Tufares Asks Voters to Return Him to State Legislature

Deno Tufares, 36-year-old Wichita Falls insurance agent, is seeking election as state representative, Place 1, 81st District.

Tufares has taken leave of absence from Combined American Insurance company to make the campaign. Following is his platform and formal campaign notice.

"At a time when honesty is of prime importance in the State Legislature, when careful handling of state finances is needed, the voters of Wichita county need a representative they can depend upon. When an elected official winds up in the penitentiary for accepting bribes, then it is time for the voters to carefully scrutinize their candidates. The voters must put into office a representative who is not only capable, experienced, willing to work hard for fair legislation, willing to represent the views of all rather than a select few; they must elect a representative who is honest above everything else.

"As early as 1951, I realized that our State Government was lacking in economy and efficiency. I introduced a bill to set up a committee to streamline our Texas government for more honesty, efficiency and economy. This bill was killed in committee just before the close of the session. By my not being there the past six years, this idea was completely overlooked by members of the legislature. Now that the deficit is staring us in the face, and corruption has been proven, the legislature is now ready to act. They should have acted seven years ago when I stood on the floor of the House of Representatives and told them that this was coming.

"I have fought and worked hard to keep honesty in our government and corruption out. I will continue to actively work to accomplish this. My record in the legislature bears this out.

"Many friends have continuously urged me to run again for the State Legislature because of my past record and willingness to tackle a problem no matter what the obstacles may be. I have long been known as a fighter.

"In 1948 when I was seeking to represent you as your State Representative, I walked and hitchhiked to make my campaign. You good and wonderful people elected me to represent you in the State Legislature from 1949 until January 1953. For the past six years, I have been in the business field, as an insurance agent, as a teacher and coach in the Holiday Public School system, as an Instructor for the U.S. Air Force, afterwards devoting all my time to the insurance field.

"I believe we should have stronger Insurance Laws so as to protect the policy holder, stock holder, insurance companies, and the State of Texas itself. Stronger laws will enable the Insurance Commission to come in and clamp down on these companies before they are in the red rather than waiting until it's too late. Further, the State Insurance Commission should be elected instead of appointed so that it will not be the political football it now is. It should be as strong as the Railroad Commission in its regulatory powers.

"The deficit now facing us could be relieved somewhat by equalizing our present tax structure. Oil should not carry the burden. I favor a severance tax on timber, salt, fuller's earth and other natural resources which are not paying any part of the tax burden.

"I do not favor an increase in the omnibus tax bill which embraces general taxes. The omnibus tax is now carrying the entire burden of the State.

"I do intend to work diligently for more economy. There is a lot of waste and overlapping in our State Departments. Additional study would be required to determine where cutbacks could be made. We can, however, save the State money.

"I do intend to do all within my power to make Midwestern a State University. This would enable a great number of our young people to attend college that they normally would not have.

Reflections from the Bible
By Ray Marcum, Minister
Iowa Park Church of Christ

Repentance has been God's universal requirement for every transgressor through the ages. In Noah's day, as Noah preached to a rebellious race, prior to the flood his subject was "Repent or Perish." They who did not repent did perish. In Jonah's day it was the same. Had it not been for the repentance of Nineveh, Nineveh would have perished. Time and time again, the prophets of the Old Testament brought Israel back from the wandering course its feet had pursued by the preaching of repentance.

The New Testament age is ushered in by the preaching of John the Baptist in the wilderness: "Repent ye for the kingdom of Heaven is at hand." John's preaching on the subject of repentance was so strong that it was said of him that he preached "a baptism" of repentance for the remission of sins.

When Luke came to sum up the lifetime of Jesus, he said, "Thus it is written, that thus it behooved Christ to suffer, and to arise from the dead the third day; that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations; beginning at Jerusalem."

On the day of Pentecost, when the kingdom of God was established on the earth, Peter in that memorable service on that day commanded those who were pricked in their hearts and cried out, "Men and brethren, what shall we do? Repent and be baptized everyone of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost." adv

Local Scouts Enjoy Campout in New Mexico

Iowa Park Boy Scouts of Troop 37 recently went to New Mexico on a camping trip. Sixteen boys, six scouters and five mothers made the trip.

They left early Saturday, July 5, in a caravan of two pickup trucks with trailers, two cars and one station wagon. They were met in Cimarron Canyon by the A. L. Scheibal family.

The first night was a good initiation to camping. It rained and hailed.

Sunday the troop attended a church service and visited Philmont Boy Scout ranch.

Early Monday they went on to Taos and Hondo canyon. Stops were made along the way to enjoy the scenery and do a little climbing.

Camp was set up in Hondo canyon beside a trout stream. Fishermen in the group spent most of their time trying to catch the trout they had seen. Others climbed mountains and explored the many mines in the area.

One day was spent in Taos and on a swimming party to the hot springs pool south of Taos.

On Friday they started home by way of Santa Fe. The one disappointment of the trip was the camp at Santa Fe. It was too dry and another place had to be found to spend Friday night.

The caravan reached home at mid-morning Saturday.

Troop 37 wishes to thank all who helped to make the trip possible. They had a wonderful trip and saw much beautiful scenery.

Adults were Messrs. and Mmes. Miles Thompson, Wesley Davis, Preston Pace, J. H. Bingham, W. E. Stockton; and Jerry Midkiff.

If some jerk wheezes up to you this month and says, "It ain't really the heat, it's the humidity," he's lying. It's the heat.

Deno Tufares, a former member of the state House of Representatives and presently an insurance salesman, spoke to the Lions club Tuesday on "The Procedure of Passing a Bill in the Legislature." Tufares is seeking nomination for Place 1, District 81, in the House.

Homer Thompson offered the invocation for the luncheon meeting. Sweethearts Harriett Coppock and Brownie Tanner provided the luncheon music. George Huckaby introduced the speaker.

In his informative talk, Tufares explained the election of the Speaker and of other elected and appointed officials.

Each representative is generally appointed to five or more committees.

When a bill is first introduced, said Deno, it gets a First Reading, which is simply a summary of the bill's content. Then it is assigned to the appropriate committee for consideration. The committee then sets up a hearing on the bill, when everybody who is interested in the bill can be heard. And everybody who works for or against that bill is considered a lobbyist.

Professional lobbyists are those who are hired by special interests to keep an eye on legislation affecting those interests, while amateur lobbyists are those who are interested in individual pieces of legislation and are not paid.

The bill can be reported out of committee favorably or unfavorably, with or without recommended amendments — or it can be shelved in the committee with almost nothing its author can do to bring it back to the House.

At second reading, a controversial bill calls forth a battle on the floor, with amendments and additions being made from all sides. Surviving second reading, the bill must then face a third reading and pass before it is sent to the Senate. There it faces the same treatment.

Should the House passed bill get through the Senate without change, it goes to the governor for approval or veto. But should it be changed in the Senate, a committee from both houses has to consider the differences and report a conference bill which can then be considered.

When the bill finally gets approval of both houses in identical form, it goes to the governor.

Deno pointed out to his listeners that even though the legislature might adjourn at an early hour, that is no sign the representatives and senators have short working days. Committee meetings, which are extremely important, often require the men to work far into the night.

Shower

A pink and blue shower was given recently honoring Mrs. Harold McCord at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kight. She is the former Miss Edna Marie Bedford.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Kight were Mmes. Buster Reaves, A. W. Bedford, I. L. Alvey, T. L. Fillner, David Shoemaker.

Decorations for the party were appropriate to the occasion, featuring dolls and pacifiers. Punch and cake were served to about 20 guests.

Many lovely gifts were received by the honoree.

Mrs. Arch Hughes underwent surgery at Wichita General hospital last Monday. She is reported doing fine.

E. W. Whatley was admitted to Wichita General hospital Sunday for observation and treatment.

New Senate Hand Aided Democrats

When William A. Blakley was appointed to the U. S. Senate in 1957, he was a political unknown in Texas. But Washington awaited his arrival with great interest. So close was the party balance in the Senate that Blakley's vote was the difference between Democratic and Republican control.

True to his Democratic tradition, Bill Blakley voted with his fellow Democrats. They have been in control ever since.

Now Bill Blakley seeks his first elective term in the U. S. Senate. A vote for Blakley is a vote for sound, Democratic government.

DO YOU WANT GOD TO HEAL YOUR BODY?

The top men on my staff and I were interviewed recently. These are three of the questions asked. I believe the answers are very important to everyone seeking help from God. I invite you, my readers, to consider them for your own personal benefit.

Q. Is there any connection between Christianity and health?

Yes, very much indeed! Our health is a vital challenge to Christianity. And every Christian can thank God for his opportunity to help bring God's healing power into the bodies of his fellow men today, as well as salvation to their souls.

"Healing," as we use the word, means an all-inclusiveness. We believe that Christ wants to heal your soul; he wants to heal your body; he wants to heal your attitude. In fact, Christ wants to heal you whole and complete in your entire being. The phrase that he very often used was this: "Be made whole," which literally means, be in good health, soul and body.

Our Lord Jesus is concerned with all hurt things. He came to heal all who are hurt and to save the lost.

The Bible says that every time a little, worthless sparrow falls to the ground God sees it. When some little bird shoots into a tree and you see a little sparrow crumpled with its wings folded, you may remember that God is concerned with that little bird.

When God looked down from Heaven, he saw that people were hurt. Their bodies were afflicted. Their minds were filled with frustration, fear and torment. Their souls were bound by evil and sin.

God looked upon them and heard their cries. He sent his Son into this world for them. And Jesus came to save the soul, to heal the mind and the body, and to lift people to a higher plane of daily living. We call this higher plane "the more abundant life." And that is why we know that Christianity is vitally connected with our health and well-being.

Q. Should a person use other resources before coming to God for healing?

Ordinarily, yes. God in his goodness has placed many healing agencies on earth for us. These are agencies such as medical skill, regular recreation and exercise, proper eating, climate, love and understanding.

Included also are strong positive mental and spiritual attitudes. We must constantly challenge any fears, frustrations or hate we may be fostering. We must seek for right relations with others. On the other hand, we know that all true healing comes from only one source—God. But not everyone has the strong conviction to be able to receive healing through faith alone.

For those, however, who do have the faith to come directly to the source, God is prepared to bless them even as Christ promised when he said, "As thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee."

Q. How can I know when I have really believed?

When you can no longer doubt . . . when all things you have been trying to do to help you believe have been done . . . when you know without any reservation that what God has promised to do, he will do . . . when you reach that state of KNOWING, then you have really believed.

Around World on Bicycles

Herman Kight's Panhandle Station and Iowa Park were among the places and towns two Italian businessmen, Valentino Rolando and Adrian Soda, both 31 years old, of Turin, Italy, chose to stop last Monday on their world tour on bicycles.

Rolando, a lawyer, and Soda, an accountant, have been riding their bicycles for almost 2 years.

Twenty-two months ago they decided to leave their routine businesses and see the world. They figured bikes would be the cheapest way to travel.

The two have tent, camping outfit and other luggage strapped to their bikes. They said, "We never eat in restaurants or stay in hotels—too expensive."

They started from northwestern Italy and rode through southeastern Europe, the Middle East and Asia, and then crossed the Pacific aboard an Italian freighter, landing at Los Angeles.

They camped out at Electra last Sunday night. It has taken them three months to get here.

On quiet days they make approximately 80 miles, but if the wind is strong they can't make that much distance in a day.

After leaving here, they headed for Dallas.

They have worn out three sets of tires each and plan to purchase another set in New Orleans. They hope to reach New York City by Christmas, and sail for home from there.

On the tour they have forded rivers on camel back, and talked their way past bandits in the Middle East. They were in Asia during the monsoon season. They have seen all kinds of weather and people.

"European food is the tastiest in the world; food in the US is outrageously expensive," said the travelers. They both speak French and English and German as well as their native language.

Upon their return to Italy they plan to publish a book about their travels.

Before leaving, they thanked Herman and his employees for the nice visit and the good cold water. They said in Italy they drink wine instead of water. But here they drink about three gallons of water a day.

Returning home last Saturday were four members of the Christian Youth Fellowship of the local Christian church. They had been at the Lake Brownwood Christian Retreat for the past week.

These members are John Woodall, Ruth Estes, Kay Rowntree and Carolyn Phipps.

While at this Retreat, the youth enjoyed various classes to broaden their knowledge of the Christian church. Activities were climaxed with the Night of Silence (Friday), Communion, Installation of new officers and the final Friendship Circle.

LUCKY NUMBER

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Sisk received word from their daughter Miss Betty Sisk of Denver, Colo., that she was quite lucky recently. When she drove into the largest privately financed underground parking area in America, that had just opened for business in Denver, she was the 100th customer on opening day.

Betty, a secretary in the Petroleum Club building, was presented a pass good for one year of free parking. The story appearing in the Denver Post said Betty was the happiest person at the ceremony.

Charlie was a motorcycle racer and was a racing promoter from 1912 to 1917 at Iowa Park. He has kept his 1916 vehicle in perfect repair since he moved to Bogata 20 years ago.

"In September of last year Charlie hauled his motorcycle to the Labor Day races in Dodge City, Kans., and won two first place trophies. One was for being the oldest rider, the other for the economy run, in which he averaged 60.62 miles to a gallon of gasoline."

Both of the Davis men are former residents of Iowa Park. Albert worked at a gin where the Fair Grounds are now located.

Charlie married the former Miss Cleon Caylor of Iowa Park. While living here the Davis family took many trips over the state on the motorcycle and side-car.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis and his motorcycle were back for the T-O Fair last year. Charlie treated many of his old friends to a ride in the sidecar.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Rogers received a cablegram from their son and family Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rogers late this week. They said their family was perfectly safe and not to worry about them.

Motorcycle Bugs

This article recently appeared as an Associated Press item and was sent to Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Brubaker by their daughter:

"Age means nothing to the Davis brothers, who cranked up their motorcycle and had a joy-ride through a town in North Texas—Bogata.

"Charlie Davis of Bogata is 73 and Albert Davis of Deport is 82. Their motorcycle with side-car is 42 years old.

"Charlie was a motorcycle racer and was a racing promoter from 1912 to 1917 at Iowa Park. He has kept his 1916 vehicle in perfect repair since he moved to Bogata 20 years ago.

I suppose wives continually put little dabs of food on the back of refrigerator shelves and forget all about them for the same reason that husbands save little cans of crooked used nails.

...to help you get the most efficient cooling from your REFRIGERATED ROOM AIR CONDITIONER

- Cool only an area within the size your unit is designed to cool. When cooling a larger area, the unit is overworked and its efficiency is lowered.
- Keep air filters clean. Clogged filters lower efficiency of the unit and cause it to use more electricity.
- Insulate ceiling area above room being cooled. Insulation keeps hot air out, cool air in.
- Locate unit in shade if possible. The north side of house is best followed by east, south and west. Proper shading of unit increases its efficiency.
- Properly regulate intake of outside air. This is important to operating efficiency of your unit. Follow manufacturer's instruction carefully.
- Keep out direct sun rays. They bring in heat which your unit must work extra hard to remove. Awnings over your windows will help.
- An automatic thermostat recommended to hold room temperature to 78 to 80 degree level recommended for comfort. Each degree below 78 degrees increases power consumption unnecessarily.
- Remember, too, that operating cost is governed by hours of use. Turn off your unit when you expect to be away for several hours. You can quickly lower the temperature when you return.

An Electric Refrigerated Room Air Conditioner is a wonderful comfort during hot summer weather. Follow Reddy's tips and make the most efficient use of your unit. LIVE BETTER ELECTRICALLY!
