MERCHANTS REPORT
BUSY WEEK

With the streets and walks crowded with shoppers through Thursday and Friday of last week as well as on Saturday, business in O'Donnell last week apparently turned out to be a classic corner where prosperity has been said to be hiding.

Rains early in the week brought farmers and their hands into town in the biggest week-day crowds O'Donnell has seen in several falls, and merchants were unanimous in the report that those three were the busiest days for many months.

Buying was brisk throughout all three days. Local people as well as the farmers bought liberally, and more merchandise was moved last week than in any two weeks preceding. Many farmers picked cotton all day Saturday, coming into town late in the afternoon to do their buying, so that streets were lined with cars and stores crowded until a late hour.

Local merchants are optimistic over the prospects for the remaining fall business, pointing out that it has continued to be good this week, and that increased movement of our enormous cotton crop will undoubtedly maintain the improved business conditions throughout the rest of the year.

Practically all the cotton so far has come from east of town, since so much of our territory west was hilled, blown, and rained out, and will consequently be later than usual in producing harvest.

CROP OUTLOOK BETTER AS FALL WEATHER COMES

Early morning sizzers Tuesday reported ice for the second time this season, even though it was pretty thin and didn't last long, and nippy temperature most of the day reminded O'Donnell people very forcibly that beautiful Indian summer can't continue always.

With real Fall weather here, cotton prospects are growing better each day, according to reports from farmers and gin men. Most of the cotton which has been brought in this fall has had a fair staple and good turn-out. Crisp cold mornings with warm sunshine up in the day is proving a boon to the fields, and some of them are beginning to look like snow drifts.

Turkey growers are beginning to put the finishing touches on their birds in anticipation of the Thanksgiving market. There seems to be fewer flocks this year than last, and it is hoped that the birds will command somewhat higher prices.

The fall in wheat prices had some effect on local people, though our immediate section doesn't depend on grain as much as on cotton. The price of wheat, by the way, was lower than at any time since the days of Queen Elizabeth.

Produce markets have consistently risen during the past few weeks, with eggs commanding the highest price in a year.

LOANS NOT SETTLED UNTIL COTTON SOLD

Further information regarding the collateralization of government crop production loans has been received from officials of the Texas Cotton Co-Operative Association.

The officials state that no loan is paid until the collateralized cotton is sold for enough money to absolutely clear the farmer of his obligation, including any expense incident thereto and additional interest.

"The acceptance of cotton on a collateralized basis does not, in any manner, pay these loans" they state, "and all cotton buyers, merchants, bankers, and business men or co-operative managers should convey the impression that the farmer's loan is not paid on a basis of nine cent cotton until the cotton market actually reaches a nine-cent price or better, and the cotton is sold for enough to cover all charges, interest, etc. The farmer still has his obligation to the Secretary of Agriculture until the note is completely paid."

If the cotton, after March 1, should be sold for less, the farmer still owes the difference on his note, but if it is sold for more, any overpayment will be refunded to the borrower or those who are properly entitled to this refund."

As was brought out in previous articles appearing in the Index, the farmer has the right to order collateralized cotton sold until March

1, 1933, and after that time the Secretary of Agriculture takes the authority. Therefore, nine-cent collateralization does not, in any manner, mean the payment of his obligation. It is suggested that in all cases of collateralization a full margin of additional cotton be put up against each note an account because when it is sold, any over-payment will be refunded.

It was further stated that releases of balance of crops will not be allowed or issued in any case until cotton has been properly classed and all necessary papers are turned into the office of the Secretary of Agriculture. Just the fact that the borrower has sufficient cotton on hand or has delivered a certain number of bales, is not acceptable. The borrower is not released nor any crops under mortgages to the Secretary of Agriculture released until the full accounting records are completed.

Farmers who are not members of a Texas Cotton Co-Operative Society may send their cotton to the seed loan pool No. 99,000 through the association, it was pointed out.

LUBBOCK AND LAMB HEAD CAP ROCK COUNTIES IN GINNING REPORT

The ginning report, on bales ginned up to October 1st, show Texas running away behind last year's record of same date. The October 1st report for 1931 was 2,288,998 as compared with the 1932 October report of 1,595,239. Lamb county is again leading the cap-rock counties with 1,391 bales, October 1st, 1932, as against a record of 2,402 bales for October 1st, 1931. Lubbock county takes second place with 1,139 bales ginned up to October 1st, 1932, as against a record of 7,039 for 1931, same date.

TAX PENALTIES ARE TAKEN OFF

Penalty and interest on all delinquent taxes are released from September 10 to December 31, 1932, according to information received this week from A. M. Cade, tax collector of Lynn county.

Mr. Cade stated that he had received this authoritative news from Hon. Geo. H. Sheppard, State Comptroller of Public Accounts, at a session of the Senate Bill No. 44, enacted by the third called session of the present Legislature. This means a saving of 16 per cent on 1931 delinquent taxes, 22 per cent on 1930 taxes, and 25 per cent on 1929 taxes.

Total taxable property valuations in Lynn county this year are $3,944,665.00 against a total of $3,429,883.00 last year, or a reduction of $1,025,218.00 approximately 16 per cent. Valuations of the various classes of property for the two years are given below:

Lands	$3,663,808.00	$3,233,270.00
City real estate	96,197.00	793,165.00
Personal property	127,631.00	906,831.00
City real estate	92,500.00	67,000.00
Railroads	438,231.00	404,390.00
Total	$3,944,665.00	$3,429,883.00

These figures show that the decrease in land valuations was approximately 12 per cent; city real estate 18 per cent; railroad property, 8 per cent; personal property, more than 26 per cent; all other property, about 27 per cent.

Average valuation of land in the county is approximately $6.00 per acre.

The State tax rate has been reduced from the 1931 rate of .74 on the $100.00 to .68. The county rate is the same as last year, .20.

AUTO INSURANCE RATE IS CHANGED

AUSTIN, Oct. 27.—A new schedule of automobile insurance rates adopted by the Texas state insurance board reveal an increase in some classes and a decrease in others.

A raise of 22 1/2 per cent on the public liability rate of private cars, an increase up to 40 per cent on commercial cars, a reduction of 6.9 per cent on the property damage rate on private automobiles and 3.3 per cent for the same protection on commercial cars were authorized.

OPENING OF DUCK SEASON ATTRACTS LITTLE INTEREST

Whether business is too rushing or whether local interests are merely not interested the opening of duck season was very quiet here last week. Reports from all parts of the territory indicate that there are numbers of both ducks and geese, though we have seen no geese out here.

The season, which will close at sun down on December 31, has ushered in a number of discussions as to new rules. The bag limit is left at 15 in any one day, providing that a bag of ducks in one day may contain not more than 10 curvies backs, redheads or rears, lesser scaup, bluebill, bluewing teal, greenwing teal, cinnamon teal, shoveler, spoonbill, and Gadwall, or not more than 10 of all these varieties. A person may possess 10 of the above mentioned varieties of ducks or of any one of them and possess 5 ducks of other varieties to make up the bag of 15. Of all those varieties of ducks restricted to 10 in one day a person may possess not to exceed 20 of any kind or an aggregate of 20 of all these species. The possession limit of all varieties of ducks is not more than 30 at one time.

Waterfowl may be taken during the open season with a gun not larger than 10-gauge fired from the shoulder and by the use of not more than 25 live duck decoys. There is no restriction on the number of artificial decoys that may be used. Of special interest to local people is the news that the use of an airplane power boat, sailboat, or other floating device for taking ducks or geese is prohibited by both the state and federal law. We make special note of the plane and power boat.

The provision in reference to the use of guns is controlled by both state and federal law. This means a gun 10 in one day a person may possess a person using a rifle in hunting or killing any wild duck or geese would be violating article 268, penal code of 1925, which is section 18 on page 23 of the game, fish, and oyster law.

OFFICIALS COMPLIMENTED ON QUIET HALLOWEEN

Mayor W. S. Cathey, the city council, and local peace officers have been highly commended on the success of their campaign for a painless Halloween, and notices from neighboring publications indicate that O'Donnell's plan will be followed next year in other places.

Mayor Cathey has asked that the Index announce that this campaign will be continued during regular time also. A number of unoccupied buildings have been seriously damaged, and all others have broken windows, doors broken, and other minor marks to repair and which are decidedly hard on their owner's tempers.

Since this state of affairs seems to be altogether unnecessary, the city council and officers state that any person or persons found damaging business or residence property will be arrested and fined.

While sympathizing with the boys in their wish for a good time, the Index joins with the community in expressing appreciation of the efforts of the city dads, and a glance at the headlines of our exchanges makes us realize all the more just how fortunate O'Donnell was.

The Terry County Herald reports the destruction of business property, cruelty to animals, and even danger to the grammar school building thru tampering with gas connections near the school building. In fact, it seems that O'Donnell alone, of all the South Plains towns, escaped an annoying lot of damage and loss of time.

And while we're thanking folks, why not thank the oafs for gracefully accepting the situation and having a good time without harming some one else.

Vocational Agriculture Notes

by R. H. MATHIS

Project Activities

George McCracken, a member of second year vocational agriculture class, has seven head of Poland pigs on feed. These pigs now weigh about sixty lbs. each and by February George expects to have them weighing around two hundred and twenty-five pounds. To this he would have to make an average daily gain of only 1.6 lbs. As he has been known to make an average daily gain of 2 pounds but takes the best of pigs and an experienced feeder to get such results.

M. L. Webb, another member of the Vocational Agriculture Class, awoke a few mornings ago and found that his herd of hogs had increased from four to twenty-eight head. Two girls and one boy were responsible for the increase in the herd. M. L. has a good idea that a expected "farm" in the near future which will likely bring the total number of pigs up to thirty head. As soon as these pigs reach a bearing size he expects to put them on a self feeder and feed them out for pork production. He already has a hog pasture and several hog houses, but expects to build a self feeder and several hog troughs with in the near future. The fact that M. L. already owns thirty head of hogs, five head of dairy cows and a few head of Black Island sheep, lead one to expect that he really intends to make a farmer out of himself.

John Hasley, who is a member of first year vocational agriculture class, recently purchased a two hundred and twenty five lb. Hampshire pig from Joe Stallgrove. This pig, which he expects to be a "show" pig, will be expected to bring a litter of pigs about February 1st. At present, Odwin does not

EGGS AT 28 CENTS

Eggs were twenty-eight cents in Danell Saturday, and though that checked us up on one of our best harvests, we can rejoice with the farmers, and be glad that they are least realizing something for their birds.

Eggs are mighty substantial food when people work hard in a cold harvest they have to have something substantial. More jobs and more work increased the demand, and decreased the supply when she can't multit, AND THE PRICE GOES UP.

Lesson for November 13 MAKING A LIVING

Deuteronomy 24:14, 15; Amos 5:6-15; Mark 6:34; Luke 12:11-21; Luke 19:1-28; 11 Thessalonians 2:6-12; 1 Timothy 6:6-16.

GOLDEN TEXT—I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. (Romans 12:1).

PRINCIPAL TOPIC—Jesus' Way of Doing Rich.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Right Way to Make Money.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Right Way to Earn Money.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Christian Spirit in Business.

- I. Treatment of Hired Servants (Deut. 24:14, 15).
  - Oppression forbidden (v. 14). The man who hires out is usually poor. The employer should not take advantage of his condition.
  - Foreigners to have the same treatment as fellow countrymen (v. 15). Those who fear God will accord the same treatment to foreigners as to their own countrymen.
  - Servants to be promptly paid (v. 15). The laborer was to be paid at the end of the day. The credit system in these times is greatly to be deplored.
- II. Getting Wealth (Amos 5:11-13).
  - By oppression of the poor (v. 11). The rich built magnificent houses of the proceeds extorted from the poor. They took the bread out of the mouths of the poor by high rents and taxes. The picture of the conditions of our own day. The prophet assured them that God would punish saying that they built houses and planted vineyards, but they would not be privileged to live in them nor to drink of the wine thereof.
  - By affliction of the just (v. 12). This they did by taking bribes. Many are today living in luxury from the proceeds derived from bribes.
  - By turning aside the poor in the gates (v. 12, 13). Because the poor had no money to hire advocates, they were turned aside. It is difficult today for the poor to get justice in the courts.
- III. Jesus, the Carpenter (Mark 6:3).

While Joseph lived, doubtless Jesus assisted him in the carpenter trade. He is therefore known as the carpenter.
- IV. The Rich Fool (Luke 12:13-21).

Many today are seeking gold and forgetting God. Those who are concerned with getting riches while neglecting God are displaying utter folly. Observe.

  - His increase in goods (v. 16). His riches were rightly obtained, for the ground brought forth plentifully. It is not sinful to be rich. The sin is sometimes in the use made of riches.
  - His perplexities (v. 17). His land was producing more than his barns would hold. He did not know what to do about it. He had personally held right views of life and a sense of stewardship to God, he would have seen that his barns held enough for himself and a surplus for the poor.
  - His fatal choice (v. 18, 19). He chose to enlarge his barns and to give up his life to ease and luxury.
  - The awful indictment (v. 20, 21). God called him a fool. Riches furnish neither contentment in this life nor a guarantee of continuance of life. It is not only foolishness, but madness to forget God while heaping up riches.
- V. Reward for Laborer (Luke 10:16-23).

When Christ ascended on high, he gave gifts to men (Eph. 4:7-12). At His return to the earth, He will summon his servants to give an account of their stewardship. He will give rewards for faithfulness (v. 10-19) and will impose judgment and condemnation upon the faithless. He will reward.
- VI. The Man Who Will Not Work Should Not Eat (II Thess. 3:10).

Growing out of Paul's teaching concerning the coming of the Lord at Thessalonica. Earnest attention to present duties is the Scriptural attitude toward the Second Coming of Christ. Those who will not work should not eat. This is the right principle governing all charitable work.
- VII. Peril of Working for Money (I Tim. 6:6-11).

Those who are working for money fall into temptation and a snare, and are exposed to many foolish and hurtful lusts. The obligation is to be free from these things and follow after righteousness.

THE FARMER—1930

David Snedden of Columbia University anticipates that in 1930 there will still be from eight to ten million individual farmers in the country, each having managerial responsibility for fixed property worth $5,000 to $50,000. Most of these farmers, he believes, will specialize in one or two money crops and will purchase their larger staples and market their products through cooperative agencies.

Glenn Frank, President of the University of Wisconsin, recently said that unless the farmer follows a new economic he will, so far as being a free man is concerned, become a vanishing type. "In this new economic," he continued, "the principle of cooperative action will play a decisive role."

It is interesting to note that support for the cooperative movement is almost unanimous among progressive observers, on the farm and off. No economic principle has caused as little disagreement. Thousands of unbiased authorities, looking at the problem from the viewpoint of both the farmer and the consuming public, hold that proper cultivation of land is the proper cultivation of land. It is the farmer's assurance of future prosperity and the public's assurance of a sound agricultural structure, with high standards of living, and a producing and distributive quality commodities at a fair price.

THE HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION AMENDMENT

In all probability, the constitutional amendment exempting $3000 of homestead value from the state ad valorem tax will be adopted. And, in all probability, that action almost certainly will be found to have been a mistake.

In the first place, it will not relieve homeowners of the burden they have been led to expect. The state ad valorem tax on a $6000 home, read, rendered for taxation at $3,000, is exactly $20.70—no more, no less. The saving, it will be seen, is

ATTENDS CLASSES DAILY IN WHEEL CHAIR

Charlie Reynolds, twelve-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Reynolds of this place, is the living exponent of the fact that physical disability does not mean that a child is unable to secure the benefits of an education.

The lad is pushed to school each morning in his wheel-chair, and his mother, who brings him, sees that he is comfortably settled near a window in the second grade room. As each recess she returns to see about him, and the little fellow is one of the happiest and most brilliant students in his class.

Charlie started to school five years ago, and had completed his first year's work when he was stricken with the dread disease of little folks—infantile paralysis. Since then he has been unable to walk at all without the support of crutches, and very little even with that aid.

However, the thirst for knowledge had already been acquired, and he snatched eagerly at any and all opportunities to study at home. Several of his small playmates helped him with his reading, spelling, and number work, and he studied as best he could. To his parents came the conclusion that through strenuous efforts and sacrifice of time on their part, Charlie should go to school.

He was enrolled in the First Grade room, but was promoted to the fifth grade at once. His teacher, Miss Christine Milwee, declares that he is one of the best pupils she has ever had, and his classmates take part in making the days pleasant for their little crippled member.

less than $2 per month, an item comparatively inconsiderable to the taxpayer, but to the state, in the aggregate, a tremendous sum.

Some legal minds incline to the opinion that exemption of the homestead from the state ad valorem tax may result, automatically, in its exemption from county, school, city, and other ad valorem levies. If that be true, the money saving to the taxpayer would become worth while, but the effect would be chaos.

Moreover, is there any reason to believe that the amount subtracted from the state's tax bill actually will be saved? Obviously, the state must replace the money thus lost by the imposition of some other tax. Will the home owner pay the same, or an increased, contribution to government through some other agency? Upon his light bill, for instance? Or his gas, or telephone bill?

Government always has and always will cost money. Eventually the beneficiaries of government pay its cost, if not from one pocket from another. And the history of most attempts to evade or shift the cost of government has been sad, invariably resulting in failure and invariably imposing a penalty for the attempt to defy the inexorable law that he who dances must pay the fiddler.

The home owner is the pillar of government, and its greatest beneficiary. He should think twice before he attempts to cure his tax ills by drinking the nostrum of home-estate exemption. For it may prove to be, not a cure, but an opiate, designed to lull him into sleep the while taxenators pillage his savings and plunder his castle.

No tax relief is sound, except if results from a decrease in the cost of government.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

The Sunday School and Epworth League will meet as usual next Sunday. Sunday School meets promptly at 10 a. m. League meets at 6:45 P. M. We are hoping that there will be a good attendance at both of these meetings. There were 40 present at the Epworth League last Sunday. The young people see the League attendance is running larger at the present time than at any time in the history of the local organization.

On account of the pastor being away attending the Annual Conference at Amarillo, the morning and evening worship services will not be held next Sunday.

The Women's Missionary Society will observe the Annual Week of Prayer with a program beginning at 1:30 next Tuesday afternoon. A splendid program is being arranged for this important occasion. All of the ladies of the church are urged to be present.

The pastor and family greatly appreciate the many courtesies that have been extended to us during the year that is closing, the words of commendation, and the many wishes that have been expressed to us for our return for the coming year. If the Bishop should see fit to return us to O'Donnell for another year we shall be very happy and will do our best to render better service during the coming year than we have during the year that is closing.

Every one will find a hearty welcome at all the services of the Methodist church. Come and worship with us.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank each and every one who helped in any way during the illness and death of our beloved husband and father. Especially do we thank Dr. Shepard for his untiring attention, Bros. Jenkins and Burnett for the kind comforting words spoken, the Masons for the splendid service Mrs. Duncan and Mr. Abernathy for the beautiful songs, the many floral offerings and the sympathy given us by friends.

May God bountifully bless each and every one is our prayer.
Mrs. J. T. McMillan.
Mrs. and Mrs. A. A. McMillan.
Mrs. and Mrs. Alvin McMillan.
Mrs. and Mrs. Arthur McMillan.
Henry and Luther McMillan.

Mrs. C. B. Morrison returned to Temple this week for further treatment at the hospital there.

ELECTION DAY DINNER

Mrs. C. H. Westmoreland, president, reports that the dinner sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association Tuesday was very successful, bringing a little more than thirty dollars into the treasury of the organization. Business people, including gin crews and others, cooperated in a most gratifying way. Plate lunches were sent out to a number who were unable to come to the Fritz building where dinner was served.

The kitchen was set up in the screened-in corner of the building, and the long table placed in the center. Mrs. A. B. Blake acted as cashier and other members of the P. T. A. and ladies of the town assisted in preparing and serving the meal.

Mrs. Royal Toney left Wednesday morning for Minneapolis to visit her brother who is in the veterans' hospital there.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Barney of Dallas were guests of friends here a short time Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Barney will be remembered by friends here as Mrs. Leta Goodger.

This Woman Lost 45 Pounds of Fat

Mrs. Betty Luedeke of Dayton writes: "I am using Kruschen to reduce weight—I lost 10 pounds in one week and cannot say too much to recommend it."

To take off fat easily, SAFELY and HARMLESSLY—take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast go lighter on fatty meats, potatoes, butter, cream and pastries—it is the safe way to lose unsightly fat and one bottle that lasts 4 weeks cost but a trifle. Get it at any drugstore in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you you are the safest way to lose fat—money back.

But be sure and get Kruschen Salts—imitations are numerous and you must safeguard your health.

NOTICE

Mr. Pierce has let me have the platform scales for the remainder of his term, and I hereby announce that I will weigh at Henderson-Boone Gin and the Farmers' Gin. These scales are government tested, the weights are bonded, and there will be buyers to purchase any kind of grain.
