NATURE'S WRATH - High winds and unofficial reports of tornadic activity swept through the city and area last Thursday night. Among damages was the scene at 1003 Cornelia where the roof over a back porch was flipped over against the front side of the home. Complete storm story and picture on Page 4.

City gears for battle

Meetings here and Austin

City officials here are gearing up for two meetings next week, one scheduled in Austin, in what has become a running battle with Lone Star Gas over rates charged Iowa Park consumers.

Basically it has become an argument over who has the authority to set gas rates in Iowa Park: the city versus the Texas Railroad Commission (RRC).

At Monday night's regular city council meeting aldermen passed an edited version of Lone Star's request for stipulation of 85 per cent age and condition of service equipment here in regard to an appeal the utility has filed with the RRC.

The council agreed to accept the 85 per cent condition of facilities here.

Claiming the city has no way to substantiate the age of facilities here, the council declined to stipulate the requested 85 per cent age factor.

With the time limit almost expired on the interim gas rate passed by the council it is almost certain the council will convene in special session at 7 p.m. Wednesday to give the interim rate final approval, said City Administrator Gene Britton.

Meanwhile, the squabble will continue next Friday in Austin where city and Lone Star officials will convene with the RRC.

At Friday's hearing Lone Star will ask RRC to set aside the city's rate ordinance and have the state agency establish a rate.

However, the city has filed an injunction in federal district court against the RRC.

The injunction is to block the commission from taking action against Iowa Park in setting gas rates on grounds that the gas being supplied here is interstate and under federal rather than state control.

DENY REZONING

Despite a favorable recommendation from the planning and zoning commission, the council Monday night turned down a request for the rezoning of Lots 16-21, Block 32, Texas Addition, from single family residential to convenience commercial.

Everett Boulware sought the change to build a pizza restaurant along the West Highway frontage.

Buddy Henderson, a protester at the planning and zoning commission meeting, continued his protests at Monday's council meeting.

A homeowner in the vicinity, Henderson claimed an eating establishment would decrease the value of homes in the area in addition to increasing nighttime noise and trash.

The council also discussed the problems of homeowners facing West Highway and the problem of strip zoning versus block zoning.

Absent Alderman Greg Ross, the council unanimously voted to deny the request to rezone that section of property.

The council also denied a request from the Chamber of Commerce for a contribution to purchase new Christmas decorations for the city. The donation was turned down on a question of legality of donations to private organizations.

About a half dozen persons appeared before the council in regard to the drainage problem of a ditch between the Park Plaza and Foley additions. The request for action on the issue was tabled because it had not been posted in advance on the council agenda, according to Britton.

The council also adopted an ordinance changing speed limits on West Highway and along FM 368 within the northern city.

SPEED LIMIT CHANGE

The speed limit on West Highway from Johnson Road to Colorado has been lowered from 50 to 40 miles per hour.

A portion of FM 368 north from Bank has been lowered by five miles per hour, while the portion from Rebecca north has been increased by five miles per hour.

In other action Monday night the council approved an application for a comprehensive planning and management assistance grant, and endorsed a resolution providing reimbursement to municipal employees attending special schools.

The council approved a resolution establishing policy for changing water meters, and voted to continue its participation in the high school VOE work program.

On Britton's recommendation, the council decided to hire an employee to help with street repairs.

Two burglaries reported here

Iowa Park Police Department had a relatively quiet week with only two burglaries reported.

Police here received a report Sunday from Windell McCord, 1121 Cornelia, that a tool box, tools and a lawn mower had been taken from his garage. Total value of equipment stolen was estimated at $160.

Last Thursday police here received a report from E.L. French that four vehicle batteries valued at $125 had been stolen from the backyard at 307 N. Seneca.

On Wednesday police discovered a window broken at a service station at 612 W. Highway and were investigating for possible burglary.

OFFICIAL RIBBON CUTTING at the dedication ceremony of the newly organized Friendly Door was done by Mrs. W.F. George, oldest member of the organization, and Joe Laird, the youngest. More than 130 members and guests attended the first official meeting, held at the Methodist Church.

Trustees survive lengthy meeting

A 10-item agenda was stretched into a five and a half hour session Tuesday evening when the school board met in regular session.

Principal time consumers were bill paying, discussion of summer maintenance, a report by counselors and salary adjustments. The meeting adjourned at 1 a.m.

A comprehensive program for the maintenance department, which included summer vacation schedule, as well as dates work would be carried out at each campus and priority projects at the campuses was outlined by Harold Cowley and studied by trustees.

Additionally, trustees approved a proposal to allow Cowley to add a fourth maintenance worker to the full-time list in order to accomplish the work to be carried out this summer, and increase maintenance efficiency next school year.

Approval for the hiring was opposed by two trustees, however. Hoyt Watson and Roy Boutwell explained they voted against the issue "Because we are trying to draw a line somewhere", referring to costs of school operation.

Salaries for part time employees, students, who will work in the maintenance program this summer, were approved between $2 and $2.20 per hour; $3.50 for adult supervisors who will oversee the student employees; and $3 per hour for part time administrative clerical employees.

Five teacher aides were given new contracts for the coming year, and with it state-required salary increases of approximately five percent.

Salaries they will receive, including a $300 bonus for living in the school district, given also to teachers, are $9,468 for Georgia Kingcade; $9,308 for Eleanor Miller; $8,124 for Juanita Morton; $7,236 for Pat Harris; and $6,396 for Barbara Teel.

Five other personnel received increased salaries, to start effective Sept. 1. Maintenance personnel Earl Chesser and Ken Watts were raised to $850 per month; C.E. Hopkins and Pete Peters to $775; and tax office employee Allen Shewmake to a pay grade four, step five. His salary is not certain until the legislature takes whatever action it is working on in Austin. Under the present grade he is receiving $742 per month.

Results of testing of students were presented by counselors Dean Miller, Herman Escue, Mrs. Ross Roberts and Herman King.

In all cases, the overall tests indicated students in Iowa Park schools are above the national average, they reported. National tests, which give the norms for this year's students, were administered to all elementary students, as well as students in the seventh, ninth and eleventh grades. Vocational students were given the armed forces aptitude test.

King said the vocational students averaged in the upper 76 percent in general information, and commented "Aptitude-wise, we have a lot of kids with a lot of ability."

During a period in which April bills were explained, Cowley said the school faces budgeting approximately $100,000 for natural gas and electricity next year. His comment came in response to a question about the gas bill being $1,400 during a mild climate month such as April.

Park improvement project to benefit from broom sale

All the proceeds from the Noon Lions Club's annual broom and home products sale Saturday have already been earmarked for improvements of Oscar Park.

Members of the organization, responding to a plea for funds from the Parks Board, voted to turn over all profits from the sale to finance park improvements around Gordon Lake.

The sale will be held at the Park West Shopping Center parking lot, where merchandise will be on display for shoppers.

All products are hand-made by blind citizens of Texas, who help themselves through employment at Lighthouse Industrial Centers.

"People buying these products will not only be helping our community to improve its park," commented John Sibley, project chairman, "but helping the self-care blind persons who work at the Lighthouses."

Merchandise will be available for sale between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. at the parking lot.

Among the items for sale are brooms of all descriptions, both household and industrial, mops, brushes, door mats, dish cloths and towels, ironing board covers, oven mitts and holders, and numerous other items.

Missing grainman's wife seeks property control

Anita Johnson, wife of missing Iowa Park grainman Bobby Johnson, is scheduled June 2 to ask the 78th District Court to award her control of the couple's community property.

The hearing where Mrs. Johnson will ask the court to grant her authority to "manage, control and dispose of" the couple's community property is set for 2 p.m. June 2 in 78th District Court in Wichita County Courthouse, according to a lengthy legal notice published in a Wichita Falls newspaper.

Johnson has been missing since Jan. 3 when he reportedly fell from a fishing boat and drowned in the Gulf of Mexico near Port Aransas. Johnson's body has not been recovered, and law enforcement officials still contend Johnson is alive.

The petition points out involuntary bankruptcy proceedings against Johnson are pending in U.S. District Court.

The legal advertisement says the petition was filed with the knowledge and consent of the bankruptcy court and the court-appointed receiver in the bankruptcy case.

The document says Mrs. Johnson has not heard from her husband since Jan. 3, that she is convinced her husband is dead, "but there has been no judicial determination of that fact, and that there may be substantial delay in securing such a judicial determination."

Mrs. Johnson's request for control of the couple's community property includes the lease of the 48,648 acre McFaddin ranch in King and Knox counties.

The petition for the June 2 hearing is the latest in a maze of legal proceedings which have evolved from Johnson's disappearance.

A federal grand jury has convened twice to investigate the possibility of criminal activities, however, no indictments have been returned by the federal panel.

A federal warrant has been issued charging Johnson with interstate transportation of stolen grain.

Youths hospitalized in rash of accidents

Two Iowa Park youths remained hospitalized Wednesday following motorcycle mishaps.

The motorcycle accidents were among a rash of traffic mishaps being investigated this week by area law enforcement authorities.

Barry Goin of Iowa Park was listed in "stable" condition late Wednesday afternoon in Sheppard AFB Regional Hospital.

According to the Department of Public Safety, Goin was injured about 5 p.m. Monday while riding a motorcycle near the intersection of Old Iowa Park Road and Crescent Lane.

Goin's exact injuries were not made available by base hospital authorities. Vincent Rains, also of Iowa Park, was listed in satisfactory condition at Wichita General Hospital.

Rains said he suffered a broken leg when he took a spill on a dirt bike Sunday near Horseshoe Lake.

DPS also is investigating an accident Monday night on FM 368 between Iowa Park and Holliday. Authorities said Randy Gibson of Iowa Park struck a bull with his vehicle. Gibson escaped injury.

Several persons were treated and released from a Wichita Falls hospital following an accident Sunday afternoon at the intersection of Johnson Road and West Highway.

Drivers of the two vehicles were John Keplinger of Wichita Falls and Sarah Johnson of Iowa Park.

According to Iowa Park police, three young passengers in the Johnson vehicle, Michael Allen Johnson, Christopher Johnson and Robert Johnson, all received minor injuries and were treated and released.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Brooks were returning to their home on FM 368 Sunday evening when their car was struck by an oncoming vehicle, reportedly driven by Ricky Sidlauskas.

Brooks, heading south, said he saw the Sidlauskas vehicle was apparently going to hit him, and he stopped his car and braced for the impact.

The collision occurred on the curve near the entrance to Burnett Park, at the Wichita River crossing.

Both vehicles were heavily damaged, though injuries were said to be extremely minor.

Miss Kidwell leads study

Miss Ethyle Kidwell was leader for the first study on Africa entitled "Torment to Triumph in South Africa" for the meeting of United Methodist Women Tuesday morning.

The first study dealt with the historical background of Africa and its colonization by Europeans and gave witness to the torment suffered in Africa, showing how the people are in need of help but not charity.

The study ended in a recording of an interview with Larry and Mickey George and their views and information gained on Africans while they were missionaries in Africa in the early 1970s. The interview shed light on the quality of life and education of the average black and their ability to govern themselves.

"They want first freedom and equalization of treatment in all areas of human affairs", the former missionaries stated.

During the program it was brought out that in Africa the United Methodist Church is composed of all black people who are strong in their Christian faith even though governmental representatives are present at their services to criticize.

The part that Cecil Rhodes, an Englishman, played in exploiting Southern Africa in the middle and late 1800s and the establishing of the Rhodes Scholarship which has enabled young men to attend Oxford University was stressed during the program.

DUGOUT DEMOLISHED by high winds at Little League field.

LEIGH HOLDER begins clean-up operations at lumber yard.

Storm lashes city, area

Rain driven by high winds and unofficial reports of tornadic activity thrashed Iowa Park and the surrounding area last Thursday night causing thousands of dollars worth of damage to homes and businesses.

No injuries were reported as a result of the storm.

Although winds caused substantial damage in Iowa Park, the most grizzly scene was found south of here at Valley View where two cottonwood trees, each believed to be nearly a century old, were uprooted.

Cynthia Ann Bunton, 16, was alone in her family's 65-foot mobile home when the storm began pounding the area shortly before nightfall Thursday.

Violent winds uprooted a mammoth cottonwood, sending limbs through three windows of the mobile home. Estimated to be 70 feet tall, much of the tree crashed on the roof and against the side of the mobile home, causing the interior ceiling to sag dramatically under the tree's weight.

A nearby frame house also was damaged when the tree fell.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bunton and a son were enroute to a prayer meeting when the storm hit.

"If Cindy hadn't been praying..." Bunton remarked.

Power lines entangled in tree limbs, Bunton said it was a miracle his daughter escaped electrocution when she climbed out of the wreckage Thursday night.

Directly west across the highway at the home of Valley View school principal James Ward another giant cottonwood tree was toppled by violent winds.

Standing near a gaping hole shadowed by the tree's trunk and root system, John Sibley said the cottonwood was close to 100 years old.

Workers were busy Friday morning with chain saws and trucks clearing away the fallen tree.

In Iowa Park there was evidence of tornadic activity based on unusual types of damages to homes and businesses, especially in the northwestern portion of town near Kidwell Elementary School.

Although there was no official report of a tornado, several individuals said they spotted funnel clouds.

One of the most serious scenes of damage was at 505 W. Rebecca, home of the Harold Cowley family.

Winds stripped sheet metal from the back porch of Cowley's neighbor, A.J. Woods of 507 W. Rebecca. Strips of metal lacerated the roof of Cowley's home, and an electric lawn hedger belonging to Woods was found on Cowley's roof.

In Cowley's backyard a fruit tree was leveled while a tree of similar size about 12 feet away was unharmed.

At 1003 Cornelia, the home of the David Lawson family, a patio covering on the south side of the house was left resting near the northeast corner of the front yard.

Asked if he and his family were alarmed when the storm hit, Lawson joked that he was taking a shower during the violence which also broke a large sliding glass door leading to the backyard.

BUSINESS DAMAGED

Holder Lumber Co. at 102 S. Victoria sustained severe damage when winds ripped the roof off a portion of the lumber storage area.

Windows were broken at Mary's Hair Styling at 900 W. Highway at Boren's Mobile Station at 100 N. Yosemite.

Other evidence of tornadic activity was at W.F. George Baseball Field where Little League games were in progress.

A cinder block dugout on the east side of the west field was leveled. There were reports that a funnel cloud had been spotted there.

Small trees were uprooted throughout the city, while tree limbs, roof shingles and debris were found in streets and yards in all parts of Iowa Park.

Among trees uprooted was an aging hackberry located on the southwest corner at the junior high school campus.

While city crews were busy with cleanup operations elsewhere, students from Sheppard AFB under the command of Col. Robert F. Darden removed the junior high school landmark.

Trees also were uprooted at Wood Convalescent Center at 1009 N. Third and in the 600 block of N. Wall.

A fence was blown down and a metal storage building was demolished at 1000 Lincoln.

A plastic roof on the carport of Bill Robinson at 204 E. Jefferson was completely shredded. Other noticeable roof damage was caused at Billy James Garage and Junior's Conoco.

As testimony to the storm's wide path, a metal storage building at Clarence Mahler's farm north of town on Bell Road was heavily damaged. Sheets of metal covered the pasture and hung on barbed wire fences.

Iowa Park Police Department and volunteer firemen were hampered Thursday night when the storm knocked out power supplies and crippled communications.

Homes throughout the community were without electricity for about 30 minutes, during which time the police department also was left in the dark.

There was a report early in the storm that a youngster was lost, however, the report turned out to be false.

Pesticide course

By DON DECKER
County Agent

Persons wishing to receive training and certification for applying pesticides are urged to attend a meeting Tuesday at 7 p.m. at the vocational agriculture building in Iowa Park.

The course is sponsored by the Wichita County Young Farmers.

Lester Hoegerbaumer of Wichita Falls came by the office yesterday inquiring about the pecan spray dates. Numerous telephone calls are coming in to the County Agent's office asking about when to spray pecans. It's too early to spray pecan trees for the pecan nut casebearer. The expected spray dates are sometime between May 25 and June 5.

MILK COOLERS
Before we got our ice box food like milk, cream and butter was kept cool in a thing that was called, oddly enough, a milk cooler. A sort of stand was built on the east side of the old smoke house and the milk cooler sat atop the stand. The cooler was actually a shallow pan about two feet wide by four feet long. Water was placed in the pan and milk buckets were set in the water. The milk buckets were usually one gallon lard or syrup cans. Sometimes open-topped crocks were used. With the container in place a clean muslin cloth or feed sack was draped over the buckets and down into the water in the pan. With the edges of the cloth in the water, small rocks were set on them to keep the wind from blowing the cloth away.

Water seeped up through the cloth and over the top of the milk buckets. Wind blowing through the cloth evaporated the water causing the milk to stay cool. Even after we got our ice box we still used the milk cooler. Milk was placed in it for a few hours to cool down before putting it in the box. This prevented the ice from melting so quickly.

There were other methods of cooling milk. People who were lucky enough to have a spring near their home usually built a stone spring house. The water flowing up out of the ground was cold and it made the inside of the spring house a constant cool temperature pretty well year round. The milk was kept in crocks which were set near the water's edge or sometimes submerged partly in the spring.

Springs were few and far between in our neck of the woods but some folks had well houses that were similar to the spring houses. A well house was usually built under the windmill tower or next to it. As water was pumped up out of the ground it ran through a wide wooden trough inside the well house. Milk, butter and such was kept in the trough, preserved there until needed.

The methods of cooling milk varied with where you happened to live but they all seemed to have one thing in common: nature was used to supply a need.

As I See It....

by BOB HAMILTON

I had no mixture of feelings Tuesday night when, at the monthly meeting of the school trustees, it was brought out that a portion of the fire alarm system at the high school not only doesn't work, but hasn't throughout the school year.

I was, and still am, upset. No, I'm not upset at anyone individually, or any group. I'm upset at the overall situation.

The entire alarm system, it was told, was not out of order, but alarm stations in portions of the building are, and have been since shortly after school started last Fall.

I'm upset not only because I hear of the situation after having three of my own children in that building all year, but because of all the children, and adults, who've been there with them.

It shouldn't have happened in the first place. It should have been fixed in the second place. It should have been made known in the third place, instead of waiting all these months.

Instructions were given by the trustees Tuesday to have the system put into working condition immediately.

The damage was done by students, and, reportedly, was not repaired out of futility, figuring it would just be done again. And there was a breakdown in communications.

The situation was made known during a discussion of repairs to damage caused by the students. They're tearing the six-year-old building down, piece by piece.

Students are at fault here. Not just the ones doing it, but all the others who don't report it. There are always those who are going to be destructive, thinking it's smart, it get attention, it gets back at authority.

Where are all those students who just a few weeks ago were asking for an open campus policy, to show their maturity? A mature person doesn't do that sort of thing, and a mature person reports such events to authority, knowing public property belongs to them individually.

I hope our students start showing some leadership in the future, and help police their own.

The fire alarm system damage is only one of dozens of acts of vandalism committed at the high school this year. And I'm not aware of a single person being reported by a student.

There apparently is a fault among those in authority, to allow the fire alarm system to remain inoperable all these months, too. Where the safety of so many hundreds of persons is at stake, I find the situation unthinkable.

One student complained about high school being like a reformatory. Wait until you see the protective fencing around the campus that was approved by trustees at the meeting. And why is it going up? Student disregard to property and authority.

Where is the answer? Who is going to have to bend, and how much?

It appears there's going to have to be something done to instill pride among the students, for themselves and their building. If they are doing so many things wrong that the faculty and/or administration give up on repairing damaged safety devices, whatever is done can only be for the good.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Hamilton:

This may turn out to be too long a letter to be included in your Letters to the Editor column, but I have some things that need to be said.

So the Home Rule Charter was defeated, and whether you were for or against it, the voters have made their decision. As for me, its all water under the bridge, it only goes to show what has and can be done when enough people get behind an issue and get out and work for or against, which ever their preference.

Well folks, don't sit back on your behinds and let the legislature pull another one out of their hats that you have apparently had full warning of. I refer to the new idea that all property should be taxed at 100% of fair market value!!! Have you stopped to think what that is going to mean to everyone with property appreciating every year as it has in the past few???

We live here in Washington state not by choice, but because my husband is a Federal Employee and was transferred here. Here in Washington, they have such a 100% market value as a basis for all taxes. That isn't bad enough, the Schools also have what is called a Special Levy in every School district. If a School District feels it wants a few more frills to offer over and above what the state pays for, they have a Special Levy election. In some districts this tax alone is about $20.00 per thousand of valuation! Now stop and figure up what it would cost you, if we tax payers in Texas get caught up in this catch 22!

Frankly, their schools offer more, but they can't compare with ours in Texas, for myself, I think they have too many frills, for instance, a neighboring district to the one in which we live offers 150 elective courses in its high schools! That is more than most colleges have! I should know a little about their schools, since I taught as a part time tutor for awhile in high schools. To digress for a moment, congrats to the school board for keeping the closed campus concept. I happen to have had a large dose of the open concept up here and let me tell you, for the few who are living up to the rules there are many who don't, and the ones who don't are usually the ones who needed to be in class as much as possible.

Just write your congressman or state representative and let him know what this form of taxation assessment may mean to you and those you know. The elderly and those others on fixed incomes here are especially hard put to even keep their homes, the farmers are hard put to pay the taxes and keep operating, and the young marrieds, or middle income people are being taxed right out of the property market. Up here, land is at a premium and so the developers (???) sit back and wait for some farmer to go under and have to sell out or some elderly person to have to sell their property and move to a retirement center or have to sell an apartment and then they move in like Simon Legree and get the property for a song. They immediately start to build more apartments, or housing which those who really need it can't afford to buy. I would hate to see Texas go the way of Washington, so Iowa Parkans, get off your duffs and get busy, I have written at least two state legislators of my feelings on this matter. I own property in that state too and plan to return as soon as a transfer comes through or retirement time comes next year. So lets let those guys know down in Austin so they won't tax us out of existence as well as themselves.

FCA members visit center

"Help me," cried Billy Ray, afraid of "having his ear talked off." Ray, varsity lineman for the Hawks, was one of the athletes to visit the Wood Convalescent Center of Iowa Park.

Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA) sent carnations to six ladies at the Center while members visited the ladies at various times during the weeks preceding Mother's Day.

Sid Waldrop chairman of the project, introduced the members to the ladies. Ladies were visited on the basis that they had no family or were expecting no visitors on Mother's Day.

CHRIS WINS - Chris Nethery of Iowa Park finishes the junior barrel race at the Sheppard Saddle Club Spring Horse Show at SAFB arena. Nethery took first place in the event.

Frosh miler is the best

"We need somebody to run the mile," said Coach Jackie Denton So at the start of the next track meet the Iowa Park freshmen track team introduced their lane miler, Jim Smith.

Making his debut in the mile, Jim placed second behind a "veteran" miler from Vernon.

From then on Jim Smith vowed he would lose no more. In the next two track meets Jim brought the team 20 points from the mile.

His best showing was at the district track meet at Graham held April 23. Jim outlasted the "veteran" from Vernon to be the best freshmen miler in the district with a time of 4:54.4.

Subjects of new stories given to this reporter are to coin a phrase, "scrapping the bottom of the barrel." This week the assignments was "The Flag." For lack of anything more exciting, the editors said to go to the office, ask around and find who puts it up in the morning, who takes it down, and what they do with it in bad weather. To say the least, there are not many people rushing to the news stands to get the latest happenings on "The Flag."

OEA students ending term

Office Education Association (OEA) is finishing the school year with an active schedule.

Lab class had a job interview day, May 5, to prepare for their future job experiences. Interviewers included Bill Bates, Lela Garrrels, Bob Hamilton, Wayne House and Bobbie Shaw.

Field trip was taken to Sheppard Air Force Base (SAFB) and the home office of White's Tuesday. OEA students toured the accounting offices and learned about the computers at SAFB. At White's, students toured the facilities and filing department.

Mrs. Harrell Sullivan hosted a party in honor for OEA seniors today.

Building trades house is shown

IPHS building trades class held a formal meeting during an assembly Wednesday, May 4.

Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) building trades officers conducted the assembly and showed slides of their work this year.

Open house will be held today and tomorrow.

Tornado warning

Mr. Dawson alerted all students to go to the basement on Monday May 2, because of a tornado warning. Mr. Dawson said it was a good time for the students to learn what to do in case of a tornado.

M.L. Hodges said, "The school won't crumble to the basement if there is a tornado, so don't worry."

The Hungry Hawk

Since many people will be going to Six-Flags sometime this summer, this article will, hopefully, offer a few tips to keep everyone from pulling their hair out.

Weekends are especially crowded, so a mid-week trip is preferable.

When a date is selected, try to buy tickets ahead of time at a grocery or department store to avoid a 45-minute line at the gate.

At lunch time, either get in line at a concession stand at 11:30 a.m. or forget until around 4:00 p.m. If you can possibly do it, skip lunch and eat an early dinner at around 4:00 p.m. Weekend lines are unbelievable. Some literally move only 1 foot in 30 minutes.

Among the million dollar additions/renovations at Six-Flags, there is a new ride (Spinaker), penny medallion machines, more benches, a few new fountains and a snake show.

Again, a week-day trip cannot be stressed enough. May 7, there was a 2 1/2 hour waiting line for Big Bend, 1 1/2 for the Spinaker. Even the shortest line involved a 45-minute wait.

Important class is overlooked

General Construction, taught by Mr. Hicks, is probably one of the most important and most overlooked courses in I.P.H.S.

Basic fundamentals are taught to eighth through tenth graders to prepare them for Building Trades.

The students in this class have constructed utility buildings, cabinets, saddle jacks and different kinds of wall plaques for people who order them. They also construct things for the I.P. schools. The podiums in several of the high school classrooms, and the bookcases in the Jr. High were made by General Construction. They also make toys for

Choir tryouts end tomorrow

Tryouts for A Cappella Choir will conclude tomorrow afternoon. Tryouts were held this week for students other than those in A Cappella and mixed choir.

Results of the tryouts will be posted Monday, May 16, announcing the new members. Reception for the new members will be Tuesday, May 24.

Hutch's Angels in competition

Hutch's Angels. This is no detective agency and no kin to Starksy but only a girls' softball team representing Iowa Park.

These girls play in Wichita Falls YWCA league. They play against other high school teams. With eight teams in league play, they tied for third place last year.

Jerry Hutchins is coaching Hutch's Angels for the second straight year.

Returning players include Cathy Baston, Leora Copas, Suzanne Davis, Pam Ervin, Linda Frederick and Susan Hutchins.

New members are Wendy Baston, Cathy Cosstick, Cheryl Dowell, Wendy Johnson, Karla Friday, Regina Sargent, Diana Smith and Gayla Wells.

May 10 will be the first game of the season and play will continue through July 15 at Bridwell Park.

FHA members honored

Kathy Hines, Patricia Cummings, Kim Baca, Cathy Baston and Robin Whiteacre were honored at the Future

Homemakers of America (FHA) Senior Appreciation Banquet held Tuesday, May 3, at El Babos.

Program began with invocation given by Linda Cates. Kathy Johnson introduced the senior girls and their mothers.

Outstanding FHA officer for the 1976-77 year was Kathy Johnson. Outstanding member was Tenna Cook.

Chapter mothers for the year were Mrs. Bernice Hines, Mrs. Raydean Mattis and Mrs. Joy Baca.

Mrs. Miriam Cady, chapter sponsor, presented gifts and a special thanks to each mother for their service to the chapter through the year.

Mr. Gary Lyles, building trades instructor at IPHS, presented a speech entitled, "If I Were A Woman."

For a finale Mrs. Cady presented "This is Your Life" to each of the senior honorees.

A WINNER - Karren Brown accepts her third place medal at the state U.I.L. track meet held on the campus of the University of Texas at Austin Friday night.

Karren places third in state track meet

Though Karren Brown was far from satisfied with suffering her first defeat in the mile run, she will always remember having competed in one of the most outstanding girls' state track meets in Texas history.

The dedicated senior distance runner ran her best race ever, but placed third Friday night on the campus of the University of Texas.

But she participated in a meet in which five new national girls' high school records were rewritten, and one equalled. And state records fell in more events than not.

A very tired young lady sat on the Memorial Stadium synthetic turf after the mile event, openly disappointed. "I wanted to win," she said over and over.

Though she had never been defeated this year, until Friday evening, she still entered the race with only the fifth fastest regional qualifying time among the eight competitors.

At Denton she had won the region title with a 5:35.2 clocking. It was her sixth competitive race of the year, and she cut several seconds off her previous time at each outing.

She was clocked at 5:22.4 at Austin.

The first place finisher was Betty Cochrane of A&M Consolidated at College Station, who was timed in 5:17.5. She had the third-fastest qualifying time of 5:33.1.

Second place went to Ann Quigley of Westlake High at Austin. She overtook Karren in the home stretch with a remarkable kick to be clocked at 5:19.5. She had the second fastest qualifying time of 5:28.3.

Quigley's team mate Wendy Patterson, qualified with the fastest time of the field, winning region with 5:27.5. She could do no better than 5:24.7 Friday, for fourth place.

Fort Stockton's Gracie Esparaza placed fifth in 5:25.4, a dramatic improvement over her 5:44.3 at region. She had the slowest qualifying time, 5:44.3.

Kay Lindsey of Brownfield had beaten Esparaza in the region meet, 5:33.7, but could do no better than 5:32.5 in Austin for sixth place.

Kimberly Jenkins of Chapel Hill (Tyler) and Sherry Hallmark of Midway (Waco) were the other two competitors.

Karren was about five yards behind the leader at the 440 mark. On the back stretch a large group overtook her, but she fought her way back into second at the halfway mark. Quigley extended her lead to 15 yards as the pack started the final quarter mile.

Coach David Williams and Karren had planned for her to stay in striking distance the first three quarters, and then go all out to try to win on the final lap.

She looked like she might overtake the leader on the back side, but Quigley's kick was equal, and she held on to win.

Quigley's time established a record for Texas' AAA conference, as this was the first year for the mile event to be adopted by the University Interscholastic League for girls. The national record for a high school girl was set in 1976 by Eryn Forbes of Sunset High, Beaverton, Ore., 4:50.5.

Outstanding athletes announced

For the second consecutive year, a female athlete was awarded the Outstanding Hawk Award at the Iowa Park High Spring Sports Banquet.

Karren Brown received the award, which is given to the athlete who, in the opinion of the coaching staff, contributes the most to the success of the spring sports program.

Last year's recipient was Renea Harrington.

Hawks lose final game

The Burk Burnett Bulldogs, already declared north zone baseball champions, had to extend themselves for breathing room here Tuesday afternoon to defeat the Hawks 8-2 in the last game of the regular season.

Leading only 3-2 in the top of the seventh inning, with two out, the 'Dogs combined two hits and several Hawk errors to score five runs.

Burk scored twice in the second inning and once more in the top of the fifth.

The Hawks narrowed the scoring gap in the bottom of the fifth when pitcher David Nix got into trouble and loaded the bases. Keith Hillard sacrificed deep in center field to score one, and Rusty Price's single brought in the other.

Pitcher Jim Rowell, who went the distance in the season finale, almost scored on Price's hit also, but was tagged out at home trying to reach it from second. That would have tied the score.

Little League Standings

The major league Giants and the senior league Twins have taken early leads in their divisions amid late starts and rain outs.

Burnett Field still is not in shape to play, so senior league games are being played at 6 p.m. at the high school baseball diamond.

Cook of the Week

Ready-made food and meals are so important in today's living, but there is still plenty of room for creative cooking. There will also always be a certain romance in cooking, raising a garden, canning and preserving.

The Joe Shipmans raise their own gardens and the flavors of her Chow-Chow and Pickled Beets made from vegetables out of their garden is far superior to anything that can be bought in the store. Her being the Cook of the Week today is in good timing since many people are growing their own gardens and before too long will be canning, preserving or preparing foods for the freezer.

In the two recipes mentioned above, vinegar is the flavoring and preservative agent and it set our minds to wondering just when vinegar was first used. It is a term applied to one of the most ancient natural fermentations known to man. Bible references to it can be found in the Book of Ruth and Proverbs. Caesar's armies drank diluted vinegar and residues in an Egyptian vase dating to 3000 B.C. indicate that it held vinegar.

Juanita Shipman moved to Iowa Park with her husband, who is presently employed at Continental Trailways, and children in 1967. A native of Oklahoma, she was graduated from Pecan Gap High School. She has recently graduated from Aladdin Beauty College No. 1 and is working at The Totalook Beauty Salon.

The Shipmans are members of First Baptist Church. Their children are Allen, a 10th grade student, Robin, a seventh grader and Treva, who is in the 4th grade.

Juanita's hobbies are bowling and crocheting. She is one of nine children and she feels that she has cooked long enough to be qualified as an experienced cook. She recalls that she cooked her first complete meal by herself at the age of nine.

Mrs. Joe Shipman

Leaving about 1 1/2 inches of tops on beets, cook in boiling water until tender. Remove skins, roots and tops. Tie spices in cheesecloth bag. Heat vinegar, water, sugar and spices to boiling. Add beets, whole or sliced and boil 5 minutes. Remove spices. Pack beets in sterilized jars and fill with hot liquid. Seal. Yield: about 3 pints.

CHOW-CHOW

- 1 peck (12 1/2 lbs.) green tomatoes
- 8 large onions
- 10 green bell peppers
- 3 T salt
- 6 hot peppers, chopped
- 1 quart vinegar
- 1 T cinnamon
- 1 T allspice
- 1/4 t cloves
- 3 T dry mustard
- Few bay leaves (about 3)
- 1 1/4 cup sugar

Chop tomatoes, onions and bell peppers together and cover with salt. Let stand overnight. Drain, add the hot peppers, vinegar and spices (tied in a cheesecloth bag) and sugar. Allow to boil slowly until tender (about 15 minutes). Pack in sterilized jars and seal at once.

- 1 medium onion, chopped

- 3 T chili powder

Brown ground beef and onions in shortening; add garlic salt and chili powder. Cook for a few minutes, then add tomatoes and continue cooking for about 20 minutes.

Cooked macaroni and mixed vegetables can be added for a one-dish meal.

PINEAPPLE-CREAM CHEESE SPREAD

Mix small can crushed pineapple with 8 oz. cream cheese softened. Spread on bread with crust removed, then cut in different shapes. Top each piece of bread with slice of cucumber. Finger sandwiches can be made ahead but do not add cucumbers until ready to serve.

IN-A-JIFFY CAKE

- 1/4 t salt
- 3/4 cup milk
- 1/4 cup shortening
- 3/4 cup sugar

This weekend, call both families for practically the price of one.

It's true! This weekend—and every weekend between 11 p.m. Friday and 5 p.m. Sunday—you can place two Long Distance calls for practically the price of one weekday evening call, when you dial the 1+ way.

For example, a 10-minute call to someone a thousand miles away weekday evenings (5 p.m. to 11 p.m., Sunday-Friday) would cost you $2.44, plus tax. Which, you'll admit, isn't bad.

But for practically the same price, you could make two eight-minute calls over the same distance... any weekend.

It's almost like getting one call free!

So this weekend, enjoy a couple of Long Distance calls. And make three families happy!

Long Distance. What else is so nice for the price?

BIBLE TEACHING ABOUT LIFE AND DEATH - PART 2
LOVING OURSELVES
 Speaking of the great love which Jonathan had for his friend, David, the Bible says:
 "The soul of Jonathan was knit with the soul of David, and Jonathan loved him as his own soul." [1 Samuel 18, v. 1]
 We all love our own soul, or self. Paul says in Ephesians 5 v. 29,
 "No man ever yet hated his own flesh, but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as the Lord the Church."
 If we did not look after ourselves, and see that we had food and drink, we should soon die.
THE SERPENT'S LIFE
 But most of us love ourselves too much. Yes, we think much too much of ourselves. Perhaps this is why men have always found it hard to believe that they die and corrupt in the same way as the animals do. They have preferred to think that they will go on living somewhere after death.
 The serpent said to Adam and Eve, "Ye shall not surely die." This was a lie, yet Eve chose to believe it rather than to believe what God had said.
 And men have always chosen to believe the serpent's lie, and to make up all sorts of stories of what happens at death, rather than to believe God's words: "Dust thou art, and unto dust shalt thou return." (Gen. 3, v. 19).
LIKE THE BEASTS THAT PERISH
 Yet the teaching of the Bible is quite plain. Turn to Ecclesiastes chapter 3 and read the 19th verse.
 "For that which becometh the sons of men becometh beasts: even one thing becometh them: as the one dieth, so dieth the other: yea, they have all one breath; so that a man hath no pre-eminence over a beast."
 When you see the body of a dead animal, you do not imagine that the most important part of that animal has gone to live in the heavens. You know that all that is left of the creature that lived and breathed and moved - however beautiful it may have been - is a dead body.
 And it is exactly the same with men. When they die, all that is left is a lifeless body.
 Did you notice v. 12 of Psalm 49, which says,
 "Man, being in honour, abideth not; he is like the beasts that perish."

Like the beasts? Yes, the writer leaves us in no doubt about it, for he continues in v. 14,
 "Like sheep they are laid in the grave."
A WRONG IDEA
 Many people believe that, when we die, there is some spark of life in us that goes on living. They think men have an "immortal soul" which will live for ever in heaven. But souls are not "immortal." Through the prophet Ezekiel, God says,
 "Behold, all souls are Mine: as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is Mine: the soul that sinneth, it shall die." [Ezek. 18 v. 4]
 We have seen what the Bible means when it speaks of death. It means a complete end of life; so that body and mind decay, and return to dust.
A GLEAM OF HOPE
 The doctrine of an immortal soul was an idea brought into Christian doctrine by men who studied pagan philosophy and religions. Perhaps the thought that your soul is not immortal upsets you. But it shouldn't. Because God has promised that He will raise from the grave those who have known about Christ and will give eternal life to the faithful.
 Only God has immortality and he gives it to whom he desires when he desires.
 "Which in his times he shall show, who is the blessed and only Potentate, the King of kings, the Lord of lords; WHO ONLY HATH IMMORTALITY, dwelling in the light which no man can approach unto; whom no man hath seen, nor can see; to whom be honour and power everlasting. Amen." [1 Timothy 6 vv. 15, 16]
 God has already given immortality to Jesus and will give it to the faithful when Jesus returns to the earth.
 "But every man in his own order: Christ the firstfruits; afterward they that are Christ's at his coming." [1 Corinthians 15 v. 23].
 We will study more about the resurrection in another article.
SUMMARY
 1. The Bible teaches that men, when they die, perish and lie quietly, asleep in the grave.
 2. The Bible gives us no hope of going to heaven.
 3. When Jesus comes back to this earth, He will bring to life those who believe on Him.
 Read Ecclesiastes 3.

Mickey Howard, Texas Electric lineman.

"All of us at Texas Electric get electric bills too, and they're up. That's why I'm trying to use less."

"My electric bills have gone up like everyone's.
 Of course, working for Texas Electric, I'm more aware of how expensive new plants are and how high fuel is. But that won't solve my problem at home.
 That's why I'm checking the weatherstripping around all my doors and the caulking around the windows.
 I mean I could feel air under the door and I'm paying for it. So I put storm doors on and that really made a difference.
 Gives me four inches of dead air. And that's a lot better than nothing."

DEBBIE BROWN VENTURED TO STATE

Leftover building fund earmarked for band hall

Holliday school trustees took another cautious step Monday night toward building a new band hall here.

Trustees earlier had contemplated financing construction of a new band hall with interest monies already earned by bonds for the new high school construction project.

However, Supt. Ray Coe said he had learned money connected with the bond issue could be used for a band hall only after the last payment had been made on the construction project which probably will be around September.

To complicate matters a bill is expected to be passed soon by the Texas Legislature that would outlaw such use of leftover bond revenues in the future.

To avoid being affected by the probable new law, trustees Monday night voted to earmark any leftover bond interest monies for construction of a new band hall.

Coe said it is difficult at this time to forecast how much money might be left over or what unforeseen expenses the school might confront before the construction project is complete.

Dwade Reinsch, band director, explained crowded conditions in the present facility caused by the growing number of students participating in the band program here.

Reinsch told the board he had received an estimate of $37,000 to construct a 2,800 square foot band hall.

Reinsch received approval from the trustees on his proposed band budget for 1977-78.

An increase of $209 from last year's budget, Reinsch said he budgeted basically the same expenditures as for the current year. Additional purchases, Reinsch said, were to accommodate the expected increase in band participation.

Don Lucy, head football coach and athletic director, received trustee approval for his proposed athletic budget for the coming year.

An increase in $1,500 from last year's athletic budget, Lucy explained he was faced with supplying a growing number of athletes.

Trustees approved the school calendar for 1977-78 school year, contingent on state legislative action.

Coe said the Texas House already has passed a bill reducing from 190 to 176 the number of required school days.

The Texas Senate also is expected to approve the new measure, Coe said.

If the total number of required school days is reduced to 176, Holliday schools will roll back their opening class to a date near the first of September.

Trustees noted the advantage of starting school later to help reduce utility costs expected to be encountered when the new air-conditioned building is in operation.

In other business Monday night the school board, absent trustee Dr. Joe Wells, approved payment of $1 per average daily attendance to Region IX Education Service Center for media services.

Trustees also voted to purchase a bulk gasoline storage tank for bus operations.

The board also voted to advertise for bids to sell a 1949 school bus and a 1963 station wagon.

The board voted to approve a year's leave of absence for elementary teacher Donna Alderman.

Monthly bills were voted to be paid, and a monthly financial statement by tax assessor-collector Louis Hodge was approved.

Debbie reaches semifinals in state UIL tournament

Holliday's Debbie Brown dropped her first high school tennis match of the year when she was eliminated Friday in the Class A state semifinals at Austin.

Traveling to Austin with a two year reign as District 13-A and Region II-B women's singles champion, Brown was a favorite to walk away with the state title this year after losing in the finals at last year's finals.

Brown kept her chances alive in Austin by defeating Linda Olsen of Thrall 6-4, 6-1 in the preliminaries.

Brown was defeated in the semifinals 4-6, 6-1, 6-3 by Ronda Reane Phillips of Shallowater.

Having made trips to the state playoffs as a sophomore and junior, Brown has another year of high ahead of her and another crack at the Class A championship.

Finnell to speak

State Representative Charles Finnell of Holliday will speak to the 88th semi-annual Firemen and Fire Marshalls Convention to be held May 15 in Archer City. The meeting will be held in the Archer City High School cafeteria at 1:30 p.m.

Pre-kindergarten registration Monday

Registration for pre-kindergarten students in the Holliday school district is set for Monday morning, according to Dan Owen, elementary school principal.

To be eligible, a child must be 5 years old by Sept. 1, 1977. "No one will be taken under that age," Owen said.

"Parents are asked to have their kindergarten students here at 8:15 a.m. Monday, May 16, and report to the kindergarten room on the Holliday school campus," Owen said.

He said parents will have a short meeting at 8:30 a.m. Monday in the cafeteria.

Parents are asked to bring the birth certificates of their youngsters.

If the child's health records are complete, they also should be brought to Monday's registration.

It is mandatory by state law that a student's health records be complete and on file with the school prior to the first day of classes next year, Owen said.

Owen said anyone with additional questions may contact him at Holliday schools by calling 586-1281.

Charles Parker fills vacancy

Charles Parker was sworn into office Monday night to fill a vacancy on the Holliday City Council created when Leo Chappell earlier resigned as mayor.

Don Talley met with the council to discuss water service to homes in the Franklin Park Addition located south of Holliday High School on the west side of FM 368.

Talley also requested approval of water service proposals to a subdivision on FM 1954, according to the minutes of the meeting.

The council discussed workman's compensation insurance. It will become mandatory July 1 that the city carry the insurance.

Several methods of workman's compensation insurance are being studied, said City Sec. Evon Carter.

Aside from Parker being sworn into office, only other formal action Monday night was a vote to pay the monthly bills, according to the minutes.

Alderman Fred Maier was absent from Monday night's meeting.

Stewardship week set

Governor Dolph Briscoe has proclaimed May 15 - 22 as Soil Stewardship Week in Texas, stating "The well-being of our people depends upon the production of ample supplies of food, fiber and other products of the soil.

The quality and quantity of these products depend upon the conservation, wise and proper management of the soil and water resources.

The 197 Soil and Water Conservation Districts throughout Texas provide a practical and democratic organization through which landowners are taking the initiative to conserve and make proper use of these resources."
