V. EARL EARP BECOMES ASSISTANT TO ALLRED

Jimmie Allred may be weak on constitutional law and mistaken in his interpretation of the Texas anti-trust law, but he knows his politics. His recent acquisition of V. Earl Earp, commander of the American Legion, Department of Texas, is not a move calculated to lose the youthful attorney general any votes. And the chances are that Commander Earp will make a good assistant.

Earp comes from Sweetwater, West Texas; he has traveled all over the state of Texas in his famous white Chevrolet; he has friends and followers in every nook and cranny of the commonwealth; he is popular.

Republicans say that democrats can always be depended upon to do the wrong thing at the right time. If the republicans are right, Jimmie Allred isn't a good democrat—for his appointment of Earp to the staff of assistant attorney general was distinctly the right move at the right time. It placates West Texas, whose feathers had been ruffled because of Allred's attack upon the Small land bill, and it makes a pretty commitment to the American Legion.

LECTURER DESCRIBES NATIONAL PARK

Bringing to a close this season's series of 26 travel broadcasts, featuring imaginary tours of America's scenic beauty spots, Garretts Wells, noted explorer will conduct his radio audience through Glacier Park of Montana, in his NBC network broadcast Sunday, May 29th at 9 a. m. CST.

In Glacier, Wells asserts, is probably the last unexplored region of the United States, and there are probably many lakes hidden in its wilderness which white men have never seen. The geology of Glacier, says Wells, is one of most fascinating attractions; here may be seen the the bottom of a deep sea, and rocks colored by centuries of the wash of sea water. There are sixty huge glaciers in the park, and the lakes which Wells says are unexcelled for sheer beauty anywhere in the world. The Park presents many aspects so that there is the wildest scenery imaginable in parts of it, with marvelous opportunities for roughing it, and for exploration; while, for the visitor whose time is limited, there is 100 miles of paved highway, with comfortable hotels and lodges, saddle horses, and the picturesque Blackfoot Indian reservation adjoining, with Indian guides available for camping and hiking trips.

This final Wells broadcast, sponsored by Continental Oil Company, may be heard over an NBC network Sunday, May 29th, at 9 a. m. CST.

TEXAS HIGH SCHOOL COACHES TO MEET IN LUBBOCK JULY 14

Lubbock, Texas, May 26: The Texas High School Football Coaches Association will hold their annual meeting in Lubbock July 14. John A. Pierce, Corsicana coach, president of the association has advised R. T. "Dutch" Smith of Texas Tech. The meeting will be held during the second Texas Tech coaching school here and the two affairs are expected to dovetail, Smith says, in view of the fact that many of the members of the association will be here for the two weeks coaching school, July 11 to 25.

Coming here for the meeting, the high school coaches will have an opportunity to meet the teaching staff of the coaching school, even though they do not enroll.

Seven of the outstanding coaches of the United States in football, basketball and track have been signed to conduct the coaching school work. They are Glen "Pop" Warner, and Claude "Tiny" Thornhill, Stanford University; Horley "Hank" Anderson, and All American Marchmont "Marchy" Schwartz, Notre Dame; Forest "Phog" Allen, University of Kansas; Clyde Littlefield, Texas University; and Jack Meagher, Rice Institute.

The high school coaches will complete their business in the one day, and will be guests of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce at a banquet in the evening, at which some of the array of athletic majors will be on the program for addresses.

Other than Pierce, officials of the high school association expected here include: Jimmy Kitts, Athens, vice president; Benny Strickland, Austin, Secretary-Treasurer; Board of Directors Arnold Krichamer, Houston; Jesse Kellan, Lufkin; Tom Dennis, Fort Arthur; and Claude Kellam, San Antonio.

Speaking of the depression, federal aid for the unemployed and that sort of thing, it is interesting to note the comment of Editor Homer M. Price in the Marshall Morning-News the other day about government "doles." Editor Price was formerly one of the many good citizens who opposed federal aid for the jobless, believing that the situation could best be handled through local welfare agencies.

But a letter read by Senator Copeland of New York in the Senate recently helped Mr. Price to change his mind. The letter was from a school teacher, and dealt with conditions of the pupils in her classroom.

The letter closed with this: "This morning a small girl who formerly had been a good student, but who for several weeks had been dull, listless, and nervous, took so little interest that I called her into my office and started to reprimand her when she stopped me with: 'Miss, I can't help it, I'll be all right tomorrow. You see this is the day I don't eat. This is Charlie's day to eat.'"

Editor Price is not a bolshevik or a communist, but the child's explanation of her indifference to her studies was too much, all his preconceived theories about unemployment aid were knocked "sky-west and crooked." He says the government must step in and take a hand in the situation to relieve want and hunger.

"Dole or no dole, if such conditions exist this government should step in, and our proud banner with its many stars and stripes is naught but a dirty rag unless it does," he says.

A "TERRIBLE MESS"

With Sterling pitted against the Fergusons, the gubernatorial situation in Texas is in a "terrible mess," observes an East Texas paper. Sterling, a poor platform speaker, may show to great disadvantage against the veteran Jim Ferguson, who is conceded to be a past-master in campaigning, and who "does not hesitate to charge, and charge without mercy on his antagonist, or to put it other wise, his opponent."

There are many thousands "who feel that they have had enough of Sterling" and many other thousands "who know they do not want any more of the Fergusons," declares the Palestine Daily Herald. But between the two, the people may chose Ferguson. Sterling's apparent friendliness to certain big interests may prove to be his greatest drawback, although he is certain to have the support of many influential newspapers and political leaders.

"There is only one thing that could possibly save Texas from such an awkward political situation," in the opinion of the Herald, "and that is for some able man to offer for the job of being governor who is big enough and strong enough to make the state a governor." This opinion is reflected in the editorial comment of a number of Texas papers. It may be that the foundation is being laid for an independent candidate— independent of the Moody-Sterling-Ferguson biennial "cat-fight."

MRS J. W. CAMPBELL, Reporter

ROY EVERETT HONORED AT SURPRISE PARTY

Mrs. Roy Everett was the highly surprised guest of honor Monday evening at an informal party celebrating his birthday.

Mrs. Everett had planned and arranged the whole affair without arousing the slightest suspicion from Mr. Everett. When some neighbors dropped in, he took it quite as a matter of course, but when still others came, he began to wonder how come.

When the nonsense gifts were presented, however, the nature of the party dawned on him, and his expression of dismay was comical enough to start a laugh.

WEDNESDAY DINNER SURVIVED THORNS MISS PEARCE

Honoring the eighteenth birthday of their daughter, Miss Vivian, Mrs. Mel Pearce were hosts last Monday to a number of young people, entertaining with an elaborate o'clock dinner at their home.

Covers were laid for ten at five. The beautifully decorated with cut glasses. After dinner, a pleasant hour was enjoyed.

WEDNESDAY DINNER SURVIVED THORNS MISS PEARCE

Honoring Miss Dottie Turrentine, Tabako, Miss Jim Ellen Wells was hostess Saturday evening to a number of friends when she entertained in the most enjoyable of summer parties—a picnic roast.

An open lot in the south part of town was selected as a picnic spot, where the fire was built for cooking. After a pleasant supper, games were played until a late hour. Those present were Misses Marie Mack, Beverly Mills, Marie Greenwood, Kitty May Garner, Lou Beach, Madeline McLaurin, the three, and the hostesses, Messrs. Busby, Howard, and Treacy, Middleton, Moody Gibson, Mel Moore, Lawrence Tredway, and Wayne Guye.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Celebrating her tenth birthday, Miss Betty Middleton was hostess Thursday afternoon to a number of friends when she entertained with a party at the country home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Middleton.

Supper, games, contests, stunts, and helped to pass away a pleasant afternoon. Refreshments of angel food cake which were served to Doris Lawrence Westmoreland, J. Verna James Bowlin, Billy and Cathy, and Max C. Bradley.

JOHN EARLES HOSTESS WEDNESDAY CLUB

John Earles was the delightful hostess last Thursday afternoon when she entertained several guests when she entertained at the home of her parents, Mrs. G. A. Haney.

Her business meeting preceded by forty-two, and several matters of interest to club members were discussed. In bowls, vases, and baskets were used to decorate the rooms. Games were placed for games. At the end of the afternoon dainty refreshments of pineapple salad, bread butter sandwiches, olives, and tea were served to Messrs. Bradley, Campbell, Gibson, Koeningger, McLaurin, Yanderson, Moore, Johnson, Starr, Singleton, Street, Line and Singleton.

CRIME

In America may not be as bad as it is sometimes pictured, but it is enough, to say the least, to be borne in mind that the States has had some very serious crimes in recent years.

Thousands of the exploited, organized gangsters and racketeers in Houston Post points out a sample of this sort of activity. Post quotes from an editor in the London Evening News, "It is for the people of the United States to decide whether, because of other children, it will be a state of things which though it will make the gangsters the final arbiters of destiny." The London Evening News, of course, to the end of a life of crime is futile.

JOSEPH THE DREAMER

GOLDEN TEXT—Joseph 27:1-11. "A change of pasture makes fat calves."

PRIMARIES—Joseph's Dream. JUNIOR TOPIC—A Boy's Dream. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Right and Wrong Ambition. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Right and Wrong Ambition.

I. Joseph the Favored Child (vv. 1-3). Joseph was Jacob's favorite son. His favoritism expressed itself in a superior position and more respectable clothes. That Jacob should feel partial toward Joseph perhaps was inevitable, but that he should manifest it was extremely unwise.

II. Joseph Hated by His Brethren (vv. 4-11). His superior character was a continual reminder to his brethren of their evil deeds. The sin of a righteous life is hard for the wicked to bear. His father's favoritism fanned this hatred into a flame which at last burst forth upon him. Such parental indirection may lead to murder. The good are not always loved.

III. Joseph's Dreams (vv. 5-11). It is right for Joseph to have these dreams because they were from God, but perhaps he was indolent in making them known. Often times the manner in which a thing is done offends more than the thing itself.

IV. His Brothers' Jealousy (vv. 6-11). This was rightly interpreted by them to mean his subjection and obedience to him. This intensified their hatred of him. It was hard enough for them to endure the father's favoritism, but to have this dream narrated, which pictured his rule over him, was more than they could endure.

V. The Sun, Moon, and Eleven Stars (vv. 12-13). This dream to widow in its application than that of the sheaves. The eleven stars are identical with the eleven sheaves. The sun and moon is rightly interpreted by his father as representing his father and mother rendering obedience to him. This dream created within his father's mind a suspicion of a lurking ambition of selfishness and vanity in Joseph's bosom. He rebuked him for it, but possessed the good sense to observe it. The hatred of his brethren revealed itself in envy.

VI. Joseph Sent by His Father on a Mission (vv. 14-17). His brethren had gone to Shechem, about fifty miles distant from Hebron, where was abundance of pasture for their flocks. Jacob became anxious about their welfare and sent Joseph to find out their condition. Knowing the attitude of his brethren toward him, he no doubt realized that his mission was fraught with grave danger. It means exposure to highway robbers, wild beasts, and the murder-lust of his brethren. Undeterred by the envious hatred of his brethren, he willingly responded, "Here am I."

VII. Joseph's Reception by His Brethren (vv. 18-21). As soon as they saw him their hatred began to burn. Their murderous plot (vv. 18-21). They said, "Behold, this dreamer cometh. Come now therefore, and let us slay him." They thought to prevent these dreams from coming true by destroying the dreamer. Reuben dissuaded them from this act by proposing to cast him into a pit, thinking to rescue him and return him to his father.

8. They Stripped him of his coat (vv. 22, 24). In spite of his earnest entreaty against this wicked act, they perpetrated this heartless cruelty (vv. 22-24).

9. Their Feasting (vv. 25). Their heartlessness manifested itself in their enjoyment of a meal, perhaps within the sight and hearing of Joseph's cry.

10. Sold to the Ishmaelites (vv. 25-28). In the providence of God, these merchantsman passed by at the opportune time. Judah proposed that they sell him, as no gain could accrue from letting him die in the pit. Having done this infamous deed, they sought to cover it up by lying and deceit. They took his coat of many colors and dipped it in the blood of a kid and sent it to his father, allowing him to draw his own conclusion as to the matter. Jacob is now rejoicing who he had wronged a brother and deceived his father by trickery and lying.

THREE LAKES

C. J. Edwards is visiting his sons, W. N. and T. D. Edwards, at Lubbock.
Miss Mona Rae Edwards visited in the Wells community last week.
Kenneth Askew of Wells spent Sunday with Calvin Edwards.
Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Jeffries and family, accompanied by Lena Sikes, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Perry at Grandview.
Mr. and Mrs. J. Wright Edwards and son, Paul, of O'Donnell visited Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Edwards Saturday.
Mr. and Mrs. Dutch Robinson and family spent the weekend with Mrs. Robinson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Duckett, and family at New Lynn. Misses Carroll and J. A. Edwards made a business trip to O'Donnell Monday.

NEW MOORE NEWS

The crops in our community are growing nicely.
Sunday School is progressing. We cordially invite everyone to come and take part.
Brother Henderson will preach next Sunday May 29, at 11 o'clock, also Sunday night. It will be well worth your time to come and hear him.
A large crowd attended the singing Sunday night at the home of Mrs. Lehman.
Mr. Pendleton and son, George, also Jack Dixon made a lengthy trip to South Texas, bringing back a load of nice vegetables.
J. A. Alexander made a business trip to Lubbock Monday.
There will be a pie supper on Saturday night, May 28, at the New Moore church, the proceeds going for song books and other necessities for the church. All the women and girls are urged to bring a pie and the men and boys a well filled purse as we want all the pies sold. Everyone is invited to come, especially the candidates. We will have some music and a good time in general.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

W. R. BURNETT, Minister
10:00 a. m. Sunday School, W. J. Shook, supt. Attendance last Sunday 130.
11:00 a. m. Instead of having the morning worship service at this time we will go to the High School Auditorium, and attend the Baccalaureate service for the High School graduating class. The pastor and membership of the church congratulate those who are graduating from the High School, and wish for you the greatest possible success and happiness in life.
7:30 p. m. Epworth League will meet at the church. We trust that all the Leaguers will be there promptly at this time to begin the League.
8:30 p. m. Evening worship service. We hope to see a full attendance at the evening service at this time.
4:00 p. m. Monday. Womens Missionary Society.
4:00 p. m. Tuesday. World Friendship Club.
8:30 p. m. Wednesday. Prayer Meeting.

The pastor and his family wish to express their appreciation to the ladies to Bro. Garner, and to every one else who contributed in any way toward securing the paper and papering two rooms of the parsonage. It makes the parsonage much more comfortable, and we are thankful for the fine spirit of loyalty which prompted you to do this.
We were happy to see some more new faces in our congregation last Sunday. There are still others that we would be so glad to see in the services. Let us not forsake the assembling of ourselves together. As we draw close to the Lord in worship we are better equipped to win the battles of life.
Every one will find a hearty welcome at all the services of the Methodist church. Come and worship with us.

Reduced 30 Pounds Never Felt Better

Safe Way To Lose Fat
Take the case of Miss Madelone Crowley, for instance, who lives in Little Rock, Ark. Just read her letter:
"I have used Kruschen Salts for one year—when I started I weighed 140 pounds—now I weigh 110 pounds and never felt better in my life."
That's the big reason a host of men and women take Kruschen to lose weight—as the fat goes you gain in health—skin clear—eyes grow bright—activity replaces inactivity.
Take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—cut down on fatty meats, potatoes and sweet—a jar of Kruschen that cost but a trifle lasts 4 weeks—get it at any drug store in the world—but for your health's sake demand and get KRUSCHEN SALTS. No. D-7.
THE COMPTROLLER'S REPORT

BRIDGE RULES

1. Bid high your partner may have a good hand.
2. When you have a poor hand, signal immediately by saying, "Who dealt this mess?"
3. Claim all the honors—you might get away with it.
4. If you get a poor partner, keep score yearly, you've got to have some advantage.
5. Lead from your own hand or from dummy, as convenient.
6. Trump your partner's ace and clinch the trick.
7. If your partner doubles on a one bid, pass and be glad he has such a good hand.
8. Redouble on general principles—confidence is a great thing, even without tricks.
9. Always ask what the trump is two or three times during the game. This always refreshes everybody's memory.
10. If nobody bids, bid against your partner. You must keep interest in the game at any cost.
11. Third hand plays low.
12. Always ask your partner why he didn't return your lead. This will remind him to lead it next time.
13. When you are out of suit, rearrange your cards. This tells the world you are out of it.
14. If two cards are turned up in a deal and you have a rotten hand, it's a misdeal.
15. After the third attack, lay the rest of the tricks. You might not your hand on the table and claim have them, but it's much easier to play with all the cards on the table.

"My wife says if I don't give up golf she'll leave me."
"My, my, that's hard luck!"
"Yes, I'll surely miss her."

THE CHAMP WITH TWO STARS HEADS PROGRAM AT PALACE THIS WEEK

Wallace Beery and Jackie Cooper Paired in Story of Prize Fighter

Wallace Beery and Jackie Cooper as a team!
Such is the unique combination heading the cast of "The Champ", Metro-Goldwyn-Meyer's vivid drama of life on the Mexican border, which will open at the Palace Theatre Sunday and run for three days.
Beery plays a broken-down fight champion, and the hero of "Skippy".

is seen as his son in a poignant heart-interest tale in which comedy and a few thrills are intermingled. King Vidor directed the production, from an original story by Frances Marion.

Life on the Mexican border is vividly shown in many of the scenes in the picture having been filmed on Mexican locales, through courtesy of the Lower California government. The "inside" of the "fight racket", the Caliente races, actually filmed at the Mexican track, the great gambling halls of the "American Monte Carlo" and other striking intimate details given unique interest to the picture, most of this having never before been shown on the screen.

Among the dramatic highlights are the race, the sensational prize fight in which Beery essays his "comeback", the dramatic sacrifice for the sake of the boy, and the battle with the Mexican police.
A notable cast appears, including Irene Rich, Rosco Atles, Edward Brophy, Hale Hamilton, Jesse Scott and Marcia Mae Jones.
It is King Vidor's first directorial effort since his highly successful "Street Scene."

THIS AND THAT
By Jimminy
Oil is back to a dollar a barrel in the mid-continent field now, and if events of the past few months indicate anything, the price of a gallon of gasoline will reach a dollar before Christmas holidays. It begins to look like the oil companies are going to stabilize the price of a barrel of crude oil and a gallon of gas at one dollar each. The big boys apparently want to make the rest of us believe that gasoline and oil is more important than grits and gravy.
Of course no industry can endure without profit, nobody expects them to. But, by Jimminy, there's no sense in one industry trying to hog all the profits. Let's prorate—that's what the oil companies were crying for not so long ago.
The oil companies claim they have been doing most of their bookkeeping on the red side of the ledger for a year or so and are just trying to get back on their feet. They are not to be blamed for that, but it doesn't look just exactly right for them to put everybody else on their feet, too, literally speaking. And the way these big companies operate, it's next to impossible to try to "jew" one of them down a cent or two, when one announces a price change the rest of them fall over each other in the rush to meet the price—just like they didn't know it was coming.
It may be that we would all be better off if all industries operated that way, he writes—doesn't know—Jimminy Alred might.

The secretary of a South Texas printers association, observing the mounting gasoline prices, was struck with a happy idea, following announcement of the latest increase he took a news item, doctored it up a little, and here's what he got:
LOCAL PRINTING PRICES HIGHER
Six Major Companies Abort Letter Heads at $8.25
"For the second time in the past month prices of letter heads in Houston were increased Tuesday when Magnolia Printing Company, published an increase of 50 cents per 100 and Texas Printing Company, G. G. Printing Company, Sinclair Printing Company, Consolidated Printing Co. met the raise. Humboldt Printing Co. will meet the increase Wednesday, it was announced by officials."
Printers and a lot of other business men don't do those kind of things, of course, but the possibilities are there just the same. What "saucer" for the oil companies, may be "gravy" for the little fellow."
