conservation Corps before the close of business on September 30, 1933.

In making the selections, an effort will be made to apportion the employment opportunities to the counties according to population. Consideration will be given to applications now on file and to those received prior to the close of business on September 23, unless we fail to receive our quota by that date. In such event, we would consider applications received up until the close of business September 30.

In making selections, consideration will be given to the applicants' sincerity of purpose, need of employment, character, dependents, and physical fitness to perform ordinary manual labor.

Those applicants who are selected for enrollment will be required to report at their own expense to one of the three designated recruiting stations in this area. The recruiting stations now operating for this district are Dallas, Fort Worth and Wichita Falls.

Veterans interested in enrollment should communicate with the Veterans' Administration Cotton Exchange Building, Dallas, Texas. Signed Read Johnson, Manager, Veterans' Administration.

Rats Cause Texas $15,000,000 Loss Every Year

Austin.—Texas sustained a fifteen million dollar loss last year, on account of rats, declared Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer. This figure is a very low estimate based upon the probable number of rats in the state, two for each person. No doubt many suffer losses that would pay their taxes, and this does not take into consideration the losses from disease, time and money, caused by the rat.

Typhus fever is on the increase in Texas and the rat is the cause of its high death rate, while the type we have in Texas, sometimes called Brill's disease, has a low death rate. It occurs among persons who work or live in rat infested buildings. It was the observation of this fact that led to the discovery that rats are carriers or transmitters of the disease. It appears that the rat suffers attacks of this form of typhus fever and that the fleas harbored by the sick rat bite man and thus human infection results.

Although this disease is not commonly fatal, it cannot be considered lightly. The intense headaches, the high fever, and the great mental depression are its most unpleasant features. Like in sea sickness, the patient's greatest fear is that he is not going to die. The illness generally lasts about two weeks.

The control of typhus is very difficult and it depends upon the extermination of rats and this is no easy matter. Trapping and poisoning help but the best results are obtained by starving the rats. This is done by having all buildings where food is stored ratproofed. The State Department of Health and the U. S. Department of Agriculture will be glad to assist communities in their program for the extermination of this pest.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Cahoon and Mr. Casey Cahoon were in Lamesa Sunday afternoon.

Legion Fair Train To Leave September 30

Amarillo, Texas, Sept. 13.—With excellent prospects that the Mineral Well band and the Amarillo Legion drum corps will be members of the party, it now appears that the West Texas Special to the National Legion Convention in Chicago will have the train to ride. These musical organizations were first prizes in their divisions last week at the State Convention held in Wichita Falls.

This train will leave Amarillo on Saturday afternoon, September 30, returning eight days later, and the Legion committee in charge has worked out the problem of transportation, housing and entertainment so as to provide them at the lowest possible cost. Indications are that practically every spot in West Texas will have delegations aboard, ranging in size from a few up to fifty or more.

Service men should write the Legion train committee, Box 1472, Amarillo, Texas, for full details as to rates, accommodations, the cost from their town and the best method of joining the excursion. The all-expense price, except meals and incidentals, is $40.85 from Amarillo, slightly more to the south and west of this city and slightly less to the north, depending upon the difference in rail fare.

Lubbock Station Plans Field Day Friday

Received too late for publication in last week's issue of the Index was an invitation to farmers of this territory to attend the annual Field Day at the Experiment Station, three miles east of Lubbock, on Friday, September 15.

D. L. Jones, station superintendent sent a personal invitation, stating that the meeting will begin at ten o'clock. The morning will be devoted to visiting the various experimental plots, with a discussion of same to take up the afternoon.

Mr. Jones mentions among other interesting features, three types of cotton which appear to be promising from the stand point of mechanical harvesting; an early yellow mid that matures from 10 to 15 days earlier than the dwarf yellow mid; 27 varieties of cotton growing side by side; the crop rotation work in which 21 different rotation methods are used. In addition, the new method of storing meat in lime will be shown, with hams which were cured at the rate of a day and a half to two and three days to the pound. This meat was stored in February and has kept in excellent shape up to date.

We made every effort to scatter this news by word of mouth since receiving the invitation, and we sincerely hope that a number of farmers in our section will take advantage of the opportunity to visit the experiment station.

Mother's Heroism Saves Child's Life

Only the quick action and unselfish heroism of her mother saved the life of the 19-months old baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Turner recently when the little girl slipped in a surface tank on the Homer Hancock farm.

Mrs. Turner and her children were visiting Mrs. Hancock, and Mrs. Turner was sewing. The children were playing in the yard, and the mother repeatedly cautioned the older ones to keep a watchful eye on the baby. It was on one such occasion that agonized screams from an older sister brought the mother and Mrs. Hancock to the door to see the apparently lifeless body of the baby floating in the water.

Mrs. Turner, forgetful of her own delicate health, dashed from the house and into the treacherous tank to bring the limp form to dry land. The two ladies at once began artificial respiration and were rewarded in a short time by signs of returning life. The baby was apparently as well and happy as usual the next day, and Mrs. Turner was little the worse for her near tragic experience.

(Editor's Note: Mr. and Mrs. Turner have since that time moved to East Texas and we were unable to secure all details of this accident until Friday. Their many friends have expressed much interest in the affair, and have extended best wishes for the continued well-being of the mother and baby.)

Wells School Has Large Enrollment

The Wells school, which opened on last Monday, has an enrollment of 100 pupils this week, said L. D. Waldrip, principal. Mr. Waldrip and Mr. Griff McConal, superintendent, state that every detail of the new term is working out in a most satisfactory manner.

Mr. Waldrip and Misses Palmer and McMarley are new to the Wells community, but all are giving every evidence of fitting into the school and community life just as they should.

We hope to be able to publish weekly reports from that school, beginning next week.

Permit Required Before Pigs May Bring Premium

Pig shippers must have written or telegraphic permits before shipment is made, to be entitled to the premium price paid by the government, and in order to allow a cleanup of the congested conditions at the Fort Worth stockyards, an embargo was effective beginning Saturday night.

Tendency of hog owners throughout the United States to send in hogs beyond the capacity of processing plants has resulted in an over supply in Tahoka Sunday afternoon.

at all market centers. Shippers have been asked to withhold shipment until pigs on hand could be cleaned up. There has been a general disregard of this request with the result that this embargo was obliged to take action and the Fort Worth stockyards, obliged to declare an embargo on receiving hogs.

Aid Asked For Storm Sufferers

In response to a telegram received from William M. Baxter Jr., manager of the St. Louis office of the Red Cross, Mayor W. S. Cathey has enlisted and received aid for the refugees and sufferers of the havoc wrecked by gulf storms last week. The telegram said in part:

"Confirmed reports of destruction in the Grande Valley hurricane justify immediate and urgent appeal for contributions Red Cross relief fund. As communication with seriously affected area is reestablished, scattered reports confirm terrific destruction from San Benito south to Brownsville and west to Edinburg."

Lynn county's quota of the relief fund was set at $100, this sum to be used in providing immediate necessities for destitute families. Press reports place twenty-four dead, six hundred injured, seventeen hundred families destitute, two thousand homes destroyed and five thousand others damaged.

Since the National Red Cross has this year furnished the people of Lynn county around $3000 worth of food and clothing, the appeal that we open our hearts and our purses to help others in need comes as an opportunity to show our appreciation of help we have ourselves received, Mr. Cathey pointed out.

In accordance with his request, this matter was presented at the churches of the town Sunday and met with instant response. Because of the excellent trouble in transporting clothing and food, it is requested that contributions be made only in the form of money.

TECH NOW READY FOR NINTH OPENING

Lubbock, Texas, September 14.—Everything is ready for the ninth annual session of Texas Technological college, Sept. 20th, according to announcement of President Bradford Knapp. All faculty arrangements are complete and details of the opening ceremony have been perfected. Teachers are now returning from short vacations following summer school and are preparing for work in their respective departments. Class schedules are now in the hands of the printer.

The number of inquiries regarding the work at Tech indicates a large enrollment, Dr. Knapp says, and shows a very great interest on the part of many boys and girls throughout the state who plan to enter the institution.

President Knapp said he had heard a rumor that the freshman class had already been filled and that additional registrations would not be accepted. He said emphatically that there was no truth in the report; that there was plenty of room for all who expected to apply for admission and who could fully qualify. In case the enrollment is excessive arrangements have already been made for slight increases in the period of services of staff members of the departments which may be overloaded.

Two new class rooms and five offices are being provided in the administration building in addition to those available in previous years.

Entrance examinations will be required September 18 and 19. All entering students are required to be present September 20 and 21 for freshman orientation, and registration of all students is set for September 21 to 23.

He's Kidding HIMSELF!

But don't let him fool you. He's not casting off his old suit. He just thinks he is. The fact is, he is wearing his old suit. We know because we cleaned it for him.
