Czechoslovakia May Be Next

Well informed observers predicting that Czechoslovakia will be the next subject of Adolf Hitler's Pan-German campaign, following his blood-soaked annexation of Austria, the government of Czechoslovakia has issued its previous warning that it will resist to the last any attempt to annex it. President Edouard Benes recently is shown conferring with some of his military chiefs during army maneuvers recently.

German Troop Eye Skies for Planes

These German anti-aircraft machine gunners and thousands of other troops are ready for the march upon Czechoslovakia when their Fuehrer, Hitler, gives the word.

'Der Fuehrer' of Germany—And Sudetan?

Thousands upon thousands of these posters appeared as if by magic in Austria when Hitler completed his bloodless coup of that country, and more recently in the Sudetan area when rebellion flared as a result of the efforts of Konrad Henlein, Hitler's man Friday in the Sudetan.

Funny Then, But In Dead-earnest Now!

George Allen of Bromley, England, offered an unsuspected problem for the precautionary warden of Beckenham, Kent, during home-to-home visits to his residence with gas masks. The warden found that a bearded individual like Mr. Allen requires extra-careful fitting because the hair on his face is not as thick as that required for a clean-shaven man and contributed to his future safety.

FALL APPAREL BEING SHOWN BY MERCHANTS

Beautiful Displays To Attract Milady To Local Stores

The calendar says "Autumn," and the O'Donnell stores suggest the same thing, and despite the fact that you may still be wearing summer clothing, Fall is here local dry goods merchants declare.

The new season has brought new things to wear, and O'Donnell clothing and dry goods stores announce displays in both men's and women's ready-to-wear. Stylish frocks, new undergarments, hosiery, hats—all tending to "dress up" milady, will be offered in O'Donnell at prices in reach of all. The quality of the merchandise is remarkable when price is considered, and out-of-season showings elsewhere, thanks to the buyers of O'Donnell's stores.

Men are not forgotten either. New suits, hats, footwear, ties, can be viewed now. Moreover, tailoring firms who take orders for made-to-measure clothing are now showing new lines.

Other merchandise that comes into use during the Fall and Winter seasons are likewise offered, and these items are marked at figures in a foolhardy to leave town to buy.

Make your plans to buy your Fall wardrobe, and first try O'Donnell stores. You will be amazed at the beautiful materials being displayed.

Business Here In Short 'Pick Up'

Crop Condition To Prohibit Type of Rush Here in 1937

Business in O'Donnell stores increased to a marked extent here Saturday, indicating that the cotton crop has begun to move. Stagnated last year, due to an over-size cotton crop, business leaders here anticipate no such rush this fall even though ginning at this time are about on a par with number turned out this time last year. The crop this year will fall short of the 1937 output.

No trouble is being experienced in securing cotton pickers. Close to 1,000 Mexicans have arrived here in the last week, and more are expected daily.

Mexican Orchestra To Play Dances During Next Week

Manuel Almaguer's "Red Hot 6" orchestra will play a Mexican dance here next Saturday night in the building formerly occupied by Fancher's Poultry.

Fire destroyed the roofing, but the floor has been re-worked, and the dancers really dance "under the stars." A dance for white people will be held Friday night week, with the same orchestra playing. A special number will be offered with a Mexican girl and boy forming the team.

DER FUEHRER SPEAKS

Fuehrer Adolph Hitler, as he appeared when he thundered out his message of defiance to the world Monday, and stormed that he would not quit until he had secured the Sudetan upon the terms he had outlined previously.

NAZI ARMY CHIEF

Field Marshal Herman William Goerring, under whose direction the mighty German army has been built, stood by Hitler's side and was warmly praised when the Fuehrer stated his views upon the Sudetan question Monday.

Sale of Cotton Is Postponed

LUBBOCK—Sale of cotton involved in Commodity Credit Corporation loans which are being called in a number of West Texas counties may be postponed until at least April 1st, according to a proposal made by the Honorable George E. Rathell, Secretary-Treasurer of the Commodity Credit Corporation, from Washington, in a meeting with a committee of producers in Lubbock Monday.

The producers committee, representing about fifteen West Texas counties and headed by Mr. Joe M. Rose of Dickens as chairman, requested of the Commodity Credit Corporation in presenting their case to Mr. Rathell that no liability be placed on the producer. Mr. Rathell did not approve this request but made a tentative proposal for the Commodity Credit Corporation under the terms of which the suggested postponement of sale would be made until April 1st, prior to which time plans for a final disposition of these loans might be made.

Mr. Rathell stated that in any event none of the cotton involved in these loans which are being called would be sold by the government until he has time to refer to the Washington office and confer with his associates and submit a report to the committee headed by Mr. Rose of Dickens.

Mr. Rose stated that when the Commodity Credit Corporation had reported to him he would advise the members of his committee and the County Agents in the territory involved.

The particular cotton now involved in this matter includes cotton stored at Haskell, Hamlin, Lorenzo, and Snyder as well as cotton formerly stored at Jayton.

'Try, Try Again,' Effort Rewarded; Six Wells Dry, But Seventh Is 'Gusher'

The old saying of "if at first you don't succeed, try, try again" has been demonstrated on the farm of Mrs. L. M. Wright, 3 miles south. Six times an attempt had been made to drill a water well which would bring forth water, to no avail. On the seventh try, this week, water began flowing at the rate of 40 barrels daily. The thirst for water on that farm has been quenched, Mrs. Wright says.

BORDEN TO VOTE ON BOND ISSUE FRIDAY, SEPT 30

Proposal Calls For Erection of New $34,000 Court House

A proposal to issue $20,000 in bonds for the purpose of building a new $34,000 court house in Borden county will be voted upon Friday by the voters of that county.

A 45 per cent grant will be sought of the federal WPA.

The $14,000 federal grant, which would mature in 1941, carries supporting sinking fund rates totaling 3c on the $100 valuation and the new issue, if voted, will carry a 10c sinking rate fund. As no tax can be added to the 1938 rolls, there would be two years in which the county would pay an extra 10c on the valuation. After 1941, however, when the old bond issue had been paid, 3c on the valuation could be dropped, and only one cent more be paid than at present, according to members of the commissioner's board.

Two are being erected by C. O. Lawler of this city, while the other is being built by the Ryan Warehouse company of Lubbock. This last named firm is also building a warehouse in Tahoka.

TO BE LOCATED NEXT TO OFFICE OF DR. CAMPBELL

Local Physician and Fort Worth Surgeon To Be Associated

The association of Dr. J. F. Campbell, local physician and Dr. Julian W. Davis of Ft. Worth in the operation of a clinic here has been formed, and plans are now underway for the installation of operating rooms and for an unspecified number of beds. The clinic proper will be located next door to the present offices of Dr. Campbell, so he announced today, and the beds will be installed just as quickly as the premises may be secured from the present occupants.

Dr. Davis was recommended very highly by Dr. Campbell by the medical association of Tarrant county as a surgeon of unusual ability, and noted for his work in general practice. He is a graduate of the Baylor School of Medicine among other medical schools, and has held an important position for the last few years in the county hospital of Tarrant county.

Dr. Davis' equipment has already arrived, Dr. Campbell also says, and the Fort Worth surgeon will assume his practice here within a few days.

At the present time, O'Donnell has no facilities for the handling of most surgical cases, which go either to Lamesa or Lubbock.

Payment Current School Taxes Due

Honor of First To Pay Went to Bank Here Last Year

If you are the type of a person who agrees to be "first" in things, you have an opportunity to accomplish your aim here Saturday when payment of current school taxes will be accepted.

Last year, the First National Bank paid taxes first, according to Miss Beverly Wells, secretary. If you hurry, you might beat the bank to the honor this year.

Miss Wells is ready for the rush, and even though you may not be first, the secretary will still take your money and give you a receipt with thanks.

Luther Dodd Jr. Opens Grocery

The opening of the new Luther Dodd, Jr., grocery store has been slated for Saturday, according to the owner.

The building is located on a block east of the First National Bank Building.

Mr. Dodd, who has been associated with father, L. E. Dodd, has personally arranged his fixtures, and says that he hopes to have his stock complete for the opening. He will have full ownership of the new grocery.

LYNN COUNTY HOME DEMONSTRATION COUNCIL

GAME PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION IN LYNN IS POSTING PROPERTY

Lynn County Game protective association has been formed here by ranchers and farmers interested in preserving wild life of the county.

A committee composed of Tom Garrard, John Hulman and C. T. Tankersley was named to work out plans. It is the objective of the association to protect quail, prairie chicken and other game.

Those who wish to post their properties against hunting are asked to see members of the committee or County Agent V. F. Jones.

LYNN COUNTY 4-H PROJECTS ARE CITED

At least half the 40 4-H club boys of Lynn county have a pig project for this year, according to V. F. Jones, county agent.

The greater portion of the boys also have a grain sorghum project in connection with their pigs.

They are doing well, Jones said. The boys are planning to and near to litters.

Five boys have calves. The rest have cotton, grain sorghum and poultry.

Cochran county girls find that eating a raw carrot each day from their farm gardens helps keep their complexions free from blemishes.

THE CUSTARD PIE QUESTION

COOKING school demonstration wouldn't be a cooking school demonstration if some one in the audience didn't ask the perennial custard pie question, "How can I keep the crust on my custard pie from getting soggy?" Doesn't that sound familiar to you? It may be you've even asked that very question yourself sometime. At any rate you've encountered the pie in question with a soggy mass of crust in the center of the filling instead of under the filling where it belonged.

The trouble is, of course, that pastry demands a hotter oven than custard. Too much heat, in fact, is fatal to a custard—it weeps

An absolutely new method which we tried out recently proved to be the best answer of all to the long-sought aim of a sure method to will be a well baked custard. To bake the custard, set oven at 450° F., for fifteen minutes or more without turning it. When the crust is set, of course, the temperature must be lowered to a slow moderate heat, 325° F. for the remaining baking time.

It's highly important, however, that we do not bake the custard too long—for then it begins to weep and disintegrate. We found we should take the pie from the oven when most of the custard was set, even though the center seemed Tomato Poinsettia Blooms on Tables!

Few salads have greater year-round popularity than tomato salads. That jolly blushing beauty, the tomato sliced, diced, or whole, has the power of perk up even indifferent appetites—and there are so many variations on the tomato-salad theme that we never tire of it.

As in the preparation of all other salads, the dressing is the important thing to remember in serving the ever-present tomato. Miracle Whip Salad Dressing—neither too rich nor too mild, neither too sweet, nor 7-inch pie, use only 2 eggs.

and that county agents, vocational teachers, bankers, business men, and civic organizations have all pushed the trench silo idea, E. R. Eudaly, dairyman of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, pointed out in explaining the rapid increase in the use of the trench silo.

"I understand, for instance, that the Farm Security Administration is urging all its clients to dig and fill trenches."

An outstanding example of the spread of the trench silo method is found in Fisher county, where 80 trenches were filled in 1937. So far in 1938 over 350 have been filled, and indications are that the number will reach 800 by the end of the harvest season.

"The trench silo is about the only way to store grain in those sections of the state where weeds do so much damage," Eudaly said. In Wilkey county, combines have been used to harvest a large sorghum crop and the grain has been placed in trench silos for future use.

"Weeds, or fire, wind, dust, rats, floods, or time itself can't hurt the feed once it's in a trench silo," the dairyman commented.

A SEVENTEENTH CENTURY PIE

Apples and quinces are boon companions in the jolly kingdom. But whoever heard of them keeping company in a pie? Nevertheless, our old cook books record their harmonious union in pies—as well as apple sauce. It seems a pity that they are not together more nowadays.

Here is our modernized version of this seventeenth century recipe for twentieth century cooks.

Apple Quince Pie and pared 1/2 orange (2 sections) 1/2 cup sugar, for sprinkling over fruit

Bring sugar and water to boiling point in heavy saucepan. Add the quinces. Cover, and boil gently until almost tender (about 20 minutes). Drain quinces from juice. Cool. Arrange cooled quince slices in bottom of pie-plate.

Place apples in quince slices. In center of each apple, place orange section. Sprinkle 1 tsp. of sugar over each apple, allowing sugar to fall over orange and around sides of apple. Pour 1 cup of the syrup drained from quinces over the fruit. Place top of the cake lightly with your fingertip. If the impression of the finger remains, the cake is not quite done. If the top seems to spring back leaving no trace of a fingerprint, the cake is done. Or you might use the cake-tester or the toothpick test. Or, if you've been having a great deal of damp weather, it may have effected the flour. In that case, you can dry the flour by sifting it in front of a hot oven with the door open.

Betty Crocker's Advice Question: I have your recipe for Buttered Cake. Can I use lemon juice instead of the vinegar in it? I do not use vinegar.

Answer: You can use lemon juice for vinegar in this recipe. But I would use 2 tps. of vinegar plus 2 tps. of lemon juice since the lemon juice is stronger.

Question: Why is my Six Egg Sponge Cake sunken in the center by the time it cools? I follow directions. The cake is high and nice when it comes from the oven. I leave it in the pan to cool.

Answer: I assume that you invert the pan and leave the cake hanging thus to cool. If you are using a stove with an oven regulator, it might be well to have it checked. We find that these regulators do need occasional check-ups. Do you test your cake after for doneness before removing it from the oven? Touch the top of the cake lightly with your fingertip. If the impression of the finger remains, the cake is not quite done. If the top seems to spring back leaving no trace of a fingerprint, the cake is done. Or you might use the cake-tester or the toothpick test. Or, if you've been having a great deal of damp weather, it may have effected the flour. In that case, you can dry the flour by sifting it in front of a hot oven with the door open.

CANCER QUACKS—CANCER CURES so-called cure! Dr. Cox added, "There are but two ways of treating cancer. First, by surgery and second, by the use of radium or X-ray. Treatment must be started early and in the hands of a competent surgeon. Surgery is relied upon to remove cancerous tumors and is used in nearly two-thirds of the cases. X-ray or radium is used to advantage for the remaining group. Frequently the two methods are combined. Self-medication, serums, colored lights,

TEXAS' OBSOLETE STATUTES

W. Lee O'Daniel has asked some of the legislators to submit of obsolete laws now on the statute books. There are scores of such laws. The average Texan is not even aware of the existence of most of them. It is a relic of the law is loosened when there is even one law that is disregarded. Law enforcement will be strengthened in Texas when all of the dead-letter laws are repealed.

There is a law which prohibits card-playing in public places. A card game in a hotel, a country club, or on a train, is against the law. Public sentiment does not support such a restriction, and which the legislature experienced in 1907 after the district attorney at Fort Worth had been killed by a professional gambler. It was the law which makes 20 miles an hour the speed limit in towns and is violated every minute of every day. There is no need to enforce it.

There are just two that come to mind, of the many obsolete laws that Texas has. W. Lee O'Daniel will render a real service if he brings about the elimination of any of the state's dead-letter laws.

THE FATHERS KNEW

Washington and Jefferson warned their countrymen that Nations were guided by self interest and that Europe had a set of principles with which we could have no concern. In the burst of enthusiasm following the World War, some American leaders took the sage counsel of the founding fathers; others, luckily for us, did not.

The United States was no party to the treaty establishing the new Nation of Czechoslovakia. The United States was an ally of Czechoslovakia. Had this country yielded to the pleas of its selfish and British statesmen, backed by the plea of its own self-interest, it would today stand committed to an impossible position—Italy, Hungary and Poland and that country threatened by Germany, France and Russia.—Austin Times.

THE "BIGGEST" BUSINESS—TAX COLLECTING

Tax collecting has become a big business in this country. According to a recent study, the national tax bill has increased 100 percent in the past six years. Almost 24 percent of our total national income is today consumed by branches of government. I believe it or not, there are more than 17,500 taxing bodies in the United States, with an army of 3,000,000 employees. Needless to say, this legion of tax gatherers doesn't exist simply to enrich the business or the individual with large means, whose income is in the upper income tax brackets. It exists primarily to tax the little fellow—and to tax him deviously, through indirect levies assessed against every necessity of life. When you pay a $3 electric bill, you are paying $2 cents in tax—and the fact that the electric company, instead of you, actually makes the money over to the tax collector doesn't lessen the burden. When you buy a 25-cent tube of toothpaste, you pay six cents in taxes. When you buy a 10-cent loaf of bread you pay 2 1/2 cents in taxes. When you pay a $40 rent bill, you pay $10 in taxes. So it goes down an endless list.

What it all amounts to is this: If you earn $18 a week and own no taxable property, you still pay $12 a year—12 percent of your hard-earned wages in taxes. If you are a white-collar worker with a $150 salary, you pay $220 a year in taxes—which means, to put it another way, that you work a month and a half for government.

Get over the delusion that the rich pay the tax bill. There aren't enough rich—even if every dime they earned were confiscated by government. In 1937, 70 percent of all tax receipts represented hidden taxes. These are the taxes you pay every day of your life—when you eat a meal, ride in your automobile, go to a movie, buy a shirt and a necktie, or do anything else. More and more of them are being levied each year. So never forget that taxation is your own personal problem, on whose reasonable solution your own welfare is vitally dependent.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

Happenings That Affect the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of Every Individual. National and International Problems from Local Welfare.

The President's "purge" of Republicans in the Democratic Party has been an almost complete failure. The fact is now admitted by friends as well as enemies of the New Deal.

Every important Senator against whom Mr. Roosevelt spoke in his recent sweep about the country has been renominated—and in every case by a handsome margin. The President was apparently especially eager to get rid of Senators George, Tydings and Smith, all of whom have opposed various White House sponsored measures, including the famous judicial reorganization bill.

Senator Smith won with hardly a struggle. Senator George was renominated easily over a field of three—and the President's candidate, Lawrence Camp, ran a poor third. And Senator Tydings was given an overwhelming acclamation by Maryland voters.

Some men close to the White House say that Mr. Roosevelt was not surprised that he did not expect his purge would succeed, and did not especially care, and that he looks on it as being simply the opening gun in a long pull struggle to rid his party of congressmen whom he feels are not liberal. This may or may not be true. What is definitely true is that the failure of the purge has tremendously weakened Mr. Roosevelt's political prestige and authority.

Had the purge been a success, Mr. Roosevelt would have completely dominated the next Democratic convention. Ninety out of a hundred delegates would have gone to it with but one thing in mind—to vote as the President wished. He could have had himself renominated for a third term, or had he not wished that, dictated the choice of his successor. Now, however, there seems to be at least an even chance that the next Democratic convention will elect a man who is resentful of White House dictation. Furthermore, the fact that the purge has failed will undoubtedly encourage other congressmen, who have been sitting on the fence waiting to see how matters turned out, to bolt the traces.

In all probability, the next Congress will be far more independent than the last three. It knows that the voters are not willing to do whatever the President desires. It knows that opposition to White House measures is not necessarily a sure route to political oblivion. Thus, it seems certain that the country will shortly witness some dramatic and stirring battles between the Executive and Legislative branches of the government.

In the meantime, considerable speculation is going on concerning possible results of the purge on the President's official family. It is known that Jim Farley was opposed to it from the beginning—Mr. Farley is a politician of great gifts and wants order and peace within the party. The fact that he left for Alaska and removed himself from the political front during the President's tour is considered extremely important in expert circles. Some say that the President will have to make a choice between keeping Mr. Farley or keeping his left wing advisors, such as the famed team of Cohen and Corcoran. Dispassionate observers tend to the view that Mr. Roosevelt will finally decide to keep Mr. Farley if matters come to a head—he is far too valuable a political asset to lose.

It now remains to be seen whether Mr. Roosevelt can regain the prestige he has lost. He has arisen from serious defeats before—but this is the most damaging blow he has yet received. There seems to be little chance that he can regain his once iron-clad authority over the Congress.

Had anyone suggested a few years ago that England and France would seriously propose that Hitler be given his way in Czechoslovakia without opposition, he would have been regarded as a candidate for a psychopathic ward. Now the incredible has come true. France and Britain are apparently ready to throw their treaties and obligations overboard in a desperate effort to avoid war—even though that effort means a tremendous step forward in prestige and power for the dictators.

However, the end of this chapter has not been written. The Czechs have been taking a firmer course, as their action in outlawing the Sudeten party and placing the Sudeten area under martial law shows. The Czech premier has stated that they will yield no farther. And some experts believe that Prague has managed to obtain guarantees from Moscow that Russia will come to her aid if hostilities start.

No one can forecast what will happen if the Czechs refuse the Chamberlain-Daladier surrender plan and fight. A reliable news commentator in Prague announced over the radio that a high Czech official said to him, in effect, "We are not big enough to defeat Germany—we are big enough to start a European war if we have to." Many think that point of view correct.

Even YOU Can Wear The Frivolous Fall Felts

But study the shape of your face carefully before choosing

If your face is long and thin, you need a hat to give it width. This Dretion with its slightly rolled wide brim and flat crown tends to broaden your face and take away from its height. The quill which stands forward slightly instead of standing up straight, also adds width.

Nothing makes a handsome mignon with large, full features larger than a tiny, brimless hat. She needs a medium sized brim at least. This high, flat-topped crown with its smart side roll brim softens large features yet gives the up-sweep effect so important in today's hats.

Here is a Watteau pancake in gray felt bound with black ribbon for the girl with a round, heart-shaped face. It is ideal for the new half-do. The ribbon band in back holds the pile-high curls in place, while the up-shot ostrich feathers and brim carry out the up-sweep effect.

For a square jaw and broad features, your hat can do wonders. Note how the lines and details of this high peaked crown with its two long quills add height to a wide face. Yet the hat is a classic felt with the brim up in back and down in front, to be worn at a perky angle.

Sam Singleton and Mrs. Forgy were given slam prizes.

A delectable refreshment plate of chicken salad, smacks, olives, cake and tea was served at the conclusion of the games.

Present were Mesdames Joe Whigham, L. E. Robinson, Sam Singleton, Pauline Campbell, Fred Henderson, M. J. Whitsett, E. T. Wells and William G. Ferry.

Mrs. Rufus Slover added that she "believed games helped hold the family together, and caused the children to see the humor in their parents."

Mrs. R. L. Littlepage mentioned that "soon when the family was compelled to spend the evening around the fire, games like checkers, dominoes and pencil games were fine for small spaces, and for families musically inclined, group singing."

Mrs. Floyd Walters of Draw was a visitor.

Members present were Mesdames John Thomas, Sam H. Floyd, I. M. Draper, R. L. Littlepage, R. B. Floyd, G. A. Edwards, Rufus Slover and Allison Duncan.

The next meeting of this club will be with Mrs. R. L. Littlepage, October 13. Bring two standard quart jars, one containing a non-acid and one an acid food for the Ball jar contest.

Sunday Morning is Pancake Morning

For millions of families Sunday morning means more than getting an extra wink of sleep. It means they will wake to the tantalizing aroma of pancakes taking on the griddle.

And when those pancakes come "hot off the griddle" the meal maker can be sure they'll be tender, fluffy and savory. Because modern day pancake ready-mix takes the guesswork out of pancake making. According to directions on the Aunt Jemima package you just add milk or water—stir—bake—and serve.

These modern pancakes do away with all the fuss and bothersome ingredients, but they still have that good old-fashioned tastiness.

Compact English Design

Working plans and specifications for the house illustrated here can be obtained through your local lumber company from the National Plan Service, Inc., at 1315 West Congress Street, Chicago, Illinois. The design is No. 1100-C.

Many homebuilders turn instinctively to a house that reflects the English influence, for the qualities that many people seek in a home of their own are almost always found in an English design.

A paved terrace leads directly to the front entrance, opening into the living room. Grouped windows—French doors leading to an open porch and a wide opening into the adjoining dinette make this room light and cheery, and adequate wall space for furniture, built-in book shelves and a convenient closet (near enough to the front door to serve as a coat closet) for card tables and games assure its livability.

The small dinette, almost square in shape for convenient arrangement, is separated from the living room by only a cased opening... an arrangement that adds materially to the spacious feeling achieved in this small house.

The kitchen is small and planned for utmost convenience. Sink, work tables and cabinets are arranged around the window, and the opposite wall provides space for a range and refrigerator. The rear entry, a step below the level of the kitchen, provides a grade entrance to the basement, equally accessible to the kitchen and outdoors.

A cased opening at one end of the living room separates the bedroom hall from the rest of the house. This space is reduced to a minimum, but at the same time takes care of the stairs to the attic, doors opening into both bedrooms and bath, and two closets. Closet space throughout the house is generously provided; the coat closet, mentioned before, a linen closet, and large closets off each of the bedrooms provide adequate storage space.

Both of the bedrooms have cross ventilation, and both are well provided with wall space for all necessary pieces of furniture. The porch at the end of the house could, if desired, be enclosed to form a livable sun porch, and the attic, with stairs convenient to the first floor bath, may be finished to provide extra bedrooms at some later date. A modern heating plant, laundry and fuel and vegetable storage space are provided in the basement, and an attractive recreation room might be finished here.

As shown here, the house is finished in shingles, wide, unfinished lumber and stone, the latter material used for two sides of the bedroom wing and the living room bay. Where cost prohibits the use of this material, brick veneer or stucco might be combined with shingles, or the entire house could be finished in stucco and half timber or brick.

Interior finish of a house of this type is largely a matter of personal preference, since smooth plaster, wood paneling, wallpaper or rough plaster are all suitable. With either rough or smooth plaster finishes plaster arches might be substituted for the cased openings in the living room, and a beamed ceiling would be appropriate.

Stock designs for doors, windows and other items of millwork required for this plan are obtainable. Many of these designs are copies of original old English patterns, and add materially to the attractive appearance of the finished house. The same theme can be carried into the interior through the use of carefully selected hardware and lighting fixtures. Many dependable manufacturers now produce authentic designs for homes of this type. They are priced reasonably, and handled by electrical supply and building material dealers in all parts of the country.

Planning for a house of this type should be carefully handled to emphasize the low, cottage-like lines. Evergreen and flowering shrubs, in low-growing varieties, would be most appropriate. Proper insulation and one of the new, moderately priced air-conditioning units for home use should be seriously considered in home planning. Such installations are reasonably priced now, and the slight extra cost involved when they are included in new construction is more than offset by the health benefits and fuel savings that result. Standard types, produced by leading manufacturers, are now offered in units planned for homes and buildings of all sizes. Conditioning for year around, winter or summer can be specified when ordering.

Home demonstration club women of Castro county say they don't lose any corn or other vegetables if they pre-cook it and are very careful to can it as soon as it is gathered and cool the cans quickly.

Program of Lateral Roads In County Gains Headway
 A 200 mile lateral road program for Lynn county is in the offing, providing a traffic survey which the state highway department of Texas is to make, bears out the need of such a system, according to P. W. Good county judge. He reports the federal bureau of public roads, has set aside up to 200 miles for construction.

The survey is to be made in October. Should portions of the proposed system show enough traffic to justify building sections, a number of miles as needed will be built.

Federal and state funds will be supplemented by county funds. Each division will pay for about one-third the cost.

COLLEGE STATION — Texas farmers can raise better quality wheat and other small grains and produce more bushels to the acre if they treat their seed to prevent losses from smut, according to E. A. Miller, agronomist of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service.

Smut not only reduces yields, sometimes as much as a fourth of the crop, but also damages the grain for milling and feeding purposes. As a result of a seed treatment campaign conducted by county agricultural agents in 1937, the value of the practices was clearly demonstrated by many farmers.

COCONUT BUCKWHEAT WAFFLES
 Buckwheat waffles have an added attraction when prepared with shredded coconut. They are tops for waffle parties after the theatre and for Sunday-night suppers. The following ingredients will produce four waffles:

 1 cup Aunt Jemima Buckwheat Ready-Mix
 1 egg, well beaten
 1/2 cup water
 3 tablespoons melted butter or shortening
 1/2 cup shredded coconut
 Mix and bake according to package directions.

MOLASSES BUCKWHEAT CAKES
 For those who like their buckwheat cakes without any waffle flour, there's the old standby, Molasses Buckwheat Cakes. They fit the spot when prepared with honest-to-goodness molasses and the genuine prepared buckwheat flour. The griddle will give eight cakes when you use the following ingredients:
 1 cup Aunt Jemima Buckwheat Ready-Mix
 1/2 cup water
 1/2 tablespoon molasses
 1/2 tablespoon melted butter or shortening
 Mix and bake according to package directions.

oats, except loose smut of wheat and brown loose smut of barley, may now be treated with one poison, ethyl mercury phosphate, known to the trade as "Dust Improved cerezan," in dust form.

This treatment is now recommended by Miller in preference to copper carbonate for wheat or formaldehyde for barley and oats. The dust treatment is inexpensive—2 1/4 cents a bushel or less—and its efficiency is assured.

"No grower of wheat, barley, or oats should hesitate to treat all of his seed each year," Miller stated. "Tests by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station have shown that the return is many times the cost of the treatment, and these tests have been borne out by the experience of farmers in every section of the state."

FARM BUYER CAN BORROW $16,000
 Under the amended National Housing act, any farm owner or prospective farm buyer who has good credit standing and a reasonable ability to repay the loan may borrow amounts up to a maximum of $16,000 for a number of purposes.

The proceeds of these privately financed mortgage loans may be used to buy or refinance farm property and improve the buildings, or to buy a new farm and improve the buildings.

July was canning time in Montgomery county where over 20,000 containers were canned to assure better planned and more economical meals this winter.

Cotton Bagging Is Urged as Method Of Cotton Use
 COLLEGE STATION. — Cotton bagging, long considered by the industry to its search for new uses for the fiber, has replaced jute bagging in several Texas one-variety cotton community associations according to G. E. Bowles, organization specialist, and E. A. Miller, agronomist, both of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, who have just completed a tour of one-variety communities. In South Texas the communities using cotton bagging are Bonnie View in Refugio County and Lone Tree in Victoria County, while several East Texas communities are using the new bagging.

It has been pointed out that a normal crop of cotton in the United States would require about 75,000,000 yards of material or the equivalent of about 135,000 bales of cotton a year. An additional advantage, it is said, would be an expected preference of spinners for bales covered with cotton material. The jute now used mixes with the cotton fiber

Gain In Sales

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 28.—Reports to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research from 105 Texas department stores indicated gains in sales during August over July and 1.1 per cent over August last year. Aggregate dollar sales in these establishments during the first eight months of the year were practically identical to those of the corresponding period of 1937.

Credit sales constituted a larger proportion of the total than an August last year, while the percentage of collections on outstanding accounts was slightly less than a year ago.

A representative group of Texas creameries for August reported to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research almost no change in butter production in comparison with July but an increase of 9.8 percent over August last year. Cheese production was down 14.9 per cent over August a year ago. On the other hand, ice cream production was 3 per cent over July, but 5.6 per cent below August a year ago.

For the first eight months of the year aggregate butter production was 18.5 per cent over the corresponding period last year, and cheese production was up 31.4 per cent.

Employment

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 28.—All Texas establishments, including manufacturing concerns, showed an increase in number of employees during August of .1 per cent over the preceding month but a decrease of .81 per cent from August last year, while total weekly pay rolls showed no change from July but were down 7.6 per cent from August last year, according to the University

Famous family flies for eleven years

The famous Hutchinson family is a flying family if there ever was one. Four of them, Lieutenant Colonel George K. Hutchinson, Mrs. Hutchinson, Janet Lee and Kathryn—have been traveling for the past eleven years in their own airplane. They have visited practically every continent on the map, Labrador, Newfoundland, Greenland, Iceland, Europe, Mexico and Central America have been covered in the past few years, but to mention the entire United States and Canada.

Like so many other great Americans the Hutchinson family cast their votes for Quaker Oats. Quaker Oats is a great breakfast for active, energetic people. I've had it for years. Recommended it because it keeps your nerves healthy and aids digestion." Mrs. Hutchinson says. "I've given my family Quaker Oats every day. It's an active family Quaker Oats offers a wealth of nourishment and food energy. It contains also an abundance of precursors Vitamin B, the vitamin that braces up nerves and appetite.

interests of washed-out farmers in the river valley all but forgotten, as lawyers cleverly transformed the committee investigation into an electioneering campaign in behalf of bond issues in 15 or more towns and cities to build competing municipal electric generating or distributing plants. A. J. Wirtz general attorney to CRA and Everett Looney, attorney representing the City of Austin in the hearings, grabbed the headlines and effectively tied the hands of the private companies, by obtaining, through Attorney General William McCraw, an injunction forbidding the Texas Power & Light Co. and the Central Power & Light Co. from presenting their side of the controversy to the voters. An obscure district judge, Raymond Gray, of San Saba, issued a sweeping temporary order on an ex parte hearing, forbidding the power companies and their employees from in any manner presenting facts or arguments against the bond issues to the voters of affected towns. The method resembled that employed by the Hitler government in bringing a German election, where only a "yes" vote is desired or permitted. The elections will have been held by the time an appeals court can review the order of Judge Gray and rule upon its justice. Bond issues carried by sweeping majorities in Lampasas, Burnet, Marble Falls, Fredericksburg and Bastrop. In Goose Creek, however, voters turned down the proffered PWA grants, and rejected the bonds.

CARMICHAEL PASSES
Death last Saturday took from the ranks of State officials H. H. Carmichael, director of the Department of Public Service, and executive head of the splendid State police force which has been built up during the past two years, since the Rangers and the Highway patrol were combined. Col. Carmichael, a World War veteran with a distinguished service record, had been assistant state adjutant general several years prior to his appointment as safety director. He was quiet and efficient, and had done an excellent job of ironing out the difficulties which arose inevitably in merging the antiquated Ranger force. Homer Garrison, director of the Highway patrol will temporarily direct the state police pending appointment of Carmichael's successor.

ALRED WILL NOT QUIT
Gov. Alred has revealed that he will not resign as Governor to take his place on the Federal bench until his term expires, January 17. His previously considered plan to sign this month was abandoned under pressure from his friends, and from Mrs. Alred, who felt he should serve out his term. Alred considered resigning to go on the Federal bench when certain political forces threatened to oppose his confirmation as judge, in the belief the fact he was already serving would strengthen his claim to the judicial post. But following the issuance of a letter by Senator Tom Connally, declaring he would support Alred's confirmation, although he was not nominated by the junior Senator, Alred's friends advised him the opposition movement to his confirmation would get nowhere, and the Governor decided to remain in office until his term is out. He indicated no special session will be held. There was also some suggestion here that indictment of Dennis Alred by the Governor on charges of violating the Federal hot oil act, might have influenced the governor's decision. The case was tried in the Houston Federal court, to which Alred was appointed—and many here believed he wants it disposed of before he goes on the bench, even though the trial would be held by another judge.

PROTEST MEXICAN DUMPING
From the North Texas Oil & Gas Association to all U. S. Customs collectors in Texas, and to Treasury Secretary Morgenthau this week went a resolution of protest against imports of Mexican oil. The resolution points out that since the contract of the importing company with the Mexican government calls for importation of more than seven million barrels of oil at prices less than the market price of competing West Texas crude, the imports violate the Federal anti-dumping statute of 1921, which provides that when a U. S. industry is injured by importation of commodities at less than fair value, a special duty shall be levied. The Federal law provides customs appraisers shall notify the Secretary of the Treasury, when alleged dumping occurs, and withhold appraisal reports until the Secretary makes an investigation. The resolution points out that the Mexican oil, sold for 70 cents a barrel in Mexico, is worth substantially more and competes with West Texas crude selling for $1.20 at seaboard refineries.

AUSTIN NEWS NOTES
A movement to recommend W. D. McFarlane, defeated Congressman of the Wichita Falls district, to W. Lee O'Daniel as State Tax Commissioner, was reported in MORE MORE MORE.

Austin this week, but supporters of McFarlane were said to have encountered a counter-move in the O'Daniel camp to seek to abolish the office, and put the collection of franchise and pipeline taxes under direction of the State Comptroller, who collects most other taxes. Advocates of the plan say a considerable saving could be effected. Reports also so reached here that Edward Clark, Secretary of the State and former secretary to Gov. Alred might be reappointed by O'Daniel. Abe Mayer, of Atlanta, house member is said to be seeking support. Chief interest here centers in O'Daniel's election of a Highway Commissioner to succeed John Wood. Despite the fact the appointment logically would go to an East Texan, the most frequently heard name is R. L. Lucas, of Fort Worth, taker and director of the Good Road association. Candidate for Attorney General was endorsed by O'Daniel, so booming the lieutenant governor for the post. "Gen. Man, nominee for Attorney General, and Bascom Giles, former Commissioner, plan to take office immediately after they can after the November election, according to informed sources here. The earliest date they receive their election certificates would probably be December 1.

of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Manufacturing industries showing substantial increases in both employment and pay rolls over July, 1938, included men's work clothing, furniture manufacturing, saw mills, and cottonseed oil products.

Those showing slight increases both in employment and pay rolls over July were: Planing mill, newspaper publishing, petroleum refining, brick and tile, structural and ornamental iron. Three Texas industries—carbonated beverages, commercial printing, and newspaper publishing—showed increases in employment and pay rolls over August, 1937.

Interests of washed-out farmers in the river valley all but forgotten, as lawyers cleverly transformed the committee investigation into an electioneering campaign in behalf of bond issues in 15 or more towns and cities to build competing municipal electric generating or distributing plants. A. J. Wirtz general attorney for CRA and Everett Looney, attorney representing the City of Austin in the hearings, grabbed the headlines and effectively took the hands of the private companies, by obtaining, through Attorney General William McCraw, an injunction forbidding the Central Power & Light Co. and the Texas Power & Light Co. from presenting their side of the controversy to the voters. An obscure district judge, Raymond Gray, of San Saba, issued a sweeping temporary order on an ex parte hearing, forbidding the power companies and their employees from in any manner presenting facts or arguments against the bond issues to the voters of affected towns. The method resembled that employed by the Hitler government in holding a German election, where only a "yes" vote is desired and the permitted. The elections will have been held by the time an appeals court can review the order of Judge Gray and rule upon its justice. Bond issues carried by sweeping majorities in Lampasas, Burnet, Marble Falls, Fredericksburg and Bastrop. In Goose Creek, however, voters turned down the proffered PWA grants, and rejected the bonds.

CARMICHAEL PASSES
Death last Saturday took from the ranks of State officials H. H. Carmichael, director of the Department of Public Service, and executive head of the splendid power companies and their employees built up during the past two years, since the Rangers and the Highway patrol were combined. Col. Carmichael, a World War veteran with a distinguished police record, had been assistant state adjutant general several years prior to his appointment as justice. Bond issues carried by efficient, and had done an excellent job of ironing out the difficulties which arose inevitably in merging the modern highway patrol with the antiquated Ranger force. Homer Garrison, director of the Highway patrol will temporarily direct the state police pending appointment of Carmichael's successor.

ALLRED WILL NOT QUIT
Gov. Allred has revealed that he will not resign as Governor to take his place on the Federal bench until his term expires, January 17. His previously considered plan to resign this month was abandoned under pressure from his friends, and from Mrs. Allred, who felt he should serve out his term. Allred considered resigning to go on the Federal bench when certain political forces threatened to oppose his confirmation as judge. In the belief the fact was already serving would strengthen his claim to the judicial post. But following the issuance of a letter by Senator Tom Connally, declaring he would support Allred's confirmation, although he was not nominated by the junior Senator, Allred's friends advised him the opposition movement to his confirmation would get nowhere, and the Governor decided to remain in office until his term is out. He indicated to special session will be held. There was also some suggestion here that indictment of Rennie Allred, Jr., brother of Governor Allred, on charges of violating the Federal hot oil act, might have influenced the governor's decision. The case will be tried in the Houston Federal court — to which Allred was appointed — and many here believed he wants it disposed of before he goes on the bench, even though the trial would be held by another judge.

PROTEST MEXICAN DUMPING
From the North Texas Oil & Gas Association to all U. S. Customs collectors in Texas, and to Treasury Secretary Morgenthau this week went a resolution of protest against imports of Mexican oil. The resolution points out that since the contract of the importing company with the Mexican government calls for importation of more than seven million barrels a foot at prices less than the market price of competing West Texas crude, the imports violate the Federal anti-dumping statute of 1921, which provides that when a U. S. industry is injured by importation of commodities at less than fair value, a special dumping duty shall be levied. The Federal law provides customs appraisers shall notify the Secretary of the Treasury, when alleged dumping occurs, and withhold appraisals reports until the Secretary makes an investigation. The resolution points out that the Mexican oil, sold for 70 cents a barrel in Mexico, is worth substantially more and competes with West Texas crude selling for $1.20 at seaboard refineries.

AUSTIN NEWS NOTES
A movement to recommend W. D. McFarlane, defeated Congressman of the Wichita Falls district, to W. Lee O'Daniel as State Tax Commissioner, was reported in MORE MORE MORE.

Austin this week, but supporters of McFarlane were said to have encountered a counter-move in to go to an East Texas, the most frequently heard name, R. L. Lucas, of Fort Worth, drafter and director of the State Comptroller, who collects most other taxes. Advocates of the plan say a considerable saving could be effected. Reports also reached here that Edward Clark, Secretary of the State and former secretary to Gov. Allred might be reappointed by O'Daniel. Abe Mayes, of Atlanta, house member is said to be seeking the post, as "original O'Daniel supporter." Chief interest here centers in O'Daniel's selection of a Highway Commissioner to succeed John Wood.
