LIONS TO HAVE DONKEY BALL GAME HERE FRIDAY

The O'Donnell Lions Club is sponsoring a DONKEY BALL GAME Friday the September 2nd at the O'Donnell Football Field. The game will be called promptly at 8 p. m. and admission is 50c and 25c. Money made from this entertainment will be used by the Lions Club in the Underprivileged Children's fund. They pay, in so far as it is possible, for medical help for children who otherwise could not have it.

Monday night of this week a group from the Lions club here attended and had a part in the program of the presenting of the chart to the Wilson Lions club.

Homemaking Dept. Has A Busy Summer

The Homemaking Department of O'Donnell High School has offered summer classes to students, adults and out of town youth. Individual and group projects have been completed. Students have completed the following projects:

Sue Cooley: planned and improved her fall wardrobe
Carlene Eaker: Food preparation for family
Pat Edwards: planned and improved school wardrobe
Peggy Etter: planned and improved general wardrobe
Helen Jones: planned and prepared noon meal for family
Myrtle Walker: planned and improved school wardrobe
Sue Smith: redecorated home kitchen.

Other experiences have included food preservation, home care of the sick, selection and care of clothing, and help with the general house care. The group project for summer students was to improve the Homemaking Cottage and they have made new kitchen curtains and machine covers. They also made and cared for flower beds around the cottage.

Adult and out of school groups have worked on metal tooling and stencil work. Special demonstrations were given on the use of machine attachments and making the model form. Several attractive projects have been completed in metal work by Mrs. Sue Forbes, Mrs. John Etter, and Mrs. Vera Etter. Stencil work has included kitchen curtains by Miss Wanda Jean Hufhines, breakfast room curtains by Mrs. Vera Etter, luncheon cloths by Mrs. Harris, Bobbie Stokes and Mary Alice Vance. Other small projects were dish cloths, aprons, pillow cases, baby sheets and clothes pin bags.

The entire summer group exhibited their projects at an Achievement Day Display in the Homemaking Cottage. A number of guests called through the day. The group had luncheon together in the cottage.

Social activities through the summer have included a swim party, a theatre party, and a slumber party for Future Homemakers of America. The Future Homemakers and the Future Farmers also decorated a float for the rodeo parade.

Plans are now being made for the fall Homemaking program and Future Homemakers activities.

School Board Sets Compulsory Attendance Dates

The school laws of the State of Texas requires that all children age 7 to 16 inclusive, attend school not less than 120 days during the school year. The school board has therefore set the six months of compulsory attendance as the first six months of the school year in the white school and the last 6 months of the school year in the colored school.

Under the new Gilmer-Alken school law, the number of teachers allotted to a school depends on the average daily attendance. It is therefore urgent that parents keep their children in school every day that it is possible. It is also important that all children of school age be enrolled and in attendance at school.

A list of both white and colored children who are not in attendance at school will be reported to the proper authorities. This will be true not only in the O'Donnell District but in all districts throughout the state.

Parents of Latin American children and colored children are urged to see that their children are in school the proper amount of time, as many of these parents are some what lax about sending their children to school.

The Good Neighbors Club met Wednesday Aug 24th with Mrs. Dick Harris. Officers were elected for the new year. Rev. and Mrs. W. B. Russell and children of Plainview were visiting this week with their father and mother, Mr and Mrs. R. O. Brown. Rev. Russell is a ministerial student at Wayland Baptist College in Plainview.

'49 Rodeo Is Best Ever Staged In O'Donnell

Large Crowds See 3-Day Community Parade

Attendance was estimated as high as 4,000 folks for the 3 shows. Net profits are not known yet. Far out-doing anything held here in the past was the opening day parade seen by 2,000 folks.

The floats were generally excellent with the Legion's Flag Raising on two jims as the best in the opinion of the Index. Other floats were entered by Lions club, the Rotary, stressing Boy Scouts, the Methodist float, the Homemakers float as well as a score of commercial floats, stunts, music, clowns, pioneer scenes, as well as the Lubbock Sheriff's posse and 30 or more local mounted riders.

A Cheerful Little Lady

Sylvia Walker, age 10, daughter of Mr and Mrs. C F Walker, is an inspiration to her family, and to her wide circle of friends because she is a day by day example of sweetness, patience and understanding. Sylvia, for so young a lady, has had a time of it, relatively speaking, but she certainly wants to be quite happy. First she came down with meningitis Nov. 25, 1947, then Dec. 25th, 1948, she developed measles, and heaping troubles on the girl is a case of rheumatic heart disease which developed Feb. 17th of this year. Incidentally many times more children have rheumatic heart disease than have polio—there are, or have been, several cases of late here.

Sylvia has been in bed since taking the rest cure (which is the only known treatment) but she kept up her school work and was passed to the fifth grade last May. However, she may not be permitted to study this school year, depending on her doctor's orders.

A bit of her history. She was born May 10th, 1939 at Bule and her father is an employee of the Pelts Blacksmith Shop.

Over several Lubbock radio stations recently, her name was called and she received a flood of letters, cards, hankies and gifts. Her Dad says that Sylvia received 60 letters in one day alone—and was she thrilled.

"If you are blue and need a 'lift'—go see Sylvia; she cheerful, and bless her heart, O'Donnell loves her."

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Deep Freeze Gifts 'Chill' Demos; Senate Kills Welfare Setup Plan; Taft Is Target of AFL Vote Drive

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

DEEP FREEZE: Capitol 'Chilled'

To paraphrase an old tune, it was "January in June" in Washington as the story of the gifts of the home freezer units unfolded and expanded. Finally, the sordid angles of the "5 per centers" operations reached to the White House.

WITNESSES before a group probing the extent and results of "influence" obtainable by the "5 per centers" testified that of several deep freeze units given away by the manufacturers, one went to Mrs. Harry Truman, wife of the President of the United States. Others who apparently received a similar gift were Chief Justice Vinson of the U.S. supreme court, James K. Vardaman, Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, Mr. Truman's military aide. In fact, General Vaughan got two, so the witness said.

In connection with that development, there was a question which it seemed should have been answered long ago by the man most concerned. The man was President Truman. The question was: Why hasn't the President declared that White House influence and prestige are not for sale, cannot be wheedled by favorite hangers-on, and cannot be swayed by anything except the best interests of the people of the United States?

ANY FAIR-MINDED citizen will concede that there is no reason to think the acceptance of the gifts mentioned involved any law violation. Even though the company which paid the bills for the home freezers is linked with the ubiquitous John Maragon and the inquiry into the activities of "5 per centers" the mere fact of receiving personal gifts does not constitute legal offense.

In any sense of the word, it seems to be an offense against propriety. It is further evidence of a downward trend in political morals, a not too new development in these changing times. On the evidence at hand thus far, the deep freeze affair is not important—it is merely symptomatic.

ELECTIONS:

Taft Is Target

The American Federation of Labor, looking to the 1950 congressional elections, set plans for raising a million dollar war chest with which to knock off candidates obnoxious to the organization.

THE MILLION DOLLAR figure was the "minimum" officials said, with a voluntary contribution of $2 a head to be asked of the federation's members for work in the 1950 campaign.

It was no secret that Ohio's Senator Taft was the main target of AFL efforts, with the second target being Senator Donnell (R., Mo.) who was described by AFL's William Green as "more like Taft than anyone in the senate."

The per capita contribution, double that of the organization for the 1948 elections, will be split evenly with the state federations whose share is to be used in working at the precinct level.

AFL's election activity will have an important bearing on the future of the Republican party in the nation. For instance, if Taft should be knocked off in his race for reelection to the senate, it would mean that Dewey would remain as a top figure in the GOP hierarchy.

On the other hand, if Taft should win and Dewey were defeated in a bid for his third term as New York's governor, the party would be all Taft's.

SYRIA: New Cabinet

The fighting, the blood-letting were over. Peace of a sort reigned in Syria after a lightning like army coup that overthrew and executed President Hossni Zayim. The army committee which took things into its own hands was replaced by a new coalition cabinet which was organized by Col. Sami Hennaui who headed the revolution.

IT APPEARED that civilian rule would predominate, inasmuch as the new cabinet was composed mostly of civilians. The new government represented three political parties and various independent groups that opposed both Zayim and the constitutional regime which fell last March.

The premier is Hashim El Atasy, head of the national bloc and a former president of Syria.

TOO MUCH WHEAT? Problem of Farm Price Support Mounting

It might be an unpleasant task, but an inescapable one—the demand for wheat was falling off. That was the conclusion of the National Industrial Conference Board.

This organization reported that total domestic consumption for the year beginning July was expected to be lower than at any time since 1941.

Slim Pickings

It will be slim pickings for holdup men who go after Frank B. Tippins' store in Miami. Twice within one month hold-up men came and got a total of $513. Smartened up now, Tippins will no longer be a lure for robbers.

WELFARE:

No Cabinet Status

The senate was having none of President Truman's proposal for creation of a federal department of welfare with cabinet status. A coalition of Republicans and southern Democrats dealt the project a pulverizing blow by a vote of 60 to 32.

WITH a constitutional majority in either house able to veto any such plan, the senate action meant complete and final defeat of the plan to transform the federal security agency, which handles the nation's education, health, and social security functions, into a department of welfare.

This proposal stemmed from the recommendations of the Hoover commission which spent two years seeking ways and means to make government more efficient and economical.

OHIO'S Republican Senator Taft, denying the Republicans were repudiating Hoover in opposing a plan they believed ran counter to the Hoover commission recommendations, declared:

"I believe very strongly that Mr. Hoover was misled."

This led Senator Lucas, Illinois, Democratic floor leader, to state that he was both "shocked and surprised that the good Republican from Ohio would deal with Mr. Hoover in this manner."

'THOUGHT' LAW: Held too Broad

The fallacy of attempting to deal with ideologies through laws has been highlighted by a Maryland circuit judge. The judge, Joseph Sherbow of Baltimore, ruled that the state cannot punish a person for what that person thinks.

The opinion was given in a case involving a state law against people who join or work with subversive organizations. It was the first courts test of the new law that required loyalty oaths by public employees and candidates for office.

"The supreme court," Judge Sherbow said in his opinion, "has made it clear that laws may punish acts and conduct which clearly, seriously and imminently threaten substantive evils."

"They (the laws) may not intrude into the realm of ideas, religious and political beliefs, and opinions. The law deals with overt acts, not thoughts. It may punish for acting, but not for thinking."

The law which Judge Sherbow tossed out did not specifically ban the Communist party. Its preamble said communism is a dangerous, world-wide conspiracy that fits the definition of subversive activity. Anything that aims at the overthrow of this government by force was deemed subversive.

Justice Sherbow said the law was too general. Declaring it violated the first, fifth and 14th amendments to the constitution, and Maryland's declaration of rights, he added:

"As stated by Justice Jackson (in a West Virginia case before the supreme court):

"If there is any fixed star in our constitutional constellation, it is that no official, high or petty, can prescribe what shall be orthodox in politics, nationalism, religion or other matters of opinion, or force citizens to confess by word or act their faith therein."

WOMAN'S WORLD

Collar Fashions Rule the New Fall Clothes

By Erita Haley

THERE ARE MANY changes but few upsets in the fall and winter fashion picture, advance previews indicate. Your last year's wardrobe will not look outlandish, but you may find yourself wishing for the new basic slimmness that new clothes show, as well as some of the new neckline interest.

Skirt lengths, too, are something women always ask about first when talk gets around to new clothes. Hems for fall are going up an inch or two, but it should always be remembered that smart designers and wise women insist that the woman wear the length best suited to each individual. Favored length is fourteen inches from ground.

As you see the new clothes, you'll be impressed with the lack of trimming used on them for the very simple reason that so much interest is centered on fabrics. Decor is provided mostly by buttons or interesting pockets.

Fabric dominates every costume because so many lovely new materials are now available, and so much can be done with each one as well as a combination of two of them.

Youth, Movement Are Reflected in New Silhouette Slenderness and movement, youth and grace might all be used to describe the currently popular silhouette. This does not mean that only youth has been considered in its planning. Even when the mature woman wears new clothes, grace, youth and a feeling of fluidity can be created.

Even though basic slimmness is evident in the designing of most clothing, fullness is used here and there. However, tucking and pleats are cleverly manipulated so that they give the effect of slimmness.

Movement is achieved through the use of flying godets, fantail panels or giant, inverted folds. Many suits are belted and have a wind-swept effect because of billowing front or side drapery.

Slimmness is more evident in daytime clothes while evening clothes reflect a flower-like type of fullness. The all-American shirtwaist look is being revived.

You'll notice, too, that the new silhouette swings to the side, rather than to front or back as seen in the past year or two. Neck lines pull dresses to one side with a side plunge or sling, while panels,

Design Simplicity

A junior fashion which will be ideal for the girl who goes back to school this fall is this dress designed with classic simplicity. The slanting bodice and skirt buttons on this kelly green New York designed dress are fashion highlights for the season. A high neckline, three-quarter sleeves and slim belt complete the dress.

THE READER'S COURTROOM

Drawback to Idling

By Will Bernard, LL.B.

May You Get into Trouble By Doing Nothing At All?

Two coeds went swimming at a lake resort, but soon lost sight of each other in the water. When one of the girls was unable to locate her companion, she became alarmed and reported her fears to the proprietor of the beach. He replied: "She is probably on the shore—look around for her!" The man made no effort to help find the missing girl. That evening, her body was recovered from the bottom of the lake. The victim's family later filed a damage suit against the proprietor. In his defense, he argued that a person can't be held liable just for "doing nothing at all." However, the court disagreed and made him pay damages to the bereaved family. The judge said there are times when a person has no right to stand by and do nothing—and this was one of those times!

A woman was speeding past an amber signal when a taxi hit the side of her car. Her auto swung out of control and crashed into the porch of a house. Miraculously, no one was hurt—but the owner of the house sued both the woman and the taxi driver for damages. The cab driver admitted his guilt, but the woman pleaded innocent. However, the court decided she was just as responsible as the cab driver and had to pay part of the cost. If she hadn't been speeding, her car wouldn't have rolled so far.

A woman was driving along a narrow side street when she came to a main thoroughfare. She noticed a car coming, but—since it was still some distance away—she started across. Just then, the oncoming car suddenly sped up! There was a crash, and the man driving the other car was hurt. Later he sued the woman for damages, insisting that he had the right-of-way. However, the court exonerated the woman from all blame. The judge said the man should have proceeded with caution.

May a Convicted Killer Get a New Trial—On a Mere Technicality?

A young man was arrested on a charge of murdering his sweetheart. The trial lasted for several days, finally drawing to an end late Saturday afternoon. Anxious to wind up the case, the judge immediately began giving his instructions to the jury. He talked, and talked, and talked—until 10 minutes after midnight! Now it so happened that the local law prohibited any court sessions on Sunday. When the jury brought in a "guilty" verdict, the convicted youth filed an appeal on the basis of this 10-minute overlap into Sunday morning. And the court—very reluctantly—granted him a brand new trial. The judge said it was just as wrong to break the rules by 10 minutes as by 30 hours!

Be Smart!

If you're buying a bag now, you'll want to choose one which will serve you in the fall, too. A revival which will serve you just as well now as later is the beaded bag or the metal mesh bag that gives a beaded effect. There's newness in their soft, crushed look that looks equally well with summery print dresses or the semi-dark dresses which you'll be choosing for fall. Another trick which you'll appreciate for two-season use is the black bag which is touched with white in place of all-white bags of the earlier summer.

KATHLEEN NORRIS

Leopard Doesn't Change Spots

WHY DO HUSBANDS, so often, after marriage, want to change the women they found so completely perfect in pre-marriage days? And why do so many engaged girls speak with assurance of the alterations they expect to make in their mates, once they are sure of them?

Early married life consists, for such couples, in an unending war between Dick's preconceived ideas of what a wife should be, and Betty-Lou's iron determination that he shall abandon all his old ways, friends, amusements, interests.

Whatever threatens successful marriage is of vital national importance in these domestically-shaken days, and this is one of the most serious threats. It seems to me that any mother or father who wants the future of a daughter or son to be somewhat secure, could do worse than warn that daughter or son of this particular danger.

Here are some quotations from the letters of two June brides of 1947: one written from Montreal, one from Tucson, Arizona, and both with the same complaint.

Two Letters
"Harry," writes Joan, the Canadian wife, "used to come down to Buffalo on business, and our courtship was there. He liked everything I did then, he likes nothing that I do now. My manner with his friends, my occasional loyal mention of my own country, my resentment of his mother's interference, the words I use, my handwriting, my liking to sing now and then, though my voice isn't anything remarkable, my planning of meals—wouldn't bother with all this. I keep a spotless house and am a good cook; financially we have always been solvent. But I want my marriage to be perfect, and want your advice about mine."

Well, my advice to Ethel and to Canadian Joan is the same. In the early years of married life, it is salutary to remember that you two girls picked these men to be your mates, and the fathers of your children. You picked them as they were, and they chose you the same way.

To all of us character changes are distasteful, to say nothing of their being extremely difficult. The impulse to improve must come from within, never directly from without.

If his wife is gentle, good natured, appreciative and companionable, Fred can be brought to a condition so improved as to astonish even the rather smug and faultless Ethel. She has only to tell him that he was wonderfully nice with her friends tonight, she has only to say that considering what Fred has made of himself without much schooling, it is not surprising he doesn't feel that Peter—less than two years at this writing—may not need college. If Ethel has any sense at all, she will let the far future take care of itself.

As for Joan, Well, she must remember that between the two great English-speaking races there is a jealous cousinship. Harry is anxious to be proud of his American-born wife. Her Americanisms in pronunciation, in customs, her expectation of finding all the freedom in her girlhood in this marriage, cause him constant wincing, constant sensitiveness. If she'll keep that constantly in mind for a year or two, there is nothing in her problem that cannot be solved for the happiness of them both.

Don't Be Sorry For Tall Girls

'Stratoliners' Say They Like Height

NEW YORK—Don't be too sorry for poor Cousin Lucy because she happens to be 6 feet tall. Maybe she likes it that way.

Take 6 foot 2 Catherine Bedell, New York telephone operator and member of the Stratoliner club, who says:

"You're all by yourself up there—and it's nice. When I'm with out crowd I'm really annoyed because I can't see over their heads. A tall girl looks better in her clothes, too—when she can get them. A lot of us make our own."

It isn't any harder for a tall girl to get a job, she asserts, and a lot of medium sized men like to go out with a tall girl.

"How do we like it? Oh, we think it's fine. Still, we do like tall men."

Question 6 foot women and nine out of any 10 probably will tell you they like it that way. And you will note, too, that most of them wear high heels.

And where do you find ten 6 foot women?

There were 200 men and women as tall, or taller, at a convention just held here.

There were delegates from 24 clubs the country over, such as the Kansas City Skyliners, Pittsburgh Star Dusters and a lot of other banded in the American affiliation of tall clubs. Men members must be 6 feet 2; women can get by at 5 feet 10.

All of the elongated fraternity were much concerned with the problems as well as the advantages of their height.

"Being tall is all right, but it has a lot of complications," says Chester Aronson, 6 foot 4 president of the New York Stratoliners and chairman of the convention.

Loan Types

THE TYPES of housing loans available to farmers under the 1949 housing act recently passed by the 81st congress.

The housing program is set up by the Farmers Home Administration of the department of agriculture which already is in the process of making loans to farmers who have trouble obtaining loans from private sources.

According to the provisions of the act all borrowers must be approved by the county committee of local farmers who are tied in with the existing program.

The money may be used for improvement of the farm house or outbuildings.

Although as this act has been set, they may average approximately $2,500 per acre.

Loans for farms which are considered potentially adequate and indicate that the farm is being helped with aid of the government.

On this type of loan, payments for the first few years are easier and in certain cases government may overlook or waive a certain per cent of first payments.

The third type of loan includes loans for very poor farms which hold little hope of being self-supporting.

The law provides that for the first year 25 million dollars will be available for lending with another two million for out-of-pocket grants.

According to the department experts probably 2,000 farmers may avail themselves of these loans.

The only fly in the ointment of the measure is that the act merely authorizes the appropriations and leaves it to congress to make the appropriations each year if the program is to be carried out as proposed in the original act.

First of appropriations likely will be made.

Power Issue

Western senators are split wide on the question of private power public power, or more specifically the turning over of the public power dams of the west to private power interests.

Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma, and Pat McCarran of Nevada, agreed with Senator Kenneth S. Wherry of Nebraska, to turn the production of government-owned dams over to monopolistic private utilities.

Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Arizona, and Carl Hayden of Arizona, led the fight to continue government transmission of electricity produced at the dams to private consumers.

Other members of the committee voted is not since there was "no record" in getting a majority of the Democrats and eight Republican members to vote his way to turn electrical product of these dams which belong to the people to the private utilities at virtually their own price, since they would be the only customers, and utilities would in turn sell it to consumers at their own price.

This question of public transmission of electricity from the public dams was an issue in the campaign and one of the pledges of President Truman was that the government would own and operate the transmission lines.

DRIVER CAN TRANSFORM HIS FLIVVER... Newest Models Have Built-in Parking Space... INTO AN APARTMENT AUTOMATICALLY

By H. I. PHILLIPS

USEFUL AUTOS

THE latest trend in auto design is toward a pleasure car that can be transformed, presto, into something else.

We look for extensions of the trend, bringing perhaps, the combination sedan, deep-freeze unit and rumpus room.

Elmer Twitchell, the eminent engineer, is at work on a design for flivving that will give the summer auto tourist a car to be known as the cabana special.

Mr. Twitchell has other utilitarian models in mind for Detroit including the following:

1. Fisherman's special. Here the back-seat area can be converted into a huge aquarium for live bait, with a fish well for the day's catch.

2. The Loaf-Mobile. Here, by a remarkable use of engineering skills, an extension can be whisked from the back end of the car which becomes, as if by sheer magic, a patio with flowered walls and bird-bath.

3. The Kitchen-Eight. Lives there an autoist who has never longed to whip up a meal en route? In this model Mr. Twitchell gives the world a roomy limousine in which the touch of a button transforms the rear of the car into a complete kitchenette.

4. The 12-cylinder What-Fun. By a few manipulations, taking less than 10 seconds, this model, seemingly an ordinary touring car, is converted into a police car with all the traditional symbols and sirens.

will be the answer to every autoist's prayer. It is a model which folds up when the driver wishes to park it.

(Note—Order this last one early. It is going to be hard to get.)

The Fiction Corner TRAPPER JOE

By Richard H. Wilkinson

THE BLIZZARD, first of the season, was roaring fitfully when Trapper Joe climbed over the river bank and approached his cabin.

Trapper Joe returned to consciousness to find himself bound in his bunk. He struggled at his bonds.

After an interminably long time he freed himself, chafed his wrists, flexed his muscles.

Trapper Joe examined the pack and found that it contained five pouches, each filled to capacity with gold dust.

PRESENTLY the blanket-swathed figure stirred. Trapper Joe stared down at it solemnly.

"Take it easy, pardner," said Trapper Joe. "You're coming around."

"Where am I?" he demanded. "What happened? I remember setting out for the Post. It began to snow. I kept falling. Then I saw your cabin, but—"

"But you didn't have the strength to make it. I found you almost dead. I lugged you back here and nursed life back into your body. You're safe, and so's your gold."

"You—know what's in there?" "Sure. Some of it spilled out. You must have made a rich strike."

"I did. A pocket. I stayed too late in order to get it all out. My name's Tim McLeary." He eyed Trapper Joe curiously.

"You're a cool one all right." McLeary twisted his thin lips into a grin. "Mebbe it was good figurin' at that. Mind if I take a sleep? I feel sorta weak."

"Drink some more soup first. Warm up inside." OUTSIDE the storm beat and tore at the tiny cabin. Presently Trapper Joe slept. Time passed. The storm diminished in volume, died. The figure near the fire stirred, sat up, listened to Trapper Joe's deep breathing and reached for a stick of firewood.

Trapper Joe returned to consciousness to find himself bound in his bunk. He struggled at his bonds.

After an interminably long time he freed himself, chafed his wrists, flexed his muscles.

Trapper Joe folded the note and put it in his shirt pocket.

"Time to celebrate," he said aloud. "Sides, I'll be wantin' to travel light so's I can reach the Indian village in three days' time."

Before sitting down to his feast he lifted a loose board behind the chimney and hoisted up a gallon can.

He opened the can and his eyes lighted at sight of the yellow gleaming particles of dust there.

He chuckled and replaced the can. "Well," he soliloquized, "the kid had a chance to play fair, and didn't take it. If he'd been willin' to split I'd have come half way. It'll take him a week to reach the post. By that time I'll be safe and sound."

Are you a victim of gadgetitis?
 Many folks are and you usually find

 Miss Gladys Daren, assistant ex-others are actually bad because so much energy is required to operate them.

 Before purchasing these home appliances, it might be well to check them for the following points.
 It should be easy to operate, safe, save time and effort, and have the capacity to do the job for which it was built. How much space is required to store it and does its use warrant the storage used?
 The most economical gadgets or appliances are those that can be used for doing more than one job.
 Those whose use can effect a saving in foods or lessen the labor required for keeping the home.

The John Deere does an excellent job of harvesting any cotton that is suitable for mechanical snapping. Stripping two 40-inch rows at a time after defoliation, the John Deere does a once-over job, saving more cotton than the average hand-puller. Harvested at the same time, cotton pulled with the No. 15 grades as high as that picked by hand.

Be sure to stop in soon and let us tell you more about this time-and money-saving two-row cotton harvester.

Milk Products Add To Turkey Profits

More Eggs Result Of Judicious Use

Increased egg production of nearly 25 per cent and an increased profit of $2.57 per hen, as a result of adding milk products to the rations of breeding turkeys, is indicated in results of a feeding demonstration reported by the Kraft foods company.

Two similar flocks of broad breasted bronze turkeys on the Lester Woodhams' ranch at Sonora, Calif., were placed on test at the beginning of the season. Both flocks were fed a ration consisting of commercial breeder mash in pellet form, some oats and a little corn. One flock had 130 hens and the other 204. Breeding and management of the two flocks was identical. A pelletized milk product was added to the ration of the smaller flock.

These turkeys show what excellent results can be obtained by turkey raisers with use of proper feed and control of flocks.

Careful records of egg production and feed consumption were maintained from the start of egg production, February 21, to May 26 when the birds were marketed because of the lateness of the hatching season. Both flocks were producing at better than 40 per cent when marketed.

During the 94-day laying period the 130 hens in the flock receiving the pelletized milk product laid a total of 6,257 eggs, an average of 48.1 eggs each. In the same period the 204 hens in the control flock laid 7,811 eggs, or an average of 38.3 each. This meant that the test flock produced better than 25 per cent more eggs. Rate of production was 51.2 per cent for the test flock compared to 40 per cent for the control flock.

Eggs from the test flock graded 91.6 per cent saleable for hatching against 89.3 per cent for the control flock. With hatching eggs at 32 cents each, this meant that each hen receiving the pelletized milk product produced an average of $14.11 worth of hatching eggs, or $3.17 more than the average for the control flock, which was $10.94.

DOCTOR SAYS DON'T WORRY ABOUT HEALTH

Among a certain and rather extensive group of self centered persons, symptom hunting unfortunately is rather popular. Because of a too detailed study of so-called health literature of the alarmist type or on account of a recent death in the family, introspection develops to a morbid degree. The result is an entirely unfounded fear for all sorts of disease possibilities. Many becoming victims of this warped psychology develop brain and nerve exhaustion and in extreme cases even become affected mentally, stated Dr. Cox, State Health officer.

Of course, it is entirely proper to have a normal regard for personal well-being. To maintain vitality and to prevent disease is a logical pursuit for all. But it most decidedly must be kept within bounds. When one becomes obsessed with the subject, concern for health has overstepped the limits.

For all practical purposes, after giving reasonable attention to diet, personal sanitation, sleep and exercise, and assuming that one's bodily limitations as defined by the family physician are appreciated, the average person can dismiss the subject of health. This, plus the annual physical examination should adequately cover the situation.

On the other hand, conditions are bound to arise where actual disease symptoms manifest themselves. It will then be up to the doctor to decide what the trouble, if any, is and for the patient to abide by his judgement. In short, symptom hunting as a hobby is a dangerous matter. One should stay away from it. It is neither safe nor healthy to do otherwise.

Serve Good Breakfasts for Play-Packed Days (See Recipes Below)

Breakfast Essentials

THOUGH IT'S "SUMMER time and the livin' is easy," many of us find the season just like the rest of the year, busy and activity packed. With youngsters out of school, full of vigor and ready to play at top speed just as soon as the sun is up, days start early and are full, for mother as well as the youngsters.

Since youngsters are up bright and early, eager to get out of the house to the fascinating work of play as quickly as possible, mother has to keep on her toes to see that they get a good breakfast. Children burn a lot of energy on days when they can play as they want, and they should be properly fortified with nutritious food.

Good breakfasts are simple and easy to prepare. The meal should include at least these five essentials: fruit, cereal with milk, bread, butter and a beverage, which for youngsters should be milk or cocoa.

You may add to these essentials bacon, eggs, ham, sausage, creamed chipped beef and such things, but at least you know that you'll be doing a good job with the five "musts."

Vary breakfast cereals to keep interest at a high level. A bowl of hot oatmeal, rich in body-building proteins, thiamine, niacin and iron, can be just as tempting in warm weather as cool if topped with cold milk and some of the season's fresh and choice fruit.

The next day serve a prepared cereal, then switch back to cooked cereal and so forth.

DON'T UNDERESTIMATE the value of hot bread for breakfast and appetite appeal. Here are some muffins with the nutty flavor of oatmeal which are bound to please as they come hot out of the oven with butter melting on them.

As a special time-saving feature, the muffins are made from a home-made oatmeal muffin mix. Make the mix at any time when you have a few spare moments, store in a covered container on the pantry shelf, and you will need only to measure it out, add egg and milk to it for quick muffins.

Oatmeal Muffin Mix (Makes 75 small muffins)

5½ cups sifted flour
1½ cups sugar
6 tablespoons baking powder
1 tablespoon salt
1½ cups shortening
5½ cups quick, rolled oats, uncooked

Sift together twice the flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Cut shortening into dry ingredients until particles are the size of rice grains. Add rolled oats and blend. Store in covered container.

Muffins from Mix (Makes 12 small muffins)

2 cups oatmeal muffin mix

LYNN SAYS: Meat Interest Remains High If You Serve Fish Often

No matter how far away you live from the sea, it's easy to obtain such ocean-fresh seafood as cod and perch when you buy them in their quick-frozen form.

Boiled fish like cod, for example, adds new interest to menus when served with tomato sauce that can come from a can or an egg sauce which is simply a thin white sauce enriched with chopped hard-cooked eggs.

1 egg, beaten
½ cup milk

Add beaten egg and milk to muffin mix, stirring lightly until combined. Fill small, greased muffin cups ¾ full. Bake in a hot (425°F.) oven 15 to 20 minutes.

YOU'LL WANT the muffin mix to serve for luncheon and dinner purposes, too, so here are some interesting variations that can be made from the mix:

Bacon Muffins Glazed with Honey Butter: Place a few bits of cooked bacon in center of each muffin before baking. Two or three minutes before muffins have finished baking, remove from oven and brush with honey butter (made by combining 1 tablespoon honey with 1 tablespoon butter). Return to oven and finish baking.

Cheese Muffins: Fold ½ cup grated sharp cheddar into batter just before baking.

*Marmalade Muffins: Place ½ teaspoon marmalade or preserves on top of each muffin before baking.

JUST AS VARIETY in cereals is desirable for breakfast, so it is with eggs. Here are some simple but different ways of serving this nutritious food.

Frizzled Eggs (Serves 4)

¼ pound chipped beef
4 teaspoons butter
4 eggs, beaten
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup milk

Cook dried beef in butter until slightly crisp. Combine eggs, pepper and milk and mix well. Pour over beef and cook as for scrambled eggs. Serve with catsup or preserves, if desired.

Eggs in Bacon Rings (Serves 6)

6 slices bacon
6 eggs
Salt and pepper
3 English Muffins, split, toasted, buttered

Grease bottoms of custard cups. Curl a slice of bacon around inside of each cup. Break an egg inside each bacon ring, dust with salt and pepper, and bake in a moderate oven (350°) until egg is firm but not hard. Remove carefully from cup so that egg and bacon remain together and place on half the English muffin. Note: The bacon may be fried or broiled before placing in the cup, if more crisp bacon is desired.

Poached Eggs in Apple Rings (Serves 6)

2 large apples
2 tablespoons fat
6 eggs
Salt and pepper

Wash and core apples; cut crosswise into slices ½ inch thick. Fry apples in fat 2 to 3 minutes on each side. Place an egg on each apple slice and season with salt and pepper. Cover pan closely and cook over low heat until eggs are firm.

Lobster needs little to make a delicious salad. Combine flaked lobster with some Thousand Island dressing and serve on a bed of greens.

Stuffed olives, hard-cooked eggs and chopped chives give chilled tuna fish an unusual flavor when used for salads.

Extend crabmeat with cooked halibut when you plan to serve a crowd with a casserole or as a salad. Celery, sweet pickle and lemon juice will bring out flavors when they're served as salad.

International Union Sunday School Lessons
By DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

SCRIPTURE: Psalms 49:1-7; 72: 82
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalm 107: 1-4, 12-13.

What Is Justice?

Lesson for September 4, 1949

EVERYBODY is in favor of justice but not everybody knows what justice is. Justice is more fundamental than democracy. If we believe that democracy is the best form of government, it is only because we believe that justice can be better secured in this way than in any other.

Justice is as old as God

Since for at least 3,000 years historians, politicians, philosophers and theologians have been wrangling over the meaning of justice, you won't learn the last word about it merely by studying one Sunday school lesson. But this is the place to remind ourselves that justice as an ideal, Dr. Foreman and democracy as a means of reaching that ideal, were not born yesterday.

Labor Day will recall the great services rendered to democracy by the organized workers of the world, for example, in the push they have given to free and universal education. But democracy is older than the labor movement, is older than July 4, 1776, is older than the Magna Charta, is older than the Roman empire, in which one of many mottoes was "Let justice be done even if the sky caves in!"

Justice and democracy go back to the ancient Hebrews, the people who wrote the Old Testament. It was written in their laws, preached by their prophets, sung in their Psalms. But of course they did not invent it. They proclaimed it; but justice is older than the human race. The whole Bible and not only the Old Testament teaches that justice is rooted in the nature of God himself. No unjust person can be called godly.

Songs of Justice

OUR Psalms for this week give us some valuable light on what justice is. Some people think that if everybody were rich, that would be justice. Psalm 49 shows how foolish that notion is. It says in almost so many words, "You can't take it with you."

Riches do not spell happiness. Making everybody rich might mean making many people miserable. Money by itself does not cure the ills of life, it may make them worse or even create new ones. Many a family in the "upper brackets" has troubles that would vanish if they had less money.

Psalms 72 and 82 give us more positive suggestions. Psalm 72 sees it as the king's main duty to judge the people with righteousness and justice. The king was the government, in those days; he was the executive and the legislative and the judicial branch of government all rolled into one. In modern terms, the business of government is something more than furnishing police to lock up and punish wrongs after they have been done.

The welfare of the people is the concern of government. When public officials take any other view of their job, they are off the beam. In a democracy, the government is the people, that is to say, ourselves. If things are bad we are to blame for it; if they are going to be any better, we shall have to work for it. Every appeal to a king, in the Old Testament, when translated into terms of a democratic country, means an appeal to the people.

The Little People

JUSTICE always has to be concerned with the little people. It was true in the simple little world of the ancient Hebrews, it is just as true in our global complex world, that the strong will always exploit the weak if there is not a hand to stop them.

God is always for the "poor," the "children of the needy," and he is always against the "oppressor." In ancient Israel the oppressor was usually the big land-owner who treated his slaves with cruelty or underpaid his workers. Nowadays the oppressor is any exploiter, any man or group of men who will use power to squeeze out or crush down the little man.

But justice is positive, not negative, prevention and not cure only. Concern for social justice includes taking care of people laid low by an epidemic or made homeless by fires; but it goes far beyond this. It will mean working for conditions such that no one will be forced to live in unsanitary firetraps.

FIRST AID to the AILING HOUSE

by Roger C. Whitman

QUESTION: Our housekeeping rooms are sandwiched between an unheated, uninsulated attic and an unheated, poorly ventilated, very damp basement. Consequently my rooms are damp and wallpaper won't adhere to the plaster walls. Painting them poses this problem: After the warm, dry summer season is over, the painted ceilings and walls flake profusely. Because I must paint every year, I have gone down the paint scale—from semi-gloss finish to the water types of paint. But I find the expense of doing four rooms exorbitant these past two years. Can you suggest an even cheaper wall covering?

ANSWER: Instead of putting all the money into paint, why not do something to dry up the damp basement and insulate the attic roof? This would cost more money than paint, but it would definitely make a big improvement and you would have healthier living conditions than what you have now in those damp rooms.
