Lesson for May 22

JACOB AND ESAU RECONCILED

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 33:1-11. GOLDEN TEXT—And he will kindle one another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you. PRIMARY TOPIC—Two Brothers End a Quarrel. JUNIOR TOPIC—Esau Forgives His Brother. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Lighting a Wrong. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Cultivating Peace at Home and Abroad.

From Bethel, Jacob went to Padanaram to his mother's people. Here he served Laban, his uncle, for twenty years; fourteen years for his wives, Leah and Rachel, and six years for certain wages.

I. Jacob Departs for Canaan (31:11-21).

The time had come for Jacob to go back to his kindred in the Land of Canaan. This he did according to the Lord's instruction to him (v. 13). Though going forward under divine direction, his Jacob nature caused him to take clandestine leave of Laban. When Laban realized the situation, he went in hot pursuit of him, but God appeared unto him in a dream and warned him against any act of violence toward Jacob. They formed a compact and Laban returned home.

II. Jacob's Experience on the Way (ch. 32).

Laban's return freed Jacob from the enemy who was pursuing him, but he faced a more formidable enemy in the person of Esau from whose wrath he had fled twenty years before.

1. Jacob meeting the angels (vv. 1-8).

Two camps of angels met him to give him the assurance that God would be with him according to promise. Notwithstanding, he continued to scheme. He sent a deputation before him with a message of good cheer to Esau.

2. Jacob praying (vv. 9-12). Esau made no reply to Jacob's message, but went forward with an army of four hundred strong to meet Jacob. In his distress, Jacob cast himself upon God in prayer, short, direct, and, and fervent.

He reminded God of his command issued for his return and also of the covenant promise (Gen. 31:3).

b. He pleads God's promise as to his personal safety (v. 9, cf. Gen. 28:20, 21, 22).

In praying to God we should definitely plead his promises in his Word on the ground of covenant relationship in Christ.

c. He confesses his unworthiness (v. 10).

In this is shown the proper spirit of humility.

d. He presents definite petitions (v. 11).

He laid before the Lord the definite request to be delivered from the wrath of Esau.

3. The angel of the Lord wrestling with Jacob (vv. 24-32, cf. Hos. 12:3, 4).

In God's school of discipline Jacob was making some improvement, but he was still under the sway of self-will and self-trust. Though he had laid the matter definitely before the Lord, he thought that his scheming would render God some assistance. Accordingly, he sent presents ahead to appease the anger of Esau.

As this journey a man met him and wrestled with him, but Jacob knew not who he was. He exerted every ounce of strength in what he thought was the struggle for his very life. The morning was approaching and still the wrestlers continued, Jacob not knowing that it was the Lord manifest in human form. He did not dare enter the promise-land until he had the control of his self-sufficiency. His self-will must be broken—his Jacob nature must be changed. He was humbled by the dislocation of his thigh. When thus humbled, he quit wrestling and clung to God.

4. Jacob gets a new name (v. 28).

He was no longer Jacob the "supplanter," but Israel, a "prince with God." Isaac had an experience at the Jabbock which wrought a mighty change in him. His new name was given him after he had a new nature. Jacob came to realize that he had been struggling with God, for he called the place "Peniel," which means "face to face with God." Jacob wrestled most of the night with God, but it was only when he yielded and laid hold of God that he got the blessing.

III. Jacob Meets Esau (33:1-11).

God had evident wrought with Esau for when Jacob approached him the sting of bitterness was gone. It was not Jacob's scheming that removed Esau's anger, but the action of God upon his heart. At Jabbock, Jacob got right with God, so when he met Esau it was an easy matter to get right with him. It is easy to get right with our brother when once we are right with God.

"There's a Death Message for This Man, we must catch him when he comes through here"

His mother had died suddenly. His family was perplexed about notifying him for he was "somewhere on the way to California." Just where, nobody knew.

They did know, however, he was motoring over a route selected by the Conoco Travel Bureau. So the death message was wired to Albuquerque, New Mexico, which was on that route.

The Continental office sent every Conoco station attendant in Albuquerque looking for the traveler. All day Conoco men asked motorists their names. And finally the right man was found, the message delivered to him. An unusual incident. Just one of many out-of-the-ordinary happenings, however, that have earned a Nation-wide reputation for the Conoco Travel Bureau and its services.

We do more than furnish road maps, help choose routes and supply other travel information. We look upon every Conoco Passport holder as a personal friend to be served in every way possible. Every Conoco station is a branch of the Conoco Travel Bureau, and Conoco attendant is the eler's well-informed friend. If you are planning a trip, write us when you want to go in convenient appointments any Conoco station. We'll send you a Conoco 1932 road map and travel information. This service is absolutely maintained for the American motorist. Continental.

A WORD TO A WISE PREACHER SHOULD BE SUFFICIENT

A local attorney, telling of a recent experience in which he had to listen to a speaker for over an hour, said the best illustration of a brief speech reckoned in dollars and cents was given by Mark Twain. His story was that when he had listened for five minutes to the preacher telling of the heathen, he wept, and was going to contribute $50. After 10 minutes another man paced the halls outside the Maternity Ward wringing his hands and worrying about the little life that was being ushered into the world.

The nurse came out of the door and said: "Everything is O. K. It's a dandy little girl."

"Thank God," the husband said, "she will never have to go through what I have gone through."

YES, and the supply of meat and related products stays at about the same level from year to year; this supply was no smaller in 1931 than in 1930.

Thus, in depression years, there is absolute need for a nation-wide, diversified, economical marketing system.

How Swift & Company, with such a system, marketed more pounds of products during 1931 than in 1930, despite low consumer purchasing power and at lower service cost, is told in the 1932 Year Book.

Thirty years ago this company deliberately set out to diversify by handling produce as well as meats. Now it has more than a hundred stations where eggs, poultry and dairy products are bought and processed. Swift & Company enhances demand for produce by advertising brands of high quality. Swift's Premium Milk-Fed Chicken, Golden West Poultry, Swift's Brookfield Butter, Eggs, Cheese and many other products.

Selling and buying on a national scale, the Swift & Company organization avoids the gluts and shortages characteristic of restricted markets. Being diversified, it spreads costs more thinly over all products; the same refrigerator cars are equipped to carry either meat or produce; the same branch houses handle them; the same salesmen take orders for both.

Read in the 1932 Year Book how this diversity helped to stabilize operations, to keep volume normal and to further reduce our marketing costs, already declared by the National Distribution Council in 1925 to be the lowest in seventeen trades studied.

The Year Book is packed with a hundred items of information about Swift & Company's nation-wide cash market. Ask your local Swift Produce Plant for a copy or use the coupon.

THE HIGH COST OF TAXATION

From all over the country we read and hear reports of a rising tide of protest against the high cost of government. National, state county, school, and local taxes have grown in the past ten years until the combined burden is more than most taxpayers can bear even in normal times and in these times of reduced incomes and poor business the tax has become intolerable.

Congress is trying to "balance the budget" by imposing more and higher taxes. Doubtless there will be some show of reducing government expenditures, but so far we have heard very little about those. It seems to us that should be the first point of attack, not the last. This country got along very well for a hundred years and more without trying to regulate everybody's business and teach everybody how to live. We think there are hundreds of millions of dollars literally wasted every year in federal bureaus which never would be missed if they were abolished entirely.

WHAT A DIFFERENCE A FEW YEARS MAKE

Fred met Dick on their way to the store on morning.

"Gosh," said Fred, "how did you hurt your eye?"

"It was done by a man whose wedding I attended as best man," Dick replied. "Just because I kissed the bride."

"But it's the custom for the best man to kiss the bride."

Dick put his hand to the injured eye.

"Yes, I know it is," he replied. "But this was five years after the ceremony."
