Notice, Please

TO THE PEOPLE OF LYNN CO:

We are now engaged in a big road building program in Lynn County at great cost to our taxpayers. We have engineers busily engaged making surveys and staking these roads and preparing plans and specifications. On these stakes that are set in valuable information to the engineers and contractors, which they MUST HAVE and the roads CANNOT BE BUILT WITHOUT THESE STAKES. Unfortunately by a number of people are unthoughtfully plowing up or otherwise destroying these stakes. In some instances the engineers have been compelled to go back and reset these stakes for the THIRD TIME.

It is costing the County and the engineers approximately 50 cents per stake to set them. There are about 118 stakes per mile on the roads surveyed which cost $55 per mile to set, and in some instances, where stakes have been destroyed and reset for the third time, this alone is costing $165.00 per mile. So great has been the destruction and plowing up of stakes that, if it continues, will badly handicap the work and add so much to the cost of construction per mile as to hazard the whole road building program.

You good people want the work to continue and the roads built, but unless there is better co-operation on the part of those who farm the lands along the roads under survey or construction, it is going to be impossible to do the job as planned. We know that you would not maliciously or purposely cause such destruction, but it injures and handicaps us just as much to plow up or destroy these stakes unthoughtfully as it would if purposely done.

These stakes are set for the right of way line. They are all that the contractors and engineers have to go by when removed, plowed up or otherwise destroyed, it is necessary to pull men off of other jobs, re-survey and reset them. We are trying hard and conscientiously to do you a good job. PLEASE, PLEASE, EVERYONE, co-operate with us in every way possible to the end that we may do the best job possible at the lowest cost to all. This is an urgent appeal which we hope all will heed. Thanks!

METHODIST CHURCH

From the report of the superintendent, Mr. Eddie Hill, the Church School of the Methodist church for the three months, April 28 to July 25th, made a record average attendance. This is the highest point that has been reached in years. We are not "bragging" about it but are simply saying it to give recognition to the faithfulness and efficiency of our church school staff, and members of the various departments. This report shows that this is not a dying institution, but a living and a growing one. The attendance upon the worship services of the church, morning and evening, has maintained a high average. This is said to the credit of the loyalty and fidelity of the members and friends of the Methodist Church, Sunday, August 11th, next Sunday, there will be services at the local Methodist church, morning at eleven and evening at eight. The pastor will preach at both services. All who will come this way, will find a hearty welcome. Edward H. Crandall, pastor.

The gym will be on the site of the present football field and the site of the new field has not been decided as of yet.

Stolen Car Recoved

In response to a stolen car broadcast, Sheriff Sam Floyd received a wire Tuesday from a town in Alabama saying they were holding a Dewey Combs for questioning by Lynn County authorities on a possible charge of theft of a 1939 Ford Coupe from Herman Lawhorn of O'Donnell.

Mr. Lawhorn is employed by the Shorty Wilson garage and he lives at a local hotel. On the site of the 29th Mr Lawhorn left his car in the yard of the hotel with the key in the ignition lock. At about midnight the car was driven away. Combs was also a guest at the hotel the same night.

Sheriff Floyd was planning to leave for Alabama immediately.

Six Giant Pumps Will Aid Coulee

Plan to Water 400,000 Acres Of Dry-Farmed Land And Sagebrush.

GRAND COULEE, WASH.—Six water pumps—most powerful and largest ever built—are planned to be installed to pour out a life-giving stream over 400,000 acres of sagebrush and dry-farmed land in south central Washington.

As work is rushed on Grand Coulee dam's irrigation system, two California firms have begun manufacture of the pumps, a job they bid on jointly. Costing $1,062,975, the giants will be built by the Pelton Water Wheel company of San Francisco and the Byron Jackson Pump company of Los Angeles.

They'll be driven by 65,000-horsepower electric motors, Commissioner of Reclamation Michael W. Straus said. Each pump will be capable of lifting 12,000 gallons of water per second to the height of 270 feet.

Co-operated in Design.

In designing pumps of such unprecedented size, the bureau had the help of the California Institute of Technology at Pasadena. Its engineers worked with those of the bureau at Denver in conducting the scientific research, experimentation and laboratory tests required in perfecting the designs.

The six pumps, forming a battery, will be installed in a plant built on a rock shelf of the canyon wall, upstream from the dam. Each pump, with its motor installation, will be approximately 50 feet high. Ten of them operating simultaneously for 18 minutes could pump the equivalent of a gallon of water for every man, woman and child in the United States.

The first two pumps are scheduled for delivery early in 1948, and the remaining four later that year. Because no pumps approaching the size of the Grand Coulee equipment have ever been constructed, the manufacturers will build a reduced-scale model which will undergo extensive hydraulic tests. Performance of the model as indicated in the tests will be used as a basis for approval of the pump designs.

War Halted Work.

The pumps will be an integral part of the water distribution system for the Columbia basin project now being developed by the bureau of reclamation to harness the Pacific Northwest's mightiest river for irrigation, power production and flood control.

A million acres of arid land will be irrigated with water stored in the 150-mile-long reservoir of the dam when the project is completed. Work on the irrigation system was stopped by the war, but the bureau now has launched an expanded construction program aimed at providing facilities for the irrigation of the 400,000 acres by 1950 or 1951.

British to Train Young Women Police Careers

LONDON.—Since there is no Sherlock Holmes around to clear up current crime mysteries, English police authorities have resorted to new methods in an effort to check the postwar crime wave.

One method calls upon attractive young women to train in the Criminal Investigation department college for employment as qualified "plain clothes" detectives, sniffing out crime in the English provinces. "Plain clothes" is a deceptive term, since these female crime-chasers, who receive the same pay as police women, will get a special clothing allowance, with coupons.

Twenty-one English girls already have entered the C. I. D. college, with dozens to follow. Before entering the college, the future girl detectives must serve an apprenticeship as a uniformed "flatfoot," helping old ladies cross roads and protecting school children.

Various Disasters Hit

185 Japanese Workers

At least 7 were killed and 93 injured by an explosion of 2,000 pounds of dynamite at a mine cable terminal of the Chugai Mining company near Nagano.

Kyodo News agency said 44 persons were missing after an explosion in a pit at the Tagawa coal mine in Kawasaki, on Kyushu.

Westinghouse Boosts Its Output of Appliances

NEW YORK.—Westinghouse Electric corporation has attained about 50 per cent of its prewar production rate on refrigerators and is exceeding its former output of electric irons and roasters, Gwilym A. Price, president, said recently.

Riffraff of Many Countries Finding Their Way In.

MIAMI, FLA.—Thousands of aliens have poured into this country illegally since close of the war. They still are pouring in at the rate of 2,000 a day.

This is the estimate of United States Attorney General Clark, who said in a statement that of the 60,000 who entered this country unlawfully in a month 30,000 were arrested by the immigration and naturalization services, better known as the border patrol.

The aliens picked up in the last six months, either unlawfully in this country or attempting to enter, included criminals, stowaways, smuggled aliens and the riffraff of many nations.

In the Southeast, with its long coastline and proximity to islands of the Caribbean, the number of aliens arrested has jumped 800 per cent in recent years.

Deserting seamen of every nationality form the largest group of illegal entrants in the southeastern states. Large numbers of aliens of many nationalities also ship in from Mexico. Agricultural workers, brought into the country by the war man power commission, who desert their jobs form another large group.

In 1938, the border patrol apprehended 803 aliens in the Atlanta district, which includes eight southeastern states. In the last six months the number totaled 3,138. If the present trend continues, more than 6,000 will be picked up in this district alone this year.

The border patrol has increased its staff in the Southeast from 50 agents in 1938 to 110 now.

These men patrol 60,000 miles a month in the area between the eastern boundary of Louisiana and the northern boundary of South Carolina. This area ranks next to the Mexican border in the number of aliens arrested.

Find Uranium Ore in Krupp Plant Ruins

ESSEN, GERMANY.—British military government authorities disclosed that three-quarters of a ton of uranium ore, an ingredient of the atomic bomb, had been discovered in the devastated Krupp munitions works here.

These officials expressed the opinion that the Krupp firm used uranium oxide experimentally to produce a special hard steel for warheads on projectiles. The ore, found in a shed which was blasted by heavy bombs, has been shipped to England. Its retention in Germany is forbidden under the Potsdam agreement.

Still Less Food for 12 Months, Anderson Says

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Americans are in for a slimmer diet during the next 12 months compared with amounts they ate in the past year.

Taking into account present production prospects and military and foreign demands, Anderson said there will be less meat, poultry and eggs, wheat products, dried fruits and dry peas, but more canned fruits and juices and more canned vegetables and vegetable juices. The supply of food fats and oils—now far short of demand—is expected to be about the same.

The secretary looked only six months ahead in forecasting supplies of dairy products. He predicted a very short supply of butter, and about the same amounts of cheese, canned milk and dried milk as were available in the same period last year.

Death of Famous Flier Is Blamed on Rift

LAS VEGAS, NEV.—Alex Papan, 40, renowned flier and former personal pilot to King Carol of Romania, apparently died a suicide because of his wife's divorce plans, Clark county authorities said.

Search for Papan started when his coupe, containing a note addressed to "Jean," was found parked on the Las Vegas-Las Angeles highway. The body was found about three miles from the car.

Officers learned "Jean" was Jean Hacker, whom Papan married here last March 30. Deputies said Mrs. Papan was staying at a local hotel to establish residence for a divorce.

Boy's Bike Stolen From Police Station Garage

EVANSTON, ILL.—Dick Cohen, 10 years old, whose father is on the police force, figured the police station would be the safest place to park his bike while he took in a movie. When he got back from the show, he took a quick look in the station garage, then yelled: "Somebody swiped my bike!"

MISSIONARY GETS POST

WASHINGTON.—Here's the inside story on the sudden appointment of John Leighton Stuart as new American ambassador to China.

Originally, President Truman planned to appoint Lt. Gen. Al Wedemeyer as ambassador to China. As a matter of fact, Wedemeyer's nomination already had been typed and was on the President's desk. However, last week General Marshall sent Truman an urgent cable advising that he finally had found one man who could act as ambassador and who was on good terms with both the Communists and the Chiang Kai-shek group. Marshall also pointed out that Stuart had lived in China for 50 years and spoke fluent Chinese.

So, 24 hours later, President Truman nominated J. Leighton Stuart to be American ambassador to China.

ARGENTINE ATOM BOMBS

The fascist Argentine government has completed elaborate plans for going into the atomic-bomb business on a scale parallel to that of the U. S.

The Argentine Scientific association has proposed and received approval of the Argentine war and navy departments to finance importation and operations of the best nuclear physicists in the world, including German refugees.

The Argentine government is guaranteeing these scientists unlimited funds, complete scientific liberty and absolute personal security from police terror. The head of one important Argentine scientific group informed the Peron government that Nazi scientists are doing well but still are not operating rapidly enough to satisfy the Argentines.

ATOMIC RAT RACE

U. S. atomic delegate Bernie Baruch has confided to friends that he is much opposed to having chairmanship of the atomic commission rotate each month. This means that Australian Foreign Minister Herbert Evatt, United Nations dynamo, now steps down as chairman.

The Australian is about the only member of the atomic commission who has Soviet Envoy Gromyko afraid of him. The other day Gromyko opposed a decision by majority rule, proposing a two-thirds vote instead. Evatt was on the Russian in a flash.

"It's not necessarily true, Mr. Gromyko, that the majority is always wrong," rebuked the Australian.

On another occasion, Gromyko was protesting against the Baruch plan. Instead he proposed immediate destruction of all existing atomic bombs and release of the atomic bomb secret by the U. S.

When Bernie Baruch, listening through his ear phone, heard this he became almost apoplectic. But before Baruch could speak, Evatt took on the Russian again.

"You know, Mr. Gromyko," said Evatt, "not all the parliaments in the world would approve all the proposals that you make here. If they did, it would be a different world."

NO CONGRESSMAN IS GUILTY

The case of Andrew Jackson May and his backstage wire-pulling for war profiteers illustrates two defects in our politico-congressional system which sooner or later must be cured.

1. The almost life-or-death power of the chairman of any congressional committee over executive branches of the government.

2. The fact that certain congressional districts are so dominated by political bosses that no matter what a man does in Washington he can't be defeated for reelection at home.

Congressman May comes from a district in the Kentucky mountains, many of whose people now regard him as something of a hero. They believe that Jack May can do no wrong. Prior to May's incumbency his district sent a Republican, John Langley, to congress. He landed in jail for bootlegging. But even after he had been convicted, Langley was re-elected to congress. And when it became clear that Langley could not adequately represent his district while behind bars, his loyal constituents sent his wife to congress.

Actually, the great majority of congressmen are absolutely honest. Misguided and frequently wrong they may be, but most of them are honest.

BIKINI AFTERMATH

Air Chief General "Toughy" Spaatz is not happy over the air force's role in the first Bikini test. The bombardier and pilot, who dropped the bomb more than a thousand feet wide of the mark, are in the doghouse permanently. Both will be transferred to routine assignments. General Spaatz feels there is no excuse for their wide miss. . . . The British cabinet has decided to settle 250,000 anti-Russian members of the Polish army in England permanently.

Kathleen Norris Says:

Married Children

Bell Syndicate.—WNU Features.

"Why not be engaged to each other for awhile? Why not have a year without rushing and planning and hurrying breathlessly to church?"

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

NO TIME TO GET ACQUAINTED

During the war thousands of young couples married in great haste. This was due to several influences, such as the excitement of the period, the fear of many girls they might become old maids unless they acted quickly, and the yearning of young men for "some one to come home to." Many of these marriages have turned out very well, but others are heading towards the break-up.

Miss Norris blames the very short engagement period for the collapse of so many dreams. The young people never really got acquainted before they rushed into matrimony. No wonder there is a lot of disillusionment and friction, now that the men have returned! Real love must develop slowly and quietly, and this takes time.

Norma's own mother is a grass widow, very pretty and flirtatious at 38, and she doesn't like the role of grandmother—in fact, she won't accept it. She laughs at Norma's troubles and reminds her that the youthful marriage was Norma's own choice.

Now Jock is home again, and he tells Norma that he wants to marry a French girl named Rose-Marie. He is desperately, deeply in love this time, he can't think of anything but the new love. Rose-Marie has come to this country and is settled in Reno waiting for Jock. Norma is outraged; she doesn't know where to turn. Jock has only a modest salary; he doesn't make enough to support himself and one woman let alone two women and a child.

Just now, persuaded by friends, Jock and Norma and the baby are living with an aunt of hers, keeping the surface smooth and making an attempt to renew the old feeling. But a cold flaxseed plaster is not clammy than dead passion, especially when a new infatuation has taken possession of man or wife. Jock probably sees Norma now as only an obstruction in the radiant path that leads to Rose-Marie. He is writing Rose-Marie, of course, that any day Norma may give him permission to sue for divorce. He has no character enough to put the new love out of his heart and live for his wife and child.

On her side Norma is completely unfitted to see the situation through with the patience and goodness that must win such a husband in the end. They are children who have taken an exciting dream for reality, and are now awake.

Well, whether we can ever make our youngsters realize that or not, certain it is that they are paying high today—and will pay tomorrow and tomorrow—for the wild wave of wartime marriages, those marriages that were entered into after only weeks of acquaintanceship and immediately interrupted by long war partings. In most cases there was no real engagement period at all; carried along by the first rush of young passion the boy and girl hadn't a moment to spare from wedding plans in the brief interval.

Such a girl is Norma, a youngster that I have loved since she was born. She is 18 now; she was married just a year ago to a boy who was her husband for only seven weeks before he went overseas. Norma waited alone for the baby. She discovered that a baby is quite a problem; the long last weeks of dragging about were hard on Norma and she was innocently surprised when she discovered that her infant daughter was exacting, tiring, a heavy responsibility and a constant drag on her freedom.

Norma's own mother is a grass widow, very pretty and flirtatious at 38, and she doesn't like the role of grandmother—in fact, she won't accept it. She laughs at Norma's troubles and reminds her that the youthful marriage was Norma's own choice.

Now Jock is home again, and he tells Norma that he wants to marry a French girl named Rose-Marie. He is desperately, deeply in love this time, he can't think of anything but the new love. Rose-Marie has come to this country and is settled in Reno waiting for Jock. Norma is outraged; she doesn't know where to turn. Jock has only a modest salary; he doesn't make enough to support himself and one woman let alone two women and a child.

Just now, persuaded by friends, Jock and Norma and the baby are living with an aunt of hers, keeping the surface smooth and making an attempt to renew the old feeling. But a cold flaxseed plaster is not clammy than dead passion, especially when a new infatuation has taken possession of man or wife. Jock probably sees Norma now as only an obstruction in the radiant path that leads to Rose-Marie. He is writing Rose-Marie, of course, that any day Norma may give him permission to sue for divorce. ## Politics Makes Strange, Etc.

Peculiar deals involving congressional war profiteering revive similar shenanigans by legislators in the past. About a century ago a group of business men borrowed $200,000 and incorporated the Central Pacific railroad. Then they used the 2000 road franchises. The 2000s eventually secured land grants for 9,000,000 acres and a federal loan of $27,000,000!

The swindlers became rich and powerful railroad owners without investing a penny of their own money!

The Tweed Ring was the most corrupt gang that ever afflicted New York. Boss Tweed stole millions via bribery and legislative hocus-pocus—until he was finally put behind bars. But Tweed beat the rap many times. After the grand jury failed to dig up enough evidence to indict Tweed, an editorialist wrote that it reminded him of the man who had been discovered dead and the jury was puzzled as to what caused his death.

The jury finally issued this report: "It was an act of God under very suspicious circumstances."

Capitol Hill now is burdened with too many demagogues. But the current batch aren't gifted with Huey Long's evil talent. He was a wily rat. . . . A reporter once saw a page from a Huey Long address. Various instructions were penciled in the margins. Such as "pause here," and "use angry fist gesture," etc.

At the end of one long paragraph, the following was scribbled in capital letters: "Argument weak here. Yell like hell!"

One machine in the East doesn't miss a vote-getting trick. The boss sends toys to children of voters. He uses expensive chauffeur cars to bring voters to the polls. And on Election day he sends nurses to take care of tots while mothers vote.

No one ever has estimated how much money grafting officials have fleeced. But the sum reaches astronomical figures. One fact will give you a faint idea of the rooking that the public has taken—and still is taking. When Tammany was riding high its take during one year was $75,000,000.

The influence of corrupt political bosses on national affairs cannot be overestimated. Many lawmakers are merely errand boys for local ward heelers. A reporter recently snapped: "This is truly a mechanical age. Even public officials are frequently machine made."

All is fair in love, war and politics. Sen. George Norris' political opponents once persuaded a grocer named George Norris to enter the primary against the U. S. senator.

The Big Idea was to confuse voters by having similar names on the ballots. But the scheme was called off when it was spotlighted by the press.

Mark Twain used his pungent pen to attack the shady schemes of Tammany. The death of one of Twain's famed quips: "I refused to attend his funeral. But I wrote a very nice letter explaining that I approved of it!"

New York Side-Show: He started working for a Wall Streeter nearly a year ago. . . . Under the impression his employer was wealthy. . . . He practiced forging the boss' signature. . . . After 10 months or so—he tried passing a check "signed" with the employer's name—to see if it worked. . . . He wrote it out for only $50. . . . It came back marked "Insolvent Funds!"

Mussolini's daughter, Edda, who has been "arrested" by Italy, has applied for entry into Argentina because there's no spot in Italy where she would be welcome. But the passport hasn't been okayed yet. . . . Belgian monarchists are perturbed over the 16-year-old crown prince of Belgium, who would prefer entering a monastery to assuming the throne, if the king (as expected) abdicates. . . . The most quoted gag (in the foreign bars in Shanghai) goes this way: "The Russians will probably obtain the atomic bomb in the Shanghai market."

. . . Los Angeles, they say, is being flooded with phony ten spots.

Mrs. M. Falkenburg (Jinx's mother) will follow in her daughter's footsteps and become a Conover model. . . . Irving Berlin has two songs on the Hit Parade at once! . . . Doris Duke shades off for Honolulu shortly, accompanied by a boogie-woogie teacher. She will spurn the offer of a fashion mag post in Paree. . . . A famed photo mag is dropping 20 p. c. of its roster, as is a big N. Y. ayem paper. . . . A mobster, who tells the underworld the mayor "crossed him," threatens to erase him when he gets out.

Vermont winters stir red blood and thrift among the residents of a state which contributed so much to the birth of independence in our country. That's why Savings Bonds are popular. Sugar from the maples is no sweeter than the strong boxes with War, Victory and Savings Bonds. Vermonters invested $29,000,000 in the Victory Loan and will invest more in Savings Bonds for new barns, plows, trucks in years to come.

Arishad Caverns Are Ready For Post War Visitors

Clear Blank
 From me, the trip thru Arishad Caverns is worth the money. It must be, because the day I made the trip 500 people went with me and gathered facts about this unbelievable Southwestern beauty.

found out the national park service is preparing for the biggest year in the history of the Caverns. An expected 350,000 tourists in 1946. The heaviest year was in 1945 with 193,000. During the war making the trip and tourists making the trip and was the biggest pre-war year with a record of 255,418 visitors.

No additional rooms are being added in the future but from the 27 feet felt when I got out, they have are enough. It is possible in one trip. It requires about three hours and 35 minutes to make the complete tour to the two daily tours are arranged at 10:30 in the morning, and at 1:30 in the afternoon. I took the 10:30. Guides are furnished to explain the scenic beauty and my probably got tired of my walking down his neck, but I want to miss anything.

First stop was to the entrance to the Bat Cave. tourists are not permitted to enter the cave which extends a known 2,000 feet into the earth.

But to get into this bat business a little more; it seems the caverns were discovered because of these bats. Millions of them, residents of the cave swarm out each night in search of food. That is, they come out when they are not hibernating. According to my very interesting guide, they hibernate from mid-October until May, and then start out again hunting for the insects on which they feed. Jim White, a cowboy, first saw these clouds of bats and investigated, thinking it was smoke.

Passing by the Bat Cave we came to a spring, then by the Devil's Den thru a tunnel under a hill, about a mile from the entrance. Tourists are privileged to take elevators down into the Caverns, but being a rugged soul, I walked.

Next stop by the Green Room, named for the Green lake inside. The King's palace is next. This is 765 feet below the surface, and exquisitely decorated with formations of all kinds. Incidentally stalactites are the ones growing down; stalagmites go up. But they have other formations that go up and down and sideways, called such names as icicles, curtains, domes, crusts, helictites, chandeliers, cave pearls and lily pads.

From the King's Palace we moved into the Queen's Chamber and then into the Papoose Chamber, each one more beautiful than the last. Then came the Big Room which is 750 feet below the ground, 3-4ths mile long, 625 feet wide, and 348 feet high. From here we were herded into the lunch room where we ate and rested. I was starved to death, too.

Indiana Industrial City Maps Extensive Improvement Plan

By E. L. KIRKPATRICK
WNU Features

Three-quarters of a century after its settlement on the Blue river, New Castle, Ind., attracted the Maxwell automobile factory in 1907. From 3,000 population then, the town "grew like Topsy," to its present size of 20,000. Activity of an industrial city settled down over the frame of a small town.

According to Scott Chambers, president of New Castle's City Plan commission, "this tended to change the sense of values of the people, who became more interested in getting than in giving, more in what they had than what they were." There were fewer music and art teachers in the town's schools in 1940 than in 1904.

Sean Civic Needs.

So, in 1942, there was held a civic clinic in the form of public meetings whereby more than 1,000 people helped to figure out what their town needed. Better housing, more adequate parks, auditorium, new hotel, airport, community center, physical and moral clean-up were on the list.

It all spelled a job for a planning commission. Speakers were engaged for civic group meetings. Reports of the talks were carried in local papers. The mayor named a commission. Members read good books and pamphlets for self-education and employed the services of qualified architects. All the forces went to work for a New Castle that "would give its people both the opportunity of an industrial city and the charm and ease of life in a small town."

Foresee Future Growth.

The program is based on analysis of problems and outline of purpose. While some of it is being carried out, the rest still is in the planning stage. With more than a dozen substantial manufacturing firms to its credit, the city looks to brisk business and well-balanced growth in the years ahead.

A place where parking facilities are adequate is being substituted for a business district where traffic jams the streets. Quarters that will permit good health and induce good citizenship are replacing blighted areas and local public works projects are part of a general scheme for community developments. There is no leaf-raking in new goals for New Castle.

Two Elderly Fans Are Undeterred by Scooter Accident

MEMPHIS, TENN. — Although their first attempt at riding a motor scooter landed them in a hospital, two elderly Memphis women insist they will not desert the childhood sport.

When Mrs. Mattie Driver, 60, bought the scooter, she invited Mrs. Ida I. Frisby, 82, for a ride. The scooter got out of control and the women landed in a hospital, Mrs. Frisby with a shoulder injury and Mrs. Driver with a head cut.

Insisting that she had no regrets, Mrs. Frisby said, "I was doing something I'd always wanted to do." "This won't stop me," Mrs. Driver bragged, adding that she intends to ride her scooter to Chattanooga as soon as she is released from the hospital.

Former WAC Sees Name as Casualty

BILLINGS, MONT. — When the war department recently published its list of World War II casualties, Mrs. Charles W. Bruder, former second lieutenant in the WAC, scanned the list with amazement for her own name was included among those officially declared dead or missing.

Mrs. Bruder, whose service was confined to recruiting in this country, blamed a mixup of service records in Washington for the error. She was released last December. Her husband also was an army officer, serving in the European theater.

Long Way Proves Short in Solving Laundry Problem

LONDON. — Laundry problems, particularly delays in deliveries, irk many London residents.

Faced with the prospect of waiting two weeks to get his clothes back from the laundry, one ingenious resident devised the novel expedient of airmailing his laundry to Melbourne, Australia, on the other side of the world. Return delivery is made within 10 days.

Vigilantes Ride but Not after Riots

SHERRARD, ILL.—Although they haven't set out on the trail of a steed snatcher since August 24, 1899, the Richland Grove Vigilantes, formed 87 years ago to catch horse thieves, remains an active organization.

Formed principally of kin of the founders, the organization endeavors to perpetuate the association for sentimental and social reasons. The group, which has a present membership of 130, meets annually.

The institute will use the 25 buildings and 100 acres of land to train veterans and others to represent American business and government agencies in foreign countries, particularly in Latin America. There was no charge for the field.

COOLING A CABIN

The problem of refrigerating plane cabins has been solved, according to Slick Airways. Through the use of three and four-ply lightweight fiber-glass insulation and the installation of an aluminum alloy cooler charged with dry ice, Slick engineers have succeeded in air conditioning the interiors of the company's freighters satisfactorily.

PLANT GRASS BY PLANE

In Illinois, grass seed has been sown successfully by a small plane on 1,200 acres of rough land. The plane sowed 40 to 50 feet in a swath and carried 150 pounds per load. The cost was $3.20 an acre compared to $6 per acre for hand seeding.

Ninety per cent of the rice planted by California growers this year will be sown from planes. In Texas, small areas of the next rice crop are expected to be seeded from the air.

Foster D. Snell, Inc., well-known consulting chemists, have just completed a test with a group of men and women suffering from Athlete's Foot. These people were told to use Soretone. At the end of only a ten-day test period, their feet were examined by a physician. We quote from the report:

"After the use of Soretone according to the directions on the label for a period of only ten days, 80.6% of the cases showed clinical improvement of an infection which is most stubborn to control."

Improvements were shown in the symptoms of Athlete's Foot—the itching, burning, redness, etc. The report says:

"In our opinion Soretone is of very definite benefit in the treatment of this disease, which is commonly known as 'Athlete's Foot.'"

Whiskey Bath Listed as Old Cold Remedy

SCHENECTADY, N. Y.—Fantastic remedies suggested for the common cold 60 years ago were described by Dr. Louis C. Jones of State College for Teachers, Albany, in an address here.

"The Albany Times in 1886 suggested that, in the realm of preventive medicine, best thing to ward off a cold was to take a bath in hot whiskey and rock-salt twice a year," Jones said.

Referring to less expensive remedies, the speaker pointed out that "it was 'discovered' in Calcoon, N. Y., that if you take the skin of the leaf lard from left side of a pig, put it on your chest and keep it there, you'll be over your cold in no time."

Another remedy mentioned in old legends is to crawl through a double-rooted briar, moving from west to east.

JESUS AND HOME RELATIONSHIPS

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:12; Mark 7:13; Luke 2:51, 52; Ephesians 6:1-4.
MEMORY SELECTION—Honor thy father and thy mother; that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.—Exodus 20:12.

Home—that place so dear to the heart of each one of us—is even more precious in the sight of God. He is concerned about our homes and those who live in them.

Right relationship between children and parents have much to do with the peace and prosperity of a community and a nation. Experience has demonstrated that to be true, but even more basic is the fact that it is in accord with the promise of God.

One of the sad breakdowns in modern life is that of proper honor and obedience to parents by children. In all too many homes God's order has been reversed and instead of honoring and obeying their parents, children (both young and old) have taken the place of "boss," and mother and father must obey if they want peace and rest.

I. The Responsibility Stated (Exod. 20:12).

"Honor thy father and thy mother"—how good, and substantial, and right those words sound. We are told by Paul that this is the "first commandment with promise" (Eph. 6:1-3). The Lord was not making a bargain with man, or seeking to draw out obedience by a prize, but there is obviously a great reward in the observing of this commandment.

II. The Responsibility Evaded (Mark 7:9-13).

Such an important commandment naturally held a high place in the thinking of the community. To violate it involved a measure of shame which men sought to avoid. So the Jews of Christ's day devised a scheme which made it possible for a man to appear to be very religious even as he deprived his parents of the honor and help to which they were entitled by the law of God.

III. The Responsibility Fulfilled (Luke 2:51-52; Eph. 6:1-4).

The manner in which children should be obedient to their parents and honor them in the home is beautifully exemplified in the life of our Lord, living as a boy in Nazareth. In the home the growing youth finds the best place for normal, well-rounded development (v. 52). There is no substitute for the home.

The words of the Holy Spirit through Paul in Ephesians 6:1-4 stress the same truth and enlarge upon it.

This matter of honoring and obeying parents "is right," says Paul. It is the Lord's way, but it is also that which commends itself to every right-thinking person.

There is tremendously important truth on the other side of the picture. Parents are not to provoke their children to anger, to disrespect or disobedience.

May God help us who are parents that we may take to heart this part of our lesson. Our children are our most valuable possession.

Pan-Broiling Meat: If you don't have a broiler and want to broil meats, use a heavy, pre-heated frying pan. Do not use any fat in the pan, except when broiling ground meat. Brown meat in the hot pan on both sides. Season only after it is browned, otherwise the salt will draw out the rich juices.

Never add water or cover the pan for pan broiling. The idea is to make it as close to oven broiling as possible.

When meat is browned, turn down the heat to finish cooking. Turn occasionally to cook evenly, and keep pouring off the fat as it accumulates so that the meat will broil rather than fry.

Lamb chops, small steaks, chops and meat patties are excellent when prepared by this method.

THANK YOU, VOTERS
I offer my heartfelt thanks for the vote I received in Saturday's election and earnestly solicit your consideration and good will during this campaign and your vote on August 24th for the Office of Tax Assessor and Collector of Lynn County.

I feel that my qualifications and a genuine desire to serve you faithfully and earnestly merits the holding of this office. I enlisted in the Army Air Forces January 28th of 1941 and received an honorable discharge Jan 10th, 1946. I attend 3 technical schools during my army career and held administrative positions of responsibility for four and one half years. Prior to my enlistment in the army I was associated with the grocery business for several years.

I pledge to the voters of Lynn County that if I am elected to this responsible office I will serve efficiently, honestly and tirelessly.
I have made an honest attempt to see every person in Lynn County and have missed no one intentionally and will earnestly endeavor to contact as many people as possible between now and the 24th of August. If I fail to see any person during this campaign please consider this as a personal message and solicitation for your vote and good will and assure you it will be deeply and sincerely appreciated.
