LABOR LAW: 'Trouble, Trouble'

In the field of liberal-or, as some would term it, even "left wing"-Republicanism, the GOP's Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon was conceding nothing to no man.

THE SENATOR was vocally and vociferously hurt. the Taft-Hartley law by "big business" was giving the senator no rest and he meant to let everyone know about it.

With little originality but much vigor, the senator was crying that the attitude of many defenders of the Taft-Hartley law was a "Judas betrayal of the capitalistic system.

IN A SUDDEN onslaught against many of the business men who have appeared before the committee in defense of the measure, the senator declared their attitude is "shocking ... selfish ... class-conscious ... un-Christian."

In contrast, he praised Senator Taft (R., Ohio) whose name the law bears, for his "fair-minded objectivity" in considering testimony on the "shortcomings" of the act.

Morse declared he and Taft are growing among congressional observers that with every day of delay on legislative consideration of Taft-Hartley law repeal, there increased the probability of labor's failing to get as many of the law provisions outlawed as they might hope to do. A major battle was shaping up on the proposal, with many legislators evidencing a dawning conviction that perhaps it would not be wise to scrap the Taft-Hartley law in its entirety and replace it with some version of the Wagner act.

JOBLESS: 3 Million Out

At present count the number of jobless in the United States stood at three million.

However, according to the experts, there was no cause for immediate concern. Commissioner Ewan Clague of the federal bureau of labor said the time to become alarmed would be when the unemployed total reached five million and stayed there.

Would it reach five million? THAT WAS A POINT on which the experts disagreed.

Those who were loudest in pointing to the possibility of a depression pointed out that in just three months the jobless total had jumped from 1.8 million to the present three million That was a rate of acceleration which, they claimed should cause everyone to be

THE SPRAY was described as being potent enough to knock out whole divisions of men in exposed positions.

A dime-sized spot, unless wiped off quickly, would kill a man in two It would penetrate ordi nary clothing and some types of gas masks.

North, South Fought Hard Over President Buchanan

By BAUKHAGE

News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON -Democratic harmony, so far as the Dixiecrat revolt is concerned, remains an uncertain quantity. Democrats, basically, are still Democrats, but there will always be certain fundamental differences between North and South which existed even before slavery and secession became issues.

Beyond that, however, recent clashes with the Dixiecrats are largely only a levelling off process and probably nothing a sensible compromise

People outside of Washington are often surprised that differences still arise between North and South over ancient matters which most of the country has forgotten. The country has also forgotten that it was here that the earliest outbreaks of sectional feeling took place As early as 1848,

House 34 years before. Nine years later a band of armed ruffians from Baltimore entered the city bent on helping the "Know Nothing" candidates in the local election. (We had local elections then.) The marines had to be called out: six men were killed and twice as many wounded.

The tide continued to rise and no President, from Tyler to Buchanan, could or would do anything about it. It was an open secret that Buchanan's sympathies were largely south of the Mason-Dixon line. Historians agree that he learned in advance the decision in the famous Dred Scott slavery case which was one of the last of the explosions which started the Civil War. Today supreme court secrets are kept secret. But Buchanan knew the court had ruled that Dred Scott was not a citizen under the meaning of the Constitution, and could not be made a citizen; further that the Constitution affirmed a property right in slaves, and such slave property was protected by the "due process of law" clause

Buchanan realized what the effect of this decision would be. piously advised the country to accept the verdict, no matter what it was.

Later when southern sentiment grew in the capital, Buchanan did try to organize a militia, but congress would have none of it. The regular army troops in the city were known to be of doubtful loyalty. The militia, much larger on paper, could muster only 150 Meanwhile the southern group, the Militant Jackson Democratic association, was drilling 800

Finally the militia managed to get a thousand men under arms. But feeling ran high, and on Washington's birthday following the election of Abraham Lincoln by the electoral college but before his inauguration, the militia paraded. Ex-President Tyler, a Virginian, went to Buchanan and protested the fact that they had been allowed to display the Stars and Stripes, and Buchanan is said to have apologized.

Most people have forgotten the northern animosity toward Buchanan, but it was to crop up again in my time when it was the subject of one of those asidulous debates for which Sen. Cabot Lodge war notorious. Many Presidents are memorialized in stone in Washington, but not all, and in Lodge's time, Buchanan was one who was became Mrs. Harriett Lane Johnston, lived to an affluent old age and when she died, left the sum of $50,000 (which bought a lot more marble and bronze then than it would now) for the erection of a statue of her uncle.

The donation of a site required the approval of congress. This donation was cheap, considering that, unlike similar tributes to the nation's hero, all expenses were provided, Congress was willing enough, but not that stalwart yankee, Lodge, who lived perhaps nearer to the age of Buchanan to his own genera-

He chose to dig up all the unsavory memories his scholarly brain could muster to block the donation of the site. Naturally hot southern blood grew hotter, and what some of Mr. Lodge's opponents lacked in data, hey more than made up in oratory. The motion was passed, but not until tempers had been thoroughly ruffled. The site chosen for the statue was not conspicuous. In fact, I had never seen it until it was brought to my attention by a gentleman fully conversant with the details of the dispute and likewise familiar with every nook and cranny of the capital city. I asked him to show me the statue. He said he knew where it was. In Meridian Park. But just before we arrived at the scene, he paused and said: "It ought to be

It was there-in an inconspicuous spot, a huge bronze statue, of good workmanship, backed by a wide exedra which is defined as "a seat with a high back"-but this would seat several squads of infantry.

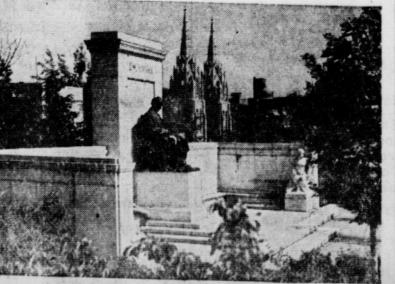

It is a huge piece of stonework flanked by two symbolic figures in classic style, one representing diplomacy, in which Buchanan was skilled (he had served well as minister to Great Britain) and one representing the law in which, if we may judge by his breach of ethics in connection with the preme court decision, he was not of equal stature. Perhaps his niece was sensitive on this point for she specified the inscription-the only words on the statue beside the dates of his term and the single word 'Buchanan''-It reads:-

"The incomparable statesman whose walk was upon the mountain ranges of the law." (Although it isn't indicated, it was Buchanan's own attorney-general who said that.

There is a certain ironic touch in the fact that Buchanan's memory had to be perpetuated in stone by family subsidy, for from 1820 to 1830 he was one of the few members of congress who pursued the futile attempt to get congress to approve a suitable memorial in the capitol to George Washington.

Efforts in this direction either were circumvented or ignored until 1831, the centenary of Washington's birth. At that time, the public was so aroused over the indifference of congress that George Watterson, then librarian of congress, formed an association which raised the money for the Washington monument which was-eventually-completed on the spot originally chosen for a statute of Washington by Major L'Enfant who drew the plans for the city.

The President said recently he didn't depend on opinion polls un-

Bikini Test Probe

SECRETARY of Defense Forres. tal and the navy are moving frantically to hush it up but a fullfledged congressional investigation of the effects of the Bikini bomb tests is in the offing. In fact, Sen. Brien McMahon, chairman of the atomic energy committee, may anESQU nounce it any day. Senators say privately that they are fed up with the hush-hush policy of the brass hats. While the senate committee is 100 per cent in favor of keeping secret all atomic information of possible value to an enemy, they do not believe either the U.S. congress or the American people are an enemy. Also, committee members feel the brass hats are deliberately suppressing considerable information about the effectiveness of the bomb to cover up mistakes they have made in failing to redesign or abolish warships. One interesting fact now in the hands of the senate committee is part of the inside story of Bikini. It shows that of the 73 ships involved in the Bikini tests, more than 61 were sunk or destroyed. This is an enormous loss from only two bombs. Yet it was never released in understandable form to the American public. On the contrary, news releases were carefully spread out over a period of time so that the man in the street never really knew what happened.

What Bombs Did The real fact, however, is that two bombs at Bikini sank the Battleship Arkansas, the carrier Saratoga, the Japanese battleship Nagato, two cruisers, 10 destroyers, three submarines, 12 transports and numerous other vessels. The aircraft carrier Independence, which was subjected to intense blasts from both Bikini bombs, is now anchored off San Francisco, permanently destroyed-usable only as a testing ground to determine the possibility of removing radioactivity. This is still dangerous two years after the ship was attacked. Members of the senate atomic energy committee point out that the loss of so many ships from one bomb would be considered a major naval disaster at any time, yet, because the public is not aware of the potency of the bomb, our "bathtub" admirals are busily pouring another 14 million dollars down the drain on a 56,000-ton supercarrier which could be put out of action permanently if a bomb were dropped within half a mile

Problem "Insolvable"

Information brought to the senate committee's attention by Dr. David Bradley, a scientist who was an official observer at Bikini, reveals that, after the tests, the navy tried frantically to remove radioactivity from damaged ships but without success. Bradley reported that "salt water, lye, foamite, soap. all spread with liberal amounts of gob profanity, had no avail in removing the radioactivity.'

Sandblasting was partly effective, but you can't sandblast a whole ship under battle conditions. Nor can you sandblast Pearl Harbor or the Bremerton shipyards or Chicago. Possibly, with great quantities of strong acid, you might be able to remove enough paint to clear the decks of fission products. But short of that, the coat of radioactivity administered by the A-bomb is on to stay. Bradley concluded that, "The problem of decontaminating the total service of a battle ship or the brick and cement of a future Hiroshima remains practically insolv-

Plutonium is the most dangerous atomic element of all. It lodges in the bones, destroys the bloodproducing marrow and may kill either by wrecking the red and white blood cells of the victim or it may kill the victim many years later through the formation of bone tumors. Plutonium cannot be removed by any known process.

None of this information is secret. All of it is known to many of the doctors of all nations. Yet Secretary Forrestal, who this year is building more than 400 million dollars worth of new ships, hasn't paid much attention to the problem. This is the inside reason why the atomic energy committee is now seriously planning a fulldress investigation of Bikini and its results.

Most important document the scientists are urging the atomic energy committee to break loose is the nonsecret sections of the report of the evaluation board of the joint chiefs of staff on the Bikini tests which defense secretary Forrestal has bottled up. The report concludes with the significant statement that "Future wars employing atomic bombs may well destroy nations and change present stand-ards of civilization." WEEKLY STORY

Gloucester . . .

"down to the sea in ships"

For three centuries-ever since the dawn era of the New World in 1628-the durable fishermen of this picturesque New England city have sailed the chill Atlantic as far as Iceland, culling its depths with their nets for the fish upon which they depend for their lives and livelihood.

Gloucester remembers its men who have died in the waters of the Atlantic.

The statue of a helmsman gripping the wheel and straining into the gale has inscribed on its base the simple and unadorned phrase: "They that go down to the sea in ships."

It is the business of the men who sail the fishing fleet out of Gloucester to harvest the sea for such fish as haddock, halibut, cod and mackerel. Fishermen aboard the Lizza C. Riggs free fish caught in the nets (left above), and on the way into Gloucester port they keep busy cleaning their catch.

The bleak line of stone jutting forbiddingly into the sea and terminating in a lighthouse near East Gloucester serves as a breakwater. This and other pictures are from the American Educator Encyclopedia.

As fishermen on the Lizza C. Riggs start to clean their catch, gulls gather around the ship, scooping up useless entrails that are thrown into the sea.

Gloucester is picturesque in the true sense of the word. Fishing is its life and most honorable occupation, passed down through succeeding generations. Long a haven for artists and summer vacationers, the old streets and wharves of Gloucester mirror a long seafaring history.

Omen of Better Days!

The five-cent cigar is reported It is creeping into the cigar cases of America again, and few things have made the country feel better. The nickel stogie stands as an embiem of a smoother-going life, uncomplicated by almost known type of worry. It marks an era when men trusted one another, hated nobody to speak of, and never tossed all night, harassed by thoughts of taxes, assessments. new bites, etc.

The five-cent cheroot marked an age when you could know nothing about economics and still not be considered a hillbilly . . . a time when "index" was generally thought to be a mountain goat and when a 'spiral" was widely accepted as some type of tropical fish.

When the five-cent straight smoke reigned supreme the only tax a man ever had to pay was a $2-a-year poll tax, unless he owned property. Anybody who talked of income taxes was laughed off as a radical, a nut or both. The word "questionnaire" hadn't come into our language, tax forms were for landlords only. America was safe from invasion, Mart Badger was selling shoes for $2 a pair, you could get a tailor-made suit for $30 (silk lined) and you could take the family to dinner for what it now costs to get a shrimp cocktail.

You can't think of the nickel stogie without recalling the days when only the village bum sneered at thrift, when hard work wasn't jeered at and when a fellow wasn't scuttling the labor movement if he went back to the office and did some nightwork.

It was a time when a fellow could meet his grocery bill without outside financing, argue for horse sense in government, hold out anywhere for honest bookkeeping, advocate operation of government on a business basis and even denounce trick budget-balancing without fear of reprisals

In the day of the nickel cigars a spendthrift got no applause except in a saloon. Everybody thought economy was a good idea. A man always had some idea where he stood financially at any hour. Only gypsies lived in tents If a man had the wisdom and frugality to save up enough money to provide for his family after he kicked the bucket, he could determine without consulting a staff of legal experts whether they would get more than $4 of his estate

All life was sweeter when most of the cigars in the showcases were five-centers and a 10-cent one was regarded as something of an extravagance. People let their major worries center on the common cold, the weather for Sunday's picnic, dandruff, slippery sidewalks and how many quarts of soup could be made from a soup-bunch.

We toss a lid into the air at the five-cent smoke's return. And we feel better now about China, the Russian war danger. President Truman's policies, the crisis in South Africa and the world mess generally. Gotta match, bud?

No-knead rolls and bread are light and delicious. They do not have quite as fine a texture as breads which have been kneaded, but this is a small matter, especially when you can have fragrant yeast rolls

The recipes for quick rolls of this type are quite different from others you've used. Less flour is used and the dough is soft. The directions given in this column have been carefully tested, so be sure to follow them closely, and you'll have amazing success.

FOR THIS SEASON of the year one recipe which you'll want to use often, is that for hot cross buns.

Hot Cross Buns

(Makes 18) 1 eup sealded milk cup shortening tablespoon sugar teaspoons salt l package yeast, compressed or dry granular legg 3 cups sifted, all-purpose flour 1/2 cup raisins 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon

Combine milk, shortening, sugar and salt. When lukewarm, add yeast and mix thoroughly. Blend in egg, then add gradually the flour with raisins and cinnamon and mix until well-blended and soft. Place in a greased bowl and cover. Place dough in refrigerator until needed, or allow to rest for 10 minutes before shaping. Form dough into buns > and place on greased baking sheet. Let rise in a warm place (80° to 85°) until light, about 45 minutes. In the meantime, combine one wellbeaten egg white with two tablespoons of cold water and brush the tops of the buns with the mixture just before baking. Slash a deep cross on top of each bun with a sharp knife, after they have risen. Bake in a hot (425°) oven for 20

Combine four teaspoons of milk with one cup sifted confectioners' sugar and one-fourth teaspoon vanilla. Drip this mixture over the buns filling the crosses, while the rolls are still hot

Omit the raisins and cinnamon from the above recipe and use it for caramel rolls, as follows:

God's Signature

Lesson for March 13, 1949

TN A STRANGE city you may suddenly need to be identified. Some suspicious clerk wants to know if your signature is genuine. It is a fair challenge, for too many liars are in circulation. Jesus himself had to furnish identification. No less a person than his old friend John the Baptizer had grown uneasy. "Are you the one we are looking for," he inquired, "or shall we Dr. Foreman look for someone else?" Jesus' answer to John was not to discuss the theology of the Incarnation, or anything of that sort. He just went about his usual day's work.

In the course of that day he cured a good many sick people, and preached to some very poor people. 'Now go back," he said, "go back and tell John what you have seen and heard." What those men saw that day was what Jesus at another time called the "finger of God," the genuine divine signature.

Jesus wrote no book, no letters even; he wrote in action, and his acts were the handwriting of God. It is important to see where Jesus underscored that writing. It is true, his healings were what we call miracles. But Jesus did not even mention that feature.

What he asked John to notice was simply this: the blind see, the lame walk; lepers are cured, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, and (as a climax!) the poor hear good news. The signature of God, in short, is not sheer power; it is using what power one has, to help people in

Not By Bread Alone

THE EXPRESSION, "needy people," nowadays suggests people who haven't enough to eat or wear. Jesus helped such persons; but he knew well that men's needs go be-yond well-cared-for bodies. There was the poor man from the graveyard, for example,-he was happy enough. He didn't want clothes, and he was strong enough to steal all the food he could eat. All he wanted, in fact, was to be let alone. But Jesus knew that what he needed above all was a sane mind, a mind no longer run over and trampled by a regiment of devils.

When Jesus got through with him he was clothed, but that was not the best part of it. He was in his right mind. So God's signature is not only written in a sound body, it is in the sound mind. Again, at Jericho when Jesus invited himself to dinner with the pint-sized tycoon Zacchaeus, Jesus did not go just for the meal. He went because he knew that Zacchaeus needed something. Jericho needed something, too, something only Zacchaeus could

We do know that after dinner Zacchaeus was a changed man. He was going to give back every dishonest penny, with interest; and since he could not locate every one he had cheated, he was going to give away half of his holdings for the benefit of the poor.

What Jericho needed was a new administration, any honest one; they needed slum clearance; and Zacchaeus was going to give it to them. But first of all Zacchaeus had needed a new heart-and Jesus gave him that.

ALL AROUND us is a troubled world. Some men, seeing it, infer there is no God. Others conclude that if there is one, he must be bad or weak. The truth is that the signature of God is not to be found in the evil and the confusion of the world. It is to be seen wherever freedom is standing against slavery, wherever truth is pushing back ignorance, where diseased bodies are being healed, where sanity replaces madness.

More people would believe in God if they could see more of the handwriting of God. Do you want to help?

We cannot always do things as simply as Jesus did. Curing the diseased is not for us a simple matter of saying, Be well. A Christian woman, distressed by what she had learned of the plight of the insane in her backward state, was asking the head of the state hospital (himself a church officer), "What can we Christians do?" "Get behind the legislature," he said.

Cafeteria Service Down on the Farm

Using his "calf bar," Art Schmidt of Luverne, S. L., can feed 100 calves in 40 minutes. The device consists of a nipple, attached to a rubber tube which is dropped into a two quart glass jar.

The "bar" feeds eight calves at a time; when the jars are empty, the calves which emptied them are put in a separate pen and eight more "customers" are turned in.

When calves are slow in "catching on" they receive preliminary training with a nipple pail-a bucket with a large rubber nipple protrucing from its side, from which they quickly learn to suck.

To Relieve Your Cough, Mix This Recipe, at Home

You'll be surprised how quickly and easily you can relieve coughs due to colds, when you try this splendid recipe. It gives you about four times as much cough medicine for your money, and you'll find it truly wonderful.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed—it's no trouble at all. (Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.)
Then put 2½ ounces of Pinex (obtained from any druggist) into a pint bottle, and fill up with your syrup.
This makes a full pint of medicine that will please you by its quick action. It never spoils and tastes fine. This simple mixture takes right hold of a cough. For real results, you've never seen anything better. It loosens

TO RELIEVE MISERY OF

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE

Documents pertaining to work of the Nationalist government (below) were carefully burned to keep them out of the hands of the onrushing Com-

Trapped between the Nationalist troops, entering the city for a last defensive fight, and the rapidly advancing Communist forces, the citizens of Nanking created scenes of indescribable confusion as they attempted to leave the city and carry their household belongings out of the reach of possible shell damage. China, sacked, burned and despoiled countless times throughout its history, again was falling before a new invader.

Letter to Telegram Senders Ladies and Gents:

What is the sense in protesting against the use of a blackjack when at the same time you are pounding yourself on the head with six feet of lead pipe? Deluging state legis-latures and the national congress with wires demanding that something be done about mock trials in the Kremlin pattern is all very well, but what about us all personally doing a little less cheering, hat tossing and voting here on home grounds for candidates for city, state, and national office who are known to be so far to the left that a slight breeze could send them over-to the Moscow line? Huh?

. Is there anything screwier than expressing indignation over the Cardinal Mindszenty outrage, with its threat to religion everywhere on earth under communism, and then taking it one the double to the polls to vote into office leaders who are not wholeheartedly for the American way?

Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty, not eternal telegrams. Americans must wage this fight at the polls not at the Western Union offices, Ballots, not wires or postcards are Uncle Sam's first line of defense if he is really indignant over that Hungary trial and wants to make sure that no court routines of that type ever come to America.

If I were a congressman I would answer all wires with a terse, "Regived your telegram urging me something. Fine idea. What are you doing besides sending wires? Are you by any chance among those millions of easilyfooled folks who by word, deed or vote make the way easy for the Communist routine in America? Don't answer too fast. Sit down and give your conscience a good check-

This country's Number One Loons are the boys and gals who think they can stop the "reds" and "pinkos" by Western Union instead of by an all-out determination never to support for any office (government, labor union or chowder club) any candidate who has a smile for the Kremlin way. All Russia laugh up its sleeve at that kind of hypocrisy. They love it and count on it. And they have been getting it from plenty of telegram senders.

You can't stop by wire an evil which you are not trying to stop by your own love of country and mental alertness. It makes no sense.

I don't mean to lay off telegrams of protest against persecutions of the church and defiance of all the rules of human justice. They help. But you're just performing in a squirrel cage if you rush off a wire of indignation in the morning and dash off in the afternoon to vote into office some crumb you know very well is the type who might play footsie with Pal Joey.

There is no percentage in yelling for the eradication of rats and at the same time voting for looser storage of sharp cheese.

Bathtub Fairly Recent Innovation in America

Although many Americans consider the daily bath essential to good health, most of their predecessors of a century ago never saw. much less bathed in, a bathtub in the home. For pre-Civil War Americans, bathing was a luxury indulged in a hut alongside the home. The White House got its first bathtub during Lincoln's term. The first all-iron tub was installed in New York City in 1870.

Look at the Label

A lot of persons, who like to think that they think, are bandying about a couple of terms that mean less than a whole lot to a whole lot of people. I refer to the terms: "lib-eral" and "reactionary." May I put in my two cents worth in hopes that you may know these modern labels better?

What I mean is that armchair commentators and soapbox spellbinders throw these terms at you, without any apology. Sure, you can get their meaning, whether they are for it or against it, by the way their lips are curled and their epithets hurled. But that's not enough. We need to know what the labels mean. A man can't think straight unless he can know his ideas as he picks them up.

The Real Test Jesus said of false teachers: "By their fruits ye shall know them." That is still the best way to size up a man and his idea. It is even possible to put that test to labels. That way, a man cannot call himself one thing and be another. The word liberalism comes, from the same basic word that gave us the term liberty. The ancestors of this label, therefore, are of the best blood. The term has the finest possible background, for it implies all sorts of freedoms and puts strong stress upon human liberty. Then how is it that those who claim liberalism as their doctrine are found waving the banner for the very worst enemies of all liberty? State Supreme

We Americans declare that we hold sacred the right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. We have said that man is to be as free as possible, while also being responsible. The nation's founding fathers clearly insisted that government must be set up to serve man, and not man to serve the govern ment.

But here and now we have the sorry mess of the liberals today wanting to change all this. They propose to improve this arrangement by "planning" us into either a socialist or a communist or a fascist' society in which all signs of human freedoms must certainly vanish. These planners and plotters would have the society (government or state) to be supreme in all things. Even God they would replace by the State.
A New Serfdom

What need would we then have to guarantee personal rights and freedoms, if the state is to assume all the responsibility for every-body? No need, at all, if the State is supreme. These liberals (I am now applying the label test to their works) care nothing for the Constitution. They are all totalitarians at heart. Their aim is political power to suppress the personal liberty that belongs to the individual. Here we have the strange spectacle of dangerous "liberals."

What else is the explanation, when those who love to call themselves liberals denounce as "reactionary" anybody who distrusts the police state and would halt the trend to totalitarianism? A "reactionary, strictly speaking, is one who objects to progress and desires to turn back the clock. We must conclude then, that the real reactionaries of today are those liberals who would return us to the slavery of the State. They would make the coming century a new Dark Age.

America's Greatest Resource

When you enter the gates of our huge factories and industrial plants, do you see what is really there? Whenever I go inside factory gates, the wonder of it all amazes me. Where did all the equipment come from? By what magic was all of it lot of static on your radio, try re assembled into such a gigantic unit for production? Somebody had to pay for all of it. Do you suppose was a capitalist?

Nobody's Orders Yes, capitalists did the deed. It is interesting that they keep doing that type of thing, all along. They keep building steel mills and putting up new oil refineries. New assembly lines are continually set up, and old ones improved. Plant expansions are undertaken. Mod-ern tools are installed to replace worn ones. And one of the most amazing things about it is that no-body has to tell them to do it!

No dictator commands that all this money be spent. No government bureau has to send out a directive. It's all just part of the system that is the mainspring of America. This system of free and individual enterprise has made pos-sible the building of our nation. Whenever the incentive of profit or reward is there, both men and money will be put to work. Capital comes to the job in hope of a reward, just as a man expects a pay-check as the result of his labor. Money and men work side by side,

Profits Make Jobs

These things are so common under the enterprise system as we know it in America, that most of us take them for granted. Yet, these capitalists (sometimes attacked so bitterly by unthinking persons) constantly supply the essential ingredient that makes jobs and produces Actually, the six or seven cents profit out of each sales dollar, which is typical of industry as a whole, does a tremendous job for you and for me. It pays for all the machines that, in turn, do most of the work.

This makes it possible for 60 cents or more of this same sales dollar to be given to those who supply the human energy, the workmen. Some three cents, or only about half of this small profit, is used on the average to pay investors for the use of capital that brought these industries into being

Incentives for Each
The other three cents or so of the profit goes back into the business. This portion of profit is used to pay for worn-out equipment and other replacements, and to keep up with rising costs and increased taxes. Today, that part of the sales dollar called profit is hardly ever enough to meet industry's real and urgent needs. In late years our industry has had to borrow more and more to meet rising inventory and equipment costs.
