Large crowd attends graduation ceremony

More than 1,500 relatives and friends were in Hawk Stadium Friday evening to witness graduation ceremony for the Iowa Park High School Class of '77.

They heard Mike Nipper, in his valedictory, refer to the 167-member class as "The first to graduate in the third century of our nation."

Announcement was made by Principal Bob Dawson of the top 10 graduates, scholastically. They included Nipper and Salutatorian Holly Burrell, Carol Buikema, Brian Catlin, Elaine Cole, Charles Franks, Bruce Hammonds, Sherry Little, Reesa Robinson and Jan Tennant.

Recipient of the Bobby Gilbreath Award was Karren Brown, the second female to ever receive the award which was named after the death of a former graduate who, in the opinion of the faculty and citizens, exhibited all the desirable traits one looks for in a young adult, according to Supt. Faris Nowell.

Sharing the duties of presenting diplomas with C.E. Myers, chairman of the board of trustees, were board members Jesse McCullough and Delbert Catlin, both of whom had sons graduating.

Special music was played by the high school band. Invocation and presentation of the senior class key was made by Johnny Bentley, class president. Benediction was by Mike Priddy, teacher.

Two Johnson-related hearings slated today

Litigation surrounding the disappearance of Iowa Park grainman Bobby Johnson will surface today in two Wichita Falls courtrooms with a morning session called by a federal bankruptcy judge and an afternoon hearing scheduled in 78th District Court.

At the 2 p.m. hearing today in Judge Stanley Kirk's 78th District Court in Wichita County Courthouse, Johnson's wife, Anita, will ask the court to award her control of the couple's community property.

However, what comes from the afternoon session in state court could be influenced by action that transpires during today's morning meeting called by federal bankruptcy Judge John Ford, indicated an attorney close to the case.

Ford called the bankruptcy meeting for 11 a.m. today in the Federal Building in Wichita Falls.

Today's courtroom events stem a maze of legal action in the wake of Johnson's disappearance. The Iowa Park grain dealer reportedly fell from a fishing boat and drowned Jan. 3 in the Gulf of Mexico near Port Aransas.

Since Johnson's disappearance an involuntary bankruptcy suit has been brought against the Iowa Park man's businesses, and this week an adversary suit was filed in U.S. District Court seeking to recover $328,653 on public warehouse bonds guaranteeing the grain stored in Johnson's elevators.

In May Johnson was indicted by a federal grand jury for 13 counts of interstate transportation of stolen grain.

Little is known what may transpire in Judge Ford's bankruptcy meeting this morning. It will be another of several meetings between Ford and attorneys concerning the involuntary bankruptcy suit.

What happens this morning may determine what happens this afternoon, indicated Perry Wesbrooks, a Wichita Falls attorney representing petitioners in the involuntary bankruptcy suit.

Mrs. Johnson's attorneys filed for the hearing this afternoon in Kirk's court.

Mrs. Johnson is scheduled to ask the court to authorize her to "manage, control and dispose" of the couple's community property, according to a lengthy public notice published several weeks ago.

In the petition Mrs. Johnson maintains her husband is dead.

Claiming there may be substantial delay in securing judicial determination of Johnson's death, Mrs. Johnson maintains a need to control the property to preserve and protect the rights of Johnson, herself and creditors.

Asked if creditors would protest Mrs. Johnson being placed in control of the couple's community property, Wesbrooks indicated a protest would not be lodged.

He strongly indicated lawyers for the creditors would ask the court to place certain limitations on Mrs. Johnson's request for control, particularly in regard to the lease of 46,648 acre McFaddin ranch in Knox and King counties.

Wesbrooks had James Dugger, court appointed receiver in the involuntary bankruptcy suit, subpoenaed to appear at the hearing in 78th District Court.

Bill Altman, Johnson's court appointed attorney, also is expected to be at the hearing this afternoon.

Wesbrooks said he would be there, and Mrs. Johnson's Fort Worth lawyer Rufus S. Garrett Jr. is expected to be present.

In other legal action this week, Wesbrooks filed for creditors an adversary suit in U.S. District Court.

The class action suit - brought by petitioners Fred Eastman, Bing Miller, Celeste Miller and Keith Miller - charges that Johnson failed to perform his duties as a public warehouseman.

The petition asks for payment of $328,653 in bond money which farmers say should be shared according to verified grain obligations.

The suit was filed in an effort to force the bonding company to pay.

"We think they (bonding company) have had ample time," Wesbrooks said. "We think it's time to get on with it."

Fiber art on display at Iowa Park Library

By OLIVE BLALOCK
Thirteen outstanding and striking works of fiber art are now on display at the Iowa Park Library and will be during the month of June. The public is invited to view them.

Mrs. Jeanette Brown, chairman of the social and cultural committee of Friends of the Library, and Mrs. Buddy Henderson, a member of her committee, procured the colorful and captivating wall hangings from members of the Wichita Falls Fiber Guild, an organization to which both of them belong. They plan to change the exhibits each month during the summer.

According to Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Henderson, originality is an important touchstone in measuring the quality of fiber art. All of the loom-woven works on exhibit show originality and several show extraordinary originality. Two fine examples of the latter category hang on the wall back of the librarian's desk.

One is the handwork of Janice Resor, who spun her own yarn and combined earth colors with natural white mohair and hair from a Keshond dog to create a dazzling piece of art.

The other is an all-wool presentation of a unique concept in an artistic embodiment done by Nancy Moore and falls from a cow's rib. It features an animal vertebra in the center front from which various kinds of seeds, pheasant feathers, a horse's tooth and smaller vertebrae hang. In another section of the library there is another hanging that attests to the artist's original style, a loom work with a jellyfish motif done in glowing shades of purple and white wool roving.

Another hanging near the librarian's desk was done by Ken Johnson making effective use of earth tones in the all-wool handcraft centering around a Navajo theme.

Four of the artists from the Fiber Art Guild loaned their hook exhibits. Cora Dell Miller did hers with wool on a wooden ring. Elizabeth Alford's is an abstract circular ring work and Jeanette Brown used two acrylics hoops in her colorful production. Betty Hansen chose to do an abstract design in brightly-colored wool on hoops.

One of the exhibits that is sure to cause visitors to linger for the second look and many more is "Ebon A Capriccio" done by Elizabeth Alford in all-weather vinyl and polyurethane. It hangs on the patio in her home. Another one of her fiber art pieces on display is "Violetta" woven with fine wool yarn.

The potential of mop string, cotton rope, brown and gray homespun yarn is seen in Karin Huef's hanging, and Patrian Aycock has combined two ceramic pieces with wool in her quest for originality.

The trophy case in the children's reading room contains an interesting exhibit of rattan articles "done from scraps" by Mrs. Henderson. A contemporary piece where she used a swallow's nest for a pattern attests to her ingenuity.

Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Henderson feel that the fiber art exhibit will afford people in Iowa Park to have a deeper appreciation of the art. Most of the hangings were shown in the Wichita Falls Art Show at the Memorial Auditorium in January.

Local telephone users watch bill in congress

Consumer interest is growing rapidly in a bill now before Congress which could have a direct effect on basic home telephone rates in Iowa Park, according to Gary Cook, local manager for Southwestern Bell.

It's called the Consumer Communications Reform Act of 1977 (CCRA), he says. The bill has already gained the support of nine senators and 87 representatives and hearings on the issue are scheduled from May through October.

"The CCRA reaffirms and preserves the principles of the Communications Act of 1934 which traditionally has guided the telecommunications industry's pricing policies," Cook explains. "These principles have favored home telephone customers by providing them with the best telephone service available at reasonable rates everyone can afford."

"However, recent rulings by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) are bringing companies - other than communications carriers - into the higher profit portions of the telephone business. The result is a burden to the residential telephone user in the form of higher rates to make up for lost revenues. We don't want that to happen."

Cook says it costs Southwestern Bell approximately $17 per month in Texas to provide a customer with home telephone service but the company only charges customers about half that amount. So, if the FCC continues its rulings, resulting pricing trends will move the rate for home phone service closer to the $17 amount.

"Obviously, this would be a significant rise in rates," he notes, "especially since the increase would not be necessary in a purely regulated monopoly environment."

First introduced in the 1976 session of Congress, the bill received the support of 175 congressmen and 17 senators. This year the bill was reintroduced with its basic concept intact - keeping high-quality home telephone service widely available and affordable.

"AT&T Chairman John D. deButts has stated that what is needed is for Congress to define the public interest objective of telecommunications service in this country," Cook says. "We need to determine our future needs and work to meet them. And we must know where our priorities lie - with the average home telephone user, like people here in Iowa Park, or with the large business communications market."

Nipper, Ridenour wedding vows solemnized here Sunday

The marriage of Miss Diana Lynn Nipper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.A. Nipper, and Dane Ridenour II was solemnized Sunday afternoon at First United Methodist Church. Parents of the groom are Richard W. Ridenour of Dallas and Mrs. Gretchen Ridenour of Carrollton.

The Rev. J.E. Conatser performed the three o'clock double ring nuptials in an altar setting where two sunburst arrangements of white gladioli flanked by white spiral candelabra increased its beauty and significance.

Darrell Dick, vocalist, presented two solos, "Evergreen" and "The Lord's Prayer". He was accompanied by Mrs. William Garcia of Wichita Falls, organist, who also presented a musical prelude including different arrangements of sacred music and "Hawaiian Love Song".

As the organ sounded the familiar strains of Lohengrin's processional, the bride was escorted to the altar by her brother, Hunter Nipper, where her father met her and presented her in marriage for both parents. Mrs. Garcia played the time honored composition by Wagner for the recessional.

The bride was a lovely picture in her delicately beautiful candlelight organza gown over taffeta. Starting at a bow at the front of the sweetheart neckline, triple tiers of circular organza formed a capelet over the shoulders. Fashioned with an empire waist, a distinctive feature of the gown was a wide flounce of organza starting at an organza bow at the waistline in the back, cascading to the floor in a brush train and then continuing around the skirt to form a deep hemline flounce. She wore a picture hat covered with candlelight organza with ribbon streamers trailing from an organza rose in the back.

The bride carried a colonial bouquet of white butterfly roses and gypsophila. Remembering the important place that tradition has in a bride's costume, she wore her father's Delta Sigma Pi fraternity pin for "something old" and her mother's diamond earrings for "something borrowed". The "something new" was a diamond necklace, a gift from the groom, and she followed the tradition of the blue garter.

Suggestive of family closeness, the bride chose her two sisters for her attendants.

Mrs. Dwight Berry of Wichita Falls was matron of honor and Miss Carla Jo Nipper was maid of honor. They were attired in apricot and white dotted swiss gowns accented with short capes. They wore matching hats and carried colonial nosegays of white pixie carnations, poms, sonia roses and gypsophila.

Doug Duerksen of Richardson was best man and John Sims of Bryan was groomsman. Ushers were Hunter Nipper of Lubbock, Mike Nipper, brothers of the bride, and Ross Sivertsen of Dallas, the latter two also served as candlelighters.

Mrs. Nipper, mother of the bride, wore a rosette chiffon gown with a natural waist bodice, soft high collar, a sheer cover-up capelet and a waistline cummerbund. Mrs. Ridenour, the groom's mother, chose a turquoise gown accented with a matching lace jacket. Both wore white cymbidium orchids.

The bride, a graduate of Iowa Park High School, attended Texas Tech at Lubbock and the University of Texas at Austin where she was graduated with honors in May. At the university, she belonged to Alpha Delta Pi, Epsilon Epsilon chapter, Accounting

MRS. DANE RIDENOUR

Society and Texas Student Association.

A graduate of Richardson High School, the groom attended Texas Tech where he was on the Dean's List and he will reenter the university this fall to complete work on a bachelor of architecture degree. He works for Joe P. Hill, Consulting, Structural Engineers in Dallas.

The bride's parents honored the newlyweds at a reception held in the Fellowship Hall of the church following the wedding.

The white satin-covered bride's table was characterized by a special kind of beauty, the point of perfection being the lavish cake. The four-tiered confection was decorated with handmade soft shades of apricot and candlelight fanis pangis, roses cascading down the front and marzipan fruits. The top tier was adorned with cherubs and flowers.

The table was further appointed with silver candelabra holding apricot carnations, candlelight poms, gypsophila and apricot tapers, and crystal and silver services.

On the gold satin-covered groom's table, interest focused on a wood candelabrum holding amber votives and decorative grapes, and the dark cake decorated with marzipan fruits.

An ornate antique table held the bride's book, the newlyweds' wedding invitation and sonia roses. Miss Kristen Ridenour, sister of the groom, directed signatures of the guests.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Phil Bess; Misses Beth Hunter, Claudia Brown, and Becky Hood. Assistants were Mmes. O.N. Newman, G.R. Rusk and H.M. Nipper. Tammy Reitz distributed the rice bags.

The bride chose a gray and apricot suit with a gray blouse for travel when the couple left the scene of the reception.

Among out of town guests were Mrs. Joe Zelisko of Haskell, grandmother of the bride, Messrs. and Mmes. Dane Ridenour of Ohio, the groom's grandparents, A.L. Roden Jr. and family of Perryton, H.M. Hood of Richardson, Joe Hill and family from Dallas; Jim Yoshinaga from Austin. Mrs. Bessie Nipper of Iowa Park, paternal grandmother of the bride, was also present.

The rehearsal dinner was held Saturday evening at Village Square in Wichita Falls.

UMW completes study of Africa

The last study of Africa was highlighted with a film and narration in story form when the United Methodist Women met Tuesday morning. Miss Ethyle Kidwell prefaced the film with facts about the status of black African women and the part the church must take to help give the blacks of Rhodesia their freedom by 1978 as promised.

She stated that the white regime in Rhodesia was beginning to take notice of the black women who are making much resistance in many small ways to the things imposed upon them and to see that they are willing to give all that they have for freedom.

The narration for the film was in story form told by a black to his grandson. It gave visual impressions of the beauty of Africa, its jungles, tribal dances, rituals, wonders, art, beautiful handcraft and the exploitation of its minerals.

The closing was a recording entitled "Sing the Glory of Africa" and included native band music, "The Herdboy Song", the trained Kinshasa Choir of the Republic of the Congo and the African National Anthem.

THE PUNISHMENT OF THE WICKED

1. Will there be a resurrection of the wicked to suffer punishment?

ANSWER. -- Yes: for it is written, "There shall be a resurrection both of the just and unjust" (Acts 24:15); and "they that are in the graves shall come forth; they that have done evil, to the resurrection of judgment" (John 5:29).

2. Will all the unworthy of mankind rise from the dead to suffer punishment?

ANSWER. -- No: for it is written of some, "They are dead, they shall not live: they are dead, they shall not rise: thou has visited and destroyed them, and made all their memory perish" (Isa. 26:13-14). "Like sheep they are laid in the grave: death shall feed on them ... He shall go to the generation of his fathers: they shall NEVER SEE LIGHT. Man that is in honour and understandeth not is like the beasts that perish" (Psa. 49:14-20).

3. Who are they that will never come to life again, but pass away as though they had not been?

ANSWER. -- It is written: "The man that wandereth out of the way of understanding shall remain in the congregation of the dead" (Prov. 21:16), those who wander outside, in darkness, never having seen the light of the gospel.

4. Why will such never see the light of resurrection?

ANSWER. -- Because they are not responsible. It requires the light of knowledge to make men responsible; for so it is written: "This is the (ground of) condemnation, that light has come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light" (John 3:19). When men are blind, or ignorant of the word, they have no sin to be punished for: but at the same time, they are not forgiven and justified men, and unless they become so by learning and repenting, they cannot be saved for eternal life (John 9:41; 15:22, 24; 1 John 5:12, 13; John 11:25).

5. What will become of that portion of the wicked who are responsible, and who will come forth at the resurrection for punishment?

ANSWER. -- They will appear before Christ to give account: in his presence, they will be denied before the accepted righteous, and the attendant company of the angels: and will be commanded to depart, which they will do with shame and anguish, "weeping and wailing, and gnashing of teeth". All this is written in many parts. Paul says, "For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ; that every one may receive ... according to that he hath done, whether good or bad" (2 Cor. 5:10). Concerning those whose account is bad, Jesus says, "Then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity" (Matt. 7:23). "There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets in the Kingdom of God, and you yourselves thrust out" (Luke 13:28).

6. But what will become of them after they depart? Will they live for ever in a state of suffering?

ANSWER. -- No: they will live as long in a state of suffering as the justice of their cases shall severally call for; but in every case, sooner or later, death by destruction is their final lot. Their whole experience, from their re-emergence from the grave to their ignominious return to death, is their punishment; when complete, it will be everlasting, and therefore "everlasting punishment", but not "eternal torment". Because they have died once before, their judicial death at the resurrection is called the "second death".

The passages that teach this are numerous. Jesus speaks of degrees of punishment in saying that the servant which knew his lord's will, and did it not, "shall be beaten with many stripes. But he that knew not, and did commit things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. For unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required" (Luke 12:47-48). As to the final result of the punishment, we are told of the unhappy subjects thereof that "they shall die" (Rom. 8:13); "reap corruption" (Gal. 6:8); be destroyed (Psa. 73:27; 145:20); be burnt up, leaving neither root nor branch (Mal. 4:1); consume away into smoke (Psa. 37); suffer everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord (2 Thess. 1:9); disappear like a whirlwind (Prov. 10:25) in the judgment and fiery indignation that will devour the adversary (Heb. 10:26-28).

7. But what are we to understand by Gehenna?

ANSWER. -- It is the name of a valley in the neighborhood of Jerusalem, where, Isaiah informs us, the carcasses of the rejected will be consumed after the judgment (Isa. 66:20-24). It was used for judicial purposes in old times, and will be so again on a larger scale when the dreadful scenes of Zech. 14:12 are enacted. This Gehenna is a place where fire will be kindled; but it is not the hell of popular belief, for it is a place on earth for carcasses, and the fire will at last burn out, and the place itself be cleansed and made holy (Jer. 31:40).

Hearings

Geronimo Elevator companies show 675,782 bushels in Texas, 126,082 bushels in Oklahoma and 12,737 bushels in Colorado, according to the report.

Also there are 16,590 pounds of milo assured by bond in Colorado, the report stated.

Texas claims include farmers from Iowa Park, Holliday, Elliott, Wichita Falls, Punkin Center and Thornberry. In Oklahoma, claims are from Wilson, Geronimo, Cookietown and Blackwell.

While court action seeks to regain money from grain from previous harvests, farmers already are beginning to haul this year's harvest to Johnson's facilities in Iowa Park, Wichita Falls, Thornberry and Punkin Center. The receiving station at Holliday will not be used.

Edwin L. Cox Jr. of Dallas, head of Cal-Tex Corp., secured lease of the facilities in March.

Judge Ford awarded Cox lease of Johnson's facilities for one year.

Rodney Herring with Cal-Tex, who is overseeing the lease operations in North Texas, said a half dozen truckloads of wheat were brought to the Iowa Park facilities Tuesday with more expected as the harvest continues.

Herring said none of the wheat accepted will be placed into storage, but is being sold and shipped to the Amarillo area.

Under the lease of Cal-Tex, Johnson's facilities are taking early wheat with a higher moisture content than being accepted by some other elevators.

Farmers bringing wheat to the leased facilities will be paid according to the day's market, which was $1.97 per bushel on Wednesday, Herring said.

Building permit total climbing

A new home and commercial building boosted May's building permit total, according to the city hall, to $51,139.

The report, added to the previous four-month total, gives Iowa Park $435,461 in permits for 1977. That's well above the $380,965 reported for the same period in 1976 and $427,580 for 1975.

Permits issued during May included:

Lawrence Shook, 403 W. Texas, shed, $3,000;

Jimmy Bradberry, 714 W. Manes, shed, $400;

Lois Cash, 321 E. Cash, shed, $169; Thurman Reitz, 901 W. Magnolia, residence, $37,000;

Claude Morrow, 1001 Wall, awning, $120;

Bill Burns, 510 E. Pasadena, enlarge garage, $800;

Everette Boulware, 508 W. Highway, commercial storage, $8,000;

N.B. Calhoun, 711 W. Magnolia, storage shed and patio, $1,650.

As I See It... by BOB HAMILTON

Attempting to serve the city of Iowa Park must be one of the most frustrating jobs one can hold.

It's a "danged if I do and danged if I don't" situation.

The dog catcher, or animal control supervisor as some want to title the position, is hounded day and night to catch loose dogs roaming the city, and when he does catch them, he's hounded for picking up someone's "lil darlin'."

There are three primary sources of loose or stray dogs in our community: those who have problems keeping them inside the fences; those who disregard city ordinance and allow their dogs to run loose; and those who discard dogs in the country because they don't want to keep them.

I can sympathize with those who have problems keeping their dogs in the fenced yard, but it can be corrected with patience, improvements and maybe a little training.

I have absolutely no sympathy for dog owners who thumb their noses at the laws of the community by turning their dogs loose in their yards, and ultimately over the neighborhood and community. For this there is no excuse, and should be nothing but heavy fines, repeated for each offense.

Probably our major source of stray dogs is from families who are moving, can't take their dog with them, so turn them loose in the country to fend for themselves, hoping they will find another owner. This happens more than one would expect.

They don't take the unwanted dogs to the animal shelter, because they have to pay a fee. So it's easier, for those who have little love for animals, to just turn them loose.

So the dogs wander around, finally reaching a town, where they seek food and possibly someone to take them in and give them a home.

There've been numerous reports of persons, especially children, being bitten by stray or loose dogs this year. And people are becoming more concerned daily.

Suspected cases of rabies have increased concern among residents.

So, the call for the dog catcher to pick up stray dogs roaming the town have increased.

We have a dog catcher, and I understand that he's doing as good a job as can be expected, working part-time. The city couldn't afford to hire a full-time man for the job.

I don't know if the present employee has been challenged by dog owners who had their dogs picked up running loose either in the yard or neighborhood, but numerous reports have been made about this kind of thing in the past.

In fact, one man, a few years ago, told the council when he resigned that he was having to move from town. "I didn't know people could be so vicious," he said, explaining he and his family had been harassed by dog owners, to the point they couldn't live here anymore.

According to the city animal control ordinance, a dog owner must provide a fenced area in which the dog is kept, or otherwise the dog must be kept on leash when outside the house. There is no exception, nor is one needed.

Our ordinance controlling loose dogs needs to be strictly enforced, and I'm sure the parents of children who've been receiving rabies shots wouldn't argue.

Student, teacher to attend nuclear symposium at Austin

Iowa Park High School student Mark Puder has been selected to attend the 17th annual Texas Nuclear Science Symposium for high schools at the University of Texas at Austin next week.

He will be accompanied by science teacher Wilbert Wynn.

Texas Electric Service Company, a member of the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation which is joining with the university in putting on the symposium, will sponsor them.

Some 500 outstanding science students and their teachers from throughout the state are selected by their schools to attend the four-day meeting. Scientists and engineers for industry and education will discuss nuclear physics, nuclear engineering and related topics.

Participants will spend two afternoons touring the science laboratories at the university, including those where experiments sponsored by the foundation are being carried on in thermonuclear (fusion) research.

"Hearing such notable authorities in the nuclear field and seeing the facilities at the university should be a most interesting and educational experience for the students and teachers," commented Wayne House, local TESCO manager. "We are pleased to be able to provide this opportunity for them."

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Hamilton:

Like many other towns in Texas, Iowa Park has growing pains. This creates zoning problems for the Council and the residents. As I read your "As I See It" column this past week I have to say to the Council and all the residents who are screaming about re-zoning, take a ride in front of my Mother's home at 208 W. Ruby. Look at the view in front of her house and then go home and thank God you don't have to put up with a junk yard in your front door. When I say "junk yard" this is not a figure of speech. The city allows this man to pay a $5.00 junk permit each year to pile anything he likes on this property. The least they could have done was to require him to install an 8' wooden fence around his lot. And I am not sure about your city ordinance on weeds, but most cities require you to keep weed and brush growth below 12".

I hope Mother will not be embarrassed by this letter. And I am sure that it will not bother Mr. Holder since he has made no effort so far to clean up his mess.

Sincerely,

Mrs. W.C. McDonald

P.S. Congratulations to Mrs. Hatten for her "Beautiful Yard" award. She also has to view this Junk Yard.

Dear Editor:

On behalf of St. Jude Children's Research Hospital and ESA Women International, I would like to thank you and the citizens of Iowa Park for your support of ESA's Million Dollar Bike Ride held last May 21st.

It is because of caring people like you that St. Jude Children's Research Hospital is able to continue its vital research into the dreadful diseases that take the lives of so many precious little children each year.

Thanks a "Million" to all the riders, sponsors, workers, and donors - all of you who gave of yourselves and your resources to make this ESA campaign a success.

Sincerely,

Sydney Feraco

Project Director

Worth Quoting

The Indians keep making news now that they have discovered that Uncle Sam is a soft touch for money. The Indians in Oklahoma have secured a Department of Interior ruling, backed by the U.S. Supreme Court, that says the government owes them a minimum of $177 million for use of the bed of the Arkansas River.

Yet in this enlightened age of minority rule, we are going to have to buy the land back from the Indians, who no doubt get a good chuckle out of the dumb white man.

Cook of the Week

Food is one area that is getting attention in "Back to Basics", a current trend that is inspiring people to take a look at the way their grandparents lived. Home cooking and bread baking, planting gardens, canning fruits and vegetables, or preparing them for the freezer consume quite a lot of time of homemakers today.

Mrs. Thurman Reitz is a young homemaker, wife and mother who considers cooking, gardening, canning, etc., a labor of love instead of a lot of labor. She is worthy of emulating in the "Back to Basics" trend. A Gold Star Girl in 4-H when she attended Barnhart, Texas High School where she was graduated, she won a blue ribbon at State 4-H competition on her Pecan Tea Ring, a recipe that she is sharing with Leader readers today.

After high school graduation, the former Mary Elizabeth Baker, attended Angelo State College where she belonged to the Square Dance Club. She worked as secretary in the insurance office of Community Hospital at Brownwood where she met her husband, who is now a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine in Iowa Park.

Mrs. Reitz is proud of a certificate that was awarded her from the College of Veterinary Medicine at Texas A&M University which hangs in her husband's office. It reads: "Texas A&M University College of Veterinary Medicine awards to Mary Reitz the title of Veterinary Medical Wife, graduate wife of veterinary medical student 1970".

A resident of Iowa Park six years, Mrs. Reitz is a member of Good Shepherd Lutheran Church where she has served as treasurer of LWML. Her hobbies include sewing, ceramics and cooking.

Dr. and Mrs. Reitz have two daughters, Tammy, four years of age, and Laurel Ann, thirteen months.

egg yolks until light, add sugar, salt and flour all at once and mix well. (Sometimes I add a little milk out of saucapan if it seems too thick).

Pour the egg and sugar mixture into scalded milk, stirring all the time. Add ground pecans. Stir and cook until thick. Take off heat, add vanilla and mix well. Let cool, then pour into baked pie shell.

PIE SHELL

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 1 1/2 t salt
 1/2 cup wesson oil
 1/4 cup cold milk

Mix flour and salt. Pour wesson oil and milk into one measuring cup (but do not stir); add all at once to flour. Stir until mixed. Press into smooth ball with hands. Flatten slightly. Place between two sheets of wax paper. Dampen table top to prevent slipping. Roll out gently to edge of paper. Peel off top paper. If dough tears, mend without moistening. Place paper side up in 8 or 9 inch pie pan. Peel off paper. Ease and fit pastry into pan. Trim even with rim.

Make meringue and bake as directed. Let cool completely before slicing.

PECAN TEA RING

Overnight refrigerator rolls
 2 pkgs. quick-acting dry yeast

2 1/2 cups warm (105 to 115) water

3/4 cup soft or melted shortening
 3/4 cup sugar
 2 eggs, well beaten
 8 to 8 1/2 cups flour
 2 1/2 t salt

Soften yeast in warm water, add shortening, sugar, eggs, 4 cups flour and salt. Stir and then beat until smooth, about 1 minute. Stir in the remaining flour; this will be a soft dough. Cover tightly and store in refrigerator overnight, or until needed. When ready to use, punch down dough and pinch off one third. Cover remaining dough and store in the refrigerator.

Combine:
 1/3 cup butter
 2/3 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
 1 T corn syrup
 In a saucapan, cook over low heat until sugar dissolves. On a well-floured board, roll out about one third of Refrigerator Roll dough into a narrow oblong, about 1/3 inch thick.

Spread evenly with butter-sugar mixture; sprinkle with 3/4 cup finely chopped pecans. Roll dough in jelly-roll fashion, seal edges firmly and shape into ring on a greased cookie sheet. Place a greased custard cup in the center of the ring. With a sharp knife, make 1" deep slashes in top of dough at 2" intervals. Cover and let rise in a warm place until doubled in bulk, about an hour. Remove custard cup. Bake in moderate oven (350°) for about 30 minutes. While warm, spread with glaze.

GLAZE

1 cup confectioner's sugar
 1 T water
 1/4 t vanilla

DR. PEPPER SALAD
 2-10 oz. bottles Dr. Pepper

1 small pkg. cherry jello
 1-8 oz. jar of cherries
 1-3 oz. pkg. cream cheese
 1/2 cup chopped pecans

Follow directions on jello package substituting Dr. Pepper for water. Chill. Drain cherries. Cut cherries, cream cheese and pecans into small pieces. When jello is nearly set, add cherries, cheese and pecans. Mix well. Chill until set.

COOKIE OR CANDY

1/3 cup cocoa
 1/4 lb. (1/2 cup) oleo
 2 cups sugar
 1/2 cup milk
 1/3 cup peanut butter
 2 cups oatmeal
 1/4 cup coconut

Mix cocoa and sugar together in saucapan. Add milk and mix, add oleo. Cook over medium heat one minute after it starts boiling. Take off stove, add peanut butter, oatmeal and coconut. Stir until well mixed and it begins to thicken. Drop by spoonful on wax paper.

"I added extra insulation at my house. Because my electric bills are up, just like yours."

"The people who work for Texas Electric—like me—get electric bills, too.

I work in billing and I can tell from people's comments that they're concerned about their bills.

Even though I know why they're higher, mainly because of higher fuel and construction costs, I'm concerned about mine, too.

That's why the last couple of years we've been trying to wrap our house in insulation. We've put six inches in the attic and three in the walls. It's really helped.

A friend of ours used to kid us and say we'd just been brain-washed by the electric company. But now he's insulated his attic, too."

Electricity. You count on it today.
We're working to keep it that way.

Input from citizens sought on tax raise

Holliday residents will have an opportunity to air their opinions on a proposed municipal ad valorem tax increase when the Holliday City Council meets at 7 p.m. Monday in city hall.

Property here currently is taxed on a third of the actual value.

Faced with the rising costs of operating the city, aldermen here are contemplating hiking the assessment to 50 per cent of the actual value of property.

The council discussed the issue at its last meeting, but elected to postpone action until Monday night to give taxpayers an opportunity for input into the decision.

With all indications pointing toward the city ending the year with a deficit bank account, the council feels it must take steps to maintain a solvent municipal operation.

Water and sewer rates were hiked slightly last year in an effort to curb the growing monetary problem, however, it appears the new money generated is not sufficient to meet the city's needs.

Alderman Fred Maier said at the last meeting the proposed tax increase would generate an additional $11,000 annually based on property currently on the tax rolls.

Other new money expected to flow into the city coffers is expected to come from new homes and businesses built in the past year.

The council also is taking steps toward annexing more than 100 acres of residential property south of the city including an estimated $500,000 worth of homes on it.

The area to be annexed is Holliday Estates and fronts FM 368 and FM 1954.

There is a possibility the council will formally annex Holliday Estates at its Monday night meeting.

The council also is expected to take action on a policy for covering its employees with workmen's compensation insurance.

LONG LEGS - A construction worker at Holliday High School uses special elevating devices to work on ceiling. Workers moved into the old building this week, covering windows and lowering ceilings as part of the renovation project.

New Methodist pastor appointed

Rev. Bob Bryan has been appointed new pastor of the First United Methodist Church at Holliday.

He will replace Rev. John Dillard.

Announcement of the change was made by United Methodist Bishop W. McFerrin Stowe, resident bishop of the 21-county Dallas-Fort Worth area.

Former pastor dies

Rev. M.O. Evans of Plainview, former pastor of Holliday's First Baptist Church, died last Thursday following a traffic accident near Plainview.

Pastor of the First Baptist Church here about 16 years, Evans sustained fatal injuries in a mishap involving three vehicles near noon last Thursday on Texas 86 between Tula and Silverton.

Evans was driving a pickup truck pulling a trailer with six head of cattle, according to investigators.

Evans moved from Holliday to Plainview in 1967 where he had served as assistant to the pastor of Plainview's First Baptist Church.

A native of Greenville, Evans was born April 20, 1905. He began his ministry at age 18 when he and his parents moved to Brice.

He attended Wayland Baptist College in Plainview and was pastor of the Skellytown Baptist Church located north of Amarillo before moving to Holliday.

Funeral was Saturday at the Plainview First Baptist Church.

Burial was in Plainview Cemetery. Survivors include his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Ershel Johnson of Olton; a son, Jimmie D. of Lubbock; seven grandchildren; three great-grandchildren; three sisters and a brother.

Local doctor retains membership

Erwin F. Soell, has completed continuing education requirements to retain active membership in the American Academy of Family Physicians, the national association of family doctors. The Academy formerly was called the American Academy of General Practice.

Requirements call for members to complete a minimum of 150 hours of accredited continuing medical study every three years.

Members become eligible for re-election at the end of the third year following their election to membership. The Academy, the country's second largest national medical association, is the only national medical group that requires members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education.

The Academy, founded in 1947 and headquartered in Kansas City, Mo., was instrumental in the establishment of a new primary specialty in family practice in 1969. The new specialty is expected to increase the numbers of family physicians available to serve the public in the future. The Academy's continuing education program is the foundation of eligibility for family doctors now in practice who apply for certification in the new specialty.

Old school days are reminisced

Two former Iowa Park-ans, Viola Detlefs Scott and Erschell Wigley Davis (Mrs. Ralph), are reminiscing of high school days and visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Davis in San Diego, Calif. Mrs. Scott lives at Richardson, Texas and the two friends had not been together for 35 years.

Wynogene Wigley Day of San Diego, sister of Mrs. Davis, and Charles Anderson of Garland, also a former Iowa Parkan who was in San Diego on business, have participated in the reunion.

$194,400 in Social Security payments received here monthly

Social Security benefits were being paid to residents of Iowa Park at a rate of $194,400 a month at the end of June, 1976, states John Bynum, Social Security manager in Wichita Falls.

Of the 1,071 Social Security beneficiaries living in Iowa Park, 700 are age 65 and over. The women outnumber the men 532 to 377, and 162 are children.

The children receive payments because a working mother or father has died or is getting Social Security disability or retirement benefits.

Nationwide the average monthly payments for retired workers alone is $221 a month, for aged couple with both receiving benefits is $377, for aged widows is $210, and for disabled workers alone is $248. Bynum stated that these amounts will be raised 5.9 percent on the payments to be received July 1.
