Last Rites Read For Thomas H. Edwards, Pioneer Since 1924

Thomas Henry Edwards, age 79 and long time resident of here, died at 5 a. m. Friday morning at his home here. Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Saturday afternoon at the local First Baptist Church with burial in the O'Donnell cemetery.

Mr. Edwards, a retired farmer, had lived here since 1924. He was born Feb. 20, 1880 at Paris, Tenn. His wife preceded him in death in 1933.

Rev. John Johns, pastor of the First Baptist church and Rev. Jess Rains, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene officiated.

Surviving relatives include a brother, R. B. Edwards of Hico, a son, Clyde Edwards of here, a daughter, Mrs. Katherine Presley of here and three grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Cletus Cox, Roy Cox, Dick Franklin, Snook Ellis, Glen Clark and Joe Rodgers.

Mr. Edwards had been in declining health for several months prior to his passing having undergone several operations. He was one of our most highly respected pioneers and loved and admired by a wide host of friends. Our greatest sympathy to the heart-broken loved ones.

STUDY CLUB

The 1939 Study Club met with Mrs. Cox last Wednesday. Mrs. J. T. Middleton, sr. and Mrs. Bill Davis read interesting papers on safety in driving and accidents in the home. After a business session a social hour was enjoyed and delicious pie and coffee were served.

Mrs. M. F. Norris and children visited in Post for the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Tucker of Snyder visited his sister Mr. and Mrs. Bill McMillan over the week end.

Leland Lane of Tech spent the week end at home.

Doyle Lane is now stationed at El Paso in the Army.

Mrs. Bert Fritz is visiting her sister Mrs. W. D. Lynch at Sweet water this week.

Sam Singleton is home from a Lamesa hospital greatly improved.

J. Mac Noble of Tech spent the week end at home.

Harley Jolly and Chas. Cabool are serving on the grand jury at Tahoka this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Street, Mesdames Daisy Celsor and Maudo Shaw are visiting relatives in Merkel this week.

Mrs. J. P. Bowlin sr. spent several days last week as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Orson on their ranch near Lamesa.

Tom Brewer is the new City Secretary and Tax Collector; he should make a good one as he is a highly qualified business man.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gardenhire honored Mr. and Mrs. Cleon Greenlee on their 7th anniversary last Sunday. Cake and ice cream were enjoyed by the honoree, Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Greenlee, Mr. and Mrs. Cletis Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Snook Ellis and Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Perkins.

James Lindly of Levelland visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lindly.

Miss Jerry Holman of Seminole visited her parents here Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lindly have returned from a visit to San Angelo.

Mack Garner of Hollywood, N. M. is reported to be improving after being seriously ill for 2 weeks.

Wanted: Turkeys call 114 or 31 350 lbs needed for Cemetery dinner Thanksgiving.

See Mrs. E. J. Tredway for making belts, buckles and button holes.

MARTHA CLASS MEETS

The Martha class of the First Baptist church met Oct. 5th in the home of Mrs. Carr Spraberry for their monthly business meeting. Mrs. Bill Davis, the new president presided and Mrs. John Johns was in charge of the installation of officers. Mrs. Hollis Hunt and Mrs. Spraberry supplied the music for the service. The annual reports were given by the different officers. The business meeting was closed with a prayer by Mrs. R. O. Baggett. A social followed with cake and coffee being served to six members and three visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Van Kirk and family of Big Spring visited his mother Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Warren.

G. E. S. MEETS

The regular meeting of the Order of the Eastern Star was held Monday night with the occasion being Friendship Night. A large crowd was present representing chapters from Lamesa, Brownfield, Tahoka, Southland, Slaton and Lubbock. A beautiful program was enjoyed by all after which refreshments of coffee, pumpkin pie and whip cream were served.

Rev. Ira Harrison and brother Buster Harrison of Lubbock were Sunday visitors in the home of their cousin, Chas. F. Wells and family.

Mr. and Mrs. John Benke and family of Woodward, Okla. visited in the home of his niece Mrs. Chas. F. Wells this week. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kirkpatrick.

MRS. DICK HARRIS HEADS CEMETERY GROUP

The O'Donnell Cemetery Association held its annual meeting Sept. 26th at the Methodist church. The officers for the following year were elected as follows:

President, Mrs. Dick Harris, vice president, Mrs. Henry Warren, secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Chas. F. Wells, Chairman of the Ground Committee, Mrs. Eva Fritz. Plans for the Thanksgiving dinner Nov. 23rd were discussed. The price of plates will remain the same as last year: $1.25 for adults and 75c for children. With the continued help of each of you, we hope to make this dinner as great a success as the ones the previous years.

Card of Thanks

The family of Mr. Tom Edwards wish to take this opportunity of expressing to each of you our sincere thanks and appreciation for the many deeds of kindness shown us at the time of our sorrow; in the passing of our dearly beloved father and brother. We know our loss is Heaven's gain but without your love and friendship, needless to say, our sorrow would have been much harder to bear.

For the food, flowers, cards, and many other acts of kindness, to each of you we humbly and gratefully say "Thank You" and may the blessings of true and loyal friendship be yours in your time of need.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Edwards and Wendell Mr. and Mrs. Shorty Presley and daughters Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Edwards and other relatives

BERRY FLAT NEWS

Cotton pulling is in full swing now in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. McGee visited in Big Spring Saturday.

An aunt of Mrs. Jones visited them over the week end.

The Berry Flat Club gave a show in the church Tuesday for the W. E. Pierce family who recently lost their home in a fire. Many nice gifts were received.

Granny Griffin is improving nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and Billy of Snyder visited the Matt Farmers Saturday.

Oil Reported At Dulin Offset At Draw

Humble Oil Co. No. 1 W. C. Dulin, seep out near Draw, appears to have found a small commercial production from the upper Mississippi lime. The project had been treated with 4,000 gallons of acid thru casing perforations at 9,020 to 80 ft.

After the last injection the well swabbed 23 hours and recovered a total of 194 barrels of fluid which included 99 barrels of new oil, 60 barrels of load oil and 35 barrels of formation water. Swabbing is continuing. Operator probably will install a pump and try to complete as a pump. Unofficial reports are the Caswell well will plug back to the Spraberry and try for completion as a flowing well or a strong pump. At present the outlook for the Draw field is not as bright as last spring.

Compress Planning Improvements

Construction began this week on about half a mile of 8 inch water main from the City's water tower west to the northern limits of the Trinity Warehouse and Compress. Jordan construction Co. of Plain view is in charge of the work. Also recently the Compress Co. purchased 30 acres of land extending west to the highway from Mrs. Butler of Sweetwater. With the addition of the new water main the compress should have adequate facilities for fighting any fires which may break out in the future.

Harvest Is Nearing Peak

A round up of the cotton gins in town showed that 1646 bales of cotton have been ginned to 11 a. m. Tuesday. Within the week the cotton harvest should be roaring in full blast with perfect weather to date for harvesting. Many farmers have been harvesting their grain prior to cotton as that crop was more urgent and falling down. Saturday and Sunday were the first good week end of the current season with hundreds of workers in town both days spending liberally.

But not all the wages were spent locally. Mack Noble, postmaster said money orders were up 20 percent over this time last year with about $5,000 going "South" Saturday. This Saturday should see the figure hit about $8,000 and increase each Saturday for several weeks until the peak in mid-November.

Due to the unexpected enforcement of the Federal Child Labor law, many farmers are turning to Mexican nationals for their hands. However, the school has rearranged two classes so that the effect on the children can begin work in the fields is 1 p. m. instead of formerly 3:45. However the 18 hour week limit is still effective as far as is known here.

40 Cent Cotton
Altho the crop is less than last year by about 40 percent, the increased price is cheering. The first 40 cent cotton in more than 20 years is a bright spot. Next year controls are off and seed cotton may be short and high in price.

The Eagle Screams Brief School News

Eagles Drop Game To Whiteface

The Eagles are on the move again after reaching a low in the Sundown game. Coach Robertson was pleased with the showing made against the strong Whiteface Antelopes. The Eagles looked better on all phases of the game except a defensive weakness on plays that go wide. Whiteface did not hesitate to use wide plays when they needed the yardage for 1st downs.

Coach Robertson is now in a reorganization program which he hopes to correct the weakness that now exist. Kellas Davis has joined the Eagle lineup and will be found on one of the terminal spots. Gass and Doss will be expected to do most of the ball carrying while James along with Roger Line will be back of the forward wall on defense. Changes in the line are Moore to Guard, Vaughn to Tackle Smith to left end, on offensive and on defense he will be right end; Kellas Davis, right tackle, Gillespie and Hardberger, right guard, Cathey and Cooley guard. Davis is expected to strengthen the Eagles both in offense and defense. The boys are working hard every day.

Gass played his best game of the season Friday night. He does a nice job of ball carrying along with Roger Doss.

The Eagles play Friday night at Ropes in another conference game. The game starts at 8 p. m.

FHA REPORTS ON FAIR TRIP

The new members of FHA had a wonderful time at the annual Dallas Fair last week end. Friday night at the Baker hotel in Mineral Wells was lots of fun. Saturday at the Fair some of the girls saw "South Pacific" and others saw "Ice Creams". Many of the girls saw Star Jan Blair. Other things enjoyed by the girls were the roller coaster, ferris wheel, the History, Science, Agriculture and Automobile building. Hot dogs and cotton candy were favorites. Every girl is looking forward to going again next year. The old members had a wonderful time too! It was fun to go on the chartered bus with all the girls. We made closer friendships and enjoyed the sing song on the way down. The seniors came home with a feeling of regret that this was the last trip to the Fair with F. H. A.

Palmer And Tippett Buys Campbell Store

Effective last Thursday J. D. Palmer of Draw and J. F. Tippett of Tahoka purchased the Campbell grocery store from Tracy Campbell of Lamesa. Mr. Campbell has owned the store for more than 3 years and until recently Jay Land, who went into the army, was manager. Mr. Campbell made many lasting friends in this area and elsewhere in this issue is his note of appreciation. Messrs. Palmer and Tippett are no strangers here having lived in and around this area a number of years. Mr. Palmer formerly owned a grocery at Draw.

MEET A SENIOR

This week our interview is with Janice Castleberry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Castleberry of O'Donnell. Mr. Castleberry is a windmill repair man. Janice will graduate at mid-term and she plans to be married to Bill Morris of Lamesa after graduation.

Her favorites are:
Subject: Speech, teacher, Mrs. Hatter, flower, Dahlia, sport, skating, girl friend, all color, green, song: "Enclosed, one broken heart" pastime, reading, her pet peeve is conceited people, Janice is a good student and participates fully in all class activities.

LOST: one typewriter, if found please return to the typing room.

Again the drive for names and addresses of all ex students of O'Donnell Hi is being made. Turn in names and addresses to Janice Castleberry, Helen Jones or any member of the Senior class.

WHAT IF?

The Speech class wasn't constantly hounding every person they meet for news?

Mr. Carr and Miss Sufall didn't have to give at least three whippings every day?

Don Gilliam was quiet just one minute of the day?

All freshmen handed perfect English papers in?

Ann Singleton forgot how to giggle?

The boys on the O. K. bus didn't liven up things with their jokes?

Mr. Johnson wasn't constantly hounding all students about the "gum chewing" proposition?

Annie Pearl Franklin didn't make A's all the time??

The Sr. girls were not always thinking of ways and means to get out of the study hall??

O. H. S. girls didn't always have their minds on boys??

O. H. S. boys didn't always think of girls- Or ask for dates?

Wanda Harris and Delavee Melford were seen without each other?

Soberta Pendleton lost all her vim and vitality.

What Sophomore girl is Bill Staggs crazy about? O. Blondie!

Why does Jim Jackson take pictures of a certain Jr. girl?

What red headed freshman boy is getting friendly with a little brownhead. These freshmen are all friendly!

We wonder if some of our boys and girls like O'Donnell or Lamesa best. Some say at Lamesa more than O'Donnell. We wonder why??

Shirley Gleghorn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Finis Gleghorn and Mr. J. Dorman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Dorman were united in marriage Friday in Ruidoso.

Don Flatt is home from the Lamesa hospital. He is doing nicely.

Five new students from Post and San Antonio have enrolled in high school.

LEGAL FOR CHILDREN TO PULP COTTON AFTER 1 P. M.

Starting Tuesday two special rooms for migratory Latin American children will start at 8 a. m. and dismiss at 1 p. m. This will enable them to go home and pull bolls in the afternoon and will make it legal for those families whose children do not attend school to start work in the afternoon at 1 p. m. instead of 3:45. Parents of these children, however, must transport their children to school and get them there by 8 a. m. and come and get them at 1 p. m. The rest of the school will not observe these special hours.

5th and 6th Grade; Mrs. Jolly

Several from our room attended the Lubbock Fair.

Kenneth Hobbs and Don Sadaski are back in school after being ill.

Donna Lee Rogers was elected cheer leader and Nancy Telchik Baton twirler.

Mrs. Cletus Cox, Mrs. Sadaski and Mrs. Hobbs were chosen as room mothers.

The Future Homemakers have begun their sale of Christmas cards. If you want to buy a box, contact a F. H. A. girl. Each box contains 18 cards and costs one dollar.

Personal To Women With Nagging Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions. If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

Policy Largely Based on Theory Expressed in U.S. Constitution

This is the third of a series of six articles on the state department and its personnel as written by Walter A. Sheel, Western Newspaper Union's Washington correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The foreign policy of the United States government is based largely upon the theory of government: as expressed in our own constitution and declaration of independence.

Someone once said: "The United States was born fighting for freedom and will die if it ever gives up the fight for freedom and liberty."

But at the same time it was Grover Cleveland, in reversing his stand upon a given subject, who said: "Gentlemen, we are faced with a condition, not a theory." And so theoretically, although the foreign policy of this government predating the Roosevelt era was predicated upon his "four freedoms," since the Truman administration, has been based upon the pronouncements of Harry S. Truman, conditions often cause an about-face in our short range policy, but do not change the overall objectives.

The American citizen has only to go back to the inaugural address of President Truman on January 20, 1949, to learn our stated foreign policy. Here it is:

"In the coming years our program for peace and freedom will emphasize four major courses of action.

"First. We will continue to give unflinching support to the United Nations and related agencies and we will continue our search for ways to strengthen their authority and increase their effectiveness.

"Second. We will continue our program for world economic recovery.

Star Dust STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO

By INEZ GERHARD

RALPH EDWARDS, who now is back at CBS, where he began as an announcer, unexpectedly had the time of his life in Paris and London this summer. During his "Tru" or "Consequences" vacation he had arranged to take his staff to Germany to entertain the American troops there. He and Mrs. Edwards were on the high seas when the Korean situation broke; arriving in London, they learned that the trip was off. So they settled down to have fun. The only thing that spoiled it for him was that his staff had been so disappointed. Seen in New York on his way home, Ralph was bubbling with enthusiasm over the trip, and over getting back to work.

The bobby soxers who followed John Derek to various location sites for "The Hero" were hired as rooters for the football scenes; they discovered Derek playing football for the picture at Pomona College, tagged along when he went to the Rose Bowl. They were so enthusiastic that Director David Miller and Producer Buddy Adler thought it a waste of talent not to hire them.

Lace Negligee, Little Lie Make Dying Woman Happy

By BILLY ROSE

The other day I got the following letter from a lady who is convalescing in a Montreal hospital:

Dear Mr. Rose: Three weeks ago I was operated on for a leg infection, and since then I've been taking it easy, a little too sick to leave the hospital and a little too well to keep from having the fidgets. Consequently, I've been something of a busybody, wandering around rooms and corridors and passing the time of day with other patients. During my wheelchair travels I happened to come across a story which you might like to use in your column.

It has to do with a black lace negligee that I got for Christmas a couple of years ago—one of those lovely bits of peck-a-boo that every woman adores. Unfortunately, however, I'm more the pajama type, and so every since I got it it's been packed away in a bureau drawer.

When I was rushed to the hospital last month, my sister stuffed everything that looked like bed-appeal into a valise and brought it around to my room, and sure enough, on top was the negligee. And sure enough again, it went right back into a bureau, this time a white one.

RECENTLY, HOWEVER, I finally got to use the negligee, and the way it happened was like this. A few doors down the corridor from me there was a Mrs. Benoise who was suffering from a disease with a long Latin name that I can't even remember, but what it amounted to was a creeping paralysis which had started at her toes, worked its way up to her abdomen and was steadily moving to-

PHILIP C. JESSUP AMBASSADOR-AT-LARGE

Born in New York, N. Y., January 5, 1897, son of Henry Wynans and Mary Hay Stoteman; received his A.B. 1919, Hamilton College; LL.B. 1921, Yale University; M.A. 1925, Ph.D. 1927, Columbia University. Married Lois Walcott Kellor, July 23, 1921; one son, Philip C. Associated with Columbia University as lecturer in international law 1923-27, assistant professor 1927-29, associate professor 1929-35, professor 1935-46, Hamilton Fish professor of international law and diplomacy since 1946. Joined staff of Department of State in 1943. Appointed ambassador-at-large March 1, 1949, for special assignments in connection with negotiations with other governments as well as with international meetings where an experienced representative of high rank is required.

"Third. We will strengthen freedom-loving nations against the dangers of aggression.

"Fourth. We must embark on a bold new program for making the benefits of our scientific advances and industrial progress available for the improvement and growth of underdeveloped areas."

THAT IS THE whole theory of our foreign policy. But conditions have intervened. In World War II our principal allies were the United Kingdom, Russia, China and France. Both England and France have been hard hit, all but knocked out economically. Both are on the road to recovery with our help. The Nationalist government of China is now virtually in exile on Formosa. Russia adopted a course to conquer the world through the infiltration of atheistic communism, through deceit, fraud and open aggression in Korea.

Our foreign policy and our efforts toward the freedom loving peoples of the world now have become world wide as the only strong nation powerful enough to withstand the Russian bear. We have sought common security in the North Atlantic pact. We have held Japan. The American people in the past have not been internationally minded. When we have been drawn into armed conflict it has been our policy to knock out our opponent and then consider the job done, go home, break training and enjoy ourselves. As a result, that explains the wisecrack that the United States has never lost a war nor won a peace. We have been loath to engage in the political battles which inevitably and probably more importantly follow military victories.

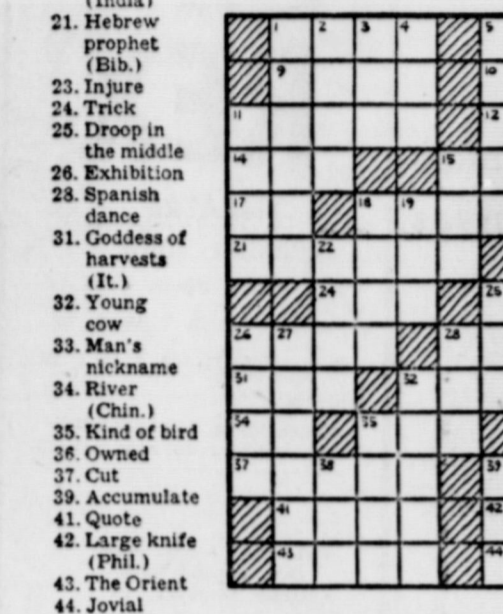

In Korea our policy was set by the United Nations. We occupied that unhappy country south of the 38th parallel long enough to set up a free and independent government. Then we withdrew our army of occupation as per our commitment and promise.

Our specific foreign policy in this hemisphere and in other nations will be discussed in a later article.

THE HOME TOWN REPORTER IN WASHINGTON

WALTER SHEEL, WNU Correspondent

THE 81st CONGRESS has passed into the congressional limbo, or some nether region where all congresses, good or bad, go when they die. And when the 82nd congress convenes next January many of the members of this congress will be left back in the hustings. Some already have dropped by the wayside as a result of primary action, but others will go by the boards as a result of the November elections.

But whatever may be said of the 81st congress, no one can call it a "rubber-stamp" congress. No one can call it a "Fair Deal" congress, for when it staggered to the close of its regular business any similarity of its record to the fair deal program was only coincidental.

But the closing days brought to President Truman victory on two subjects about which he had been harping practically ever since he assumed the presidency in 1945. One was to increase taxes, not decrease them, and the other was stand-by controls of prices and allocations of materials. He had abandoned hope of ever getting either until the North Korean Reds struck across the 38th parallel. Then both increased taxes and stand-by controls authority beyond that ever given any other president were practically forced upon him.

This congress has attempted, as other congresses have before it, to invade all the fields of government. It attempted to nullify decisions of the United States supreme court in the tideland oil bills and in the basing point measures. It attempted to set administrative policies in the executive department by withholding or adding appropriations; it attempted to invade the field of foreign affairs in trying to mandate the President to make a $62,000,000 loan to Franco's Fascist Spain.

While the President was failing to make much headway with the fair deal program he did stop short two quarterback sneaks through the weak side of the line with the presidential veto. One was the Kerr bill which would have added millions to the price of natural gas and the other was the basing point bill.

GOP Will Claim Credit

One Fair Deal piece of legislation went through sailing. That was the extension of the social security program to include about 10,000,000 more persons and increasing the benefits all along the line. The Republicans, however, will claim that was a bi-partisan program since such legislation was also advocated in the GOP platform.

The President also was able to get 20 out of 27 reorganization plans through the congress and enacted into law aimed at streamlining governmental agencies and reducing costs. These too will be considered bi-partisan, since they were approved and advocated by the Hoover Commission for Reorganization of the government and the GOP will claim equal credit.

Other victories for the President were acceptance of his Point Four program, Atlantic pact, military assistance program, extension of the Marshall plan. But again the GOP will claim equal credit since foreign policy is supposed to be a bi-partisan policy. But Guy Gabrielson, the GOP national chairman, says our foreign policy is bi-partisan only in Europe where it has worked fairly well.

690 Laws Enacted

So far, out of more than 690 public laws enacted by this congress, about one out of five pertain to veterans, their dependents or the Veterans' administration. This segment of the nation's population now totals more than 19 million and these veterans of all wars won improved programs in housing and rent control, education and training, compensation for disabled veterans and social security credit for the time in uniform. The President vetoed one bill passed by both houses by overwhelming majorities to give pay raises of $100 for each year of service to postal employees who are veterans. It would have meant a pay raise of $163,000,000. Reasons given for veto by the President were: increases would go to persons who were not in postal service prior to their military service; would discriminate against servicemen in other departments; is not a veterans bill since it applied to only 100,000 out of 15 million World War II veterans, and it would increase the postal deficit.

CEC Upholds Truman

The Committee for Economic Development, composed of business men and industrialists, farmers and laborers and whose research and policy committee is unbiased, unprejudiced and non-political and economically sound, in a recent release virtually upheld President Truman's stand that all-out controls are not needed at this time, but should be ready to slap on when the occasion demands.

THE FICTION CORNER

By Richard H. Wilkinson

3-Minute Fiction

AS USUAL Basil came home on the 5:35. It was after dark when he arrived in front of his house on High street. About to turn in at the gate he stopped dead still, his eyes fastened on the automobile that was parked in front of the water hydrant at the curb. A slow but rapidly mounting anger took hold of him.

The automobile was his, and he knew that his wife had left it in front of the hydrant. She had left it there despite his repeated warnings and threats and cajolings and promises. Three times Pat Kearney, the officer on his beat, had spoken to him about the misdemeanor. "Now, Mr. Valentine, sur, I'll be stickin' a tag on that car of yours, if you go an leave it before that hydrant once more."

Pat's good will was valuable. Besides, Basil couldn't afford to be tagged. Even a small fine would be sorely felt. And so he had talked to Evelyn. He had pointed out the importance of obeying traffic regulations, his inability to pay fines for her negligence, the fact that Pat had spoken to him three times. And she had promised. Even though it was the "most convenient" place in the world to leave the car" and she thought Pat Kearney was an "old meany," she promised to be more careful hereafter.

An idea flashed across his mind. He'd move the car down town and install it in a garage. Then he'd tell Evelyn that Pat had tagged it and that because he couldn't pay the fine he'd left the machine at police headquarters for collateral. That ought to teach her a thing or two.

Grimly he stepped to the curb and inserted his duplicate key into the door lock. His anger was at a high level; he gave the key a violent twist—which snapped it off near the stem.

He felt a little panicky. Somehow he'd have to move the machine from in front of the hydrant, or it meant paying a fine. It would take time to fetch a pair of pliers or call a garage mechanic. And Pat wouldn't listen to explanations—not after the third warning.

BASIL began to sweat. There was just one course open. He'd have to break a window, reach in and unlock the door from the inside, release the handbrake and push the vehicle beyond the forbidden parking area. He hated to resort to such a procedure, because in the end it would cost him more than a fine. Still, that was better than having Pat Kearney's ire aroused.

He felt on the ground, found a fair sized stone and without hesitation crashed it against the window. The glass splintered, but didn't break. He smacked it again and there was a great shattering inside.

Basil worked fast. He released the handbrake, quickly disembarked and ran around back. He put his shoulder against the spare tire and began to shove. The car moved slowly.

Digging his heels into the ground Basil continued to heave with his shoulder. Thus it was that his gaze came into direct line with the license plate beneath the tail light. At first he noticed nothing unusual, but gradually it dawned on him that something was wrong. And then abruptly it struck him like a bolt from the blue. The license plate wasn't red and white, but orange and black! Which meant that the car that Basil was pushing wasn't his car at all! Though it resembled his in every respect, it belonged to some one else!

Basil straightened up. There was alarm and guilt and fear in his eyes. Without further thought on the matter, however, he started toward his own gate. But at the very moment he would have unhooked the latch, he heard a shout. Some one had come out of Mark Terrence's house and was racing toward him, and on the heel of this some one came Pat Kearney.

George Morris only had "Candy Kisses" when Eddy Arnold's "Texarkana Baby" started "Slipping Around" with Floyd Tillman. Little Jimmy Dickens took an "Ole Cold Tater" away from a "Country Boy" on the "Tennessee Border". When Miss Audrey told Hank Williams "I'm Leaving Now" he had "The Lovesick Blues". Ernest Tubbs "Filipino Baby" made him feel "Low and Lonely" but he told her "Let's Say Goodbye Like We Said Hello".

Jimmy Wakely was "Easy to Please" when "The Sweetest Rose in Texas" said to him "I Love You So Much It Hurts". "The Grass Looked Greener Over Yonder" until Hank Thompson met some "California Women" who gave him the "Green Light" before yelling "Whoa Sailor" and giving him a "Humpty Dumpty Heart". Cowboy Copas told me "to Sign, Seal and Deliver" this to Bea Terry. This was signed "A Plain Old Country Girl." Don't you think that's cute, my dear reader?

The new child labor law has affected O'Donnell schools with a bang. The enrollment of the first seven grades has made a leap from 480 to 615 in the last four days. This has made it necessary to add 2 more teachers.

WHEN SLEEP WON'T COME AND YOU FEEL GLUM
Use Chewing-Gum Laxative - REMOVES WASTE... NOT GOOD FOOD
When you can't sleep—feel just awful because you need a laxative—do as millions do—chew FEEN-A-MINT.
FEEN-A-MINT is wonderfully different! Doctors say many other laxatives start their "flushing" action too soon... right in the stomach. Large doses of such laxatives upset digestion, flush away nourishing food you need for health and energy... you feel weak, worn out.
But gentle FEEN-A-MINT, taken as recommended, works chiefly in the lower bowel where it removes only waste, not good food! You avoid that weak, tired feeling. Use FEEN-A-MINT and feel fine, full of life! 25c, 50c, or only 10c.

MARSHALL:

Anger Close to Tears

In an atmosphere of bitterness that at times brought senators to their feet in anger that bordered on tears, congress cleared the way for General of the Army George C. Marshall, a soldier for 40 years, to serve as secretary of defense.

The waiver to the unification act which forbids the office of secretary of defense to a commissioned officer within 10 years of the end of his active service was approved by the house 220 to 105 and by the senate by 47 to 21.

But before the vote in the senate, William E. Jenner of Indiana took the floor and for an hour, while the senators sat in silence and shame, launched into an attack on Marshall's honor that astounded foes and friends alike.

It was the reappearance of the bitter core of isolationism and Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio and Sen. Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska immediately made it plain that they were not going along with Jenner's denunciation of General Marshall as a soldier and a man.

Taft opposed the waiver on the grounds that it would put a military man in the cabinet as head of the military establishment and would strike at the old American tradition of civilian control of military affairs. Taft also contended it would strengthen the position of the secretary of state "in relation to the Chinese Communists." That was as far as he would go.

Jenner, however, attacked Marshall as "either an unsuspecting stooge or an actual co-conspirator with the most treasonable array of political cutthroats ever turned loose in the executive branch of the government."

Sen. Scott Lucas of Illinois called Jenner's speech "reprehensible, irresponsible, the most diabolical speech in the halls of congress that I have ever heard in 16 years here." The Republicans in the senate were inclined to agree.

Most observers said that Jenner's attack on a man who has served his country for 40 years and is greatly respected by the American people in every walk of life, will have further and deeper repercussions. The Indiana senator is known as one of the most consistent isolationists in congress. His attack, although denied by such men as Taft and Wherry, still carries the label of the Republican party and may be reflected in the coming elections.

CONTROLS:

Curbs on Credit

With the restoration of government curbs on consumers' easy-payment credits affecting car, furniture and household equipment, 32 war materials—including steel, lumber, industrial alcohol, and nylon yarn—were placed under federal non-hoarding orders.

Although no consumer items were named, the "inventory control" was broader than had been expected. No shortages are expected to develop, but the move was made to prevent overbuying by businessmen.

N.P.A. administrator William H. Harrison said: "The purpose of the order is to make clear that national interest demands there be no accumulation of materials beyond what is needed for immediate production."

The new defense production law provides a $10,000 fine and one year in prison as maximum penalty for violations. Harrison ordered industry to "cancel, reduce, or defer" promptly any orders which already may have been placed, if they would bring stocks to an illegal size.

CIVIL-DEFENSE

Plan Handed Congress

A blueprint for a vast civil defense program, greater than that of World War II, was placed before congress. It was designed to rally the nation from an atomic attack and enable it to strike back swiftly and destroy the aggressor.

W. Stuart Symington, chairman of the national security resources board which drafted the plan, said the program was needed because for the first time since the war of 1812 "an enemy has the power to attack our cities, and for the first time in our history that attack may come suddenly, with little or no warning."

The board's report said, "Granted a few minutes' warning, casualties could be reduced by over 50 per cent through proper organization and training in civil defense."

The program outlined a mutual-aid system reaching into every American home and calling for the services of hundreds of thousands of paid and unpaid workers at the federal, state, and local levels.

CONTRACTOR:

Tap-Was Too Long

On the lighter side of the news, Michael O'Malley, a Chicago masonry contractor, sued F. W. Woolworth company and the Waterbury Lock & Specialty company for $20,000 for selling him a rule that was one foot too long.

O'Malley claimed the extra foot caused him to build several garages and a house a foot too big and he is being sued for not filling his contract.

MIRROR Of Your MIND

Worry Doesn't Connote Love

By Lawrence Gould

Does "worrying over" someone mean you love him?

Answer: No. In its extreme form, it is more likely to mean the exact opposite. If for no good reason you live in continual dread that "something terrible will happen" to a person whom you believe you love, what you may well really be afraid of is that your unconscious wish to hurt him or get him out of the way may come true. The mother who "cannot let a child out of her sight," for instance, frequently is one who did not want to be born and feels that caring for him is a crushing burden. Real love "casteth out fear."

requires almost no measurable amount of energy and so is not hampered, even by complete physical exhaustion. If your thinking leads to the solution of some problem about which you have been confused and anxious, it may actually rest you.

Does what you imagine show your true self?

Can you be "too tired to think"?

Answer: Not really. You may unconsciously resent so intensely being forced to concentrate on business problems and ignore your private interests that you can't make yourself go on any longer. But as Dr. Mortimer Ostow tells us in the Journal of Nervous and Mental Diseases, thinking in itself

Appendicitis Death Rate Reduced

By Dr. James W. Barton

SOME YEARS AGO a cartoonist pictured two trees standing side by side, one of which the tree surgeon had finished his operation by application of cement. One tree was saying to the other, "Did I tell you about my operation?" The cartoon appeared about the time that operations for removal of the appendix were so common and the conversation at bridge, golf, or other games naturally was about these operations.

We do not hear or read so much these days about operations; such conversations today are usually about blood pressure because heart and brain attacks are in mist cases caused by high blood pressure.

I have written before of what was called the Philadelphia experiment in which the physicians, and citizens also, of that city determined to establish a record in reducing the deaths from appendicitis. The efforts to reduce the death rate was so successful that a world's record was established. Three rules were followed: (1) no purgative, (2) no food, (3) early operation. These suggestions are now being followed practically all over the world.

In Archives of Surgery, Chicago, Drs. L. R. Slattery, S. A. Yannitelli and J. W. Hinton, state that during the past 10 years there has been a spectacular drop in the death rate of acute appendicitis. There were 14,313 deaths due to appendicitis in the United States in 1939, while in 1946 there were only 5,285.

The greatest single factor in reducing the death rate has been the greater number of patients seen in the early stages of the disease. "Public health education and increased alertness of the medical profession are responsible for much of this improvement." Added to this is that peritonitis which causes so many deaths, is now prevented by the use of the sulfa drugs and penicillin. These drugs kill harmful organisms and prevent complications which may follow operation.

HEALTH NOTES

In pernicious anemia, there is lack of an important ferment in the stomach digestive juice, but by digesting the protein part of liver extract by use of ferment papain, this lack is corrected.

In the recent examination of the boys of a large reformatory school, it was found that more than half of them came from broken homes.

Chewing rough foods stimulates the circulation in the gums and helps prevent pyorrhea.

Your dentist can treat early cases of pyorrhea, but in advanced cases, he may want to send you to a pyorrhea specialist.

Adults should drink at least a half pint of milk daily.

Giving Yourself

Lesson for October 8, 1950

"WHEN a girl throws herself away on a man, she generally takes pretty careful aim."

That may be so; but more than a few persons throw themselves clean away without taking aim at all. They amble through life, they do not march. They have no personal five-year plans, not even five-week plans. They stumble from one day to the next, they live from hand to mouth. They care for nobody and few care for them. They may be found on Skid Row, living from one handout to another, or they may be found in the Silver Spoon Club, with plenty of money but no idea how to spend it and hardly enough energy to waste it.

Dr. Foreman

A Man Gives Himself

MOST people, however, do give themselves to something. Every man who amounts to something, gives himself in one way or another. There was a college student once who practiced nineteen hours a day on the piccolo, it was said. Naturally he couldn't stay in college at that rate, so they got rid of him. But he landed, as you might expect, in one of America's finest orchestras.

If you want to succeed in music, give yourself to music. If you want to succeed in a law course, give yourself to your books. Men usually give themselves to what they think is of greatest value. Some give themselves; that is to say, they devote themselves to their own comfort and happiness.

That is cheap and selfish, of course, but there is a kind of transferred selfishness which is almost as common; giving oneself to one's family to the exclusion of everything and every one else. A good man will love his family, a good mother her children; but there is a kind of ingrown family affection and mother-love which is blind to community needs.

Down the River

THERE are bad ways of giving oneself. A prophet once said of King Ahab, he sold himself to do evil. That is still done. Some give themselves up to liquor and gambling.

There have been quite selfless and tireless advocates of atheism, and communism, and all varieties. Men have worn themselves thin in the service of Hitler and of other tyrants.

If the energy and persistence, for example, which is spent in trying to prevent the humane use of unwanted animals in medical research, were spent in intelligent support of preventive medicine, how much better the world would be!

Say Yes to Christ

SO the question is not so much, Shall I give my life? The question is, To what? To whom? For three months these Bible studies consider "Growth in Christian Living." All growth starts at some point; and Christian growth starts at the point where the Christian gives himself to Christ and his cause.

Consider what "commitment to Christ" means. It is not sentimental devotion to his memory, it is not singing songs about him or to him. (Not that such songs are wrong!) It is not following a historical character, though Jesus was and is a real person. It is saying "Yes" to Jesus Christ. It is giving one's highest devotion, one's first loyalty, to the Son of God.

It is devotion to the living Christ, ever-present; to the One whose reign is destined to be over all. It is devotion to Christ's cause; to his Kingdom, his control, his way of life. It means growing into his mind; it means becoming more and more like him, wanting to be like him, till at last Paul's words come true again: "For me, to live is Christ."

You Get More than You Give

IT is a mistake to think that if one gives his life to Christ, then he cannot give his life to anything else. The astonishing truth is, when a person first gives himself to Christ, he finds that Christ gives back far more. Christians can be, and are, devoted scholars and business men and mothers and doctors and farmers. The more truly one is committed to Christ, the better he is likely to be at his job, whatever it is.

Don't Be Satisfied With Symptomatic Relief!

HADACOL NOW MAKES IT POSSIBLE TO RELIEVE THE CAUSE OF YOUR SICKNESS

Neuritis Pains, Stomach Disturbances, Indigestion, Gas, Constipation, Certain Nervous Disorders and a General Run-down Condition When due to lack of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin in your system!

Read How These Folks Benefited Who Had Such Deficiencies

Mr. Anthamatten, 4731 South 32nd West Ave., Tulsa 7, Oklahoma, suffered from stomach distress for quite some time. He had spent much money trying everything possible for relief and was in bad health when he started taking HADACOL. He says, "After taking three bottles of the $3.50 size, I've gained 27 pounds and now eat anything I desire and positively have no trouble." (HADACOL gives such wonderful results because it actually relieves the REAL CAUSE of stomach distress [gas pains, heartburn, indigestion after eating] due to such deficiencies. And continued use of this great HADACOL helps prevent such distress from returning.)

Mrs. Mabel Kitchen, 1650 Amsterdam, Cincinnati, Ohio. "Before I started taking HADACOL I had aches and pains of neuritis in my shoulders, my back and arms. I could hardly move without having those terrible pains. Then I heard about HADACOL. After the second bottle the pains and aches were about gone. I'm now starting my fourth bottle and am on top of the world. I eat well and, best of all, the aches and pains are completely gone." (Mrs. Kitchen is a very smart woman because she relieves the REAL CAUSE of her neuritis pains due to such deficiencies. HADACOL often brings a wonderful improvement within a few days' time.)

Mrs. J. Sciessinski, 514 Kruger, Ottumwa, Iowa, writes: "My daughter, Marilyn Sue, is 5 years old and for some time lacked pep, had a poor appetite, was generally run-down. Since giving her HADACOL, we have noticed wonderful results... she has a much better appetite, eats everything on the table and doesn't seem tired like she used to. Incidentally, she likes to take HADACOL, too." (HADACOL is a great 'builder-upper' for sick, nervous, puny kids whose systems lack precious Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin. A big improvement in their well-being is often noticed within a few days' time after taking the great new HADACOL.)

Mr. Henry Angel, RD No. 1, Springfield, Ohio. "I used to suffer great pain from neuritis aches in all parts of my body, especially in my legs, arms and shoulders. I never got any real relief until I tried HADACOL. After taking several bottles, my pain is all gone. And I'm working every day." (Now there's a smart man! Mr. Angel took HADACOL and relieved the REAL CAUSE of his neuritis pains because they were due to such deficiencies. HADACOL is helping thousands upon thousands of grateful men and women troubled this way. Why don't you give HADACOL a chance to help you? Start taking it today!)

IMPORTANT!

Why don't you get that wonderful HADACOL feeling everyone is talking about? In this modern age, wise folks are no longer satisfied with symptomatic relief — because now it's possible to relieve the cause of such deficiency sickness with that wonderful new HADACOL. HADACOL not only supplies deficient systems with extra quantities of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin but also helpful amounts of precious Calcium, Phosphorus and Manganese—vital elements every human being must have to maintain good health. You owe it to yourself to give HADACOL a fair trial. Many doctors recommend this great new HADACOL. It's sold on a strict money-back guarantee. Trial size, $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50.

Egg Production Upped By Ultraviolet Rays

Experiment Indicates 19 Per Cent Increase

Hens exposed to ultraviolet light lay 19 to 19 per cent more eggs, the department of agriculture reports. The report was issued after five years of tests in a specially built underground poultry house at the agricultural research center at Beltsville, Md. Department scientists said the tests were started in 1945 as a result of a chance discovery that the very short rays of invisible light frequently used to kill bacteria also increased the egg output of hens. The department reported it "demonstrated conclusively that neither the number of bacteria in the poultry house nor the vitamin-D content of the light rays was involved in the beneficial effects." The properties of the light that caused the boost in egg production have not been identified.

Consumption of Canned Milk Increases in U. S.

Annual consumption of canned evaporated and condensed milk averages around 20 1/2 pounds per person, a recent survey revealed. The heat treatment given in sterilizing evaporated milk makes it more easily digested, and therefore, ideal baby food. This use, plus use in tea and coffee, accounts for a large portion of the evaporated milk sales in the United States, the survey concluded.

Good Dairy Barn Lighting Essential Speeds Up Work, Aids Sanitation Problems

Good lighting in the dairy barn is not only convenient, but necessary. For it speeds up work and helps the dairyman with his sanitation problems. Farmers, therefore, are cautioned by agricultural engineers to wire their barns so that they have plenty of illumination on the job, around the job and going to and from the job. For these purposes, it is recommended that lighting outlets be located every 12 feet on the center line of the litter alley and every 20

The above picture illustrates lighting outlets at 12-foot intervals on the center line of the litter alley and every 20 feet on the center line of the feed alley. If more illumination is desired than can be obtained from the above plan, a second line of lights can be placed in the litter alley over the hind quarters of each row of cows. Flood lights on the outside corner of the barn, or conveniently placed yard lights, will help prevent accidents by illuminating the farmer's path from the barn to the house. If a milk house loading platform is used, it also should be well lighted.

Individual Lifetime Meat Quota Set at 55 Animals

Your lifetime quota of meat in terms of live animals represent 33 pigs, 10 lambs, 8 steers and 4 veal calves, a livestock publication reports. That's provided you live to be 80.3 years of age—the life expectancy of a man born in the United States today.

The data was based upon actual consumption of the amount of meat eaten by the average person over a 50 year period. Since the turn of the century, average per capita meat consumption has been 87 pounds of pork, 61 pounds of beef, 13 pounds of veal and 6 pounds of lamb. "Since the beginning of the century," the publication said, "the high point in per capita meat consumption was reached in 1918 at 163 pounds. The low point was 117 pounds in 1935. Since that time, however, meat consumption per capita has been fluctuating around 150 pounds per year."

Final Vaccination

Oscar Flores, director, (left) and General Harry H. Johnson, co-director, were on hand to see the final dose of vaccine administered in the three-year battle to eradicate foot-and-mouth disease in Mexico. During the campaign approximately 17,000,000 animals were vaccinated three times, and the majority of them received a fourth immunization.

There have been no outbreaks of the disease since December, 1949.

Fresh Market Vegetable Tonnage Tops Last Year

The total tonnage of vegetables for fresh market during the 1950 summer season was approximately 10 per cent more than last year, the United States department of agriculture reports.

Substantially larger quantities of cantaloupes, watermelons, and cabbage, and more lettuce than last year, were noted in the report. Tonnages of celery, tomatoes and peas were down somewhat.

USDA Recommends DDT For Termite Control

The U. S. department of agriculture has come up with the answer for one of the farmers' serious problems—termites.

The USDA says a single treatment of DDT will prevent termites from attacking woodwork for at least five years and anyone can apply the treatment. Here's the mixture to use: 5 per cent DDT in No. 2 fuel oil. It will give wooden structures complete protection from termites.

Entomologists suggest digging a trench along the building's foundation—about 30 inches deep and about the width of a spade. Then the earth should be saturated at the bottom with the DDT preparation. The soil which is used to fill up the trench also should be saturated. Apply the treatment at the rate of one quart per cubic foot of soil.

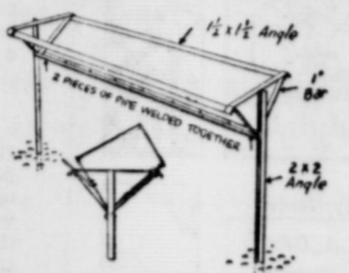

Record Cranberry Crop Forecast for Wisconsin

A record production of 969,000 barrels of cranberries is forecast this fall, agricultural department officials report. The prospect is 15 per cent above the previous record of 987,700 barrels in 1948.

Production in Massachusetts, New Jersey, Wisconsin and Oregon is above last year. Washington's crop is above average but below that of last year the agricultural department said.

The name, "Journeyman Painter" comes from the painters who, at the time of the Renaissance, journeyed from country to country with their brushes, palettes, and secretly blended paints. In today's parlance, a journeyman painter is one who has had at least three years' experience and schooling as an apprentice.

When such foods as cereals and rice stick to the inside of the top part of a double boiler, turn the pot upside down in piping hot dishwasher for a few minutes so that the steam can loosen the stuff inside.

Self-thickening gravy can be made by using the water in which rice has been cooked. A lot of food value, cooked out of the rice, is in the water, thus providing added nourishment.

To clean the vertical tube of a percolator, run a pipe cleaner through it. Or, fill the percolator with water, add four tablespoonfuls of salt, put the tube in and let it perk for ten or fifteen minutes. If this dulls the luster of the percolator, restore it by boiling vinegar in it, or water with pieces of raw lemon.

To add to the eye appeal of gravy when it isn't brown enough, add a little leftover coffee.

Starvation
Corns Corn Yield
Lack of Phosphate May Factor in Failure

Checking signs of plant food deficiency on the corn you harvest this fall, you can take steps to insure yields next year.

For example, if the corn in your field has a lot of ears like those in the accompanying illustration, the crop was starved for phosphate. The reason for this was that part of the kernels came out too late to catch the pollen. The kernels were not filled and so failed to fill out. The unfilled rows or parts of rows in the ears lopsided and curled.

Crop starved for phosphate as illustrated by ears above. Ears are twisted and whole rows of kernels failed to fill.

You can add phosphate to the soil next spring through the use of fertilizer carrying this plant nutrient. Well-nourished corn needs other elements besides phosphate. It needs nitrogen and potash, too. So the surest way to keep your corn healthy and well fed and to get high yields per acre, is to give your soil a balanced supply of plant foods carrying all three major elements—nitrogen, phosphate and potash.

Good soil tilth is another essential for getting high corn yields. You can build tilth and put the soil in better condition for growing corn, clover and sweet clover, mellow the soil, loosen tight compactions below the plow layer and make the soil more porous so water and air can get in.

Mr and Mrs Finis Gieghorn announce the engagement of their daughter, Shirley to M. J. Dorman. They will be united in marriage Oct. 14th. Shirley is a student in O. H. S.

The first chapel program of this year was held Wednesday morning at 9 a. m. directed and sponsored by Mrs Moreen Cathey. Mrs Frances Reeves Mires, a '50 graduate of O. H. S. formally presented the flag pole to the student body and a bronze plaque to the president of the student council, Rodger Line. This impressive ceremony included the raising of the flag while the band played the national anthem. A beautiful yellow corsage was presented Mrs Mires by Mr. Line. Following the dedication services, the student body went to the auditorium for chapel. The senior class won 500 votes for their queen candidate by presenting the best feature in the contest.

Reasonable Care Will Extend Life of Pillow

Pillows don't need a lot of special care, but reasonable attention will extend their serviceability. They should be aired outdoors often in cool, dry air, or placed on a chair near an open window. Airing not only clears the pillows of possible dust but also helps prevent lumping of feathers. A simple daily routine is to remove cases and fluff the pillows when making the bed. This helps force in air.

Who Runs America?

the Congress?

the President?

OR YOU AND THE MAN NEXT DOOR?

RUNNING AMERICA is the joint job of 150,000,000 people. It's the biggest job in the world today —keeping it running for liberty and for freedom. And the whole world's watching to see whether Americans can do it!

IN MUCH OF THE WORLD today, the people have resigned from running their own countries. Others have been quick to step in—first with promises of "security"—and then with whips and guns—to run things their way. The evidence is on every front page in the world, every day.

FREEDOM COMES UNDER ATTACK. The reality of war has made every American think hard about the things he's willing to work and fight for—and freedom leads the list.

But that freedom has been attacked here recently—just as it has been attacked in other parts of the world. One of the most serious threats to individual freedom has been the threat of Government-dominated Compulsory Health Insurance, falsely presented as a new guarantee of health "security" for everybody.

THE PEOPLE WEIGH THE FACTS. In the American manner, the people studied the case for Socialized Medicine—and the case against it.

They found that Government domination of the people's medical affairs under Compulsory Health Insurance means lower standards of medical care, higher payroll taxes, loss of incentive, damage to research, penalties for the provident, rewards for the improvident.

They found that no country on earth can surpass America's leadership in medical care and progress. They found that able doctors, teachers, nurses and scientists —working in laboratories where Science, not Politics, is master—are blazing dramatic new trails to health for Americans—and for the world.

THE "GRASS ROOTS" SIGNALS CONGRESS. In every community in the Nation, people stood up to be counted on this important issue. Thousands of local women's clubs, civic groups, farm, business, religious, taxpayer, medical, educational and patriotic organizations spoke out—giving the great United States Congress its unmistakable Grass Roots signal from home!

And ever watchful, ever sensitive to an alert people, The Congress saw that signal, and heard the people speak out, loud and plain. That's democracy in action. That's the American way!

Today among the 10,000 great organizations on militant public record against "Compulsory Health Insurance" are:

- | | |
|---|--|
| General Federation of Women's Clubs | American Legion |
| American Farm Bureau Federation | National Association of Small Business Men |
| National Grange | United States Chamber of Commerce |
| Veterans of Foreign Wars | National Association of Retail Grocers |
| National Conference of Catholic Charities | National Retail Dry Goods Association |
| American Protestant Hospital Association | American Bar Association |

• Doctors of this Nation are grateful that the people refused to be wooed by the fantastic promises of this un-American excursion into State Socialism. • Doctors of America are dedicated to serve their fellow citizens at home and their comrades in uniform, wherever service to this Nation may take them. • And the thing they stand ready to fight for—to sacrifice for—to die for—is not the alien way of life of Socialism, but the proudfest security of a free and self-reliant people!

THE VOLUNTARY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY!

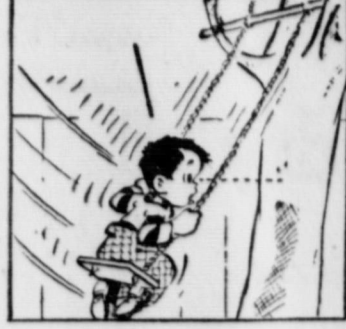

• Throughout the Nation, free men and women, working and planning together, are finding the American answer to every question of medical service, care and cost. Hundreds of Voluntary Health Insurance Plans are in healthy competition—sponsored by doctors, insurance companies, hospitals, fraternal organizations—by industry, agriculture and labor. • Today in America—70 million people are protected by Voluntary Health Insurance! • Throughout the Nation, families are insuring themselves against the major costs of illness—at reasonable, budget-basis prices. Voluntary Health Insurance takes the economic shock out of illness. Protect your family now. • For information, ask your doctor—or your insurance man.

An American's greatest heritage is the right to learn the facts—and to speak his mind. Maintained with honor and used with sincerity—that right will guarantee forever that

GRATEFUL RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

"How grateful I am for having heard about ALL-BRAN! Believe me, I was constipated for years. Eating this wonderful cereal for breakfast keeps me regular." Mrs. Kunz, 2046 Eastview Ave., Louisville 5, Ky. Just one of many unsolicited letters from ALL-BRAN users. You, too, can expect amazing relief from constipation due to lack of dietary bulk. Eat an ounce of tasty Kellogg's ALL-BRAN daily, drink plenty of water! If not completely satisfied after 10 days, return empty carton to Kellogg's, Battle Creek, Mich. Get DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK!

Personal To Women With Nagging Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions. If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

Policy Largely Based on Theory Expressed in U.S. Constitution

This is the third of a series of six articles on the state department and its personnel as written by Walter H. Sheard, Western Newspaper Union's Washington correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The foreign policy of the United States government is based largely upon the theory of government as expressed in our own constitution and declaration of independence.

Someone once said: "The United States was born fighting for freedom and will die if it ever gives up the fight for freedom and liberty."

But at the same time it was Grover Cleveland, in reversing his stand upon a given subject, who said: "Gentlemen, we are faced with a condition, not a theory."

And so theoretically, although the foreign policy of this government during the Roosevelt era was predicated upon his "four freedoms," and, since the Truman administration, has been based upon the pronouncements of Harry S. Truman, conditions often cause an about-face in our short range policy, but do not change the overall objectives.

The American citizen has only to go back to the inaugural address of President Truman on January 20, 1949, to learn our stated foreign policy. Here it is:

"First. We will continue to give unflinching support to the United Nations and related agencies and we will continue our search for ways to strengthen their authority and increase their effectiveness.

"Second. We will continue our program for world economic recovery.

By INEZ GERHARD

RALPH EDWARDS, who now is back at CBS, where he began as an announcer, unexpectedly had the time of his life in Paris and London this summer. During his "Truth or Consequences" vacation he had arranged to take his staff to Germany to entertain the American troops there.

The bobby soxers who followed John Derek to various location sites for "The Hero" were hired as rooters for the football scenes; they discovered Derek playing football for the picture at Pomona College, tagged along when he went to the Rose Bowl. They were so enthusiastic that Director David Miller and Producer Buddy Adler thought it a waste of talent not to hire them.

Lace Negligee, Little Lie Make Dying Woman Happy

By BILLY ROSE

The other day I got the following letter from a lady who is convalescing in a Montreal hospital:

Dear Mr. Rose: Three weeks ago I was operated on for a leg infection, and since then I've been taking it easy, a little too sick to leave the hospital and a little too well to keep from having the fidgets.

It has to do with a black lace negligee that I got for Christmas a couple of years ago—one of those lovely bits of peek-a-boo that every woman adores. Unfortunately, however, I'm more the pajama type, and so every since I got it it's been packed away in a bureau drawer.

When I was rushed to the hospital last month, my sister stuffed everything that looked like bed-aparel into a valise and brought it around to my room, and sure enough, on top was the negligee. And sure enough again, it went right back into a bureau, this time a white one.

RECENTLY, HOWEVER, I finally got to use the negligee, and the way it happened was like this. A few doors down the corridor from me there was a Mrs. Benoise who was suffering from a disease with a long Latin name that I can't even remember, but what it amounted to was a creeping paralysis which had started at her toes, worked its way up to her abdomen and was steadily moving to-

PHILIP C. JESSUP AMBASSADOR-AT-LARGE Born in New York, N. Y., January 5, 1897, son of Henry Wynans and Mary Hay Stoenbury; received his A.B. 1919, Hamilton college; L.L.B. 1921, Yale University; M.A. 1925, Ph.D. 1927, Columbia University. Married Lois Walcott Kelley, July 25, 1921; one son, Phillip C. Associated with Columbia university as lecturer in international law 1923-27, assistant professor 1927-29, associate professor 1929-33; professor 1933-46, Hamilton Fish professor of international law and diplomacy since 1946. Joined staff of Department of State in 1933. Appointed ambassador-at-large March, 1949, for special assignments in connection with negotiations with other governments as well as with international meetings where an experienced representative of high rank is required.

"Third. We will strengthen freedom-loving nations against the dangers of aggression.

"Fourth. We must embark on a bold new program for making the benefits of our scientific advances and industrial progress available for the improvement and growth of underdeveloped areas."

THAT IS THE whole theory of our foreign policy. But conditions have intervened. In World War II our principal allies were the United Kingdom, Russia, China and France. Both England and France have been hard hit, all but knocked out economically. Both are on the road to recovery with our help.

Our foreign policy and our efforts toward the freedom loving peoples of the world now have become world wide as the only strong nation powerful enough to withstand the Russian bear. We have sought common security in the North Atlantic pact. We have held Japan.

The American people in the past have not been internationally minded. When we have been drawn into armed conflict it has been our policy to knock out our opponent and then consider the job done, go home, break training and enjoy ourselves. As a result, that explains the wisecrack that the United States has never lost a war nor won a peace.

Our specific foreign policy in this hemisphere and in other nations will be discussed in a later article.

THE FICTION CORNER DILEMMA

By Richard H. Wilkinson

AS USUAL Basil came home on the 5:35. It was after dark when he arrived in front of his house on High street. About to turn in at the gate he stopped dead still, his eyes fastened on the automobile that was parked in front of the water hydrant at the curb.

The automobile was his, and he knew that his wife had left it in front of the hydrant. She had left it there despite his repeated warnings and threats and cajolings and promises. Three times Pat Kearney, the officer on their beat, had spoken to him about the misdemeanor.

Pat's good will was valuable. Besides, Basil couldn't afford to be tagged. Even a small fine would be sorely felt. And so he had talked to Evelyn. He had pointed out the importance of obeying traffic regulations, his inability to pay fines for her negligence, the fact that Pat had spoken to him three times. And she had promised. Even though it was the "most convenient" place in the world to leave the car and she thought Pat Kearney was an "old meany," she promised to be more careful hereafter.

An idea flashed across his mind. He'd move the car down town and install it in a garage. Then he'd tell Evelyn that Pat had tagged it and that because he couldn't pay the fine he'd left the machine at police headquarters for collateral.

Grimly he stepped to the curb and inserted his duplicate key into the door lock. His anger was at a high level; he gave the key a violent twist—which snapped it off near the stem.

He felt a little panicky. Somehow he'd have to move the machine from in front of the hydrant, or it meant paying a fine. It would take time to fetch a pair of pliers or call a garage mechanic. And Pat wouldn't listen to explanations—not after the third warning.

BASIL began to sweat. There was just one course open. He'd have to break a window, reach in and unlock the door from the inside, release the handbrake and push the vehicle beyond the forbidden parking area. He hated to resort to such a procedure, because in the end it would cost him more than a fine. Still, that was better than having Pat Kearney's ire aroused.

He felt on the ground, found a fair sized stone and without hesitation crashed it against the window. The glass splintered, but didn't break. He smacked it again and there was a great shattering inside.

Basil worked fast. He released the handbrake, quickly dis-embarked and ran around back. He put his shoulder against the spare tire and began to shove. The car moved slowly.

Digging his heels into the ground Basil continued to heave with his shoulder. Thus it was that his gaze came into direct line with the license plate beneath the tail light. At first he noticed nothing unusual, but gradually it dawned on him that something was wrong. And then abruptly it struck him like a bolt from the blue. The license plate wasn't red and white, but orange and black! Which meant that the car that Basil was pushing wasn't his car at all! Though it resembled his in every respect, it belonged to some one else!

Basil straightened up. There was alarm and guilt and fear in his eyes. Without further thought on the matter, however, he started toward his own gate. But at the very moment he would have unhooked the latch, he heard a shout. Some one had come out of Mark Terrence's house and was racing toward him, and on the heel of this some one came Pat Kearney.

He felt on the ground, found a fair size stone and without hesitation crashed it against the window.

THE HOME TOWN REPORTER IN WASHINGTON WALTER SHEARD, WNU Correspondent

Two Truman Victories

THE 81st CONGRESS has passed into the congressional limbo, or some nether region where all congresses, good or bad, go when they die. And when the 82nd congress convenes next January many of the members of this congress will be left back in the hustings. Some already have dropped by the wayside as a result of primary action, but others will go by the boards as a result of the November elections.

But whatever may be said of the 81st congress, no one can call it a "rubber-stamp" congress. No one can call it a "Fair Deal" congress, for when it staggered to the close of its regular business any similarity of its record to the fair deal program was only coincidental.

But the closing days brought to President Truman victory on two subjects about which he had been harping practically ever since he assumed the presidency in 1945. One was to increase taxes, not decrease them, and the other was stand-by controls of prices and allocations of materials. He had abandoned hope of ever getting either until the North Korean Reds struck across the 38th parallel. Then both increased taxes and stand-by controls authority beyond that ever given any other president were practically forced upon him.

This congress has attempted, as other congresses have before it, to invade all the fields of government. It attempted to nullify decisions of the United States supreme court in the tideland oil bills and in the basing point measures. It attempted to set administrative policies in the executive department by withholding or adding appropriations; it attempted to invade the field of foreign affairs in trying to mandate the President to make a $62,000,000 loan to Franco's Fascist Spain.

While the President was failing to make much headway with the fair deal program he did stop short two quarterback sneaks through the weak side of the line with the residential veto. One was the Kerr bill which would have added millions to the price of natural gas and the other was the basing point bill.

GOP Will Claim Credit

One Fair Deal piece of legislation went through sailing. That was the extension of the social security program to include about 10,000,000 more persons and increasing the benefits all along the line. The Republicans, however will claim that was a bi-partisan program since such legislation was also advocated in the GOP platform.

The President also was able to get 20 out of 27 reorganization plans through the congress and enacted into law aimed at streamlining governmental agencies and reducing costs. These too will be considered bi-partisan, since they were approved and advocated by the Hoover Commission for Reorganization of the government and the GOP will claim equal credit.

Other victories for the President were acceptance of his Point Four program. Atlantic pact, military assistance program, extension of the Marshall plan. But again the GOP will claim equal credit since foreign policy is supposed to be a bi-partisan policy. But Guy Gabrielson, the GOP national chairman, says our foreign policy is bi-partisan only in Europe where it has worked fairly well.

690 Laws Enacted

So far, out of more than 690 public laws enacted by this congress, about one out of five pertain to veterans, their dependents or the Veterans' administration. This segment of the nation's population now totals more than 19 million and these veterans of all wars won improved programs in housing and rent control, education and training, compensation for disabled veterans and social security credit for the time in uniform. The President vetoed one bill passed by both houses by overwhelming majorities to give pay raises of $100 for each year of service to postal employees who are veterans. It would have meant a pay raise of $163,000,000. Reasons given for veto by the President were: increases would go to persons who were not in postal service prior to their military service; would discriminate against servicemen in other departments; is not a veterans bill since it applied to only 100,000 out of 15 million World War II veterans, and it would increase the postal deficit.

GED Upholds Truman

The Committee for Economic Development, composed of business men and industrialists, farmers and laborers and whose research and policy committee is unbiased, unprejudiced and non-political and economically sound, in a recent release virtually upheld President Truman's stand that all-out controls are not needed at this time, but should be ready to slap on when the occasion demands.
