Scrap Metals Are Secured In Drive

O'Donnell's drive for scrap metal and rubber is getting nice results, according to Bud Pugh, local dealer, and before the week is over, it is expected that some really large loads will be unloaded.

Pugh is buying all that is brought in, and paying the best possible prices.

The local drive is in conjunction with similar actions throughout the United States in response to a call from the Federal Government that was urgent.

If you have scrap metal, in small or large amounts bring it into O'Donnell this week if possible. You will be doing your patriotic duty and be paid a reasonable price.

1939 STUDY CLUB

Mrs. C. D. Pickens was hostess and leader on May 20, 1942, to the members of the 1939 Study Club.

The topic study was "American Home," and Mrs. Pickens gave an interesting talk on "Architecture of the American Home."

Mrs. John Earles gave a very vivid description of the architecture of the Federation Headquarters in Austin.

"Modern Kitchens" was the topic given by Mrs. J. L. Shoemaker.

Mrs. H. B. Brewer was the only member with a record for perfect attendance.

The 1939 Study Club will continue to sew for the Red Cross on their regular club day throughout the summer, meeting in the city hall.

At the tea hour, cheer, faced sandwiches, pickles, cookies and punch were served. Roses were plate favors.

Present were Mesdames Adams, Boyd, Carroll, Coffee, Earles, Haggood, Howard, Koeninger, McLaurin, Middleton, Shoemaker, Wells, Westmoreland, Gibbs and Yandell.

This Calf Discovers Height Unnecessary To Secure Meals

Normal in every other respect, but a Lilliputian in size, a calf on the Pearce farm is attracting the interest of many persons.

The calf, born last Wednesday, is so small that it is only two feet long and 16 inches high and has to be fed via the bottle and nipple route for a while after its birth, but is now feeding from a pan. Its twin was born Friday and is of regular size.

Slight irritation was shown by the "shorty" when he tried first to get his meals in the usual manner and found he lacked several inches of reaching his objective, but the bottle soon satisfied his hunger.

Inch Rain Falls In Local Area

Exactly one inch of rain fell in O'Donnell since the last Press report, with the bulk falling to the tune of .65 of an inch last Sunday, according to Ben Moore, local government gauge operator.

The downpour, as usual, fell harder in some sections than others, with Newmoore reporting over two inches falling within a short time.

A hard hail visited sections of the Harmony community and several farmers suffered total losses, necessitating replanting.

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

For the past two weeks, the Boy Scouts have been registering and getting ready for the coming year, such as practicing first aid and working on handicraft projects.

A chicken barbecue was enjoyed by those attending last Friday night.

Present Monday night were Billy Schooler, Carroll Jones, William Shoemaker, Bobby Dan Blocker, Albin Ratliff, Mike Jones, Alfred Ratliff, Roy Allen Gibson, Roy Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Newell Hughes and Jimmie will leave Friday for a short trip to Odessa to visit with Mr. Hughes' sister.

Mrs. George Canon of Lamesa was here Sunday visiting friends.

Farm Checking Will Start Soon

TAHOKA, June 11 (Special) — The checking of performance on the individual farms will begin in the near future, reports Derrell C. Henry, County Administrative Officer, Lynn County A. C. A. A performance school for the selection of Performance Reporters will be held Monday, June 15. All persons interested in being employed as a reporter should attend this school since they must pass a required examination before they can be employed, Henry said.

It is our hope that the checking of performance will begin around June 20, if weather conditions will permit farmers to have their crops up by that time in such a manner that they can be identified.

A few points which farmers who desire to comply with the provisions of the 1942 Agricultural Conservation Program should keep in mind are: (1) 20% of your 1941 cropland must be devoted to Soil Conserving Acreage or Land Use (Government Land); (2) You do not have a general (feed) allotment in 1942; (3) Cotton seeded in excess of the allotment can be destroyed within ten days after compliance is checked; and (4) refer to your copy of the Texas Handbook for further information.

Anyone interested in becoming a performance reporter is invited to contact the county office for further information concerning the requirements of a reporter, Henry stated.

W. W. Price Is Judge Candidate

Judge W. W. Price of Brownfield makes his announcement this week as a candidate for district judge of the 106th judicial district, which comprises Garza, Lynn, Terry, Yoakum, Gaines, and Dawson Counties.

The Judge has made two strong but unsuccessful races for this position heretofore, once with the able and popular Judge McGuire as his opponent and once against the present incumbent. He has served as county judge of his home county as well as county attorney. He has also served many times as special judge, and he has therefore had considerable judicial experience.

Judge Price is highly esteemed in his own county, never having been defeated in that county in any race for office which he has made. He is recognized by his neighbors as a thoroughly fair-minded and trustworthy gentleman, and if elected District Judge there is no doubt but that he would carry his sense of fairness with him into every trial.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. McCarter have moved to California to make their home.

Allred Visits In O'Donnell

Judge James V. (Jimmy) Allred, former governor, and now a candidate for United States Senator, made a special visit into O'Donnell Thursday morning and greeted many persons. He was introduced here by E. T. Wells, local lumber yard manager.

In the party coming here was Arch Underwood of Lubbock and Truett Smith of Tahoka.

Allred made a non-political talk to about 80 persons in Tahoka Thursday noon at the Rotary Club, and spoke over a radio network last night in Lubbock.

FORMER SHOW MANAGER WRITES OF PROMOTION

Hervey Gardenhire, former Rex theatre manager here, and who has been in service only a few months, has written of his transfer to a new outfit, Radio Intelligence. He is stationed at Camp Crowder in Missouri. Portions of his letter follow.

Dear Forgy: Well, here I am moved into a new unit of which I have a lot of respect for.

I have been transferred to the 116 Radio Intelligence, which, in civilian life, corresponds to the FBI — so you can see the type of work I am doing.

Radio Intelligence is a crack outfit — considered the finest dressed and highest ranking in the Signal Corps. And they really have intelligence. Just as my commanding officer told me I am lucky to be with such a crew. My theatre background put me right where I wanted. I finished my elementary school with an average of 92 per cent and I really worked hard.

We get up at 6 a. m. and have the day finished at 4:30 p. m. We have Saturday afternoons off and we generally go over to Carthage.

I was offered a chance to go to an officer's candidate school, but turned it down after I found out I was to be transferred to Radio Intelligence, as this is so much better, and so far ahead of others I am really tickled to be in it.

It's about bedtime, so will close. Tell the gang hello and write to Pvt. Hervey Gardenhire 116 Radio Intelligence Co., Camp Crowder, Missouri.

Worthy gentleman, and if elected District Judge there is no doubt but that he would carry his sense of fairness with him into every trial.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. McCarter have moved to California to make their home.

USO Endorsed By Soldiers, Gen. MacArthur

O'Donnell's drive for the new USO quota will be underway within a few days according to R. P. Weathers, county chairman.

Weathers named the O'Donnell committee as follows: Dr. J. M. Burbany, C. H. Doak, E. T. Wells and Waldo McLaurin.

The quota set for O'Donnell for this drive has not been estimated, according to Burbany, but is expected to be higher than the first one. However, he believes everyone will do his part so no trouble should be experienced in reaching the total needed.

Everyone should be familiar with the USO — set up to provide necessary entertainment and recreation for men in the armed services.

That the USO is serving a fine purpose has been vouched for by no less a person than General Douglas MacArthur, who is not given to idle statements, and from the boys from Lynn County who have been helped.

When you are called on by the committee members, who do not like to ask for funds any more than you would, give ALL YOU CAN the first time and do not say "if you need any more, come back." We're all in this war together and co-operation by all will make it easier for all.

Give all you reasonably can to the USO.

SLIGHT CHANGE REPORTED IN MRS. HAYMES' CONDITION

Members of the Haymes family reported that there was a slight change for the better in the condition of Mrs. Haymes, who has been in a Lubbock hospital for several weeks.

SEW AND CHATTER CLUB

Mrs. Will Ed Tredway was hostess last week to members of the Sew and Chatter Needle Club.

Sewing was the diversion for the afternoon.

Refreshments were served to the following: Mesdames Harris, Fritz, Jones, Miles, Vaughn and Line.

The Club sews at the Red Cross rooms on alternate Thursdays.

T. E. L. CLASS

Mrs. Irvin Street entertained T. E. L. Class members with a social Wednesday at her home.

LOYAL WORKERS CLASS

Mrs. Homer Hancock will be hostess this (Friday) afternoon for a social for members of the Royal Workers Class of the Methodist Church.

How to Get More Light from Your Lamps

Good light that permits faster and better work is important these days, both in the factories and in homes. Dust and grime absorb much of the light that is needed for eyesight protection and better work.

To get all the light from bulbs and fixtures, wipe them with a damp cloth regularly and dust shades. Glass shades and diffusing bowls should be washed periodically, especially those in ceiling fixtures that cannot be wiped frequently.

Floor and table lamps that are out of order usually can be repaired by an electrician. By adding a new, white-lined shade you can have an attractive and useful lamp.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Jap Air Thrust at Alaska and Midway Seen as Reprisal for Doolittle Raid; U. S. Declares War on Balkan Nations; RAF Smashes Reich War Industries

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) Released by Western Newspaper Union.

The harbor and town of Dutch Harbor, Alaska, U. S. naval base raided by Japanese bombers, is shown above. The air and naval base which threatens Japan's northern flank and forms a "springboard" for eventual offensives against Nippon is around the point to the left.

ALASKA FRONT: Japan Strikes

As had been expected ever since General Doolittle's spectacular air raid on Japan last April, Japanese warplanes struck at the American base at Dutch Harbor, Alaska. The first two attacks occurred within six hours of each other.

The fact that fighter planes accompanied the bombers on their raids indicated that the Japs came from aircraft carriers, since the nearest enemy island is 1,400 miles away—far beyond the range of fighter craft.

Significance of the Jap attack on the most formidable American bastion in the Aleutian islands is that Alaska and the Aleutian archipelago lie across Japan's exposed northern flank. They offer an effective "spring-board" for eventual offensives against Nippon.

By neutralizing Alaska and knocking out American air bases, Japan would protect its flank, delay indefinitely the possibility of American invasion via this route and shut off communications and supply lines to Russia in the event of a Nipponese attack on Siberia.

Midway Island

When Jap task forces undertook an attack on Midway island, nearest American base to Japan, 24 hours after the Dutch Harbor assault, the growing power of American air and naval strength manifested itself.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander of the Pacific fleet, announced that his forces had damaged a battleship and an aircraft carrier and exacted a heavy toll of attacking planes.

BALKAN FOES: U. S. Acts

President Roosevelt asked for and obtained a declaration of war by congress on the three Nazi-stooge governments of Bulgaria, Hungary and Rumania.

On the home front this newest war move meant a general round-up of enemy aliens of these nations and a freezing of their funds.

On the European front it was calculated to produce a two-fold effect. It would underline closer American collaboration with Russia which long has desired such an action and contribute hearteningly to the Soviet's morale. It would serve notice on Hitler's three Balkan allies that they could not escape the consequences of their association with him. Few, however, expected America's war effort against the three new enemies to go beyond speeding up shipments of essential materials to Russia.

WAR WEAPONS: Army Has Plenty

Expanding power of Uncle Sam's army was disclosed in a report of Undersecretary of War Robert F. Patterson, who revealed that the army has all the weapons it can send abroad under present shipping conditions and enough to arm every soldier in the United States.

Mr. Patterson said the army today requires twice as many light arms per 1,000 men as it did before the extensive use of parachute troops.

SALVAGE PROGRAM: Patch and Pray

Greater civilian co-operation with the salvage program to speed up the flow of scrap metals and rubber loomed as William L. Batt, chairman of the requirement committee of the War Production board, warned that industry must get ready to "patch and pray."

Mr. Batt disclosed that many essential war materials are now short and declared that "our civilian economy is fast going on a minimum subsistence standard."

RAIDS ON REICH: RAF Sows Havoc

As air raid after air raid by the RAF wrought destruction in the heart of German war producing areas, the pattern of this newest offensive became increasingly clear; smash the industrial plants that produce materials for Hitler's armies; dislocate the railways that carry these products to his forces in Russia; shake the Nazi civilian morale.

How well these objectives were succeeding was indicated by British communiques. A damaging raid on Cologne was followed by two crippling blows at Essen in the Ruhr valley, concentration point for half of Germany's heavy war industries. Bremen, the Reich's second largest port, was next on the schedule.

In the first Essen raid, 1,036 British planes converged over the Krupp munitions works, showering down 3,000 tons of explosives and incendiaries. The second installment, in the nature of a mop-up was designed to slow down Nazi repair efforts.

While German propaganda continued to minimize the extent of the raids, the outlook was undeniably gloomy.

But the Reich itself was not the only target of the British planes. In one 12-hour daylight period, the RAF hurled more than 1,000 planes in relays over northern France, fanning the flames of revolt among French patriots.

WAR BONDS: More Sales Needed

"Do I really need what I am going to buy? Can't I do without it? Won't it wait until after the war?"

Americans were urged by Secretary of the Treasury Henry L. Morgenthau to ask themselves these questions before making any purchases. The point of the secretary's plea was that the buying of war bonds transcends any other purchase.

"Any man or woman who chooses this time to go on a buying spree is committing an act of sabotage against our war effort," Mr. Morgenthau said in a nationwide radio address.

Unnecessary spending, he added, drains money from the defense program, creates greater price pressure and encourages inflation. More and more purchases of war bonds, he said, are the antidote.

NAVY BILL: Billions for Ships

Two facts of prime significance to the future conduct of the war stood out in the provisions included in the new $10,452,000,000 naval expansion program over which congress deliberated as a means of giving the United States the largest navy in the world.

These facts were: 1. The emphasis on the construction of aircraft carriers; and 2. The absence of battleships from the proposed naval building program.

The program clearly emphasized the United Nations high command's belief that aircraft and fast, lighter ships equipped to fight submarines will be a determining factor in winning the war.

The naval building program, introduced by Chairman Carl Vinson of the house naval committee, would provide $8,300,000,000 for more than 500 new fighting ships over and above the current two-ocean navy plan. It would include many aircraft carriers, cruisers, destroyers and convoy escort ships specially equipped to fight submarines.

Representative Vinson reported that 100 new warships will join the fleet during the remaining seven months of this year. He predicted that the two-ocean navy program would be completed in 24 months.

Flock for Service on Navy's PT-Boats

The successes of our motor torpedo fleet in Philippine waters have brought a flood of applications to the navy from young officers who want to serve aboard the boats. Special schools have been set up for this purpose. At the left a group of officers is receiving instructions in the use of depth bombs. Picture at right shows a group of them gathered about an Orlikon automatic anti-aircraft cannon.

Salvage Work in Desert Battle Zone

This pile of shell cases is part of the huge collection of material salvaged from the battlefields of the Libyan desert by the British. The cases will be used again, for they are of valuable brass and copper. In many instances the British have taken Italian guns and ammunition and have used them against their former owners.

To Manage All-Star Service Team

Lieut. Gordon ("Mickey") Cochrane has been appointed manager of the all-star service baseball team composed of former minor and major league players now in the navy. Shown above are (left to right) Comdr. Gene Tunney, in charge of sports activities for the navy; Col. John Thomas Taylor, assistant director, bureau of public relations (war department), and "Mickey" Cochrane.

New War Bonnet

SADDLE and RIDE

By ERNEST HAYCOX W-N-U Release

THE STORY SO FAR: Clay Morgan is determined to play a lone hand against Ben Herendeen, a rancher who is out to run the cattle country his own way. As a rancher, Morgan knows he must protect his own rights, but he doesn't like Herendeen's methods. Of his former friends, only Hack Breathitt has not gone over to Herendeen's side. The rest—Charley Hillhouse, Gurd Grant and Lige White, for example, are supporting Herendeen, more or less in self defense. They don't like his methods, either, but they believe that if they don't follow him they will lose everything.

Now continue with the story.

CHAPTER IV

At daybreak Clay Morgan rode as far as the Antelope Plains with the roundup crew and worked with it until mid-morning. Afterwards he set off to have a look at the grass and water on the western edge of the Moguls. Gurd Grant, having business at his own ranch, went along. Gurd was a big and completely friendly man of Morgan's age with light features and a consistently pleased expression in his eyes. There was no malice and no subterfuge of any kind in Gurd. But now, as he rode, he spoke in a rather troubled, uncertain way of Herendeen.

"Why don't we go into War Pass some night, Catherine, and paint the town?"

"You know, Clay, he ain't such a bad fellow. I hate to see you two start chewing the same piece of leather. Of course, you never did like each other. I can remember as far back as school when you and Ben got in some pretty tough jangles."

"Gurd," said Morgan, turning toward his partner, "I want to warn you. Ben's the kind of a fellow that gets worse the farther he goes. Maybe he'll start by chasing a few crooks out of the country. But he won't stop there. He'll get the idea that nobody has any rights unless they're riding close to him."

Riding on through the short hills, they came to Crowfoot's quarters seated in a small round valley backed against the Haycreek Hills. A creek, charging out of the pine timber, crossed the meadow in front of a low, long-galleried white house surrounded by poplar trees. The two dismounted in this pleasant shade and went back to the dining room for a late noon meal. They were still at the table when a single rider came out of the hill trail at a full gallop. A moment later Catherine Grant appeared.

"Gentlemen," she said, "you are both very solemn."

Gurd Grant held his seat with a brother's habitual indifference but Clay Morgan rose at once before this laughter-loving girl with the gay and gently blue eyes. This was Catherine Grant, who, with her brother Gurd, ran Crowfoot.

"Once," she reflected, "there was a man named Morgan. He lived on top of a mountain and never did come down. He grew a beard, so they say, and got the habit of talking to himself. I wonder whatever happened to him?"

"Crazy as always," said Gurd. "And quit running your horse down that trail, you hear?"

She didn't hear. She stood in front of Clay, stripping away her riding gloves—smiling and watching his answering smile break the solid healthy darkness of his face. Gurd Grant sat at an interested and forgotten spectator to this scene, quick to note his sister's instant gaiety in front of Clay, and Clay's lightening expression. There always had been an odd closeness between these two people. Sometimes, as now, that closeness puzzled him and sometimes bothered him; he never could get at its meaning. All he knew was that whenever they met they seemed to share some old memory which excluded everybody else, as now. He rose and left the room.

The cook brought Catherine her meal. She sat opposite Clay, eating a little and talking a little. Clay lighted a smoke. He braced his elbow on the table, chin propped in his long, heavy hand. "Your hair," he said, "is getting darker."

"That's gray you see. Gray from worry."

"When you were eighteen it was almost a carrot red."

She said: "I remember you said that once, a long time ago. It almost made me cry. I came home and wondered if I could dye it."

"We used to talk pretty straight, didn't we? We had some tall quarrels."

She gave him a straight, smileless look. "Why did we ever quarrel, Clay?"

"Maybe," he said, "it was because we always stuck together and had so damned much fun." He wasn't sure of what he wished to say. This girl was a close, deep part of his life. Once she had been nearer to him than any other woman. Some of that old feeling remained. So that when he sat by her now he had a feeling of pleasant ease; knowing that he had to explain nothing to her, knowing that she understood.

Suddenly she rose and turned away, knowing what was in his mind. He left the table, following her out to the house porch. He said: "See you later, Catherine."

"All right, Clay."

Gurd came around the house. He said to his sister in a teasing, amused voice: "Rakin' up the ashes of an old fire?"

"Hush."

"You two," commented Gurd, "used to be pretty thick. Before

VALUABLE RECORDINGS

A group who lunched with me one day had the pleasure after lunch of hearing recordings made by Mr. Robert Vincent. These recordings, which Yale university is preserving for the future, will be most interesting historical documents.

With the co-operation of USO, Mr. Vincent has visited many of our army camps. He has recorded letters for many of our boys and sent the records home so the recipients may hear the voices of the boys they love, even though they are separated from them for many months. I can well imagine that letter will be played over and over again.

Mr. Vincent has also recorded songs and pieces of music written by the servicemen; some dedicated to the President, some to the outfit with which they are serving. He also played for me Earl Robinson's cantata, as sung over the air by Paul Robeson and the NBC chorus. He told us that he had begun to do these recordings at the age of 12, and from the early discs, has found a way of transferring some of the voices which most of us had thought were lost to posterity.

He has something said by every President since Grover Cleveland, except President Harrison. I was very much interested to hear a speech by my uncle, President Theodore Roosevelt. It sounded absolutely natural. Another record made by my aunt, Mrs. Douglas Robinson, was equally good.

There is one boy in the service who does imitations of people and Mr. Vincent had several of these, among them an imitation of a speech by my own husband. Some of the tones were perfectly wonderful but on the whole I think the boy had not practiced long enough, so that a great deal of it did not sound entirely natural.

Mlle. Curie Visit

I returned to Washington one day in time to welcome Mademoiselle Curie and to receive several people in the afternoon. Among them was Miss Terese Bonney, who brought some very remarkable photographs as a gift to my husband for his library at Hyde Park. They were taken in various war-torn countries in Europe. I am keeping these photographs here for a time to show to various people, because some of them are really great contributions to the realization of what war brings in its wake.

It is always a joy to have Mlle. Curie here and it was extremely interesting to glean from her some of her impressions of the various countries she has visited on her extraordinary trip. She has a map on which she has traced her journeys, and some one at lunch yesterday, on looking over it, remarked to me: "She has outdistanced you many times."

Mlle. Curie certainly has both in mileage and in the variety and interest of her travels. One looks at this chic, well-groomed, delicate French woman and marvels at the calm with which she must have faced many dangerous moments.

WAR WORKERS PLANNING

The next afternoon I went to a tea given by the Democratic Women's council, to which they had invited groups of war workers from the different agencies. They are planning a series of such teas in the hope that they will bring together women who might not otherwise meet, and in this way make life a little pleasanter for the newcomers in Washington.

That evening we had some young people dine with us, because Miss Patricia Mountbatten came to spend the night. She will go back to England when she graduates from school this spring, to join the army of women workers of her own country.

After dinner, a number of government officials came in to see the moving pictures which Mr. Charles Palmer brought back from his trip to England. He went to study defense housing as it is over there today. The most interesting developments are in houses which, when peace comes, can be enlarged and changed so that they will look more like the traditional English workmen's homes.

Mr. Palmer says that in England the war effort has had to be so great, people have not had time to develop substitutes and are, therefore, going without a great many things. Of necessity, this must temporarily lower the standard of living and we are fortunate indeed that we have time to develop substitutes for many of our needs.

COMMENCEMENT

The commencement exercises at Washington college at Chestertown, Md., were serious as such exercises must be in these days, but very beautifully carried out. The governor of Maryland gave the diplomas to the graduating class. Since they were celebrating the 50th anniversary of the admission of women to the college on an equal basis with men, it was fitting that the highest academic honors were won by a girl.

When armored knights met, it was customary for each knight to raise the visor of his helmet as a means of identification. This gesture has come down through all armies in the form of the salute. Traditional, too, is the Army man's preference for Camel Cigarettes. In the Army, Navy, Marines, and Coast Guard, actual sales records in their Service Stores show Camel is the favorite. Favorite gift with service men is also Camels by the carton. Local tobacco dealers are featuring Camel cartons to send to men in the armed forces anywhere.—Adv.

Your Uncle Sam..

DEMANDS THAT THE AMERICAN PEOPLE COMPLY WITH FEDERAL REGULATIONS ON ALL

Credit Buying

If you buy on credit — or if you contemplate buying on credit — please co-operate with your local merchants and read the following rules as ORDERED by the Federal Government.

Your local merchant is printing this as a courtesy to you as a customer, and regardless of the fact that all O'Donnell merchant's names are not signed here, all are subject to the same regulations.

Credit Rules:

A recent order of the Federal Reserve Board acting upon authority of the President of the United States, requires all stores granting credit to make certain changes in their credit services. The new restrictions will in no way disturb a long and mutually agreeable relationship. You can continue to buy merchandise and have it "charged" or buy certain items on the installment plan, just as you have in the past, with the following stipulations:

1. Accounts are due, as in the past, on the 10th of the month following purchase, but every charge transaction MUST now be paid by the 10th of the second month following the purchase. Accordingly all purchases made during May and any previous unpaid balances must be paid by July 10, OTHERWISE WE SHALL NOT BE PERMITTED TO CHARGE FURTHER PURCHASES.

This schedule of payment will continue as long as the order remains in force.

2. The maximum permissible maturity of installment sales has been reduced to 12 months, and the required down payment for all articles covered has been increased to 33 1-3 per cent. Exceptions to this rule include automobiles, for which down payment of one-third and maximum maturity of 15 months has been retained, and furniture, for which the required down payment, formerly 10 per cent, becomes 20 per cent, the maximum maturity being 12 months. Minimum installment payments are set at $1.25 per week, or $5 monthly.

The consumer credit control regulation became effective May 6, 1942, and has been broadened to include all lines of retail business and almost every article of personal and household use.

CUSTOMER: Both these cars appeal to me, but...

SALESMAN: You won't find a better second-hand car anywhere than either of these. Wonderful buys!

CUSTOMER: If I only knew how the engines had been treated... what oil the ex-owners used.

SALESMAN: This one, I don't know. But this red job I happen to know had nothing but Conoco Nth motor oil from its first mile!

CUSTOMER: Well, why didn't you say so! Conoco Nth! I'll take the red job, of course! First of all, whoever owned that car knew what was best for a car when they used Conoco Nth. With Conoco Nth in the crankcase, I'm sure the cylinders and moving parts were protected by OIL-PLATING—lubricant that doesn't all drain down at every chance, but stays on the job.

SALESMAN: Well, that'd sell me the red one.

CUSTOMER: Why, man, Conoco Nth can help keep an engine so clean of sludge and carbon that it easily ought to mean good long life. I'm going to cash in on this car's value—and keep on using Conoco Nth.

You can cash in, too. Cash in by getting all the engine life and good oil mileage that are winning sensational sales success for Conoco Nth oil. See Your Conoco Mileage Merchant today! Continental Oil Company

AIM TO GET THE BEST OUT OF YOUR COOKING

Follow These Rules:

- Roast meat at low temperature in your Gas oven and reduce shrinkage. Remember that the flexible Gas flame can be regulated to any degree of heat you need, eliminating scorching and overcooking of food. Use any remaining vegetable liquids in soups, gravies, sauces, or cold in tomato juice. Plan one casserole dish a week to use left-overs. Cook vegetables by the "waterless" method for which your Gas range is especially suited. The flexible Gas flame will give you the exact degree of heat you need. Bring vegetables to boiling point quickly over full Gas flame, then turn flame low and cook gently. Keep utensils covered and do not use soda in vegetables. Do not pre-heat your Gas oven or broiler too long. Remember, Gas is fast. Plan complete oven and broiler meals, to make full use of Gas. Avoid using small pans on large or giant top burners.

the glory and gladness of the darkness of the tomb and reded the disciples' sadness with gladness. God's message to people is one of assurance and hope. The night may be dark, but dawn will surely come.

Two of Jesus' disciples had been
ting sadly along the road to Em-

them, telling them what the tures taught about the Christ—sufferings and His glory. Their firmation of their report. He, r beloved Lord and Master, stood

e before them, alive and speak-
His tender message of "Peace."
The disciples, however, were bled and slow to believe. Ob-ve how kind and patient He was these frightened and unbeliev-men. And note what a splend testimony it is to the truth of resurrection that they who e Him best expected proof bethey believed.

efore we condemn them for lack faith let us ask ourselves if we ld have done better, and let us thankful that their hesitation
e assurance doubly sure. He really there—alive. Partaking ood (which He did not need),
e giving them opportunity to h His body. He demonstrated
e reality of the resurrection.
e next gave them a sure founda-
for faith.

*Then Opened He Their Un- derstanding* (vv. 44, 45)

his he did that they might "understand the scriptures." Their s had become confused and He ally "disentangled" them. We ed to do the knots and kinks
in out of our thinking about s Word. Then we too will understand.

dealing with the entire Old Testament (divided by the Hebrews into prophets and psalms), He gave us His endorsement. Merely deny, but Jesus approved the ures of the Old Testament—
e are ready to take His word.
e things must be fulfilled"
e statement concerning Him—
There is our Lord's guarantee e promises of His second coming, and all that is associated with it, as well as with His future
kingdom, will be fulfilled.

*Repentance Preached in His Name* (vv. 46-48)

here is a message to go out hrough His disciples to all nations.
e died for the sins of the world.
e arose for the justification of those e believe. There is remission of s for those who in repentance and turn to Him.

ellowship with Christ and an understanding of His Word which does result in aggressive witness for is quite useless. We meet Him study His Word not only that may grow in grace, but that may be witnesses to all nations.
e to be a witness involves knowl-
e of a fact, to the truth of which individual can bear testimony.
e disciples were called to be witnesses, "not speculators, philosophers, moralists or legislators.
y had neither to argue nor to rebate, nor to lay down rules for duct, nor to ventilate their own cies. They were witnesses, and e business was to tell the truth, whole truth, and nothing but the truth" (Alexander MacLaren).

the Christian by life possibly more than by word is to "adorn the trine of God," as Paul put it us 2:10), commending it to those about him. Observe that such itness is to start right at home,
beginning at Jerusalem" (v. 47).

may be difficult in our times
and witnesses to distant lands, ships are busy carrying the e and implements of war. But e in your Jerusalem there is a need, in your little town
rural community, in the city
e you live, in your home,
e, shop, or school. You who e this who are in the service of country will find a "Jerusalem"
our camp or on your ship.

A Bride's Cake to Greet You at the Reception!
(See Recipes Below.)

Wedding Receptions

After the "I do's" have been said,
and you have remembered to wear
something borrowed, something blue, and something new, besides throwing your bouquet to some lucky bridesmaid, you are ready for the reception.

The reception is among the more elaborate forms of entertaining, but because of our
wartime status,
this year's event
will undoubtedly
be more simple.
Simplicity, however, does not imply lack of charm
or graciousness,
indeed, it often
enhances it the more.

White is the color for brides, so use your linens or damask on the wedding table. Flowers may be white calla lilies in crystal or silver centerpiece, or other delicate pastel flowers used with plenty of white to carry out the theme. Have your candles, white, too, as the occasion is somewhat formal.

At most weddings the trend is to have other refreshments besides the traditional white cake cut by the bride and the necessary assistance
by the groom! If you are baking the cake at home—and it will be good if you do—plan to have a small pastry tube for the frills and decorations with celluloid or paper figures of the groom and bride as a decoration.

Chicken, because of its bland flavor and general adaptability, is the answer to your refreshment problem. Chicken in a molded egg ring makes the table a picture, and your guests can easily serve themselves:

*Chicken in Molded Egg Ring. (Serves 8)

2 tablespoons unflavored gelatin
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup boiling water
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup cold water
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup mayonnaise
4 tablespoons lemon juice
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon grated onion
 $\frac{1}{2}$  green pepper chopped
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
12 hard-cooked eggs
1 recipe of chicken salad

Soften gelatin in cold water for 5 minutes and dissolve in boiling water. Cool. Add mayonnaise, lemon juice, salt, onion, green pepper, parsley, and 10 eggs, chopped. Cover bottom of mold with one inch of the mixture. Slice remaining eggs and arrange slices around side of mold. Add remaining mixture and chill until firm. Unmold on lettuce, fill center with chicken salad and garnish with salted almonds and tomato wedges. Serve with mayonnaise or french dressing.

Chicken Salad.

2 cups cooked, diced chicken
French dressing
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup diced celery
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon onion juice
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup shredded, toasted almonds

Marinate chicken in french dressing for an hour. Drain. Add remaining ingredients with just enough salad dressing to moisten. Season

Lynn Says:

Here's help to solve your gift
problems for the bride: Linen minimums include the following:
8 sheets, 6 pillowcases, 2 pairs blankets, 2 wool coverlets, 2 bath-mats, 8 bath towels, 2 face cloths
and 12 linen hand towels.

For the dining room, the bride
will need 2 dinner sets with 6 to 8
napkins, 3 breakfast or luncheon sets, 6 to 8 extra dinner napkins, 12 tea napkins, and 2 hot plate
mats.

If possible, the bride should have a set of 6 in each of the following pieces of china. If she expects to set up housekeeping on a larger scale, this list may be expanded to 8 or 12 pieces. China set includes: salad plates, soup
plates, cups and saucers, dinner plates, sauce dishes, bread-and-butter plates. For serving dishes the following are "musts": 1
large platter (for meat and vegetables), 1 covered dish, 2 open vegetable dishes, tea and coffee
pots, and sugar and creamers.

with salt and pepper to taste. Chill
well.

Make the reception a really memorable occasion by serving a beautiful Bride's salad, all fruity and creamy with the Egg Mold. Here's how to do it:

*Bride's Salad. (Serves 8)

1 large can pears
1 large can white cherries
 $\frac{1}{2}$  pound almonds
1 large can sliced pineapple
 $\frac{1}{2}$  pound marshmallows

Drain and cut fruits. Chop nuts and cut marshmallows with a wet scissors. Make the following cooked dressing:

Yolks of four eggs Juice of one lemon $\frac{1}{2}$ cup evaporated milk $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon mustard

Combine all ingredients and let cook over hot water until the mixture thickens. Cool. Fold in 2 cups whipped cream. Combine with fruit (well drained), add nuts and fold
in marshmallows. Place in a mold, in the refrigerator overnight. Serve surrounded with endive or lettuce.

Now, the cake for the reception!
This is a light butter cake, delicately flavored as befits the occasion:

*Bride's Cake.

$3\frac{3}{4}$  cups sifted cake flour
 $1\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoons double acting baking powder
 $1\frac{1}{4}$  cups butter
2 cups sugar

$1\frac{1}{4}$  cups egg whites, unbeaten
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon vanilla
 $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon almond extract

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually. Cream together until light
and fluffy. Add egg whites,  $\frac{1}{4}$
cup at a time,
beating three minutes after each addition. Add flour, a small amount at a time,
beating well after each addition. Add flavoring and beat vigorously. Turn into a 10-inch tube pan which has been greased and lined on the bottom, sides and around the tube with heavy, waxed paper. Bake in a slow (275-degree) oven 1 hour; then increase the heat slightly to 300 degrees, and bake 50 minutes longer, or until done. Insert favors, if desired, wrapping each in waxed paper, and pressing into small slits in the cake. Spread ornamental butter frosting smoothly on top and sides of cake. Decorate with simple borders and rosettes of the frosting, and trim with silver dragees.
Serve on silver tray or platter with delicate sprays of fern, cornos, or bridal wreath. Place special bridal favors on top of cake; or, tie small wedding bells or other favors to white ribbons and intertwine through sprays.

Ornamental Butter Frosting.

4 tablespoons butter
5 cups sifted confectioners sugar
2 egg whites, unbeaten
2 tablespoons cream (about)
 $1\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoons vanilla
 $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon salt

Cream butter; add part of sugar gradually, beating well after each addition. Add remaining sugar alternately with egg whites, then with cream, until of right consistency to spread. Beat after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla and salt.
Spread cake. Make rosettes and borders with frosting forced through the pastry tube. Makes enough frosting to cover the above cake
and to use for decorating.

Why Profile-Wise

Do you know why concert pianists always sit profile-wise to their audiences? Before the time of Franz Liszt, they either turned their backs to the audience or faced it over the instrument. But Liszt was so in love with his own handsome profile that he started the new style—which handsome and unhandsome artists have followed ever since.

Horace Greeley Disliked Being Disillusioned

Horace Greeley, famous editor of the old New York Tribune, was notoriously absent-minded. While he was at work at his desk, a water pipe might spring a leak over his head and drip down on him
for hours without his being in the least aware of it.
One cold Sunday morning, Mr.
Greeley stepped into the Tribune office after church. Taking off his boots, he sat down before one of the hot-air registers to warm his feet and read the papers.
After a while the janitor happened by and, seeing the boss
there, exclaimed: "There's no
heat coming up from downstairs,
Mr. Greeley. The boiler is being fixed."
The editor glowered at the man.
"You fool," he yelled. "What did you want to tell me that for? I was just getting nice and warm!"

J. Fuller Pep

By JERRY LINK

Talkin' to a fellow the other day, I couldn't help thinkin' that lots of folks claim they have an open mind when the fact o' the matter
is it's only vacant.
Which reminds me that if you really think straight about vitamins, you'll see why I keep tellin' folks about KELLOGG'S PEP. An' that's because this swell cereal is extra-rich in the two vitamins
most often short in ordinary meals
—B, and D. And believe me, PEP is a mighty slick-tasting cereal.
Why don't you try it tomorrow?
Kellogg's Pep
A delicious cereal that supplies per serving (1 oz.) the full minimum daily need of vitamin D; 1/4 the daily need of vitamin B<sub>1</sub>.

Casualty—1,000 miles from the enemy

ALMOST as fatal as a bullet or a shell is the breakdown in the spirit of a sailor or a soldier.

Our men have the finest spirit in the world. But it must be maintained in the American way.

They must not be made to feel that they are mere automatons, fighting machines, as the armed forces of the dictators have been made to feel.

Life in our navy and army is hard. Discipline is tough. It must be. But there also must be moments when the sailor or soldier is treated as Mr. Somebody-or-other.

That's where the USO comes in. For the USO is the banding together of six great agencies to serve one great purpose—to see that our boys in the camps and naval stations have a place to go, to turn to, a

"home away from home."

The duties of the USO have more than doubled
during the year. Its field of operations has enlarged to include almost the entire face of the globe.

To carry on its all-important work, it needs funds.
It needs your contribution. No matter how small your make that contribution, it needs it. Now.

You are beset by requests for help on all sides.
By all means, try to meet those requests. But among them, don't neglect the USO.

Send your contribution to your local USO committee, or to USO, National Headquarters, Empire
State Building, New York.

To The Public:

As is my way of keeping you informed of my actions, I wish to say that the reason it has been impossible for me to keep all roads in Commissioners Precinct No. 2, Dawson County, in the best condition recently is because most of the crew men and the grader is being used at the Glider School ground.

I am sure all of you will approve this action which is necessary and done from a patriotic motive only.
