Count Indicates All Workers In Race To Win

Any Worker Could Be First Next Week; Race That Close

The race is on! The bars are up, the track is clear, and everyone of the enterprising contestants in the O'Donnell Press' circulation campaign has the "right of way." The preliminaries are now over and the race for the rich awards, headed by the choice of a new Ford or Chevrolet, is now on in earnest. The votes today show all contestants closely grouped and credited with all votes accepted for publication by the campaign manager. A "hottie" royal or cadaver can now be easily predicted as first one contestant and then another will hold first place, with the result that several will come down the home stretch neck and neck, and to the big winner will go the new automobile. Changes in the positions are predicted to come with lightning like rapidity as the race progresses. Those who intend being the big winners must not lose a single hour, but must spend every available minute in the pursuit of the winning subscriptions. Remember though, that the leader today is not necessarily the winner as there are five full weeks left to bridge the gap between the leader's position and those down the line.

Thompson Opens Drive For Office

Candidate Governor Launches Campaign; Favors Full Program

ERNEST O. THOMPSON

WACO, Texas.—Elaborating upon the platform he announced last week, Ernest Thompson of Amarillo opened his campaign for Governor with a speech at the courthouse here Tuesday night. A long-range program of industrial expansion for Texas was outlined by the Railroad Commissioner, indicating he will back his race for the governorship on the promise of a practical and businesslike administration of State affairs. Thompson reiterated his belief that no new taxes are necessary at the present time and stressed that this would be an incentive for new industries to come to Texas. An aggressive and practical program of industrial expansion would benefit organized labor, the farmers and ranchers and every other citizen in the State, he declared. Touching other points in his platform, Thompson recognized the necessity of paying old-age and other pensions caring for the State's share of the teachers' retirement fund. He reiterated his opposition to the open salon, to sale by the district and gambling in all forms. He advocated forming a three-member land board to make sales and leases of public school lands; getting the insane out of jails into hospitals; continuing the Robertson insurance law.

O'Donnell Business Men-Farmers Go "Over The Top"

Collector Of Curios Here Finds Many Interesting Items In Sand Pits

Following discovery of a skeleton in a sand pile, with an old-time pistol and dagger nearby, interest in the curio collection of J. W. Daniels, living five miles west of here, has increased to a marked degree by many other collectors and "looters."

GIANT BARBECUE PLANNED FOR A CROWD OF 5,000

Speakers Well-known Over State Will Be Invited To Fiesta

Displaying marked co-operation, business men and individuals of this city and farmers are making action Wednesday and raised funds for an O'Donnell Fiesta and assure a giant barbecue celebration here Friday, April 22. A crowd of 5,000 people is expected to attend. Speakers, well known throughout the state, will be invited to be here. Invitations are to be sent to Ernest O. Thompson and William McCraw, gubernatorial candidates, and John Lee Smith, J. Brockmorton and Senator G. H. Nelson of Tahoka, candidate for lieutenant-governor. District Judge Louis B. Reed will be invited to give the welcome. Maxford of Tahoka is to be asked to serve in a like capacity in behalf of the county. A prominent local citizen, as suggested later by the special committee to speak, a blanket invitation to all political candidates to be present here April 22 was issued this morning. "Something doing all the time" is the motto selected for the Fiesta by the people of O'Donnell, and a sincere effort will be made to entertain. Early plans for the staging of the huge barbecue call for the presence of at least 15 tender beefsteaks, and sufficient amounts of bread, pickles, onions, beans and coffee. Plans for O'Donnell's two-day rodeo have also gone forward and entertainment for both Friday and Saturday, April 22-23 is to be of the best. The rodeo, managed separately from the barbecue festival, will feature dancing and an airplane ride. A well-managed parade will precede the opening of the rodeo Friday afternoon.

Senior Play On Friday Night

After many weeks preparation, the senior class of the district will give the play "The Miracle," Friday evening at the high school auditorium.

Much publicity has been given this play because it is truly one of the best plays that has ever been selected for production in the local auditorium. Numbers that are to be given between acts have received careful attention and small details have been given every consideration, so that one may enjoy an evening at little cost.

The public is cordially invited to witness this production, which begins at 8 p. m. The admission will be 10 cents and 25 cents.

McCarley's Employ New Saleslady In Ready-to-wear Dept.

Epworth Leaguers Of Section To Be Here Sunday

Being named as hostess to all Epworth Leaguers in the district, O'Donnell will receive delegates from Tahoka, Post, James, and Brownfield, and the surrounding communities, at the Methodist Church Sunday at 3:00 p. m.

An attractive program, which has been planned by one of the leading leaguers will include members from each of the visiting towns. O'Donnell will not participate.

Awains On First National Bank Building Renovated

Repair work on the awnings of the First National Bank was begun the first part of the week, with W. F. Garner in charge of the work.

The awnings had depreciated immensely during the last few years and demanded immediate attention. The building was constructed in the year of 1924.

Mrs. Pearl Keeton received an announcement of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gray of New Lynn. Mrs. Gray and Mrs. Keeton are sisters.

FIRST VOTE COUNT!

Here is the first publication of credits earned in the O'Donnell Press' Weekly Payroll Subscription Campaign. The Payrollers are giving a good account of themselves and are making regular cash reports and earning generous commissions.

MODERN ETIQUETTE

1. Would it be all right for a woman who has just moved into a new neighborhood to extend the first invitation to some established neighbor?
2. What is the proper way to eat a banana at the table?
3. What is the difference, if any, between a wedding invitation and a wedding announcement?
4. When a man and woman are entering a restaurant, and no waiter is around, who should precede?
5. Should a girl in an office use such expressions as "Okay," and "All right?"
6. What should a woman wear when making an afternoon call?
7. When addressing an envelope to some one in care of Mr. J. H. Brown, is it all right to use the abbreviation "c-?"
8. How can one acquire the art of listening to another person's talking?
9. Should shortcake be eaten with a fork or spoon?
10. Is there any way in which a bride-elect may show appreciation to a group of girl friends who have given her a shower?
11. Is it all right for a young man to whistle, in order to attract the attention of a girl?
12. When seating dinner guests should a man be seated next to his fiancée?

Answers

1. No. It is the duty and privilege of the established neighbor to make the first move.
2. The banana should be peeled into a plate, then eaten with a fork.
3. The invitation conveys the message that your presence at the wedding is desired. An announcement is merely what the word implies and is not an invitation for you to attend the wedding.
4. The man should precede the woman and choose the table. If a waiter is present to assign the table, the woman should follow the waiter, the man last.
5. No. The English language is so broad that such slang expressions should be avoided.
6. A plain street dress.
7. It is preferable to write "Care of." Abbreviations such as this, and Feb. for February, O for Ohio, Cincinnati, Pch. for Pittsburgh, Respy for Respectfully all show haste and should be avoided.
8. The only possible way is to train one's self to concentrate closely on what the other person is saying.
9. The fork should be used.
10. Yes; she may give a luncheon, tea, dinner, or a theatre party.
11. No; it is very rude to do so, and only an ill-bred man will be guilty.
12. Yes; but a man and wife are usually separated.

HOW CAN I?

Q. How can I fasten casters in to furniture so that they will not fall out?
 A. Remove the caster and then pour plastic wood into the opening. When the plastic wood begins to set, force the casters in place and allow it to harden before placing the furniture on its feet.
 Q. How can I prevent butter from sticking to the mold?
 A. If the mold is scalded, then rubbed thoroughly with salt and allowed to cool in cold water, the butter will not stick to it.
 Q. What is a good moth preventive besides moth balls?
 A. Whole cloves are just as effective when sprinkled through the clothes that are to be stored away; and the odor is not unpleasant.
 Q. How can I make a paint remover?
 A. Use two pounds of sal-soda, one-half pound lime in one gallon of hot water to remove old paint. Stir together and apply to the paint while still warm. This solution loosens the paint and it can be easily removed.
 Q. How can I make a good pie crust?
 A. The yolk of one egg added to the water will make a delicious pie crust. Yolk of an egg beaten light, with two to four tablespoons of water, should be used for a double-crust pie. The crust will be still better if a teaspoonful of baking powder is added to the flour.

 The Standard Ford V-8, with 60-horsepower engine, gives you a lot of car for a little money.
 300,000 new owners acclaim the "thrifty 60" last year. Hundreds are buying it in 1938. Why? Because it is priced low—essential equipment without charge—and goes farther between filling stations than any Ford ever built. Owners all over the report averages of 22 to 27 miles single gallon of gasoline.

OPEN FORUM

Editor, O'Donnell Press
O'Donnell, Texas.

It was a pleasure, indeed, to read the United States Senate's proclamation that it intends to assume leadership in the restoration of business and return this government to American principles. If you haven't read its Ten Point Program, please do.

We have all stood by passively longer than we should have and observed the unpatriotic anti-business demonstrations on the streets of our cities. Picketing by terrible looking characters is permitted without the slightest attempt on the part of the authorities to preserve American rights. Mob scenes instigated, directed and financed, perhaps, by Communists are put on under the designation of the "Death Watch," the "Hungry Brigade" and other such names, which incite to riot. And nothing is done about it.

What this country needs more than anything else at the present time is a lot of good old-fashioned American flag waving.

Perhaps I am not up-to-date in nine these conditions as the new standards resulting from our economic evolution. I believe in an open mind on this matter but I find, in undertaking it, one must sacrifice one's character, self-respect, and patriotism and become an "internationalist"—a person who does not owe allegiance to any country; respects no religious principles and does not see the need to be faithful to a husband or wife.

If that is what we are facing, then God grant that we might find some American Creed to preserve ourselves and that which we created. With a desire to help find that Creed, I offer an excerpt from a speech made many years ago by William Tyler Page.

The American's Creed
"I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of free and inseparable; established upon the principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity; in which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

"I, therefore, believe it is my duty to my country to love it, to support its constitution; to obey its laws, to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies." We at the Hotel Empire are Americans who believe in this Creed. Our flag flies daily, weather permitting. If you believe in this thought, please write your friends about it. We are writing to...

what like the mansion to the millionaire. At the barn he can do as he wishes. There will be no one to scold him if he steps inside without cleaning his feet. No one to make fun of his actions or his clothes. The barn is his haven of rest. It is his work shop. This is where his tools and harness are stored. This is where he has his supplies to make a new crop. This is the place that he himself has made. He knows where each thing is. He knows why it is there. That is where the joy shines forth from his heart when he comes home at night, proud at a day's work well done. This is where he brings his joy. It is also where he comes to when he is in trouble and wishes to forget. His barn is also his house of mystery. Here he can always find something that should be done. Something that will pass away those lonely days when he has nothing to do. The barn is the same to him as the neat little kitchen to his wife. To other people it is only a place to store their things and to keep livestock. To them it has no meaning. It is nothing but a rambling, ramshackle old building, that was built to store junk. To the children at the farm it is a fine place to play. There will be fences to climb. Places Continued on Page Eight

Grace Lamoyne Line Hostess to Mozart Music Club Tuesday

Miss Grace Lamoyne Line was hostess Tuesday afternoon to the members of the Mozart Music Club when she entertained with a party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Line. Group games and contests were played during the afternoon. The guest list included Misses Jennie May and Eloise Shoemaker, Billy Frank and Margaret Gibbs, Edna Fay and Joyce King Edwards, Alice J. Scholer, Aubrey Lee Shock, Stuart and Jimmy Scholer, Billy Scholer, Alvin Ray Moore, and the hostess. Ice cream and cocktails were served as refreshments.

Junior Rhythm Music Club Entertained By Misses Gollightly and Miller

Misses Alvilda Gollightly and Nila Rae Miller were hostesses to members of the Junior Rhythm Music Club at a meeting held on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. L. E. Dodd, Jr. June Marie Gibson opened the meeting with a short reading of "Origin of Music." Other selections were read from a book, "What We Hear in Music," which the club is studying. A short business meeting will

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Middleton, Sr. Hostess to T. E. L. Class

On Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. J. T. Middleton, Sr., was hostess to the T. E. L. Class, a social organization of the First Baptist church, when she entertained members at her home in the east part of town. The entertainments for this class are held monthly. A lead ten was presented to the forepart of the afternoon, followed by group discussions of the lesson. Games were featured later in the afternoon.

Mr. Fred Henderson Hostess to Bridge Club

Mrs. Fred Henderson was hostess Tuesday afternoon to members of the Tuesday Bridge Club when she entertained at her home. Two tables were in play during the afternoon.

High score award, a pair of hand-made pillow cases were won by Mrs. J. Mae Noble, Jr. Dish towels were awarded to Mrs. C. H. Cabot and Mrs. Tex Johnson as slim prizes.

An Easter plate of salad and punch to cheer the youngsters was served to the following members: Mesdames E. T. Wells, M. J. Whitsett, Noble, Guy Brantley, Pauline Campbell, Newell Hughes of Taboka, and two guests, Mrs. Cabot and Mrs. Johnson. The next meeting will be held at Taboka with Mrs. Hughes.

Methodist Missionary Society Met Monday

With "Indian Missions" as the topic of lecture for the afternoon members of the Methodist Missionary Society met Monday at the church. Mrs. J. W. Gates led the program with a talk on Indian Churches. Mrs. R. O. Stark and Mrs. Joe Spikes also gave interesting talks about Indian Missions. At the close of the meeting, necessary plans were made for the Father and Son banquet. Mrs. J. P. Bowlin, who is chairman of the ticket committee, distributed tickets, which are to be sold this week, to various members. The next meeting has been postponed due to the date of the banquet.

Junior G. A. Class Holds Meeting At Church

The sponsor, Mrs. J. A. Lunford, had charge of the program, which was "Missionary Africa." At the next meeting, "Topsy Turvy Twins," an interesting book will be used for weekly study. Those who were present were: John Ellen and Ina Merle Beach, Joyce King and Edna Faye Edwards, Minnie Jean Hodges, Sarah Deen and Billy Archer, Helen Galinea, Ruth Marie Yell, Doris Baltes, Dorothy Smith, Wanda Ruth Stubblefield, and the sponsor.

STRAWBERRY TIME

Pretty Catherine Agalose, strawberry ambassador, enjoys one of the ripe berries she has just helped to pick in the strawberry patch near Hammond, La. Marketed by a growers' organization, the Louisiana Farmers' Protective union, the fruit is handled through an auction in Hammond.

Intermediate G. A. Class Sponsors 'New Member Campaign'

The Intermediate G. A. Class has this week begun a campaign for new members. Girls from the ages of 13 to 16 are eligible to become members. The meetings are held once a week at 4:00, a social is given monthly, and interesting work will be studied. Mrs. Truette Hodgett is the sponsor of the class and urges every girl who is interested to attend at the next meeting.

Mrs. Miles Hostess To Sew and Chatter Club

Mrs. Roy Miles was hostess to the Sew and Chatter Club when she entertained at her home east of town last Thursday afternoon. Gifts from the newly-organized Rosobud friends were exchanged at the meeting as well as done on the first and third Thursdays of each month. Apéritif, short-ke and coffee were served to the following: Mesdames Ralph Blanton, Stansell Jones, Alen Crowley, S. F. Johnson, Claude Cheevis, C. N. Fritz, Frank Shumake, J. T. Middleton, Jr., D. M. Conner, Harvey Line, Lloyd Frasier, and the hostess.

W. L. Sturges Host At Domino Party

W. L. Sturges was host to a few friends last week when he entertained at his home in the south part of town. Games of dominos and a grapefruit feast furnished entertainment for the evening. Those present were Messrs. W. L. Spaulding, Grant Winslow, A. Reed, the host, and his mother, Mrs. Sturges.

Former Resident Ill

Mrs. L. L. McCendon, who formerly lived here, is seriously ill this week at her home in Taboka. Mrs. M. Cleveland is pending a major operation at a Lubbock hospital as soon as her condition will permit.

Mrs. Roy Kaiser returned to her home in Sylvester Sunday after an extended visit with her mother, Mrs. M. Ward, and sister, Mrs. Joe Spikes.

Grade School

Second Grade
We are making 100 new spelling pupils this week. Billy Gene Griffin comes to us from Joe Bailey, Lou and Lewis Howlett come from Rotan schools. We are glad that Kahla Joy Ellis has returned to school. We plan to go on an Easter egg hunt Friday.

Third Grade
Those making 100 on a spelling list this week are: Arthur Lee Stokes, Robert Cookfaugh, Ina Merle Beach, Lamoyne Line, Juanita Minor, Louise Summers, Wozzita Seawey, Betty Lou McClary. Those making 100 all week in arithmetic are: Monroe Blackwell, Ina Merle Beach, Edna Faye Edwards, Wanjeta Summey and Betty Lou McClary.

Fourth Grade
Because of the weather, many were absent last Thursday and Friday. We are planning an Easter egg hunt for Friday and are eagerly waiting for that day.

Fifth Grade
We have completed our "Travel and Health Unit" and will present a program in chapel next week on these topics. To complete the unit we secured material from the Chamber of Commerce and also wrote letters to other towns. The replies to these letters were interesting and instructive. We are planning a unit on tuberculosis. We were very glad to have Mrs. Hawes as a visitor Tuesday.

Sixth Grade
Those making a hundred all week in spelling were Gloria Warren, Minnie Jean Hodges, Aveline Garner, Doris Baltes, Joyce King Edwards, Billy Yuen, Dwayne Mires, Stanley Cathey, Leo Bartley and Carl Page. We plan to have an Easter egg hunt next Friday.

Seventh Grade
We are working hard on our Colonial Unit, which must be finished by the end of school. All of us are looking forward for our graduation exercises.

Everyone is proud of Marilyn Wilson who won third place in declamation at the district meet. We are going to have a picnic and an Easter egg hunt.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Perkins visited her sister, Mr. Pearl Keeton, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Keeton accompanied by the Rev. Homer E. Land, visited Mrs. Maude Hubbard of Post Sunday.

Roy Elmo Eversole and Bobbie Carroll visited friends in Lubbock Sunday afternoon.

Dub Gerard, Jr., of Lubbock was an O'Donnell business visitor Tuesday.

C. H. Doak, J. L. Shoemaker and C. J. Beach were in Linn Thursday visiting Judge J. E. Garland.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Weathers of New Lynn were the guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Keeton.

Mrs. A. J. Barnes and Mrs. Duard Frankie were visitors in Lamesa Tuesday.

DEVELOPMENT THE SOUTHWEST NEEDS MOST

If the industrial growth which C. J. Crampton of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce foresees for the Southwest, takes place, the future of this area is secure.

World conditions, no longer justify any section of this country in depending upon production alone. Every section, to enjoy stable prosperity, must have factories and processing plants.

The three major raw materials of the Southwest are cotton, oil and cattle. Texas produces a surplus of each of these commodities and of a number of others that are of great importance.

As long as an unlimited market for these materials existed, Texas continued to grow rapidly. But, throughout the world, production of almost every variety of raw material has increased. To meet this changed condition, the Southwest must have factories for turning its raw products into consumer goods.

Other states which specialize too extensively do not relish competition with the Southwest, but they also should diversify. Every region must strive for a more balanced economy, if the nation as a whole is to be uniformly prosperous.

The enactment by the Texas legislature of any measure that penalizes the industries we have or tends to keep our industry out of the state constitutes a hindrance to future prosperity. — Dallas Times-Herald.

DRUNKEN DRIVERS AND JURIES

Almost as rapidly as the more and more numerous cases come to trial juries in the criminal courts return verdicts of guilty with suspended sentences in cases of deaths in traffic at the hands of drivers known to have been under the influence of liquor at the time of the tragedy. However flagrant appearing is the individual illustration of the cheapness of human life, the jury reactions fall in line with the system which seems to have grown up among venemans.

The Legislature should take those miscarriages of justice into consideration when—and if—the subject of the driver's license law ever arrives on the floor of the two houses. The present one is wholly valueless as a protection for pedestrians and careful drivers. There is on warning hanging in the courthouses which can have the slightest influence toward keeping drunken persons from driving in traffic. It seems to be, rather, an expressed inclination to excuse such drivers from the responsibility for deaths and accidents. Instead of acting as a preventive it seems to take the route of exonerate because of driving incapacity. There is nothing to force itself into the driver's consciousness that taking his place behind the steering wheel while under the influence of liquor is a deliberate act and the consequences should fall squarely upon his shoulders. The victim didn't deserve the price that was demanded and no fault lay with him.

The Legislature owes it to the public to remove that constantly growing menace by a law that will make punishment mandatory. Proof of a death or injury at the hands of a careless, reckless or drunken driver should supply its own verdict and it should be a lesson to auto drivers of all ages and conditions of community standing. By the same token, the translation of a suspended sentence recommendation by a jury into a mandate to the judge could most valuably be changed. The primary prerogative of a jury is that of guilt or innocence decided by the testimony of the witnesses. The law should provide the penalty.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Editor E. L. Hill has been traipsing around down in old Central Texas the past few weeks, eating off his wife's kitchen, and seemed to be really surprised on his return that things had gone on as well as they had. In fact, the boys issued some mighty fine papers during his absence. We thought we had to be on hand too, unless we tried it a few times, and found the boys didn't need our help badly.

By the way, E. L., we like the News better since you dropped the "patent inside." Why carry a lot of ads for nothing and no for the privilege of doing so?—Terry County Herald.

A negro at Loveland killed another of his race near this city recently while the grand jury happened to be in session. He was immediately indicted, tried, convicted and sent to the pen with little delay and expense to the county. This is as it should be, and applied equally to white criminals. Our county officials tell us that they have just about as much trouble with crime sympathizers here as with the criminals themselves. They say that as soon as one of them is in the toils of the law, behold his friends are immediately on the scene trying to get him out of it, or at least to keep him out of jail. And to express the opinion of an official, "we are getting darn tired of it."—Terry County Herald.

If you are a cigaret smoker who objects to paying the state tax of three cents per package imposed by the State of Texas, and carry that opposition far enough to order unstamped cigarettes from some other state which doesn't impose the tax—watch your step. State agents have been going around lately and seemingly have inside information on exactly who has been shipping the contraband cigarettes in—and with unerring accuracy are laying fines and penalties against violators. And some of the fines have been plenty.—Amherst Argus.

TEXAS NEXT TO CALIFORNIA IN TRUCK ACREAGE

DALLAS.—Significant evidence of growing diversification in farm crops, highly desirable in the South to ease the shock of dwindling cotton markets, is seen by the All-South Development Council in the rise of Texas to second place, next to California, in acreage devoted to commercial vegetable crops.

The 271,550 acres of Texas and producing truck crops in 1937 was nearly eight times the 35,000 acres so situated in the state in 1919, bringing the state from 12th place to second. The $19,255,000 in cash income from such crops put the state in fourth place nationally in that table, and was a large gain from the $14,700,000 valuation in 1936.

California, which has been the leading state in both acreage and income for many years, was far out in front in value, with $92,735,000. Florida and New York were second and third, with valuations of $26,745,000 and $25,180,000, respectively.

Other southern states, making vigorous efforts to "balance agriculture and industry" as well as within agriculture and lessen their dependence upon cotton, have greatly increased their commercial vegetable acreage, too. The report cites a study by Gustave Burmeister, Department of Agriculture economist, showing that Louisiana's acreage last year was five times as great as in 1919; Alabama and Mississippi four times, and Georgia and Florida tripled their truck crop acreage.

Spinach was Texas' principal truck crop in acreage last year, its 50,000 acres representing about two-thirds of the total in the nation, though marketing faults make the income to "winter garden" farmers uncertain. Acreage devoted to other leading truck crops were: Tomatoes 46,000, watermelons 16,000, cabbage 36,000, onions 21,000, Irish potatoes 13,000, carrots 7,800, snap beans 7,500, green peas 6,000, cantaloupes 5,200, beets 4,800, strawberries 2,150, green peppers 1,600, egg plant 500, and cauliflower 150.

Texas' progress in crop diversification is noted also in its substantial production of corn, wheat, oats, grain sorghums, grapefruit, peaches, pecans, peanuts and other staple and fruit crops not listed in truck lists. Increasingly better balance in agricultural pursuits will help to round out farm See Truck Acreage Page 7.

APRIL SHOWERS

I'M REFERRING to the showers that precede the June bride—not the kind of flowers. However, flowers and umbrellas and rain barrels are popular accessories for a bridal shower in April. So I'm going to suggest a flower motif for this shower. Of course, the house will be gay with tulips and jonquils and other spring flowers. And the gifts can be wrapped—after the guests arrive—in different colored tissue paper to represent gay big flowers with wide petals. Green tissue paper leaves under the "petals" can add a realistic effect.

For a game—cut out colored pictures of flowers from a seed catalog. Leave off the names, of course, and paste the picture of the flower on a large cardboard. Have a number of these pictures arranged in different places around the room—on book cases—on the wall—on tables or the pillars of the room. Each picture will be numbered, and it will be the guests' task to supply the names. Of course, you'll have searched for pictures of flowers that are not too well known. The guest who guesses correctly the names of the greatest number of these flowers will receive a prize—such as a pretty plant—a package of interesting flower seeds—or a gay flowered apron scarf or apron would be a suitable reward.

When it's time to present the gifts they may be brought in a decorated wheelbarrow such as one would use in a garden—or they may be presented in a large basket. The guest of honor then unwraps each gift—which, of course, contains the donor's card which expresses her appreciation, and warmly thanks the donor.

In the dining room the flower motif also prevails. For the centerpiece, a simple and not too lovely flower arrangement is always charming and in good taste. The flowers chosen may be the favorite variety of the guest of honor; an old-fashioned bouquet with a lace paper full of greenery; a flowered party; an assortment of garden flowers for a basket of flowers centerpiece; or any kind of flowers that will help carry out a certain color note or decorative scheme. Sometimes "bells" are introduced into the centerpiece... in keeping with the special kind of shower given. A cross paper umbrella dripping with thin strips of glistening cellophane "rain" for springtime showers. A miniature wash tub filled with flowers for a washday shower. A recipe book filled with flowers in various colors and varieties for the different "seasons" of the year for a "seasonal" shower. A number of tin cans of different sizes (with labels removed) filled with water for a "soapy" shower. A tea kettle or mixing bowl filled with flowers or a kitchen shower.

If you are serving a complete luncheon or supper, you may be tempted in the kitchen to make something which carries out the flower motif: Palm Court Salad, Hot Biscuits, Celery Carls, Radish Roses, Pimiento Cheese Balls, Ripe Olives, Little Cakes Decorated with Gum Drop Flowers, Chocolate Mousse, or other ice cream served in tiny flower pots with a fresh flower apparently growing in the ice cream.

BROWN SUGAR AND SPICE

Doesn't that bring to your mind happy memories of a wonderfully fragrant atmosphere in the kitchen where cinnamon rolls or coffee cake were baking in the oven? And don't you remember how hungry that fragrance always made you—so that you could hardly wait to get your teeth into that fragrant roll or dripping with melting golden butter? It's because this brown sugar and spice combination is such an appetite tempter that I'm presenting the following recipe for Cinnamon Coffee Cake right now. For such a simple and easy to make it will serve for lunch or supper many, many times. Serve it hot and fragrant from the oven with a cottage cheese and tomato salad—or serve it with a fruit sauce after a hearty soup. Here is the recipe:

Cinnamon Coffee Cake
 1/2 cup all-purpose flour
 1/2 cup baking powder
 1/2 cup sugar
 4 tbs. butter
 Sift the flour once before measuring. Sift the flour, baking powder and sugar together. Cut in the butter with a pastry blender or with two knives until finely blended. Beat the egg, add the milk, and stir into the dry ingredients. Beat vigorously. Pour into a greased 8-inch square baking pan, and sprinkle generously with brown sugar and cinnamon. Bake for 30 or 40 minutes in a moderately hot oven.

Question: Is there any way to prevent a scum from forming over the top of cocoa—and how can I keep it from boiling over the minute I turn my back?

Answer: Beating cocoa with an egg beater will prevent a scum from forming over the top. Cocoa cooked in a double boiler will not boil over, and it may be kept hot for a long time.

Question: Do you know of any way to keep that scum that is called "mudder" from forming in the vinegar in the crust's?

Answer: Try adding about a half a teaspoon of salt when you fill the crust next time.

Question: Do you know of any way to dry satin or fabric shoes when they get wet? I've tried putting them on shoe trees, but that didn't seem to be entirely satisfactory. Can you suggest anything else?

Answer: Stuff the shoes with soft paper—pushing the paper well into the shoes, and be sure to press out all the creases. Be careful to put in sufficient paper to properly shape the shoes without any strain on the fabric. You'll find that the soft paper will not strain the fabric, and the paper will act as an absorbent, so that the shoes will dry more quickly. You'll also find that this is an excellent way to dry leather shoes too.

Question: Is there any way to remove water rings from tables or dressers where a glass of water has been set on them? There are some white rings on my dining room table from hot things. Could you take them off the same way?

Answer: White rings of this kind are not easy to remove. Those made by heat or by alcohol. Heat and alcohol marks are more easy to remove. Rub the rings with a cloth moistened with a little camellia oil. Moisten a piece of cheese cloth sparingly with the oil and go over the spot with light strokes. Follow with vigorous rubbing with a warm cloth. But if the ring or spot is caused by water, place a thick blotter over it and iron the blotter lightly with a warm iron. Let the blotter cool, and repeat the process if necessary.

 incomes and stabilize purchasing power, the council's report noted, improving the state's rating as an active consumer market and therefore as a magnet for new commercial and industrial enterprises.

Improved roads, making possible rapid transportation by trucks and improved facilities for handling perishable food products during the winter and early spring have been important factors in the growing commercialization of Texas vegetable crops, the report said. That there is room for continued expansion was shown, however, by the fact that one-third of all the vegetables unloaded in Dallas alone last year came from California, and that was four times the amount received in this city from Texas shippers.

territory. I suppose they get it from bootleggers, and I hope the better class of citizens will rise up and make it so hot for the bootlegger he will have to move.

We noted in the Press a few weeks ago about clean-up week. I hope it is carried out for as I travel over the town I see quite a bit of trash. It is fine for the city to provide for the hauling. So let's all get our trash piled up ready to be hauled to the dumping ground.

Men, how about attending church? It seems to be the style here for women and children to attend. Men, if the church is a good place for women and children, don't you think it would be a good place for you too? One of the great needs of this town is for the heads of our homes to take a greater interest in spiritual things.

Now don't think I am a knicker for I am not, only against the things that are wrong. If you like the way I write, come to hear me preach; if you don't like the way I write, come anyway - R. P. Drennon.

Tornado Plays Freak Tricks

Properly damage estimated at a million dollars and the loss of nine lives were the toll of a tornado that swept through Belleville, Ill., recently. This picture shows an automobile owner looking at his wrecked car. Note the piece of wood that went the way through the tire.

EAGLE SCREAMS

To hide, small doors to crawl through, and lots of room in which to play their favorite games.

The Barn (By A. C. Lambert)
In days that have definitely passed, the barn could and did mean quite a number of good things and a few bad ones as well.

First Catch of the Season

David Gaudette, five years old, of Yonkers, N. Y., one of the youngest fishermen to get out his rod and reel as the trout fishing season opened recently in New York state, is shown making his first catch of the season in the Croton river near Croton Falls.

"Der Fuehrer" of Austria

A strange scene for the formerly gay capital of Austria is presented by posters carrying the profile of Chancellor Adolf Hitler, as the Nazi organization takes over the government. Wonder what thoughts pass through the minds of this elderly trio.

Whiskers Stymie Gas Mask

George Allen of Bromley, England, offered an unsuspected problem to air precaution wardens of Beckenham, Kent, during house-to-house visits to fit residents with gas masks. The wardens found that a bearded individual like Mr. Allen requires extra-careful fitting because the hair forms an inlet between the mask and the face. They solved the problem by fitting a mask one size smaller than that required for a clean-shaven person and contributed to his future safety.

The Perfect Fair (By A. C. Lambert)
They go to school at O'Donnell High and are very good pupils indeed. Both have one fault: "they read all the ads and use all the articles advertised in them."
She uses Woodbury's soap because she heard it was a facial cocktail and never being used to strong drinks decided she might as well get some use out of the first try. She wears Vanette hosiery because she saw a picture of her favorite movie star with a pair on and even though she, herself, has legs like toothpicks, she had great hopes. She brushes her teeth with Ipana because she can't stand anything pink. She drinks Coca Cola because she wants to pause and doesn't believe that anything could refresh her. She uses Drennon Shampoo because Jimmy Fidler advertises it and although she wears a wig she is of the opinion that it does much good. She uses Tangee rouge and lipstick just because the ads say you will be very romantic.
He uses Lifebuoy soap because he doesn't want B. O. If he did it wouldn't make any difference to her because she has adenoids and can't smell.
He uses Pith's hair oil because he's heard it suppress dandruff and he doesn't like dandruff because it looks like snow and he detests that. He wears Cuties clothes because they're cheap and "makes one look so young." He wears Florsheim shoes—poor boy! Who is it? Don't ask me!
