MORE and BETTER COTTON

Sore shin or "Damping-off" is a touchy subject with many a cotton grower. It is hard to understand why your small seedlings should partly or completely die soon after they have come up. And it seems strange that this should happen in what ought to be your better soils -- the heavy soils and those rich in organic content.

Because it happens most often in cool, damp weather, you may blame the bad weather when sore shin attacks your seedlings. Actually this is caused by fungi or bacteria that live in your soil, or in or on your seed. Cold and moisture cause these fungi to thrive at your expense.

A change to warm, sunny weather, sometimes stops an attack of sore shin. It's much better, however, to prevent the disease before you plant your crop. Treatment of cotton seed with an organic mercury disinfectant has been proved to stop most losses from sore shin as well as losses from seed rot. This treatment kills the disease fungi on and in the seeds and protects both seeds and seedlings as they come up.

You can treat your seeds yourself, or have the job done for you. In either case the chemical costs less than 10¢ per acre, which is about one-fiftieth the cost of replanting. The County Agent can tell you more about the value of seed treatment and where you can get treated cotton or your own cotton treated for you.

President Truman Asks for Unity As Nation Builds Up Armed Might; U. N. Forces Continue to Pull Back

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

With food prices near the all-time high of July, 1948, which was nearly 217.3 per cent of the 1935-39 average, the government drafted a 30-day moratorium on all prices increased. The chart above traces the food price spiral. The moratorium was delayed by disagreement within the government's economic-control organization.

TRUMAN: Drops Fair Deal

President Truman opened his "State of the Union" message to congress with the words "our country is in a healthy condition." From that point he stressed strength and unity in the face of Communist aggression throughout the world.

One of the remarkable points of the President's message was his apparent willingness to drop his much debated Fair Deal program—for the time being—in order to get on with the business of building up the free world's ability to wage "a full-scale war against Russia," if such conflict becomes necessary.

Mr. Truman's plea for unity was impressive and undoubtedly won him some new friends in a hostile congress. "I ask the congress for unity . . . I do not ask, or expect, unanimity . . . Let us debate the issues, but let every man among us weigh his words and deeds," he said.

Many legislators called the President's speech conciliatory. And despite certain routine political sharpshootings which some Republicans indulged in after his address, it was obvious that the opposition party was affected favorably by his effort to find unity of purpose.

It seems likely that an era of greater co-operation and political peace is in store for the 82nd congress than could have been hoped for a few months ago. The people along the main streets of America may at least see swift and vital decisions made to meet the crisis.

It was also evident from the President's speech that on one point he would not give an inch. He stood unyielding on the issue of military co-operation with western Europe.

The Program

President Truman outlined a 10-point legislative program in his "State of the Union" message to congress:

1. Appropriations for the armed forces build-up.
2. Extension and revision of the draft law, presumably to induct 18-year-olds and extend the draft term from 21 to 27 or 30 months.
3. Military and economic aid to the rest of the free world.
4. Revision and extension of his authority to expand production and control wages, prices, and rents.
5. Improvement of the agricultural laws to help "obtain the kinds of farm products we need for the defense effort." This might include a direct subsidy to farmers to keep from setting farm price ceilings at less than parity.
6. Improvement of labor laws to "help provide stable labor-management relations" and assure "steady" production.
7. Housing and training of defense workers and "the full use of all our man-power resources."
8. Legislation to increase the supply of doctors, nurses, and other medical personnel.
9. Federal aid to the States for elementary and secondary education.
10. A "major increase" in taxes.

UNITED NATIONS

U. S. Seeks to Brand China Aggressor

Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb told the United Nations that his country was not yet ready for a final decision on American demands for U.N. condemnation of Red China as an aggressor. He held the U.N. that to "look well before you leap is a wise maxim in foreign affairs. If we do leap, we should all leap together."

There was an undertone to Jebb's

A-Bomb

Atomic energy commission chairman, Gordon Dean (above), reported recently the Russians do have the atomic bomb. He made the announcement during a news conference in which he told newsmen that the government will have to cut down its development of atomic energy for peacetime uses because of the international situation.

KOREA: Pattern Repeated

The pattern of the Korean conflict continued to repeat itself. Following the January 1 attack by Chinese and North Korean Communists on United Nations forces south of the 38th parallel, a general retreat to the south and the old Pusan beachhead continued. The retreat was along the old "Heartbreak Highway" down which Americans and South Koreans first retreated before the North Korean invaders last July.

Although Communist casualties were reported heavy, the Reds continued to attack and push southward.

It seemed unlikely that United Nations forces would be able to establish a line short of the Pusan beachhead. What would happen after that is anyone's guess.

Some military leaders believe U.N. troops will be able to stand off Communist thrusts with the aid of U.S. fleet guns. It seemed unlikely, however, that a counter-offensive could be launched for months.

It was obvious to every observer that the position of U.N. troops in Korea was steadily growing worse. And there was no indication that their position would get better.

FARMING: Some Curbs Lifted

The government removed all restrictions on production of wheat and corn for 1951 in an effort to maintain safe reserves of these vital bread and livestock feed grains under the national emergency.

The only crops still under production controls are some types of tobacco, peanuts and rice. It is possible that restrictions may be eased on peanuts and rice.

The action came too late for additional planting of winter wheat but is expected to increase spring wheat planting which makes up 30 per cent of the nation's crop.

Farm experts predicted that the unlimited corn acreage would increase the nation's meat supply by at least three pounds per person this year. There was enough meat available in 1950 to supply each person with 145 pounds.

RURAL HEALTH

Small Town Ingenuity Improving Health Condition in Farm Areas

More than 18,000 accidental deaths per year occur among farming people in the United States. Farming is the most dangerous occupation a man can enter, even more dangerous than mining, lumbering or construction.

Farmers have all the illnesses of city folks but in addition they have this special problem. That's one reason why farm areas have a special need of doctors and hospital facilities. And, according to the Health Information Foundation, rural areas, largely because of the ingenuity and initiative of their citizens are making it possible for doctors to bring the benefits of good medical care to these communities.

The availability of medical assistance in rural areas, the Foundation points out, is at a level never before reached, because of the telephone, the automobile, improved highways and a vastly stepped-up hospital construction program. But in addition, many communities which never before had quick access to the best diagnostic equipment and skilled medical assistance now enjoy these advantages, because they actively sought them.

"Some of the methods by which individual rural communities have achieved this level of medical efficiency," says Admiral W. H. P. Blandy, U.S.N. (Ret.), president of the Foundation, "are a tribute to American ingenuity and cooperation."

Admiral Blandy, who commanded the joint army-navy force which conducted the atomic bomb tests at Bikini, said that where the chief problem has been the lack of a doctor, citizens have banded together to create conditions which would attract a young physician. In other communities both a doctor and a clinic or hospital have been needed and in such cases it has been possible to raise funds to erect community-owned facilities offering the necessary equipment for the practice of medicine in its most modern form.

TYPICAL OF SUCH endeavors by the admiral was the hospital built in Ennis, Mont., by the people of the community. In order to attract a doctor to head the new hospital, the town arranged for suitable living quarters for the physician and his family, and raised the money for both the hospital building and equipment.

In this particular case, before the building and equipping of the hospital was an accomplished fact, an automobile accident caused six patients to be brought to the unfinished facility. Citizens turned from fund raising tasks to gathering the necessary beds and other equipment to care for the patients. Fortunately, the doctor had arrived some time before and had set up practice in the town. Previous to his arrival, Ennis had been five years without a doctor.

VIRGINIA MAYO, on location at Lone Pine, Calif., for "The Travelers," suggested a picnic when some friends from Hollywood came to visit. The party, which included her husband, Michael O'Shea, drove as far as possible into the High Sierra country, then walked for several miles. Starving hungry, they settled down for lunch. But—nobody had brought the buns to go with the hot dogs, they couldn't find any wood that would burn, and a swarm of gnats moved in. They returned to Lone Pine and a restaurant.

Ronald Reagan, who broke his leg in a charity baseball game last year, figures that it cost him $100,000 on salaries he didn't earn while waiting for it to heal. But come spring he figures he'll be playing baseball again.

Kathi Norris, fast-rising NBC television star, was bowled over when her husband, producer Wilbur Stark, showed her an eight-foot shopping bag a fan had sent her. She couldn't think what to do with it. Daughter Pamela, aged five, solved the problem. The shopping bag, turned upside down, became a wigwag. Then Kathi had to dash out and buy her an Indian suit!

Actors who want to travel should sign with the two Bills—Pine and Thomas. All their 1951 pictures will be made on location. "Crosswinds" with John Payne and Rhonda Fleming, is set in Florida. "Hong Kong" will be made in China. "The Rebel" will take a troupe to four mid-western states. "High Tension" is a railroad story; that company will ride about 10,000 miles on railroads.

Charlie Learns the Hard Way by Meeting a Six-Year-Old

By BILLY ROSE

Last night, in the mood for conversation and kartoffelklase, I went a-calling on my Aunt Frieda and my Uncle Charlie.

"Your uncle, he ain't home," said Frieda as I walked into their Allen Street flat. "He is having a nervous break-up, and Dr. Gittle-dral is in the Pines."

"What brought it on?" I asked.

"Well, is like this," said Frieda. "A couple weeks before Groundhog Day—you should pardon the expression—is coming home your uncle and announcing he is becoming a baby sitter. Every Monday night, he says, the Lernerers on Rivington Street is going to the theatre uptown, and Mrs. Lerner is offering him a dollar a hour and free television if he will sit with their little six-year-old boy, Wilbur."

"Well, when Charlie is coming home the first Monday night I am naturally asking him for the five dollars, but he is telling me he ain't got it. He and Wilbur, he says, is watching the wrestling on the television and betting a dollar who will win, and the little boy in winning five times consecutive."

"NEXT MONDAY, Charlie is again losing the five dollars. This time is baseball. He is betting on the Brooklyn, and the dumbhead, he is not knowing what Wilbur is knowing—that Jackie Robinson is not playing on account of because he has a busted hand."

THE LAST STRAW

By Lula W. Kellams

IN THEIR EARLIER married years Flora and Ralph Wilson were an ideal couple. Both were handsome and jolly, with identical tastes and friends. But, as they grew older, Flo matured, while Ralph tried to stay boyish and frisky.

"Why not act your age?" she often asked wistfully. "We have such a lovely, comfortable home for middle aged folks. Our department store is dignified enough for older management. You don't have to keep up a front."

Ralph would chuckle. "Not jealous of your old man, are you, baby? No foolin', I don't show the years a bit, do I?"

"It's not honest," Flo contended. "Everyone recognizes middle age when he sees it. Anyone can recognize a toupee."

But she knew when to hush. They mustn't quarrel over trifles. Of course, she didn't think this growing breach in their ages was a trifle, but Ralph did.

Every day she felt more strongly that something must be done to preserve their marriage; and every day she could think of no possible solution.

One morning she said, "I—I don't feel like going to the store, dear. I'm sure Miss Gray can manage alone. There is housecleaning and things to do here."

"Okay, dear," Ralph agreed readily, kissing her good-bye.

Fear stabbed Flo. Why did he agree so hastily? Why didn't he ask her what was wrong? She had an impulse to change her mind and go. But tears and self-pity were aching in her eyes and throat.

"Funniest thing happened," Ralph said. "When I took off my hat my toupee came off, too."

To conceal her feelings, she said briskly, "Wear this old hat, dear. I want to send that one to the cleaner's."

"But it's so shabby and it doesn't fit well."

Stubbornly Flo held out the old straw hat until he donned it reluctantly, leaving his soft gray felt on a chair. She refused to watch him swagger off, whistling like their son Danny when he was a college freshman.

Tears blurred her vision while she picked up things and cleaned and swept. Wasn't there something that would save their marriage, something like taking reducing exercises, or turning kittenish?

The idea was revolting. She had no heart to compete with their three young daughters. If—if she had just begun years ago trying to remain glamorous instead of turning into a mother, maybe things would have worked out better.

BY NOON, she felt less frustrated. She even hummed while she whipped up Ralph's favorite cake and cooked pot roast. If she had an especially appetizing supper, and the children were in jubilant mood, maybe Ralph would see how well off he was. Maybe, just once, he would forget his diet.

At 5:05 the children called saying they had to stay for play practice. Flo's spirit drooped. Would Ralph call, too, pretending that business detained him, leaving her alone in the dark, silent house?

She waited with apprehension. At 6:15 sharp she heard the car stop, then Ralph's step on the porch. "Supper ready, Mom?" he called. Dead gripped Flo. He'd called her mom instead of baby, or dear. Just one day's staying home made her seem old-fashioned to him!

He strode into the living-room. "Mom, you're looking at a successful man! Today I landed that fat Atkinson account. Mr. Kimley, their new buyer, said I looked like a settled, respectable business man."

He chuckled at Flo's astonished face. "Funniest thing happened. Remember how tight that old straw hat was? Well, the minute I took it off in front of that flippy Miss Gray and the office force, they all started giggling. My toupee came off too, so I glared—like I meant to look fifty, instead of thirty. It's a wonderful feeling of relief. What's for supper, Mom?"

"Pot roast and your favorite cake, Dad!" As they marched in to supper, arm in arm, Flo just knew that there never had been such a lovely bald head as her husband's.

Without Painful Backache
As we get older, stress and strain, overwork, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slow down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.
If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 60 years. While these symptoms may also otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

BIG FOUR:

Conference Plan
Some weeks ago the United States, Britain, and France proposed that another big four conference be held in an effort to settle the many pressing world problems. After long weeks of waiting, the Russians replied.

Officials would not reveal just what was in the Kremlin reply. It was evident, however, that the western powers were disappointed and that a big-four meeting was not closer than when it was first proposed.

It was believed that Russia was not prepared for any unqualified discussion of the many galling points of friction between the western democracies and the totalitarian Soviet system.

It was also rumored that Russia wanted the western powers to accept the Prague declaration which served notice that the Communist led nations of eastern Europe would not tolerate rearmament of western Germany.

Russia was also reported to have taken the stand that Communist China would be represented before any discussion of the explosive situation in the far east could be undertaken.

No one in his right mind could believe that the United States would accept any of the conditions. Thus the conclusion that a big four conference is not likely in the near future.

ACHESON:

Production and Faith
Secretary of State Dean Acheson gave the United States a prescription for 1951—"production and faith."

Acheson, in a radio interview, said we have the power to retaliate against any aggressor who attacks us and our friends and that power cannot be overlooked.
"We expect to make ourselves respected and to deter aggression," he said.

"The prescription which we need today is the prescription which Mr. Churchill gave to England in 1940—blood and toil, sweat and tears—and may I add, faith—faith in our country, faith that the great task before us can be done and that it will be done."

Acheson's statement was remarkable in that he echoed a growing belief throughout the country. Americans who had been described as frightened and frustrated in 1950 seemed to be settling down quickly to a new year of sacrifice and determination.

The last few months have been called America's darkest hour, but they may be even darker before the United States is fully rearmament and ready to face its enemies.

TRAFFIC:

A War at Home
While American troops were being killed in Korea, Americans at home slaughtered themselves on the highways during the Christmas and New Year's holidays.

Complete tabulations were not complete for the New Year's holiday, but during Christmas there were 724 violent deaths in the United States, 545 of them in traffic mishaps.

The accident rate was more than 100 above the number of persons killed in traffic accidents during the 1949 Christmas holiday. The 1950 toll almost equaled the record of 555 set in 1936.

In the city of Los Angeles alone there were 11 traffic deaths, 900 injured, and a total of 1,084 accidents. It was significant to note that police in that city charged 352 persons with driving while intoxicated and another 1,222 were charged with drunkenness.

Only one state—South Dakota—escaped without a single reported fatality that could be attributed to the Christmas observance.

Witness

Mrs. Ann Moos Remington, ex-wife of former commerce official, William Remington, testified in federal court that seven years ago Remington turned over "top secret" explosives formulas to confessed spy Elizabeth Bentley for transmission to Russia. Remington is being tried for perjury.

MARSHALL:

Let's Go Easy
Secretary of Defense George Marshall warned the nation in the closing days of 1950 to go easy, that "a too rapid attempt at mobilization was apt to delay the ultimate speed" of rearmament.

Marshall said that there is "a tendency to feel that the more rapidly we appropriate billions and the more rapidly men are called into service, the safer we will be." That isn't true, he explained.

MIRROR Of Your MIND Can You Make A Fresh Start?
By Lawrence Gould

Can you really "make a fresh start"?

Answer: No. The "1951" on the calendar does not make you a different person from what you were yesterday, or alter the fact that you will be the same person tomorrow. Nor does the New Year wice out the fact that it was you who last year did the things you now wish you had not done. If you want to build a future better than the past—and you can do it!—the materials you will have to work with are the same as ever. But you can find wiser, more effective ways to use them. And if you do, you will have a Happy New Year.

conscious inner conflict such as your yearning for someone or something that you feel you "have no right to." Only the surface material of dreams comes from current experiences or emotions—basically, they are ways of gratifying secret wishes.

Do the stars really "twinkle"?

Answer: No, their light is constant and invariable. But the long-accepted theory that atmospheric changes are what make them scintillate has been challenged by two British ophthalmologists, Drs. Hart-ridge and Weale. They say their experiments have shown that when we watch a light of medium brightness, unless we are concentrating on some detailed pattern, our eyes do not remain stationary, so that the image of the light falls now on one part of the retina and now on another. This causes "apparent fluctuation in both brightness and color."

Will loving a person make you dream about him?

Answer: Not in itself. No matter how dearly you love someone from whom you are separated, the song-writers are mistaken in assuming that you can console yourself by being "with him in your dreams." You'll dream of a loved one only if he symbolizes for you some uncon-

KEEPING HEALTHY
Hypochondriasis Is Overanxiety

By Dr. James W. Barton

WHILE STILL in my teens, I visited the uncle of a young friend. The uncle looked well, and the doctor said he was well, and yet he seemed to have so many things wrong with him. He had headaches, pains in the stomach and abdomen, was unable to sleep, had excessive perspiration and was unable to work. I chatted with him for a few minutes and after explaining his symptoms at length, he told me he was a hypochondriac, full of ailments and yet with nothing really the matter with him.
"I know I've got something wrong with me because I have a family to support and my relatives are supporting them. If I could be free of my ailments, I'd go to work," he said.

In American Practice, Dr. John M. Lyon, Denver, Colorado, states that the treatment of the average patient with hypochondriasis is a difficult task. The first step in the treatment is an attempt to find or understand the causes of the symptoms. Hypochondriasis seems to be a psychological reaction that occurs when a person is unable to meet the competitiveness of everyday life, is loaded with more responsibilities than he can carry, or is faced with failure in a situation where he feels he should succeed. It is impossible for most people to admit that they can't take it, so an excuse must be found.

Failure to achieve success and happiness can be excused if a person is sick and this is the emotional trap in which the hypochondriac is caught or allows himself to be caught. He believes he is sick and knows that he cannot be accused of malingering (pretending to be sick). Those who fall into this trap are individuals who have a life-long habit of meeting stress situations with body reactions such as a timely accident or illness.

Just as Jesus in Galilee was always on the side of those who were beaten and battered by sin and evil, but still fighting, so now the ever-living Christ is always on the side of those who in their hearts desire good and not evil, cleanness and not dirt, truth and not lies.

HEALTH NOTES

There are more elderly men and women in the world today than any other single age class.

Vitamins act as joiners of food cells to make each cell do its utmost work.

Geriatrics is the treatment of the diseases of old age.

A person with damaged heart may live long and happily. He must learn to recognize the difference between immediate and later danger.

Old age is afflicted with all the ailments of other age groups but lacks the energy to withstand these ailments.

A patient may stand several attacks of coronary thrombosis.

SCRIPTURE: Mark 1:40-3:12
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalm 123

The Good Must Fight

Lesson for January 21, 1951

YOU WOULD think that if ever there arrived on this planet a really good person, he would be popular with everybody. People are tired of meanness, they are sick of being lied to and cheated. They are tired of the sins of others, even tired of their own. So if a really good person should appear, one in whom was no shadow, completely transparent to the Eternal Light, wouldn't everyone flock to him, wouldn't he have the human race in the palm of his hand, as it were, in a short time?

Dr. Foreman

Agelong War

THE ANSWER is No. It is not well to be too optimistic about human nature. As a matter of fact, some of the best persons history has known met some of the bitterest opposition. Indeed, when one came who was completely good, whose life was all light and no shadow, he was no better treated and no more warmly welcomed than less good persons have been.

Jesus Christ had his enemies, strong and well-organized, the number of those who believed in him was comparatively small; the number who did not believe or ignored him altogether, was enormous.

The history of mankind is the history of a war, the age long war between good and evil, between God and his enemies. The story of Jesus is one chapter in this history, the most important by far, but by no means the first one or the last.

Why Was Jesus Hated?

THE READER should examine the record in the Gospels and try to think for himself who opposed Jesus, and why they did so. One striking fact is that Jesus' enemies were not what we call the "lower classes," much less the "criminal classes." His enemies were rather from out of the top drawer, as we might say. They were the financial, social and religious leaders of his time. They finally got him executed as a criminal.

If there had never been any one to contradict the records of the Sanhedrin, that high court of Jerusalem, and those records had become recognized as the truth, Jesus would have gone down in history, if remembered at all, as a trouble-maker, a lawless and worthless man, whose execution was a protection to society.

Why were these leading men, Jesus' "distinguished" contemporaries, so wrong about Jesus?

"As he is, so are we..."

THE READER should think this out for himself. One reason can be mentioned here: It is very easy for wrong to be so long accepted and so strongly entrenched that it is universally taken for right. Then when the right comes along, especially when in the form of an idea suggested by some one not of the upper crust, it actually seems to be wrong. People kept long in a dark room find light painful!

Any one who tries to follow Jesus will find himself up against the same sort of opposition.

Any one who proposes to live as Jesus lived, or to change our accustomed patterns of society in the direction which Jesus pointed out, will be called (as he was) a crackpot, a dreamer, an impractical fellow who does not know enough to go in when it rains.

Our Divine Alliance

CONSIDER one example of this. A Christian who makes up his mind to dedicate his body a "living sacrifice" to God, and therefore not to handicap himself with the drug of alcohol, is certain, in many places, to be considered a sort of crank. It is not that people will laugh at him, though they will: people will be angry with him for his stand. They will do all they can to make him break his pledge.

Instead of admiring a clean and free life, many people are not content unless they can soil that cleanness and break down that freedom. So to stand for Christ in any aspect of life is not easy. But we need to remember we fight no lonely fight; our cause is not forlorn. Just as Jesus in Galilee was always on the side of those who were beaten and battered by sin and evil, but still fighting, so now the ever-living Christ is always on the side of those who in their hearts desire good and not evil, cleanness and not dirt, truth and not lies.

Improved Seed Flat

An idea that might be useful when growing next spring's plants is the seed box with removable sides as shown in the above illustration.

The sides are nailed together and attached to the bottom by means of hooks and screw-eyes. When the plants are large enough to be transplanted from the flat, the sides are unhooked and lifted up from the bottom, the soil with the plants in it remaining undisturbed on the bottom board. The plants are then easily separated and pulled up. When ready to use again, the sides are hooked to the bottom, and the flat filled with new soil. Very little root disturbance will result when the small plants are cut from the mass of soil with earth clinging to their roots.

The Great Teacher

Lesson for January 28, 1951

WE HEAR a lot about a "better world." God pity the poor fool who thinks the world as it is, is all right! And may God stab awake those who are afraid to try to make this world better. If you want to see a group of people who are not afraid, and are really working at this, go to your nearest Sunday school. There you will find teachers of religion. They may be doing a good job or a poor one; but anyhow they are trying. And when one of these teachers succeeds, even a little, in what they are all trying to do, the world has already been made a little better.

Greatest of Teachers
EVERY Sunday school teacher, or any other sort, for that matter, should study the methods of Jesus to see what good teaching can be. He is and will always be THE Teacher.

His object was not to teach science or history. The only technique he taught was the most important of all—the technique of fine living. His object was to teach "what we are to believe concerning God, and what duties God requires of man."

In short, his subjects were Faith and Life, not separately but welded into one.

Down Where We Live

HIS method was always simple. He did not use long words, he did not "put his hay on such a high shelf that only intellectual giraffes could reach it," as Billy Sunday expressed it. Common people heard him gladly, because he taught in the kind of language they used, he spoke of things that were familiar to them.

So the good teacher today never teaches over the heads of the class. This means he has to have a good imagination, has to make believe to himself that he is one of the class instead of the teacher. He has to remember how the world looked to him when he was a boy, he has to stay young in heart.

Jesus could surely have taught more profoundly than he did. Indeed, he said at the end of his days, "I have many things to say . . . but ye cannot bear them now." However true a thing might be, he would not say it if his hearers were not ready for it.

Truth in Pictures
THEN Jesus taught in pictures; we call them parables. The best-loved and remembered parts of his teachings are the stories he told. Every one of them was simple; they were about the kinds of people his listeners knew or had often heard of.

The good teacher will always use illustrations. But the best ones will come right out of the experience of the pupils. Jesus never quoted from a book his hearers had not read. He never used illustrations that only a Ph.D. could understand. Furthermore, he never tried to teach two things at once.

A teacher, looking over a Sunday school lesson, may find it full of suggestive ideas; but it is generally better to pick out one truth and illustrate it in several ways, as Jesus did when speaking of the Kingdom of God, than it is to try to bring out everything that could be brought out, and so confusing the class.

Making Them Think
NOW some teachers, trying to be simple, succeed only in being dull. The good teacher must keep the class awake, otherwise no one can learn anything. There is a good motto which might be borrowed by all Sunday school teachers: "Nothing that is not interesting; not everything that is interesting; nothing merely because it is interesting."

Jesus gained attention and interest in various ways. One was the "cryptic" nature of his teaching; that is, it was often puzzling. There was often something that sent listeners away thinking: Now what did he mean by that?

Confucius once remarked: "I give my pupil one corner of an idea. If he cannot get the other three corners for himself, I do not want him for my pupil." So Jesus often gave out one corner of a truth and let his hearers (and ourselves!) wrestle out the other three.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Black Bean Soup Starts a Fine Dinner (See Recipes Below)

Savory Soups
NOTHING IS SO delightful and cozy on a blustery day than the soup pot simmering merrily on the range. It's a sight to warm the heart and tantalize the appetite.

Those appetites which have every appearance of never being satisfied can be appeased nicely with a first course of soup, hot, hearty and well-seasoned. On a busy day when you're almost too rushed to prepare a big meal, serve a chowder with crusty bread, crisp salad and fruit from the canning cupboard.

FOR DINNERS at which you entertain, it's easy to give a party-like atmosphere with easily made-in-advance soup, such as this black bean soup served with a slice of lemon:

- *Black Bean Soup (Serves 8)
- 1 cup dried black beans
  - 1 quart cold water
  - 1/2 small onion, sliced
  - 1 stalk celery broken in pieces or 1/4 teaspoon celery salt
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - Few grains pepper
  - Few grains mustard
  - Few grains cayenne
  - 1 tablespoon butter
  - 1 teaspoon flour
  - Juice 1 lemon
  - 1/2 lemon thinly sliced

Soak beans overnight. Drain and add cold water. Cook onion 5 minutes with half the butter and add to beans. Add celery, simmer 3 or 4 hours or until beans are soft, adding more water as water boils away. Rub through sieve. Reheat to boiling point. Add lemon juice and well-mixed seasonings. Bind with remaining butter and flour cooked together. Garnish with lemon.

- Oyster Bisque (Serves 4 to 5)
- 2 tablespoons butter
  - 1 cup finely minced celery
  - 2 tablespoons flour
  - 1 pint cream
  - 1 pint stewing oysters
  - Salt, paprika
  - Chopped parsley

Clean oysters, chop very fine. Reserve oyster liquor. Simmer celery and butter in double boiler until tender. Blend in flour. Add cream and seasonings, stirring well. When ready to serve, add oysters, oyster liquor, and parsley. Heat thoroughly, do not cook.

- Navy Bean Soup (Serves 8 to 10)
- 2 cups navy beans
  - 3 quarts cold water
  - 1 ham bone
  - 1/2 teaspoon sugar
  - 1 large onion, chopped
  - 1 stalk celery, chopped

Soak navy beans overnight in cold water. Then add ham bone, sugar, onion and celery. Simmer 4 to 5 hours until beans are soft. Dilute with water or milk and season. (Put whole beans through sieve and thicken slightly with flour and water, if desired.) Serve hot.

- Spiced Tomato Bouillon (Serves 10 to 12)

LYNN SAYS: Increase Leftover Appeal By Artful Service

Slices of leftover tongue placed on pieces of split, hot cornbread then topped with hot mushroom soup make a delicious entree.

It's easy to make a casserole by placing sliced potatoes in a greased casserole and topping with ground, cooked meat. Pour over all a thin cream sauce, seasoned with grated onion, then cheese. Cover and bake until potatoes are tender, about 45 minutes.

- Savory Fish Soup (Serves 6 to 8)
- 1 1/2 pounds white fish
  - 1 quart water
  - 1 onion, chopped
  - 1 clove garlic, chopped
  - 3 tablespoons butter
  - 1 cup canned tomatoes
  - 2 tablespoons parsley flakes
  - 6 cloves
  - 1 bay leaf
  - Pinch of saffron
  - 1/4 teaspoon white pepper
  - 1/2 cup heavy cream
  - Salt to taste

Cut up the fish and cook in quart of boiling water for 10 minutes. Sauté the chopped onion and garlic in the butter to a light brown, then add the fish. Next add the tomatoes, 1 tablespoon parsley flakes, cloves, bay leaf, saffron and pepper. Cook over a slow fire for 30 minutes. Strain in soup. Season with salt, slowly add heavy cream, simmer for 10 minutes more, and serve with parsley flakes and slices of toasted bread.

- Clam Chowder with Tomatoes (Serves 8)
- 1 quart clams
  - 3-inch cube fat salt pork
  - 1 sliced onion
  - 1/2 cup cold water
  - 4 cups potatoes, cut in 3/4-inch cubes
  - 2 cups boiling water
  - 1 cup stewed and strained tomatoes
  - 1/4 teaspoon soda
  - 1 cup scalded milk
  - 1 cup scalded cream
  - 2 tablespoons butter
  - 8 soda crackers
  - Salt and pepper

Cook pork with onion and cold water 10 minutes; drain and reserve liquor. Wash clams and reserve liquor. Parboil potatoes 5 minutes and drain. To potatoes add reserved liquors, hard part of clams, finely chopped, and boiling water. When potatoes are nearly done, add tomatoes, soda, soft part of clams, milk, cream, and butter. Season with salt and pepper. Split crackers, soak in cold milk to moisten, and reheat in chowder.

Here's a new trick of meat loaf on the second or third day: slice loaf thin and spread with seasoned, mashed potatoes. Bake in moderate oven until meat and potatoes are heated through.

Chopped leftover meat can be added to plain fritter batter. Drop by spoonfuls into deep hot lard (350°) and fry until golden brown. Never discard small bits of chopped ham, crumbled sausage or bacon. Add them to beaten eggs before scrambling or to souffles for appetizing meat flavor.

Lamb roast makes wonderful sandwiches for luncheon. Spread a slice of bread with mint jelly, top with slices of lamb and season with salt and pepper. Top with a buttered slice of bread.

How Flighty!
"How old should you say she is?"
"Oh, somewhere in the middle flirties!"

Teenager Gets Appetite Back; Thanks Hadacol

HADACOL Supplies Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Niacin and Iron Which Her System Lacked.

According to Sara Loraine Beck, Box 253, Coker, Alabama, when a person is only 15 years old and feels terrible, can't eat or sleep the way they should, it's mighty bad. That is the way Loraine says she used to feel, but that was, of course, before she started taking HADACOL. Loraine found that taking HADACOL helped her system overcome deficiencies in Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Niacin and Iron, which HADACOL contains.

Here is Loraine Beck's own statement: "I was run-down, sick and skinny, and weighed only 90 pounds before I used HADACOL. I would not eat because I had no appetite. Now I weigh 123 pounds and have an appetite. I feel a lot better. I have been taking HADACOL 10 months and am still taking it. I am 15 years old. HADACOL has done me lots of good."
